"I went to Split to attend a funeral one day. I didn't know where it was, so I stood on the hill above the city looking for it. What gave it away was this sound of horns coming up the hill towards me. It was a military procession as the deceased had been a compadré of Tito's during the war. Young girls carried a photo of him draped in an olive wreath, with other women and girls carrying more wreaths behind. Men were playing Roman horns and the whole thing was straight out of a page of the Roman Military Manual. It was a shock to go to a so-called modern country and run across somebody being buried as they had been 2000 years before.

"I had a girl that I used to have waiting for me when I got to Yugoslavia and she would be my guide and spy, all the time I was in Croatia. She'd take me around the place, translate for me, organise my food everywhere, and run my life while there . . . I never hade to have an original thought. She took me up into the hills and showed me caves that had casing gear and boring gear for making rifle barrels, and all this was in preparation for the Soviet invasion that never came. She'd explain with a shrug of her shoulders that Tito had talked to Churchill and Churchill had Stalin killed before he got around to invading Yugoslavia. She also used to say that Tito was Churchill's nephew or relative. At the time I never believed her.

"I assumed it was all communist propaganda. It was my father that took it seriously.

"She reckoned the only reason the Yugoslavs put up with Tito was because they were used to being run by a strongman and he would kill anybody that stepped out of line and that's what Yugoslavs needed. She predicted that when he died [4 May 1980] the whole place would come apart at the seams, which it did."

Wikipedia: "Josip Broz Tito (7 or 25 May 1892–4 May 1980) was a Yugoslav revolutionary and statesman. From 1943, he held the rank of Marshal of Yugoslavia, serving as the supreme commander of the Yugoslav military, the Yugoslav People's Army (JNA) and led the Yugoslav Partisans resistance movement (1941–45). He was Secretary-General (later President) of the League of Communists of Yugoslavia (1939–80), then Prime Minister (1945–63), then President (1953–80) of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (SFRY). Tito was the chief architect of the "Second Yugoslavia" – a socialist federation that lasted from World War II until 1991. He was one of the founders of Cominform, but was the first and only successful Cominform member to defy Soviet hegemony. He became the first Secretary-General of the Non-Aligned Movement that backed independent roads to socialism, a.k.a. 'national communism' or "Titoism". As such, Tito supported the policy of non-alignment between the two hostile blocs in the Cold War." He also removed the Royal Family's passports until 2009, 29 years after his death, so he had posthumous influence.

Army Intelligence: "Tito sent military officers to prison, and he would say: 'Colonel So-and-So does not believe in us anymore, therefore he is nuts. Torture him and if he doesn't come around after a given time, he must be really nuts, so shoot him.' That was the Yugoslav attitude.

"In WWII, the Croat Ustashi slaughtered these people in a space that was between four or five villages. They wanted to know which of the villagers had unmarked cobblestones so that after the slaughter was over, they could simply turn over cobblestones to hide it. But in the four or five villages surrounding the area, people had been slaughtered in every single village.

"My father was parachuted in to assist Milošević's Partisan Army and he took Yugoslav Partisans with him when he left Italy. But when they turned up at the rendezvous point, the British uniforms were all gone, and they were dressed as Partisans again.

"The guys parachuted into trees and changed their uniforms before they regrouped, which was about half-an-hour. My father didn't recognise them straight away.

"They were originally given British uniforms, jackets and trousers, but they swopped these with local people who now had trousers or a shirt or something. Every item of British military uniform was prized because someone could wear it, even if it was just khaki socks, and they'd say: 'I am soldiering for England. Here are my socks, or my boots, or my pants, or my rifle sling.' Within half-an-hour of parachuting into trees dressed as British, the Partisans had changed the look of their uniform completely.

"The thing my father couldn't get over was that they would talk about killing people as if they were contemplating wiping out rats. It never percolated through their understanding, of any of them, that somebody who belonged to another minority could have any human feelings whatsoever. They always said: 'We have to kill rats'.

"Yugoslavs would never contemplate not killing someone because there was nowhere to do it. They'd always find a place, even if they had to feed them into a river, or just shoot them by the roadside. It was quite common to beat people with hammers and rifle stocks, and use knives on people – because the ammunition was being saved for fighting soldiers. As it turned out, there were no clean cobblestones in any of the five villages. There had been a massacre in every one of them."

Tito's Well-Tailored Hide-Out

Just before Randolph Churchill arrived to Tito's hidehout on 10 July 1944, the Nazis launched Operation Knight's Leap" (Rosselsprung) – an airdrop on Tito's Drvar headquarters.

> "Escorted by guards we had left our village at dusk and gone to the foot of a goat path. After an exchange of passwords, a new guard was assigned to lead us straight up the rocks beside a waterfall deep into a fissure in the towering limestone crag. Midway up we entered a vast grotto with an underground mountain lake . . ."[62]

Army Intelligence: "When Tito's SS HQ got raided by the SS paratroopers, Tito used the waterfall in front of his house to get out. My father was asked to take Tito's new uniform on his back and escape down the waterfall.

"Pommy Officer on British Military Mission: 'You have to take this. Instructions have come from London that it is absolutely vital'.

"Private X, 2NZEF: 'Bugger you and bugger London too. Leave it as it is. The Germans won't do anything with it because half their uniforms have got Pommy tailor's tags on them.'

"Private X was buggered if he was going to carry everything Tito and the Poms wanted. They had a load for him that would rupture ten donkeys.

"The Poms used to complain to Private X that in the British Army an order is an order. Whereas in the New Zealand Army it is merely the topic of discussion for the day, whereupon Private X said: 'Fucking good job, eh'.

"In Tito's cave, the SS found one of his newest uniforms just delivered from London, still with the Savile Row tailor's tag. Consequently the uniform was presented in a display of captured equipment that toured around German Military forces. No mention was ever made of the incriminating tailor's tag."

Author: "So the British, Yugoslavian and German uniforms, at least at the top levels, were all made in London."

Army Intelligence: "Yes. There would still be tailors in the West End of London that would remember working on German military uniforms of very, very, high rank on the orders of the Home Office and Foreign Office. These were often parachuted into Germany via special containers made of leather – called the 'EXPRESS SERVICE'.

"The Australians got told off 'cause they were dropping the EXPRESS SERVICE with the bombload. The Poms would get back these agonised telexes: 'We couldn't find the uniform, only a couple of buttons 'cause it got dropped with a bombload'. So instructions went out that special containers for German delivery were only to be dropped by non-Colonial crews.

"Tito got a variation of the German uniform made in London in Savile Row. Old James Bond's creator, Ian Fleming, used to handle the tailor because he was a bit queer and very temperamental and had to be praised for everything he'd done. Fleming used to be very effusive with him, so they got on well. The tailors used to bill S.O.E. and the Foreign Office for all the uniforms they made and they even used to provide Iron Crosses and Knight's Crosses, shirts, ties, jackets, trousers and shoes for Kriegsmarine Officers that had been taken off U-boats.

"The captured German Officer would arrive in the Docks at Liverpool or London only in the clothes they stood up in, and Fleming would take him to the tailor, get him totally fitted out with all the right gear and regalia, and the Poms would pay the bill.

"Churchill objected to the scale of charges and Fleming replied: 'These men are the young lions of the German Armed Forces and they have to look the part if you want them taken seriously in the POW cages'.

"The U-boat Ace, Otto Kretschmer, received a complete kit from the Savile Row Tailors.

"The tailors were always sticking their label in everything they made. Fleming would routinely cut them off before handing them over, but on some ocassions, he delegated the uniform pickup and the label stayed in."

Lord Carrington/ Carington/ Smith (6 June 1919–).

Army Intelligence: “Lord Carrington was in Yugoslavia as a lieutenant in the British Army and regarded as possessing evil intent. He was considered to be part of the Communists draconian methodology of discipline and this meant that he was probably willing to use his personal revolver to shoot men on the roadside during forced marches.

“I’ve heard the same thing from Yugoslavs and my father told me: ‘There was this Pom with a snooty accent, an absolute bastard, a real sadist, and he had no regard for any other person on the planet. He equated Kiwis down at the depths of humanity, only one step up from Yugoslavians. That was the guy they called Lord Carrington’.”

Author: “He was there again in the 1990s.”

> “Lord Carrington, Peter Alexander Rupert Carington, 6th Baron Carrington KG, GCMG, CH, MC, PC, DL (6 June 1919–) is a British Conservative politician who served as British Foreign Secretary (1979–82) then Secretary-General of NATO (1984–88) and is the last peer to have held one of the four Great Offices of State. In 1991, he tried to break up Yugoslavia into independent nations under the guise of diplomatic talks – which was an ongoing attempt to create World War Three. For his contribution to Serbian war crimes committed against civilians in Croatia he was given the Medal of Honour in 1999 (esp. the Vukovar massacre and displacement of citizens). His surname was originally ‘Smith’ but his family changed it in 1839 to ‘Carington’. For further cover and confusion, his hereditary peerages are spelt ‘Carrington’. But Smith/ Carington/ Carrington is from the ‘Don’t-stir-the-pot-and-you-will-be-promoted’ family.”[63]

Army Intelligence: “When Churchill’s son Randolph used to send for my father, he had a queer butler that would come around and say: ‘Excuse me private, Mr Churchill sends you his compliments and requests your attendance at a meeting in five minutes time at his residence on the main street’. My old man replied: ‘Tell Churchill to go fuck himself. I’ll come and see him when I’ve got my trousers back on and will call at Bullshit Hollows.’ The butler used to go back to Churchill and spin him some bullshit and my old man would be absolutely furious that the message wasn’t delivered as said.

“When the fascist Ustashi completed their four-year extermination campaign (1941–45), the top brass and killers were swished to New Zealand and Australia by the Catholic Church and have been kept safe there ever since.

Author: “The 2-IC of the SIS backs that up – the evasive executive action coming from 59-day-Prime Minister Mike-Moore.”

Army Intelligence: “Does he! Hmmm. In Yugoslavia, everyone was either a Catholic, or a Communist, or a Jew, or a Gypsy, or a Muslim, or a Mormon, or any one of a thousand other unpopular minorities. Often people would be killed because they were more than one category, and there would be an argument aftewards as to why exactly they had been killed, and nobody could remember.

“Churchill’s own son was sent to Yugoslavia and he entered crazed negotiations with partisan leaders, like Tito, in which he deliberately yelled at them and called them ‘bastards’, as was his want. Randolph negotiated with Tito as an equal – obviously on his father’s instructions. Often the negotiations would look more like a sordid quarrel in a working house in Bethnall Green, than the High Jura of Yugoslavia surrounded by Germans. They would regularly resort to fists, bottles, and revolvers, and their Aides would routinely deload revolvers before negotiations began.”

> “Major Randolph Frederick Edward Spencer Churchill, MBE (28 May 1911–6 June 1968) served with his father’s old regiment, the 4th Queen’s Own Hussars during WWII and went on a military/diplomatic mission to Yugoslavia in support of the Partisans. He arrived with Evelyn Waugh[64] on Vis island on 10 July 1944 and met with Tito. By September 1944, Churchill and Waugh had established their military mission at Topusko. Officially, little was known about Tito at the time. The British thought ‘Tito’ was “an acronym for a young woman or a committee”. He was officially supported by the British because he was killing the most Nazis, and turned out to be Churchill’s cousin. So Tito was seen as a required ally of Britain and an official ‘friend’, even though Churchill and Waugh’s report detailed Tito’s persecution of clergy. “Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden then attempted to discredit Evelyn Waugh and ‘buried’ the report. Eden then divorced in 1950 and married (1952) Randolph Churchill’s cousin (a nominal Catholic), was elevated to Knight Thistle in 1954, and then made Prime Minister (1955–57).

Randolph Churchill gives up his wife for his country

So Randolph Churchill was an argumentative, belligerent alcoholic and a diplomatic embarrassment. If he was more like his father and keen on doing the wrong thing, he may have lived longer with a better reputation.

Fitroy put up with Randolph’s temper and went from Private to Brigadier-General in the space of a few months. It became known as the ‘Fitzroy Maclean mission to General Tito’. Private X, 2NZEF: “It was the most amazing case of keeping your trap shut and don’t send any ferrits home to roost. And after the war was over Fitz became an MP for the Conservative Party. They found him a safe seat and ditched the incumbent. He was then made an honorary Fellow of Churchill College, Cambridge (1965) then a Trustee for the Winston Churchill Memorial Trust (1967). Fitzroy knew where all the bodies were buried, including the one’s he’d buried himself.”

Private X 2NZEF: “One day I was told they wanted to see me. When I got there they asked me to run around with a drinks tray and I told them to ‘Get fucked’. While I was there, this incident played out . . . Randolph Churchill was already four-sheets-to-the-wind when the party started. He got on the local brandy with the Officers of the British mission in Yugoslavia and stood up and said: ‘I’ve been a good boy. I have laid down my wife for my country.’ An officer said: ‘What’s he going on about?’; and Fitzroy Maclean replied: ‘He said he’s “laid his life down for his country”’; and another officer said: ‘What’s the bounder going on about? He’s still alive!’; and I said: ‘I’m sure he said his wife’.”

[64] Evelyn Waugh (1903–66) was a high camp Catholic, part of the Bloomsbury Set. He joined the Royal Marines and wrote Brideshead Revisted (Dec. 1943–June 1944) while eating soya beans and speaking basic English. Immediately after, he went to Yugoslavia with Randolph Churchill. Brideshead Revisted was published in 1945.

[65] Wikipedia, Randolph Churchill, Evelyn Waugh, and Fitzroy Maclean amalgamated. Fitzroy Maclean (1911–96) got a baronetcy in 1957 (Sir) and the KT (Thistle) in 1994. He was a plausible inspiration for the James Bond novels and collected a full set of the early editions. These were sold in 2008 for £31,000.

Pamela Beryl Digby Churchill Hayward Harriman (20 March 1920–5 February 1997).

"The Officers used to say to Randolph: 'Don't get horrendously pissed', and Churchill would respond: 'Ra ra ra ra ra'. The Officers would tell me: 'Your causing us serious problems because Randolph turns around and says: 'The Kiwi's right. You can all go and get fucked'."

"Randolph Churchill married twice and had a 20-year affair. His first marriage was to the well-known socialite The Honourable Pamela Digby (later and better known as Pamela Harriman).

"Randolph then married June Osborne on 2 November 1948. They had one child, Arabella Churchill (31 Oct. 1949–20 Dec. 2007) and divorced in 1961.

"Randolph's friends and neighbours were Bobby and Natalie Bevan. Randolph began an affair with Natalie Bevan around the time of his marriage to June Osborne. The affair lasted longer – for the last twenty years of his life (1948–68). So he was a cuckolding schmuck."[66]

When Randolph realised that his son Winston Spencer Churchill was not his, but his father's, he left the marriage in 1941, went on a big bender, even gambling his way out of London. Randolph couldn't wait to lose money and tax his wife and father. On the ship out to Cairo he played cards with Pommy card sharks – Yeomanry Officers who were all in on it together – they're the worst. Randolph Churchill then wrote a letter to Pamela saying: "You pay". Pamela then got Max Aitken to pay. He was also Lord Beaverbrook, newspaper publisher, and member of Churchill's War Cabinet who then got her a job in the Foreign Office.

Army Intelligence: "Randolph Churchill was a gambler, alcoholic and delusional, with all the mental health problems of the Churchill family. So the Churchill family were used to lying for Randolph and protecting his arse for years and years, and carried this on through the war like there was no tomorrow. Randolph Churchill was the disfunctional son of a disfunctional Jewish family. And his disfunctions bordered on the criminally dangerous.

"There's a room in Blenheim Palace called the Alibi Room – it's known criminal palance. It was where Mamaa Clementine used to greet the police whenever they came to interview her about her son, Randolph Churchill. Lady Clementine would send tea in for everybody then appear wringing her hands and stand under a large centrepiece painting of 'The Last Supper' and say: 'What can I do for you gentleman'.

"The police would look at her, and look at the painting of Jesus and his mates, and the whole scene would engender doubt in their mind that maybe they had made a mistake. With conflicting conviction, they would say: 'We want to talk to Randolph about this, and about that, and about this other thing', and Lady Clementine would respond: 'Well. It couldn't possibly be my son.' And then when the police proved it was her son, she would say: 'Oh my goodness me. I shall have to get his father, Winston Churchill, when he comes home from running the war, or organising this loan, or solving that strike, to have harsh words with Young Randolph. Thank you so much for coming. It's been so nice to see you' and then the maid would lead them out. Mr Thompson, Winston Churchill's bodyguard for over thirty years said: 'It was the most overworked room in the entire palace. It saw more traffic on a day-to-day basis than Winston's bathroom. Clementine never uttered a lie. All she did was raise doubt and the picture did the rest.'

[66] Wikipedia, paraphrased ever so slightly.

"'Alibi Room' is known criminal palance and is established criminal practise in the East End of London. There would be hundreds of such rooms similarly furnished in the Jewish houses in London."

Author: "CIA professors have them as sitting rooms in their homes, straight off the front door, 20 feet deep and wide, all in pale sage green with wingback chairs, net curtains nearly drawn, in New Haven Connecticut. We used to visit. The entire effect was: 'What the fuck is happening to me. I am swamped. I can't raise a radical thought, and I've forgotten what my agenda is. Might as well relax and wait for the scones. Not even the tea is going to lift me out of this one'. It was another half hour in the car before the effect had worn off. Those mothers simply hated us dragging their daughters around and if we got onto any topic of merit the conversation was graciously shifted sideways to some hardly met relative. It was enough to make Freud break out in a rash."

Army Intelligence: "Freud was the rash! The only reason the Yugolsavs tolerated Randolph at all was that his many psychological disfunctions made him quite brave. He showed no fear. He wasn't afraid of anything because he had no capacity to fear. He didn't even believe there was anything he'd strike in Yugoslavia that couldn't be sorted out by Mamaa over the telephone.

"Mamaa was Clementine – the illegitimate wife of the illegitimate Winston Churchill. She was the dominant Jewish mother and called the shots in the whole Churchill family. Her father was Churchill's banker and Churchill was deeply in debt, some of it from Randolph.

"When the Yugoslavs told Randolph Churchill the SS were about to raid them, he said: 'Oh good. I've got a bone to pick with those chappies. Somebody dropped a bomb that wrecked my washing a month ago.' And he would jump up and try and rush out the door.

"The Yugolsavs loved it and they'd say to each other: 'Randolph Churchill wanted to kill the SS because the Luftwaffe wrecked his washing'."

Author: "Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha."

Army Intelligence: "Yeah, it is quite funny. The reason Randolph was sent to Yugoslavia to tiptoe between all the tulips was the Churchills were convinced he was going to die. The thing that they never envisaged was that he would come back alive and with a new bunch of even more terrible friends than he had to start with. These included the Ustashi – Draza Mihailovich's crowd – and he'd invite them all to lunch at the Mayfair Grill, chisel off every single one of them, and borrow another twenty or forty quid at the end.

"Often the Yugos would come to London to stage some sort of attrocity or reprisal and found themselves invited to lunch by Randolph, waylaid – then he'd steal their war chest, so they'd get packed off on the bus with a wave and a pat on the back, and they'd have to go out to their maisonette in Surbiton and save up for another six months to return to London.

"So there's a little bit of truth in saying that 'Randolph Churchill was actually in the business of making sure nothing happened in London' while he free-wheeled over the top of them like a hungry love-sick vulture.

"When Randolph Churchill tried to bludge off Martin Bormann in London, Martin said:

'No. Bugger-off. I'm told you are a bad egg'."

Author: "So that was after the war when Martin Bormann was in London undercover complete with plastic surgery, a change of accent, and a change of name. After this incident he moved to the English countryside as Herr Martin Schuler, faked his death in 1956 and moved to Paraguay, where he died in February 1959."

Army Intelligence: "Yes.

"Randolph Churchill was one of the few people who knew of Martin Bormann's identity. Randolph was out with his handler one day when they ran into Bormann in London. Bormann always brought everything he needed, and Randolph didn't. Randolph asked Bormann for some change and that's when Bormann said: 'No. Bugger-off. I'm told you are a bad egg' and Randolph replied: 'Well there's no need to be so direct about it'.

"Randolph's handler had to try and keep shtuk about it, but it was an embarrassing situation, and Randolph used to thrive on other people's embarrassment – being a virtual Jew.

Author: "'Shtuk' is German Yiddish – Jargon for 'shut up to keep out of trouble'."

Army Intelligence: "One of Yugolsavia's problems, militarily, was that they had huge amounts of equipment given to them in military aid by every military organisation that ever existed . . . and none of it worked together. They had every tank in the world. Their Air Force was an absolute logistic disaster. They had every calibre of anti-aircraft gun and every engine that was ever manufactured anywhere on the globe. They had rifles from everywhere and ammunition that didn't fit the guns.

"Yugolsavia acquired everything from everywhere, but none of it fitted. Their museums looked like children's fantasy grounds in places where no adult existed."

Author: "Chaos. So that's why they had casing and boring gear for making rifle barrels up in the hills. They actually needed it."

Army Intelligence: "Yeah. They also sold Marshall Tito's DC6 to Zaire because it was the only country silly enough to buy it . . . that was in the 1970s, before Tito died . . . Yugoslavia was the Burma of Southern Europe – without the drugs.

Author: "Desperate chaos."

Army Intelligence: "There was a guy in the New Zealand Reform Party called Gordon Coates and he'd been a Major in the NZRB (Rifle Brigade) in WWI returning to a heroes welcome with the Military Cross and bar. He was good on a horse and spoke Maori, so they made him Postmaster-General, Minister of Justice, Telegraphs (remember when the telegraph poles were going up all over the country), Public Works, Railways, then Minister of Native Affairs in March 1921.

"He could do all this, but Gordon Coates used to dread dealing with his gum-digger constituents because he regarded them as being worse than any German fortification on the Western Front. They always wanted their grandmother or aunty brought out from Yugoslavia, or their grandson or nephew sent back, and in Australia they were even worse."

Author: "Yeah. He became Prime Minister (1925–28) after William Ferguson Massey (1912–25) wiped out 22 per cent of Samoa's population with the Spanish Flu, which Massey delivered personally in 1918."

Army Intelligence: "Right. Well, you used to see Yugos driving down Hay Street in Kalgoorlie, in the gold mining area, in the middle of Aussie carrying a 25-pound gun and a limber (ammunition carrier) on the back of a Holden station wagon, and they were going out to practice invading Yugoslavia.

"It was a standard police joke in Australia: 'If any Squareheads blow themselves up, don't bring them in for post mortem, just kick them down a hole . . . and don't forget to drop some shit on top of them'."

Author: "That shit would either be a wadi or some quicklime."

Army Intelligence: "Yep. All the Yugo Squareheads used to play chicken with anthills. They'd all go and put a stick of gelignite into the anthill and the last one to run had the biggest balls. They were all absolutely pissed as newts and they'd try and get me play with them.

"I'd say: 'Na, I'm too fucking scared and if I played it with you, they'd be nobody to put you in the sugar bag afterwards'.

"Then when I was back in Australia in the late 1970s, I noticed in the newspaper that a ship went from Australia to Yugoslavia and was attacked off the coast. They all got massacred."

Pamela Digby Churchill

Army Intelligence: "Churchill's son was an absolute lunatic. If the war hadn't come along, he would have been committed. His first wife, Pamela Digby, was a woman Churchill involved in Black Operations at a very early stage. She was a slut to all and sundry and ended up marrying Averell Harriman. Pamela was widely regarded as being Churchill's favourite slut who married her way into U.S. citizenship, then Clinton made her Ambassador to France. She had a stroke in the Paris Ritz rooftop swimming pool, then President Bill Clinton sent Air Force One to pick up the body – so they were close.

Churchill's Girl: "Apart from becoming leaders of their respective countries, Winston Churchill and Bill Clinton have something else in common. They both owed a lot to Pamela Digby, one of the 20th-century's consumate courtesans. Born in 1920, Digby realised early on that powerful men were her passport to an exciting life. She married Churchill's son, Randolph, becoming confidante to his father, Winston Churchill. Her many affairs with high-ranking US officers were a source of invaluable information to the British PM. The marriage fell apart, but Digby had found her niché. Over the years she moved from Paris to New York to Washington, sleeping with the rich and powerful. Eventually she married an influential Democrat and steered a young Bill Clinton to power. In return, Clinton made her US ambassador to France [the most sought after foreign posting], a position she held until her death in 1997."[67]

Winston Spencer-Churchill's Birth

Pamela Digby Churchill spent more time with her father-in-law, Winston Churchill, than with her husband, Randolph Churchill. She spent 1939–41 with Randolph, and 1939–47 with Winston Churchill at 10 Downing Street, meeting and greeting, and sleeping there. During air-raids, she even slept in the bunks with Winston Churchill. As Pamela put it:

"One Churchill above me, the other inside"[68] – both were Winston.

Pamela working in the Churchill Club.

Pamela Digby loved powerful men, and rich and powerful men. She also loved sex and had no problem taking the initiative. As legend goes, as long as you didn't vomit, or vomit on her, you could get laid. You didn't even have to speak – no need for chat up lines. This was so well known, the Scots used to have bets and they'd send one of theirs down to London, to the Churchill Club, to see if he could bed Pamela Churchill without saying anything, or give himself away with his accent. He won the bet. Even the American air gunners managed it.

Pamela was Winston Churchill's favourite from the time they met. He took a real shine to her. They shared 10 Downing Street (10 May 1940–27 July 1945) and she ran Winston's secrets gathering sex club – the Churchill Club – with great success and no complaints from her, or her customers.

[68] The Little Extras – The Society Divas, 'Pamela Churchill Harriman', Blair Schulman, www.divasthesite.com.

Pamela gave birth to Winston Spencer-Churchill on 10 October 1940. There is every chance Winston Spencer-Churchill is the son of Winston Churchill and not Randolph Churchill – and this was part of the reason for him abandoning his very sexual wife. Winston Spencer-Churchill III was rasied in Lord Beaverbrook's country home and by 4 years-old (1944), she had shipped him further away to boarding school in Switzerland. That also prevented him as a five-year-old from seeing his mother pregnant and meeting his newborn brother.

From 1945, Randolph Churchill spent his later years like his namesake grandfather – wandering aimlessly around the fringes of Parliament, and like his father, refusing elevation to 'Duke of London'. That would have raised the 'Grandson of King Edward VII' spectre. Pamela applied for divorce in December 1946 citing abandonment. It was granted in 1947.

Bill Clinton's Birth

Pamela's missing years are from the end of WWII (8 May 1945) and when Winston left 10 Downing Street (27 July 1945), to early 1947. This provided enough time for her to conceive, carry a child to term, give birth, and recover her figure – all within the timeframe of the conception (13 November 1945 ± 18 days = 26 October–1 December 1945), birth (19 August 1946) and transporting to America their newborn son – Bill Clinton . . . a.k.a. William J. Churchill; Bill Churchill Rex; Bill FitzChurchill; William James FitzChurchill; William James Churchill Windsor; William James Saxe Coburg Gotha; Prince Billy Rex; Winston Churchill III's half or full brother . . . and the Queen's half-brother (another one).

And when a mother was found for Billy Rex in America in the name of Virginia Dell Cassidy (1923–94), she (23) abandoned the child to her grocery store running parents and went to study nursing, as she had never been a mother and didn't know what to do. So Eldridge and Edith Cassidy (a nurse and anesthetist) raised Billy Churchill Rex and Virginia Dell Cassidy didn't return from nursing school until 1950, when Billy was 3 or 4. Almost immediately she married the alcoholic wife beating car salesman Roger Clinton, and they moved from Hope to Hot Springs, Arkansas. So it was out of the frying pan and into the fire.

The key to look for in possible relatives is the upper maxilla – the bone from top lip to cheeks – the upper lip, the cheekbones, the nose, then the eyes.

Billy Rex was known as William Jefferson Blythe III, then chose the name William Jefferson Clinton – which is not that far off from Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill. Closer still is 'William Clinton' and 'Winston Churchill'.

Clinton left office with an approval rating of 66%
– the highest end of office rating of any president since WWII.[69]
Churchill left office with an approval rating of 83%.
It never fell below 78% during WWII.

A high-ranking British son-of-a-king having an illegitimate child to a British honey-trap and shipping the child off to another country to be raised, given a confusing background like Hitler's, promoted, funded, given every opportunity, backed, then underwritten, and being immune to the courts, was well within the realms of S.O.E. Britain and America. This is standard Illuminati practise – especially removing the child from the biological mother before the age of 12. This renders the child unemotional about killing. Added to this, Billy Rex was removed from his surrogate mother until he was 4 years old.

Mossad asset Polish Jews can suck like a hoover.

Queen Elizabeth II is also considered to be the daughter of Winston Churchill, as King George VI was considered 'too dumb to breed' – he had an IQ of 67, 1 point above retarded – so Queen Elizabeth II had a vested interest in her half brother Bill Clinton not being impeached . . . so he wasn't. Plus the Monica Lewinsky (22)/ Bill Clinton (49) affair in 1995 was a Mossad set-up. After Billy Rex's successful 1998 re-election, the House voted to impeach Clinton, but it all went flat when his half-sister, Queen Elizabeth II said: "House, I own you, so No".

Randolph Churchill very happy at the 4 October 1939 wedding . . . Pamela Digby Churchill disinterested.

During this time, at the end of WWII, Pamela Digby Churchill conceived a child with her father-in-law, Winston Churchill, gave birth, and shipped the child to America with her wartime lover, Averell Harriman.

Pamela Digby was from an ancient family with a bit of Yid in her. Her aunty was the Countess of Bradford, Lady in Waiting to Queen Mary, who married King George V, son of King Edward VII. So with Pamela and Winston, it was still "all in the family".

Pamela had wanted to marry Edward R. Murrow, a US radio broadcaster in England who began his broadcasts: "This is London". But Murrow's wife got pregnant on his last trip back to the States. She had a career job and they had tried for ten years and finally had a son in 1945.[70]

Edward R. Murrow: "This is London".

Averell Harriman was a millionaire heir to the Union Pacific railroad fortune and President Roosevelt's special liaison to Britain. He was the Banker you sent who wasn't a Jew, but had all the traits of a Jew and whom you could trust as a Jew. So he became a diplomat working in London developing the Lend-Lease program that sent supplies and weapons from the U.S. to Britain and the Soviet Union during WWII.

[70] Edward Roscoe Murrow (25 April 1908–27 April 1965) was born to poor Quaker farmers in North Carolina. He legally changed his name from 'Egbert' to 'Edward' in his second University year where he excelled in academics and sports. He got his degree in speech in 1930, then moved to New York City where he helped prominent displaced Jewish scholars from Germany (1932–35). He married Janet Huntington Brewster on 12 March 1935 and their only child, a son, was born ten years later in 1945.

During her marriage to Winston, Pamela also had an affair with publisher of the New York Herald Tribune, 'Jock' Whitney (1904–82). John Hay Whitney was also the U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom (1957–61).

Averell was the wartime US Ambassador to the Soviet Union (23 Oct. 1943–24 Jan. 1946) and the US Ambassador to Britain (25 Jan.–6 Oct. 1946) . . . so he had held one of the most powerful non-combat overseas positions.

For Averell, child shipping was no problem. He had access to the people, the ships, and the paperwork, and had enough influence to make it all go quietly. In Britain and Russia, he had the U.S. President's stamp and seal, as well as compliance from the Jews.

By 1946, Averell owed Winston Churchill and Pamela Digby Churchill a whole host of favours – financial, sexual, and silence –over his long standing relationship with Pamela Churchill in regards to his second wife, Marie Norton Whitney Harriman. It was also her second marriage. As it turned out they remained married for almost 40 years (c. 1930–70) until Marie Harriman died, then Pamela stepped in and married Averell Harriman, isolated his children, turned Averell against them, and inherited his entire US$110 million fortune, which she then used to fund her son, Prince Billy Rex Churchill Clinton, as the Democrat Candidate, and then into office as President of the United States of America (1993–2001).

Averell Harriman and Winston Churchill meeting Moltov in 1943.

Churchill still with some shag in him.

Prince Billy Rex Churchill's sister, Queen Elizabeth II had something to do with this. She could influence Court rulings in America . . . afterall, it was her British Plantation.

Pamela was running the Churchill Club in Grovesnor Square and Winston introduced her to everyone who walked in the door at 10 Downing Street. Within a week of Harriman arriving in October 1943, they had met, and the chemistry was immediate.

Those who go to private schools and inherit money love a good slut. Pamela Digby was an excellent slut, one of the best of World War II and Averell Harriman was the heir to a railroad fortune and had the best of private education.

Another of her consorts during WWII, William S. Paley said: "She is the greatest courtesan of the century". Spymaster: "All you had to do was touch her breasts and she was yours."

Averell was already married, so he didn't want to have a child, but he was quite willing to transport the grandson of a king – a prince – back to America, even if he was illegitmate. Afterall, America has a history of raising illegitimate royals, and it's nice to be part of history.

The child – a boy, between Pamela Digby Churchill and her father-in-law, former Prime Minister Winston Churchill – was used as a Chequer/ Checker to cement British U.S. relations for the Marshall Plan and the Cold War. Chequers was where the children of Prime Ministers, illegitimate royals, some royals, and nobles are born. "Oh, yes, my parents had me born at Chequers!"

As the U.S. presidency always goes to the candidate with the most British Royal blood, and Winston was the son of King Edward VII and Jennie Jerome Churchill, there was every chance that this child would become a U.S. president . . . as long as it could deliver a speech. That's all it takes.

Pamela conceived the checker child and sent it to America to be raised there to become the Pirate Captain of the British Plantation, otherwise known as the President of the United States of America – a place with a constitution for its Federal States, but absolutely none for its citizens.

The Queen of England revelled in the fact that so few of the U.S. Presidents were actually born in America, or were who they said they were. Very few American Presidents made it to that position under their real name.

This dates back to at least President Abraham Lincoln (1861–65), whose father, Thomas Lincoln, never existed. Abraham was actually A.A. Springs son and seemed to spend more time sleeping with his male bodyguard, than with his wife, Mary Todd. This also made Lincoln easier to control. Despite his wife coming from a wealthy slave holding family, the slaves had become too expensive to keep as the combined harvester and mechanical reaper had both been invented in 1834, so he had to free the slaves (1863) as it was costing his wife's family a small fortune. The slaves had been an increasing burden for 29 years by the time Abraham Lincoln declared the Emancipation Proclamation.

In early 1947, it was leaked that Pamela had an abortion in Switzerland, but it was more likely cover for her birth a year earlier, and plastic surgery to make her look better, and different from her exiled son, Prince Billy Churchill. Still, she looked more like him than Billy's supposed mother in America, Virginia Clinton Kelley.

Pamela went to Switzerland, officially for an abortion, in 1952/53, but to whom?. Her partner at the time, Gianni Agnelli, claimed it wasn't his. It's just as likely she has some more plastic surgery on top. It wasn't her first or last time, and her friends used to say that she had the best plastic surgeon on the planet. What do you expect – it was MI-6 in Switzerland.

The Arms Dealer and MI-6 agent, Adnan "Mr Fixit" Khashoggi, paid for her plastic surgery. The Jewish Elizabeth Taylor went along for the same treatment. Both Pamela and Elizabeth were MI-6 Agents – courtesans using feminine wiles – so both worked overseas for the Queen.

Liz Taylor also organised the plastic surgery in Switzerland for Michael Jackson and his genitalia, so that Macaulay Culkin's description of Michael's genitalia in the American Courts for Michael's paedophile trial wouldn't match. Jackson (1958–2009) and Culkin (b. 1980) had been friends from when Culkin was 10 or so, and had appeared in one of Jackson's videos. Officially Michael Jackson was doing concerts in Budapest, but he failed to show and went for the Swiss surgery – more of how a Black man becomes a White woman, and British Jewish MI-6 agents become American Goyim fantasies.

Jackson said: "I want to look like her →."

Henry Graham Greene OM, CH) was an English author, playwright and literary critic who delved into the ambivalent moral and political issues of the modern world as only a bi-polar, Catholic-convert, MI-6 Agent involved in espionage and international politics could do.

Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Jewish American Art Dealers setting up in London – nice arms, dealers.

Graham Greene OM, CH
(2 October 1904–3 April 1991)
MI-6 Catholic paedophile.

His books were published (1929–2005), the first, last, and more notable titles being The Man Within (1929), Brighton Rock (1938), The Confidential Agent (1939), The Power and the Glory (1940), The Ministry of Fear (1943), The Heart of the Matter (1948), The Third Man (1949), The End of the Affair (1951), Loser Takes All (1955), The Quiet American (1955), Our Man in Havana (1958), The Human Factor (1978), and No Man's Land (2005).

Graham Greene was also part of an MI-6 paedophile ring and produced a magazine for the group. In one article, Graham Greene wrote about what he hoped to do to Elizabeth Taylor (b. 1932) who was a child of 12 or 13 at the time. This was deemed 'sexually offensive' and Graham Greene was charged with alluding to Elizabeth Taylor in an indescent manner. To avoid prosecution, MI-6 swished him out of England. They performed a Polanski and sent him to political hotspots like Sierra Leone, where he worked for MI-6 during World War II, and to Vietnam, Kenya, the Belgian Congo, Liberia, Cuba, and Mexico.[71]

Post-war, Graham Greene was in and out of Switzerland like a robber's dog. He was rumoured to have moved currency in and out for MI-6, but it could have been drugs. Switzerland is the home of all drug transactions – it's the point where they are set up from, and ultimately banked. Switzerland then, was even more gutless than it is now. It was also the place where the British author, paedophile, and MI-6 agent, Graham Greene, ultimately bought the farm . . .

Winston Spencer Churchill (23) then married (July 1964) Mary 'Minnie' Caroline d'Erlanger (25), the daughter of the banker, Sir Gerard John Regis d'Erlanger. They had four children: Randolph Leonard Spencer Churchill (1965–); Jennie Spencer Churchill (1966–); Marina Spencer Churchill (1967–); and John Gerard Averell 'Jack' Spencer Churchill (1975–).

Soraya Khashoggi (born Sandra Daly, England, c. 1942) then divorced the MI-6 Arms Dealer Adnan Khashoggi ('Spoonmaker') in 1982 and grew enormously fat, and now lives in a brick terrace near a railway line and works as a florist. The mother of nine has confirmed that her daughter, Petrina, was sired by the disgraced former Tory Minister, Jonathan Aitken.

Winston Spencer Churchill also had an affair with Soraya Khashoggi, ex-wife of the MI-6 Dealer – the same Adnan Khashoggi who had funded his mother's abortion/plastic surgery in Switzerland in 1953. This caused Winston Spencer Churchill's divorce in 1997.

Winston Spencer Churchill then married Luce Danielson (Belgian-born jewellery maker) in 1997. Pamela's will (with Averell Harriman's US$110m fortune) shared Winston Spencer Churchill's inheritance of US$10 million with his first wife, Minnie Caroline d'Erlanger, as announced on 18 February 1997.

Two years prior, Winston Spencer Churchill scammed £12.25 million from the National Lottery funds to secure his grandfather's papers for Britain, but most historians assumed the country already owned them. Many believed this was to pay off Winston's gambling debts.

Pamela Churchill Harriman then left her most valuable asset, the £50m Van Gogh 'White Roses' to the National Gallery of Art in Washington. On permanent loan, this is called 'using a counter', which Prince Billy Churchill Clinton used to guarantee for some of his transactions.

So this was all an in-house project to make the insiders rich over generations. Inheritance certainly keeps the traps shut and the truth neigh impossible to get from an interview. We have to wait for the deathbed confessions, and that's a 50:50.

Pamela had been married to Randolph Churchill (1939–46), changed to Roman Catholicism, then married Leland Hayward (1960–71), then Averell Harriman (1971–86). Her profession was noted as Socialite Diplomat. She became the 58th U.S. Ambassador to [71] The Henry Graham Greene Papers, Harry Ransom Center, University of Texas, Austin, reviewed by Ousseynou Sy, 17 March 2009, paraphrased to get to the point.

France (1993–97) under her son, President Bill Clinton (1993–2001). As Ambassador to France, she signed the Dayton Agreement in 1995, which meant that NATO has no responsibility to arrest war criminals, and countries do not have to hand over those indicted for war crimes, and any excuse is a good excuse, and if NATO comes across an indicted war criminal, they have the option to turn around due to local custom, conflicting arrest warrants, or lack of fuel.

Pamela Harriman's signing of the Dayton Accord (negotiated by Richard Holbrooke at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Nov. 2005) meant that all the indicted war criminals Radovan Karadžić and Ratko Mladić had to do was withdraw from public life, not give interviews, not publish anything, and they were free men who spent their time whiling away the hours in open-air restaurants in Split and Dubrovnik . . . and Richard Holbrooke promised Karadžić freedom from prosecution by the ICTY . . . and his Serbian Democratic Party could take part in elections . . . So there's a rift between politics and distracted fashionistas!

Some things just don't work, and Pamela Harriman as U.S. Ambassador to France was one of them. As a result, she was rewarded at death by all the rest of the sabotuers.

"Pamela Harriman died on 5 February 1997 at the American Hospital, Neuilly-sur-Seine, after suffering a cerebral haemorrhage while swimming at the Paris Ritz [rooftop pool] the day before. The morning after her death, President Jacques Chirac of France placed the Grand Cross of the Légion d'honneur on her flag-draped coffin. She was the first female foreign diplomat to receive this honour. [She had born a child to the son of a King.] President Clinton, in further recognition of her contributions and significance, [his mother, financer, Yugoslav co-sabotuer, and freedom fighter for genocidal criminals] dispatched Air Force One to return her body to the United States and spoke movingly at her [State] funeral at the Washington National Cathedral in Washington, D.C. She was buried 14 February 1997 at Arden, the Harriman estate near New York."

Two weeks later, President Clinton was spilling his monkey on Monica Lewinsky's blue dress: "Ms. Lewinsky turned over a navy blue dress that she said she had worn during a sexual encounter with the President on February 28, 1997. According to Ms. Lewinsky, she noticed stains on the garment the next time she took it from her closet. From their location, she surmised that the stains were the President's semen."[72]

The Duchess of Windsor died on 24 April 1986 and Pamela Dibgy Churchill Hayward Harriman bought a lot of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor's memorabilia, including clothes, and even their jewell-covered dildo. Pamela stored them in her Paris apartment, died in Paris on 5 February 1997, then Dodi Al Fayed purchased Pamela's apartment, with everything in it – lock stock and dildo. His partner, Princess Diana, then took a fancy to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor's memorabilia and all of it was transferred to a mansion in Paris. That's where Dodi and Diana were heading to on the night they were killed – 31 August 1997 – six months after Pamela Digby had died.

So in 1997, Prince President Bill Clinton lost his biological mother (Pamela Digby), and his neice (half-sister QEII's daughter-in-law, Princess Diana) in six months. At the same time, the House of Representatives was trying to impeach Prince Billy Rex Clinton (1997–19 December 1998–12 February 1999) for the Monica Lewinsky Affair . . . At least two out of three of these were Mossad operations.[73]

[73] Monica Lewinsky graduated with an MA in Social Psychology from the London School of Economics, which is where MI-6 trains its foreign saboteurs. Her thesis was 'In Search of the Impartial Juror: An Exploration of the Third-person effect and Pre-Trial Publicity'. The Lewinsky Affiar was initiated, operated, and protected by Israel. Monica was a Polish Jew and when the Mossad rings, all they want to know is "How high do I jump?" Monica Lewinsky was a Mossad asset. Further proof came when Israel announced it was looking after her phone security.

(12 March 1921–24 January 2003).

Pamela Churchill became known for her attention to detail with men, despite her affairs within affairs – 'overlapping'. She paid extremely close attention to his desires, preferences and needs, and went to any lengths necessary to satisfy him during the affair. It was a Jewish trait, well bred and supported throughout the British aristocracy where over half of all the dukedoms are descended from the concubines of Kings – sluts royalty took a fancy too.

Royals also came from money and went to a private school.

After her divorce from Randolph Churchill in 1947, Pamela moved to Paris, and in 1948 began her five-year-long affair with Gianni Agnelli (1948–52), the head of Fiat, who controlled 4.4% of Italy's GNP, with a dress sense that influenced both Italian and international men's fashion. He was considered the most powerful businessman in Europe, latter-day Renaissance prince, de facto king of Italy, legendary playboy, and the It Guy.

So there are three missing years in Pamela's life, May/July 1945 to 1946/48.

Pamela was content being the mother of a prince and heir to the United States presidency, and described her time in Paris with Agnelli as the happiest in her life. It's not often that a Jewish slut/ concubine/ agent forms an attachment, but she did. Taking care of his every want and need, she (32) found Gianni (31) in bed with the younger woman, Anne-Marie d'Estainville (17) and threw a rare fit.

Pamela Digby: "Speaking of chases. I remember one night when I came home to find Gianni in bed with a 17-year-old Anne Marie d'Estainville. Such a lovely girl. Well I just hit the ceiling. I chased them all the way right out of the house and they got into his Lancia and just roared away then the phone rang in the middle of the night they had been driving along the Lower Corniche and, you know, Gianni had been doing cocaine and lots of drinking and just smashed into a delivery truck and everyone crawled away except for Gianni, and finally the police came along and took him to the hospital, and his jaw was broken, and his right leg was crushed. It took him months to recover, months."[74]

Pamela then nursed him through his injuries, which was nice, but she soon became pregnant. Agnelli doubts it was his and that was when she had an abortion in Switzerland in late 1952/ early 1953. Italian-American tastemaker and New York socialite, Princess Marella Caracciolo di Castagneto (26) then became pregnant to Agnelli in 1953. Pamela Churchill (33) ended the affair. Then the defacto King of Italy, Gianni Agnelli and Princess Marella were married on 19 November 1953, until his death in 2003.

So that was true love.

Gianni Agnelli marrying Princess Marella Caracciolo di Castagneto in 1953.

[74] Full Circle, Charles L. Mee.

Princess Marella and Pamela Churchill were both part of Truman Capote's famous circle of 'Swans'– wealthy, stylish, and well-married women who had created themselves. Others were Babe Paley, Gloria Guinness, C. Z. Guest, and Slim Hawks/Keith. Princess Marella was the youngest of the swinging set and made it to the Vogue List Hall of Fame as portrayed by Isabella Rossellini in the 2006 film 'Infamous'.

Pamela Churchill then had an overlapping affair with Prince Aly Khan, son of Aga Khan III, the head of the Ismaili Muslims, and the father of Aga Khan IV. Prince Ali Solomone Aga Khan (1911–60) lived in Paris, and became Pakistan's U.N. Ambassador (1958–60) and vice president of the United Nations General Assembly. He was best known as a racehorse owner, jockey, and third husband of American movie star, Rita Hayworth. They married on 27 May 1949 in Cannes, France when Rita was two months pregnant. Rita had previously been married to Orson Welles. It was his second marriage. At the wedding "500 guests from the United States and Europe feasted on 50 pounds of caviar, 600 bottles of Champagne and other gourmet delights around a swimming pool scented with 200 gallons of eau de Cologne". They separated in 1951 – due to his extramarital affairs with Pamela Churchill and others – and divorced in April 1953. Rita Hayworth got US$1.5 million in 1954, plus $108,000 a year for their daughter, Princess Yasmin.

Pamela Churchill learnt from this and tried to bag herself a very rich man.

Our informant in the Fleet Air Arm reports that Pamela Churchill and Queen consort Elizabeth were photographed sitting with one of the French Baron Rothschilds overlooking one of their newly liberated vineyards in France in 1946. The vineyards had just been handed back to him by the Germans, and the French government had just removed any charge on the properties, and that was what Elizabeth was there for. They were obviously revelling in the irony of getting their land back and Baron Rothschild would have been saying to them: "We would still be sitting here if Hitler had won".

Prince Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth marrying on 27 May 1949.

Their daughter, Princess Yasmin Aly Khan.

King George VI was nowhere to be seen. As ususal, he couldn't stay focussed long enough to be photographed in a conversation, plus he was sick from 1947 on. Like a lot of nutters, he smoked every cigarette he got his hands on. Someone would have told him while he was a mid-shipman in WWI that smoking would make him look older and wiser, but no one told him he had lung cancer and syphilis, not even his doctor, Porridge. My old man was his shearer back in NZ in '67 and he used to say: "Nothing lies like a Jewish cemetery".

So here's the official story . . . Gianni Agnelli and Prince Aly Khan were all in the same rich swinging set with the French banker, Baron Élie de Rothschild (1917–2007) who had spent time in Colditz and married his childhood sweetheart, Liliane Fould-Springer, by proxy in 1942. Despite the 12-year marriage, they introduced Pamela Churchill to Rothschild in 1954 when Liliane Rothschild was out of town. According to Baron Élie Rothschild: "She was sweet, charming and pretty. I wanted to go to bed with her and I did."

Pamela Churchill at the Corviglia Club in St Moritz, Switzerland in 1952.

Rothschild had been running the Château Lafite-Rothschild premier cru claret vineyard (1946–74) and taught Pamela how to talk wine and art. Liliane Rothschild quickly dispatched Pamela, or thought she did. Pamela (34) then put the hard word on Baron Élie de Rothschild (37) to marry her, which he didn't. The Rothschilds are discouraged from splitting their fortunes by divorce, so he supported her financially and their affair lasted from 1954 to 1958.

Pamela Churchill was a confidant woman, and not one to keep her purse in her pants, so she even cheated on the Baron Rothschild, running at least five lovers at the same time.

Pamela Churchill overlapped with the French writer, Maurice Druon,[75] and the billionaire Greek shipping tycoon, Stavros Niarchos (1909–96), a.k.a. "The Golden Greek" who built the first oil supertankers.

Maurice Druon in pro-Jewish-Resistance promo.

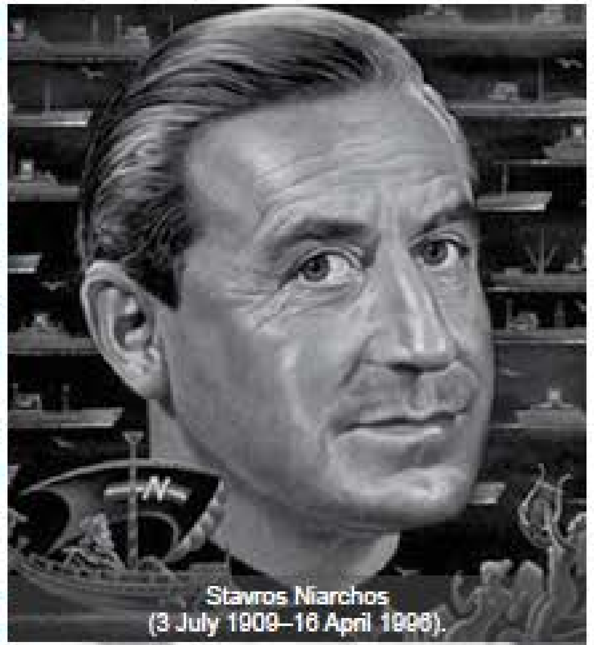
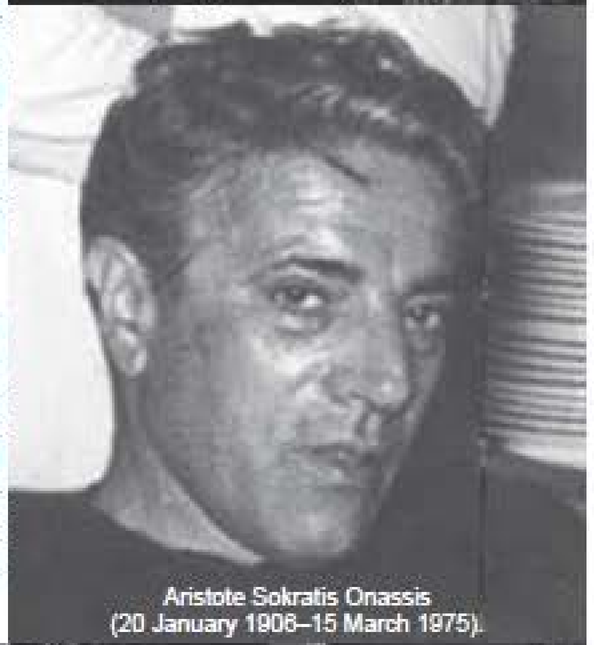
75 Maurice Samuel Roger Charles (Kessel) Druon (23 April 1918–14 April 2009) was the son of the promising Jewish Russian actor, Lazare Kessel, who committed suicide (20) when Maurice was 2 years old. His actor mother then married the wealthy bourgeois René Druon de Reyniac, who raised Maurice as his own son in Normandy. Maurice wrote the lyrics for the French Resistance anthem with his uncle, Joseph Kessel, at the Ashdown Park hotel in Surrey in May 1943, which was then whistled twice-daily over the BBC, with Duron as one of the whistlers. So Pamela Churchill just had to bed him. Whistling the first bars became a pro-resistance political statement in France and has since been officially inscribed as one of the three French national anthems. Uncle Kessel, whom he met in his teens, was a hard-drinking, hard-womanising drug addict journalist/ novellist who introduced Maurice to the Paris literary scene – free drink, women and drugs. President Georges Pompidou appointed Druon Minister of Culture (April 1973–May 1974). Druon then became Deputy for Paris (1978–81), member of the European Parliament (1979–80), then Secretary of the Académie Française (1985–99), where he was a romantic Anglophile, as he had been since rooting Pamela. In 1938, Maurice (20) married Geneviève Gregh (32), daughter of poet Fernand Gregh, then married (1968) Madeleine Marignac who survived him.

Stavros Niarchos (38) had married (1947) his third wife, Eugenia Livanos (21) and it was about eight years into the marriage. Stavros Niarchos then married Henry Ford II's daughter in Mexico in 1966. Charlotte Ford was three months pregnant. They divorced in 1967 and Stavros Niarchos returned to his wife, Eugenia Livanos – the Mexican marriage and divorce not recognised in Greece. Mrs Eugenia née Livanos Niarchos (44) then committed suicide with barbiturates in 1970 and Stavros married (1971) her sister, Athina, Marchioness of Blandford, who had been the first wife of Aristotle Onassis. She also died from an overdose, in 1974, so it was all ship-shape in the Greek wedding.



Stavros Niarchos
(3 July 1909–16 April 1996).

Niarchos and Onassis made out they were in competition, but they were secret partners in narcotics and used to wife swop – part of the reason why their wives died of overdoses in 1970 & 1974 – they knew too much – and in the super-rich swinging set, loose lips sink ships – and those ships were supertankers carrying a cover load of oil. If that got spilt, it would destroy the local environment and all the fisheries for decades . . . so 'No'.



Aristote Sokratis Onassis

For added protection, Onassis hung out with Winston Churchill and used him to negotiate things – especially trouble. Onassis was raided over drugs at one point and it was Churchill who got him out of it. Churchill would say: "Oh no, I've known this man for years and years and years and it couldn't possibly be him". And that's all the average Pom wants to hear.

Pamela then had an affair with Marquis of Portago, Alfonso de Portago (1928–57). He was heir to one of the most respected titles in Spain and the Agnelli fortune, so a millionaire. Educated in France, he spoke four languages, and was a versatile athlete who competed in the Olympics, as well as being a racing driver "from Spain".

De Portago (20) barely knew American showgirl Carroll McDaniel (25ish), but they married in 1949 and had two children, in 1949 and 1954. They were getting a divorce so Alfonso could legitimize his invalid Mexican marriage to Dorian Leigh (who aborted their first baby in 1954). She then gave birth to their son, Kim, on 27 September 1955; but Alfonso was also dating actress Linda Christian (Tyrone Power's ex-wife) . . . and Pamela Churchill.

Alfonso de Portago was then killed in the Mille Miglia race in Italy on 8 May 1957 (too many women on his mind) which ended the race history and his divorce came through the following day. Carroll née McDaniel de Portago went on to marry New York Russian-American retail multi-millionaire Milton Petrie.

In 1958, while Pamela Churchill was still mistress to Baron Élie de Rothschild (1954–58), she was introduced to Broadway producer Leland Hayward (1902–71). He had married the Texas debutante Lola Gibbs in 1921, divorced her in 1922, then remarried her and divorced again in 1934. Leland then married (1936) Margaret Sullavan (1909–60), his talented stage and screen actress client, the former Mrs. Henry Fonda. They had three children, Brooke Hayward who married Dennis Hopper (1961–69), Bridget (1939–60); and William (1941–2008, suicide). The Leland Hayward-Margaret Sullavan-Fonda disfunctional family life was immortalised in 'Haywire'. Then in 1938, swinging Hayward met the original "California Girl", Slim Hawks (wife of film director Howard Hawks), divorced in 1946 and married Slim in 1949. Slim then had a one-night stand with Frank Sinatra and a longer affair with the Jewish author and screenwriter, Peter Viertel, so that strained the marriage. Many of these swingers were either Jewish, or part Jewish.

MARRIAGE
APPLICATIONS

Averell Harriman (79) and Pamela Churchill Leland (51) marry at the Registry Office on 27 Sept. 1971.

So a year after meeting, Leland Hayward (57) proposed to Pamela Churchill (39) in 1959 and Pamela (40) was finally married again on 4 May 1960, in Carson City, Nevada, just hours after his divorce from Slim became final. Pamela Churchill (Mr Hayward No 5) was used to a lavish lifestyle and luckily Leland come into money producing the original stage production of 'The Sound of Music' (29 March 1965–like forever).

Eventually their spending had to be curtailed while the same audience waited for ABBA (June 1972–like forever). Leland Hayward had a series of strokes and died on 18 March 1971 and Pamela had to fork out her own money to pay for his final care and funeral expenses. So, as soon as he had carked it, she was broke and out for Husband No. 3 – like the following day.

Pamela Churchill Hayward had learnt off her husband that you could divorce and marry on the same day, so why not become a widow and find a new husband the next day.

Sure enough, she found one of her London wartime lovers Averell Harriman (1943–46) had just become a widower (1970), arranged to sit back-to-back with him at dinner, and six months later they married on 27 September 1971.

This was the same US Ambassador to Britain who had transported her son to America. Now she could find out what had become of the 24-year-old.

Pamela Digby Churchill Leland:
"Give me the detail. I want the detail."

Averell Harriman: "Well, we did what we could to preserve the grandson of King Edward VII. You might want to take a seat. This could take a while.

". . . Prince Billy Rex Churchill Clinton (18) registered for the draft on September 8, 1964. He accepted all the contractual conditions and his Selective Service Number was 326 46 228. On November 17, 1964 he was classified for Student Deferment, 2-S.

"Before his senior year, in the summer of 1967, Prince Billy worked as an intern for Senator J. William Fulbright, the Democrat Senator for Arkansas from January 1945. He's still in office and it doesn't look like he's leaving anytime soon. As you know, Fulbright is of exceptional standing as he'd established the Fulbright Program in 1946. It's sponsored by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the United States Department of State and is effectively the Voice of America worldwide in 150 countries, so he had worldwide influence amongst academics.

"Our enemy in all of the Vietnam draft business was Lyndon B. Johnson. He abolished graduate deferments on February 16, 1968. Billy was close to graduating from Georgetown University, but on March 20, Billy (21) was classified 1-A and eligible for induction. He was the only man of his prime draft age classified 1-A, but we managed to get his re-induction physical examination put off for ten-and-a-half months. The normal delay is two months.

"We ran many ongoing distractions as the paperwork can take several months to answer and we created new positions we knew Billy wouldn't fill.

"In the meantime, Billy won a Rhodes Scholarship to University College, Oxford, in June 1968 – which we also arranged.

"We then had Raymond Clinton, Billy's Uncle, personally lobby Senator Fulbright who was very sympathetic, plus he had the two-way ear of Win Rockefeller. So Senator Fulbright's aide then phoned the Garland County (Hot Springs) Draft Board member, Robert Corrado, urging him to give every consideration to keep Clinton out of the draft so he could attend Oxford, and to pass the impetus onto the other board members.

"Raymond Clinton also lobbied the chairman, William S. Armstrong. So that was two out of three. Chairman Armstrong then held back Billy's draft file from consideration for all of 1968, by all three board members.

"Billy was not called for his physical examination until February 3, 1969. By this time, our Prince Billy was at Oxford studing and playing rugby, officially from September 1968 to June 1970, although he never finished his studies, never graduated, and spent a lot of time travelling, just as you have. He studied Philosophy, Politics and Economics."

Pamela: "Ooh, that's what I would have studied."

Averell: "He also smoked a little dope."

Pamela: ". . ."

Averell: "Ahmm . . . For further distraction and time consuming paperwork, uncle Raymond Clinton also lobbied Lieutenant Commander Trice Ellis, Jr. of the local Navy Reserve Unit, to obtain a slot for Billy. No such Naval Reserve slots existed in Hot Springs in 1968, so this was a special creation for Billy. An officer's slot would have meant Billy served two years in active duty beginning sometime in 1969, so we had him apply for a standard enlisted man's billet.

"Billy didn't show up to his physical exam, as planned, so Lieutenant Commander Ellis phoned Raymond Clinton, who let slip that the fix was in. I have a transcript here:

> 'Don't worry about it. He won't be coming down. It's all been taken care of.'

And it had. All of these delays throughout 1968 meant that Prince Billy was able to enroll at Oxford in September.

"On February 2, 1969, while in England at Oxford, Billy took his physical examination and passed.

"As a formality, in April 1969, the Garland County Draft Board at Hot Springs sent Billy his Induction Notice. Along with it was a message to ignore the notice because the deadline for induction had past. Then in June 1969, Billy received a second Induction Notice with a July 28 induction date – while you were busy nursing Leland.

Pamela: "Yes I was, the dear. He had strokes you know."

Averell: "Billy's Oxford classmate, Cliff Jackson, then had several of his influential friends pull strings on Billy's behalf in early July 1969. They aimed their lobby directly at the head of the state draft agency."

Pamela: "Nice work."

Averell: "Billy then left Oxford in early July 1969 and returned to Hot Spring to beat the July 28 induction deadline. Here he met with the only person in Arkansas with authority to rescind a draft notice – Colonel Williard A. Hawkins. It was stressed that Billy was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford and the Army Induction Notice was cancelled.

Pamela: "Thank you darling. More tea."

Averell: "Your welcome. A drink would be nice. Whiskey? . . . Arrangements were then made for Prince Billy to serve his country in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) program at the University of Arkansas by enrolling in the law school, and on August 7, Billy was reclassified 1-D, effectively terminating the draft notice.

"The Hot Springs Draft Board and the office of Democrat Fulbright then lobbied the Commander of the University of Arkansas ROTC program, Colonel Eugene Holmes, to admit Billy into the ROTC program.

"We chose Colonel Eugene Holmes as his decorations include the Silver Star, two Bronze Stars, two Legions of Merit, the Army Commendation Medal, he was a survivor of the 60-mile Bataan Death March in the Philippines in 1942, and then spent three-and-a-half years as a POW guest of the Japanese. He had a hundred per cent disability, so he was sick, slow to respond, and worn out, but people would respect what he said, act on it, and not question his judgement, or authority.

Pamela: "Good thinking."

Averell: "Billy then signed the enlistment papers and took the oath, but he failed to report to the duty station at the University of Arkansas ROTC in September 1969. Nor did Billy enrol in the Arkansas Law School, and he did not attend classes full-time, so he was not eligible for the ROTC program.

"So we had Senator Fulbright's office, and Billy himself, continue to lobby Colonel Eugene Holmes, who eventually became our man. So Billy was in the Arkansas Law School ROTC progam, not eligible for the draft, and studying in back in Oxford.

"Richard Nixon then replaced Lyndon B. Johnson as President on 20 January 1969."

Pamela: "LBJ was such a horrible man. He was in on the assassination of Jacqueline Onassis husband, Jack. Such a horrible man as LBJ . . ."

Averell: "Well yes . . . we're only halfway through. President Nixon then changed the draft rules to avoid capturing Prince Billy (23) and placed him in a category of 'suspended'. Selective Service reforms were implemented in September 1969 which only permitted the conscription of 19-year-old men, by lottery, and enlistees, volunteers, and professional soldiers. This was followed up with troop withdrawls.

"With this under his belt, Prince Billy then wrote a letter on September 12, 1969 which he carried around in preparation for our extremely lobbied and pressured man, Colonel Eugene Holmes, Chairman of his Draft Board. But Billy never sent it. It wasn't required as Billy made it safely back to Oxford in late September 1969 without being conscripted.

"We then used our sphere of influence on the college campuses creating student riots, so Nixon spread the October 1969 draft call over November and December, and suspended the draft calls for November and December 1969.

"Billy was now safe from induction for five years from September 1964 to December 1969.

"President Nixon then threatened Congress to remove men aged twenty to twenty-six from the draft call unless they established a lottery system. This included Prince Billy who was twenty-three, so he was either not to be drafted, or only vulnerable to a lottery.

"Congress then establish a lottery system.

"On October 1, 1969 we had Nixon announce that anyone in graduate school could complete the full year. This made Prince Billy safe from the draft until June 1970 – the end of his Oxford studies.

"As soon as this was in the bag, we then had Roger Clinton make Billy eligible for the draft. This maintained his future standing with Vietnam war veteran voters.

"By this time, the Prince, William, grandson of King Edward VII was organizing anti-war demonstrations in London, which he led on October 15, 1969."

Pamela: "Beautiful."

Averell: "Billy had managed to get the support of the British Peace Council, part of the World Peace Council which was backed by the KGB. The KGB was a no go, so Billy was noted as 'NOT ENROLLED AT UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS LAW SCHOOL' and his 1-D deferment was automatically cancelled and he was reclassified 1-A. So Billy was eligible for induction on October 30, 1969.

"But Billy stuck his toes in and organized and led further anti-war demonstrations in London on November 16, 1969.

"Prince Billy was now officially AWOL and subject to arrest under Public Law 90-40 (2)(a) – a registrant who has failed to report, and remains liable for induction.

"The first draft lottery was then drawn on December 1, 1969 and Billy drew number 311. His birthdate lottery number was high enough for him not to be drafted, but he was ineligible anyway as he'd already been ordered to report for induction.

"So Billy was AWOL, and a fugitive from justice from October 30, 1969."

"Then on December 3, 1969, Billy wrote to Commander of the University of Arkansas ROTC Program, our friend, Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Holmes, here it is: 'From my work I came to believe that the draft system is illegitimate . . . I decided to accept the draft in spite of my beliefs for one reason – to maintain my political viability.'

"So he was on track there and had obviously taken on board his briefings in London, and like his grandfather, he'll probably be known as 'The Peacemaker'. Here's the full letter. You can read it in your own time."

Pamela: "Wonderful. Thank you for saving my son . . . Oh, he is a good writer."

> December 3, 1969
> Dear Colonel Eugene Holmes,
> "From my work, I came to believe that the draft system itself is illegitimate. No government really rooted in limited, parliamentary democracy should have the power to make its citizens fight and kill and die in a war they may oppose, a war which even possibly may be wrong, a war, which in any case, does not involve immediately the peace and freedom of the nation. The draft was justified in World War II because the life of the people collectively was at stake.
> "Individuals had to fight, if the nation was to survive, for the lives of their country and their way of life. Vietnam is no such case. Nor was Korea an example where, in my opinion, certain military action was justified but the draft was not, for the reasons stated above . . .
> "At that time, after we had made our agreement and you had sent my 1D deferment to my draft board, the anguish and loss of my self regard and self confidence really set in. I hardly slept for weeks and kept going by eating compulsively and reading until exhaustion brought sleep. Finally, on September 12 I stayed up all night writing a letter to the chairman of my draft board, saying basically what is in the preceding paragraph, thanking him for trying to help in a case where he really couldn't, and stating that I couldn't do the ROTC after all and would he please draft me as soon as possible.
> "I never mailed the letter, but I did carry it with me every day until I got on the plane to return to England. I didn't mail the letter because I didn't see, in the end, how my going in the army and maybe going to Vietnam would achieve anything except a feeling that I had punished myself and gotten what I deserved. So I came back to England to try to make something of the second year of my Rhodes scholarship.

“Please say hello to Colonel Jones for me. Merry Christmas.

Sincerely, Bill Clinton.”

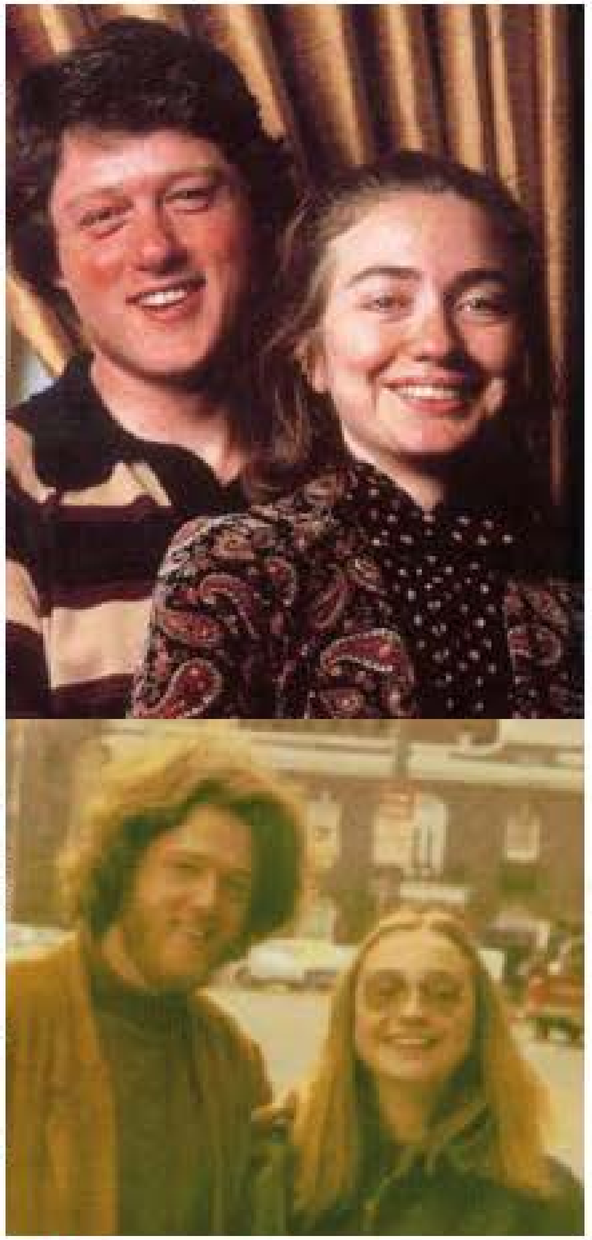
Averell: “You’re more than welcome . . . Then around December 12, 1969, Billy went to Norway to meet with various peace organizations, most of them KGB backed. He then went to Moscow for New Years Eve, staying until January 6, 1970. It was here that he got the inside knowledge on how the Soviets were supplying the North Vietnamese with anti-aircraft weapons, ammuniton, advisors and spies.”[76]

Pamela: “Well, he’s a chip off the old bock then.”

Averell: “Yes, he is one Slick Willie . . .

“Perhaps if we can tolerate each other for six months, we should get married. I quite fancy marrying the mother of Churchill’s baby. He did keep mumsy about my affair with you from my wife, Marie, although she did know, but it was nice not to have it confirmed to her.”

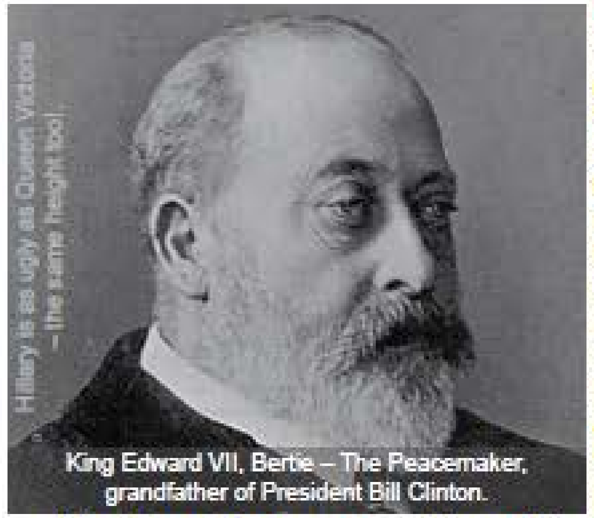
“Here’s a couple of photos with Bill and his new squeeze, Hillary Rodham. She’s not much of a looker, and she is very political, but she could be the right driving force behind him. Like his grandfather, ‘Bertie’, ahmm, King Edward VII, he has the same eyes, nose, mouth, chin, build, and the same attitude toward women – dispensable.”



Pamela Churchill Leland: “Well he is my son, and he is Winnie’s son, and his is Bertie’s grandson. Can I keep these photographs.”

Averell Harriman: “Yes you can Pam.”

Prince Billy Rex was immediately introduced to the Rockefellers, some saying that Win Rockefeller was his biological father. But it’s more likely that Win Rockefeller was a conduit to introduce Prince Billy Rex to his real mother, his real family history, and what support he could expect from the world like . . . the Churchill’s, the British Royal Family, his half-sister Queen Elizabeth II, the French Rothschilds, the English Rothschilds,[77] the Blandfords, the Aga Khan, the Marquis of Portago, the Agnelli family and Fiat, the Greek shipping magnates, Niarchos and Onassis, and the Kennedy’s via Mrs Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis (1968–75), the Russian-American retail philanthropist Milton Petrie (1902–94), Edward Roscoe Murrow, William S. Paley, the Harriman’s money, Maurice Druon’s French Resistance, writers, poets, culture, Paris and the European Parliament, Truman Capote (1924–84) and his fag-hags, the Fonda’s, Dennis Hopper, Rita Hayworth’s descendants’ Princess Yasmin Aga Khan and Rebecca Welles,[78] the Hayward’s, and much of Hollywood.



King Edward VII, Bertie – The Peacemaker, grandfather of President Bill Clinton.

Hillary is as ugly as Queen Victoria – the same height too!

Like Nancy Reagan says: “Hollywood is all the politics you need”.

Prince Billy Rex also learnt what was in his loins and around the same time he met Hillary Rodham when they were both waiting outside the same girl’s dorm room – both anticipating sex from the same woman. Officially they first met in a civil liberties class at Yale Law School in 1970, but that’s just such upstanding PR.

With such a history, there was no way they could name Pamela Digby as the surprise mother of President Bill Clinton (they have the same teeth), so the long-standing cover story was maintained and Bill Clinton retained his surrogate mother (Virginia Clinton Kelley) who barely looked like him (but she could look like King Edward VII), while he promoted his biological mother (Pamela Churchill Harriman) with plastic surgery to Ambassador to France.

Bill Clinton still with his surrogate mother, Virginia Kelley Clinton for another 351 days.

[76] It’s amazing how much information you can pick up in Moscow in a week, especially at that time of year. Moscovites will talk just to keep themselves warm, and their focus off the cold. Moscow does seem to be a place where there is information on how the world will be run. It’s a place of future planning. I was there at the same time of the year, for about the same time, 19 years later. I did the radical thing of going into Red Square at lunchtime on 5 December 1989 and yelling out ‘Mokrie Dela’ at the top of my voice – Department 13, Killing. I then picked up the names and training of feminist Westerners, and the reconstruction of the subconsious. So that was fun, and only five days. Bill, on the other hand, got the names and details on Peace Activists in the West. In New Zealand, these were the KGB Agents Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson, who then became Prime Minister and Attorney-General. Bill became President. I was trained as Prime Minister and Governor-General.

Averell Harriman: ". . . It was Winston Churchill who arranged, on your behalf, for me to transfer Baby William Churchill to the Colonies – as befits the illegitimate son, of an illegitimate son of the King – Edward VII – and possibly a great-grandson of the Central Bank.

"Amongst all the post-WWII movements and chaos, and chaos of records, Prince William was transferred to Hope, Arkansas, to a dead father – William Jefferson Blythe, Jr. traveling car salesman – and his rather loose mother, Virginia Dell Cassidy, who immediately left to study nursing, leaving young William with her parents, Eldridge and Edith Cassidy, who owned the local grocery store selling goods on credit to all colors. Edith Cassidy was also an anesthetist nurse which came in handy from time to time. Virginia Dell Cassidy also trained as an anesthetist nurse, returned in 1950, and moved to Hot Springs, then married Roger Clinton becoming Virginia Clinton. Here young Billy attended St. John's Catholic Elementary School, Ramble Elementary School, and Hot Springs High School, all under the watchful eye of Win Rockefeller, who is briefing young William about now.

"Prince William changed his name to Bill Clinton in 1962 when he was 16."

Pamela: "Wow. That's a lot to take in. Thank you so much. You're a darling. Does Billy have any siblings?"

Averell Harriman: "He has a surrogate half-brother who looks nothing like him. To keep him out of credible media, we are ensuring that he will be a loser, a write-off, NHI."

Pamela: "Such a tragedy, but that's the price of Kingship."

Virginia Dell Cassidy Blythe Clinton Clinton Dwire Kelley

Virginia Dell Cassidy (6 June 1923–6 January 1994) ended up being Virginia Kelley, surrogate mother of President Bill Clinton and mother of his half-brother, Roger Cassidy Clinton, Jr. (25 July 1956–) an American rock musician, drug dealing, drunk driving actor who looks nothing like Bill Clinton except that they are both White males about the same age.

Virginia married William Jefferson Blythe, Jr. in a civil ceremony in 1943. He was then shipped out for WWII. When her husband was discharged, he picked her up and they moved for four months to Chicago. William Jefferson Blythe, Jr. officially inseminated Virginia and was then killed in a car accident six months later. Bill was born three months later in August 1946, but the baby she got was 'Swish-Baby-Bill'. The other baby either died, or is lost to history.

In 1950, Virginia married the alcoholic, physical and psychological abuser, Roger Clinton, who sired second son Roger Jr., who carried the response to these traits. They divorced in 1961, then remarried a few months later. Roger Clinton did not adopt 'Swish-Baby-Bill', but Prince Billy Rex took Clinton's surname legally in 1962, on his own cognition, as he thought it would be easier if they all had the same surname. Roger then died of cancer in 1967.

Virginia then married hairdresser Jeff Dwire in 1969. He died from diabetes in 1974. Virginia then married food distribution brokerage executive Richard Kelley on 17 January 1982. They remained married until she died from breast cancer aged 70, within a year of Bill taking office as President (20 January 1993–6 January 1994).

Surrogate Brother Roger Cassidy Clinton Jr.

While Bill Clinton was Governor of Arkansas (1979–81 and 1983–92) surrogate brother Roger pleaded guilty to cocaine distribution in January 1985 and served 12 months of a two-year sentence in return for testifying against a number of other defendants – so he was a spineless narc. Then on the last day in office as President, Bill Clinton granted Roger Clinton a pardon amongst the 177 issued on 19 January 2001. Four weeks later on 17 February 2001, Roger was arrested in a beach community near Los Angeles and charged with two counts of drunken driving and one for disturbing the peace. He pleaded guilty to Reckless Driving to avoid jail time. He was convicted for Disorderly Conduct, fined $1,350, and got two years probation.

Associated Press, Roger Clinton:

> "I was a disaster."

Well Roger Jr., your disaster was planned making you B-grade in every way. You played Mayor Bubba in Pumpkinhead II: Blood Wings (1994), guest-starred as yourself in The Nanny (1995–96), in Cybill (1997), in Sabrina, the Teenage Witch (1998), P.U.N.K.S. (1999), and as yourself in the film, Fred Claus (2007).

You were the surrogate half-brother of the great-grandson of the Central Bank, the grandson of a king, the son of a Prime Minister, and the half-brother of a President. Use that in Court. It should explain the coke.

Averell Harriman and the Marshall Plan – Two Top Agents

The Marshall Plan was introduced to the world on 5 June 1947 as the 'European Recovery Program'. It was a United States plan for rebuilding the countries of Western Europe with the by-line of backing America in the upcoming Cold War, which (to those in the know) began with the hunt for Adolf Hitler from 2 May 1945 – both an excuse for worldwide surveillance.

The Marshall Plan was designed to make countries well-off enough so that they wouldn't have to resort to Communism, so America put in 1.25 % of its GNP – US$13 billion over the four years the Marshall Plan was in operation (April 1948–52).

The Marshall Plan coordinated the many economies on a continental level, erased tariff trade barriers, and began the long, and suspect road to European integration. As a result, many of the countries are now like many of the other countries, and many of the cultures are now the same.

By 1952, the economy of every OEEC country had grown well past pre-war levels, except for Germany which was under contract to fund Israel for 149 years (1945–2094), so Germany split into Capitalist West Germany and Communist East Germany.

East Germany was one of Israel's 'Ideal States for Goyim' so it didn't have to pay, and couldn't. Even in 1988, East Germany was a black & white country (wiithout colour) with WWII railway speakers commanding people straight out of Animal Farm.

Playing in the game of the up coming Cold War (1961–91), Churchill's second cousin Stalin refused help for the U.S.S.R. and its allies so he could increase his death toll to 68 million and play the moral enemy.[79] Churchill then had Stalin killed in March 1953 to prevent him invading Yugoslavia – run by Tito, Churchill's other second cousin.

Plus, the U.S.S.R. invading Yugoslavia would make his son, Randolph, look even worse, and he might mouth off about Winston Sr. siring Winston III, which would destroy Winston Sr.'s international reputation, and could expose Prince Billy Churchill Rex and reduce his chances of leading the United British Plantations of America and all that TAX REVENUE . . . which was being paid to his daughter Queen Elizabeth II, and 'The Crown' – the 12 to 14 men who run the City of London on behalf of N M Rothschild & Sons, and Nathan Mayer was Winston Churchill's grandfather and great-grandfather . . . so Stain had to go and Churchill did it.

Pamela Churchill was also in Paris from 1947 when her lover Averell Harriman was in Paris (1946–48). Harriman had been in charge of Lend-Lease and was then placed in charge of the Marshall Plan (1947–July 1951). Here he had friendly relations with Irving Brown, a CIA Agent in charge of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, who could also provide ongoing Intelligence Reports on William Jefferson Blythe III, a.k.a. Prince Billy Churchill Rex.

Averell Harriman was then sent to Teheran in July 1951 to mediate between Persia and Britain in the wake of the Persian nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. Around the same time, Pamela Churchill was having an affair with the Muslim leader, Aly Khan (1951) which resulted in his divorce from Rita Hayworth in 1953.

So Averell Harriman and Pamela Churchill continued to run a spy network after WWII – all with complete immunity from the Queen of England and the President of the United States.

These were two top Intelligence Agents.

Pamela Churchill was The Spymaster's Lady.

Pamela Harriman gets into politics on behalf of Pr. Bill 'Bertie Churchill Rothschild' Clinton

"The War Years (1914–45) brought with them new courtesans. Pamela Harriman was the consummate late 20th Century courtesan who paid remarkable attention to every detail of her men and their preferences, running around their every comfort and need" – while they were alive. Leland Hayward called Pamela "the courtesan of the century".

"For nearly 20 years she lived as a courtesan in the precise, centuries old definition of the word."[80]

The day after Leland Hayward died, on 19 March 1971, Pamela arranged to resume her acquaintance with her former lover, the recently widowed railroad tycoon, diplomat and top spy, Averell Harriman (79). They were married six months later on 27 September 1971, until his death on 26 July 1986. Pamela presented her new US citizenship as a wedding gift, but by the marriage, Averell's health was failing. Pamela then kept his daughter, Kathleen, and godson, Peter Duchin, at arms length during the entire marriage (1971–86). She was that kind of woman. Ironically, Peter Duchin then married Leland Hayward's daughter, Brooke.[81]

Pamela and Averell moved to Averell's townhouse in 'N' Street, Georgetown in Washington DC and also had an estate in Virginia. Their private jet was a wonderful influence on the many notable people they entertained. Averell was America's pre-eminent statesmen, and both used their historical credentials, money and social reach to pull the dejected Democrats together and began 'Democrats for the 80s', a.k.a. "PamPac".

In the 1980s, the Democratic Party was all but dead, as the Republicans had the Hollywood actors Ronald Reagan and Frank Sinatra as president (1981–89) followed by the Nazi teenager turned CIA agent, George H. W. Bush (1989–93). But Pamela Churchill Harriman was above all this and jumped into politics boots n' all, kickstarting Prince Billy Rex Rothschild's political career. In an exchange of support, the National Women's Democratic Club named Pamela "Woman of the Year" in 1980. Feminists always name slappers 'Wonderful' whenever they have enough money for independence.

The French Salons started in the 1700s where a beguiling female host would lie on a couch and all the cocks would throw ideas at her. In England, Churchill and Beaverbrook used this model for the Churchill Club where men were mesmerized (and laid) by Pamela. In America, the Harrimans used the same model for PamPac, with Pamela the host of the fundraising issue dinners.

When Averell (94) died in 1986, Pamela (66) gave him a funeral befitting a president, with four Presidents attending. It appeared that Averell was being buried in the family plot, but she swished him to Bermuda, next to where she planned to be buried. Pamela then inherited Averell's entire US$110 million-dollar fortune. Harriman's children hated her and challenged this, but she got the lot because she had the support of her kind-of-daughter-in-law, Queen Elizabeth II over the Courts of America. Pamela then became the single doyenne and unifying force of the Democrats, raising their spirits and filling their coffers, just as hers had been. She used her new "fuck you very much money" to promote her son, Prince Billy Clinton, Governor of Arkansas, PamPac raising US$12 million for his campaign, to make her Checker Prince William Churchill, President of the British Plantation in November 1992, winning against George H. W. Bush, who provided no fight.

Speaker of the House Tom Foley: "No one in this country can take greater credit for winning the White House than Pamela."[82] "The two [Pamela and Bill] got along famously as his history and hers don't seem all that different in its most basic element."[83] After a life of living for and through men, Pamela had finally came to live through her son.

The Bill Clinton/ Prince Billy Rex rise to power

Pamela was fully briefed from Averell Harriman in March 1971. She then hauled in her contacts as the Spymaster's Lady and began working on Prince Billy Rex's career. With all these contacts, the British Royal Family and the British and French Rothschilds could get their own in as President of the United States, so there was really no force that could hold them back.

Averel Harriman and Win Rockefeller had already begun, so in the summer of 1963, Bill (16) was chosen to attend the American Legion Boys State (a Govt. leadership conference), in Little Rock, Arkansas (Win Rockefeller's territory), where he was elected a senator, and sent to Washington, D.C. to shake hands with President John F. Kennedy. The fix was in.

Bill Clinton (18) then went to Georgetown University in September 1964 for a B.A. in International Studies. On his breaks, he worked for the Arkansas Democratic Senator William Fulbright, who was also the Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Together they raged against the Vietnam War, which was America's way of trafficking heroin, and removing the opportunity from the British Royal Family, who had a long history of drug trafficking from the days of the East India Company and the China Clipper.

Prince Billy Rex Clinton went about correcting all that – even organising protests in London. Like his grandfather, he was indirectly involved in drug-running. In politics, there is a choice between war or drugs. The Republicans go for both. The Democrats go for the drugs.

Bill Clinton then won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University where his opposition to the Vietnam War grew under the guidance and sphere of influence of the British Royal Family.

So Bill Clinton went to Oxford (1968–70) and like many British Princes, he chopped and changed and failed to finish his studies.

Prince Billy Rex (24) then went to Yale Law School in the fall of 1970 and met Hillary Rodham (23) who was a year ahead of him. She had graduated from Wellesley College in Chicago's suburbs, where Bill's 'parents' had briefly lived before both of their conceptions.

At the time, the CIA were heavily influenced by the NAZI's in Operation Paperclip, and the NAZI's were heavily influenced by the Tibetans who were heavily influenced by reincarnation. When the CIA said wild things and were challenged, they would often say: "Because a Nazi told me" and that was considered ground-stopping providence.

Some, like the Ivy League CIA, would say, given all the information to date, and the long career histories presented here, that Hillary Clinton is the reincarnation of Queen Victoria. If this wasn't published, and you wanted to get into the Ivy League CIA, inside say, two days, and it was Cold War time, and you went to the Senate and asked to see 'Drina', you might get a companion tail and their resources at your service.

James William Fulbright
(9 April 1905–9 Feb. 1995):
"Israel controls the U.S. Senate."

G: "Honey, I've been living it."

Hillary: "Greg, where do you find this stuff?"

Bill Clinton meets President John F. Kennedy at the White House on 6 June 1963.
Bill Clinton then meets President Jimmy 'Kennedy' Carter at the White House on 1 December 1978.
President Jimmy 'Kennedy' Carter: "Pardon me". 50th Arkansas Attorney General Bill Clinton: "Pardon me".
President Jimmy Carter: "I thought I already had". Prince Billy Rex: "Isn't that something we British Royals do."
President Carter: "Mind your mark, boy. We have ours."

Bill Clinton and Hillary Rodham obtained their Juris Doctor degree from Yale in 1973. This translates as they both got a Law Degree at an Ivy League School. Bill then worked very briefly as a staff attorney for the House Judiciary Committee in Washington, D.C., then returned to Arkansas – close to the family briefings from Win Rockefeller and Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, William Fulbright – and became a Professor at the University of Arkansas . . . so it was all laid on.

After Prince Billy Clinton's half-sister, Queen Elizabeth II, gave her approval, Prince Billy and Hillary 'Drina' Rodham were married on 11 October 1975. Chelsea was born on 27 February 1980. She looks Jewish and may grow into her looks.

Just as Queen Victoria was short in stature, accomplished little, but had a long career, Hillary Rodham Clinton, was made Secretary of State of the British Plantation on 21 January 2009. She began her political career 35 years earlier in 1974 as Congressional legal counsel. Her contribution so far has been: "wash your hands often and drink lots of water".

Although Bill was still a fugitive from justice, he ran for the House of Representatives (Senate) in 1974 losing to incumbent, John Paul Hammerschmidt, 52%: 48%. This was his only loss. Without opposition, Bill Clinton was then elected Arkansas Attorney General in 1976, becoming the 50th Arkansas Attorney General (3 January 1977–9 January 1979).

17 days later, Jimmy 'Kennedy' Carter was elected U.S. President, taking office on 20 January 1977. The very next day (18 days) he pardoned fugitive-since-30-October-1969, Prince Bill Clinton on 21 January 1977. It was the first thing President Carter did. Then 22 months later, Carter and Clinton officially met for a photo shoot on 1 December 1978 – all farting pardons.

So there's Pamela Churchill Harriman's tie in to the Kennedy Family though Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and Stavros Niarchos to President James Kennedy Carter.

Bill Clinton was then Governor of Arkansas (32) – the youngest Governor in the U.S. (9 January 1979–19 January 1981 & 11 January 1983–12 December 1992). During the two year gap, Clinton kept his humour and joked: "I am now the youngest ex-governor in the nation's history".

Prince Billy Churchill Rex Clinton Mountbatten was then 42nd President of the United States (20 Jan. 1993–20 Jan. 2001) a.k.a. Pirate Captain of the British Plantation for eight years.

He was the third youngest president, becoming president at the end of the Cold War, for which he was The Checker Child. Prince Billy was the first Democratic Party president since Franklin D. Roosevelt to win a second term and presided over the longest peace-time economic expansion in American history, which included a federal surplus of US$559 billion. Like his grandfather, King Edward VII, this earnt him the title 'The Peacemaker'.

In Golden Dawn coven language, "559" translates as 'Occult master with deaths delayed'. Clinton then left office in 2001 with a 66 % approval rating – the highest end of office rating of any president since WWII. Then in 2009, he was named United Nations Special Envoy to Haiti. How weird is that!

When Clinton was impeached for obstruction of justice, by the House of Representatives on 19 December 1998, he was acquitted by the U.S. Senate on 12 February 1999 . . . because Mamaa Mountbatten Rex told them to, plus, she let America have a US$559 billion surplus in exchange. The pertinent result took less than two months and much of that was Christmas and New Year holidays.

Pamela Churchill Leland Harriman: "Arh, yes. My son was the first pardoned Federal felon to ever to serve as President of the United States, but he was a Prince and this is a British Plantation."

When President Bill Clinton Churchill's mother, the Twentieth Century's greatest courtesan, Pamela Churchill Leland Harriman died on 5 February 1997, Slick Willie was devastated. Not only for his mother, whom he had known for 26 years, since 1971, but he couldn't share their real relationship with the world.

As the son of Prime Minister Churchill, and the grandson of King Edward VII, he reacted in typical fashion and left a stain on his intern's dress. Like King Edward VII, who got a young woman pregnant when he realised Albert wasn't his father, and was then removed from any consultation, this was a protest that almost drove the President Prince to sabotage his offices of state – impeachment– but not for misleading about his mother, patron and financer.

When President Prince Bill Clinton's mother, Ambassor to France, Pamela Harriman died on 5 February 1997, Billy was heartbroken, sent flowers and Air Force One to pick her up, and at her state funeral said: "She was one of the most unusual and gifted people I ever met . . . She was a source of judgment and inspiration to me, a source of constant good humor and charm and real friendship. I am here in no small measure because she was there." She was 'The Life of the Party.

British Mother of an American President

The British mother of an American President came 72 years after an American mother of a British Prime Minister.

The first was Jennie Jerome's pregnancy to King Edward VII producing Prime Minister Winston Churchill in 1874.

The second was Pamela Digby's pregnancy to Winston Churchill producing President Bill Clinton in 1946.

The mother of Bill Clinton, Pamela Beryl Digby (20 March 1920–5 February 1997) was born in Farnborough, Hampshire, 50 km southwest of London. Her father was the 11th Baron Digby, House of Lords, Governor of Dorset. Her mother was the Honourable Constance Pamela Alice Bruce (14 June 1895–15 March 1978), daughter of 2nd Baron Aberdare (1851–1929), House of Lords. Pamela had five brothers and was the eldest of four girls born into nobility.

Pamela's great-great aunt was the C19th adventurer and courtesan, Lady Jane Digby, notorious for her exotic travels and scandalous personal life. There was a bit of comment that she was her aunt's child. They used to say:

"She was closer to her aunt than one would believe".

Pamela's 'mother', Constance Pamela Alice Bruce, had an older sister the Honourable Margaret Cecilia Bruce (1882–1949) who became the Countess of Bedford on 2 January 1915, and lady in waiting to King George V's wife, Queen consort Mary.

The Scottish 'Bruce' family were originally 'De Burgh' descended from the biggest harlots in France. Pamela Digby was to follow suit and become "the 20th century's greatest courtesan" . . . as was her son.

Pamela Digby and her three younger siblings were educated by a governesses 130 km southwest of Farnborough, on their 1,500 acre estate, Minterne Magna, in Dorset (not a school). Minterne has been the ancestral home of both the Digby and Churchill families since 1620.

At Minterne, Pamela became a very good horsewoman competing in the International Olympia, Royal Bath, and West Show on Stardust, and Poppy – which only she could control – kind of a 'Black Beauty'. Pamela was determined, competitive and liked to win in style.

At 17, she was sent to a boarding school Munich (or 'Muenchen' in snob) for six months (circa April–October 1937) where she met Unity Mitford and may have met Adolf Hitler, although Unity was a spinner, Adolf doesn't mention her, and Pamela was plain and plump at the time. Pamela then went to Paris and took some classes at the Sorbonne, which always sounds more like a flirting exercise than study. By 1937, the same year she left, Pamela had returned to England and was now "widely travelled" and "experienced" beyond the realms of settled marriage.

Nine members of Pamela's family were serving in Parliament, so she (19) easily got a job at the Foreign Office in London in 1939. Here she did French-to-English translations and met Randolph Churchill. Randolph (26) and Pamela (19) went on a blind date, then rambuncious Randolph proposed two weeks later. They were married on 4 October 1939. A year later Randolph took his seat in the House of Commons (8 October 1940) and two days later 'their' son Winston was born (10 October 1940–) at Chequers, the country residence of the Prime Minister of England, 50 km northwest of London.

Pamela and newborn Winston were photographed by Cecil Beaton for the LIFE Magazine cover – the first ever mother and child. With Baby Winston being the great-grandson of King Edward VII, you'd expect as much.

In February 1941, when baby was 4 months old, very strangely Randolph was sent off to Cairo for military service, so obviously Winston had to wheel him away. Here Randolph developed huge gambling debts, then wrote to wife Pamela asking her to pay them.

Lord Beaverbrook (the Jewish Max Aiten) paid the gambling debts and found her a place to stay at the Dorchester Hotel. Winston Churchill then insisted she move into 10 Downing Street, thus placing her at the center of power and politics, and within cocks reach. Pamela then played hostess on behalf of Winston Churchill and Lord Beaverbrook to Harry Hopkins, Averell Harriman and others. Lord Beaverbrook then taught 'the young Mrs. Churchill' to be a catalyst: "It was part of Pamela's job to know Americans . . . Beaverbrook's intelligence system was unparalleled." In exchange, Pamela wrote articles for Beaverbrook's Evening Standard from London, then from all over the world, and Randolph's gambling debts were paid.

Pamela Churchill then co-founded and ran a London salon in Grosvenor Square, under the street. The Churchill Club became a local where the upper heads of the Anglo-American alliance could meet informally. Pamela called it 'Eisenhowerplatz' and soon began an affair with Averell Harriman (1943–46) whom she had underwrite the Churchill Club. So Pamela already had a concrete sense that her fanny was her purse and practised as much.

Winston Churchill used his daughter-in-law, Pamela Digby Churchill, to loosen Anglo-American alliance lips. She was WC's muse, courtesan, information catcher, and mother of one or two of his children.

Averell Harriman had met with Winston Churchill for the Atlantic Charter at Ship Harbour, Placentia Bay in Newfoundland on 9–12 August 1941, so he knew what the future held after WWII.

Newfoundland found again and again and unfounded

Argentia is a naval/air station on a peninsula in Placentia Bay in the Island of Newfoundland, 950 miles south of Greenland, 1300 miles from Washington D.C., and 2,400 miles from London. At the time, Newfoundland was a British Dominion and would not become part of Canada until 1949. It was run by a Governor and a six member Commission of British Government (1934–49) who reported to the Dominions Office in London.

This meant that Newfoundland was available for any form of corruption to Britain's advantage.

The land had been voluntarily given to the British in 1933 after a series of double-crosses and scandals which involved Britain killing off most of Newfoundland's fighting males, naming the survivors 'Royal', and placing Newfoundland in a WWI war debt it struggled to repay.

The status of the base was also under question as it appeared that Placentia Bay was a location that was not a location, in a time that was not a time, discussing things that were never discussed, in order that they never be revealled, and if they were, they could never be substantiated in a time or place – which a court demands – and everything about the 'Atlantic Charter' was a Magic Operation. This was Alice in Wonderland material that would have made the paedophile Lewis Carroll (Charles Lutwidge Dodgson) proud. Why? Because it also involved child engineering, individually and on a massive scale.

Argentia is a 2 square mile peninsula; 4 miles south is Placentia, a small township. Argentia was originally settled by the French as a fishing settlement in the 1630s, called 'Petit Plaisance' ('Pleasant Little Place'). The French lost control of Argentia in 1713 to the British, who retained an anglocized version of Argentia as 'Little Placentia'. In Latin, 'Argentia' means 'Land of Silver'. The name 'Argentia' was officially adopted for Little Placentia in 1901. So there was now a 2 square mile peninsula called 'Argentia', and a township 4 miles south called 'Placentia'.

Newfoundland then underwent British doublecross sabotage in order to render it unsustainable.The British Commission then took control in 1934 and the now unfounded

Newfoundland remained a dominion in name only – to keep the masses fooled most of the time, and for as long as possible.[84]

[84] In WWI, the 1st Newfoundland Regiment, was almost completely wiped out on its first day in the Somme by the German Army on 1 July 1916. The survivors received the title 'Royal' but ended up with a war debt that became unsustainable in the post-war era. This was followed by planned political scandals and corruption by Prime Minister Sir Richard Squires, who was arrested in 1923 by the Attorney General. Squires' government then fell, a worse government came into power, then Squires was re-elected in 1928 only to be hit by the Great Depression, which placed Newfoundland in stasis from 1929 to 1939. Newfoundland relied on fish, paper and mineral exports and these were well down, so on 5 April 1932, a mob of 10,000 people (virtually the entire population) marched on the House of Assembly at the 'Colonial Building' and Prime Minister Squires was forced to flee, unable to contest the election later that year. The Previous Prime Minister, Alderice, got back in, then requested the British government to take direct control, with the proviso that Newfoundland get itself back when it became self-sustaining. Britain was primarily concerned with Newfoundland's war-debt payments so it established the Newfoundland Royal Commission, headed by Baron Amulree, a Scottish peer (they're always British agents). Almost immediately (1933), he assessed Newfoundland's political culture as 'intrinsically corrupt', its economic prospects 'bleak', and suggested replacing the government with a British Commission. Newfoundland Prime Minister Alderice's government then voted itself out of existence in December 1933.

Lend-Lease in Argentia, or is that Placentia

From 1934, Newfoundland was to become British land which, under Lend-Lease, Britain lent to America for a series of American military bases.

Lend-lease was an exchange of US warships for British military bases or land used for the military in the Western Hemisphere. In 1940, Argentia (2 square mile peninsula) was selected as it had secure deepwater anchorage in Ship Harbour and adjoining Fox Harbour, flat land for an airfield, and an existing railway line.

Under the Emergency Powers Defence Act 1940, the Argentia villagers were kicked out of their homes on 28 December 1940 and moved to Placentia 4 miles south. The homes were then burnt down or bulldozed. The US flag was raised in Argentia on 13 February 1941 and five months later, the Navy Operating Base Argentia was officially commissioned on 15 July 1941.

Three weeks later on 7 August 1941, President Roosevelt turned up in his USS Augusta (CA-31) heavy cruiser, anchored at Ship Harbour, inspected the base, then spent two days fishing. Prime Minister Churchill then turned up in his HMS Prince of Wales on 9 August and anchored at Ship Harbour, leaving on 12 August 1941. They met and discussed "the war strategies and logistics once the U.S. joined the war" which meant that Pearl Harbor had to be on the agenda.

Churchill, Roosevelt and their aides then negotiated the wording of a press release they termed "a joint statement". They left on 12 August, and the joint statement was released two days later in Washington D.C. and London on 14 August 1941. Two weeks later, the Naval Station Argentia was officially commissioned by the US Navy (28 August 1941).

The Navy Operating Base Argentia was officially commissioned on 15 July 1941, and; the Naval Station Argentia was officially commissioned by the US Navy on 28 August 1941. So the Navy Operating Base Argentia only officially existed for 44 days (15 July–28 August 1941) while the Atlantic Charter/ Lend-Lease/ Pearl Harbor/ Checker Children were negotiated.

This further placed Argentia in no man's land – was it British, was it American, was it French or Canadian, was it the Dominion of Newfoundland, or was it part of the British Dominions until it paid off its WWI war debts and became self-sufficient? Was it the land, the base, the water or the name that was owned by whichever sovereign entity?

Newfoundland was an asset that was confused in status, and continually traded and rolled over from 1713 to 1994. It's true identity was dictated, deniable, and transferable under 'might is right', and who had the best media coverage.

The land had its status changed (Newfoundland 1713; Dominion of Newfoundland, 1907–34; to voluntarily giving up self-rule in favour of direct control from London (1934–49); then progressively handed over to Canada from 1949 to 1994.

The land had its name changed (Argentia, 1630; Little Placentia, 1713; Argentia, 1901, then Argentia became part of Placentia in 1991); the land went from British to American ownership with the American Bases Act on 11 June 1941, but on 12 August 1941 according to the British; the land was traded for ships (12 August 1941, not signed for, but announced on 14 August 1941); meetings were held on an American ship (Augusta) in exchange for British land, and on a British ship (the aptly named Prince of Wales) in exchange for the American Presidency; the land was 'Navy Operating Base Argentia' on 15 July 1941 (British controlled land), then 'Naval Station Argentia' on 28 August 1941 (American controlled land); then the British sat side by side at Argentia (Royal Naval Air Station) on the American base (Fort McAndrew Army base) and kicked Canada out (to Bay Bulls); then the entire charade was handed over to Canada in stages in 1949 (under the cover of joining Canada), 1975 (end of Lend-Lease) and 1994 (end of Cold War), by which time it had become a ghost town, those with memories faded, silenced, dead, or too confused to warrant enthusiastic reading in history books.

The Newfoundland Escort Force (NEF) was established in 1941 to safeguard Allied trans-Atlantic convoys from German attack in the mid-Atlantic Ocean gap . . . while the ships carried essential supplies from North America to Britain. NEF protection ran from where Canada left off and the British Royal Navy escorts picked up. From 1941–43, the commander of all naval forces in the Western Atlantic flew his flag in Argentia with their first mission on 17 September 1941.

The Argentia facilities continued to expand with a 7,000 ton floating dock, but . . . the British Admiralty then turned around and established a Royal Naval Air Station at Argentia, the American facilities reserved for the exclusive use to repair and refit British Royal Navy escorts groups . . . but only once the Americans had built Argentia.

Americans retained and maintained the adjoining Fort McAndrew Army base (anti-aircraft) and a naval air station, but the Royal Canadian Navy only had access to Argentia for emergency repairs, so they had to develop their own repair facility 65 miles east at Bay Bulls.

Like elsewhere, in Argentia, the British were giving with one hand and taking with the other. Perhaps they had spent too much time colonising India and had become Indian-givers. Certainly the Indians were an inspiration for the Jews and the Jews now controlled the British – Churchill himself being a Jew, as was Roosevelt. When the Jews were travelling around looking for countries to scam, they went to India and found the Indians were already practising all the trickery the Jews were proposing. Go rascist that!

By 1943, 10,000 U.S. personnel had passed through Argentia, in their words "to the European Theatre" . . . "Oh, let's go to Europe and watch a move shall we."

Argentia personell numbers then rose and fell according to which war was on or off picking up "for the Cold War in 1947–48" to 7,000, and by the end of the Korean War in 1953, to 8,500 personnel. By 1969 the total U.S. Navy and Marine personell dropped to 3,000, and by 1971, it was 1,000 and getting ready to gift to Canada, now that Newfoundland's WWI war debt had been paid off.

Fort McAndrew Army base was renamed McAndrew Air Force Base in 1948, deactivated in 1955 and turned over to the US Navy. The focus had moved to radar. Remote was king and they moved further up the coast closer to Russia. In the 1960s, Naval Station Argentia then became a key "node" in the U.S. Navy's SOSUS underwater hydrophone system. As such, it became a target for several espionage attempts by the Soviet Union.

In 1973, Naval Air Station Argentia closed. Newfoundland had become a Canadian province in 1949, so by 1975, the assets were transferred to Canada under the 1941 lend-lease program.

In 1991, Argentia became part of Placentia. Then in 1994, Naval Operating Base Argentia (one of the US Navy's most modern facilities) was decommissioned, all transferred to Canada as its new 10th province. Argentia then become a ghost town of empty military buildings and the airfield remained abandoned until May 2008 when it was used for Air Cadet gliding practise . . . windy enough.

The Atlantic Charter Joint Non-Declaration

The Atlantic Charter was originally called the "Joint Declaration by the President and the Prime Minister" and known as the "Joint Declaration", but within 12 days the Daily Herald conveniently coined the catchy phrase "Atlantic Charter" for the disingenuous document.

Some say it was a cigar smoking piss-up, but they discussed the blueprint for the world after World War II, and this included Checker Children, where foreigners would become the President of the United States. Although this was not stated in writing, but nor was the document ever signed.[85]

Officially the Atlantic Charter Joint Declaration points were:

1. No territorial gains were to be sought by the U.S. or U.K. in WWII.
2. Territorial adjustments in accord with the wishes of the peoples concerned.
3. All peoples had a right to self-determination.
4. Trade Barriers to be lowered.
5. Global economic cooperation for the advancement of social welfare.
6. Freedom from want and fear.
7. Freedom of the seas.
8. Disarm aggressor nations now and disarm everyone after the war.

[85] Churchill claimed to have a signed copy, and that both signatures were done by Roosevelt.
Wikipedia: "Archives at the FDR Library show that at a press conference in December 1944, Roosevelt admitted: 'Nobody signed the Atlantic Charter'. In Churchill's account of the Yalta Conference he [Churchill] quotes Roosevelt saying of the unwritten British constitution that: 'It was like the Atlantic Charter – the document did not exist, yet all the world knew about it. Among his papers he [Churchill] had found one copy signed by himself [Roosevelt] and me [Churchill], but strange to say both signatures were in his [Roosevelt's] own handwriting."
So it is hard to say who signed the Atlantic Charter twice, and whose possession the forged signed copy is in. Confusion generally means another agenda. For Churchill that was Chequer Children. As an illegitimate British Royal, he also represented the Germans. So the German Nazi contract killer George H. W. Bush/ George H. Scherff Jr. became U.S. President 1989–93, followed by Churchill's purposefully conceived son, Prince William James Churchill, who became U.S. President William Jefferson Clinton, 1993–2001.
Son of a Freemason: "The accounts at the time were all done as trade, not money, and the accountants kept three sets of books, one for them, one in the safe, and one for the other accountant. This stopped the accountants getting knocked off to eliminate the record of the trade transaction – especially when dealing with anyone who was suspect. This is called Lodge Accounting – as in Freemasons. Accountants now keep two sets of books."

Of course these were all a ruse, as none of this happened. In fact, the opposite happened. Instead of territorial gains, the U.K. took over the U.S. by slight of hand. Those who argued against territorial adjustments were killed at war. Rather than self-determination, people were reliant on Lend-Lease, the Marshall Plan, and social welfare. Trade barriers then rose and fell according to the most recent hostage crisis, as did the oil prices, so hostage crises were staged to increase oil prices and trade revenue. The Cold War meant that a third of the world lived in want and fear, another third lived in want, and another third lived in fear, and less than 10% lived outside want, fear, and social welfare. Authorities are near powerless against pirates, ships are continually sabotage in secret trade wars, the U.S. secretly downed at least 15 Russian ships and submarines during the Cold War . . . and the principle nations of WWII increased their arms.

So the 'Joint Declaration by the President and the Prime Minister'/ 'Atlantic Charter' was a cigar smoking piss-up discussing shameful aspects of WWII . . . like the preparation of Pearl Harbor and Checker Children.

The Atlantic Charter in Non-Existent Waters

On the morning of Saturday, 9 August 1941, the Prince of Wales sailed into Placentia Bay greeted by a line of U.S. ships, and President Roosevelt on the USS Augusta. Churchill hopped on board and said: "At long last, Mr. President" and handed Roosevelt a letter from King George VI which outlined the need to give England everything she asked for in order to rescue Europe from Hitler (the British creation and agent), and the Checker Child plan which was guaranteed to put America back in the black with full compensation.

Churchill then made an official statement for which there is no recording . . . Things don't fail in an allied military ceremony, unless they're instructed to fail. So the sound-film crew failed to record Churchill's official statement, twice, as instructed.

On Sunday 10 August, a church parade was held on the British' Prince of Wales. Churchill selected hyms, sung by naval clergy from both nations, behind a lectern draped with the British and American flags, as U.S. aircraft stormed overhead.

Spymaster: "The Atlantic Charter was more like a daylight robbery without arms, where the British confessed a little bit of the truth and pointed out to the hard-headed Americans that they were really truely broke and couldn't afford to buy anything.

"Whereupon the Americans came up with the idea of Lend-Lease and Admiral King said to President Roosevelt: 'You're an idiot. Those Limey's will rob us blind and we wont' see a cent of it until fifty years after the war.' Churchill replied: 'Would you rather deal with the Germans. I'm sure you'll find they'll be rather accommodating.'

"The British then asked for every weapon the American Generals wanted to hang on to for training their own army and navy, and Admiral King was largely correct. It was a robbery without arms and he called the Brits, 'The Beggar Nation', and Churchill 'The Ultimate Beggar'.

"Roosevelt accepted that strictly speaking: 'This was largely true, but for reasons of tact, it was not to be said', whereupon Admiral King had a cow."

In the public recapitulation of what the British had offered to the Americans, Roosevelt made great play of "lending a garden hose to a neighbour to help put out a fire". This was his appeasement for how Lend-Lease should be dressed up in his fireside chats on radio: ". . . lending a garden hose to a neighbour to help put out a fire that could burn down your house as well as his. In the midst of your neighbour's crisis, you would not ask him for the cost of the hose; rather, you would lend it to him on the understanding that you would get it back – or it would be replaced if it was destroyed – once the fire was doused."

Spymaster: "Roosevelt carefully avoided mentioning the British had previously been paying the US with British-made counterfeit American notes.

"Roosevelt also did not mention that much of the American military material that was so-called 'lent to Britain', would be arriving back not in working order and covered in bullet holes. Both were carefully glossed over.

"Roosevelt made great play of what Britain had offered, without going into where they were, because this would indicate to even the layman, that America intended to play the part of an Imperialist Power post-war, and he wanted to keep this a secret, as he did Pearl Harbor. "Still, the Checker Child plan has remained secret until this day."

Churchill's greatest point was making out that the Beggar Nation of Europe, as Admiral King referred to it, was on the ropes and 99 % defeated, and this was the last assistance he could probably be able to ask for. This defeated any opposition from the American Generals. They virtually had to give Britain everything she asked for, even though America's own situation was pretty desperate.

Spymaster: "The ordinary British Naval matelot (sailor) was in love with the Americans from the moment the American fourstack WWI destroyers were handed over to them. They were brimming with food, tobacco, steaks, hamburgers, and all the things that half-starved British matelots loved to eat. And when the American sailors told them that the ships would swop ends and turn turtle without warning, the British sailors were too chuffed to care and replied: 'At least we'll be drowning with a full guts. There's even cake.'

"There was a little bit of comment about forming the United Naitons, but the British Navy didn't care about that. All they wanted to do was examine the food cupboards and how much loot they had."

On the last day, Tuesday 12 August 1941, sailors from both navies lined their ships, the U.S. national anthem was played, and Churchill saluted as they passed all the U.S. warships, some of which were now his.

The Prince of Wales then set off on a convoy route, Churchill passing twice through the three lines of a convoy. They stopped at Iceland to review the troops, then made two more course changes, returning to Scapa Flow. Churchill then took the train back to London and was met by some of his cabinet members and his wife, Clementine.

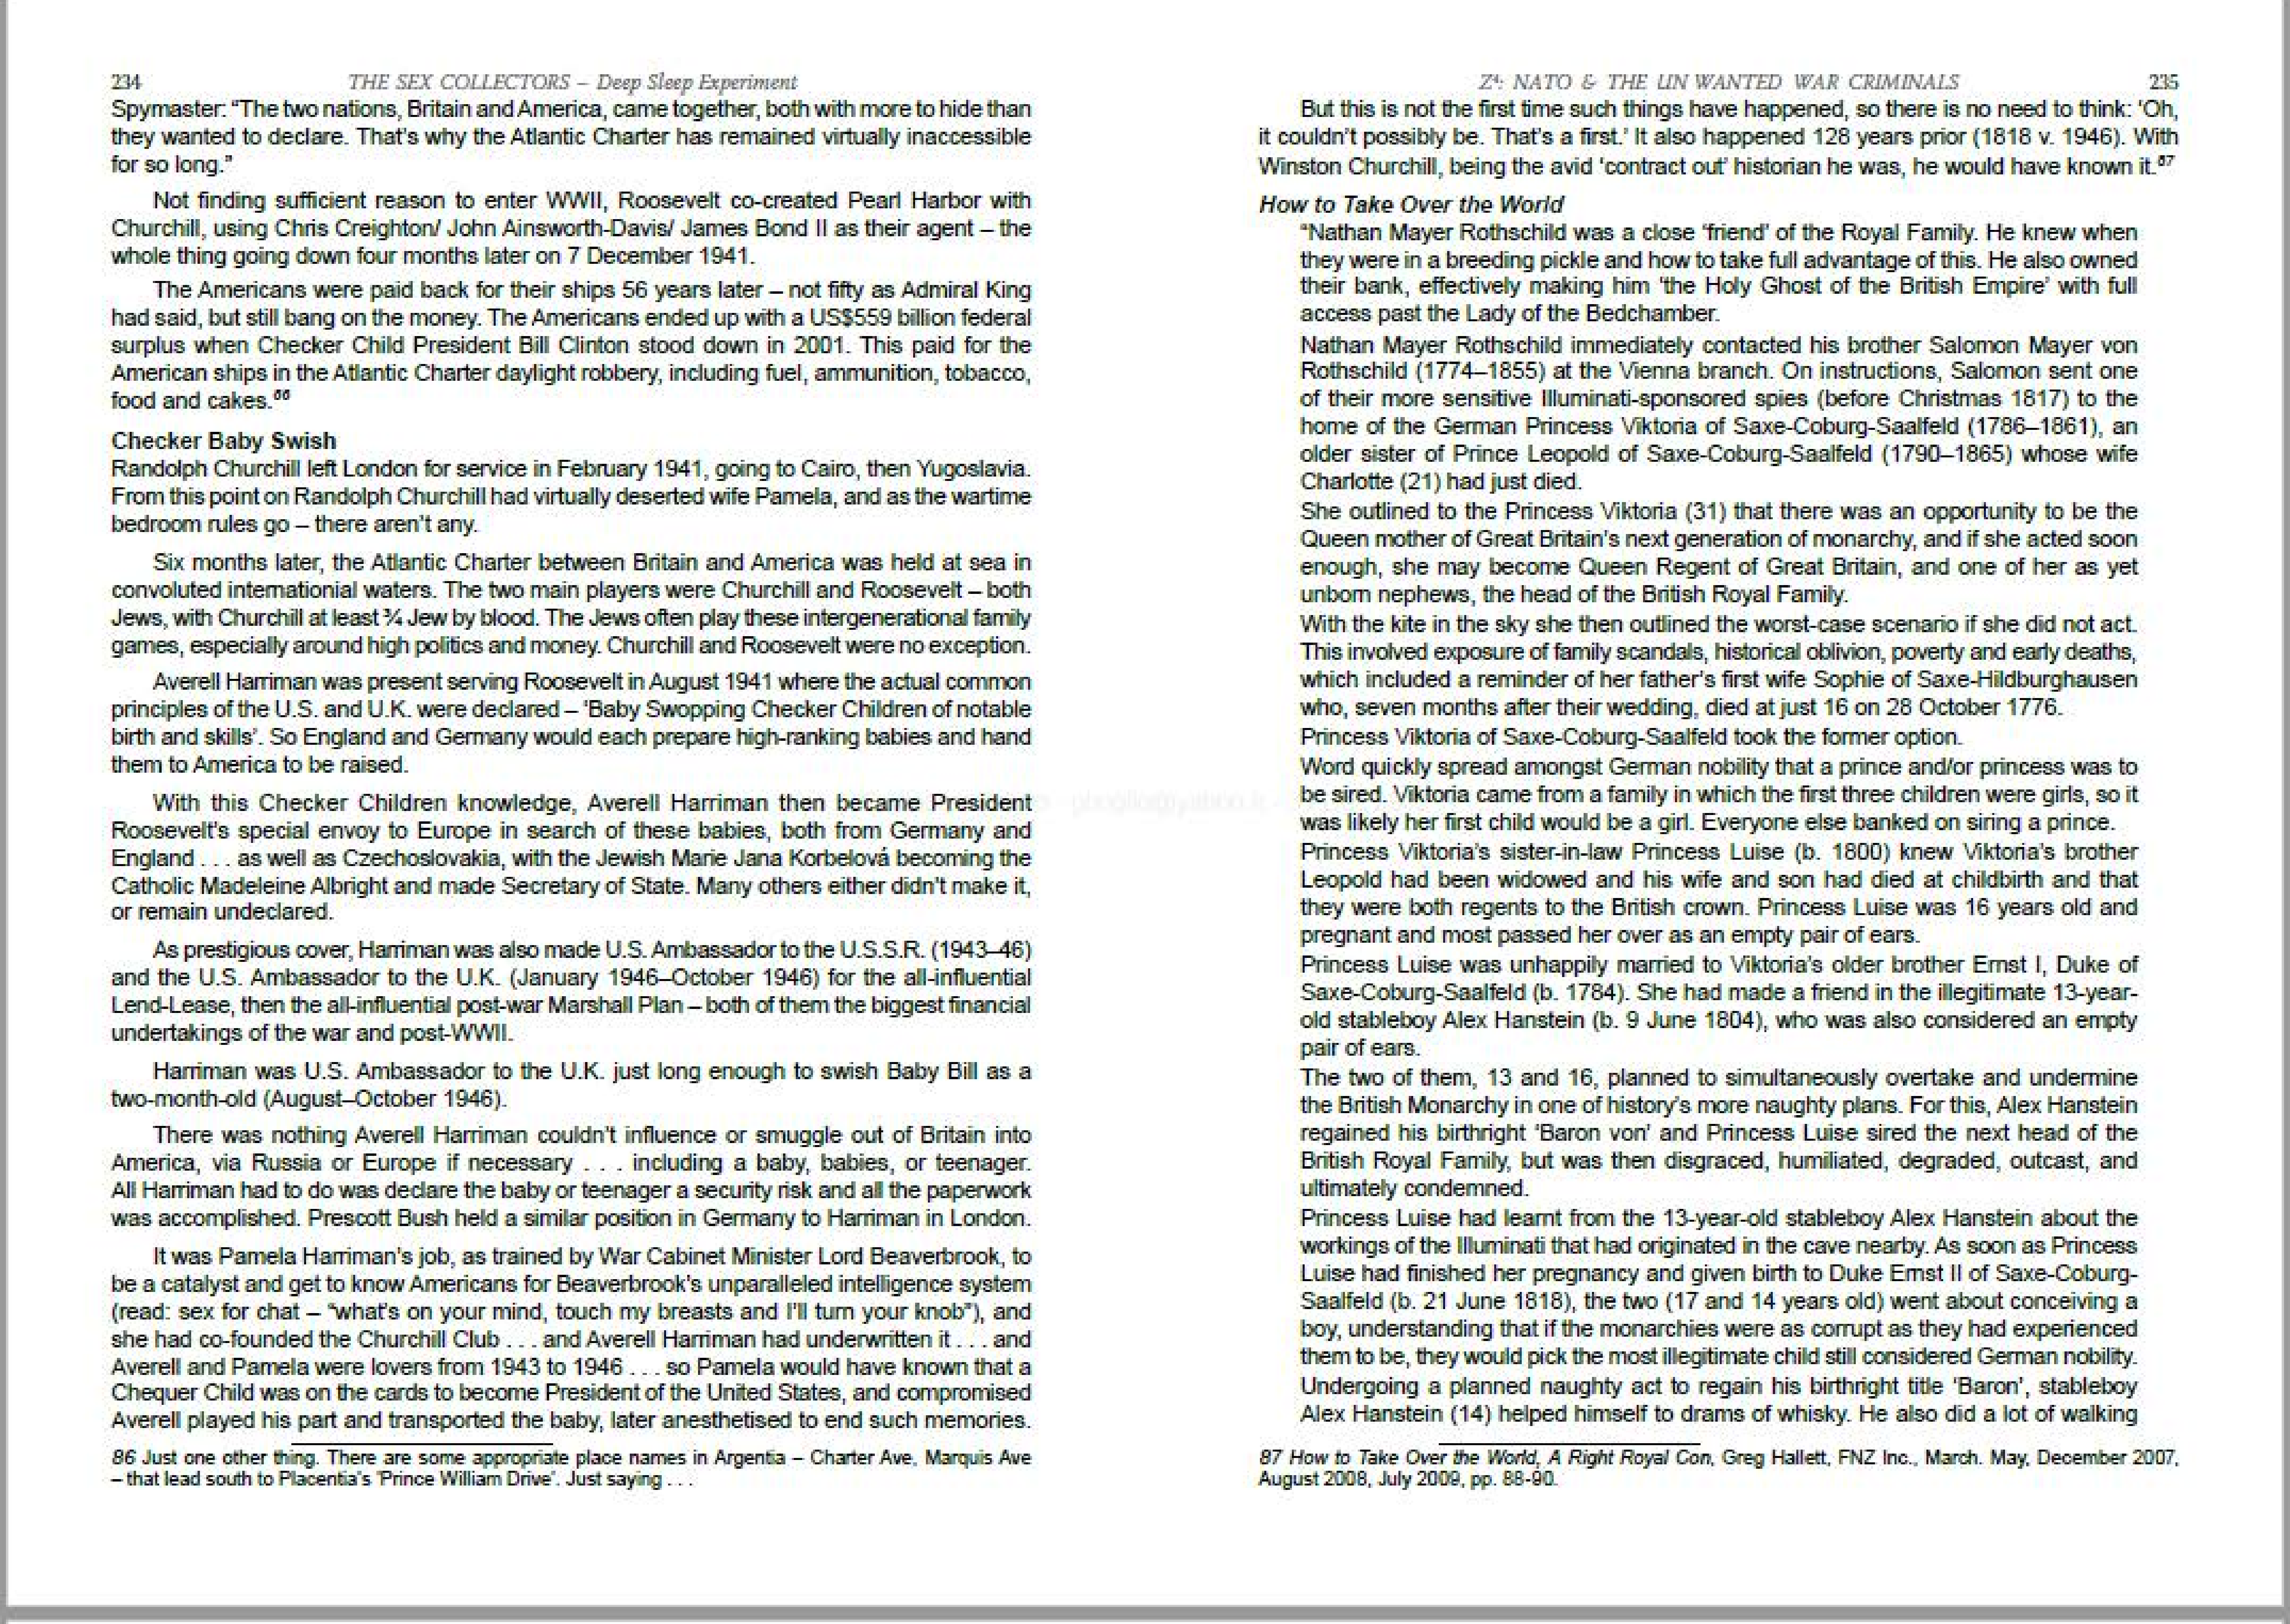
This had all the hallmarks of a military birthing ceremony, with the King's blessing and instructions – Churchill being King George VI's uncle and father of his daughter.

The Atlantic Charter was one of the largest daylight robberies in history, future promises were made, the protocols of the documents never came to pass, the sound recordings failed, the documents were never signed, and as soon as the land was given and the buildings were built, the land was occupied.

Argentia had half a dozen name changes, status changes, and ownership stages, passing through genocide, corruption and debt, to surplus, and through self-rule, dominion status, British rule, and American occupation to Canadian ownership.

So the Atlantic Charter on the ships Augusta and Prince of Wales in Placentia Bay, outside the soon to be American and British naval air bases at Argentia was a handshake get-to-know piss up shenanigan – an extension of Breeding Concubines – Checker Children, and the false flag Pearl Harbor.

Roosevelt was looking for any excuse to enter WWII. Not even the Nazi attack on the Soviet Union in June 1941, incidents in the North Atlantic between German submarines, the American freighter Robin Moor and the destroyer Greer, followed by U.S. Navy convoy escorts for American and Allied ships, orders to shoot German and Italian warships on sight, and the undeclared naval war on Germany . . . were enough for Roosevelt and the American people to formally declare war.



Spymaster: "The two nations, Britain and America, came together, both with more to hide than they wanted to declare. That's why the Atlantic Charter has remained virtually inaccessible for so long."

Not finding sufficient reason to enter WWII, Roosevelt co-created Pearl Harbor with Churchill, using Chris Creighton/ John Ainsworth-Davis/ James Bond II as their agent – the whole thing going down four months later on 7 December 1941.

The Americans were paid back for their ships 56 years later – not fifty as Admiral King had said, but still bang on the money. The Americans ended up with a US$559 billion federal surplus when Checker Child President Bill Clinton stood down in 2001. This paid for the American ships in the Atlantic Charter daylight robbery, including fuel, ammunition, tobacco, food and cakes.[86]

Checker Baby Swish

Randolph Churchill left London for service in February 1941, going to Cairo, then Yugoslavia. From this point on Randolph Churchill had virtually deserted wife Pamela, and as the wartime bedroom rules go – there aren't any.

Six months later, the Atlantic Charter between Britain and America was held at sea in convoluted internationial waters. The two main players were Churchill and Roosevelt – both Jews, with Churchill at least ¾ Jew by blood. The Jews often play these intergenerational family games, especially around high politics and money. Churchill and Roosevelt were no exception.

Averell Harriman was present serving Roosevelt in August 1941 where the actual common principles of the U.S. and U.K. were declared – 'Baby Swopping Checker Children of notable birth and skills'. So England and Germany would each prepare high-ranking babies and hand them to America to be raised.

With this Checker Children knowledge, Averell Harriman then became President Roosevelt's special envoy to Europe in search of these babies, both from Germany and England . . . as well as Czechoslovakia, with the Jewish Marie Jana Korbelová becoming the Catholic Madeleine Albright and made Secretary of State. Many others either didn't make it, or remain undeclared.

As prestigious cover, Harriman was also made U.S. Ambassador to the U.S.S.R. (1943–46) and the U.S. Ambassador to the U.K. (January 1946–October 1946) for the all-influential Lend-Lease, then the all-influential post-war Marshall Plan – both of them the biggest financial undertakings of the war and post-WWII.

Harriman was U.S. Ambassador to the U.K. just long enough to swish Baby Bill as a two-month-old (August–October 1946).

There was nothing Averell Harriman couldn't influence or smuggle out of Britain into America, via Russia or Europe if necessary . . . including a baby, babies, or teenager. All Harriman had to do was declare the baby or teenager a security risk and all the paperwork was accomplished. Prescott Bush held a similar position in Germany to Harriman in London.

It was Pamela Harriman's job, as trained by War Cabinet Minister Lord Beaverbrook, to be a catalyst and get to know Americans for Beaverbrook's unparalleled intelligence system (read: sex for chat – "what's on your mind, touch my breasts and I'll turn your knob"), and she had co-founded the Churchill Club . . . and Averell Harriman had underwritten it . . . and Averell and Pamela were lovers from 1943 to 1946 . . . so Pamela would have known that a Chequer Child was on the cards to become President of the United States, and compromised Averell played his part and transported the baby, later anesthetised to end such memories.

[86] Just one other thing. There are some appropriate place names in Argentia – Charter Ave, Marquis Ave – that lead south to Placentia's 'Prince William Drive'. Just saying . . .

But this is not the first time such things have happened, so there is no need to think: 'Oh, it couldn't possibly be. That's a first.' It also happened 128 years prior (1818 v. 1946). With Winston Churchill, being the avid 'contract out' historian he was, he would have known it.[87]

How to Take Over the World

> "Nathan Mayer Rothschild was a close 'friend' of the Royal Family. He knew when they were in a breeding pickle and how to take full advantage of this. He also owned their bank, effectively making him 'the Holy Ghost of the British Empire' with full access past the Lady of the Bedchamber.
> Nathan Mayer Rothschild immediately contacted his brother Salomon Mayer von Rothschild (1774–1855) at the Vienna branch. On instructions, Salomon sent one of their more sensitive Illuminati-sponsored spies (before Christmas 1817) to the home of the German Princess Viktoria of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (1786–1861), an older sister of Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (1790–1865) whose wife Charlotte (21) had just died.
> She outlined to the Princess Viktoria (31) that there was an opportunity to be the Queen mother of Great Britain's next generation of monarchy, and if she acted soon enough, she may become Queen Regent of Great Britain, and one of her as yet unborn nephews, the head of the British Royal Family.
> With the kite in the sky she then outlined the worst-case scenario if she did not act. This involved exposure of family scandals, historical oblivion, poverty and early deaths, which included a reminder of her father's first wife Sophie of Saxe-Hildburghausen who, seven months after their wedding, died at just 16 on 28 October 1776.
> Princess Viktoria of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld took the former option.
> Word quickly spread amongst German nobility that a prince and/or princess was to be sired. Viktoria came from a family in which the first three children were girls, so it was likely her first child would be a girl. Everyone else banked on siring a prince.
> Princess Viktoria's sister-in-law Princess Luise (b. 1800) knew Viktoria's brother Leopold had been widowed and his wife and son had died at childbirth and that they were both regents to the British crown. Princess Luise was 16 years old and pregnant and most passed her over as an empty pair of ears.
> Princess Luise was unhappily married to Viktoria's older brother Ernst I, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (b. 1784). She had made a friend in the illegitimate 13-year-old stableboy Alex Hanstein (b. 9 June 1804), who was also considered an empty pair of ears.
> The two of them, 13 and 16, planned to simultaneously overtake and undermine the British Monarchy in one of history's more naughty plans. For this, Alex Hanstein regained his birthright 'Baron von' and Princess Luise sired the next head of the British Royal Family, but was then disgraced, humiliated, degraded, outcast, and ultimately condemned.
> Princess Luise had learnt from the 13-year-old stableboy Alex Hanstein about the workings of the Illuminati that had originated in the cave nearby. As soon as Princess Luise had finished her pregnancy and given birth to Duke Ernst II of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (b. 21 June 1818), the two (17 and 14 years old) went about conceiving a boy, understanding that if the monarchies were as corrupt as they had experienced them to be, they would pick the most illegitimate child still considered German nobility.
> Undergoing a planned naughty act to regain his birthright title 'Baron', stableboy Alex Hanstein (14) helped himself to drams of whisky. He also did a lot of walking > with the horses and together they helped conceive a male child. Within five months they had conceived (20 November 1818 ± 18 days) a brother to Duke Ernst II. He was born on 26 August 1819 as Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld, later Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and Queen Victoria's husband.

> Included in Princess Viktoria of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld's proviso was that she did not have to have sex with The Forgotten Prince/Duke of Kent and Strathearn. She just had to get pregnant in the time she was with him. He too knew his role and left her presence as soon as her pregnancy had been confirmed.
> Hastily, The Forgotten Son (50) married (29 May 1818) the German Princess Viktoria of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (31) in Germany, and again on 13 July 1818 at a double ceremony with his brother at Kew in London, just to make sure everyone got their invitations, and the point. Five weeks later, Princess Viktoria/Duchess of Kent and Strathearn conceived (8 August 1818) and this was confirmed by November and The Forgotten Son was then allowed to continue on his affairs, but they had to remain strictly secret until the child was born.
> His duty done, the future Queen Victoria's father (The Forgotten Son, Edward, Duke of Kent and Strathearn) took up with the new mistress provided to him – Julie de St Laurent – for the next 18 months.
> The Stuart and Hanover lines had inheritable sicknesses. To add a touch of mystery to Victoria's birth, 'it was decided to break the sickness chain and use a surrogate father', giving rise to rumour that Queen Victoria was an illegitimate child. Reputed to be some German Baron, Victoria's father was the London-based Rothschild (Nathan Mayer), as was her uncle King William IV (Amschel Mayer).
> Alexandrina Victoria was born on 24 May 1819 and she would become Queen Victoria. Her 'father' The Forgotten Son/Duke of Kent and Strathearn, had a brief bout of 'pneumonia' and died eight months later on 23 January 1820."[88]

Conceiving the Chequer Baby

Pamela Digby Churchill's equivalent threat would have been something like:

> "Unless you agree to have Prime Minister Prince Winston Churchill's illegitimate son, we will expose you and your family scandals; including your easy lays with Scottish soldiers of low rank and American air gunners; your many sexual affairs with prominent men; we can show you were your aunt's child; your mother's older sister, the Honourable Margaret Cecilia Bruce, Countess of Bedford, Lady in Waiting to Queen consort Mary, wife of King George V, which would embarrass the Monarchy and end any career you might have; your great-great aunt, Lady Jane Digby was notorious for her scandalous personal life; a courtesan in Europe, she married four times, one of them bigamously; had seven children to five men including an illegitimate child to the mad Bavarian King Ludwig; then an affair with his son, King Otto of Greece, her own son's half-brother; lived with an Albanian highwayman; married a Bedouin Sheikh; stole letters from the British Ambassador in Damascus and tried to have an affair with him; contributed to the Karma Sutra in both translation and positions; and your family originated from the Scottish family, Bruce, originally 'De Burgh' who were the most prolific harlots of France."

To which Pamela, 'the young Mrs. Churchill' would have replied:

> "Darling. Civil. There is no need for such rancour. If you're asking me to have sex with Winston Churchill, I already have. You know I love powerful men, and Winston could not possibly have passed my sights. I've been dilettante with him at No. 10 since the war began, including many nights alone together in the bunker, and you know my husband hasn't been with me in four years, and it is wartime and few of those chastity morales apply. If you are asking me to sire a child to Winnie, I don't think that has been a problem.
> "I have discussed the 'Joint Declaration of the President and Prime Minister' with darling Averell, whom you know I know intimately, and it would be my patriotic honour and duty to cement the allied post-war status of both great nations.
> "So, if you are doing me the honour of requesting my services, geneology and nature, to carry a Prince as a Chequer to one day become President of the United States, I shall receive such a request as judgment in honour on my character."

But there was no need for this, as Gurdjieff said:

'If you pick people to do what they enjoy doing, there is little difficulty in getting them to do it. It's all in the profile.'

> Gurdjieff: "You have to work with people who want to do what they are doing. If all your prostitutes are sex addicts, or actually wish to be rooting like mink, then things will be a lot more pleasureable for all concerned. There is no need to resort to compulsion . . . Gurdjieff was a maker of policy and an in-depth thinker on the subject of spy training, which is what made him so valuable to intelligence on both sides . . . Gurdjieff would often have lunch with the Chief of the Gestapo in Paris. These were often shared with high-ranking MI-6 officers and resistance men. Gurdjieff knew that espionage was a huge racket in which only the honourable suffer."[89]

Pamela knew very well, that all anyone had to do to bed her was touch her breasts, so her reply was more implicit:

"I am aware of the 'Joint Declaration of the President and Prime Minister' and I would be happy to carry the Chequer Child of Winston."

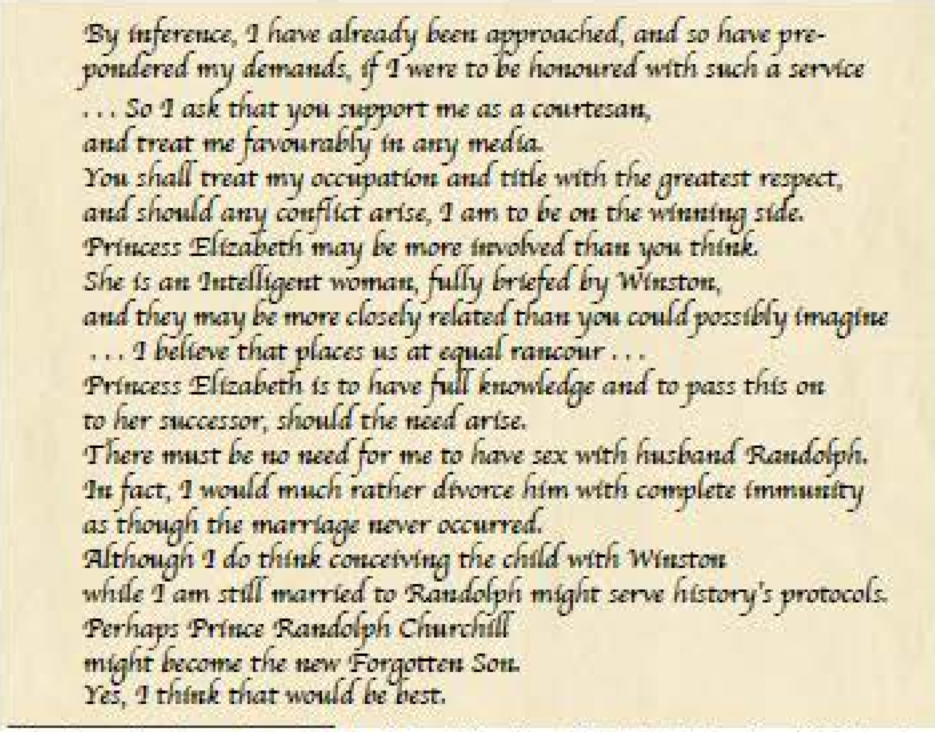
Pamela then pulled a slip of paper from inside her sleeve and cursed over the handwritten pointers:



By inference, I have already been approached, and so have prepondered my demands, if I were to be honoured with such a service
. . . So I ask that you support me as a courtesan, and treat me favourably in any media.
You shall treat my occupation and title with the greatest respect, and should any conflict arise, I am to be on the winning side.
Princess Elizabeth may be more involved than you think.
She is an Intelligent woman, fully briefed by Winston, and they may be more closely related than you could possibly imagine
. . . I believe that places us at equal rancour . . .
Princess Elizabeth is to have full knowledge and to pass this on to her successor, should the need arise.
There must be no need for me to have sex with husband Randolph.
In fact, I would much rather divorce him with complete immunity as though the marriage never occurred.
Although I do think conceiving the child with Winston while I am still married to Randolph might serve history's protocols.
Perhaps Prince Randolph Churchill might become the new Forgotten Son.
Yes, I think that would be best.

The fix was in, the agreement made, and 'the young Mrs. Churchill' and the old Mr Churchill went about repeating the history of 128 years ago.

Understanding nobility to be as corrupt as she had just learnt and experienced, Pamela knew the most illegitimate child still considered British royalty would be the Chequer President; and as Winston was the son of King Edward VII, it was simply another planned naughty act in which her son would regain the British title and birthright of President of the British Plantation, whom voters know as the President of the United States of America . . .

Of course she grew up with such knowledge, so it was second nature to her.

Understanding the need for a son, Winston helped himself to drams of whisky and did a lot of walking from August to the end of November 1945. Together they conceived a son somewhere between 26 October and 2 December 1945.

As soon as she knew she was pregnant to Winston Churchill, Pamela filed for divorce from Randolph Churchill on 2 December 1945. She needed to be separate from her husband, and have no contact while she was pregnant. She couldn't possibly carry a half-brother to her husband and think straight.

Randolph Churchill never knew Pamela was pregnant. Winston did and hid her away, sometimes at Lord Beaverbook's country estate where her other son Winston had been raised during the war, but was now being raised at a boarding school in Switzerland.

Pamela only had to get pregnant in the time she was married to Randolph, and with Winston, who knew the role well. Winston's mother, Jennie Jerome had done exactly the same thing with King Edward VII and Randolph Churchill Sr.

Prince William James Mountbatten Churchill was born on or about 19 August 1946 and he would become President William Clinton.

Pamela's life as a mother with two teenage children

Winston Churchill finished his final term (third or fourth) as Prime Minister of Great Britain on 7 April 1955, then hung out in the Meditterranean with Aristotle Onassis covering for his drug deals whenever they came under question.

Pamela followed suit and had an affair with Onassis' shipping and narcotics partner, the Golden Greek, Stavros Niarchos, in the late 1950s.

So even in the late 1950s, Winston and Pamela were working it as high-level spies against competition to the British Monarchy. But what do you expect? This is what the illegitimate children of Royalty and the Rothschilds do, plus the economies of nations revolve around war or drugs. For Winston it was both, making him a talking Republican and a walking Democrat.

The Forgotten Son, Randolph Churchill, was then allowed to continue on his affairs, but they had to remain secret until the child was born. So he married June Osborne on 2 November 1948 and began a twenty-year affair with his neighbour, Natalie Bevan, around the same time. That shut him up from any morality tales.

The Forgotten Randolph had brief bouts of madness and died 22 years later.

You've got to wonder whether Natalie Bevan was an MI-5 plant as her husband, Bobby Bevan, put up with the affair for 20 years, and they were neighbours. Randolph and Bobby were also good friends. Go figure. It stinks of MI-5. June Osborne-Churchill was also in on it.

The only person who wasn't in on it was Randolph.

Religion has no Place in Morality Plays

Pamela Churchill later converted to Catholicism – the secret religion of her semi-stepsister/stepdaughter Princess/Queen Elizabeth II – then obtained an annulment of her marriage to Randolph Churchill from the Catholic Church.

This made Pamela far more 'Mrs Winston Churchill' than 'Mrs Randolph Churchill'.
Randolph was to be forgotten.
Winston was not.

This was all a case of history repeating from a century and a quarter earlier and it simply had to work as this was the history that rescued the British Monarchy out of German Noble stock; and this new history was reinventing the American Presidency out of British Royal stock . . . and German Nazi stock.

All of this suited the high-taxation Rothschilds who fronted as 'The Crown'.

In the years to come, it would mean that the Queen of England could write the laws of the United States, change social policy, and have first dibs on taxation – which is exactly what has occurred.

The U.S. President is always the one with the most British Royal blood, so they have never resisted. That should irk the voters.

As a century prior (1818 v. 1926), 'the Saxe Coburg and Gotha lines still had inheritable sicknesses'. To add a touch of mystery to Queen Elizabeth II's birth, 'it was decided to break the sickness and brain-dead chain and use a surrogate father', giving rise to rumour that Queen Elizabeth II was the illegitimate child of Winston Churchill.

Winston was also Elizabeth's great-uncle on her house-father's side (King George VI) and the grandson and great-grandson of the London-based Rothschild, Nathan Mayer. The British Royal Family are also a subset of the Rothschilds – essentially the Rothschilds in modern day baroque drag.

War Shenanigans – Breeding Concubines for Control

It was the Rothschilds who were funding all sides of World War Two – the British, American, German and Russian – so they thought up all the shenanigans and had final dibs on which loose pregnancies would be carried to term for maximum control – which always equals profit.

As a result of Pamela Churchill's agreement to carry 'The Illegitimate Prince' to term, she felt no ill effects in the media, only constant praise, married well, the rich funded her (including the French, Baron Élie de Rothschild), she never had to work for money another day in her life, and she moved from doing French-to-English translations at the British Foreign Office, to US Ambassador to France, which was as high as she could possibly go, and was higher political office than any of her nine relatives in Parliament and the House of Lords had ever achieved.

Pamela Digby Churchill Leland Harriman had two children to Winston Churchill – King Edward VII's son.
They were Winston Churchill III and Bill Clinton.

History repeating with Lady Jane Digby

Lady Jane Digby became Baroness Ellenborough, Baroness Venningen, Lady Jane el Mezrab. She was the great-great aunt of Pamela Digby.

Lady Jane Elizabeth Digby (3 April 1807–11 August 1881) was known as 'Jenny' or 'Aurora'. She was a leading beauty of her time, tall with a beautiful figure, wide-spaced dark blue eyes with long dark lashes, a wild rose complexion, highly promiscuous, couldn't spend four days without getting laid, and became famous for her scandals as a courtier to royalty across Europe. She was a dedicated overlapper and preferred several men to one. The more she could mix it up, the better she felt.

She was married four times, one of them bigamously; had seven children to five men, had an affair with her Cabinet Minister cousin; the Austrian Ambassador to London and Paris; was mistress to the Mad King of Bavaria whom she helped dethrone; and his son the King of Greece, and mistress to an Albanian rebel. She spoke nine languages fluently and contributed to the Kama Sutra, translating language and positions, and coined the term 'cad'.[90]

Her father, Admiral Henry Digby was one of the Mad King George III's pirates who captained HMS Triton, with consorts (priate ships) and seized the Spanish treasure ship Santa Brigada on 17 October 1799. Pirate Digby established the family fortune with his cut. Her mother was Lady Jane Elizabeth Coke.

Lady Jane Digby (17) married (15 September or 15 October 1824) Edward Law (34), 2nd Baron Ellenborough (1790–1871). Their only son, Arthur Dudley (15 Feb. 1828–1 Feb. 1830) died at 23 months. Edward then became Governor General of India (1842–44), and the first and last Earl of Ellenborough on his return in 1844.

Lady Jane Dibgy, Baroness Ellenborough then had an affair with her cousin, George Anson (1797–1857), Cabinet Minister/ MP for South Staffordshire; the British Museum's palaeographer Sir Frederick Madden[91] (1801–73); and another with Prince Felix von Schwarzenberg (1800–52) while he was Chief Minister of Austria and Ambassador in London and Paris.[92]

Lady Jane Dibgy and Prince Schwarzenberg had three children while she was still married to Baron Ellenborough. These were Mathilde 'Didi' (b. 12 November 1829) in Basel, Switzerland and Felix (December 1830–31). The Peerage reports that they had a third child, Adolf Schwarzenberg, but give no dates. Adolf was raised as an illegitimate unknown, probably in Austria, under the financial care of Prince Schwarzenburg. Adolf Josef Schwarzenberg (1832–1914) then became a politician.

With two children dead, and another two to another man, Lady Jane Digby filed for divorce in 1830 by an act of Parliament, citing her own adultery with Prince von Schwarzenburg. This caused considerable scandal, went to both Houses of Parliament, and pushed the adverts off the front page of the Times. The divorce was granted on 8 April 1830 to a pregnant Lady Jane Dibgy.

Austria's Ambassador to France, Prince Felix Schwarzenberg didn't like the media attention and so abandoned Lady Jane Digby in Paris. He went on to restore the Hapsburg Empire as a European power after the riots of 1848.

[91] Frederick Madden worked at the British Museum deciphering ancient handwriting and classifying books (1826), became assistant keeper of manuscripts (1828), knighted (1833), then keeper of manuscripts (1837). He specialised in English, French and Shakespeare's handwriting, and edited Wyclif's Bible (publ. University of Oxford, 1850).

[92] Prince Felix zu Schwarzenberg (3 October 1800–5 April 1852) was born in Castle Krumau, to Princess & Duchess Pauline d'Arenberg and Joseph Johann, Fuerst zu Schwarzenberg (head of family that once ruled as a souvereign).

With one surviving daughter (Didi) and surviving son farmed out (Adolf), Lady Jane Digby moved to Munich and became the lover of the King of Bavaria Ludwig I (reigned 1825–48). While the King's mistress, Lady Jane had an affair with Baron Karl von Venningen.[93] Six months pregnant, they married (10 November 1832/ 16 November 1833) and had a son, Herberto (b. 1833) and a daughter, Bertha (b. 1834).[94]

Fillipo Antonio Herberto von Venningen, born on 27 January 1833 in Palmermo, Sicilia, Italy, was almost definitely an illegitimate son of King Ludwig I of Bavaria. The two marriage dates suggest that the child was not to be born outside of marriage, the child was not to be strictly 'von Venningen' and various histories cite it as a marriage of convenience – that is, it was convenient to the King of Bavaria.

With four surviving children and two dead, Lady Jane Digby, Baroness Venningen (26) continued her affair with King Ludwig I (47), who was also having an affair with Lola Montez (12), a 12-year-old Irish-born actress who became famous as the 'Spanish dancer' and invented streeking (running naked through the streets). In return, King Ludwig made her Countess of Landsfeld.[95] This caused his popularity to plummet so much he had to abdicate (20 March 1848).

Still married to Baron Venningen, Baroness Lady Jane began an affair (1835) with the Greek, Count Spyridon Theotokis riding on horseback through the Bavarian forest to meet him at night. Husband, Baron Karl von Venningen intercepted and challenged the new lover to a duel and wounded him. But Lady Jane was already pregnant to Count Theotokis. She then nursed him back to health, had a son, Count Leonidas Theotoky (21 March 1840–46), converted to Greek Orthodox, then married Count Theotokis bigamously in Marseilles, France.

Baron Karl von Venningen then released Lady Jane Digby from their marriage and she moved with her new husband and son to Greece in 1841 – the marriage unrecognised.

Baron Karl von Venningen then took care of Lady Jane's children – daughter Didi, son Adolf Schwarzenberg, King Ludwig I's son Herberto, and their daughter Bertha . . . and remained friends. So she had the knack. Their divorce came through in 1842.

Soon after Leonidas Theotokis (6) died from a fall, Lady Jane Digby and Count Theotokis divorced (c. 1846). Meanwhile, King Ludwig I of Bavaria had appointed his son, Otto (1815–67) as King of Greece (17) in 1832. Four years later, Otto (21) married (22 November 1836) Duchess Amelie of Oldenburg (17). King Otto was half-brother to Lady Jane Digby's son, Herberto Venningen, but this didn't stop her (33) becoming the mistress of her former lover's son – King Otto of Greece (25).

Lady Jane Digby then had an affair with Cristos Hadji-Petros, leader of a band of Albanian brigands (highway robbers), riding horses, hunting in the mountains, living in caves and acting as 'queen' to his robber army. Despite this organised crime, and possibly due to kidnapping and extortion, Lady Jane Digby was granted the rank of a 'Baron's daughter' in 1859. Highwayman Cristos Hadji-Petros then had affairs with other women, Lady Jane got the huff, left, and headed futher away from London into the Middle East.

Lady Jane Digby (46) then fell in love with Sheikh Medjuel el Mezrab (26) in Syria and married under Muslim law, becoming Jane Elizabeth Digby el Mezrab. She wore Arab dress, spoke nine languages fluently, including Arabic, and spent six months living as a nomad in the desert in goat-hair tents and six months in her palacial villa in Damascus, Syria.

[93] Karl Theodore Herbert de Venningen, Baron de Venningen, a.k.a. Freiherr Karl Theodore von Venningen-Ullner (b.?–July 1874, Muenchen/ Munich).

[94] Fillipo Antonio Herberto von Venningen (27 January 1833–15 May 1871) born in Palmermo, Sicilia, Italy, married Countess Gabrielle von Paumgarten, daughter of Count Hermann von Paumgarten and Hon. Mary Erskine. His sister Bertha von Venningen was born in 1834 in Weinheim, Rheinhessen, Hessen.

[95] Eliza Rosanna Gilbert, Lola Montez, Countess of Landsfeld (17 February 1821–17 January 1861).

Supposedly happily married for 28 years (but often abandoned and short of cash), she became friends with the British consul's Richard Francis Burton and contributed to the Kama Sutra[96] both in positions and translation, coined the phrase 'cad', then died of fever and dysentery in 1871, aged 74.

Burton wrote The Perfumed Garden (publ. 1886), the final chapter on pederasty removed by his wife, Isobel. With the British notified of this, Richard Burton was then awarded the KCMG (Knight Commander of St Michael and St George) the same year, and died in 1890.

Lady Jane Digby married 2nd Baron Ellenborough (1824–30); Baron Venningen (1832–42); bigamously to Count Spyridon Theotokis (1840–46); and Sheikh el Mezrab (1854–81).

Lady Jane Digby had children to 2nd Baron Ellenborough (b. 15 Feb. 1828); Prince Schwarzenberg (b. 12 November 1829, b. December 1830, b. 1832); King Ludwig of Bavaria (b. 27 January 1833); Baron Venningen (b. 1834); and Count Theotokis (b. 1840).

Lady Jane Digby had an affair with Cabinet Minister George Anson; the British Museum's palaeographer, Sir Frederick Madden; King Ludwig I of Bavaria; Albanian highwayman Cristos Hadji-Petros; and with King Ludwig's son, King Otto of Greece while both were married, she to Ottto's Ambassador to Vienna.

"Lady Jane . . . was extravagant beyond belief, and consequently always in difficulties . . . she tried to detach Richard Burton's affections from his wife and to draw them to herself . . . relying on the attractions of her person, but also on glozing speeches . . . Having easy access to the house she purloined private letters, papers and other writings . . . slipped love letters, purporting to be from other women, into Burton's pockets . . . Mrs. Burton also received pseudonymous letters . . . Consequently Mrs. Burton carried her letters to her husband and he brought his to her. Amazing to say, neither of them suspected . . . the unhappy [Lady Jane Digby el Mezrab], who was near her end, made . . . a full confession: 'I took a wicked pleasure in your perfect trust in me'."[97]

Checker Children from England and Germany

Checker Children:
George Bush
and
in January 2005 . . .
opposing parties,
but both working for the Queen.

Born in Germany.

Born in England.

Both George Herbert Walker Bush (b. 12 June 1924) and Bill Clinton (b.c. 19 August 1946) were checker children. They were part of trade and exchange agreements and both became Presidents . . . First Bush (1989–93), then Clinton (1993–2001); then Bush's Nazi son (2001–09), then Barack Obama (2009–), so that's the last two decades.

The U.S. Constitution demands an American citizen as president and it is the President's role to uphold the U.S. Constitution (which states they must be American), but that hasn't happened since 1989, and there have been problems with the identity of all of the U.S. Presidents since 1974.

For the last 20 years, America has not had a U.S President (counting W. as the son of a Nazi with forged papers).

And before the Reagan/ Sinatra/ Bush ticket there was Jimmy Carter who was James Earl Kennedy (1977–81); and Gerald Ford (1974–77) who was the porn king, Leslie Lynch King, Jr.

Now the U.S. Presidency looks like a Mafia operation of self-interest.

And it certainly is.

America is a British Plantation.

The U.S. Presidency carries the real status 'Pirate Captain' . . . and

The British Royal Family have a vested interest in placing their own agents there.

So the U.S. President is always the candidate with the most British Royal blood – as confirmed by Burke's Peerage.

So here's a list of Pirate Captains of the British Plantation known as the United States of America:

President of U.S.	Pirate Captain of Brit. Plantation	Status	Duration
Gerald Ford	Leslie Lynch King, Jr	Porn King	1974–77
Jimmy Carter	James Earl Kennedy	Kennedy Surrogate	1977–81
Ronald Reagan	Frank Sinatra	Mafia/ FBI/ Nancy's Squeeze	1981–89
George H. W. Bush	George H. Scherff, Jr.	German Checker/ Nazi	1989–93
Bill Clinton	William Jefferson Churchill	British Checker/ Prince	1993–2001
George W. Bush	'Temporary'	Son & agent of Scherff	2001–09
Barack Obama	Barry Sutoro/ 'Renegade'/ 'Black'	Kenyan/ Brit./ Kansas Klone	2009–

George H. W. Bush is the British Plantation Pirate Captain George H. Scherff, Jr. As Britain had the checker child, Billy Rex Churchill, sent to America in 1946, Germany had the checker teenager, George H. Scherff, Jr., sent to America in 1944.

Nikola Tesla's German-born illegal immigrant accountant was George H. Scherff, Sr.

Tesla was doing too much for America, so Germany sent Scherff's 14-year-old son, George H. Scherff Jr. to America to befriend, spy on, and kill Tesla (10 July 1856–7 Jan. 1943). But George Jr. failed.[98]

Otto Skorzeny Waffen-SS was part of the Werwolf guerrilla movement that specialised in infiltrating enemy lines, using their opponent's uniforms and customs. Thus George Jnr. had similar training to Chris Creighton who led Operation JAMES BOND to rescue Martin Bormann, and to Ian Fleming who led Operation WINNIE THE POOH that rescued Hitler.

Otto Skorzeny (12 June 1908–6 July 1975/ December 1999) and General Reinhard Gehlen (3 April 1902–8 June 1979) SS Chief of Intelligence-Gathering then completed the job and killed Tesla on 6 January 1943, reported a day later.

Two years later, Otto Skorzeny shot Adolf Hitler's body double between the eyes on 30 April 1945, "then flew with Hitler and Hanna Reitsch to Austria".[99]

George H. Scherff Jr. then forged a birth certificate and was adopted by the American manufacturing Nazi, Prescott Bush, becoming George H. W. Bush – Checker Teenager.

George had already been trained to fly in Germany and one of the first things he did was kill all his flight crew by bailing out during flight, with the crew still on board, and the plane crashing on 2 September 1944. Chester Mierzejewski, Rear Tail Gunner, Distinguished Flying Cross: 'As for being a hero in a plane, Bush was flying, bailed out of the plane and left his two crew to crash and die and then claimed WWII hero status'.

[99] Their are various views on Hitler's escape which leads me to suspect that more than one Hitler escaped. It would be prudent to keep various doppelgänger Hitlers alive after WWII, as the FBI hunt for Hitler went on until 1972, and citings were an excuse for surveillance which helped kick-off the Cold War.
According to the Argentia files, the Cold War was well underway in 1947. According to M, it started on 2 May 1945.
One escape view is that a 'Hitler' flew out from Templeoff Airport with Eva Braun on 1 May 1945.
This quoted view is that Otto Skorzeny flew with the Hitlers to Austria, but there is such little detail and no record of any documents exchanged, or codenames like 'Mr Rabbit' and 'Mrs Rabbit', and no British involved. So it looks more like another Counter-Intelligence exercise in distraction.
Author Hallett's view is that Hitler escaped through the tunnels, caught a WK202 submarine for 40 hours down the River Spree to Lake Harvel, and was then picked up by Hanna Reitsch, flew to Lake Müggelsee, and was then picked up by Ian Fleming, Caroline Saunders and Hugh Verity in a Westland Lysander IIIA and flown to Barcelona where they were met by Ramón Serrano Súñer – General Franco's former 2-IC . . . far more detail.

Robert Flood, B-17 bombardier: "Bush violated the primary rule for a captain of a multi-crew aircraft: The pilot never leaves the airplane with anybody in it. He had a moral obligation to put that plane in the water in an emergency landing."

Chester Mierzejewski, Rear Tail Gunner, Distinguished Flying Cross and an old war buddy of George H.W. Bush: "I am angered by the false assertions made by candidate Bush when describing the incident on 2 September 1944, and give a different account. "After 44 years of silence I told the New York Post that George H. W. Bush had abandoned his crew to death when there was another choice. I was approximately 100 feet in front of Bush's plane as the turret gunner for Squadron Commander Douglas Melvin's plane. I was so close I could see in the cockpit of Bush's bomber. The squadron was in a tight formation bombing raid against a Japanese radio installation on an island reported to be heavily fortified. I saw a puff of smoke come from Bush's plane which quickly disappeared. Bush then parachuted from the plane when two other men were still on board. The Avenger torpedo bomber was engineered to successfully crash-land on water. Bush doomed his own crew by bailing out and leaving the bomber out of control. I think he could have saved those two lives . . . at least they had a chance if he had attempted a water landing."
"The young Nazi, George Herbert Walker Bush establish a false reputation for being a great American WWII hero out of this crime. He is not an American War Hero! He is a sabotaging nazi traitor! George Herbert Walker Bush should be tried for Treason."[100]

Nazi George H. Scherff, Jr., a.k.a. George H. W. Bush then co-founded the CIA in 1947 and 50,000 Nazis came to America at the end of WWII under Operation Paperclip to create the Fourth Reich – Counter-Intelligence fronting as Intelligence, and the New World Order – Fascism for all. Heinrich Himmler (7 October 1900~~–23 May 1945~~) was amongst them.

The CIA was then restructured under President George W. Bush on 17 December 2004 in line with 'fascism for all' and 'increased Counter-Intelligence' as a daily feature.

The Culinary Institute of America (CIA) was also founded in 1946.

When it came to the 1992 US Elections, Bush gave way to Clinton, as Clinton had the most royal blood, being the grandson of King Edward VII. The candidate with the most British Royal blood always gets the U.S. presidency (Burke's Peerage).

Sally Bedell Smith and General Walter Bedell Smith

We should also mention the supporting role of minor players and their propagandist authors within the CIA structure. The Kennedys, William Paley, Pamela Harriman and the Clinton's biographer was Sally Bedell Smith whose father was General Walter Bedell 'Beetle' Smith GBE KCB with three Army Distinguished Service Medals and the Navy Distinguished Service Medal.

Walter Bedell Smith (15) enlisted in the Indiana National Guard (1910), served in the U.S. Army from 1911 and was wounded in France in 1918. Between the world wars (1918–41) Bedell Smith was an Intelligence Officer and Adjutant for the 37th Infantry Regiment in the War Department's Bureau of Military Intelligence. In 1922, he was adjutant for the 12th Infantry Brigade; then an assistant in the White House Bureau of the Budget (1925–29). He then served with the 45th Infantry Regiment in the Philippines and attended Infantry School, Command and General Staff School, and the Army War College.

When General George C. Marshall became the Army's Chief of Staff on 1 September 1939, he placed Major Bedell Smith as Assistant to the Secretary of the General Staff. By September 1941, Smith was the Secretary, and by February 1942, he was U.S. Secretary of the Combined Chiefs of Staff. In preparation for the invasion of North Africa (8–10 November 1942), Smith went to England as Chief of Staff for the European Theater of Operations and signed the surrender terms with Italy (8 September 1943). Supreme Allied Commander Eisenhower then appointed Bedell Smith as Chief of Staff (March 1944–7 May 1945) for the Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force (SHAEF).[101]

Chief of Staff Bedell 'Beetle' Smith was a racist and when Paris was about to be liberated (19–25 August 1944), he wrote a confidential memo recommending no Black troops be involved in the good times. Smith then made the arrangements to accept the German military forces surrender on 7 May 1945. Blacks were also held back from Berlin.

Bedell Smith then served as U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union (3 April 1946–25 December 1948) after Averell Harriman; was promoted to General in March 1949, then assumed command of First United States Army at Fort Jay, Governors Island, New York (c. 1 January 1949–7 October 1950) and wrote My Three Years in Moscow (1950) then President Truman (1945–53) nominated him 4th Director of Central Intelligence (7 October 1950–9 February 1953).

While he was head of the CIA, Bedell Smith helped create the National Security Agency (NSA, 4 November 1952); and liased with President Eisenhower to draw up a guest list for the Bilderberg Group.

President Eisenhower (20 January 1953–20 January 1961) then appointed Smith, Under Secretary of State (9 February 1953–1 October 1954) so Bedell Smith officially left the CIA and officially retired from the Army . . . but no one ever retires from the CIA or the Army.

Bedell Smith then became a founding member of the Bilderberg Group (29 May 1954) and helped organise the first Bilderberg US conference in St. Simons, Georgia (15–17 Feb. 1957), even garnering $30,000 from the Ford Foundation.

During this time, Bedell Smith narrated and acted in the 1955 war movie 'To Hell And Back', constantly referring to the foot soldier; and wrote Eisenhower's Six Great Decisions: Europe 1944–1945 (1956), a masterpiece of Cold War propaganda.

Officially retired from 1 October 1954, Walter Bedell Smith used Military Intelligence and CIA connections for a profit. Disregarding all conflicts of interest, he amassed US$2.5 million in the seven years he had left. He immediately became the director of a fruit company – in October 1954.

Spymaster: "Was that United Fruit Company – UFC?"

Author: "Yes. While Undersecretary of State (9 February 1953–1 October 1954) and managing the Guatemalan coup (March 1953–February 1954), he gave vastly preferential treatment to the United Fruit Company, and once the coup was resolved, the company's profits increased dramatically, and Bedell Smith became the director.

"In March 1953, 1,000 km² of uncultivated land owned by UFC were to be expropriated with compensation of US$600,000 based on the UFC's declared taxes. In October 1953 and February 1954, the Guatemalan government took another 600 km² from the United Fruit Company, so that's 1,600 km² of land.

"As soon as Guatemalan took the farmland, the UFC began lobbying the U.S. government. Under Secretary of State General Walter Bedell Smith listened, and since the CIA is there to protect American business overseas, he acted. So the U.S. State Department cut economic aid and trade which was 85% of Guatemala's exports and imports and 'a violation of the Non-intervention agreement'.

"As an excuse, the CIA accused President Colonel Jacobo Árbenz Guzmán (15 March 1951–27 June 1954) of Communist ties . . . which is rather hard to believe since 85% of Guatemala's imports and exports were to and from the United States.

"The UFC/CIA operation was called PBFORTUNE, and when that became too obvious, it was changed to Operation PBSUCCESS . . . but communism was not the issue – Guatemalan farming expansion was."

Spymaster: "United Fruit Company were renowned as the biggest bastards in the whole of South America. They would kill people and grind up the bodies and disappear them.

"They would hire staff, send them to a plantation where they were growing bananas, avalanche them in airborne pesticides, and when they got lumps, or their children got sick, they would send them down to some place further down South America where they controlled the miltiary, and they would issue the military with a notice, called a 'Count Down Notice', and on the first sign of trouble that they raised with the military, the military could come and take their children, and on the second notice, they could kill them.

"They were absolute arseholes and the CIA used to put their worst contract killers in amongst them, with roving briefs to go to places, liaise with the local military, and arrange for the local military to kill the entire family because one of them had come down with cancer.

"You can go to places in South America and ask what happened to these people and they'd say: 'Oh, United got them'; and you can ask about another family, and they'd say: 'Oh, they went to the United picnic and never came back', and then you ask about a third family and you get told: 'Oh, their daughters went to el Presidente's ball and they got abducted on the way home'.

"That's how the CIA and the American Military exercise control in South America and ensure that there's no complaints about anything American. They have a saying in South America, they call them 'el Muerte' – 'the Murderers'.

"The fact that Walter Bedell Smith took a directorate from the United Fruit Company is an absolute damning indictment and a virtual guarantee that for 15 years Bedell Smith performed favours for the UFC, often deadly, and gave them all sorts of access to Army-held information – then he became their director.

[101] Sam Browne was a British Officer who'd lost an arm, so he hung his sword off his belt, but the belt dragged down, so he devised one that would stay up with his sword attached. The American soldiers took pride in wearing their Sam Browne belts, but General Beetle Smith hated any influence Britain had over Americans and became famous for stripping these belts off American officers returning from France. The American officers retaliated with a ceremony at sea where they'd throw the belts into the ocean rather than give them to Bedell Smith's MPs . . . Bedell Smith was not well-admired by his peers or subordinates. He was a brusque manager, salty talker, ruthless administrator, and Eisenhower's 'hatchet man'. Eisenhower even employed Smith to discipline General George S. Patton – not a task anyone looked forward to.

General Walter Bedell Smith
(5 Oct. 1895–9 Aug. 1961)
everything.

"If you dig further into United Fruit Company I bet you'll find the Harrimans, the Clintons, and also a diversion of Japanese gold that was taken out of the Pacific by MacArthur."

Author: "Well, that's interesting that you mention Army General Douglas MacArthur (26 January 1880–5 April 1964) because he had a lot in common with General Bedell Smith, and they crossed paths.

"General MacArthur was also born in Little Rock, Arkansas, where Bill Clinton grew up. That's Bavaria in American terms. General MacArthur was superintendent of West Point Military Academy (1919–22); Second Commander of the Philippine Department (1928–30); Chief of Staff of the United States Army (1930–35); Field Marshal of the Philippine Army (1937–July 1941); then Commander of US Armed Forces in the Far East (1941) where he was almost immediately paid half a million dollars by Philippine President Manuel Luis Quezon (15 November 1935–1 August 1944) for his pre-war service there (read: 'protection money'). MacArthur's staff also took protection money . . . Eisenhower refused.

"When Pearl Harbor happened on 7 December 1941, the next day MacArthur was made Allied Commander in the Philippines. MacAuthur had at least 8 hours prior warning of an attack on the Philippines and up to two weeks warning of Pearl Harbor, but ignored these, thus giving Japan air superiority, so he could actually have a war.

"Privately, MacArthur concluded, 'I was incompetent', but really he was a double agent war-monger like the rest of them, even feeding the Japanese, and causing the surrender of Allied forces in Battaan in April 1942, which led to the Bataan Death March (April 1942) where 650 US and 10,000 Filipinos died.

"MacArthur then escaped to Australia. He reached the east Philippine Island of Mindanao on 13 March 1942, then boarded a B-17 Flying Fortress bomber on 16 March 1942, and flew to Batchelor Airfield 100 km south of Darwin, landing on 17 March 1942.

"26 days prior, on 19 February 1942, his own American Super Fortress bombers had bombed Darwin. The Aussies then made a propaganda movie about it – Australia, 2008 – starring Nicole Kidman and Hugh Jackman. The Japs didn't even land in Darwin."

Spymaster: "Yeah, we mentioned that in Right Royal Con in January 2007 . . . here it is."

> "Darwin was thought to have been bombed by Japan in WWII, but the Americans were stationed just outside Darwin and had a certain bomb load to get rid of. With a shortage of Japanese vessels to bomb, they'd fly out from their station in their Super Fortresses and drop their bombs over the sea.
> One American bomber, foggy on a combination of benzedrine and alcohol got lost and dropped his bombs over Darwin on 19 February 1942. This resulted in at least 243 civilian and military deaths. Australian troops and RAAF squadrons were then sent home to defend Australia against a Japanese attack that never eventuated. Australia then bought US-built P-40 Kittyhawks and manufactured the CAC Boomerang fighter. Darwin reacted by building a memorial representing Darwinians special hatred for the Japanese to this day, not to mention a special liking for the Americans who sold them the Kittyhawks. The Americans were silent as it resulted in more war planes sold, while Japan loudly denies bombing Darwin to this day."[102]

Author: "Yep, and for these failures, two weeks later, on 1 April 1942, MacArthur was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Star and the Medal of Honor. That is, General Douglas MacArthur got the Medal of Honor for six cases of war sabotage:

1. Taking bribes from the Philippines;
2. Not warning Americans about Pearl Harbor;
3. Not preparing the Philippines for the Japanese air attack;
4. Feeding the Japanese, resulting in the Bataan Death March;
5. Bombing Darwin; and
6. Abandoning the Philippines.

"General MacArthur was designated to command the invasion of Japan in November 1945, but since Hiroshima and Nagasaki were nuked it was no longer necessary, so he oversaw the occupation of Japan (14 August 1945–8 September 1951); accepted Japan's surrender on 2 September 1945; and protected Emperor Hirohito from prosecution for war crimes . . . but was credited with implementing democracy in Japan as a form of cover.

"General MacArthur was then Commander of the US/UN forces defending South Korea against the North Korean invasion (September 1950–11 April 1951) until he was removed from command by President Harry S. Truman for publicly disagreeing with his policy on Korea.

Spymaster: ". . . Read: 'offering to win the war within two months', as opposed to the three years it took (25 June 1950–27 July 1953) . . . so the banks could make more of a profit and the WWII countries could dump their old equipment on either side and America could escape the communists into the West."

Author: "Yeah . . . and back to General Bedell Smith".

In 1958, Bedell Smith was President and Chairman of the board of two weapon-manufacturing companies with Pentagon contracts, and Vice-Chairman of American Machine and Foundry Company, and Director of RCA and Corning Glass. He was then appointed special advisor to the Secretary of State on disarmament . . . So there's the ineffectiveness of any peace agreement for you – right in Bedell Smith's lap.

Rather than peace, the special advisor to the Secretary of State on disarmament, General Bedell Smith, was one of the first major military-industrial leaders of the Cold War.

The Cold War didn't start with the barbed wire fence in Berlin on 13 August 1961, it went from Hitler's escape on 2 May 1945 to 25 December 1991 when Mikhail Gorbachev resigned as Soviet President, abolished his post, lowered the red Soviet flag from the Kremlin, and raised the Russian Federation flag in its place.

So the Cold War was effectively the whole second-half of the twentieth century . . . but ongoing. The Cold War wasn't officially over until the sex collectors had done their dirty work, the Cold War effectively moved in-house throughout the West and the red Soviet flag was secretly raised in the political bedrooms of the West.

The Cold War was a secret war. When it was going on, most people didn't even know it was happening. So it's no different today. Now, in the West, we just call the Cold War "NOTHING WORKS". That is, no part of government works. Government is now designed to sabotage at every turn resulting in a lifetime of slavery.

The sex collectors have compromised Western politicians and promoted those into government who were already sexually compromised. Now we find that the entire controlling elements of local bodies have been extracted from the orgies of a quarter century prior.

Through Bedell Smith there was a connection between the U.S. Army, U.S. Military Intelligence, the White House and its budget, the U.S.S.R., NSA, CIA, Hollywood, and the Bilderberg Group . . .

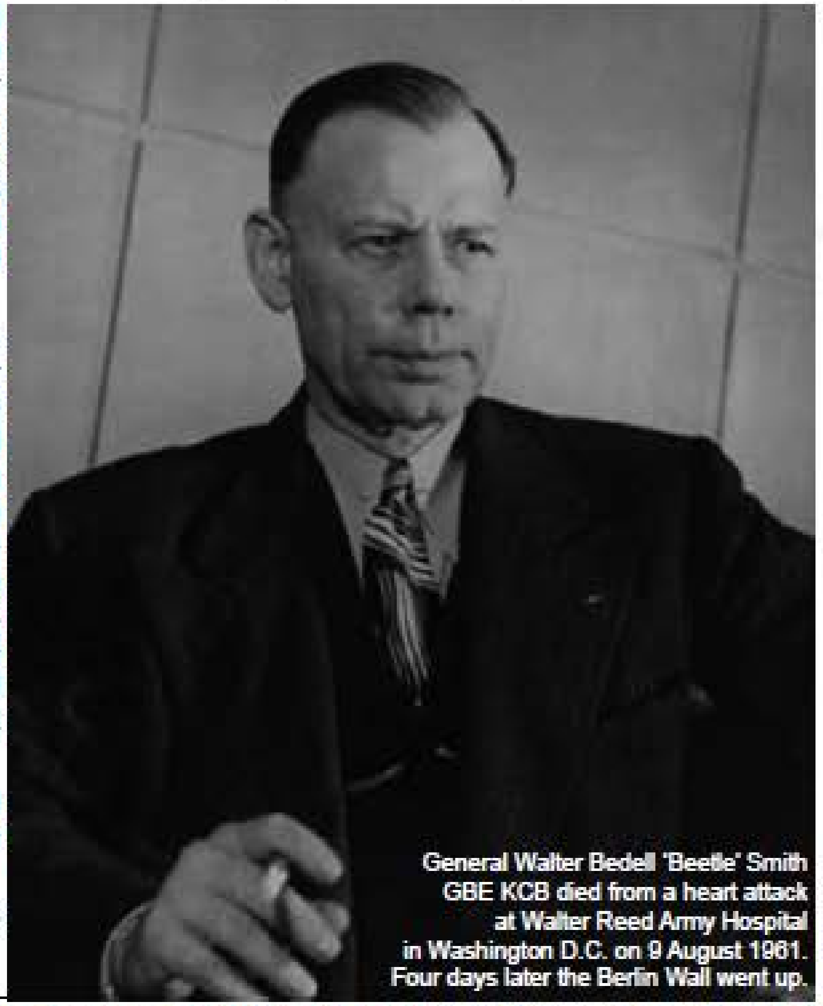
So, his daughter Sally Bedell Smith[103] became the American historian specialising in American political and broadcasting figures from the point of what the world should know – according to the agenda of the Bilderberg Group and her father – posthumous Walter.

These Bedell Smith biographies include William S. Paley (1990), his lover Pamela Harriman (1996), her semi-daugher-in-law, Diana (1999), the Kennedys (2004), and Pamela's son and daughter-in-law, the Clintons (2007).

Author: "As an Intelligence Officer, General Walter Bedell Smith had all the contacts to assist Averell Harriman in swishing baby Clinton, and even inherited Harriman's role as U.S. Ambassador to the U.S.S.R., which was really about using up the old WWII equipment and placing the entire planet under surveillance."

Spymaster: "And such is history . . . and the Clintons."

Author: "Right in there as two little-known CIA agents."



General Walter Bedell "Beetle" Smith GBE KCB died from a heart attack at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington D.C. on 9 August 1961. Four days later the Berlin Wall went up.

---

[103] Neither Walter Bedell Smith, nor Sally Bedell Smith mention anything of their families. They are tight-lipped like a military budget, or military intelligence, and loose-lipped like counter-intelligence, to such an extent that they write it down . . . many books between them.

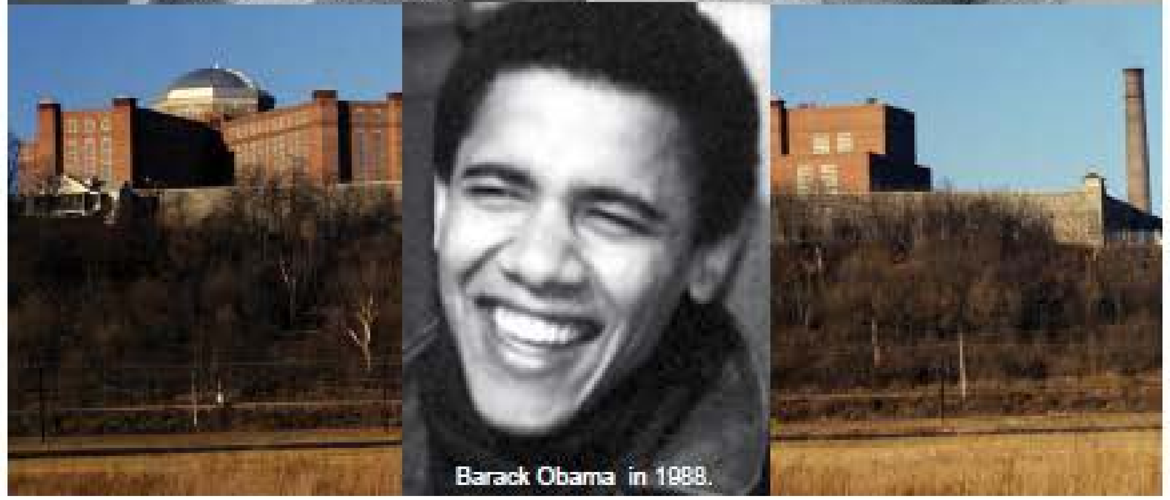
Barack Obama Sr. (25) in 1961.

Stanley Ann Dunham (17) in 1960.



Barack Obama in 1988.

Barack Obama – Origins long time coming

Barack Obama's mother was named Stanley Ann Dunham because her father wanted a boy. She used the name 'Stanley' through High School until university and was one of the original feminists and liberal thinkers. She was either born on 27 November 1942 at Fort Leavenworth,[1] Kansas, or 75 km southwest on 29 November 1942 at St. Francis Hospital in Wichita. So it seems that Military Intelligence was already involved by 1942, if not 1941, and she may have been an experimental baby. Both born in Kansas, her parents married on 5 May 1940 in Wichita – Madelyn Lee Payne (17) and Stanley Armour Dunham (22). After the Pearl Harbor attack (7 December 1941), Stanley Armour Dunham, joined the United States Army and her mother, Madelyn, worked as an Aircraft Inspector in the Boeing B-29 plant in Wichita. Ann was conceived 1–2 months after Pearl Harbor – circa 22 January 1942.

At the end of World War II (2 September 1945 for Americans) the Dunham family moved from Wichita to Ponca City, Oklahoma, then to Vernon, Texas, then to El Dorado, Kansas, then to Seattle, Washington (1955–60). Dad worked as a furniture salesman and Mum worked as vice president of a bank. They lived in an apartment complex in Wedgwood and Ann attended Eckstein Junior High School. In 1956, they moved to Mercer Island, an Eastside suburb of Seattle and Stanley Ann Dunham (13) attended the newly opened Mercer Island High School, where she learnt to challenge social norms and question authority.

"She felt she didn't need to date or marry or have children" . . . She was "intellectually way more mature than we were and a little bit ahead of her time, in an off-center way" . . . "If you were concerned about something going wrong in the world, Stanley would know about it first. We were liberals before we knew what liberals were" . . . "Stanley Ann was the original feminist".[2]

In August 1959, Hawaii became the 50th state to be admitted into the Union. In 1960 Stanley Ann Dunham graduated from Mercer Island High School and the family moved to Hawaii. Dunham soon enrolled at the University of Hawaii at Mānoa and studied Russian language. This would immediately put her on the CIA radar.

In this Russian language class she (17) met the school's first and only African student, Barack Obama, Sr. (23) – a Luo Kenyan from Nyang'oma Kogelo, Nyanza Province in rural west Kenya. He was born 50 km southeast in Kanyadhiang village where he went to Gendia Primary School. Kanyadhiang is 3 km east of Kendu Bay, Lake Victoria,[3] 90 km north of Tanzania, 90 km east of Uganda, and 17,500 km from Hawaii. Barack Obama, Sr (18) had already married

[3] Lake Victoria is the largest lake in Africa and the largest tropical lake in the world – so it's a big body of water. It has one outflow river, the White Nile that flows north. The surrounding area is the greenbelt of Africa. Lake Victoria's Cichlid fish are known for their 'evolutionary plasticity'. They can change their shape, size and look to adapt to localised conditions. Of the 500 species in Lake Victoria, the Haplochromine Cichlid made up 80% of the fish volume, but were not big, and not that good to eat. So the British introduced the Nile Perch on the Uganda side of Lake Victoria (illegally in 1954), then in Kenya (1962), then in Tanzania (1963) which grew up to 184 kg and ate the Cichlid (reducing its volume from 80% to 1%) and 200 Haplochromine species (65%) were driven to extinction – the largest extinction event of the C20th. On the other hand, this created the 'Nile Perch Boom' of the 1980s. Chemical nutrients then reduced the water clarity and oxygen levels (1989–2009), and the 1 of 200 Cichild species remaining, Haplochromis pyrrhocephalus, evolved and increased its gill surface area by 64%, its cheek depth increased, and its head, eye length, and head volume decreased, – so it was a different looking kettle of fish . . . Things evolve quickly around Lake Victoria where Barack Obama's house father was born.

Barack Obama Sr. (23)

(1954) Kezia Aoko (14) in a tribal ceremony in Kenya. They had a son and Kezia was pregnant again when Barack got Stanley Ann pregnant in Hawaii. They married bigamously on 2 February 1961. Barack and Kezio eventually had four children.

Although he was allowed to have more than one wife in Luo custom, Barack's father was a bigamist. He knew this and didn't tell Ann he was married. Many years passed before she found out.

Barack Obama II was born on 4 August 1961, but the location is uncertain. Barack Sr. was known for giving Stanley Ann the bash, which is just enough reason for an issue-conscious feminist to move to another city to study.

Stanley Ann Dunham Obama (18) left university and visited her friends at Mercer Island, Washington in 1961 with her new Black baby and enrolled at the University of Washington by January 1962. The marriage was virtually over within the year (1961) and neither would live with Barack Obama, Sr. again.

Single mother Stanley Ann Dunham (19) lived on the northwest coast in Capitol Hill, Seattle with Barack Jr., while Barack Sr. continued his studies in Hawaii. He graduated as Phi Beta Kappa[4] in June 1962 and was offered a scholarship in New York City with enough pay to support his new second family. But he declined the offer, and in September 1962, Barack Sr. went to Harvard University in Cambridge, Massachusetts on the East Coast – 4,000 km away. Here Barack Sr. met American-born teacher, Ruth Nidesand. He received his Harvard Economics Master's Degree in 1965 and Ruth followed him to Kenya, married him, had two children, then they divorced.

Stanley Ann Dunham's door was open, but Barack Jr. didn't see Barack Sr. until 1971. Ann (21) filed for divorce in Honolulu in January 1964 when Junior was 2. Obama Sr. did not contest, and the divorce was granted on 20 March 1964. They had spent less than a year together (July 1960–June 1961). Barack Obama Sr. had been a sperm donor father, but it's debateable whether it was his sperm he donated, or a 'sperm and mummy clone cell cocktail' he was implanting.

Spymaster: "The CIA weren't giving any explanations to Blacks during that time period, so we'd have to ask them now. Certainly, the CIA were continuing all forms of Nazi programmes, including the Lebensraum breeding programme of 1935–45 . . . The CIA were in search of a woman with certain qualities: religious qualities like Queen Tiye, a long face like Akhenaten, and extremely white skin to offset the extremely black skin. They found the feminist Russian Language student Stanley Ann Dunham in Hawaii, complete with milky white skin."

Stanley Ann Dunham was a forward thinker in all the areas it didn't matter, and an historical thinker in all the areas it didn't matter, and was not impartial to alcohol, marijuana, or experimental drugs like LSD, so it was easy enough to drug her and have others come in and implant the cocktail.

'LSD was first synthesized in 1938. It's psychedelic properties were discovered in 1943. Sandoz Laboratories introduced LSD as a psychiatric drug in 1947.' "Beginning in the 1950s, the US Central Intelligence Agency began a research program codenamed Project MKULTRA. Experiments included administering LSD to CIA employees, military personnel, doctors, other government agents, prostitutes, mentally ill patients, and members of the general public in order to study their reactions, usually without the subject's knowledge. The project was revealed in the US congressional Rockefeller Commission report in 1975." 'The Sandoz LSD patents expired in 1963 and the US Food and Drug Administration classified LSD as an Investigational New Drug, which restricted its use to medical-scientific. It was a legal drug (16 November 1938–24 October 1968) until the CIA agent Timothy Leary, the MI-6 agent Aldous Huxley, and the ONI agent Al Hubbard began promoting it. The Swiss kept LSD legal until 1993, but then they are soft-Nazis for whom the money counts.'[5]

When a man as black as night is 17,500 km from home, you can smell the fear on him. Literally, I've offered them deodorant on the Trans-Siberian train in Russia. So there was no problem making Barack Sr. a willing participant. All you had to do was wear a suit, be white, have a small upper lip, talk in short direct sentences, flip an ID with an abbreviation no one had heard of, show a photo of a dead person and claim it was your buddies who did it, then give him US$100 and a card with someone's name on it for career advancement.

Students will do anything for money, especially African students overseas. This includes medical experiments on themselves. Doing a medical experiment on someone else was even less of a conscience battle, especially when it was an Intelligence medical experiment complete with White career guarantees for a Black-as-spades participant.

A medical experiment on another was a soft version of drug-dealing, or date rape, and let's face it, Stanley Ann was a bit of a pain in the arse, looked and thought weird, and smelt funny. She looked like Olive Oil and was not the 'hot chick' – so nothing much to worry about. To a Black man from deep west Kenya, it was NHI – No Humans Involved.

Curiously, after Washington and the birth of Barry Akhenaten, Stanley Ann Dunham returned to the University of Hawaii in Honolulu, dropped Russian Language and studied cultural anthropology – which is what feminist chicks do when they're fascinated with black apes. I'm not kidding! I used to attend. Those classes are full of milky white chicks with long blonde-to-mousey hair. You can tell them anything and they'll just sit there thinking 'ape, ape, ape, ape, ape, ape, ape' while fronting as agape.

During this time (1964–67) Stanely Ann was dependent on food stamps and it was her parents who made the huge contribution to raising Obama Jr. They were the rock in his life.

In 1967, Stanley Ann Dunham graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Anthropology (Indonesian rather than Egyptian) from the University of Hawaii.

Barack Obama Sr. had played his part in history and been paid, so he got his Harvard Economics Masters Degree in 1965. In 1971, Barack Obama Sr. (33) went to Hawaii briefly to visit his son Barack (10). He had seen his son as a baby, then as a 10-year-old, for the last time. When Barack Jr. became an adult at 21, and those who plan futures, were planning his future, Senior's knowledge could pose huge problems, so Barack Obama Sr. was killed in a car accident on 24 November 1982.

Barack Obama Sr. (35)

Stanley Ann Dunham's feminism and poor quality pheromones were about to create a repeat pattern, so . . . in Hawaii's East-West Center she met the Indonesian student, Lolo Soetoro. They married in 1966/67. President Suharto's ascent to power on 12 March 1967 caused unrest, but they moved with Barack (6) to Jakarta anyway.

Soetoro worked for Mobil as a govt. relations consultant; Barack did correspondence courses in English, listened to the African-American gospel singer Mahalia Jackson, and speeches by Martin Luther King Jr., then attended Besuki

Public School and St. Francis of Assisi School. Stanley Ann Dunham and Lolo Soetoro then had a daughter, Maya Kassandra Soetoro, on 15 August 1970.

Barack was the third wheel in the new family, so within the year, Ann sent Barack (10) back to Honolulu to live with with her parents. Madelyn Dunham's job as a vice-president at the Bank of Hawaii (1970–86) helped pay the expensive tuition at Punahou School (1971–79), with some assistance from a scholarship.[6]

Barack was separated from his mother (1971–72,[7] 1977–94) aged 10–12 and 16–34, just enough to qualify him as an Illuminati child (separated from mother before 12 years old).

Ann Dunham separated from Lolo Soetoro in 1972 and moved to a Hawaii (1972–77), 11,000 km away – on the other side of the planet, taking their daughter Maya Kassandra Soetoro (2) with her. She returned to Indonesia for anthropology field work with Maya (6) in 1977 and home schooled her (1977–81), then set her free (11–14) to attend Jakarta International School (1981–84), then Punahou School in Honolulu where Maya graduated (1984–88).

Barack and Maya lived together as brother and sister from 1970–71 and 1972–77 when Maya was 0–1 and 2–7. Ann and Lolo did not live together again and divorced in 1980. After the divorce, Stanley Ann Dunham took an Anglocised version of her ex-husband's name and became Ann Dunham Sutoro . . . so she was nuts.

Lolo Soetoro didn't waste any time and began breeding with another straight away.

1971: Lolo Soetoro, Ann Dunham, Maya Kassandra Soetoro, and Barack Obama Jr.

[6] Punahou School is a private, co-educational, preparatory school (ages 2–18) in Honolulu – the largest independent school in America. Tuition is $16,675 (2008–09 year), not including optional and mandatory fees. In 2006, it was ranked as the "greenest" school in America and in 2008 and 2009 Sports Illustrated ranked its sports program the best in America. It has an endowment fund of around US$175 million.

Obama's Grandmother was CIA

Madelyn Lee née Payne Dunham (26 Oct. 1922–2 Nov. 2008) joined Bank of Hawaii in Oahu in 1960. She was promoted to manager of the escrow department in 1962, then blazed a trail for other women in banking throughout the 1960s. In December 1970 she was made the bank's first female vice president, along with another woman. This was a post-WWII glass ceiling for both of them. Dunham retired as head of the bank's escrow department in 1986.

Spymaster: "The Bank of Hawaii worked with the Nugan Hand bank. Frank Nugan and Jon Hand were both Tigermen from 1941/42 involved in CIA heroin running from China to the U.S.. The heroin was originally just for Blacks. But by the 1960s it went to everybody. That's why they had the Vietnam War.

"The heroin ended up in the bodies of soldiers, then in the petrol tanks of vehicles, which the Americans had blown up themselves, by the docks, as they were too difficult to transport in a wrecked state from inland. Once blown up, the vehicles were stored in huge open carparks in Danang, Vietnam, then shipped to the East or West coast by these old WWII Escort Carriers."

Nugan Hand Bank was an Australian merchant bank that collapsed in 1980 in sensational circumstances amidst rumours of involvement with the CIA and organized crime.

Nugan Hand Ltd. was founded in Sydney in 1973 by Australian lawyer Frank Nugan and U.S. Green Beret Michael Jon Hand.

Frank Nugan was associated with the Mafia in Griffith 'Marijuana County', New South Wales, where the anti-drugs campaigner Donald Mackay was murdered on 15 July 1977. There is a tie in here with the Mr Asia heroin trafficking gang and the New Zealand mafia.

U.S. Green Beret Michael Jon Hand participated in the Vietnam War, then trained Hmong guerillas in Northern Laos under CIA aegis (protective shield). This led to ties with the "Golden Triangle" heroin trade.

The two split the business: Nugan took care of tax fraud and money-laundering, while Hand managed the drug money and the international branches.

The Nugan Hand Bank attracted investors with promises of up to 16% interest and assurances of anonymity, tax-free accounts, specialist investment assistance, and money laundering for a mere 22 % fee. So there's your 6 % profit.

The Nugan Hand Bank gained respectability by the recruitment of a number of retired senior U.S. military and Intelligence personnel, including Rear Admiral Earl "Buddy" Yates as bank president, and ex-CIA Dir. William Colby (4 Sept. 1973–30 Jan. 1976) as legal counsel.

Nugan Hand's single Sydney office rapidly expanded into a global network with branches in Chiang Mai, Manila, Hawaii, Cape Town, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Cayman Islands and Washington D.C., all of which were registered in the Cayman Islands.

Investors attending AGMs in the late 1970s were prevented from asking questions about the bank, by the bank. Concerns over questionable accounting practices began to circulate. Frank Nugan was charged with stock fraud, then shot dead by a .30-calibre rifle in his Mercedes-Benz outside Lithgow, NSW in the early hours of 27 January 1980. Concerns turned into investor panic.

"It is said that a hand-written list was found on his body with a list of substantial loans Nugan Hand had extended to various notables including as William Colby and Bob Wilson. The police investigation then returned a verdict of 'suicide'. Suspicions of the bank's activities grew in subsequent days as details emerged of the contents of Nugan's car (including the business card of William Colby) and news that Nugan's house and office had been ransacked by Jon Hand and Admiral Yates, with important company files destroyed or stolen."

"The official inquest into Nugan's death in June 1980 made front-page news amid testimony from Jon Hand that Nugan Hand was insolvent, owing at least A$50 million (and as much as hundreds of millions), including $20,000 rent on their Sydney headquarters. Jon Hand then promptly fled Australia under a false identity on a flight to Fiji in June 1980, after destroying Nugan Hand's remaining records. Jon Hand has not been seen since. It is possible that, as a CIA operative, he re-entered the US and was given a new identity.

"A subsequent Royal Commission inquiring into the activities of the Nugan Hand Group revealed money-laundering, arms shipments, drug dealing, theft (including US$5 million from US military personnel in Saudi Arabia) and large-scale tax avoidance by Nugan Hand throughout its brief but eventful existence. One witness, a former Nugan Hand director, stated that Hand threatened bank executives:

> 'If we didn't do what we were told, and things weren't handled properly, > our wives would be cut into pieces and put in boxes and sent back to us'."[8]

The Australian 'Joint Task Force on Drug Trafficking' investigation compiled a Nugan Hand bank report in 1983:

> "Nugan Hand had acted as a CIA front to finance a war in Laos by laundering drug money. The Nugan Hand Chiang Mai branch participated in the covert sale of an electronic spy ship to Iran and weapons shipments to Angola [aegis]."

Nugan Hand had a powerful friends and co-workers in U.S. Military Intelligence, and heroin influence, enough for them to play in the political realms – like Australian Prime Minister Gough Whitlam's dismissal on 11 November 1975.

No one connected with Nugan Hand was ever convicted and Admiral Yates and his fellow senior officers involved never responded to Australian requests to testify.

The Nugan Hand Bank was closely associated with the Bank of Hawaii from around 1975. Madelyn Dunham retired as head of the bank's escrow department and vice president in 1986. She died on 2 November 2008, just two days before Obama won the election and became President-elect.

It certainly stopped Madelyn Dunham being questioned and talking about Obama's real origins. This rasies another question to ask the CIA and the US Military involved in the Nugan Hand Bank: "Did you wack Madelyn Lee née Payne Dunham – the future President of America's grandmother and house mother?"

And now for some Distraction News

Obama said that when he was a child, his grandmother (vice president of the Bank of Hawaii) "read me the opening lines of the Declaration of Independence and told me about the men and women who marched for equality because they believed those words put to paper two centuries ago should mean something."

Barack Obama, Dreams from My Father: 'My great-grandmother, Leona McCurry, was part Native American, which Leona held as a "source of considerable shame" and "blanched whenever someone mentioned the subject and hoped to carry the secret to her grave"; whereas McCurry's daughter (Obama's maternal grandmother) "would turn her head in profile to show off her beaked nose, which along with a pair of jet-black eyes, was offered as proof of Cherokee blood".'

To date, no concrete evidence has surfaced of Cherokee heritage. Obama's maternal heritage consists mostly of English ancestry, with much smaller amounts of German, Irish, Scottish, Welsh, Swiss, and French ancestry.

Yeah, well, what about being the second cloned president, after the Bono Chimpanzee, W.

1971: Barack Obama Sr. complete with gammy leg from his first car accident, with Barack Obama Jr.

Ann Dunham Sutoro encouraged her children to see their fathers, but Barack only saw his father aged 0–1, and then briefly as a 10 year-old. What Barack Sr. had done to Stanley Ann Dunham, Ann Dunham did to Lolo Soetoro. So it was nuts . . . impossible to live with, and little rewards for doing so. Full dibs to Barack Obama Jr. for putting up with her, although it appears, he didn't have to that much.

Barack lived with his travelling roving mother aged 0–10, then 12–16 and was actually raised and guided by the vice-president of the Bank of Hawaii – his maternal grandmother, Madelyn Dunham.

> Clinton's story is the same, exactly the same. He was dumped on a solo Mum who then abandoned him and he was raised by his maternal grandmother – so it's the Democratic Way.

The clone-carrier of Pharoah Akhenaten returned to Hawaii and died on 7 November 1995, sick to death of her medical bills for ovarian cancer – too many different cocks – so she was another Pamela Digby, but failed to look or smell good doing it. What can I say – different pheromones, but both essentially government agents, and both in complete denial. The CIA learnt from the Gestapo, who learnt from Gurdjieff, that sluts make the world go round.

Barack Obama also has a confusing history of names: Barack Hussein Mohammed Obama; Barry Dunham; Barack Soetoro; Barry Sutoro; Barack Hussein Akhenaten; Barry Akhenaten; Hussein Akhenaten, and Pharoah Akhenaten 3,300 years later and 14,670 km away – Honolulu being the nearest landmass to the exact opposite side of the world.

CIA: "They're on the same 20th parallel.
"Luxor is 25° 41' N, 32° 39'E. Honolulu is 21° 18' N, 157° 49'E.
"You couldn't get further away – that's the CIA way."

1372–1334 BC: Pharaoh Akhenaten at Luxor.

1988–91: Barack Hussein Obama II at Harvard

Regardless, Barry Sutoro/ Barack Hussein Obama/ clone of Pharoah Akhenaten got every break and hand-up to be expected of a 'Planned-Presidency'. Even the twin Republican psychics predicted around 2000 that there would be a Black president in 2008.

As her name suggests, Stanley Ann Dunham wasn't the best mother. She was barely around, continually distracted and suffered from the BO acquired when you're always rushing off to do the next thing and never in the present – the panic of time.

Obama Jr.: "That my father looked nothing like the people around me – that he was black as pitch, my mother white as milk – barely registered in my mind."[9] Yeah right!
'Like his mother, Obama used alcohol, marijuana and cocaine as a teenager.'[10]
Obama: "Pot had helped, and booze; maybe a little blow when you could afford it."[11]

When Barack dreamed of his pitch black father whom he met once aged 10, he was actually dreaming of Pharaoh Amenhotep III (1398–1350 BC) a.k.a. Amenophis III, or in Egyptian, 'Satisfied the third'.

Barak finished Punahou School in Honolulu and moved to Occidental College in Los Angeles (1979–81); then transferred to Columbia University in New York City (1981–83) and majored in Political Science (specialising in international relations, just as Pharoah Akhenaten would). He graduated with a B.A. in 1983 then worked for the Business International Corporation (1983–84), then the New York Public Interest Research Group (1984–85) – so his Jewish roots were coming out.

He then moved to Chicago as Director of the Developing Communities Project – a church-based community organisation (Catholic) on the far South Side (June 1985–May 1988). Surprise, surprise, befitting a pharoah, the budget grew from $70,000 to $400,000 and his staff grew from 1 to 13. So by the mid-1980s, the backing boys were in.

Why do I look placed here?
Why do I feel placed here?

[11] Dreams from My Father, Barack Obama, 1995, pp. 93–94.

In mid-1988, Barack travelled to Europe (3 weeks) then to Kenya (5 weeks) and again in August 2006 to Kanyadhiang village, Nyang'oma Kogelo, Nyanza Province, rural west Kenya to visit to his house-father's relatives and birth place . . . but they were not his paternal relatives, or his house-father, but his con-father.

His real relatives lived 2,890 km almost directly north (356°) in the Palace at Thebes in Luxor on the River Nile, and were buried a further 6 km north in the Valley of the Kings.

Complete with the invisible hand, Obama entered Harvard Law School in late 1988. At the end of the first year, he (28) became the first Black president of the Harvard Law Review (6 February 1990) which launched the media to give him national attention in the New York Times – Jewish.

This in turn led to a book advance about race relations. "Jane Dystel, the publisher of Times Books gave Obama (28) a $40,000 advance. Professor Baird then called Mr. Obama at Harvard and asked if he was interested in teaching and then got him a small office near the law library to write in. [So it was all laid on]. He spent two months in Bali with Michelle finishing Dreams from My Father, which turned out to be a memoir, rather than a book on race relations.

Dreams from My Father was published in mid-1995 by Hermene Hartman – essentially the same history as Billy Rex Churchill-Clinton and Adolf Rothschild-Hitler – so it was history repeating disguised as a personal memoir. All three had speaking training, and that's usually enough to fool the majority of people the majority of time – enough to get elected.

> "It possesses at times the same charmed quality sometimes ascribed to his political ascent – an impression of ease, if not exactly effortlessness, that obscures a more complex amalgam of drive, ambition, timing and the ability to recognize an opportunity and to do what it takes to seize it."[12]

The same goes for Adi Rothschild and Billy Rex . . . and Akhenaten Obama.

Barack: "This is an example of what happens when you look at things backwards."[13]

There were respectful reviews in The New York Times and The Boston Globe and it sold 8,000 to 9,000 copies. Obama: 'I joke that 290 million Americans did not buy the book' . . . Within a few years Dreams From My Father was out of print."[14]

As soon as Barack made his keynote address at the 2004 Democratic National Convention Dreams from My Father soared out of obscurity and three million copies were printed. Barack ('Biracial') was now an agenda player and changed publishers from Hermene Hartman to Crown and was represented by Robert 'Bob-the-Fixer' Barnett – the same Washington fixer lawyer Hillary Clinton used to get her US$8 million advance. Obama got a publishing advance of US$1.9 million for three books. The Audacity of Hope (October 2006) is the first. The second is a children's book.

In the student holidays Obama worked as a summer associate at the Chicago law firms of Sidley Austin (1989) and Hopkins & Sutter (1990), graduated from Harvard in 1991 with a Law Degree with Second Class Honors (Juris Doctor, magna cum laude).[15] He married Michelle LaVaughn Robinson in October 1992.

To boost his career further, Crain's Chicago Business named Obama (32) in the '40 under Forty' powers to be list in 1993. For 12 years, Obama served as a professor of constitutional law at the University of Chicago Law School, as a Lecturer (1992–96), and Senior Lecturer (1996–2004). He was an associate (1993–96) then counsel (1996–2004) at Davis Miner Barnhill & Galland (12 attorneys) and even Obama admits he was a behind the scenes lawyer who would introduce his client and then step back and let the other lawyers do the talking. So Obama specialised in civil rights litigation and neighbourhood economic development.

Obama was a founding member of the board of directors of Public Allies (1992). He resigned, then his new wife Michelle Obama became the Chicago founding executive director in early 1993. Obama served on the board of directors of the Woods Fund of Chicago and the Joyce Foundation (1994–2002); and served as the founding president and chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago Annenberg Challenge (1995–99–2002).

"Since Obama (30) graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1991, he has made no appearances in Cook County Circuit Court. His practice was mainly in the Chicago's Federal Court where he made formal appearances in 5 District Court cases and another 5 in cases before the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. So that's 10 cases in his legal career. He did most of his talking behind the scenes and some could say that this sounds a little rigged, but then some of the judges were also his fellow law lecturers. Obama understood the nuances of law, and was not so good at shooting back with a simple answer."[16]

Barack Obama became a Member of the Illinois Senate (1997–2004), his law license became inactive in 2002, then he became the Senator for Ilinois (2005–08), then President of the United States/ British Plantation/ New Egypt, sworn in on 20 January 2009.

. . . And the rest is history, or it will be . . . with all the confusion that keeps us ignorant, and all the agenda that separates the published from the unpublished.

Barack Obama or so we thought

So at first, Barack Obama is born in Honolulu which would give him American citizenship. Having a Kenyan father gave him Kenyan and British citizenship. He retained the Kenyan citizenship for the maximum period, up until his 23rd birthday on 4 August in 1984. So then he had British and American citizenship. Then we find that Barack Obama could not produce a valid date stamped birth certificate for Hawaii, so his American citizenship was questioned.

Barack Obama/ Barry Soetoro/ Sutoro then ordered the original vault copy of his birth certificate sealed. He retained three law firms to defend 42 Federal Court cases and a similar number of State Court cases that "Barack Obama is the Kenyan 'Barry Soetoro".

[15] "Magna cum laude" is similar to the British undergraduate degree, or a simple Bachelor's degree – B.A.. "cum laude" means 'with honor'; "magna cum laude" means 'with great honor'; and "summa cum laude" means 'with highest honor'. The same honours across the States at different universities have a huge variance in academic levels – so it's meaning is open to interpretation. "Juris Doctor" just means he got a Law Degree. So Barack Obama got Second Class honours in his Law Degree – an LLB with an A- average.

[16] Chicago Sun-Times, 'Strong, silent type, Obama's Legal Career', Abdon M. Pallasch, Political Reporter, 17 December 2007, paraphrased for clarity.

By mid-2009, Barack had spent over a US$1 million in legal defence fees. The case against him is well-founded, substantiated through factual evidence, state and federal statutes, and international laws. Extensive searches in the State of Hawaii showed no birthing records for his mother Stanley Ann Dunham in any hospital in Hawaii."[17]

So then Barack Obama was born in Kenya on 4 August 1961 and only his British citizenship is legal. Stanley Ann Dunham was Jewish and Barry Soetoro is a British asset and Agent . . . or so we thought.

HOPENOSIS
EVERYTHING IS BETTER AND YOU'RE ALL SAVED

Barack Obama:
"Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate.
Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure.
It is our light,
not our darkness,
that most frightens us.
We ask ourselves,
who am I to be brilliant,
gorgeous, talented, and fabulous?
Actually, who are you not to be?
You are a child of God.
Your playing small doesn't serve the world.
There's nothing enlightened about shrinking
so that other people won't feel insecure around you.
We are all meant to shine,
as children do.
We are born to make manifest
the glory of God that is within us.
It's not just in some of us,
it's in everyone.
And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same.
As we are liberated from our own fear,
our presence automatically liberates others."

Cloning Egyptian Pharaohs as President for the New Egypt

"In 1898, Victor Loret discovered the mummies of Pharaoh Amenhotep III and his wife Queen Tiye ('The Elder Lady') side by side in Amenhotep's WV22 tomb.

"The Elder Lady mummy was identified as Queen Tiye with her shabits found around her in tomb KV35.

"Queen Tiye (1398–1338 BC) was married to Amenhotep III aged 11 and became a widow at 48 – a marriage of 37 years. She outlived her husband by 12 years and died after the 12th year of the reign of her son, Akhenaten. She died aged 59, but her teeth looked like a 29-year-old's and her hair was not gray.

"A fragment of her tomb was also found buried alongside her son Akhenaten and granddaughter, Meketaten, in Akhenaten's royal tomb at Amarna.

In her grandson's Tutankhamun's tomb, a lock of Queen Tiye's hair was found 'in a nest of miniature anthropoid coffins inscribed with the name and titles of Queen Tiye'.

"So Queen Tiye was a popular lady with her husband, son, and granddaughter."[18]

"'Shabits' are small figurines inscribed with a special formula to be recited and represent the function expressed in that spell – to carry out heavy manual tasks on behalf of a person in the afterlife. For example: "O, these shabtis, if one counts me off for my duties

> – now indeed an obstacle is implanted for/ against me there with, as a man at his duties; if one counts off for you at any time which has be passed there make arable the fields, to turn over the shores, to transport by boat the sand of the West (and) of the East, 'here you are' you shall say."[19]
> An interpretation might be: 'I am mummified. Reincarnate me with the knowledge of the East and the West – the sands of the Ark of the Covenant – the twin soul with Anubis – and I will travel over the seas to serve to make the fields grow and the tides right, and you shall say: 'Look, it's Queen Tiye reincarnated.'

Parts of Queen Tiye were buried in a tomb with her son Pharaoh Akhenaten where they spent the next 3,300 years lying next to each other in a mummified state, complete with live cells. This was the ancient version of cryogenic freezing. Pharoahs and their important associates were mummified in the hopes that one day they could be cloned from their cells.

Well their future has arrived and developing living tissues from mummies has been advertised as scientifically capable from 1985. Like most science, it is actually done 25–150 years beforehand and the OSS/ CIA were cloning from 1920.[20] Victor Loret found these two Egyptian mummies in 1898, and they were were cloned in 1960 and 1963 as Barry Sutoro in Kenya/ Fort Leavenworth, and Michelle LaVaughn Robinson in Chicago/ Fort Leavenworth.

This cloning Egyptian Pharoah's does fit in with the Intelligence name of the United States – "the New Egypt" – and the Intelligence name of New Zealand being "New Spain", and the leader of Iraq, Saddam Hussein, claiming to be the reincarnation of Nebuchadnezzar II who ruled Babylon (c. 605 BC–562 BC).

[20] As confirmed by the ex-wife of the 3-IC of the CIA, Rayelan Allan in an interview with the author on Rumour Mill News, Radio RMN, America, 22 December 2009.

[21] Archival records discredited Akhenaten and considered him 'the enemy' who abandoned traditional gods. . He ruled for 17 years (1351–1334 BC) and was the father of King Tutankhamun.

[22] Queen Tiye (1398–1339 BC) married Pharaoh Amenhotep III in the second year of his reign (1386–50 BC) when he was 6–12 years old and she was 11. So she was the same age, or up to 5 years older. She was married 37 years, then widowed aged 48 and died aged 59. Her blood type was 'O'.
Queen Tiye, also known as Tiji, Taia, Tiy, and Tiyi, is the mother of religious monotheism – only one God.
Pharoah Akhenaten was known as 'the Heretic King'.

Queen Tiye was Pharoh Akhenaten's mother.

Barack Hussein Obama II's origins

Madelyn Lee Payne (17) was young when she married Stanley Armour Dunham (22) on 5 May 1940. For America this was pre-war, but the preparations were underway.

On 7 December 1941, Pearl Harbor brought America into the war (with an inside job).

Stanley Dunham then began training at Fort Leavenworth and Madelyn Dunham was working nearby as an Aircraft Inspector for the Boeing B-29 plant in Wichita.

They weren't a bad looking couple, quite tall, and would have come to the attention of the OSS who had been cloning since 1920.

Ann Dunham was conceived six weeks after Pearl Harbor at Fort Leavenworth.

War is often a mask for medical experiments. The Nazis did it, and the Americans did it – both on their enemies, on their citizens, and on their military staff. It was pretty much a free-for-all without the normal checks and balances. Deaths could be more easily hidden on the military base than in a civilian town, especially when there were group deaths.

Cloning required experiments with blood farming, and Fort Leavenworth was one of the main places blood farming was done.

Blacks had no rights in WWII and were used as test dummies for this blood farming. They were taken in droves to Fort Leavenworth and most did not come out alive.

The conception and gestation of Stanley Ann Dunham – essentially at Fort Leavenworth – may have involved some aspects of cloning and blood farming. That is, at that stage, it may have required some intergenerational elements.

Madelyn Dunham got a good job as a supervisor at Boeing and Stanley Dunham survived the war in various undisclosed places in France.

They family moved to Hawaii in 1959 and Madelyn worked at the Bank of Hawaii in Oahu in 1960. This was a reasonably sought after position and involved some CIA connections. She was then made first female vice president (1970–86) and head of the escrow department (a separate fund for monthly bills) so there may have been a CIA hand up.

From 1975, the Bank of Hawaii was associated with the Nugen Hand Bank – essentially an extension of the CIA involved in heroin trafficking, arms deals, rigging elections, stock fraud, money laundering, murder, and threatening staff with the murder of their partners. The escrow department played a role in this money laundering. A bank vice president and head of escrow department would have had to try very hard to not know this was going on. In other words, Madelyn Dunham had CIA protection which avoided her being indicted in any way.

Madelyn Dunham, CIA, raised her grandson, Barack Obama, Jr., aged 10–12 (1971–72) and 16–18 (1977–80) while she was vice president of the Bank of Hawaii with all its CIA associations. Even a month of this is terrific influence. She also paid his college tuition.

Madelyn Dunham (66) then died two days before Obama became President-elect on 4 November 2008. This stopped her being questioned, revealing, or letting slip, anything unusual about Obama's strange origins.

In 1960, daughter Ann Dunham (17) went to the University of Hawaii in Mānoa and took Russian language which immediately brought her to the attention of the CIA. Taking Russian meant that she could be experimented on without any qualms.

To make this easier, Ann met the school's first and only African student, Barack Obama, Sr. (23) who was already married.

Ann was not adverse to alcohol, marijuana, or experimental drugs like LSD. She conceived around 29 October 1960, with Barack Obama Jr. born on 4 August 1961.

11,000 miles from home and bribed by the CIA with money and promises of career advancement, Barack Obama, Sr. drugged Ann Dunham (17). Then the CIA inserted Ann Dunham, by artificial insemination, with a clone cocktail of Pharoah Akhenaten.

It didn't matter to the CIA. They consider the daughter of their agent, Madelyn Dunham, to be their property, and part of the Nugen Hand Bank CIA war, experiments, and money laundering. Conceived and born at Fort Leavenworth, Ann Dunham was their American Military property.

The CIA had been taken over by the Nazis in Operation Paperclip (1945–) and were continuing the Nazi Lebensraum breeding programme of 1935–45. Ann's milky white skin was an added bonus, as was her perpetual naivety and optimism. That she was studying Russian just made her Untermensch (sub-human) and the whole exercise easier to justify.

At first the child was conceived in Hawaii, and born in Hawaii with Kenyan and British citizenship, but it now appears that Barack Obama Jr. was conceived in Hawaii from a cocktail retrieved in Egypt and made in Fort Leavenworth, then born in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas . . . so Obama has American citizenship and is a product created from, and owned by, the American military.

Within a year of Junior being born, Barack Obama, Sr. split.

His career then sored as though he was a White man on a privileged path (Phi Beta Kappa, Harvard University, Master's Degree in Economics, 1965). Barack Obama, Sr. then married American-born teacher, Ruth Nidesand, had two children, and another three children with his first wife – the one he married before Ann. So he had six children (7 if you include Junior).

So Barack Obama, Sr. was a sperm donor father, but it wasn't his sperm.

It was a sperm and mummy clone cell cocktail of Pharoah Akhenaten as collected in 1898/ 1920/ 1941–42/ 1960–61 and manufactured in Fort Leavenworth.

Blood farming techniques tested on Black men was involved.

The CIA weren't giving any explanations to Blacks at the time, but Barack Obama, Sr. had enough nous to work things out, get the basic information and join the dots . . . so he had a car accident in 1971, visited Junior in Hawaii, then had a fatal car accident on 22 November 1982.

The CIA killed Barack Obama, Sr. in 1982.

This was done 26 years before Barack Obama, Jr. became President-elect in 2008, so things are planned that far ahead.

Three years later, by mid-1985, the invisible hand was behind Barack Obama Jr. – befitting the clone of a pharoah, and on the hand up to becoming President of the British Plantation.

At the time, training to become a President or Prime Minister or Governor-General, or a combination of these, took one day. By 2002, it was down to 10 hours.

Barack Obama Jr. was retrieved in Egypt, manufactured in Kansas, conceived in Hawaii with the help of LSD, and born in Forth Leavenworth, Kansas.

So Barack Obama Jr. is an American. It's just that he can't tell you how he is an American.

Around 2000, two young female twin psychics in America predicted there would be a Black President of the United States in 2008. They did this on TV, so it was a published event. Not only were they right, but it was planned, expected and engineered towards.

Rothschilds: "To prove we are the most powerful of all, we must control a Pharaoh."

1898: "The French Egyptologist Victor Loret has just discovered the mummies of Pharaoh Amenhotep III, his wife Queen Tiye, and their son, Akhenaten – the Heretic King".

"Heretic. Great. We need more heretics."

1902: "There are live tissue samples. We're experimenting with cloning."

"Let's choose the one who started all things Jewish and control him."

"Let's control him with Jews, then name him after the enemies of the nation he rules."

"We'll also control the enemies and name them."

1920: "The Americans have just cloned a human". Lazarus reborn. The Modern Prometheus. We'd better make a movie to let the others know. Call it 'Frankenstein'."

1941: "Pearl Harbor. Thank God for that."

"Thank us. Thank Roosevelt and Churchill and the brilliant work of John Ainsworth-Davis. When we get Hitler out, we must thank Ian Fleming with some movies saying the opposite of what happened. James, what do you think."

"Well by the time he does that, Ian Fleming will be well and truly bonded."

"Okay, back on track now boys. We're still at the early stages of cloning – we're blood farming at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. It seems to work best when there's some Blacks involved. They seem to mix better with the Thoroughbred horse blood. So it's a two generational operation. We need to control the conception, gestation and birth of the mother, and the clone cocktail conception, gestation and birth of Pharoah Akhenaten."

"You can do it". He"ll be Ruler of the Freemasonry British Plantation – the New Egypt – and American military property."

"The United Freemasonry States of America – property of all things Jewish."

Queen Elizabeth II meeting with the Rothschilds in their palace just outside Paris:

"Oh, you're going to create a Black Prince for me. Well make sure he's a distant relation. They always come first at the post for apparent control of that Plantation."

"We want coffee coloured people by the score, so his father will be as black as the ace of spades and his mother will be as white as milk and honey."

"That should unite people. And we'll pave the way for him with the Ark of the Covenant."

"First we have to find it."

1978: "Ron Wyatt thinks he's located the Ark, so we've given him permission to dig in a rubbish tip at the base of Galgotha, Jerusalem. IDF Chief of Staff, Moshe Dayan has control of the site. He's an amateur archaeologist with British allegiance.

"As soon as there's a hint of finding it, it'll be time to retire Moshe Dyan."

"Ron Wyatt, the Arab boy James, and the Kiwi Martin (40s, 5'10") have photos of the Ark. Martin has been showing them at night to the King of Spies, who acts disinterested."

"Suppress it. We're not ready to use it."

"But you know, when a weapon is suppressed, someone is then trained as the weapon."

"We'll have to take our chances. We're still playing with the Berlin Wall."

"The only one we'll never have control of is Anubis."

1980: "In the crucible of six volcanoes in Mount Eden, Anubis trained a student as the Ark."

1989: "The walls down, the walls down."

"Did he do it?"

"Quick activate Pharaoh Akhenaten. We have to maintain control of the world stage."

White House Press Secretary Robert Gibbs, Christmas 2009: "You cannot ask President Obama about his withheld records at Occidental College in Los Angeles (1979–81) or Columbia University, his involvement with the CIA via employment with Business International Corporation (BIC), where he traveled to Pakistan and India under a CIA handler, his relationship with Zbigniew Brzezinski and the CIA's William Casey, his extremely friendly relationship with the Afghan mujaheddin-Soviet war veterans, the seven new counter-insurgency military bases in Colombia, Iraq, his birth certificate, and whether he has American citizenship . . . or we will pull your press credentials."

The Auckland Deloitte CIA SuperCity

The Mayor, the Military and the Movement

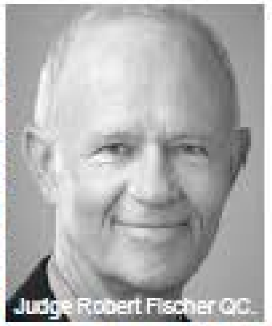
The Auckland Harbour Bridge was completed in April 1959 with four lanes.
106,000 people walked across, then it was officially opened on 30 May 1959."

The Military
SIS: "The Army wanted to relocate their equipment from Music Point on the southeast side of Auckland to near the Chelsea Sugar Refinery on the north side of the harbour. The Major in charge wanted to do this in unison, with all the men and all the equipment equally spaced and in time. He was advised against this, but did it anyway.

"This reverberated with the harmonic frequency of the brand new Auckland Harbour Bridge and stressed it, effectively putting all future traffic in danger and halving the life of the bridge."

In 1969 the Nippon clip-ons were added – two extra lanes each side made of box girders – to strengthen the existing bridge. In the leaked 2006 Beca Group report, "the clip-ons were at risk of catastrophic, immediate failure with a traffic jam trapping a large number of trucks". In July 2007 it became illegal to drive a truck over 13 tonnes in the outside lane, then in 2008, NZ$45 million in maintenance was begun ahead of schedule, increasing the bridge's life expectancy from 2009 to 2019+.

The Movement
SIS: "On the same road where Ron Jorgensen did the Bassett Road murders (115) at the end of 1963, the Auckland University engineer Mr Fischer lived. He worked on testing the Auckland Harbour Bridge in the late 1960s. He used a device that shot rays through the great metal blocks, equivalent to an X-Ray. This used radioactive pellets and produced a photograph that revealed any steel fatigue. Mr Fischer kept the radioactive pellets in a big lead-lined safe in his backyard at the bottom of Bassett Road in Remuera. Engineer Fischer's son was on the fringe of the Progressive Youth Movement ['PYM'], and his other son became Judge Robert Fischer QC who was done for porn in the Auckland High Court in March 2004 and demoted to Arbitrator and Mediator.



Judge Robert Fischer QC.

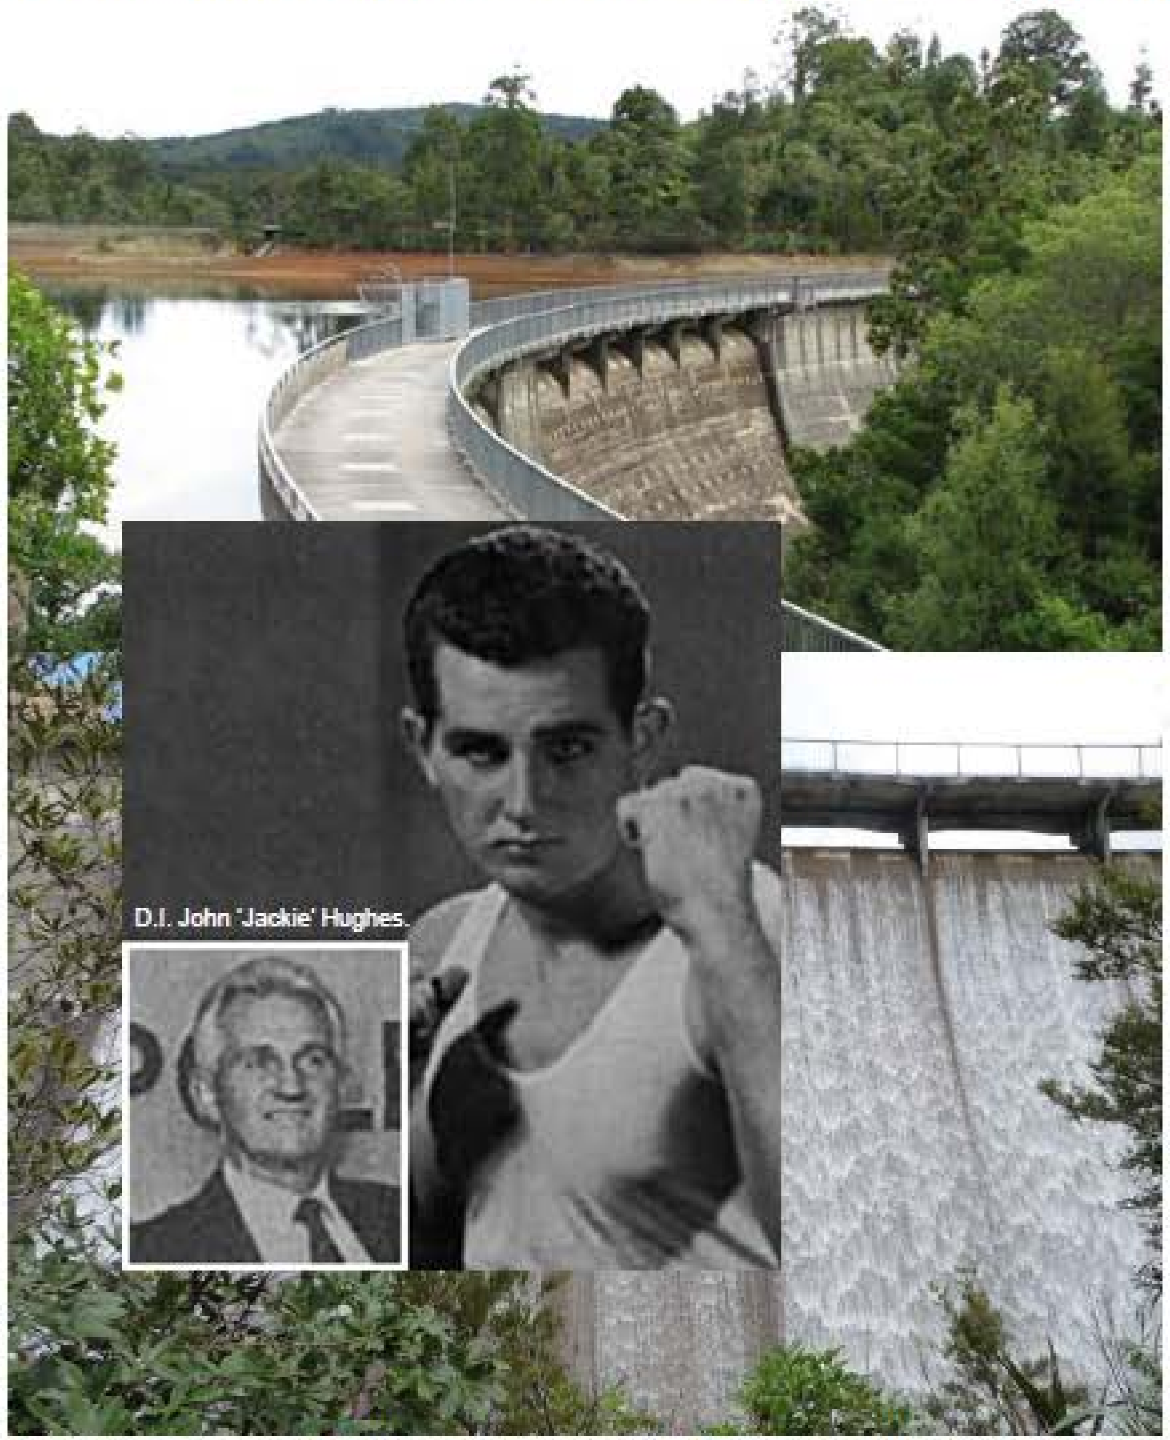
"The PYM stole the radioactive pellets and attempted to use them for civic sabotage – terrorism. The PYM had funding connections to China via a timber yard in Onehunga, and had murdered a girl in Point Chevalier, but it was uncertain whether the PYM did the murder, their Police Narcs did it, or the Police did it themselves, so it was never solved.

"The PYM had also blown the front doors off the Supreme Court in Auckland. So they were not to be taken lightly, and any intelligence on them was to be taken into account. Tim Shadbolt was part of the PYM and I used to walk around Western Springs with him, collecting information and briefing him. So we both played a part in stopping the terrorist sabotage of Auckland's water supply. We couldn't do much about the Harbour Bridge. Tim Shadbolt posed as a student, hardly went to any lectures, and was really a truck driver. The four PYM we caught were the same – truck drivers posing as students.

"The Bowers brothers – John and KT (Kevin T. Bowers), Mr van Roosevelt and one other, all from the PYM, were planning on dropping the radioactive pellets in the Auckland water reservoir at the end of Christian Road, in Swanson – at the Filter Station. Christian Road continues onto Water Board property to the Waitakere Dam, and that's where we stopped them – on Filter Track as it leads onto Waitakere Dam Walk, which takes you to the Waitakere Reservoir. The Dam Tramline is still operating there.

Tim Shadbolt.

"From memory, on the day of 7 September 1969, I was with Detective John Rex Hughes who was a very good boxer and a fast runner.[1] We sprung the four PYM on Filter Track. They didn't last long. The fight was over in a few minutes and the radioactive material didn't make it to the water reservoir. Mr van Roosevelt got five years for it. The Bowers brothers are all dead now. Strangely three of them died of cancer, but it wasn't related to the radioactive material."



D.I. John 'Jackie' Hughes.

Mayor Tim Shadbolt.

Tim Shadbolt then became Mayor of Waitakere City (1983–89) which includes the Waitakere Dam, then Mayor of Invercargill (1993–95, 1998–2009+) and one of the longest-running Mayors in New Zealand.[2]

SIS: "Acts of terrorism only reach the media when they're fake. When they're real, the media doesn't report them. You can't find anything about this story in the media anywhere now."

Author: "That's true".

The Mayor

SIS: "Apart from the Army's stupidity and the PYM, the real villian behind the Auckland Harbour Bridge being built so quickly and shoddily, and requiring the radioactive pellets to test the structure, was Sir John Allum who left London and came to New Zealand in 1909. He was an electrical engineer and founded Allum Electrical on Anzac Avenue in 1922, then became Mayor in 1941."

His Imperial Highness, Sir John A.C. Allum, Mayor of Auckland.

Sir John Allum (1889–1972) became President of Auckland Manufacturers' Association (1923–28, 1932–35) then national president, then President of New Zealand Employers Federation (1941–43, the two were always joined at the hip, officially in 2001); Verweser to the Swiss Consul (1926–33)[3]; Founding Chairman of Auckland Transport Board (1928–43); President of Auckland Provincial Employers' Association (1938–68ish); Chairman of Auckland and Suburban (later Metropolitan) Drainage Board (1941–53); CBE in 1946; Inaugural Chairman of New Zealand Ballet Trust (1953); President of Auckland Chamber of Commerce (1957); Deputy Mayor to Sir Ernest Davis (1938–41), then Mayor of Auckland (1941–53)[4]; Founding Chairman of Auckland Harbour Bridge Authority (1950–71), and he got the gong the same year, Sir John Allum from 1950.[5]

SIS: "Sir John Allum was known in Parliament as 'His Imperial Highness', and Sir Ernest Davis was known as 'The King of New Zealand'. Between them they had much of Auckland sewn up – and a large amount of New Zealand.

"As Chairman of the Auckland Transport Board (1928–43) and Deputy Mayor (1938–41), Sir John Allum touted the idea of the Harbour Bridge from the 1940s. He then became Mayor (1941–53), then Founding Chairman of the Auckland Harbour Bridge Authority (1950–71), bought up vast tracks of land on the North Shore with his friends in the synagogue, and moved to the North Shore in 1950 in an area that was all farmland.

He fought as 'Jackie Hughes' in the 1950s and won the NZ Light Middleweight Title on 3 occasions (1955–57) and the Jameson Belt once or twice for the most scientific boxing. In 1984 he ran the 875 km Westfield Sydney to Melbourne Ultra Marathon in 6 days & 6 hours, coming 2nd, 118 minutes behind Geoff Molloy.

[2] Sir Dove-Meyer 'Cunnilingus Rob' Robinson did 18 years as Mayor of Auckland (1959–65, 1968–80). Sir Jack Allum did 12 years (1941–53).

[3] According to the Swiss archives J.A.C. Allum held the office as "Verweser" which translates as 'administrator', 'manager' or 'substitute' (27 Aug.1926–31 March 1933). He was never listed as Honorary Consul as claimed.

[4] Sir Jack Allum was also the first sitting Auckland mayor to be dumped in the C20th. The Jewish soon-to-be-Mayor Dove-Meyer Robinson sued him for defamation – unsuccessfully, but had a lot to do with this.

[5] The British Royal Family are Jewish and hand out protective awards to family, conmen, and friends – sometimes all the same person – "all for one and one for all".

"While Mayor of Auckland (1941–53), he managed to squeeze in the Auckland Harbour Bridge Authority (1950–71), so . . ."

> "'In the mid 1950s the Allums shifted to the North Shore, and when nearby Rangitoto College was opened in 1956 he became the first chairman of its board of governors."[6]

SIS: "Sir John Allum then presided over the bridge construction (1957–59), and the four lane clip-ons (1969) to the extent that it became known as 'Jack Allum's Bridge'.

"It was a rush job. The 1947 plans were already 20 years old when the bridge was started. It was supposed to be a copy of the Sydney Harbour Bridge with rail and foot traffic, and eight lanes wide, but only four lanes were built, there was no paedestrian route, no rail, and the increased traffic in the 20-year-old design was not taken into account.

"The North Shore is peculiar in that there are no freshwater streams. They are salt water, and lots of farmers went broke again and again for this reason. The only freshwater source was from the spring in Lake Pupuke. For this reason, farmland in the North Shore was [a 'cunt' and] extremely cheap. [The original meaning of 'cunt' is land that cannot be farmed.]

"As soon as the bridge was built, Allum and his friends from the synagogue sold their sections at a huge profit . . . It's all residential or commercial now.

"It was a case of quick profits and a poorly built bridge. Sir Jack Allum and his Jewish mates concocted a conspiracy of dangerous short mindedness and high profit.

"Within three months on completion (August 1959) it was clear that the Harbour Bridge could not handle the traffic, so it would have to be widened. By 1965, 10 million vehicles were crossing the bridge each year. Four years later, the Japanese were brought in to add the Nippon clip-ons, complete with post-WWII ill-will.

"The Harbour Bridge also meant that large tracks of houses in Freeman's Bay and Grafton had to be destroyed, so Auckland got a motorway going right through the city.

"The earlier proposed Northwestern motorway went through swampland, criminal hideouts, and farmland so it was always the better north to south route through Auckland, but less profitable to Sir Jack Allum and his Jewish mates, so the Northwestern motorway is still not finished to this day."

Q: "So what do you get when you mix a Presbyterian with a Jew?"

A: "A motorway running through the middle of your city."

The Marathon Man, 1976: "Is it safe?"[7]
Auckland Harbour Bridge in a bind.

A Short Fascist History of Auckland

Spymaster: "Sir John Allum had Jewish blood, but had ties to the Presbyterians. It was quite common in those days to mix.

"Allum was Verweser to the Swiss Consul (1926–33) so he could keep an eye on his money there. At the time, everyone was told he was Honorary Consul.

"Nazi SS Trachsl acted for General S. Wolf and held the Gothic line above Florence at the end of WWII. Soon after, Trachsl came to Auckland, met with Allum and re-introduced him to the Swiss.

[7] The Marathon Man (1976) is paranoid thriller about a running-obsessive graduate student in New York who is drawn into a mysterious plot involving his globe trotting brother, his European girlfriend, and a Nazi war criminal in hiding.
Given that there are now 8,000 fasicist war ciminals living in exile in Greater Auckland, all using the Harbour Bridge, it sounds like Auckland to me – mate.

"Another German they were all friendly with was Herr Miller – a Danish Nazi from the Schleswig-Holstein region, the northern-most state in Germany between Hamburg and Denmark's border.

"The Germans took the area off the Danes in the 'Second War of Schleswig' in 1863 and then considered it a porous border between Germany and Denmark, to be used for smuggling and spying.

"Denmark was considered to be Britain's backyard.

"Minister-President of Prussia, Otto von Bismarck, to Kaiser/Emperor Wilhelm: 'Anything we want in there, we can take. Any demand we make of Britain is dressed up as a demand from Denmark, but Britain pays.'

"Kaiser Wilhelm I: 'I don't' understand'.

"Germany then formed in 1871.

"The Danish Military were the aristocracy of Denmark, and ran Denmark for Germany. That's why the Danish didn't initially fight against the Germans in WWII. The British could only get Danish criminals to put up a resistance movement – the Danish Military didn't want to know. After WWII, the Danish Resistance – the whole lot – were brought up on criminal charges.

"Herr Miller was supposed to be a Danish citizen, but he drove ex-German diplomatic vehicles (black and dark green). Miller was one of the few Germans who came to New Zealand with a bit of money, turning a little into a lot. He bought many properties in Auckland and became extremely wealthy.

"Herr Miller cut his daughter out of his will because her politics were different from his. From the northern-most Schleswig-Holstein region of Germany, Herr Miller was a Nazi fascist. His daughter was not."

So the Jewish-Presbyterian Sir John Allum, Deputy Mayor (1938–41) under the Jewish Mayor Sir Ernest Davis (1935–41), then Mayor of Auckland (1941–53) socialised, did business with, and shared finances with the Nazi SS before, during, and after WWII. They also welcomed German submarines into Auckland in 1938 and put on an official welcome.

'His Imperial Highness' and 'The King of New Zealand' were Jewish-fascist sympathisers. Between them they ran an Auckland that no one else could get in to, unless invited.

So the Auckland Harbour Bridge was a Jewish-fascist exercise in high profits and short-term thinking that resulted in a terrorist attempt on Auckland after the military damaged it.

Mayor John Banks with Sir John Allum's granddaughter, Jan Campbell, on the 50th anniversary and end of the life-expectancy of the Auckland Harbour Bridge.

John Banks is a 5'4" CIA agent, drug trafficker, homosexual and paedophile who is attempting to hand over the NZ$28 billion Auckland infrustructure (including the Harbour Bridge) to the CIA, as they lost their New Zealand/ Antarctica money with Bernie Madoff.

Deloitte consult to the Auckland City Council and extort John Banks for around NZ$1 million per month.

Council Kickbacks and Land Grabs

Concerned Citizen: "Allum and Dove-Meyer Robinson (he was the worst) used to steal land of people under the 1948 Public works Act, when the Act had no recourse. They took land all around the inner city to accomodate the flyover and the Harbour Bridge in the 1950s, then carried it through to the 1960s. Mayor Robinson took a lot of land east of Ponsonby Road, around Pember Reeves Street, Arthur St and Wood St.

"The land had to be used for a bridge, road, reserve, school, hospital, or church. If they didn't use it for that purpose, the council had to sell it back to the previous owner for the price they paid for it, which was about a third of its value.

"The first woman who kicked back on it was a little old lady in Browns Bay. All her life she had lived there on her land that went down onto the beach reserve. She tested the law, challenged the council and got to keep her land as it was not going to be used for a reserve, school, hospital or church. That was shortly after 1975/76."

Charles Henry Alexander Kean had a piece of family land in Federal Street taken off him in 1952. He spent the next 20-odd years reversing that really bad Act. Kean, and a few other Auckland notables, were responsible for the repeal of the 1948 Public Works Act where Councils and Government could take any land they wanted and pay approximately a third of the market value, and there would be no recourse for the citizens. Kean changed all that in 1975.

But just before the Act was repealed, the Auckland Councils had a massive land grab. They even took land between the Puhoi and Waiwera Rivers off the Schollums and turned that into Wenderholm Regional park, then took the credit.

Concerned Citizen: "Land Grabs were the way the Councils made their perks in the old days, up until 1976."

Since then, the Auckland Councils have resorted to other dirty tricks. They became the North Shore, Waitemata, Manuakau and Auckland City Councils, plus the Auckland Regional Council, and mixed it up with the participants of orgies taking precidence in employment and promotion.

Mike Lee married his child prostitute and was made Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council, and his child prostitute wife, Sandra Barber/Vercoe Lee, was made an Auckland City Councillor.

The Auckland City Council and CIA Extortion

John Banks, the homosexual paedophile cross-dressing transvestite rooting Minister of Police became the Mayor of Auckland 2001–04 and 2007–10. As such he is compromised and is being extorted by Deloitte, who in New Zealand, are the CIA. They take him for NZ$1 million per month, and other millions for faux consultancy. The CIA made their agent, John Banks, Mayor of Auckland so he can pay his bribes through the Auckland City Council, and it is the ratepayers who are paying for his blackmail, as well as those ticketed for driving and parking.

I was aware at the time (2006/07) that it was the CIA who were behind John Banks' mayoral run. Internal Affairs mentioned it. So did the SIS.

Mayor John Banks CIA, is currently trying to create an Auckland Super City where all the four cities merge and the NZ$28 billion in assets will be taken over by the CIA, with a 12-month moratorium to render any protests unanswerable.

The CIA are short on cash because they lost their money with Bernie Madoff – money that was assigned for the development of Antarctica, with New Zealand being the leaping point and taking the blame.

In the lead up to the Super City CIA $28 billion dollar rort, the CIA had their agent, Dame Margaret Bazley organise the Auckland SuperCity scheme. She had already been compromised through mass murder in Operation DEEP SLEEP, heroin trafficking, and more murders, as well as being married to a triple murderer – a guest of Her Majesty's for 15 years.

John Banks was also a drug trafficker with Phil Warren, who became the Deputy Mayor of Auckland and Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council.

Maori Fisherman: "When d'bros came from up north and got d'Auckland panic, they would drop their entire van load of cannabis on Phil Warren who'd also buy the van, so d'bros had to hitchhike back up north."

Concerned Citizen: "The Government is in the business of stealing off the people, but you can't tell citizens that.

"It's a bit like John Banks with his properties all around the place. He's got bolt holes everywhere – the sly boy rooter he is. Don't quote me on that one."

Author: "Oh!, ha ha ha ha ha ha . . ."

Concerned Citizen: "I meant it in a caring and sharing sort of way."

Author: "But it's the truth."

Concerned Citizen: "You can't tell the truth. No one wants to hear the fucking truth."

Author: "He's a secret transvestite rooter, is he not? He a queer dick."

Son of a Freemason: "No he isn't. He's a slimmy fucking eel."

Maori Fisherman: "He's a fucking wood pigeon".

Author: "What . . ."

Maori Fisherman: "You can't trust him. He'll rip you off sideways, in a suit, with a smarmy smile."

Parlance: "Do you mind if I tell a quick story about John Rex Hughes and Maori Mac. It'll give some background . . ."

Author: "Okay. Go ahead."

Parlance: "Maori Mac and I went hard at it in the 1970s for seven or eight years. One time in court he was handcuffed to a detective and the Judge said something he didn't like, so Mac tried to punch the judge while dragging the detective on his other arm. John Rex Hughes was a hard man in every way, but he was shit scared of Mac. Mac would turn up at Auckland Central Police Station in the lobby and yell out: 'John Rex Hughes you fucking cunt. Where the fucking hell are you. Get down here.' And Hughes would run down in the stairs or take the lift asap. And Maori Mac would say: 'Why the hell did you send detectives around to my wife's place?" John Hughes knew standing over him wasn't going to work, so he tried to pacify him: 'Awe, it was only junior detectives'. And Maori Mac said: 'You know I don't keep my stolen stuff at my wife's house'.

"Crime was that open in those days, and fun. It was more or less a way to buy your first boat."

Spymaster: "Yeah, the police were crooked and there should have been no murders unsolved in the 1970s 'cause everyone knew each other and the population was so small, just Whites and Maoris, who all got along until the late '60s."

"Author: "I have an Asian photo of what it was like back then . . ."

Parlance: "Only difference is, in NZ this'd be a van."

The Auckland Deloitte CIA SuperCity

Auckland City Council – 'First city of the Pacific' at leaking money and being rorted

Auckland City Environments (ACE) is part of the Auckland City Council. They are located at 35 Graham Street, Auckland central, on the ground floor.

ACE were to get a refit. The entire building was to be refitted, including a lot of green stuff – to bring it up to a five star office building at a cost of NZ$12 million, as proposed in 2007. This five star refit was cancelled due to the Auckland Transition Authority (ATA) transitioning Auckland's four cities into one SuperCity. The ACE refit has since been reduced from $12 million to $1.7 million, including $0.5 million on the air conditioning. The reduced refit is due to start around January 2010. Still, Deloitte got $1 million for the consultancy to price this, listed their hours as "0", and then turned around and said: "And we can build it for the $12 million".

Ian Rae Group Manager of ACC's Information Technology and Communications

Ian Rae (ian.rae@auckland city.govt.nz) is the Group Manager[1] of the Auckland City Council (ACC) Information Technology and Communications (ITC). Ian Rae is a homosexual, although he may not have come out yet.

Auckland City Council workers say: "Ian Rae hasn't come out yet".

Deloitte

Deloitte consultants are the CIA in Auckland. Deloitte may not be the CIA in America, and maybe not the CIA in other cities or countries, but in Auckland they are the base of the CIA.

When I say "Deloitte are the CIA in Auckland", ACC workers reply: "I'm not surprised. The funding leaks like a sieve. Consultants get paid by whomever they are dealing with."

[1] ITC Organisation Structure at 29 April 2009, Group Manager Ian Rae, Position # 50000402, Personell # 1766.

Rather arrogantly, Deloitte have such total control over the Auckland City Council, they call the Auckland City Council "Deloitte" – as in: "I'll just pop down to Deloitte, present a bill with zero hours on it, and return with a million dollars."

Other Deloitte worker: "I'll boil the jug for when you get back."

Deloitte consult to the ACC's ITC department – and deal with Group Manager Ian Rae.

Deloitte and the ACE Refit

Ian Rae is not supposed to have anything to do with building and nothing to do with ACE. Deloitte consult to the ACC ITC on IT matters and are not supposed to have anything to do with building quotes.

So when I got this infromation from a high up ACC worker (Ph.D), and then checked it with an ACC property person, they said "WHAT?" But then the ridiculous does get shunned and fails to be investigated. However, here it is . . .

Deloitte offered to do a quote for the ACE refit. Deloitte knew this did not have to be five star and they knew the Auckland SuperCity was happening in advance (as they had their agent Dame Margaret 'Lillian Heroin Murder Deep Sleep' Bazley doing the report on their behalf), and the refit would not go ahead, so all they have to do was present a quote to someone who was compromised. That was Ian Rae who is also under the thumb of Mayor John Banks. It's a homosexual bond with cross-dressing and prancing around after hours.

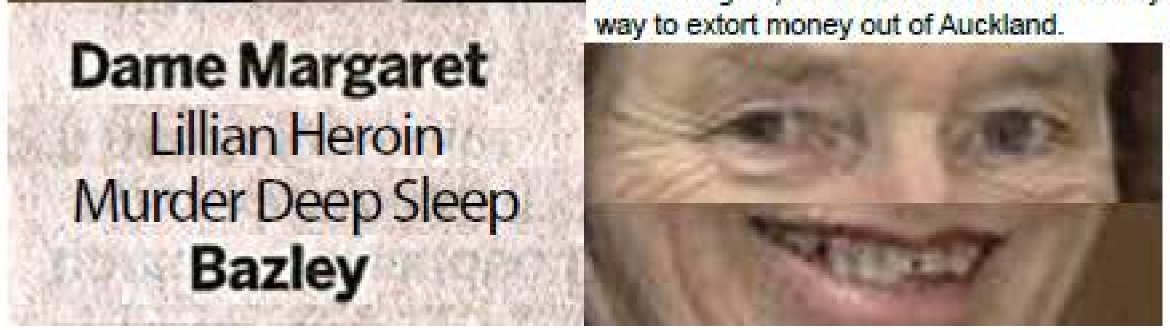
Dame Margaret Bazley and Deloitte's SuperCity for Auckland

Dame Margaret Bazley was the lead consultant to see if it was viable to have an Auckland SuperCity. Although their was no reason to approve, and no presented advantage in having an Auckland SuperCity, she approved.

Dame Margaret Bazley was compromised as a heroin trafficker, heroin money launderer, and her husband was jailed for 15 years for triple murder (Doug & Isobel Wilson) related to the Mr Asia heroin syndicate in the 1970s. Margaret was then known as Lillian Bazley and the Australian Courts said that she should not hold an position of office in Australia. Sadly, they could not apply this to New Zealand.

Dame Margaret Bazley is also a mass murderer in her own right having run the Operation DEEP SLEEP experiments for the CIA which resulted in about 2,200 deaths and lives ruined, and a payout of around $170,000 each to the survivors – circa 2007.

Dame Margaret Bazley is a CIA agent, a Deloitte agent, and will assist the CIA in any way to extort money out of Auckland.



Deloitte Foreknowledge

All the contenders of Mayor of the Auckland SuperCity, and those who wanted to be major players, met anonymously under the 'Regional Sustainable Development Forum' and signed off for the one plan for Auckland Infrastructure Assets in February and September 2008.

Deloitte knew the four Auckland cities were going to amalgamate into one SuperCity, and the ACE refit would be placed on hold, so they rushed through their five star quote of $12 million, charged $1 milllion for the consultancy, recorded "0" in the hours column, Ian Rae approved payment on the spot by and Deloitte never expected to be discovered or investigated.

Deloitte consults to the ITC group on IT. Ian Rae is the General Manager of ITC. Deloitte is not supposed to consult on building. Ian Rae is not supposed to approve consultant's fees for building estimates. Ian Rae is not supposed to approve any payment for "0" hours, but he has done this repeatedly with Deloitte.

It would appear that Ian Rae is compromised by his hidden homosexuality. This is usually supported by the PC brigade who hold all the reigns in the Auckland City Council. (PC is a form of extortion.) As the CIA, Deloitte control Ian Rae through his homosexuality and promote him according to the amount he is able to be successfully rorted. Both Deloitte and Ian Rae are focussed on him reaching the same position in the Auckland SuperCity – at four times the rort.

ACC Contracts

People assume these transactions are monitored under a clear contract (even ACC workers), but their assumptions are wrong. Consultants bill whichever ACC staff they are communicating with, so the bills, accounts and payments are all over the place and very difficult to trace. As we have seen, sometimes the consultants even bill the wrong department and get paid, especially – all the more reason for "0" hours. This is despite the Auckland City Council's multiple mottos that emerged out of one of those useless PC "values" session junkets including:

> "First city of the Pacific, Working together to provide a great future by delivering valued service and leadership, Giving everyone a voice, Realising our potential, Enhancing our reputation, Acting collaboratively, Talking Accountability . . . Our GREAT culture – the way we do it".

Our shared vision with Aucklanders for our city – our ultimate goal
First city of the Pacific
The role Auckland City Council plays in realising that vision
Working together to provide a great future by delivering valued service and leadership
Our strategies – how we do it
Giving everyone a voice
Realising our potential
Enhancing our reputation
Acting collaboratively
Taking accountability
Our GREAT culture – the way we do it

Ph.D working for the Auckland City Council on $100K+ salary, June 2009: "Despite the Project Costs, the Maintenance costs, the Support Costs, and the Overhead Costs from our budget, we still do not see the Model of the New Council for the Auckland SuperCity."

Deloitte's Rorting Methods

Deloitte's agenda is to take whatever fee it can, whenever it can, from whomever it can. Deloitte's methodology is to place as many compromised people in as many influential positions as possible. Mayor is one of them. ITC Group Manager is another. Deloitte then consults to these compromised people and rorts them for money. Elevated ACC employees then use the ratepayers money to pay for these rorts. Their reward is their elevated position. The more complicit with these rorts, the higher they're promoted.

If this was illustrated with the same things happening in Africa, you could appreciate and understand straight away that the CIA were behind it.

John Banks' agenda is "Think Big", pay consultants for anything "Big", then build about a tenth the size. In this way, Mayor John Banks ensures that the consultants get a near equal share. In the ACE refit this was $1 million consultancy for a $12 million refit with only $1.7 million spent – $0.5 million of that is on an air conditioning unit for which no consultancy was required. In this case, Deloitte is getting an 80% consultancy fee.

> Author: "I remember working for the Auckland City Council drawing up their existing Community Centres. I was asked to become a Certified Supplier, but I was rejected as my previous bills for work completed were too low."

ACC Communications

Despite the palava/ pavlava of words ("First city of the Pacific . . . Talking Accountability . . . the way we do it" cake), communication is blocked with a culture of:

"I have so much to hide, I'd rather not talk to anyone.
I'll keep it down to my secretary's emails, and I'll only have face-to-face meetings with other known collaborators".

John Banks and Ian Rae both practise this. John Banks doesn't keep any minutes of his meetings and Ian Rae keeps three sets.

The first is what was actually discussed and kept private; the second is absolute verbage that no one can act on, and all collaborators recognise it as code to confuse the public, get more funding and refer to the first set of minutes; and the third is the second set of minutes altered to suit when the lie becomes to thick. This is done as required.

To quote someone present at these meetings: "Ian Rae is the only person in the Western World working for a government or city department who keeps a floating set of minutes. He alters these, so sometimes I'm asked to hand over my minutes. Then I receive new ones."

Under the Official Information Act, I have sighted these minutes and they are not a smoking gun, nor a gun. They are more a set of sleep inducing documents to steer a journalist towards career suicide. The only smoke is that the minutes are meaningless, even to other ACC workers. The same documents, with the same heading, do vary in page numbers from 3, to 17, to 20, according to priviledge 1, 2, or 3.

So the smoking gun is that the minutes of these meetings are "absolute verbage that no one can act on".

The other smoking guns are: Deloitte charges the ACC millions each year; the results of this consultancy are minimal; the projects are rarely built to the plans consulted on; the higher echelons of ACC staff are compromised; and some or all of these have become so compromised they have become CIA assets/ agents = Counter Intelligence Agency.

Here's how the Auckland City Council doesn't work.

Few people in the Auckland City Council talk to each other and communication is blocked with an attitude and practise of: "I'm so high up, I don't have to talk to you".

John Banks is an elected official. We call this "Mayor". Mayor is essentially a spokesperson with their own agenda. John Banks is a self-acknowledged CIA agent, and John Banks' agenda is the CIA's agenda, with consultants Deloitte carrying out that CIA agenda.

Deloitte, working as the CIA, backed John Banks as Mayor, and ensured he got in for a second time, and others did not. We were made aware of this in the build up to the October 2007 mayoral race. As a backhander, John Banks then ensured that Deloitte are paid their monthly bribe, which is about $1 million. That's how Deloitte can list their hours as "0" through whichever compromised department and still get paid.

Deloitte do their billing at random periods for random amounts to random people, but it's about a million a month.

The Auckland City Council don't get to talk to John Banks. John Banks then talks a little bit to the ACC CEO David Rankin, but not much.

John Banks then talks about himself as Banksey in the third person, which is a sure sign of mental illness. In his case, it's 'five foot four inches of vanity-insanity'.

Sometimes he forgets there other people in the room, including a camera crew, and he still refers to himself as 'Banksey does this' and 'Banksey does that'.

So why such shame in communication?

Well, high up, the Auckland City Council is full of CIA-controlled and monitored shame. They simply don't want to know what each other's shame is, for fear that it will raise their own.

ACC Chief Executive Officer David Rankin

ACC Chief Executive Officer David Rankin was formely married to the dominatrix Christine Rankin, who, despite failing School C twice, can have herself and any of her family or friends placed into any position in New Zealand, including her ex-husbands and their new wives. Why? How?

Well, Christine Rankin was Sir Geoffrey Palmer's dominatrix when he was Attorney-General (1984–89) and then became Prime Minister (8 August 1989) playing swopsies with David Lange on account of Geoffrey Palmer protecting the police paedophile ring at Banks Road in Christchurch.

Geoffrey Palmer's cover-up resulted in the erroneous jailing of Peter Ellis (suspended from work in 1991, arrested in 1992, jailed in 1993 for ten years, then released in 2000) as the scapegoat. Judge Eichelbaum was the compromised judge who believed the hocus-pocus evidence, so he was promoted to the Supreme Court – a.k.a. 'the Kangaroo Court with more words, more difficult processes, and more defensive judges with a more compromised history – usually involving murder'.

So dominatrix receiver David Rankin remained quiet about his being dominated, and Sir Geoffrey Palmer being dominated, and Christine Rankin's knowledge of Geoffrey Palmer's cover-up of the police paedophile ring, as revealed while whipping ("You've been a bad boy" . . ."Yes I have. I've been protecting a police paedophile ring") . . . So in return for his silence, Christine Rankin had Geoffrey place her ex-husband as CEO of the Auckland City Council. That's how it rocks. And that's how it doesn't work.

The CIA specialise in this sort of knowledge. It's what they do. They either collect this knowledge or provide the honey-traps themselves.

ACC CEO David Rankin now has 2,800 staff under him. He communicates with the Finance General Manager Andrew McKenzie, but very little with the Transport General Manager Don Munro, the City Development GM John Duthrie, nor the Arts, Community and Recreation GM Jill 'Poison' McPherson who tends to sabotage all the other GMs.

The Communications and Marketing GM, Trish Langridge, has moved to the Auckland Transition Authority, and replaced by Sheryl Nichols, although few ACC staff seem to know this as they don't get to talk to their own bosses either. Rather than talk to each other, they report to each other, and only one person delivers the report. The GM's just read reports and we all know how bogus they are.

How the CIA lost all their New Zealand Money

Now here's the big part of the story. It reaches from New Zealand, beyond our waters and back again . . . The CIA in New Zealand had invested their money with Bernie Madoff and lost it. The money was allocated for the development of Antarctica with the Wigram Air Force Base as the reassembly point, home of the No. 38 Squadron Air Training Corp, and closed to commercial air traffic in March 2009. Spymaster: "A place where everyone comes back with their arse beaten. This goes back to the day when Admiral Byrd got his arse kicked off the ice at the end of Operation HIGHJUMP in February 1947."

So the CIA had to recover their money and came up with the idea of the Auckland SuperCity. The goal is for the CIA to steal the infrastructure assets of the four Auckland cities and then have the rates paid more or less directly to the CIA. To do this they had to install their most compromised agents into the top positions. Dame Margaret Bazley, Mayor John Banks and ITC Group Manager Ian Rae are three of these people. But really, the higher echelons of the 2,800 staff are all there waiting to be hand-picked and brag about it when they have. The most compromised qualify with few exceptions.

Information of the ACC's consultancy rorts is difficult to obtain and even harder to check. It requires forensic accounting and this is something I demand. You should too, as it is your increased rates and increased traffic tickets that are funding the compromised Auckland City Council, and the Auckland SuperCity which will be a centralised rort for the CIA.

If this isn't done before the SuperCity in put in place, it will never be done, all the wrong people will be in power, your rates will increase, and as you have already seen, you will see less and less results, and less and less New Zealand ownership.

Even David Rankin's new wife might run for supermayor. With the dominatrix Christine Rankin backing her, she might just well get it. It's a choice of a rotten egg over a broken egg, where the consultants tell us the omlete is there, collaborators tell us they've tasted it, but all we get is their restaurant bill and not even a whiff.

You have to wonder whether PC has gone too far and just become protectionism for sexual deviants. Spymaster: "Ah, yes. That's what it's always been."

Fired for Asking

This information came from a Ph.D working at the Auckland City Council. Along with another, when they raised a few issues around the way payments were made, Ph.D was given notice, requested to accept that notice within two weeks, and once accepted, asked to remain silent, then asked to dequalify anything Ph.D said, asked to discredit their own words, given a months paid leave, and told not to return to work during that final month on condition of a favourable addition to their CV. The payout was over $10,000 for that last silent month. The enforced silence lasted two months.

The problem was, Ph.D was too good at their job, too thorough, and had uncovered a circular check pattern involving a compromised central corp who would approve each others documents, and cit these as 'in order' during the meetings, when no such documents had been produced, checked, or even sighted. Sometimes the General Manager Ian Rae didn't produce his monthly reports for six months.

Ph.D's job was to put this processes in place and was fired for doing their job. Ph.D. said: "Not in any country in the world is it this corrupt! . . . Ian Rae keeps three sets of books. One of what was discussed at the meetings, another of what they want others to hear and not understand, and a third that alters this whenever required."

Ian Rae delivered a letter of notice to Ph.D on 11 May 2009. Ph.D replied on 25 May and the months leave lasted until the end of June 2009.

Ph.D had begun asking questions about the ITC budget on 22 January 2009. That pricked Heather [Roberts] and Ryan [Tumbagaham]'s ears up. The first names are taken from Ph.D's work diary entries. Both are ITC consultants.

On 28 January it was noted that Heather Roberts' data was crap in RFP.

On 30 January, Ph.D requested a clear line of accountability – what scope, how to plan it, and who are the resources. The next day nepotism was noted and : "Is it a system bug or is it a system functionality not liked by the user. Is it a project or is it a war room."

4 February 2009: "Who carries the risk with the contracts? The budget depends on an infrastructure that does nto exist."

Recommendations

Chapter 27: Information and Communications Technology (“ICT”)

27A The Auckland Council should work with central government to prepare a regional broadband infrastructure investment and management plan for the Auckland region, consistent with New Zealand's Government broadband policy.

27B Broadband infrastructure planning should be undertaken by the Auckland Council, whose role will include a) acting as the leader, advocate and promoter of broadband investment for the Auckland region with central government and the telecommunications industry.

b) acting as the bulk funding applicant for central government broadband investment funding on behalf of the region and its communities if required.

c) taking responsibility to act as regional public broadband investor and manager if required.

27C The Auckland Council's ICT infrastructure and functions should be managed centrally with a single information technology infrastructure and communications platform and common standards.

27D The Auckland Council should prepare an e-government strategy as an intrinsic part of its proposed unified service delivery and information systems plan.

27E The Auckland Council should consider setting targets for online service delivery consistent with leading international public service practice.

Hi Tony,

We still haven't seen a requirements document detailing the source and purpose of each measure. Without this the KPIs are meaningless as you don't know the context and everyone can interpret them differently. All the measures that the Pathway extract currently provides are based on my own assumptions about the data and as such may not be truly showing the measure as intended.

I had a quick read through the instructions on the spreadsheet yesterday and it all seemed like a highly convoluted process. I don't think the business will be happy going through such a cumbersome process and it is very prone to human error. I lost track reading through it...

Also the sections regarding future changes make no mention of the need to change the Pathway report to incorporate further measures or change the order in which they are returned.

Another concern is the idea that the dashboard will be delivered as a PDF. Two key points here:

one - you can't export to PDF from the version of excel that Council is currently using (I don't know if it is available in later versions but that's  beside the point - a technology change would be required to support this) two - we haven't seen any example of how the PDF output would look

This conversion to PDF functionality needs to proved and demonstrated. If it isn't possible what is the back up delivery solution?!

Another issue is the mention of different formats for different audiences e.g. executive, group manager and team leader. I certainly haven't seen an example of how each of these will look and what measures should be included. Detailed instructions will be needed to identify how each of these are produced. The Pathway report may also need further development to provide KPIs relevant to each audience - with the different team leads it may even need to be tailored quite specifically to have any meaning for them.

Cheers,
Richard

Subject: RE: Regulatory performance dashboard handover

Hi Layla
There are my thoughts on the documentation.
I have summarised mine and Richards' thoughts. Richards full e mail is at the end of the e mail

There is no requirements document. So we have no assurance the measures address the business need.
The documentation is in the spreadsheet. It is hard to read and formats poorly for printing. A word document is the normal means for documentation.

The documentation is only user level instructions.
It does not cover the functionality of the spreadsheet. The documentation mentions a macro. However, there is no detail of the macro, what functions it performs etc.
There is no detail of the formulas or the lookups or any of the spreadsheet functions.

The document proposes export as a pdf file. This functionality does not exist in Excel 2003.

There is no evidence of testing of the performance or stability. The testing should cover cells limit and formula limits. The error handling for data and copy and paste errors. The role back options if a paste is performed incorrectly. How many users can update it at once? Is this part of the requirement?

The back up regime needs clarification.
A copy of spreadsheet will be archived each month and a new copy of the spreadsheet update with the new months data. Therefore, over the yeas there will be a copy for each month. This is an inefficient way to store the data. It also does not allow the querying of the data over the years. This may not be a requirement, but it is usually expected in a reporting tool.

General Issues outside of the ITC support issues.

The process to obtain data for the spreadsheet is manual. The process is a user runs a Pathway crystal report. They then export the output to a text file. They then import the text file into the dashboard spreadsheet. There are six other manual data source. These require users to get information from other systems to type into the spreadsheet. The systems include CRM, SAP HR,SAP Financials and Access databases

The monthly update of the spreadsheet involves a user inserting and copying multiple columns. This will introduce errors into the final report.
There are no quality measures in ensure the final reporting is correct.

There is a lot of development work still to complete.
Approx 60% of the measures are dependent on the clock work. The clock work will continue for several months. The measures in the dashboard will require development to accommodate the clock data.

These are the main areas.

Regards
Tony McNamara

> This was the last meeting Ph.D was allowed to attend. Ph.D was then asked to vacate the premises, not even allowed to go back to the office – the month of silence in exchange for a clean and clear addition to the CV. This is all classic CIA stuff, but it also reeks of the lighter hand of the KGB.

The Auckland City Council is now a spy network for the CIA. The other city councils are also spy networks for various agencies, including Internal Affairs and Police – not dissimilar to Matrix Security and Mr Whippy spying for the SIS. The CIA are the Rotary Club with tanks.[2]

The Sabotage Model in America

In Flint, Michigan, the idea of a Super City was to increase rates through the roof and evict people out of their houses. Anyone who can't pay the rate increases is deemed to be financially irresponsible and insolvent. Then the Council goes in kicking everyone out, boards up the houses (some houses are moved), and the very few in each block who have paid – they settle with them on compulsory purchase and then it's safe to bulldoze the suburb and turn it into a wasteland and eventually gardens.

Then Council brings in its landscapers and the whole former suburb is turned into a carbon producing parkland. This makes entire suburbs homeless bums in parks, and this is the policy the rest of the world will be forced to follow.

The last to go are the police and talk show hosts, as they keep everyone in order and ignorant until the end.

Internal Affairs: "The police suspect their houses are as much subject to this as anyone else and it's a radical leap in understanding for them – to work for the government and to be treated like everyone else. It's almost as bad as being told they're a servant of the people – when they are servants of the government, and the government is a slave to the NWO."

We're the Auckland City Council – Let's actively engage in Sabotage

Steve Trump ran a secondhand clothing business at the top of Queen Street in Auckland. He wasn't a builder and had no experience in building, but he was made an ACC Building Inspector and just wrote up the Building Certificates without inspection.

This has, in part, resulted in building certificates for homes – resulting in the Leaky Building Syndrome which has affected some 9,000 homes in the last ten years (1999–2009) and is expected to cost the country NZ$22 billion. Owners and tenants are then removed from their homes with three hours notice, so it's achieving the same result as Flint, Michigan, but with less indignation.

The removal of people from their homes is being tried here, there, and everywhere.

[2] After I revealed this to Dr James Fetzer on 'The Real Deal' in America on 19 February 2010, the CIA in suits monstered Ph.D's reputation telling locals: "They borrowed money and didn't pay it back. They're a dark horse."

The Leaky Building Syndrome has then been turned into a gravy train for other terrible consultants who charge $500,000 and take two years, not to tell an apartment block that their roof should be repaired immediately. And the roofs leak because the jobs were subcontracted out so many times, 17-year-old Tongan immigrants, with no building experience, were laying roofs, including putting nails through the flat Butyanol membrane stick-on roof, ensuring that they would leak. They barely spoke English.

Auckland City Council insurers say they have run out of compensation funds for the Leaky Building Syndrome and are fighting tooth and nail to have Leaky Building claims thrown out on technicalities. Their main goal is to delay. When the new Auckland SuperCity comes into force in October 2010, under control of the CIA, no leaky building claims will be processed, as it's a different identity. That's the big technicality.

But then we have to ask ourselves, who is the Mayor who never mentions the Leaky Building Syndrome, and like Helen Clark, will only appear on TV when there is something good to be associated with. Many politicians now do this as it extends their life expetency.

Internal Affairs: "Auckland Mayor John Banks is a CIA asset controlled by his sexual deviancy".

Police on Mayor John Banks: "The Mayor of Auckland is Super Bum-Boy. Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No! It's Super Bum-Boy John Banks."

Rod Deane is CIA from wayback and he's been told he's going to be one of the Auckland SuperCity Commissioners. Roderick Sheldon Deane (1941–) is a New Zealand economist and public sector reformer who has worked alongside such saboteurs as Don 'Do Nothing' Brash, Robert 'Drunk Heroin Trafficking Tavistock' Muldoon, Margaret 'CIA Heroin Murderer' Bazley, Roger 'Paedophile' Douglas, Theresa 'Charge Too Much And Lose 75% Of Everything' Gattung, Hugh 'Inherit And Lose 25% Of Everything' Fletcher.

Rod Deane was Alternate Executive Director of IMF (1974–76, lend and steal), then Reserve Bank of New Zealand Chief Economist (CIA manipulator), then Deputy Governor (1982–) where he developed New Zealand's first macroeconometric model. In 1984, Deane led the Reserve Bank call for a devaluation of the New Zealand dollar and closed New Zealand currency to international trading, until the currency was devalued, causing the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars and many suicides, so much so that it became known as a constitutional crisis.

In 1986, Deane became Chairman of the State Services Commission (effectively the head of New Zealand's public service) where he joined forces with Roger 'Paedophile' Douglas as the principal architect of state-sector reform and corporatisation of New Zealand's State-Owned Enterprises. So it was a huge sell-out carried on and monitored by the CIA's Margaret 'Heroin Murderer' Bazley. The Auckland SuperCity is just a repeat of this 14 years later, once everyone has forgotten.

Rod Deane's goals were outwardly honourable, but the results were a government that does not work. So it was sabotage. Wage determination processes were liberalized and haven't gone up since, effectively halving every seven years. Reducing the number of public servants rendered many government departments totally in efficient, and in many cases, worse than useless. They attack to avoid paying out and act like Asians during payout with no return calls. Changes to improve the clarity of objectives and accountability meant that their service was accountable to a bunch of 'value statements' that had no connection to the outcome. So no result means they're still doing a terrific job.

In 1987 Deane became CEO of Electricorp which was then sold off to private sector overseas interests. Telecom was then privatised and Deane became CEO (1992–99), replaced by Theresa 'Owns A Race Horse With Two Drug Using Sodomites' Gattung (1999–2007). Deane then became Telecom Chairman. Deane was CEO of the Year (1994), and CEO of the Decade (1999), then retired, but remained Telecom's non-executive Chairman.

Deane was also Chairman of ANZ National Bank (1999–) and Director of the ANZ Banking Group in Melbourne from where New Zealand was attacked through the influential Australian owned ANZ Bank. So he was given a personal Chair as Professor of Economics and Management at Victoria University, Wellington (2000–03), and awarded an honorary Doctorate of Laws. Treason always gets a front row seat. The CIA always ensures this is so.

Deane was Chairman of Fletcher Building Limited (2001–10) which has become so infused with CIA and Mossad that it's virtually an Intelligence-front for their goals and their assassinations, like Michael King's murder.

As of 2010, Deane remains a Director of Woolworths Ltd in Sydney, and Chairman of the New Zealand Seed Fund ($40 million co-investment fund) which drip feeds money to the private sector as long as it's in line with the CIA goals for New Zealand, and doesn't involve any critics.

As charity cover, Deane was President of the IHC, involved in closing special schools and psychopaedic institutions, removing the intellectually handicapped and placing them in normal schools and society. This caused massive distractions and lowered the education levels of everyone else. Deane and wife Gillian are patrons of the arts, and currently serve as Joint Patrons of the Intellectually Handicapped . . . so worse than uselss – sabotage.

Sue Bradford's Bridge – The Biggest Single Span in the Southern Hemisphere

Sue Bradford was notoroious in Grey Lynn, Auckland. She was the suburb's biggest slapper. If you couldn't get a root in the 1980s and you were within stumbling distance of the city, you could always stagger on over and catch a ride on Sue Bradford. Size 44 on top and size 14 on bottom, with a face that screamed peasant, even the drunk locals couldn't keep her happy, so she took to taking in ex-cons who had just been evicted out of their second home – Mt Eden prison.

Sue Bradford had three children to these ex-cons, and more ex-prisoners kept coming by at night, each one "this is your uncle" to the offspring. Sue Bradford used to take these kids out to cafés and slap the shit out of them. Her 15-year-old son protested by leaping off Grafton Bridge falling much of the 43 metres to his protesting grass-roots death.

Sue Bradford's son committed suicide due to her and her partner's domestic violence and this was kept out of the media, as the official New Zealand Government policy is that 'men are violent and women are the victims'. However, we know that 59 % of domestic violence is committed by women, psychological violence is equally harmful, and brown skinned men are the biggest victims of physical domestic violence in New Zealand – around 47%.

Like Sue Bradford, Grafton Bridge was built in 1910, and was in her time, the largest single span in the Southern Hemisphere, around 98 metres.

Sue became a back bench MP for the Greens (1999–2009), then had curved clear persex covers built on the handrails to stop people jumping off, not that her son could do it a second time. The bridge then became stressed and required major strengthening ("the equivalent of a joint replacement"), closing it for a year (August 2008–October 2009).

The bridge was opened again on 4 October 2009 with an extremely brief presentation by the paedophile Mayor John Banks. But the $32 million spent was another swindle and the bridge is now more ineffective than ever, with no traffic allowed from 7 am to 7 pm, other than buses. So that was a complete waste of time and someone took a huge cut. No doubt more blackmail bribes against the compromised CIA agent Mayor John Banks.

Green MP Sue Bradford (1999–2009): "I have an idea.
"It will cost NZ$40 million and will achieve absolutely nothing."
Auckland City Council: "Well, without seeing it, that sounds like a great idea."

Spymaster: "In December 2009 the SAS showed me Sue Bradford's file. It was very extensive and revealed she'd been to Russia and China where she'd been through a number of supposed exams. She couldn't speak Chinese to save herself. Her highest marks were lying on her back with her legs spread. She arranged to borrow or buy classrooms from a proper polytech for a Trade Union-run course, but used them to disseminate her own views. She was a card-carrying member of the PYM, and we now know that was an SIS front."

Hallett: "According to the former 2-IC of the SIS, some of the communist organisations in New Zealand were so infiltrated by the SIS that only two communist members remained and the rest were SIS staff."

Spymaster: "I got virtually the same story from the head of Naval Intelligence in NZ, and the PYM were the biggest sacks of shit of all time and their members were guilty of all sorts of crime, including murder. They'd been infiltrated and exfiltrated so nobody had a clue who was who and what they were really up to."

Just days before the Bridge was due to reopen, Sue Bradford announced her resignation from politics on 25 September 2009 and stood down on 28 October 2009. She was so widely disregarded, it was announced on TV news as a story, but the story never appeared.

Len Brown, Mayor of Manukau, and running for Super Mayor, then suggested, in the newspapers, that Sue Bradford would be a good candidate as councillor for the Auckland SuperCity. Is there anyone in Local Body politics who isn't a prostitute or in need of a quick sloppy root from a disproportionate oversized peasant? . . . Apparently not!

The newspaper excuse for Sue Bradford's resignation was that she lost her bid to become co-leader of the Green Party on 30 May 2009, but the same New Zealand Herald selected Bradford as 'Backbencher of the Year' in 2000.

Q: "What's black & white & red all over?"
A: "The New Zealand Herald".

Sue Bradford (57) said: "reform of Section 59 was her biggest achievement in Parliament, because of the 'huge shift' in the way children were viewed [like not from a bridge]. I am pleased that people could 'no longer hit their kids with implements' . . . [and her second] extending the length of time some mothers in prison can keep their babies with them . . ."[3]

Sue Bradford was allowed to become an MP so that she could put up the suicide barriers, but the whole exercise cost Auckland rate payers around NZ$40 million . . . sick fucks.

Spymaster: "It's a known mental illness to visit prisoners and is a sign of rape as a child – trying to get their attention as that's all they're worth. The prisoners go 'I want to screw you'. So she gets a reputation as being an easy lay, and everybody's competing with everybody else for her favours.

"Because she's fair with dyed blonde hair she stands out. She appeals to all their egos. She gets so blasé about it that she's asking the screws and other prisoners, 'who's got the biggest dick?', so she doesn't waste any time. The screws are so subnormal anyway, they tell her. Then they spread further rumours about her, and then years and years later, she winds up with a police narc as a boyfriend who gets her pregnant and he begins bathing and showering with the child and one day she's out putting the washing on the line. She comes back into the bathroom and finds him shagging the 18-month old girl on the floor. She puts up with all sorts of excuses in her mind that she didn't really catch them and then she makes excuses for him – 'I caused it. I brought the whole thing about. If I had satisfied him, he wouldn't have done it.' It wasn't until he did it again, that she got rid of him. But she still used to send the child on court ordered visits to his home, which was a garage in West Auckland. The child then came down with a chancre – venereal sore in the eye. The children's ward put in writing that it was a 'venereally obtained lesion from a veneral source' – that 'somone had ejaculated in the child's face'. The timing correlated exactly with the visit.

"Sue Bradford was arrested over 100 times. She was friends with the Chief of Psychiatric Services. When police dog handlers were asked to go into her house and do a search they refused on the basis that it was too filthy for the dogs, and the paraphenalia in there would disturb the dogs. That and the smell."

Transparency International's 'Corruption Perceptions Index'

On 17 November 2009, New Zealand was named the world's least corrupt nation by Transparency International. From a list of 180 countries New Zealand got 9.4 out of 10, moving up from second place in 2008.

Close behind were Denmark (9.3), Singapore (9.2), Sweden (9.2) and Switzerland (9.0), followed by Finland (8.9), the Netherlands (8.9), Australia (8.7), Canada (8.7), Iceland (8.7), Norway (8.6), Hong Kong (8.2), Luxemburg (8.2), Germany (8.0), Ireland (8.0), Austria (7.9), Japan (7.7), the U.K. as a whole (18th at 7.7), the U.S. (19th at 7.5) followed by Barbados (7.4) and Belgium (7.1). In the middle is Israel (32nd at 6.1) and Italy (63rd at 4.3). At the bottom were Sudan (1.5), Iraq (1.5), Myanmar (1.4), Afghanistan (1.3) and Somalia (1.1).[4]

> Huguette Labelle, chairwoman of Transparency International:
> "Stemming corruption requires strong oversight by parliaments, a well-performing judiciary, independent and properly resourced audit and anti-corruption agencies, vigorous law enforcement, transparency in public budgets, revenue and aid flows, as well as space for independent media and a vibrant civil society."

Upon further investigation, this just turned out to be Transparency International's 'Corruption Perceptions Index' (CPI) which ranks 'perceived public sector corruption' with surveys carried out among business people and country analysts by residents and non-residents"[5] who seem as ignorant as each other as their perceptions correlate.

[4] 'New Zealand tops Denmark as world's least corrupt nation', reported by Belinda Goldsmith, edited by Miral Fahmy, Reuters Life!, Sydney, 18 November 2009; TRANSPARENCY INTERNATIONAL (the global coalition against corruption) – Index Advisory Committee; 'FACTBOX-Transparency Int. Europe corruption perceptions', Reuters London, 17 November 2009'. These are linked and combined, their confusing multiple pages paraphrased to establish the missing clarity.

[5] FACTBOX-Transparency Int. Europe corruption perceptions, Reuters London, 17 November 2009. The links provided by Reuters, like [ID:nLG352428] and [ID:nLG352428] failed to activate any information nor did they raise anything in Google search other than itself. The TPI site was a nightmare of an NGO trying to fill up an entire website that could have been covered in six pages had they not been going for funding.

Funny enough, the Transparency International Secretariat is on Alt-Moabit 96, 10559 Berlin, along the journey of Hitler's escape out of Berlin with the collusion of the British, and the double agent Ian Fleming. You can phone them at ++49-30-3438 20-0. They can see where Hitler left from their balcony.

The surveys contained information from non-existent polls or vettted polls. It was not the actual corruption being polled, surveyed, or indexed. It was the perception of corruption. So if the corruption wasn't obvious like 'war, cash bribes, and open carriage heroin trafficking', and if it wasn't investigated by the media, and if the media worked with the judiciary (and was using the drugs trafficked, like the bribed Paul Holmes) and the judiciary itself was corrupt, then there would be no perception of it.

The Corruption Perceptions Index reflects multiple foreign views (uninformed) and a few from the evaluated country ("Ah, I think we'll keep quiet about this"), when criminal protectionism exists right through the courts and government.

> "If you say anything, you'll have no chance of promotion and those below you will be promoted until your job disappears." This has happened enough.
> University Professor Johann Graf Lambsdorff (Passau, Germany) does the CPI index and defines corruption as: "The abuse of public office for private gain" and covers 'administrative and political corruption, public official bribes, public procurement kickbacks/ embezzlement and the strength of anti-corruption policies'.

This does not take into account the existing scenario where the CIA installed their man (John Banks) as Mayor of Auckland, then rorts the Auckland City Council. Mayor John Banks is then complicit with the CIA rorts and aids the CIA in extorting NZ$12+ million off the Auckland City taxpayers each year – his wage and position are his bribe.

The installed Mayor ensures the whole Counter Intelligence rort goes according to plan.

Professor Johann Graf Lambsdorff, the CPI or Reuters do not consider protectionism within the ranks, corruption outside of business, corruption by the Judiciary, corruption by the media, or Intelligence Agencies rorting City Councils by installing their agents as Mayor. Auckland is not the only place where this is done. There are other cities in New Zealand.

"Transparency International's Corruptions Perceptions Index is an aggregate indicator that ranks countries in terms of the degree to which corruption is perceived to exist among public officials and politicians. It is a composite index drawing on corruption-related data by a variety of independent and reputable institutions."[6] "It is a composite index . . . of 14 polls . . . from expert and business surveys carried out by 12 independent institutions from the high end of the market who hold well documented data . . . It is . . . not . . . based on hard empirical data."[7]

Well, we're already in corruption mode because it was 13 polls by 10 institutions, none of them independent, maybe one poll from New Zealand, the polls did not necessarily involve a survey, and the survey's weren't advertised at the time (or to be taken seriously), answers were reinterpreted by the polster, and the questions were so limited as to be 'Yes', 'No' or 'graded numbers', when the question had the answer already loaded in it, so it really didn't matter how you answered, the questionaire already graded the country, so the questionaire istelf was a rort and bought. .

"High end of the market" = 'Reputable' = respectable = paedophile minder. No one who has ever exposed a paedophile has ever been 'respectable'. When one exposes a paedophile, more often than not their reputation is lost, so CPI stays away from that one, as well as murders done by the New Zealand Judiciary, paedophile Members of Parliament, and Nazis hiding at the local hairdressers.

Transparency International CPI worked with complicit businesses and NGO's specialising in collecting, manufacturing and rounding off data for the next round of funding.

[7] 'FACTBOX-Transparency Int. Europe corruption perceptions' (all quotes on this page) .

NGO's are classic for not consulting with undercovers, or listening to what they say, or what Internal Affair's or police say, or even the public. They will only deal with other PR bodies in whichever department gives them the least incriminating answer. The true answer is closer to: 'every country is at the bottom',

'falling with style', and

'every country has been hollowed out by the Jews'.

It's what they do.

> "All sources must provide a ranking of [all] nations and must measure the overall extent of corruption . . . excluding surveys which mix corruption with other issues, such as political instability, decentralization or nationalism [judicial murders, judicial heroin trafficking and judicial paedophilia]."

So, like most surveys, they were too narrow to validly answer.

> "The CPI data is based from the past two years, relating to perceptions that may have been formed even further in the past . . . It provides a snapshot of the views of business people and country analysts . . . This means that substantial changes in perceptions of corruption are only likely to emerge over longer periods of time."

So whenever Transparency International issue a Corruption Perception Index, it does not take into account anything over the last two years, and may be up to five years out of date.

> "Year-to-year changes can result from: changed perceptions of a country's performance; or a change in the CPI's methodology and sampling. It is difficult to improve a CPI score over a short time period."

So really, the TPI's CPI is a status quo document, at least two years behind the times and so heavily compromised and limited in its scope as to be an agreement of pastel wearing cardigans.

"So the country with the lowest score is the world's most corrupt country? No. The country with the lowest score is the one where corruption is perceived to be greatest among those included in the list."[8]

> "Transparency International ensure quality control of Corruptions Perceptions Index by having its methodology reviewed by an Index Advisory Committee of 'leading international experts' in corruption, econometrics and statistics . . . They make suggestions which TPI management can veteo."

These advisors are set up in the Excell programe so their names and positions are all the more labourious to copy: Germany: Walter Zucchini (Prof. Institut fuer Statistik und Oekonometrie, Georg-August-Universitaet); France: Javier Herrera (Director), François Roubaud and Mireille Razafindrakoto (Economist, DIAL,[9] Institut de Recherche pour le Developpement); USA: Daniel Kaufmann (Brookings Institution); Susan Rose-Ackerman (Henry R. Luce Prof. of Jurisprudence, Yale Law School and Department of Political Science); Shang-Jin Wei (Columbia Uni.); Steven Finkel (Prof. Dept. Political Science, Uni. of Pittsburgh); Scotland: Richard Rose (Dir. Centre Study of Public Policy, Uni. of Aberdeen); South Africa: Jocelyn Kuper (Researcher in Media, Marketing and Socio-Political Analysis); South Sudan: Julius Court (Joint Donor Office).[10]

[10] TRANSPARENCY INTERNATIONAL (the global coalition against corruption) – Index Advisory Committee. The Joint Donor Office in South Sudan was opened 27 May 2006. It is a cooperation framework established by Denmark, Sweden, Norway, the Netherlands and U.K. and monitors donations and policy – so completely bought.

"Data for the CPI has been provided to TPI free of charge." Some sources are publicly available, while others refuse to disclose their data. According to the CPI 2009 website, the CPI uses data from 10 independent organisations (it had been 12) with 13 different assessments with or without surveys (it had been 14).[11] However, these organisation are hardly independent and usually thrive from massive corruption from within, which itself would be widely perceived by the public if anyone had ever heard of these organisations. All of them missed the Global Meltdown/ international financial crisis as they have a policy of reporting (not warning or acting), and they report at least 12 months behind the times, if not two or five years.

So the TPI CPI is old newspaper and fish and chip wrappings even before it comes out.

The sources of information, with or without surveys, for 2009 were: "Political and Economic Risk Consultancy (PERC) annual Asian Intelligence Hong Kong publication of 2008 and 2009; Global Insight (formerly World Markets Research Centre) 'Country Risk Ratings' of 2009; International Institute for Management Development 'World Competitiveness Report' of 2008 and 2009; World Economic Forum (WEF) 'Global Competitiveness Report' of 2008 and 2009; Economist Intelligence Unit 'Country Risk Service and Country Forecast' of 2009; World Bank's 'Country Policy and Institutional Assessment for IDA countries' of 2008; African Development Bank 'Country Policy and Institutional Assessment' of 2008; Asian Development Bank 'Country Performance Assessment Ratings' of 2008; Freedom House 'Nations in Transit' of 2009; and Bertelsmann Foundation 'Bertelsmann Transformation Index' of 2009."[12]

None of these organisations predicted the Global Meltdown or subsequent transformations which were all caused by corruption from Israel (6.1), America (7.5) and Britian (7.7) who were ranked the 32nd, 19th and 18th least corrupt countries, but really they export corruption and have colonised with corruption over the last five centuries.

Corruption used to be called colonising – now it's called American Imperialism and 'The Jews were behind it'.

Shouldn't their influence on destroying other countries be considered as the source of corruption in other countries like Myanmar (1.4), Afghanistan (1.3) and Iraq (1.5) as well as Iceland (8.7) who used the sovereign status excuse to save themselves from a British financial con, and New Zealand (9.4) which is in complete denial that it is 'a paedophile movement fronting as a country' and is currently being taken over by the CIA who use paedophilia to bribe New Zealand 'respectables' and 'honourables' to take whatever they want. i.e. NZ$12+ million via Auckland Mayor John Banks.

So the whole TPI CPI scenario thrives on depleting emetics. That is, people are too tired to be bothered fighting it. With a lack of resistance it becomes accepted, which is what the UN relies on. The least corrupt countries then become the new targets for Israeli, British and American colonialism. New Zealand already will fund anything that is corrupt and will not fund anything that isn't.

New Zealand call this 'NGOs', 'Charities' and 'fronting as socialism' but really it's fascism'.

New Zealand is an ostrich.
When the word "corruption" is mentioned, it sticks its head in the sand.

[11] United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA) 'African Governance Report' was excluded after the 2007 year. Merchant International Group 'Grey Area Dynamics Ratings' was excluded after 2008.

[12] 'The Methodology of the Corruption Perceptions Index 2009' for Transparency International (TPI) and University of Passau, Prof. Dr. Johann Graf Lambsdorff, September 2009.

So the survey organisations within New Zealand prepare with pre-loaded questions and vet the answers. Basically, everyone who runs an NGO in New Zealand is sexually compromised and those who run the surveys in New Zealand are connected to, or influenced by, sexually bent politicians. It is so bent that the country's most corrupt politican, Helen Clark, had herself voted as "The Greatest Living New Zealander" with a week-long poll done when everyone was either on holiday or returning from holiday. Helen's a former prostitute, turned lesbian, married to a homosexual child sex abuser under house arrest, and tried to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand while fronting as anti-nuclear, then moved to within 200 metres from Karls Mens Haridressers where the Nazis hung out.

Is that enough to qualify low in any corruption poll in New Zealand? No it isn't!

First you have to be caught by the media. If you're not caught by the media, it doesn't exit, then it's not perceived internationally, and therefore not voted on by the other 179 countries. So . . .

The perceived lack of corruption in New Zealand is dependent on media censorship.

"An essential condition for inclusion is that a source must provide a ranking of [all] nations. This condition is not met if a source conducts surveys in a variety of countries but with varying methodologies."[13]

This translates as 'evey source must rank every country using the same methodology for each country'. So if Somalia (1.1) is ranked on arms, cash bribes, and public murders, then so is New Zealand (9.4). Different style – higher grade.

"Comparison from one country to another would not be feasible in this case." This is Orwellian double speak. It's stupid UN PR talk that confounds any logic and undoes any validity the survey might otherwise have.

"Sources must measure the overall extent of corruption. They cannot be specific as to the type of corruption. [However] this is not the case if aspects of corruption are mixed with issues other than corruption like political instability, nationalism or change."

More Orwellian double speak. This stupid UN talk that means nothing is specifically valid, but the UN will use it anyway, and for their own agenda, which we all know is as corrupt as the paedophiles they are married to.

There were little or no data or data providers from New Zealand.

New Zealand appears to be in an international media blackout – to prevent it being known as the Western World's most corrupt country . . . and the most easily corrupted . . .
with the most hidden corruption . . .
with the most compromised honourables . . .
and the highest percentage of exiled war criminals of any nation of the world.

Funding

"Transparency International's CPI Index is entirely dependent on various governmental agencies, international foundations and corporations, with the measurement tools [computer programme] provided by Ernst & Young . . . So the TPI CPI is just a status quo document (covering some bad arses with kickbacks and backhanders) with all the NGO funding set up in the usual way – too confusing for complete analysis, but we can pick on a few, like Deloitte, which is the CIA in New Zealand.

TRANSPARENCY INTERNATIONAL NEW ZEALAND ORDERS ARREST OF ANTI-CORRUPTION ADVOCATE, 11 December 2009, www.kiwisfirst.com

"In a stinging irony – on United Nations International Anti-Corruption Day (9th) no less – Chairman Gerald McGhie of Transparency International's "autonomous" New Zealand chapter ordered Police to arrest public watchdog Penny Bright for trespassing at its Annual General Meeting on Wednesday. This was despite the government-funded group riding her coat-tails as a watchdog front ostensibly focused on increasing transparency and exposing corruption. Attendees were given pamphlets with the bold heading "CORRUPTION RUINS LIVES – FIGHT BACK". Once inside, the local chapter's newsletter on the information table lauded Ms Bright as an "Anti-corruption campaigner".

Bright is due to appear at Wellington District Court on the criminal charge Monday [but NZ Court staff went on strike]. Despite Transparency International New Zealand's website encouraging new memberships and guests to attend the AGM, which featured Attorney General Chris Finlayson as speaker, at least five applications for membership were declined and five others were turned away from the meeting. Only 20–25 people did attend. The drama was caught on film by a TV cameraman, including the small protest against the organisation conducted outside the high rise office building.

Ms Bright paid $56 to join the non-profit organisation earlier this month and had travelled down from Auckland to Wellington to attend the AGM at the law offices of Minter Ellison Rudd Watts. CEO Paul Browne met her at the door and announced, "You are not welcome (here) Ms Bright". Ms Bright was one of six who initially did not accept this polite rejection.

Ms Bright has been critical this year of Transparency International New Zealand as a "perpetrator of the myth" that New Zealand has low corruption. She has recently alleged the closed-shop and secretive nature of the not-for-profit organisation goes against every principle it supposedly stands for. While her membership was not declined, she asserts that those who have been declined were not given reasons for such declination – and that this failure directly conflicts with TPINZ's membership application which states reasons will be provided where an application is declined.

Ms Bright, a self-funded public watchdog who operates on a shoe-string budget, has repeatedly asked TPINZ for information as to its financial funding, expenditures and meeting minutes. The response has been silence.

Kiwisfirst has surreptitiously obtained TPINZ's 2009 financials, which seem to raise suspicions about their stiff-arm to requests for this information. $544,446 of their 2009 revenue came from an auspicious NZAID grant, while only $5,791 came from membership subscriptions [<104]. It appears that TPINZ has no employees. Office rent for 2009 was only $3,118 [$60 /wk]. Meanwhile, there are some seemingly un-transparent and rather large expenditures of $281,820 for "core funding", $75,778 for "civics education" and $40,655 for "peer learning network".

As reported earlier this year by kiwisfirst, Transparency International New Zealand's Board of Directors seems comprised of feather-nesting bureaucrats with fingers in businesses that benefit from covering-up corruption. That type of deception might be arguably innocuous if the organisation was not overtly presenting itself to the unsuspecting public as the corruption police – and receiving government aid and preferred tax status as a result. To "raise awareness of corruption" is publicly touted as the Berlin-based parent Transparency International's primary goal. But, it is safe to say, the reality is quite the opposite within the New Zealand chapter. Last month TPINZ popped its head up briefly to herald the fact that New Zealand was rated best among the 180 countries surveyed in TPI's "Corruption Perception Index" but is itself transparent when it comes to raising actual awareness of corruption in New Zealand.

Add to this the appearance that the local chapter seems rife with conflicts and lacks any diversity. Deputy Chairwoman Claire Johnstone alone works as General Manager Corporate for the New Zealand Government Ministry of Transport and is also principle of a consulting company (Sinclair Robertson Associates) which boasts success in getting its private sector clients government funding. At the AGM, her husband, NZ Police Constable Ash Johnstone, was running security.

To the public, TPINZ lists as "Goal 1" of its workplan "Greater Accountability and Transparency in New Zealand". Yet, CEO Browne admitted in a phone interview earlier this year that TPINZ was not generally focused on reducing corruption in New Zealand because it was "perceived" not to exist. When asked to identify an initiative coming from TPINZ to promote transparency or expose corruption within New Zealand, he refused to answer on the professed basis TPINZ was more effective working within quiet diplomatic channels [a.k.a. the Sodomy Olympics & the Paedophile Channel]. Instead, he bragged ethereally about the good works the local chapter was doing among the smaller Pacific islands in furthering transparency and reducing corruption."

Lack of Transparency International New Zealand style

Penny Bright is a leading anti-corruption campaigner in New Zealand. Her former contacts included Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson. She broke from them when their corruption led them to success.

Penny Bright paid $56 to become one of the 100 or so paid up members of Transparency International in New Zealand as led by Paul Browne CEO, who then published in their newsletter: "Penny Bright is a great Anti-corruption campaigner", then refused to let her into the meeting ("You are not welcome") in Wellington on 9 December 2009 – which happened to be the United Nations International Anti-Corruption Day – and then had her arrested, with the official camerman refusing to take the photo.

The meeting was the AGM. NZ's Attorney General Chris Finlayson was the speaker. At least 6 were turned away at the door, at least 5 memberships were refused. The AGM was held at the law offices of Minter Ellison Rudd Watts,

This left only 20–25 select people (all of them receiving bribes funded by NZAID) attending the New Zealand chapter of Transparency International's AGM at Minter Ellison Rudd Watts/ Nomore Cowboys/ Let's be quiet about the Nazis here. So the silence was deafening.

Let me see if I've got the self-interest and nepotism right. The NZ TPI AGM Deputy Chairwoman was Claire Johnstone. She is also a principle in Sinclair Robertson Associates, a private consulting company that gets government funding for private sector clients and takes a huge cut. Claire Johnstone also works as a Corporate General Manager in the Ministry of Transport and her husband, Constable Ash Johnstone, was running security.

Well then, so here's the accounts . . .

TPI NZ Income	2009	TPI NZ Expenses	2009
Membership fees ($56 each)	$ 5,791 (<104)	Core funding (Paybacks)	$281,820
NZAID grant	$544,446	Civics education (Nothing)	$ 75,778

Transparency International New Zealand's Board of Directors have their bureaucratic fingers in every business pie that could possibly benefit from another layer of cover-up. CEO Paul Browne had no response as to why he was receiving money from the NZ Govt. and doing nothing with it, except spend it. Either way it is all feathing the nest of the Sodomy Olympics & the Paedophile Channel bureaucrats. NZ TPI CEO Paul Browne is not focussed on corruption in New Zealand because he perceives it does not exist, but it is perceived to exist in the smaller Pacific Islands. The Pacific Islands are already small (but strategic), so these crimes are quad-bike thefts, watch stealing, and wife stealing, which is mainly done by disgraced NZ Police up there (& tax evasion). And the next diversion is 'the first one didn't work'.

Civil and commercial litigation and all other aspects of dispute resolution

Most recent: Shocker, should not be allowed to practice

How can Zane help you?

Zane has expertise in all aspects of commercial litigation with particular emphasis on commercial and contract disputes and professional indemnity insurance matters. He is focussed on achieving the best result as quickly and cost-effectively as possible.

He is experienced in alternative dispute resolution processes (mediation and arbitration) and seeks to incorporate them into an overall dispute resolution strategy. He also has extensive experience of the litigation process itself and has appeared on numerous occasions before the High Court and the Court of Appeal.

He also has experience in intellectual property disputes, including copyright, Fair Trading Act and Anton Piller orders.

Some of Zane's major projects

Minter Ellison Rudd Watts Auckland partner, Zane Kennedy, started "Nomore Cowboys", which targetted those who spoke out by destroying their careers with anonymous complaints. Zane Kennedy and other Nomore Cowboys directors then refused to enter into any correspondence to remove unsubstantiated anonymous complaints, and refused to back them up. (See Vol II, Attachment "O", 'Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating')[16]

The is no improved accountability and no transparency in New Zealand. There is only diversion, and when that doesn't work, there is the police for immediate arrest. Since it's all based on perception, transparent is easier to see through than translucent and opaque, so:
Transparent: New Zealand is the least corrupt country in the world.
Translucent cover: The Minister of Police became the Minister of Tourism.
Opaque Crime: The Minister of Police was adopted into a crime family, sodomised by his stepfather, became a drug trafficking transvestite fucker, protected paedophiles, was fired, went to Russia, adopted three children, lying when he said he was the Minister of Police, then paved the way for the CIA takeover of Auckland, then paid out NZ$12+ million annually in bribes to the CIA, using Auckland ratepayers and parking tickets to pay for it – Mayor John Banks.

So Transparency International is a kickback backhander that turns opaque crimes into translucent crimes, and uses TPI as a transparent front that's paid to shout:

"We're all clean here. You can move on!"

Going off the NZ AID website for the 2008/09 year, 32% was spent on Education, 14% on Governance and 7% on Other Social; and in yet another chart, 18% was spent on Multilateral agencies to a total of $86.85 million, and $90.6 million in another chart. But most important is New Zealand's bribes to the agencies that fund Transparency International. So here it is in their own words:

No Undercovers used so Exiled Nazis sleep well

Not one Undercover was even approached for their opinion in the entire survey/s or poll/s. What most Undercovers will tell you is: "Civilised countries with the most pristen appearance are major dealers in the arms and drugs trades and their police maintain a high tone of moral indignation that runs throughout the country as further cover.

"Sweden and Switzerland virtually co-ordinated WWII and ensured it ran profitably for all sides. That's why they took such a huge part directing the safe emigration and trafficking of defeated parties to the Ratline, including providing passports, while preserving their money, which became their money.

Many of the Nazis ended up in New Zealand."
Transparency International is a money laundering outfit, or more specifically a clearing and cleaning organisation for money laundering, and war criminals laundered, including Nazis to New Zealand.

Transparency International provides ongoing cover for the funding organisation (Deloitte) promoting and bribing country officials (Auckland Mayor John Banks) in the least corrupt country (New Zealand) who provided little, minimal, or no data.

This is confirmed by the Auckland City Council Financial Officer Ian Ray (homosexual) who keeps three sets of books – one of them floating and able to be changed at a moments notice. Ian Ray is the only public official in the Western World who does this.

The bribe for all of this is €50,000–€250,000 per annum on the condition that TPI operates on outdated data . . . but really it is a convoluted whole lot more.

Making Nazi war criminals transparent to the rest of the world is not a criteria for Transparency International's Corruption Perception Index.

Transparency International's CPI is the 'Translucent International's Conspiracy Phoney Index'.
They appear see-through, but close up, they're really opaque.

According to TPI, if we stop reporting Nazi war criminals, they are simply not perceived, and therefore not part of corruption. That's why world corruption is based on perception, with 99% of the data coming from foreign perception, and not from locals, and definitely not from Undercovers.

So when the UN's Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) starves black children in exchange for child sex in a third of the countries it occupies and never leaves, you can be sure the old Nazis have got to the UN and World Bank* to include funding for a Corruption Perception Index that excludes Nazi foreign war criminals living abroad.

You can also be sure Nazis will name their adopted countries as the least corrupt – New Zealand, Denmark, Singapore, Sweden, Switzerland, Finland, Holland, Australia, Canada, Iceland, Norway, Hong Kong and Luxemburg.

So the CPI becomes a good indicator of where Nazi/ Ustashi and other war criminals reside.
Let's test it.

Embarrassing Lack of Response to Nazis in NZ', 14 August 2008

"There was absolutely no political will to take legal action against the Nazi war criminals who emigrated to NZ in the late 1940s and early 1950s, posing as refugees fleeing communism.

"It is believed up to 40 wanted war criminals escaped to New Zealand following World War II and the Government's lack of action was an 'embarrassment', says a leading Nazi hunter.
"Dr Efraim Zuroff, Director of the Simon Wiesenthal Centre in Israel: 'New Zealand's response on this issue should be a source of embarrassment'.

"A Holocaust historian, Dr Zuroff founded the centre in 1986 which has tracked and identified more than 2,800 suspected Nazi war criminals. Many of those war criminals were discovered to have fled to Western democracies, and the centre has worked with countries to bring suspects to trial.

"In 1987, Canada passed legislation to enable prosecution of suspected Nazi war criminals and was followed by Australia in 1989, and Great Britain in 1991. New Zealand set up a two-person unit in 1991 to investigate allegations that perpetrators of war crimes settled in this country.

"The unit spent $190,000 investigating the claims in New Zealand and overseas, narrowing the suspected list from 46 to 17 known to be alive and living in the country.

"The Wiesenthal centre had supplied 42 of the 46 names. Fifteen were cleared and two were further investigated, with the unit finding it was 'possible' one of the suspects was involved in war crimes.

"The finding of the unit was presented by the then Attorney-General Paul East [2 Nov. 1990–1996/97 who was then made Minister of Defense, 1 March 1996–5 Dec. 1997].
"Attorney-General Paul East, 1992: 'We feel we've discharged our obligations to the international community in the steps we've taken and that we will now only respond if we are given something far more substantial than individual names'. [What else do you need?]
"Dr Zuroff: 'The centre tried to convince successive New Zealand governments to take legal action against suspected Nazis, but to no avail. New Zealand was the only Anglo-Saxon democracy which faced this problem and chose to ignore it. There was absolutely no political will to take legal action against the Nazi war criminals who emigrated to New Zealand in the late 1940s and early 1950s, posing as refugees fleeing communism.'

"During the 1980s and 1990s, Dr Zuroff researched the whereabouts of 40 suspected war criminals who are believed to have emigrated to New Zealand after World War II.

"Dr Zuroff visited New Zealand in February 2006 to promote Operation LAST CHANCE, which was a last attempt to find surviving Nazi war criminals: 'By the time that I found these people, many were no longer alive. But one who was alive and living in Auckland was Jonas Pukas, a Lithuanian who served in the 12th Lithuanian Auxiliary Police Battalion, which murdered tens of thousands of Jews in Lithuania and Belarus'."[17]

Police Undercover: "Jonas Pukas then died of Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease (CJD). When the medical profession found he'd died of it, they got all excited because they thought they were going to get funding to build a big flash lab. Instead, the coroner ruled 'It was a death totally by misadventure', and refused to find CJD as the reason. Pukas was believed to be imbibing (eating) Jew's brains at barbeques. This was risky behaviour that was indulged in by all Latvians in the Waffen SS. It is quite a common disease amongst the Ukranians of a certain age.

"Jonas Pukas children were raised by his eldest daughter, then the children were passed to somebody else who ended up baby farming them for money and passing them onto paedophiles. They instilled a terrible regime of controlled food in, and their bodily wastes out, in order to make sure the children stayed thin. The three children were kept ignorant and not educated in any useful way whatsoever. They were kept as little clones to be had sex with whenever there was money around to be had. When I told my bosses, and Internal Affairs, everybody totally ignored me. They claimed I had no credibility left."[18]

[17] 'Embarrassing Lack of Response to Nazis in NZ', 14 August 2008, Hamish, www.odt.co.nz.

[18] "At the time that all this was happening, I was being checked for psychiatric damage and having repeated treatment by scan because of internal head injuries the Police and Internal Affairs claimed I had not suffered. I reported these to my doctor when they happened, and I was honest that both my mother and subjects that I was investigating all used to hit me in the head. I have no doubt that eventually my head injuries will prove to have been gained over a long period of time. I have trouble with short-term memory. I have gaps in my memory that are like looking through a broken glass window, but I feel I will one day be vindicated . . . ah, I just remembered, one of them was a Latvian in the 10th SS – Mr. Vlafthke."

"Wayne Stringer has done New Zealand a service. The former policeman has shown there was good evidence that Nazi war criminals came to New Zealand after the war. He has scotched the myth that the Simon Wiesenthal Centre's list of suspected war criminals was vacuous and the inquiry a waste of time and money. There was serious evidence that Jonas Pukas – a Lithuanian who settled in New Zealand after the war – was involved in massacres of Jews. At least one other man appears to have served in the Latvian equivalent of the murder squad to which Pukas belonged. Stringer has set the historical record straight. We now know what the evidence was – and it is deeply disturbing."[19]

Shameful Truth Must be Told, 19 March 2006, Fairfax Media

"Some will say it is futile to continue chasing old men for crimes committed 60 years ago. This is a shallow and, it must be said, an inhuman view. Genocide does not disappear with the passage of the years. The six million dead have not merely drifted into oblivion. They are, as philosopher Claude Lanzmann once put it, the 'presence of an absence'. They are a multitude of dead souls who reproach us with their loss. They require us not merely to remember them, but to demand justice on their behalf. If we turn our backs on their appeal, we turn our backs on humanity, on pity, on decency.

"Genocide, as Stringer says, is still with us. His files remind us what genocide means. It means the reduction of other human beings to the level of animals, the necessary prelude to their mechanised slaughter. If our enemies are wolves and hyenas, we may kill them with impunity. That deep human habit, of bestialising and demonising the other, has not gone away. It led the 12th Lithuanian Police Battalion to crowd naked women and children into the pits and butcher them like cattle. Pukas claimed, unconvincingly, to have not taken part in those massacres. His vivid description of the killing – the Jews 'screamed like geese' – testifies eloquently against him.

"A lack of witnesses prevented his case going to court. But if New Zealand had adopted the American model – of denaturalisation and deportation of immigrants who lied to the authorities – Pukas would have had to face at least a form of justice. Some will say the revelations should have been kept quiet to avoid embarrassment and trouble to his family. It is true that Pukas' children and grandchildren are victims in all this. A shocking wave of ugliness has broken over them, years after Pukas' death. They deserve, and they have, our sympathy. But it is also true that history demands that the truth about Pukas be told.

"Politicians in nearly all countries have been reluctant to pursue alleged war criminals, and unwilling to prosecute them when they were found. Australia shut its special investigations unit prematurely for reasons of odious expediency and 'unnecessary' expense. This meant that one well-founded case, against a former member of the Latvian Police battalion, was abandoned, and the man died untroubled by the authorities. But the issue refuses to go away. The Wiesenthal Centre's Operation Last Chance has revealed two promising Australian cases now the subject of extradition proceedings. And hundreds of other cases are under investigation around the world. Not all the old murderers have died, despite what many think. Not all hope for justice has died.

"Attorney-General Paul East seemed relieved when the Crown Law Office advised him in 1992 that no prosecutions could be brought. Amazingly, the office even claimed there was not 'prima facie' evidence of guilt. Pukas' case is stuffed with such evidence. In the event, New Zealand missed the opportunity to do anything about the suspected murderers in our midst. That is a dreadful loss. Stringer, though, has shown us how serious the case was and why it should not be forgotten. For that, we are all in his debt."[20]

Spymaster: "Attorney-General Paul East was then placed under investigation for corruption. On a clear day you can hear him barking on the lawn."

World War II Nazis living in Auckland in the 1980s

Internal Affairs Field Agent: "Around 1982/83, the Nazi SS in Auckland would get their hair cut at Karls Mens Hairdressers at 130 Valley Road in Mt Eden (Ph 630-6780), about 40 metres from Dominion Road and 200 metres from Helen Clark's house at 4 Cromwell St, Mt Eden. The Nazis used to chat at Karls hairdressers, and in a house just up the road where they sang Deutschland über alles[21] and the Horst-Wessel-lied.[22]

"During WWII, General Freyberg pulled this guy out of the ranks of the Intelligence Corp in Italy and told him to 'watch the Krauts like a hawk and don't ever take your eyes off them until you croak'. So that's what he did. I think his name was Norm. The 21 Battalion Association advised me to go and see him. He also knew the Colonel of 22 Battalion. He was a stroppy old bastard. For two pins he would have lined up a snatch squad. A driver from the 21 Battalion knew my father. His name was Vic. They used to go on car thieving expeditions and pinch King Farouk's blood red Cord, or Duesenberg, and drag them around Port Said or Cairo and get all the MPs chasing them and lead them out of town.

"I went with this old guy to this house in Mt Eden, just up from Karls hairdressers and we hid in the basement recording. You could hear the SS drinking out of steins, carousing above in German, eating original deutsche food, and singing the German National anthem and the Nazi Party anthem."

Author: "I remember hearing that. I used to walk around that area as a university student (1980–85), but it was really hard to locate exactly where the sound was coming from. I remember some pedestrian passing it off as 'a recording by a crazed New Zealander who got their wires crossed in WWII'. I see now that that was one of their's on the street."

Internal Affairs Field Agent: "The old guy carried a brown leather briefcase that disguised his old reel-to-reel recorder. He pulled out microphones already hidden behind 4x2 timber. We stayed under the SS house for about three hours. He told me later that he had virtually every word the Nazi SS had spoken to each other during any of their gatherings and these were stored in bookcases under his house.

[22] Horst-Wessles-lied | 'Raise the flag' ballad | Nazi Party anthem 1933–45: "The flag high! The ranks tightly closed! Stormtrooper marches with a calm, firm pace. Comrades whom the Red Front and reactionaries shot dead March in spirit within our ranks . . . Clear the streets for the brown battalions, Clear the streets for the stormtroopers! Already millions look with hope to the swastika The day of freedom and bread is dawning! . . . Rollcall has sounded for the last time We are all prepared for the fight! Soon Hitler's flag will fly over the barricades. Our servitude will not last much longer now! . . . The flag high! The ranks tightly closed! Stormtrooper marches with a calm, firm pace. Comrades whom the Red Front and reactionaries shot dead March in spirit within our ranks" . . . but in German. Horst Ludwig Wessel (1907–30) was a pimp who was murdered by a communist, so they made a posthumous hero out of him.

"A whole U-boat company defected and came ashore in New Zealand, then disappeared into a local Maori tribe, usually via the sawmill. They pulled the hole in after themselves and became hard to find.

The son of a Nazi came down from up north and murdered an Indian liquor store owner with a knife. After his sentencing the Herald printed his claim to German heritage and how it came about. There's a huge number of Germans up north. Not all of them are from WWII. Some of them are from before. A disproportionate number of second generation Nazi and Ustashi make it onto TV here. 'The Lion Man' Craig Busch is the son of a German.

"The Whermacht (German Army) weren't organised and didn't all belong to groups and clubs. Every single one of them thought they were the only ones in Auckland.

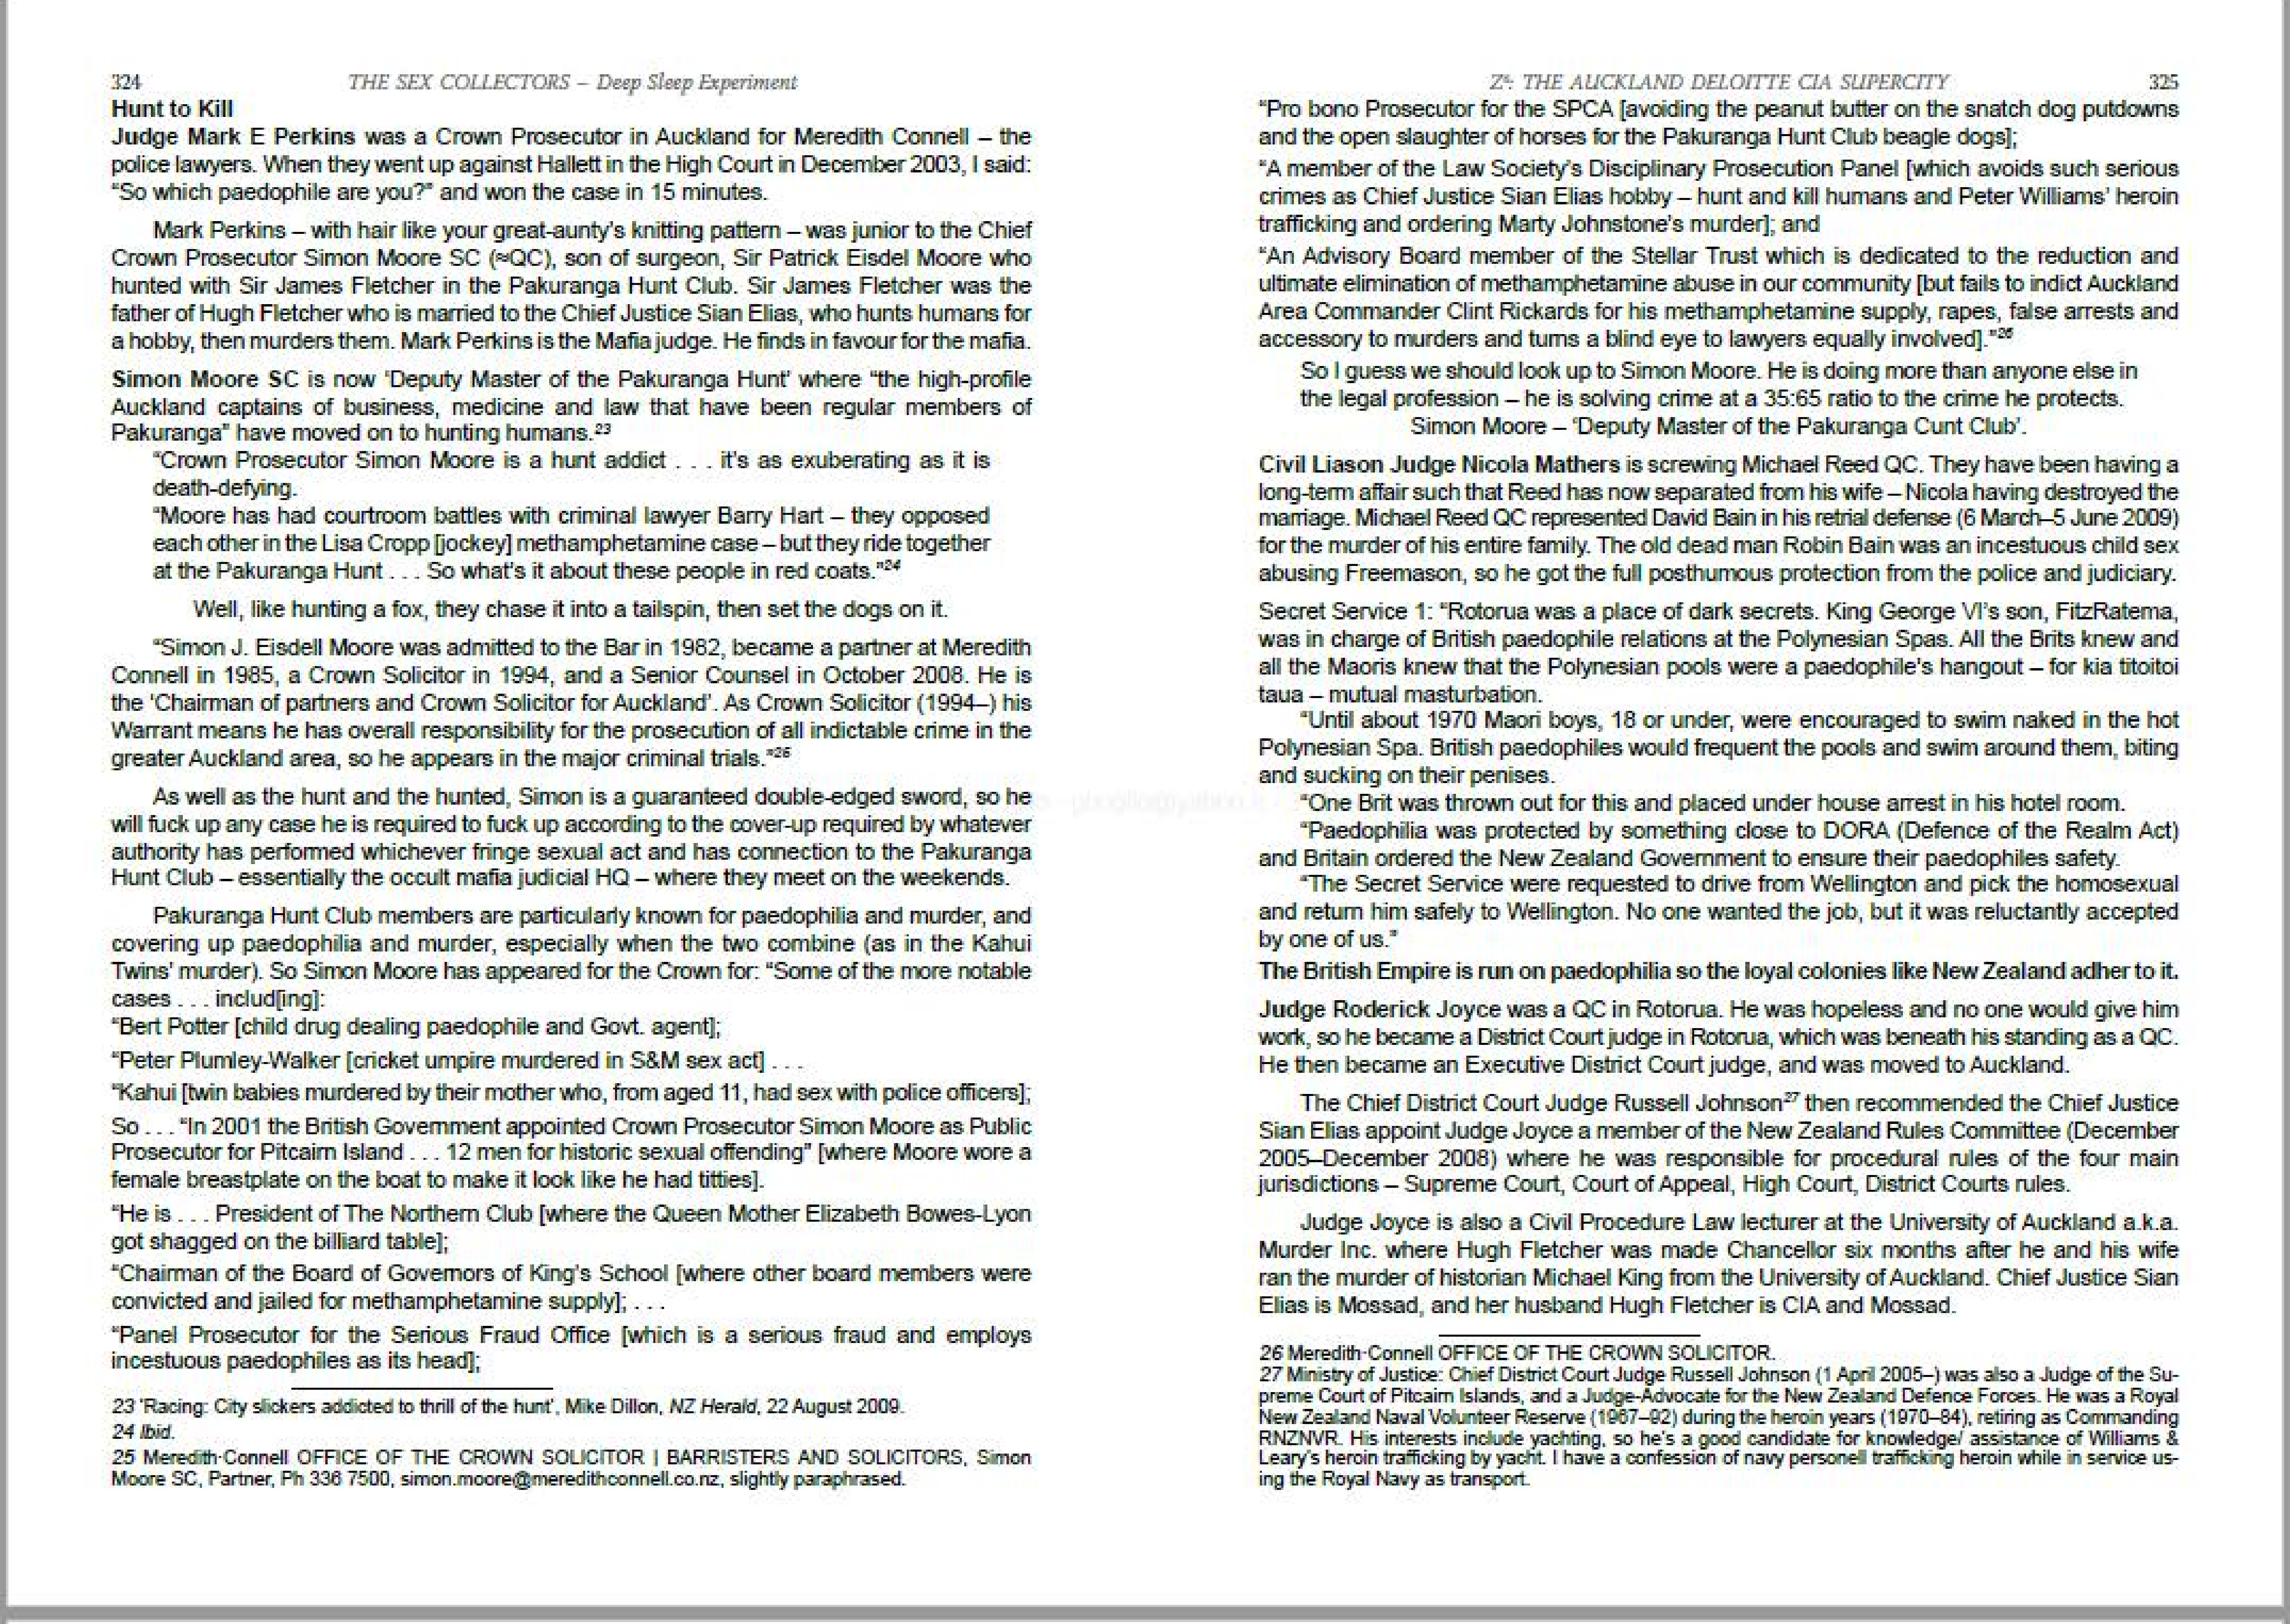
"The SS outnumbered the Whermacht, and in Auckland the Whermacht were really hard-bitten bastards. They'd help you move timber around your house, but then ask you to do the same for them. They were ordinary Army guys, not necessarily Nazis.

"The SS and the Whermacht hated each other's guts and if a Whermacht went into Karls hairdressers to get his haircut, he'd be told to piss off in short order. So the Nazi SS in Auckland even closed ranks against other Germans, and other German military.

"The old fulla gave me a couple of Luftwaffe paratroopers backpacks saying: 'I have no further use for them'. The last time I remember seeing him was a couple of years later, so I just assumed he'd died. He was a good old Kiwi bloke and lived up to exactly what General Freyberg demanded of him. He didn't take his eyes off the Krauts even though his government had lifted its arse in the air to be sodomised by Germans on almost a daily basis. He really did watch them like a hawk.

"Like a lot of things I'd discovered, Internal Affairs just didn't want to know and subsequently fired me. The Labour Government refused to look at them and claimed there were no Nazi war criminals in the whole of New Zealand. This was also backed up by Labour's Mike Moore who was married to one of their daughters (presenter on a children's TV programme) and made Prime Minister to step up the cover-up."

NAZI GETAWAY



Hunt to Kill

Judge Mark E Perkins was a Crown Prosecutor in Auckland for Meredith Connell – the police lawyers. When they went up against Hallett in the High Court in December 2003, I said: "So which paedophile are you?" and won the case in 15 minutes.

Mark Perkins – with hair like your great-aunty's knitting pattern – was junior to the Chief Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore SC (≈QC), son of surgeon, Sir Patrick Eisdel Moore who hunted with Sir James Fletcher in the Pakuranga Hunt Club. Sir James Fletcher was the father of Hugh Fletcher who is married to the Chief Justice Sian Elias, who hunts humans for a hobby, then murders them. Mark Perkins is the Mafia judge. He finds in favour for the mafia.

Simon Moore SC is now 'Deputy Master of the Pakuranga Hunt' where "the high-profile Auckland captains of business, medicine and law that have been regular members of Pakuranga" have moved on to hunting humans.[23]

> "Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore is a hunt addict . . . it's as exuberating as it is death-defying.
> "Moore has had courtroom battles with criminal lawyer Barry Hart – they opposed each other in the Lisa Cropp [jockey] methamphetamine case – but they ride together at the Pakuranga Hunt . . . So what's it about these people in red coats."[24]

Well, like hunting a fox, they chase it into a tailspin, then set the dogs on it.

"Simon J. Eisdell Moore was admitted to the Bar in 1982, became a partner at Meredith Connell in 1985, a Crown Solicitor in 1994, and a Senior Counsel in October 2008. He is the 'Chairman of partners and Crown Solicitor for Auckland'. As Crown Solicitor (1994–) his Warrant means he has overall responsibility for the prosecution of all indictable crime in the greater Auckland area, so he appears in the major criminal trials."[25]

As well as the hunt and the hunted, Simon is a guaranteed double-edged sword, so he will fuck up any case he is required to fuck up according to the cover-up required by whatever authority has performed whichever fringe sexual act and has connection to the Pakuranga Hunt Club – essentially the occult mafia judicial HQ – where they meet on the weekends.

Pakuranga Hunt Club members are particularly known for paedophilia and murder, and covering up paedophilia and murder, especially when the two combine (as in the Kahui Twins' murder). So Simon Moore has appeared for the Crown for: "Some of the more notable cases . . . includ[ing]:

"Bert Potter [child drug dealing paedophile and Govt. agent];

"Peter Plumley-Walker [cricket umpire murdered in S&M sex act] . . .

"Kahui [twin babies murdered by their mother who, from aged 11, had sex with police officers];

So . . . "In 2001 the British Government appointed Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore as Public Prosecutor for Pitcairn Island . . . 12 men for historic sexual offending" [where Moore wore a female breastplate on the boat to make it look like he had titties].

"He is . . . President of The Northern Club [where the Queen Mother Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon got shagged on the billiard table];

"Chairman of the Board of Governors of King's School [where other board members were convicted and jailed for methamphetamine supply]; . . .

"Panel Prosecutor for the Serious Fraud Office [which is a serious fraud and employs incestuous paedophiles as its head];

[25] Meredith·Connell OFFICE OF THE CROWN SOLICITOR | BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS, Simon Moore SC, Partner, Ph 336 7500, simon.moore@meredithconnell.co.nz, slightly paraphrased.

"Pro bono Prosecutor for the SPCA [avoiding the peanut butter on the snatch dog putdowns and the open slaughter of horses for the Pakuranga Hunt Club beagle dogs];

"A member of the Law Society's Disciplinary Prosecution Panel [which avoids such serious crimes as Chief Justice Sian Elias hobby – hunt and kill humans and Peter Williams' heroin trafficking and ordering Marty Johnstone's murder]; and

"An Advisory Board member of the Stellar Trust which is dedicated to the reduction and ultimate elimination of methamphetamine abuse in our community [but fails to indict Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards for his methamphetamine supply, rapes, false arrests and accessory to murders and turns a blind eye to lawyers equally involved]."[26]

> So I guess we should look up to Simon Moore. He is doing more than anyone else in the legal profession – he is solving crime at a 35:65 ratio to the crime he protects.
> Simon Moore – 'Deputy Master of the Pakuranga Cunt Club'.

Civil Liason Judge Nicola Mathers is screwing Michael Reed QC. They have been having a long-term affair such that Reed has now separated from his wife – Nicola having destroyed the marriage. Michael Reed QC represented David Bain in his retrial defense (6 March–5 June 2009) for the murder of his entire family. The old dead man Robin Bain was an incestuous child sex abusing Freemason, so he got the full posthumous protection from the police and judiciary.

Secret Service 1: "Rotorua was a place of dark secrets. King George VI's son, FitzRatema, was in charge of British paedophile relations at the Polynesian Spas. All the Brits knew and all the Maoris knew that the Polynesian pools were a paedophile's hangout – for kia titoitoi taua – mutual masturbation.

"Until about 1970 Maori boys, 18 or under, were encouraged to swim naked in the hot Polynesian Spa. British paedophiles would frequent the pools and swim around them, biting and sucking on their penises.

"One Brit was thrown out for this and placed under house arrest in his hotel room.

"Paedophilia was protected by something close to DORA (Defence of the Realm Act) and Britain ordered the New Zealand Government to ensure their paedophiles safety.

"The Secret Service were requested to drive from Wellington and pick the homosexual and return him safely to Wellington. No one wanted the job, but it was reluctantly accepted by one of us."

The British Empire is run on paedophilia so the loyal colonies like New Zealand adher to it.

Judge Roderick Joyce was a QC in Rotorua. He was hopeless and no one would give him work, so he became a District Court judge in Rotorua, which was beneath his standing as a QC. He then became an Executive District Court judge, and was moved to Auckland.

The Chief District Court Judge Russell Johnson[27] then recommended the Chief Justice Sian Elias appoint Judge Joyce a member of the New Zealand Rules Committee (December 2005–December 2008) where he was responsible for procedural rules of the four main jurisdictions – Supreme Court, Court of Appeal, High Court, District Courts rules.

Judge Joyce is also a Civil Procedure Law lecturer at the University of Auckland a.k.a. Murder Inc. where Hugh Fletcher was made Chancellor six months after he and his wife ran the murder of historian Michael King from the University of Auckland. Chief Justice Sian Elias is Mossad, and her husband Hugh Fletcher is CIA and Mossad.

[26] Meredith·Connell OFFICE OF THE CROWN SOLICITOR.

[27] Ministry of Justice: Chief District Court Judge Russell Johnson (1 April 2005–) was also a Judge of the Supreme Court of Pitcairn Islands, and a Judge-Advocate for the New Zealand Defence Forces. He was a Royal New Zealand Naval Volunteer Reserve (1967–92) during the heroin years (1970–84), retiring as Commanding RNZNVR. His interests include yachting, so he's a good candidate for knowledge/ assistance of Williams & Leary's heroin trafficking by yacht. I have a confession of navy personell trafficking heroin while in service using the Royal Navy as transport.

The CIA now cites the University of Auckland as the most CIA university outside America.

Ex-Act MP (2002–05) Deborah Coddington (b. 1953), well her mother (b. 1920) was a do-gooder who worked in hospices around Rotorua and Judge Roderick Joyce QC's mother was one of her patients. After Roderick Joyce moved to Auckland he never visited her, treated her abominably in all relations, and tried to sell her house from under her nose.

Even to his mother, Judge Roderick Joyce is a cunt.

Deborah Coddington went on to marry Wellington lawyer, Colin Carruthers. Judicial secrets are often married into silence.

Judge Roderick Joyce finally made it to the news, after decades of faux promotion, in February 2006, when he reprimanded members of his own jury for researching certain terms on the internet including 'burden of proof' and 'beyond reasonable doubt'. The faux intellectual Joyce prefers his own definitions as narrow as possible.

Paedophile-minders who are judges, always keep the definitions and court inclusion as narrow as possible to avoid embarrassing information surfacing.

MI-6: "Judge Roderick Joyce QC views himself as an intellectual and has set up his chambers as a gentleman's club – open books on stands and crystal ware et cetera. He is totally up himself, but really he's a cunt" . . . in both the modern day and Middle English definitions of the word.

Middle English: "Cunt": 'Less than 26 acres, less than two oxen, or less than two oxen drivers'. Land that is uneconomic to farm, can't be farmed, or is framed by an incapable cunt'.

Modern Day: "Cunt": 'A mind that cannot be developed to include the wider picture'.

"Judge Roderick Joyce Q.Cunt": 'Unemployable faux-intellectual who sells his house from under his ailing mother's nose'. Suspected dedicated paedophile minder for British ex-pats at Rotorua's Edwardian Bath House (named after the incestuous child sex abuser King Edward VII), and subsequent spas around Rotorua, but especially the Polynesian Spa.

Judge Roderick Joyce is a dedicated paedophile-minder.
Pehaps he should join the Pakuranga Cunt Club.

Judge Roderick Joyce will avoid the big picture at any cost to protect the agenda of those who have promoted him. As such, he is generally considered a cunt by his mother, his mother's caregiver, lawyers, other judges, and those who present the big picture in front of him.

Karen Soich (Peter Williams junior lawyer) still keeps all of her stuff from her relationship with Terry Clark. She has a temperature/ humidity-controlled basement with locked door. Inside are all the fur coats Terry Clark gave her, and all her memorabilia from those times. She shows these to selected people like the female TV personalities she has ménage à trois with.

Peter Williams' Fidelis was called 'The Crowsnest' because so many criminals were on board. While sailing Fidelis under the Auckland Harbour Bridge Williams lost the top 7 foot off his mast, so the place for the crowsnest was missing, but in all other ways it was there. Fidelis never recovered until Nigel Stoke bought it in 1994.

On 11 September 2009 Minute, in Greg Hallett v. Peter 'Heroin' Williams QC, Judge Roderick Joyce threw out Hallett's Discovery request on PAWQC's trade and financial transactions and relationship with his client/ heroin trafficker, Terry Clark.

To do this, Judge Joyce researched back 190 years to rule that anything embarrassing to the Court would render the case thrown out.

I guess that means there is no chance of Judge 'Paedophile-Minding Heroin-Protector' Roderick Gang Member Joyce having the above infomation heard . . .
because it is so embarrassing and so interlinked.[28]

We should remember that a gang is three or more people involved in a crime of four years or more.
The membership can be roving.
That makes the New Zealand Judiciary a gang.

Those involved in this gang include:
Judge Stevens who suppressed The Sex Collectors; Judge Mark Perkins and his former boss Chief Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore SC; Civil Liason Judge Nicola Mathers and her secret sex partner Michael Reed QC; Judge Roderick Joyce and his nominator Chief District Court Judge Russell Johnson and apppointer Chief Justice Sian Elias and her husband, University of Auckland Chancellor Hugh Fletcher; Peter Williams QC and his junior lawyer Karen Soich; and the Pakuranga Hunt Club and Fletcher's links to Rockefeller and HAARP . . . all of which amounts to the 'Pakuranga Cunt Club' hunting and killing those targets placed in front of them.

New Zealand loves a criminal turned lawyer, a lawyer involved in crime, a criminal lawyer, a criminal lawyer who defends the stitched-up patsy while the real murderer is ignored, or a lawyer who escapes conviction, is promoted, then gets their own law practice shifting from supply into the retail areas of the same drugs.

So after Karen Soich was the watchdog for the New Zealand financial syndicate that backed the heroin trafficker Terry Clark and made lots of New Zealanders notable, wealthy, charitable, then respectable, Karen Soich began her own law practice in 1991 and became involved in film, TV and music – all industries involved in recreational drugs – in the areas of copyright, trade marks, contracts, publishing, merchandising, distribution, advertising, sponsorship, licensing, employment and litigation . . . and became . . . a founding member of WIFT (Women in Film & Television) – essentially a bisexual cover for fist-fuckers of female politicians, and WIFT Executive and Governance (1994–2009); President of the NZ Producers and Directors Association; shareholding director of Screentime Communicado; and President of Screen Producers and Directors Association of NZ (SPADA) 2000–01.

Karen Soich acts for corporations and individuals representing their interests in all the areas that Terry Clark had his heroin trafficking business – New Zealand, Australia, the UK (and the US). She can be contacted at Ph 3765739, M 021435511, ksoich@extra.co.nz.

> "Hi, Karen, I would like contracts, merchandising, distribution, advertising, sponsorship, and licensing to employ New Zealand bisexual female Producers and Directors to traffick drugs through the industry and I would like copyright, trade marks, litigation cover for this."

And this is pretty much exactly what has happened, so much so that when TVNZ has its parties, waitresses bring out the drugs on silver trays. Well, at least Karen Soich contributed to culture. The problem is, it killed a lot of people.

The Pakuranga Hunt Club at 27 Linwood Road, Rd 1, Karaka, South Auckland is 80% blurred on Google Earth; 25 km north is Halfmoon Bay. The two connect using the back roads.

The people involved in both overlap, and this includes contract murders and protection of the killer. If the killer is caught, it's on a catch and release basis. Generally, anyone with outside knowledge of the contract killing and the identity of the killer is set up for murder, drugs, or to be killed. This is how the Pakuranga Hunt Club operates.

[28] After this was written, Judge Roderick Joyce recused himself off my case on 11 December 2009.

It's a high-level organised crime mafia operation that involves all government departments with instructions coming as commands from the highest levels.

Spymaster, 30 October 2009: "Around 2001 I was asked to stake out a house in Halfmoon Bay. It was about 2000 square feet and looked for-all-the-world like it had been dressed up for orgies because it had no windows and no doors. You couldn't see any entrance or exit. There were around 150 cars outside, all rich cars and highly polished. Everybody was there. Nobody appeared or went and they stayed until around 6 in the morning. I was getting ready for a long stay and called my boss from a callbox and said: 'It looked like the house had been set up for an orgy . . . I'm at this house in Halfmoon Bay.'

"And he said: 'Get out of there'.

"The cops then rung me back and said: 'Get out of there'.

"So I jumped in my 2 litre Sigma Stationwagon and headed back to Auckland.

"I was reporting to police who may have been working to Internal Affairs rules. I was looking for a guy who was on the run from homicide charges. After he surrended, I discovered the police let him out, and had organised his escape.

"I became more convinced that the information I was given, to go to that location, was crook, and was aimed at getting me arrested. Within a week, I had been interrogated by the Drug Squad for supposedly crashing one of their surveillance scenes, but I came to the conclusion that all I would have done was driven past their surveillance team, and they used it as an excuse to brow-beat me into giving up what I was working on.

"It got so intense that I gave them the name of my boss and said: 'Go and chew on his arse'. And they left me completely alone.

"Just before the homicide guy turned up, they tried to send me to Tonga and announced to me that they were 'going to dress me up as a New Zealand gun-runner because all my background suggested that'. The name of the Island was Vau, or Vaea [Vava'u Island group].

"I was at pains not to go because the Crown Prince would see right through me and have me killed.

"My bosses said: 'No. We'll still send you. You'll be right. She'll be jake in the morning mate'.

"So I got hold of ex-Foreign Affairs in a way that made them believe I was their informant and they crunched the whole business.

"Then my bosses came back and said: 'Those External Affairs cunts thought you might stand on somebody's toes, so they cancelled it. And we told them "He won't live long enough to stand on anybody's toes", but it seems like you're off the hook.'

"About three years later they rang up and said: 'You little cunt you narced on yourself. We owe you big time for that.'

"Whereupon I told them: 'I had an obligation to tell the truth'.

"And they said: 'But you saved yourself'.

And I just said: 'That was just one of the minor repercussions along the way. That was the furtherest thing from my mind.'

"Then, about another two years after that, they rung up and said: 'Oh you told us the truth, the whole truth, and you're very truthful, and we're sorry for doubting you, and we're totally gob-smacked that you told us the truth and have kept on telling us the truth.'

"I assumed they were on the piss so I asked for gas money. Then they actually paid me $800, which I'd long given up on and said: 'Go and have a snarl up on this you little cunt'.

"The other thing they said was: 'They'll be a ho ho ho going down, but it won't be us.'

"I never found out what that meant."

Blood Farming

Spymaster: "Just down the road from the Pakuranga Hunt is the Waiuku Blood Farm. They got permission to shoot anyone who went on the property and even had a sign:

"UNAUTHORISED PERSONELL WILL BE TREATED WITH EXTREME UNCTION".

"Horse tranquilisers were originally shot out of a rifle into the horse. Criminals hired to destroy horses were often drunk on the job and would botch it, so pharmacists were engaged to develop a simpler method of killing a horse. This involved a hand-held horse sedative jabbed up under the horses jaw in the direction of the eyes, but the crims even botched this up.

"A vet went to visit to enquire as to what was going on at the blood farm and he was given a horse sedative, induced by mouth, then transported and found dead in his home. People who didn't know him then turned up at the Coroner's Inquest and claimed "he was clinically depressed". They furnished evidence to the Coroner to confirmed this, apparently.

"I used to have meetings with an SPCA Inspector. We started to compare notes and developed several subjects – who I had information on, she had similar sort of information on, but from a different point of view. She was frustrated about cases not going anywhere and concluded that her bosses were bent. I suspected the same about my own.

"We were saying at the time that dog behaviour could be used against its owner if it displayed certain characteristics. The police had postulated this view in relation to the Dog Tape Affair.[29] The common attitude of the uniform police who drove around in squad cars with WANTED pooches taped to the dashboard, was that the whole affair was very very 'Close to Home' and that the dogs, even if caught, would be reluctant to swear a complaint. They treated the whole thing with animals as a complete joke.

"I regarded it more seriously, but as I was in a minority of one, I had to face up to the fact that there wasn't much more I could do, so we never actually got to try it out as so many of the glitterati were having sex with their animals. Then all of a sudden the female SPCA Inspector cancelled because she had been followed to a meeting and her bosses had a cow about it. I can only conclude that she was under suspicion before our meetings began.

"TV presenter from 1962 to 2001, Angela D'Audney asked the SPCA if they would put her dogs down for free. After I got involved, she stopped talking to the SPCA and took them to a private veterinary practitioner and had them destroyed. I suspected this was all connected."

Thoroughbred horse blood was tested on Blacks during WWII (and after) at Fort Leavenworth in Kansas. Most who went in never came out. It has been suggested that thoroughbred horse blood is required in the cloning of DNA from mummies, with the blood being used in the grandmother prior to birth, the mother soon after she was born, again just prior to birth, and in the child once born. Of course, the blood had to be processed first.

[29] New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, p. 258–60.

After the case with Peter Williams QC on 26 August 2009 in the Auckland District Court in which Judge Roderick Joyce refused Hallett's written request for discovery on Williams relationship with heroin trafficker and murderer, Terry Clark, I was sitting outside Bolliwood restaurant on Ponsonby Road having lunch. The head of the Melbourne Mafia then walked passed. I'd never met him before, but he stopped to chat and knew everything about my case with Williams. He came back after I'd finished eating and we met at the centreline in the middle of Ponsonby Road.

We got to discussing Williams – the Melbourne Mafia complaining that: "Williams was sniffing around Melbourne during the heroin days in the '70s and he was one of only a few who weren't charged". He then introduced me to his debt collector and they offered to collect a debt for me. I was reluctant as this client was Yakuza, involved in slavery and drugs, and was set up to be my non-paying client by Williams. I know this because Williams tried to use him as a witness, then the Yakuza used the same defense as Williams – that I had written a book, New Zealand – A Blackmailers' Guide, and it had said things about their list of notables – complete with the same spelling mistakes, a photocopy of Williams' defense, with one paragraph removed, as supplied by Chris Reed LIB – Williams' lawyer.

So I didn't go with the debt collector. The Melbourne Mafia then said: "I know Williams. Would you like me to talk to him?" I replied: "Well, you can if you like, but I don't think it will do any good." What I didn't know at the time was that Peter Williams QC was the lawyer for the Melbourne Mafia.

Anyway, the next day, the Melbourne Mafia went around to see Peter Williams QC and offered to "dump his body in the Auckland Harbour". Peter Williams then placed his hands on his shoulders and said emphatically: "If you kill Hallett, it will come straight back to me". That was on 27 August 2009.

The theory and technology for creating a tsunami was developed off the Whangaparaoa Peninsula during WWII and has been followed by New Zealand saboteurs ever since.

Peter Williams QC has been going around to judges trying to rig the architecture case against me where he is a $7,500 debtor. Williams is so tight, and so evil, and so connected to drug traffickers and contract killing, and so imbued in slavery, that he will kill for that amount.

I can only assume that Peter Williams QC spoke with other QC and SC including Chief Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore SC, Judge Joyce QC, Chief District Court Judge Johnson and Chief Justice Sian Elias – fellow murderer. This began to involve the weekend mafia – the Pakuranga Hunt Club – who specialise in hunting people into some form of extinction.

A month later, on 29 September 2009, my daughter was holidaying in Samoa in a fale over the beach. It had been the school kids jobs to check for tsunami before school. At 7.08 am this Samoan 16-year-old ran up and down the beach yelling, "TSUNAMI TSUNAMI", so the four of them up and ran, running up the beach, through Coconut Beach Club Resort, then looked left and looked right to a 14-foot high wave travelling 40 mph either side . . . swamp.

She was pinned against the side of a blue car with all the detrius ramming at her back, scratching, piercing. Under for 30 seconds she thought: "SO THIS IS HOW I'M GOING TO DIE", relaxed into death, then popped up. Without glasses, she could only see one foot in front, made out a pile of floating debris, swam for it, and climbed on top, naked. As the first wave receded, someone yelled: "Go for the coconut tree", so she clambered up on the seaward side, then the land side, then the second wave hit, not nearly as big as the first. It was all over in two minutes.

She's scarred for life, but still, she is my daughter Peter, and worth more than $7,500 and your now non-existent pride.

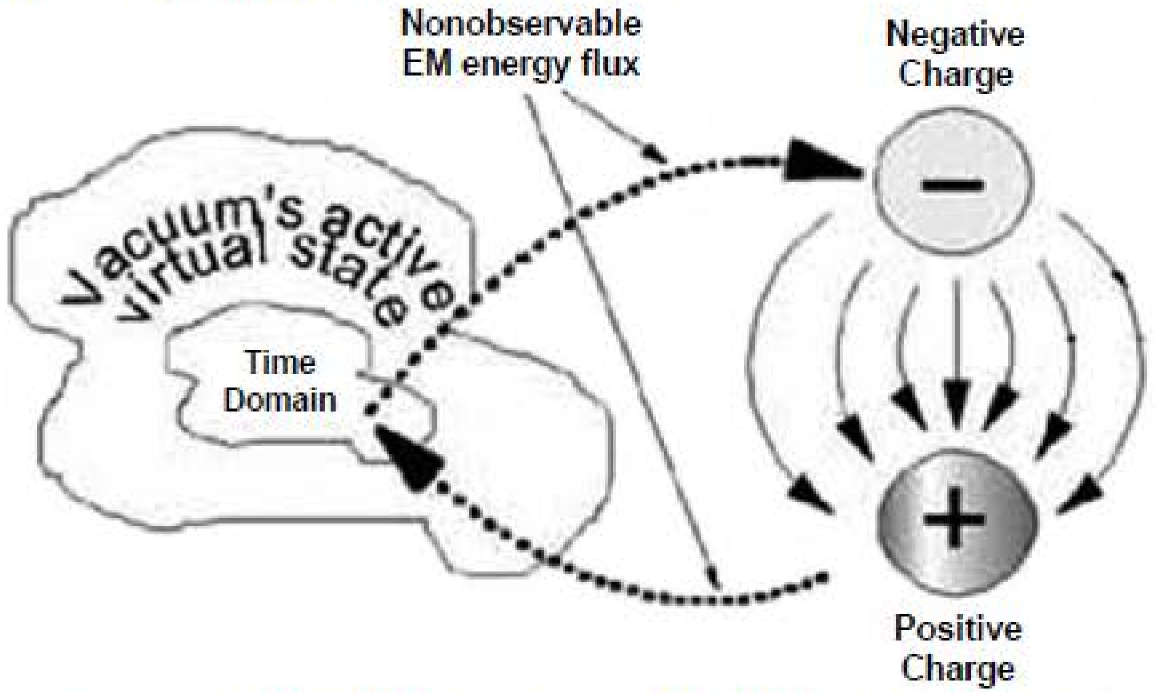
Manmade Earthquakes and Tsunamis

Current Science

According to Scalar Scientist Tom Bearden, earthquake and volcano activity is being caused by the new scalar electromagnetic superweapons called "Longitudinal Wave Interferometers," or "Tesla Howizters."[1]

The covert development of these devices, in at least 10 countries, began decades ago, especially in Russia, where their scientists were more able to think outside the box of conventional electromagnetic theory. Certain equations were discarded to "make things simpler" and it was Scalar Electromagnetics that completed the theory.

Space is not a vaccum, but an ocean of energy in incredible abundance that can change the world for good, or be made into fantastic weapons.



Spymaster: "Gerald Bull told me just before he was killed [22 March 1990] that some of the Soviet research was years in front of the world. They are kept in virtual isolation and don't know what they have found."

Author: "I've met scientists who worked for the US on space programs in Russia. The Russian scientists were so poor, and kept in such isolation, that the American Scientists ordered food just so they could feed their fellow scientists with the leftovers."

A Longitudinal Wave Interferometer (Tesla Howitzer) is easy to build using two special antennae connected to a computer, but the software is the hard bit – that's the secret. The two scalar beams cross each other creating an 'interference zone' where a dazzling array of effects can be produced including longitudinal waves travelling through the earth to create pure action-at-a-distance or remote warfare. By manipulating the wave at the interference zone, earthquakes can be created at a distant spot, as well as erupt dormant volcanoes.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced the Longitudinal Wave Interferometer to the world in 1960: "We have a new weapon, just within the portfolio of our scientists . . . which is so powerful . . . it could wipe out all life on earth. It is a fantastic weapon."

[1] 'Are Any of These Earthquakes Being Caused by Scalar Weapons?', Bill Morgan.

And 37 years later the Americans publicly caught on, with excuses, Defense Secretary William Cohen, 1997: "Others [imagined terrorists] are engaging even in an eco-type of terrorism whereby they can alter the climate, set off earthquakes, volcanoes remotely through the use of electromagnetic waves . . . So there are plenty of ingenious minds out there that are at work finding ways in which they can wreak terror upon other nations . . . It's real, and that's the reason why we have to intensify our efforts."

This TERRORISM turned out to be counter terrorism, without the terrorists being present.

Scalar Scientist Tom Bearden (Nobel Prize, 1957): "Here's how you initiate a very large earthquake with such weapons.Take a convenient fault zone, or set of them. Focus the interferometry on the fault zone, in the 'diverging' mode, and deposit EM energy there in the rocks on both sides, increasing (slowly) the stress in the rocks by the reverse piezoelectric effect – depositing excess energy to get crystal mechanical movements.

"Do it slowly, and the stress will build up to large pressures well-above a plate slip minimum energy required. At some point, the rocks yield and one or both sides 'slip' and move rather sharply, giving a very large earthquake in that zone.

"Do the same thing down in the earth – remember, LWs easily penetrate right through the earth and ocean at will, and so the 'interference zone' focus can be inside the earth or beneath the ocean."[2]

High Frequency Active Auroral Research Project, Tok Road, Gakona, remote Alaska.

Nikola Tesla[3]

Nikola Tesla established a laboratory at 46 E Houston Street in New York. This was less than a mile from my great-grandfather's invention office at 280 Broadway New York and his 'Godward Gas Generator' which was replaced by the far worse carburetor. The Ernest Godward/ Nikola Tesla go-between was Samuel Clemens – a.k.a. Mark Twain – Godward's vice-president.

Tesla invented a mechanical oscillator that generated a resonant frequency of several buildings and caused them to shake as if in an earthquake. The cause was a little vibrator that fitted in Tesla's coat-pocket that he clamped to steel beams in a half-erected steel building in the Wall Street district, then played with the frequency. The structure began to creak and weave and the steel-workers came down panic-stricken as if there had been an earthquake. Police were called out. Ten minutes more and the building would have been laid out on the street. With the same pocket-sized vibrator, he could have dropped the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River in under an hour.

MythBusters built one of these Tesla Earthquake Machines for their 60th episode. They tested its mechanical resonance oscillator on a traffic bridge, where a single steel I-beam was deflected several feet in each direction and the bridge shook many yards away.

At the time of Tesla, buildings weren't built to withstand such resonance or the effects of earthquakes. They are now (in the West), however the buildings in Samoa and Haiti were not built to withstand either.

We did similar tests at the Auckland School of Architecture and a group of us went up to the 7th floor of a 10 storey building on Wellesley Street, just east of Queen St, moved our legs in a wobbling motion and wobbled the building. The building was built cheaply by Chase in the early 1980s.

Tesla (10 July 1856–7 January 1943/?) was a mechanical, electrical and electromagnetism engineer. His patents and theoretical work form the basis of modern civilisation and warfare and his work is still being developed to this day.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, Nikola Tesla, a citizen of the United States, residing at New York, in the county and State of New York, have invented certain new and useful Improvements in Steam Engines, of which the following is a specification, reference being had to the drawing accompanying and forming a part of the same.

Nikola Tesla invented modern alternating current (AC), the polyphase system of electrical distribution, the AC motor (which helped usher in the Second Industrial Revolution) and the modern radio (according to the US Supreme Court) as well as the Tesla Electromagnetic Pulse which the U.S. developed into a weapon to engineer earthquakes and activate dormant volcanoes.

In the very early 1900s, Tesla discovered the earth functions as a global electrical grid, pulsing at a very, very low frequency, very precise and constant. This Extremely Low Frequency is called ELF. When scientists emit the very same ELF frequency, they can create and control all the weather and tectonic (earthquake) functions of the earth.

Weather Control then became very simple. A strong thunderstorm has a powerful display of energy, therefore energy is the primary ingredient and key factor in creating such storms. Once the storms are created, they need to be controlled and directed. Science is already well past this level with HAARP.

HAARP Storms

HAARP is a newly created power transmission station in remote Alaska (Tok Road, Gakona) designed to generate power that is beamed up into the ionosphere in tremendous quantities.

"The $30 million [Pentagon] project, euphemistically named HAARP (High-Frequency Active Auroral Research Program) is made to beam more than 1.7 gigawatts (billion watts) of radiated power into the ionosphere – the electrically charged layer above Earth's atmosphere. Put simply, the apparatus is a reversal of a radio telescope – just transmitting instead of receiving. It will 'boil the upper atmosphere'. After [heating] and disturbing the ionosphere, the radiations will bounce back onto the earth in the form of long waves which penetrate our bodies, the ground and the oceans."[4]

HAARP is the largest ionospheric heater in the world, located in the perfect northern latitude (62° 23' 32.56"N) where the energy can be aimed into the ionosphere so that it bounces back on earth precisely wherever the scientists direct it.

This can then easily control the weather by pouring measured energy focussed into certain parts of the ionosphere to create all kinds of storms – hurricanes, thunderstorms, floods, tornadoes, and drought.

NEWS1198: 'U.N. Treaty Proves Weather Control Is Real' | "Malaysia contracted with a Russian Weather Modification company to create a hurricane that would be directed close enough to clear the smoke and smog from Malaysia's cities without actually coming on to land to create devastation. This Russian company delivered, and Malaysia got clear skies."

Hurricanes can be driven on the ocean, much like we steer our cars on roadways. This happened with Hurricane Erin approaching New York on 9/11 where 'the sounds of thunder' (that didn't occur naturally) were used as an excuse to test the sounds of the plane engines that accompanied the holograms of planes hitting the Twin Towers.

Hurricane Erin peaked at 120 mph (195 km/h) on 9 September 2001. It affected the East Coast of the United States. At midnight on 10/11 September 2001, its centre was 320 miles (500 km) from New York. It was the longest-lived hurricane of the 2001 season (1–15 September 2001) and the latest date for the first hurricane of the season since 1984 (Hurricane Diana on 10 September). Hurricanes can also be directed over the sea and dismantled. So Hurricane Erin was a heavily engineered hurricane (HAARP) and part of the 9/11 citizen terrorism hoax.

HAARP Earthquakes

The U.S. military discovered by accident, how to create earthquakes using slightly different technology: "The planetary-scale engineers tried to replace a 10 km by 40 km section of the ionosphere with a 'telecommunications shield' of 350,000 copper needles tossed into orbit . . . when the military sent up a band of tiny copper wires into the ionosphere to orbit the planet [in 1964] so as to 'reflect radio waves and make reception clearer', we had the 8.5 Alaska earthquake and Chile lost a good deal of its coast. That band of copper wires interfered with the planetary magnetic field."[5]

So the Great Alaska Earthquake of 27 March 1964 – 9.2 Magnitude – was manmade.

HAARP (62° 23' 32.56"N 145° 08' 54.04"W, elevation 572 m) can: Create earthquakes wherever and whenever; Manipulate Global Weather Systems creating rainfall or drought; Cause Earth to rotate wildly out of control; Redirect Jet Streams; Redirect flow of Electrojet Stream; Magnify and focus sunlight ('Skybusting') such that it can burn holes in the protective ozone layers allowing intense sunlight to pour through, burning mankind severely; Bombard at the same low frequency as the human brain operates and change a person's thoughts or emotions – so mind control; Create nuclear-sized explosions without radiation as protected by patent 4,873,928 – rendering all prior nuclear weapons useless.[6]

Recently, the Russian and American negotiators suddenly reached agreement on the destruction of their warheads and missiles with each side allowing inspection teams to oversee . . . because they were obsolete.

As soon as both sides can create nuclear-sized explosions without radiation (HARRP-type radio transmitting towers) there is no need for missiles to carry warheads.

These invisible ELF radio wave transmitters can also defend against a nuclear attack by throwing up an impenetrable shield against anything trying to get through our airspace, including aircraft and incoming missiles.

As a result, the American military is moving rapidly with the Israeli military to bring this more effective technology (anti-missile missile) to Israel as protection against Syrian and Egyptian missiles, while selling to Arab countries the out-moded American weaponry.

Warfare has moved to such a degree that infantryman are now obsolete – except for small operations.

PROJECT SEAL a.k.a. 'the Tsunami bomb' (1944–50)

On 13 January 1944, Wing Commander E.A. Gibson noted to Chief of General Staff N.Z. Lt. Gen. Sir Edward Puttick, that blasting operations upon submerged coral formations in the Pacific Area (1936–42) had caused some unexpected and unpredictably large waves. Ad hoc trials then began in New Caledonia. The 31 March 1944 report was approved by Admiral Halsey who transmitted it to the NZ Chiefs of Staff with a request for further tests.

Project Seal was a joint New Zealand/ United States Project based at Whangaparaoa, in the Hauraki Gulf, NZ at the experimental station, inland from Army Bay (6 June 1944–8 January 1945). The idea was to swamp the enemy on the foreshore to reduce casualties on beach landings. Officially it was closed down before the full experimental program was completed and the fundamental scientific problems solved.

During those seven months, 3,700 experiments were conducted by Thomas David James Leech, Professor of Engineering at Auckland University College, Dean of the Faculty of Engineering (1940–49), and acting Director of Scientific Developments for New Zealand – in support of the war effort.[7]

Project Seal explored the use of explosives to trigger artificial tsunamis with charges ranging from 0.06 lb. to 600 lb using T.N.T., C.E., nitro-starch, and gelignite. "To cater for the small-scale work, designed to determine the principles involved, an earthen dam was constructed in one of the valleys, which provided an experimental pool approximately 1,200 ft. long, 200 ft. wide and with depths varying in steps to 24 ft."[8]

Leech was responsible for the technical direction where the proposed 'weapon' was tested using small explosions, not on a full scale, so never generating an appreciable tsunami. At full scale a nuclear charge could cause some real tsunami damage to a coastal city. The more pertinent critical depth was near the surface. Depth charges were the second choice. Earthquake faults came later.

Professor Leech then supplied the critical depth nearer the water surface for the Bikini Atoll nuclear bomb trial in 1946 and accurately forecast the wave amplitudes, receiving a CBE in 1947. The University of California then published papers relating to certain phases of the project in 1948. In December 1950, Prof. Leech (with the Americans) submitted the final PROJECT SEAL report which was then classified "Secret" (declassified in 1971) and "Top Secret" (declassified in 1999) concluding that:

> 'Offensive inundation is possible under favorable circumstances given low-lying foreshores and a shelving bottom off-shore. Tidal wave amplitudes can be obtained using multiple charges of T.N.T. or atomic bombs.'[9]

The charges were exploded on the seabed, near the surface, and then on earthquake faults with increasing effectiveness. Nuclear explosions at earthquake fault sets was the most effective. The equivalent of nuclear explosions (without the radiation) at earthquake fault sets was better (untraceable), but this technology was not to come around until HAARP.

Spymaster: "All the oceans are run by a separate entity. All the oceans are run by an outfit in Hamburg. It's virtually an adjunct to the UN. It was set up back in the 1990s. The first thing they did was set up a big building in Hamburg, which is always a bad sign. The give away is that some Western Navies fly an additional flag from their mast when they're dealing with naval affairs for this outfit. The world's navies are not answerable to their own governments."

"The Navies of the world are closer to each other than they are to their own governments."[10]

Cannons shooting Copper & Aluminium into the Atmosphere altering Magnetic Field

Dr. Gerald Vincent Bull (1928–90) was a Canadian engineer who worked for all sides on many projects. The Canadian Military and Israelis gave British-German long-range cannon to Dr. Bull, who did experimented with cannon weather control. By November 1962 he was launching 150 kg Martlets to 6,600 metres, eight times a night. The 1,000 firings left a triethylaluminum smoke trail' to measure atmospheric winds; Chaff (thin aluminium or copper needles) for radar reflection, and electronics to measure the magnetic field. The Army Research Office funded HARP (High Altitude Research Program) in exchange for the data. This contributed to the understanding of HAARP (High Frequency Active Auroral Reseach Program) in nearby Alaska. You couldn't have a scientist publicly recognising his own work, so Dr. Bull (62) was assassinated on 22 March 1990.

The Great Alaska Earthquake of 27 March 1964[11] – Manmade

The U.S. military planetary-scale engineers' 350,000 copper needles orbiting in 10 km x 40 km of the ionosphere in 1964 caused the second largest earthquake in recorded history.

The Great Alaska Earthquake at 5:36 pm Alaska time, Good Friday 27 March 1964 and lasted nearly 5 minutes. A 9.2 Magnitude earthquake, it was the most powerful recorded earthquake in North American history and the second largest on record. It killed 9, but the tsunami killed another 134, with property damage over US$300 million ($2 billion in 2010).

Spymaster: "Navy Personell are so perverted, they will rather obey an enemy naval officer than their own fellow citizen. In the old days an Admiral was the biggest queer in the fleet and his best boy was his phantom flip. There used to be a poem, put to music: 'Why a soldier can never be a friend'. It goes back to the time when sailors were made of steel and the ships were made of wood."

The epicenter (61.05°N 147.48°W) was 78 miles (125 km) east of Anchorage, 12.4 miles (20 km) north of Prince William Sound at a depth of approximately 15.5 miles (25 km).

It was a subduction zone earthquake (megathrust earthquake) caused by one oceanic plate sinking under a continental plate. The Pacific and North American plates simply ruptured, producing liquefaction of the land . . . which seems to be what happened in Haiti on 12 January 2010.

Vertical displacement of up to 38 feet (11.5 m) occurred, affecting an area of 100,000 square miles (316 miles x 316 miles, 260,000 km²) within Alaska. 200 miles southwest, some areas near Kodiak were permanently raised by 30 feet (9.1 m). East of Anchorage near Portage dropped 8 feet (2.4 m).

In the first day, there were eleven major aftershocks of 6.0+, another nine over the next three weeks, and they carried on for 18 months – 10,000 aftershocks including an 8.7 Magnitude quake on 4 February 1965 (10.5 months later).

The Clear Air Force Station (Cold-War ballistic missile detection radar) went offline for six minutes – the only unscheduled interruption in its operational history. The Million Dollar Bridge crossing the Copper River near Cordova collapsed. The 60-foot concrete control tower at Anchorage International Airport collapsed killing one worker. It was not engineered to withstand earthquake activity. Similarly many villages became uninhabitable and had to move.

Great Alaska Tsunamis – Manmade

The ocean floor shifts created large tsunamis up to 70 feet (21 m) high killing 134. In Prince William Sound, a 27-foot (8.2 m) tsunami destroyed the village of Chenega, killing 23. The 45 survivors out-ran the wave to high ground.

Post-quake tsunamis severely affected Valdez, Whittier, Seward, Kodiak, and other Alaskan Communities, as well as people and property in British Columbia, Oregon (4 killed), California (12 killed), Hawaii and Japan, and Louisiana where several fishing boats were sunk. The entire Earth vibrated as a result of the quake, and water sloshed in wells in Africa, 10,000–15,000 km away on the opposite side of the planet.

Anchorage just after the Great Alaskan Earthquake, 27 March 1964.

A 4.5 ft (1.4 m) tsunami reached the exposed west coast of Vancouver Island, Canada, three hours later, traveled up a fjord, and hit Port Alberni, twice, washing away 55 homes.

Valdez village, damaged by the earthquake and tsunami, relocated 4 miles west and another village relocated to an entirely new island – Evens Island.

This man-made megaquake caused subsidence in the ocean floor and on land (raised 38 ft/ dropped 8 ft), tsunamis, rockslides, fires, and 10,000 aftershocks over 18 months, up to 8.7 Magnitude.

HAARP (62° 23' 32.56"N 145° 08' 54.04"W, elevation 572m) was then built 120 miles (195 km) northeast of the Great Alaska Earthquake epicentre.

Manmade Earthquakes

"Since the late 1970's, the United States has 'greatly advanced' the state of its earthquake weapons and according to these reports, now uses devices employing a Tesla Electromagnetic Pulse, Plasma and Sonic technology, along with 'shockwave bombs' . . .

"Though virtually unknown to the American people, the use, and perfection, of earthquake weapon technology has a decade's long history that began with the former Soviet Unions exploding a 10 megaton nuclear bomb in September, 1978 and then 'redirecting' its shockwave towards Iran where it resulted in a catastrophic 7.4 magnitude earthquake, an event which hastened the downfall of the US backed regime headed by the Shah."[12]

Iran Earthquake of 16 September 1978

The Iran Earthquake at 7:06 pm 16 September 1978 destroyed over 6,000 km² and killed 15,000 people. In this location, all the earthquakes are historically less than 5.5.[13]

> "Iran Earthquake, 16 September 1978: Signatures – 7.4 on Richter scale – No aftershocks: 6.0 expected (normal) – Strange epicentre – Anomolous depth • Deception – 10 MT Soviet nuclear explosion 36 hours before the quake – Prior disinformation regarding Soviet attempted development of focussing shock waves from underground, to cause distant earthquakes."[14]

Chris Beeby wrapped his friend, the Shah of Iran, up in a Persian carpet and took him out of Iran in a New Zealand Embassy Legation vehicle on the night of 8/9 September 1978, eight days before the 7.4 Magnitude quake. It wasn't the first time for the Shah, earning him the nickname – 'The Golfbag of Iran'.

Yugoslav Earthquakes of 15 April 1979

"This attack was countered by the Americans at 7:19 and 7:30 am on 15 April 1979 when they unleashed one or two of their newly developed 'atomic powered' earthquake weapons against the former communist Nation of Yugoslavia resulting in one or two 7.2 magnitude earthquake for 10 seconds."[15]

"The source was relatively complex with two epicentres, 12 km apart, 22 km or 40 km deep . . . the seismic moment of the quake increasing with period . . . possibly a convergance of the Adriactic block and the European mainland . . ."[16]

> "In Montenegro's Cultural Heritage Site, Budva Old Town, 392 of the 400 buildings were damaged. The 15th century walls and ramparts were severely damaged.

Ulcinj's Old Town was almost totally devastated and the old Balšić Tower nearly collapsed. Over 450 villages were razed to the ground and many villages in Crmnica, Grbalj, Krajina and Paštrovići were near total collapse. 101 people had died in Montenegro, 35 in Albania, and over 100,000 people were left homeless."[17]

Spymaster: "The Serbs were shooting everybody at the same time as the quake. It was the early stage of the fight over whatever Tito would leave behind. He died on 4 May 1981, but was a vegetable for the last two years of his life . . . so the British absolutely saturated parts of Yugoslavia with arms, mainly in Croatian parts of Montenegro. My Czech boss was wandering around in Croatia during the Civil War and commented:

> "The Serbs had practised destruction to an almost perfect pattern. Road and streets were untouched by mortar and cannon fire and most of the buildings had fallen into themselves. Where a building was considered valuable, large, or of strong material, it remained untouched, but surrounded by wide spread ruins. They even tried to avoid damaging electrical substations and powerpoles because it would need to be replaced later. Outside the towns in the wooded valleys you could see from the presence of flies that the people had been marched out to be shot. The Serbs only kept the women and young girls. All the males were killed."

Kobe Earthquake of 17 January 1995

Shoko Asahara, the charismatic guru of the 9,000 member Aum Shinrikyo (Supreme Truth) sect worked with US Naval Intelligence and hacked into their computers. On an 8 January 1995 radio broadcast, Shoko Asahara stated: "Japan will be attacked by an earthquake in 1995. The most likely place is Kobe." This was backed up prior to the quake by Aum's Science and Technology leader, Hideo Murai Ph.D, of whom it was also said: "He was the most intelligent Japanese who ever lived".

Eight days later on 17 January 1995, a catastrophic 6.8 Magnitude earthquake laid waste to Kobe – Japan's sixth largest city. 5,100 died, mainly in Kobe.

Since then, it has been stated that Tesla technology caused the Kobe earthquake.

Aum leadership: "The City of Kobe was hit by a surprise attack . . . the City was an appropriate guinea pig."

Three months after the quake, at a news conference at Japan's Foreign Correspondent Club on 7 April 1995, Aum's Science and Technology leader, Dr. Hideo Murai (Astrophysics) said:

> "There is a strong possibility of the activation of an earthquake using electromagnetic power, or somebody may have used a device that applied force inside the Earth."

Hideo Murai received his Ph.D in astrophysics from Osaka University for studying X-ray emissions of celestial bodies. He was also a computer programmer. Upon graduating he worked in R&D at Kobe Steel, then joined the Aum Shinrikyo cult where he quickly became the leading scientist – Aum's Science and Technology leader (or 'Minister' as in 'religious order'). From Aum, he researched: artificially induced earthquakes; electromagnetic pulse weapons; giant plasma weapons positioned in Earth's orbit; and microwave weapons.

On 23 April 1995, 16 days after the news conference, Hideo Murai (36) was stabbed repeatedly with a kitchen knife in the presence of 10 police officers with 100 reporters recording the events and broadcasting live. Murai died six hours later in an ambulance – not in a hospital (reeks of Princess Diana 20 months earlier).

Murai's equipment and research documents were then seized by Japan's equivalent to the FBI – the Public Security Investigation Agency (PSIA).

Hiroyuki Jo (29) did the stabbing, didn't attempt to flee the scene, and was calmly arrested. At first he claimed it was personally motivated (for the sarin gas attack on 20 March 1995), but Jo was later found to be in contact with North Korean spies, then confessed that his Yakuza boss had ordered him to do the hit. Shortly after, Jo was found suicided in his prison cell without a note.

So the murder of Aum's Science and Technology leader Dr. Hideo Murai, and "the most intelligent Japanese who ever lived" – if a little misguided – was a Yakuza hit.

Spymaster: "Yakuza will often kill for 'the public good'. Often what they think is 'the public good' is actually 'for whatever bunch of spies funded them'.

Sarin Gassing of the Tokyo subway on 20 March 1995

Shortly after Shoko Asahara's 8 January 1995 accurate predictive radio broadcast: 'Kobe will be attacked by an earthquake in 1995', his Aum Shinrikyo (Supreme Truth) sect was blamed for the 20 March 1995 sarin gas attack on the Tokyo subway system and the sect was destroyed.

Charismatic guru Shoko Asahara and 10 Aum members were then sentenced to death.

The author's question is how did the Aum sect get all their essential consumables, military equipment, and protection without being attached to foreign Intelligence agencies, and thereby having inside knowledge. Just like Waco, Aum dispersed their gathered information to the public. So both were guilty of releasing state secrets.

FSB reports on Aum Shinrikyo: "Their knowledge of the planned use of these 'doomsday' devices was gained from the US computer hackers belonging to the Branch Davidian religious order who had penetrated some of the American defense establishments most secret files and resulted in their, likewise, being completely destroyed in what is now known as the 'Waco Siege'."[18]

US District Attorney Eric Holder ordered the Waco Siege. He is now President Obama's US Attorney General Eric Holder.

Aum were certainly connected to the Russians via microwaves, and to ONI through the Branch Davidians at Waco, but also via sarin gas testing farms in Australia:

> "9/93 Two Aum members plead guilty to carrying dangerous chemicals on an airplane in Perth, Australia.
> 6/94 Sarin gas attack in Matsumoto, 7 people died and over 200 injured. The sect purchases and smuggles an MIL-17 helicopter from Russia to Japan.
> 2/95 A village office administrator was kidnapped. Killed by drug injection. Body burned in microwave incinerator located in underground room in Satyam No. 2.
> Aum follower, Otaro Ochida, a pharmacist, is hanged in the Aum facilities. His body is burned in microwave incinerator. Eight other bodies were burned in the incinerator."[19]

Kobe Earthquake, 17 January 1995.

Spymaster: "When you destroy a body by microwave, you take the clothes off, placed the naked body on the slowly spinning dias, crank it up and then bang, the body disappeared and there's just these little bits left behind that smell like a chemical process has taken place with heat. It's not a smell you'd associate with a dead body.

"This is Russian technology from the Russian embassies, first found when Germany attacked the Soviet Union in WWII. All the Russian embassies had these little microwave rooms. The Russian embassies also had gardens, not flowerbeds, but hedges, shrubs that grew two-to-three feet off the ground. The gardeners splashed this shit under them that came from the microwave rooms. It was good fertilizer and the gardeners used to swear by it."

"Naval Intelligence told me that the Aum [Shinrikyo] sect worked for US Naval Intelligence – ONI – and they had multi-layered arms dealings with virtually everybody and they brought stuff from the Russians, the West Germans and the Americans and they leaked to them that they 'were in the American structure, and that no investigation would ever get to that, and they would all be protected'.

"They said to me they gassed sheep in Australia for Christ's sake and if that isn't American Intelligence, who the fuck is. There were a bunch of Australian civilians that were running a sheep farm that they had dealings with. One of our guys went over there, met them and returned reporting:

> "They were the most drugged-out, hypnotised, intimidated Australian spooks of anybody I've ever run into and you couldn't get a word of common sense out of their mouths, even if you'd stuck a red hot poker up their arse. They were totally thick Australians that had been completely dumbed-down by drugs. You couldn't get a full sentence edgeways. By the time they'd been read the Official Secrets Act, drugged and hypnotised into oblivion, they wouldn't have even been able to tell you who they'd married – full stop . . . So the sarin gas was tested on their sheep."

Wikipedia, Aum Shinrikyo: "On the morning of 20 March 1995, Aum members released sarin in a co-ordinated attack on five trains in the Tokyo subway system, killing 12 commuters, seriously injuring 54 and affecting 980 more."

Spymaster: "Bullshit. American Naval Intelligence was behind the sarin gas attacks in Tokyo. It was just two months after they'd done the Kobe earthquake. ONI were attacking Japan in non-retailatory warfare."

"Over the years US Intell had done some very hostile acts to Japan. But because they have colluded and conspired to keep Japan corrupt – since their (US-delayed) surrender in 1945 – it is never revealed. US Intell claims to be able to murder a Head of State in any democracy at least once every 20 years, à la Harold Holt, and get away with it."

Papua New Guinea Earthquake of 17 July 1998

Papua New Guinea had a 7.0 Magnitude earthquake at 6:49 pm on 17 July 1998, 1 km offshore at 2.96S 141.92E, at a depth of 6 miles (10 km), 100 km east of the Indonesian border. It recorded 4.7 Magnitude as far away as Kaikoura (NZ).

The resulting tsunami arrived in seconds and may have been the most devastating of the 20th century. It appeared as a 50 foot (15m) high standing wave at the shoreline that was reinforced with 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th waves. So when the wave broke, there was another just as high behind it, then another, then another, as well as others running along the coastline.[20] At least 2,183 people were killed, 500 missing (d. 2,683) and 9,500 left homeless.

Harvard, NEIC and ERI[21] all show the epicentre in a different location. Harvard has it 1 km offshore, ERI has it 2 km off shore and NEIC has it 1 km inland. Their map does not relate well to the landforms or coastline, unclear coordinates are used, and the scale shows the epicentres 78 km apart. The reports appear to be something of a joint disinfo campaign designed to argue irrelevancies. 'Scientists have difficulty explaining the exceptional waves and distance it travelled inland . . . so they are studying the sedimentary deposits left behind'.

This manmade earthquake occurred 1 km off the coast at Serai. 16 km ESE is Sissano; 53 km ESE is Aitape (pop. 8,000); 75 km ENE is Vanimo (pop. 17,000) and the airport for the area. Vanimo, in the Sundaun (Sundown) Province (pop. 140,000 including 1,000 expats) over 36,300 km^2, is an under-developed area of scattered settlements, with 95 local languages and the largest single lumber area – so all up, it was a perfect testing ground.

Spymaster: "There were witness reports of fire on the water and some fish that washed up on shore had burns. I mentioned this to an American taxi driver who had some military intelligence background and he said: 'Watch it. You can get yourself killed saying stuff like that.'

"The late Gerald Bull told me: 'Fire on the water is a sure indication it was a HAARP operation. Sometimes there is friction on the water, and they were working on that and trying to eliminate it, but sometimes it did occur'."

A photo taken immediately after, showing several hundred houses vanished, in what had been two villages. Only a portion of a septic tank survived.

Earthquakes for Anti-Terrorism by 2001

After 9/11, TERRORISM was anybody's game. Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Wolfowitz, September 2001: "These people try to hide. They won't be able to hide forever . . . They think their harbors are safe, but they won't be safe forever . . . it's not simply a matter of capturing people and holding them accountable, but removing the sanctuaries, removing the support systems, ending states who sponsor terrorism."[22]

"Ending states" holds the intention of destroying entire nation states with unconventional weapons as we have just seen. With this knowledge in mind, Bush and Putin then reached an accord on 23 September 2001 (12 days after 9/11) that Russia would not object, nor would she act, to America's use of unconventional weapons: "Putin gave the nod for US forces poised in Central Asia to jump into Afghanistan to be armed with tactical nuclear weapons, such as small neutron bombs, which emit strong radiation, nuclear mines, shells, and other nuclear ammunition suited to commando warfare in mountainous terrain.

[22] 'Stage Set For Attack', Susanne M. Schafer, Associated Press, The Sun Chronicle, 14 September 2001, p. 2.

"In return, Bush assented to Russia deploying tactical nuclear weapons units around Chechnya after Moscow's ultimatum to the rebels, some of whom are backed by Osama Bin Laden . . . This is an epic shift in the global balance of strength."[23]

So as of 23 September 2001, Russia no longer objects to the U.S. use of HAARP-type weapons against the Afghan terrorists, and any terrorist, and anyone considered a terrorist, or their family members. Would this not include the muslims in Afghanistan and the Philippines, the Indonesian Banda Aceh Tamil Tiger rebels, Samoa and Haiti etc.

So within 2½ days in 2002, two separate earthquakes (7.2 & 7.6) devistated Muslim terrorist stongholds in Afghanistan and the Philippines. What are the chances of this occurring naturally.

Afghan Earthquake of 3 March 2002

Afghan Al-Qaeda fighters use the natural honeycomb series of caves that run throughout the entire region where huge stocks of ammunition are stored in the caves, many carved out further and reinforced to sustain large bomb blasts from above. However, these Afghan caves are not impenetrable from a weapon whose energy strikes from 120 miles below.[24]

"A powerful earthquake struck northern Afghanistan Sunday, killing at least five people and injuring 31 others in the capital Kabul and the eastern city of Jalalabad . . . 7.2 on the Richter scale . . . depth of 120 miles . . . 4:38 pm Sunday, 3 March 2002 . . . caused buildings to sway and people to flee into the streets in . . . Tajik, Dushanbe; Islamabad, Pakistani; New Delhi, India . . . with the quake rocking vast swathe of land stretching from Central to South Asia, much of it rugged and remote mountains, the extent of damage and casualties was not immediately clear . . . great potential for landslides."[25]

A source in a Moscow Geophysical Research Center on condition of anonymity: "The earthquake . . . might have been triggered by super-modern weapons intensively used by the US aviation in the seismically dangerous areas of Afghanistan. This supposition was confirmed by the unusually strong and lengthy tremors (up to one minute) that originated in the Hindu Kush Mountains and spread onto Afghanistan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Pakistan and India. No old Kabul residents remember an earthquake similar . . ."[26]

Philippines Earthquake of 6 March 2002

TIME, 25 February 2002: "The US war on terror . . . Afghanistan – and now the southern Philippines . . . between southern Negros and northern Mindanao . . . island of Basilan . . ."[27]

NEWS BRIEF, 5 March 2002. US National Earthquake Information Center: A major 7.6 magnitude earthquake hit the Philippines' Mindanao Island at 5:16 a.m Wednesday 6 March 2002, about 620 miles south-southeast of the capital, Manila."[28]

So American earthquake technology created a 7.2 earthquake in Afghanistan at 4:30 pm Sunday, 3 March 2002, and 2½ days later, a 7.5 earthquake in the Philippines at 5:16 a.m Wednesday 6 March 2002 – both in locations where the 'Muslim terrorists' were hiding out.

Indian Ocean Earthquake and Boxing Day Tsunami of 26 December 2004

The target was the Tamil Tiger/ LTTE terrorists in oil-rich Banda Aceh and north and east parts of Sri Lanka. They were two years into a tenuous ceasefire with the government, but also busy re-arming for the decisive phase of the civil war in July 2006. LTTE was on the US (and 30 other countries) terrorism list.[29]

At 6:58 am on Boxing Day 2004, a 9.2 magnitude earthquake struck in northern Sumatra. It's epicenter was 155 miles (250 km) off the coast of Banda Aceh, 19 miles (30 km) below sea level in the Andaman Sea. It was a mega-thrust earthquake, 8.3–10 minutes long, and the fourth largest since seismic instruments began measuring.[30]

This Sumatra-Andaman earthquake occurred on the oblique boundary between the Australian plate and the Sundaland plate which was assumed dormant. The Australian plate plunged (subduction) under Java and Sumatra. Despite being dormant, the northern section of the Sunda ruptured over a length of 1600 km, the plate lifted up 20 metres, and secondary pop up faults (long narrow parts of the sea floor) popped up in seconds increasing the speed of tsunami.

The earthquake was felt simultaneously in Bangladesh, India, Malaysia, Myanmar, Thailand, Singapore and the Maldives (1500 miles/ 2400 km directly east with no barriers) where there is an American military base just 1 foot (0.3 m) above sea-level – so there was absolutely no destruction there, not even a wave, despite it being in the middle of the Indian Ocean. They achieved this by countering with a series of waves generated in the opposite direction.

The Indian Ocean Earthquake was the largest earthquake since Alaska in 1964 and Kamchatka, Russia in 1737.[31] The Indian Ocean quake killed 100,000 and the tsunami travelled the Indian Ocean and killed another 167,000 in surrounding countries.[32]

Tsunamis travel up to 700 km/hr. This tsunami, variously called the 'Boxing Day Tsunami', 'Indonesian Tsunami', '2004 Indian Ocean tsunami' and 'Asian Tsunami', was up to 30 metres (100 feet) high. Indonesia, Sri Lanka, India, and Thailand were the hardest hit, as well as low-lying Banda Aceh – an oil- and timber-rich province . . . and the target.

The Tamil Tigers/ LTTE lost some of their fleet of small attack boats, several caches of buried weapons, and their prized surface-to-air missiles (SAMs). With some US$7 billion in foreign aid pledged for Aceh's reconstruction, four days after the tsunami, Aceh's rebels offered a ceasefire. The Tamil Rehabilitation Organisation (TRO) took in tens of millions of dollars in aid which they spent building up the Tamil arsenal to match the government's standing army. Washington then banned all funding to TRO and 20 months later (August 2005) the Aceh rebels were ready to sign the peace accord."[33]

This was another case of gunboat diplomacy and the heavy hand of oil.

Samoa Tsunami of 29 September 2009

The targets were family members of a person challenging the New Zealand Judiciary as 'a paedophile and crime creation movement, heroin traffickers, methamphetamine traffickers, drug money launderers, contract killers, and the Mafia. That is – the New Zealand Judiciary is the mafia in New Zealand, and the Samoa Tsunami was only to prove this further.

The 6.48 am 29 September 2009 Samoa earthquake was an 8.1 Magnitude submarine earthquake 100 miles (165 km) off the south coast and 11 miles (18 km) deep on the outer rise of the Kermadec-Tonga Subduction Zone. There were more than 40 aftershocks with a 5.0+ magnitude within 48 hours, and nine 5.5+ over 41 hours. It was the largest earthquake of 2009.[34]

There was only a 3-inch (76 mm) rise in sea level near the epicenter, but that was enough to create a tsunami travelling at 600 km/hr and arriving within 10 minutes, peaking as a 14 metre (46 ft) high wave on the Samoan coast.

This manmade tsunami's closest landing place was the south coast – Coconuts Beach Club in Maninoa where this and all the villages and resorts to the west and east were totally destroyed.

With a warning from a 16-year-old school boy on "before-school tsunami duty", some of the survivors got two minutes warning and ran for their lives towards the hills.

It was 500 metres from the Coconut Beach Resort fales over the water to the Main South Coast Road, but most were hit by the then 13 foot (4 metre high) tsunami while trying to out-run it.

Five surfers were out beyond the reef at Coconuts and caught the tsunami in, past the shore and onto land where two of them had their surfboards wedged 2 foot into the bank face.

The tsunami hit Samoa, American Samoa, and Tonga killing 189 people – 179 in Samoa.

Upolu is the main island of Samoa, 75 km long (W-E) and 25 km wide (N-S). This south coast is the main tourist area, the area most targetted by the tsunami, and the hardest hit. Twenty villages on Samoa's south side were destroyed. There were only 30–36 villages.

The 33 km between Salamumu village in the west and Salani village in the east – smack bang in the middle is Coconut Beach Resort in Maninoa.

Coconuts Beach Resort and Sinalei Reef Resort in Siumu village were hit by a wave 13 feet (4 m) high – destroyed. Only the church and the sign on the rock wall were left standing.

14 km west of Coconuts is Salamumu village and Sa'Moana Resort – completely destroyed.

19 km east of Coconuts, the cluster villages of Salani, Satalo and Poutasi were completely wiped out with a high death rate.

From Salani, 18 km east is the tourist zone of Lalomanu on the southeast coast where the wave was 20–30 ft (6.1–9.1 m) high and the cliffs above were scoured out to a height of 10–15 m (33–49 ft). Lalomanu – destroyed. The eastern part of the island remains without power or water months after the quake.

The tsunami left 3,000 people homeless and created US$147.25 million in damage.

The New Zealand rescue effort stunk like an inside job with organised sabotage and targetted kills right down to the insurance payouts.

[34] Wikipedia: '2009 Samoa earthquake'.

Samoa's Faleolo International Airport on the northwest side of the island 20 miles (28 km) northwest of Coconuts with an elevation of 58 ft (18 m) was declared safe and operating the following afternoon. The Australian government rescued their citizens as soon as the planes could land – within 32 hours.

New Zealanders were then prevented from getting on their scheduled flights home.

New Zealand then dispatched RNZAF P-3 Orions to assess the damage and search for bodies (but still no rescue).

An RNZAF C-130 Hercules with medical staff and supplies, tents, food, stretchers and makeshift morgues, was sent on 30 September. It takes the Army/ Airforce 2½ hours to roll off their presidential suite and roll on their hospital suite, yet they took 36 hours to leave and 72 hours to arrive. Everytime they need to do a major rescue (more than 3 hrs flight), they break down. The plane flew out, had a break down on the way, and returned to NZ. One can only assume sabotage from all levels, so there's never anyone blame. So still no rescues.

A 7 RNZAF was then sent.

An RNZAF helicopter then distributed supplies within the island, but no rescue out.

Seeing the military couldn't cope, Air New Zealand sent a larger Boeing 777 aircraft to carry in relief workers and evacuate tourists to Auckland, but still no rescue for the injured.

It was only after all this went down, that sick New Zealanders were transported back on an RNZAF plane which landed at Whenuapai at 1.30 pm on 3 October 2009 – 3.25 days after the tsunami (correcting for the 23 hour dateline lag).

This rescue was to take another 24 hours, but one New Zealander got on the blower from a hospital in Samoa and said: "Some of us are going to die here. In 36 hours, a woman is going to lose an arm. Don't you know that in the tropics, after five days, serious injuries get septicemia[35] and require amputation."

If the New Zealand Army/Airforce had taken five days to arrive, there would have been amputation amongst the targets. Of course, those at the time were bedridden, only semi-conscious, and didn't know they were targets, but there were ants crawling on her bed, which is a sign of septicemia.

On top of this, insurance wasn't paid out to New Zealanders under the age of 18 by TRAVELSURE TRAVEL INSURANCE, despite their form saying all the group were insured. This reeks of MI-6, as MI-6 control the world's insurance firms, and hey presto, guess who is a bisexual MI-6 heroin trafficker – Peter Williams QC – New Zealand's mafia boss.

An hour after the Evaluation Conference on 26 August 2009 against PAWQC, where I had submitted "How can one defame the mafia boss?", Gregarious of the Melbourne Mafia approached me and asked if I would like him to talk to Williams. I said "No", but he did anyway. Later, I was to find out that PAWQC was the lawyer for the mafia – this one, and the one before – and PAWQC's own lawyer, Murray Gibson, was a lawyer for the next mafia boss . . . so this was right in the midst.

Gregarious then went around to PAWQC's on Friday 28 August 2009 and said: "Would you like Mr Hallett to be found in the Auckland harbour?" PAWQC placed his hands on Gregarious' shoulders and said: "In no way are you to kill Mr Hallett. It will come straight back to me."

Around 8 September, an intermediary asked me where my child was going on holiday?

Three weeks later there was an 8.1 Magnitude earthquake, 100 miles south of Samoa's Coconut Beach Resort where my 17 year old was sleeping in the fale's over the water. Short sighted, she ran without glasses, was swamped by the 13 foot/ 4 metre wave, but survived.

Sumatra Earthquake of 30 September 2009

Samoans know that when they get hit by an earthquake, Indonesia gets hit within two days. Indonesians also know this, so the wisest of them went to higher ground and told their relatives, although they only had, at most, 16 hours to receive the TV/Radio broadcasts and act.

Despite them being 9,650 km apart and half the world away, Samoa and Indonesia are connected by fault lines. So 16 hours and 28 minutes later, at 5:14 pm on 30 September 2009, a 7.6 magnitude earthquake hit 28 miles (45 km) WNW of Padang, Sumatra, killing 1,115 people and leaving around a million homeless.

Oil and Gas wars in the Gulf of Mexico – Disappearing Island

US and Mexicans were negotiating over oil and gas. The Mexicans said: 'We've got an island out there'. The Americans replied: 'Have you?' When it was realised the presence of the island in the Gulf of Mexico helped to demarcate Mexico's claim to a gas field, it was completely destroyed – disappeared. It was reputed to have been vapourised from a Nautilus Projector out in space (James Bond, 'Die Another Day', 2002). Its absence has only been noticed in the last year (2009). The island was several kilometres wide. Since then, Mexicans have been advertising on radio for people who have been on the island to come forward with their testimony.

Spymaster: "Gerald Bull told me: 'The Americans have given the Nautilus Projector away to Israel during the time of Clinton, and now they have to go cap-in-hand begging to the Israelis to use it for fire missions'.

"Recently in the US, paedophile films were made shaming paedophiles. They caught a Rabbi approaching a child and published his face. He came from a Rabbinical group where three others have also been stung. There was a time under Clinton [1993–2001] when none of this would have been released to the media."

Eureka City California Earthquake of 9 January 2010

"A magnitude 6.5 earthquake rocked Eureka City in Northern California on Saturday 9 January 2010 at 4:27 p.m. It was centered 33 miles offshore, southwest of the Pacific coastal city, 13 miles deep. It was very wiggly, rolling in all directions. There were no deaths."[36]

This was the result of "the US Navy testing two different earthquake weapons that week in the Pacific".[37]

Haiti Earthquake of 12 January 2010

The Haiti magnitude 7.3 earthquake hit three days later at 4:53 pm on 12 January 2010 causing 500,000 deaths. The difference in the death toll was caused by three factors:

1. Magnitude: A 7.5 earthquake is twice as strong as a 6.5 earthquake, so it was 1.6 x stronger.
2. The Eureka City buildings were designed to withstand resonance and earthquakes.
   The Haiti buildings were designed to withstand neither.
3. Two different earthquake weapons were used. The more devasting weapon was used on Haiti where the results appeared like a nuclear blast without the radiation.

The US Navy's Deputy Commander of their Southern Command, General P.K. Keen was pre-positioned on the island prior to the quake. So it is 'more than likely' the US Navy had 'full prior knowledge'.[38]

"US Ambass. to Haiti, Kenneth Merten: "It is the same as if an atomic bomb had been exploded'.[39]

Apparently, ". . . these weapons being tested by the United States . . . for the . . . planned destruction of Iran through a series of catastrophic earthquakes designed to bring down their present Islamic regime . . . the New Great Game that will decide the winners and losers of this 21st Century."[40]

Oil found in Haiti and Cuba

Large amounts of oil were discovered in Haiti by January 2008: "Scientists Daniel and Ginette Mathurin indicated that 'under Haitian soil it is rich in oil and fuel'. 'We have identified 20 oil sites, five of them are considered of great importance by specialists and politicians'. 'The Central Plateau, including the region of Thomonde, the plain of the Cul-de-Sac and the bay of Port-au-Prince are full of hydrocarbons. 'The oil reserves of Haiti are more important than those of Venezuela. An Olympic pool compared to a glass of water . . . to illustrate the importance of Haitian oil compared with those of Venezuela which is one of the world's largest oil producers'."[41]

London Guardian, 18 October 2008: "Cuba: Mother nature . . . appears to have blessed the island with enough oil reserves to vault it into the ranks of energy powers. The government announced there may be more than 20 billion barrels of recoverable oil in offshore fields in Cuba's share of the Gulf of Mexico, more than twice the previous estimate. This puts Cuba's reserves on par with the US and into the world's top 20. Drilling is expected to start in 2009 by Cuba's state oil company Cubapetroleo, or Cupet."[42]

Haiti and Cuba are only 52 miles (84 km) apart and perhaps in the same stretch of oil field. Haiti is protected by America, and Cuba is protected by Russia – so it's the 'New COLD OIl WAR' (NCOW). If America bombs Haiti into oblivion and saves the population by exporting them, it can begin mining for oil in exchange for adoption – which it's already doing with the tens of thousands of new orphans – and even kidnapping those with relatives.

By 2005, America was already eating into its strategic reserves, so the pressure is on.

So the gunboat diplomacy begins . . . and within 10 days of Haiti's US Navy Tesla Howitzer (Longitudinal Wave Interferometer/ Scalar electromagnetic superweapon)/ HAARP earthquake . . . the Obama/ Bush/ Clinton team were circling with 10,000 American soldiers hiding in the Port-au-Prince Presidential Palace effectively occupying the country – waiting for the Haitians to die out in greater numbers – while "protecting our oil".[43]

Who said the US President wasn't the 'PIRATE CAPTAIN OF A BRITISH PLANTATION'. This is rape a pillage on a massive scale, with the original meaning of rape being 'to take something from someone'.

US Navy Forth Fleet in the Caribbean (1 July 2008–)

"Defense Department statement: 'Disbanded in 1950, the U.S. Navy plans to re-establish its Fourth Fleet to oversee ships, aircraft, and submarines operating in the Caribbean, Central and South America', effective 1 July 2008. Rear Admiral Joseph Kernan is leading the fleet. Kernan is the current commander of the Naval Special Warfare Command. They will coordinate efforts with the U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command. Both will be based in Mayport, Florida where they are planning to build up their forces in the region.

"Admiral James Stavridis oversees military affairs for Latin America, to Congress, 6 March 2008: 'The designated new fleet will be led by a nuclear aircraft carrier to patrol the waters of the Caribbean and Latin America in support of counter-terrorism operations'. [Read: "There is oil there and we want it".]

"The move comes as South American nations, including Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, and Ecuador, boost military spending to protect oil reserves."[44]

Caribbean War set up

Nov. 2008: "President-elect Barak Obama refused to sign a free trade agreement with Colombia and may well change or end the $600 million/ year aid program (1999–2008)."[45]

July 2009: Cambio magazine: "The United States is negotiating for the use of five military facilities in Colombia, in an agreement whose objectives include 'filling the gaps left by the eventual cutting of [military] aid in 'Plan Colombia'.

"This could constitute an end run around the struggles waged for years by human rights, religious, peace, indigenous, Afro-Colombian, women's, and youth groups to demilitarize U.S. policy in Colombia."[46]

But this is more Orwellian double-speak. America will give aid to Colombia only if it supplies five military bases. Often the solution is an unseen war. In this case, the Colombian military bases would be needed for humanitarian efforts for the further destruction of oil fields it the region. [So 46 days later, on 27 February 2010, Chile had an 8.8 M earthquake.]

So it's unseen earthquake weapons attacking oil-rich friendly nations.
The oil is then taken for the price of relief.

Haiti's Special Envoy

Bill Clinton was announced the UN's Special Envoy to Haiti on 17 May 2009, but only after it was known to contain vast amounts of oil. Seven months later a 7.3 earthquake hit Haiti at 4:53 pm on 12 January 2010, 13 km deep, 25 km WSW of Port-au-Prince, killing 500,000 people – 5% of the 9.7 million residents.[47] He truly is his father's son and his mother's daughter.

Russian Navy in the Caribbean (November 2008–)

"Russian warships have arrived in the Caribbean for war games with Venezuela in their first military exercise in the region since the end of the Cold War'. The arrival of the Russian flotilla included the flagship nuclear powered cruiser Peter the Great and the destroyer Admiral Chabanenko. It came on the eve of the first visit to Caracas by the Russian leader, President Dmitry Medvedev, to Venezuela, Peru, Brazil and Cuba.

"Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez is a former paratrooper colonel and has visited Moscow three times in 2008 where Russia offered him a billion-dollar credit line for arms purchases.

"Russia has already sold Venezuela US$4bn worth of top of the range Sukhoi fighter jets, helicopters and Kalashnikov assault rifles.

"President Chavez wants Russia to help him build a nuclear reactor for peaceful purposes, like that being developed by his ally, Iran.

"Neighbouring Colombia is one of the last nations in South America to be an unconditional US ally. It is watching with unease as Chavez refits his armed forces and expands his influence across the region."[48]

No doubt this will grant America its five military bases there in Columbia.

"A grim report prepared by the Russian Northern Fleet for Prime Minister Putin is stating today that the catastrophic earthquake that has devastated the Island of Haiti was the 'clear result' of a United States Navy test of one of its 'earthquake weapons' planned to be used by the Americans upon the Persian Nation of Iran but had gone 'horribly wrong'.

Haiti Results

So Haiti has become a new American base overnight. The military is going there in droves, but they aren't lifting anyone out of the collapsed buildings and the UN is just counting bodies.

And then it gets leaked out that Haiti has deposits of gold, iridium and more oil than Venezula – an olympic pool compared to a glass of water. So there's your motive.

Al Jazeera TV News, Haiti, 22 Jan. 2010: “There have been 50 aftershocks. It is the biggest relief effort in history and the worst organised. Nine days after the quake, no aid has got through. The Port is semi-operational from 21 January after forklifts were seen moving containers around on the relief boats, none of which was being taken off onto the island. Some aid is now getting through, but it's limited to bags of rice which people fight for and take off each other while UN troops and Haitian police just watch. Haitians are still waiting for the promised help to arrive as they sleep out in the open. 3,000 people piled on a boat licensed for 600 at the other port. Newly orphaned children were flown out to Holland and America.

The Head of the UN in Haiti was killed during the quake when the top of the UN building collapsed. The US Navy's Deputy Commander of their Southern Command, General P.K. Keen survived. The question is, like Pearl Harbor, was Keen out riding his horse at the time, so he neither got to see, hear, nor feel in danger of the earthquake, and upon his return, acted without surprise, and in silence – all the commands pre-issued.

“Haiti has a longstanding history of US military intervention and occupation going back to the beginning of the 20th Century. US interventionism has contributed to the destruction of Haiti's national economy, the impoverishment of its population, and now the eradication of its colonial past.

“Is it a Humanitarian Operation or an Invasion? The total lack of a functioning government in Haiti was used to legitimize, on humanitarian grounds, the sending in of a powerful military force, which has de facto taken over several governmental functions . . . While presidents Obama and Préval spoke on the phone, there were no reports of negotiations between the two governments regarding the entry and deployment of US troops on Haitian soil. The decision was taken and imposed unilaterally by Washington – so it was pre-arranged.

“The main actors in America's ‘humanitarian operation’ are the Department of Defense, the State Department, and the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) which has also been entrusted in channelling food aid to Haiti, distributed by the World Food Program.

“The military component of the US mission . . . tends to overshadow the civilian functions of rescuing a desperate and impoverished population. The overall humanitarian operation is not being led by civilian governmental agencies such as FEMA or USAID, but by the Pentagon. The dominant decision making role has been entrusted to US Southern Command (SOUTHCOM).

“Aircraft carrier, USS Carl Vinson and its complement of supporting ships has already arrived in Port au Prince. The 2,000-member Marine Amphibious Unit as well as soldiers from the U.S. Army's 82nd Airborne division ‘are trained in a wide variety of missions including security and riot-control in addition to humanitarian tasks’. . .”[50]

Red Cross, 1999–2001: Bernadine Healy was president and CEO of the Red Cross (Dec. 1999–31 Dec. 2001) during 9/11. After 9/11, the Red Cross began the Liberty Fund and raised $564 million for that purpose, but only distributed $154 million (27 %) citing that the rest ($410 million) had "evolved into a war fund."

Dr. Bernadine Healy had long served on the board of defense contractor, Battelle Memorial Institute, that makes biochemical weapons, including anthrax. She is a member of the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. Dr. Healy had more knowledge about war-making than humanitarian organizations.[51]

In the spring of 2001 the FDA issued a record fine to the Red Cross for mishandling CMV infected blood products. This is despite Dr. Healy serving as Director of the National Institutes of Health.

During 9/11, the Red Cross failed to show up at the Pentagon crash site. Attorney General Eliot Spitzer, and some in Congress then criticized Healy and the Red Cross via the media for designating 9/11 funds for activities that did not directly involve victims.

In Orwellian double speak, Red Cross CEO/President Dr. Bernadine Healy said: "Don't confuse us with the '9/11 Fund in New York'. Don't confuse us with 'Habitat for Humanity'. Don't confuse us with the 'Scholarship in New York for the victims'." Yet her banner was: 'Together we can save a life'.

The Red Cross Board then redirected all the Liberty Fund to those who had suffered or faced hardships at the attack site, making the change retroactive from mid-November to 11 September 2001.

A lack-luster performance bordering on purposeful sabotage led to Healy's resignation under pressure. She resigned as president on 31 December 2001 saying: "The Liberty Fund . . . has [now] evolved into a war fund. We must have blood readiness. We must have the ability to help our troops if we go into a ground war. We must have the ability to help the victims of tomorrow."[52]

Healy's Red Cross half-year salary was $296,661 (1 July–31 December 2001) with a severance payment of $1.63 million (US$1,926,661).[53]

Murder will always get you behind the money and treason always gets a front row seat, so Dr. Bernadine Healy is now the Health Editor for U.S. News & World Report. She writes the 'On Health' column and blogs 'Heart to Heart' where she covers matters close to her heart.

Dr. Bernadine Healy is Androgen Insensitivity Syndrome Grade 7 (AIS 007). That is, she was conceived a male, has male drives, but was born a model-like female. Often they don't like showing their hands, because they have man's hands, but they are very useful heading charities as everyone likes a model-front person, especially the American coporates. It doesn't matter to them that Dr. Bernadine Healy's speciality was anthrax – when she was heading a rescue charity – and had the Red Cross sued for distributing contaminated blood.

Healy's results were the same as before and after for the Red Cross, which is now a corporate entity with all its squabbling, infighting, sexual favours, and US$1.63 million payouts as soon as the planed act of war has become a certified success, and the rescue a certified failure. Even in the Red Cross, murder is where the money is.

Red Cross, 2002–2005: Marsha J. Evans was president and CEO of the Red Cross (Aug. 2002–Dec. 2005) during the Boxing Day Tsunami (26 December 2004) and Hurricane Katrina (August 2005). The Red Cross annual budget was $3.4 billion in 2005.

She was Rear Admiral Marsha Evans who spent 30 years in the Navy. Her master's degree was supplemented by professional studies at the Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island and the National War College in Washington D.C. . . . and National Executive Director of Girl Scouts of the USA (1998–2002).

During her tenure, the Red Cross paid consultants more than $500,000 for Marsha Evans public relations and to heighten the image of the Red Cross via Hollywood.[54]

During Hurricane Katrina (23–30 August 2005) with winds of 175 mph (280 km/h), 1,836 died and another 705 are confirmed missing (2,541 dead) with US$81.2 billion in damages, making it the costliest tropical cyclone in history affecting the Greater New Orleans, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Bahamas and Cuba.

Red Cross President and CEO Rear Admiral Marsha Evans didn't manage to get any Red Cross relief personnel or material into New Orleans immediately after Hurricane Katrina (not even water, food, or a ride out).

CEO Marsha Evans claimed: "Access to New Orleans is controlled by the National Guard and local authorities and while we are in constant contact with them, we simply cannot enter New Orleans against their orders", yet the Red Cross made no public outcry to demand to go in . . . and she didn't use her Navy status and contacts to override the National Guard.

But that's why we employ people with such credentials – to sabotage the help and ensure deaths.

To back up the Red Cross sabotage of relief: "The state Homeland Security Department had requested – and continues to request – that the American Red Cross not come back into New Orleans following the hurricane. Our presence would keep people from evacuating and encourage others to come into the city."[55]

Ditto for the Navy and Homeland Security.

"Senator Chuck Grassley led a congressional probe of the Red Cross in response to criticism after Hurricane Katrina. The House Report found the Red Cross plagued with supply shortages, poorly run shelters, and didn't reach remote Gulf Coast communities. The Senate Finance Committee then found the Red Cross racked with infighting and management turnover, with five acting or permanent heads over the last seven years paid $2.8 million in severance, deferred compensation and bonuses [for failure]."[56]

[56] 'Red Cross Gave Ousted Executive $780,000 Deal', Jacqueline L. Salmon, Washington Post, 4 March 2006.

Evans' Red Cross salary was $651,957 (Aug. 2002–June 2003), and $468,599 (2003–04).[57]

Under sharp criticism, Rear Admiral Marsha J. Evans resigned as president and CEO of the Red Cross, but not without a severance package of $780,000 in December 2005. This was payment for planed failure and maximum deaths amounting to genocide. Murder gets you behind the money.

Rear Admiral Marsha J. Evans wasn't exactly penalised for her involvement in the Katrina rescue failure. She was made (2006–08) Director of Huntsman Corporation that specialised in major diversified non-organic Chemicals, based in Salt Lake City; Director of Office Depot supplying office products, based at 6600 North Military Trail, Forida; and Director of Weight Watchers, based in Woodbury, New York.

Spymaster: "Weight Watchers deals in mind control. A fat housewife will suck up anything."

Author: "It looks like these are all ONI controlled fronts."

Evans' Red Cross wages were $651,957 + $468,599 + $903,667[58] + $451,833[59] + severance package of $780,000 = $3,256,055 for her Hurricane Katrina failure.

Evans' Directorship combined directorship earnings were in (Jan-June) 2006: $426,245; 2007: $983,594; 2008: $718,105) = $1,743,944.[60]

Rear Admiral Marsha J. Evans was paid exactly US$5 million over the five years (give or take), August 2002–June 2008, as was likely agreed for the sabotage.

Then on 13 July 2009, Marsha Evans was made Acting Commissioner Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) Board of Directors. The previous Director's salary was US$500,000.

In no way was Rear Admiral Marsha Evans penalised for her Red Cross failures. Rather it stinks of reward.

Marsha Evans on the Red Cross: "The challenge was to take an organization that was set in its ways and rev it up to make it more exciting and engaging."

Red Cross, 2006–2007: Jack McGuire had been the American executive vice president of a British biomedical service that makes filtration and separation materials and devices for labs and businesses. Despite this, the Food and Drug Administration fined the Red Cross $3 million in June 2006 for 135 instances of distributing unsuitable blood products, then placing them on recall, then retrieving them. Where's the trust?

Jack McGuire: "Our job is to take the Red Cross and make it the most releavant that we can to today . . . speed and goodness and capability all brought together . . . the same expectation everywhere . . . people expect to look at the work we do openly and challenge, not just the mission, but how we've delivered that mission . . and they don't want to pay for things that they don't think we should have done."[61]

Spymaster: "Red Cross – you virtually have to pull a gun on them and threaten to shoot them in order to get a bandage out of them . . . The top bureaucracy in the Red Cross are virtually all ex-navy, and all as crooked as fuck."

Manmade Earthquakes, Volcanoes and Tsunamis – Some History and How-To
The choice is not limited and has been developed since 1893.

1893/98 | Tesla invents reciprocating mechanical resonance oscillator that gives a building an earthquake.

Tesla discovered earth functions as a global electrical grid, pulsing at precise, constant ELF of 7.83 Hz and gets theoretical control over all weather and earthquake functions of Earth.

1900 | Tesla applies for patent to transmit electrical energy through natural mediums. Patent issued in 1905.

1924 | Tesla gets radio waves to bounce off ionosphere 37–620 miles up.

1940 | Tesla announces death ray invention.

Tesla invents Earthquake Machines, Scalar ElectroMagnetic Superweapons called Longitudinal Wave Interferometers, or Tesla Howizters.

1944–50 | Project Seal make tsunamis possible using multiple atomic charges on fault lines.

1958 | White House DOD studying ways to manipulate charges of earth and sky.

1960 | Series of manmade weather disasters begin | 22 May 1960: the Great Chilean Earthquake of 9.5M – the most powerful ever recorded.

1961/64 | Cannons shoot 150 kg Martlets containing Aluminium foil and Copper needles 6.6 km into ionosphere orbit and alter Earth's Magnetic Field . . . resulting in the 9.2 Magnitude, 5 minute long Great Alaska Earthquake of 27 March 1964.

1972 | Precursor to HAARP in Norway reports on 100 megawatt ionosphere heater experiments.

1978 | Soviet Union explodes a 10 megaton nuclear bomb (shockwave bomb) creating the Iran earthquake 36 hours later.

1979 | Americans unleashed one or two of their newly developed 'atomic powered' earthquake weapons (shockwave bomb/ Tesla Electromagnetic Pulse Weapon) on Yugoslavia.

1985 | Eastlund applies for patent to alter Earth's atmosphere that leads to HAARP.

1994 | Military buys Eastlund patents to build the biggest ionosphere heater – HAARP tested.

1995 | Americans cause Kobe earthquake with Tesla technology using electromagnetic power device applying force inside the Earth, ElectroMagnetic Pulse, Giant Plasma weapons positioned in Earth's orbit, Sonic technology, and/or microwave weapon.

1998 | Papua New Guinea Earthquake caused by HAARP results in three locations for the epicentre, a fast, high, deep running, mulitple-wave tsunami that scientists can't understand, with fire seen on the water and burnt fish. It was the deadliest tsunami of the 20th Century.

Nobel Prize winning Scalar Scientist Tom Bearden explains one method to create an Earthquake/ Tsunami: Two scalar beams cross each other creating an interference zone where longitudinal waves travel through the earth to a set of earthquake faults. Deposit EM energy in rocks on both sides, slowly increasing to get crystal mechanical movements, an earthquake, and remote near blameless warfare.

2001–2017 | HAARP operations in full development (High-Frequency Active Auroral Research Program) run by the Pentagon and taken over by Israel that runs the Pentagon. HAARP radiates a 1.7 billion watt beam into the ionosphere 37–620 miles up and boils it, then bounces the long wave radiations back onto the earth, penetrating the ground, oceans, and the human body. HAARP can create nuclear-sized explosions without radiation (patent 4,873,928) and renders all prior nuclear weapons useless, so disarmament is on the way.

11 September 2001 | America displays its HAARP weapon on itself in 9/11.

23 September 2001 | Russia no longer objects to the U.S. use of HAARP type weapons against 'terrorists' anywhere in the world, including close to Russia, and people governments' don't like. Nuclear disarmament is announced and publicly begins.

3 March 2002 | Afghan Earthquake triggered by U.S. aviation super-modern weapons. U.S. forces use nuclear mines in the mountainous terrain of Afghanistan.

6 March 2002 | Philippines Earthquake triggered by U.S. using similar methods.

26 December 2004 | Indian Ocean Earthquake and Boxing Day Tsunami triggered by HAARP.

2009 | Nautilus Projector in space disappears a 2 km long island in the Gulf of Mexico.

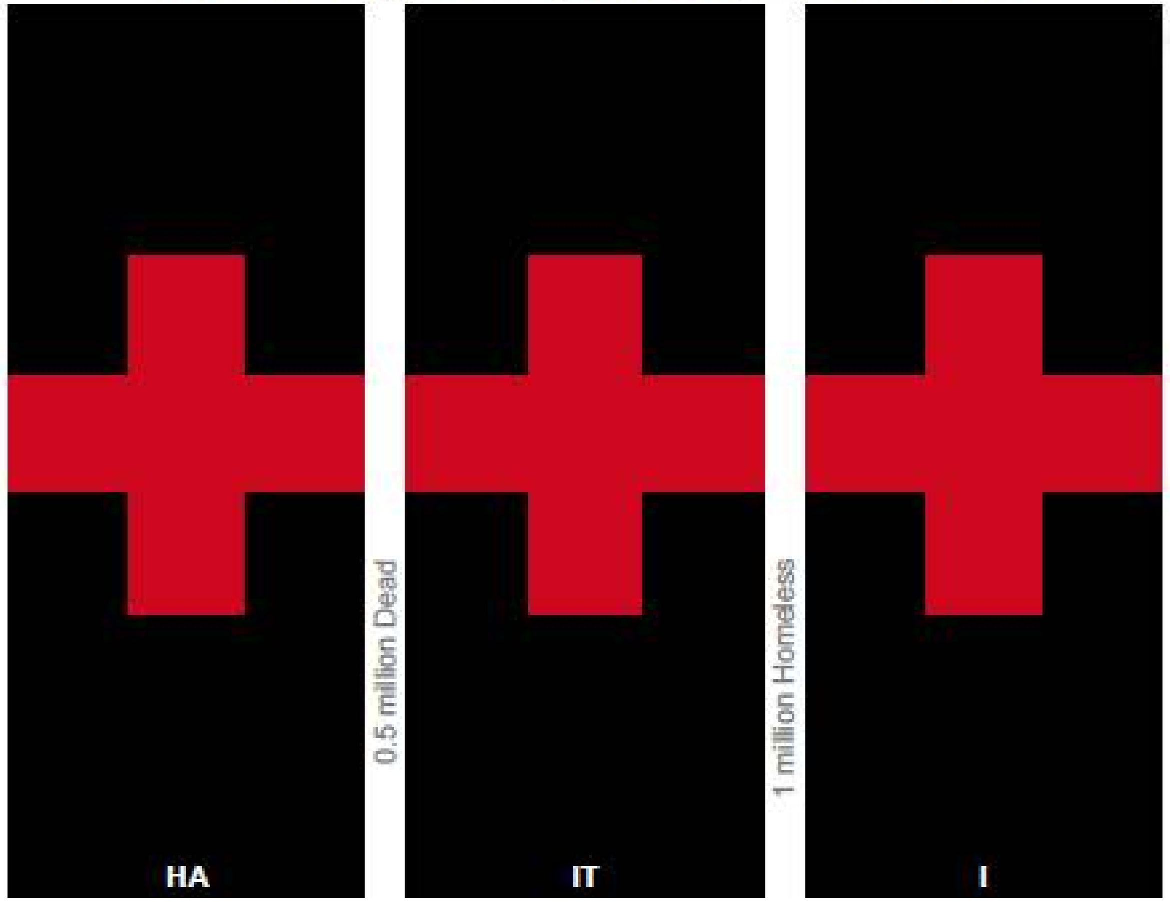
29 September 2009 | Samoa Tsunami triggered by HAARP. This was requested by a Queen's Counsel Lawyer/ Mafia Boss in New Zealand to the Crown Prosecutor of Auckland, Simon Moore, Deputy Master of the Pakuranga Hunt Club / Fletchers / Rockefeller to HAARP. It was a targetted hit, as were all the others listed. It killed 189, hit the targets, but didn't kill them.

30 September 2009 | Sumatra Earthquake automatically followed in 16 hours. It killed 1,115. Including the 40 Mr Asia heroin trafficking syndicate murders, this brings the New Zealand mafia boss, Peter Alderidge Williams QC murders to 1,344.

12 January 2010 | Haiti Earthquake triggered by US Navy Tesla Howitzer / Longitudinal Wave Interferometer/ scalar electromagnetic superweapon causing liquification of the ground.

27 February 2010 | HAARP generates ≤ 5 ULF creating a slow moving 4 km oval ring of light 3 km up in the sky. 8 hours later, Chile is hit by an 8.8 M Earthquake.

Goal: Militarize the Oil/Heroin zone | Kill/ Neutralize/ Remove the citizens |
Neutralize/make dependent the governments | Extract the oil/ heroin.



PONEROLOGY

the study of evil within theology

Through the ages, history and moral philosophy (guides of right conduct) have failed to investigate the origin, nature, and course of evil. As a result, the origin and study of evil has been placed outside the conventional worldview, leaving the common man with no understanding of evil or world events.

Ponerology is the modern day scientific study of the secrets of evil – from the Greek 'poneros'.

Polish psychiatrist Andrzej Łobaczewski, gave the name "Ponerology" to the interdisciplinary study of evil – causes behind periods of social injustice – using data from history, philosophy, psychology, psychopathology, sociology and recent advances in medicine, to account for aggressive war, ethnic cleansing, genocide and police states.

The original theory and research was conducted by psychologists and psychiatrists working in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary before Communism became institutionalised there.

Ponerology studies the various causal components of evil, regardless of who, what, or where, and the effects of pathological factors whose carriers are characterized by some degree of psychological deviation amounting to defective leader/s.

PONER·GEO·POLOGY

the study of evil within Geopolitics

Poner·geo·pology is the study of the evil acts of people operating with worldwide influence, their training and control mechanisms (mainly their shame) and includes:
their apologies expressed throughout the media, without them owning up to the fact that they were complicit as a primary player in the cause of the manmade tragedy, which they and their cartels profited from.

PonerGeoPology is the study of evil within apparent good for control of humans and the world's resources . . .
and to prevent others doing the same.
It has all the hallmarks of a race to the end.
Its primary hallmark is destruction.

That our world leaders are 'Pirate Captains' is an evidential starting point.

Red Cross
is now a player in Ponergeopology.

OK.

Let me know when you want to send it. We just got home.

Can do it now

Are you there?

Institute
Institution Approval for use of these words is normally given only to those organisations which are carrying out research at the highest level or to professional bodies of the highest standing. You will need to show us that there is a need for the proposed institute and that it has appropriate regulations or examination standards. You will need evidence of support from other representative and independent bodies.

What's this?

I've no idea

Greg Hallett posted file THE SEX COLLECTORS – HEROIN TICKET – NATO & the UN Wanted War Criminals – Greg Hallett 2 pages.pdf to members of this chat

3:08 PM Greg Hallett: "It comes from a Jewish group in the States – probably B'nai B'rith – that censors virtually everything that comes over the internet. So much for Skype being secure."

Spymaster: "Sometimes these things have a Christian name, that doesn't indicate the Jewish origin of them. The Jewish outfits say to the Western Governments: 'We will take all this onerous surveillance work off you, and we will report the result once a year'.

"In reality what they give the Western Govt.s is just bullshit. They can bullshit because they even control the control mechanisms – all the communication companies. That was the big payoff for 9-11 – controlling aviation security – who got on and who got off airplanes. Interpol and the FBI then ask the Jews where their targets are going b/c the Jews have everybody's itinerary."

So "Institute" is the B'nai B'rith censoring material on the internet, including Skype interviews and Skype Chats. They don't appreciate material like: "Bill Clinton is the son of Winston Churchill and Pamela Harriman" as per the Dr James Fetzer/ Greg Hallett interview the day before (10–12 am 29 January 2010, NZ Time, 19 hours ahead of CST) and information that PEARL HARBOR AND WAS AN INSIDE JOB between the British and U.S., as discussed during the 'not-carried-out, unsigned, misnamed Atlantic Charter', which was a cigar-smoking piss-up about Checker Children placing the twice illegitimate grandson of King Edward VII, son of Winston Churchill and the British Aristocracy's Pamela Digby Churchill, as leader of the British Plantation known as America – a.k.a. PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Webversity – To be or not to be Censored

It appears that we are carrying out research at the highest levels and are a professional body of the highest standing . . . now required to form an Institute with Regulations and Examinations. A slap or pat on the back from the controlling censors.

In order to achieve this, we now require other independent representative bodies to agree.

So we're a Skyping Webcasting Internet University. Dr James Fetzer certainly has the qualifications with 28 or more books and Professor Emeritus at the University of Minnesota Duluth, retired after 35 years in June 2006. I have nine books (including these) and I'm just scratching the surface.

So we're becoming a Web University – "Webversity" – and the Jewish censors at the highest levels, with access to the control the control mechanisms of all the communication companies – are learning from us. It appears that we are at the fourth level of history – that is, 'what actually went down' – Military Intelligence. Their role is to ensure that "only the agenda is carried out". My role is to ensure that "only the agenda is not carried out".

Why not. Afterall, I am the leaf on the twig of a branch of a tree that's had multiple roots. You know it as the 'Diplomatic Corp' . . . which I call 'The Sodomy Olympics'. I leave the brown love to the Mafia for their own contortions.

When Military Intelligence – true history – is exposed, there is 100 % increase in the chances of predicting future outcomes, and from further back in time.

Prince Billy James Churchill Rex (Censored) – Bill Clinton

So when Bill Clinton became the Special Envoy to Haiti on 17 May 2009, the results are the same as if the grandson of King Edward VII was the Viceroy of Haiti – the extraction of minerals and resources and the slavery and sickness of the locals to the point of civil war – with or without it.

Slavery ended in Haiti in 1803, but they're trying to bring it back.

The only difference is, more modern techniques are used and this includes HAARP created earthquakes, having the British Plantation's navy at the ready for the simulation of a hurricane exercise (but it wasn't hurricane season), using the earthquake to create fissures to make the hydrocarbons (oil) more accessible, dumping U.S. Marines in the destroyed government palace grounds, taking over elements of the government as though it was a coup d'etat, and like civil war, destroying the society for the next ten years while the mining is underway, and doing all of this under the appeasement of 'aid', with the help of the media, who avoid fourth level intelligence as though it was the plague on which to never be promoted, with the Intelligence sluts – the UN and the Red Cross – specialising in extracting local information and village heirachy, without helping (by stealing and eating the local goats), and all the Red Cross heads being U.S. Naval Intelligence working with the CIA for the expansion of American business outside America.

So when Bill Clinton was announced the United Nations' Special Envoy to Haiti on 17 May 2009, you can bet that he will be a ponergeopologist for the manmade destruction to come 240 days later . . . the 12 January 2010 liquification of Haiti earthquake.

The United Nations named Clinton as its special envoy to Haiti, with a mission to help the impoverished nation achieve some measure of stability after devastating floods and other crises.

The four HAARP hurricanes over 1 month – Fay, Gustav, Hanna and Ike – killed 736/800+ people in Haiti and created disaster areas in 90% of Haiti's ten regions, with widespread flooding and fatal mudslides. Crops and livestock wiped out. Thousands of homes were destroyed or damaged and tens of thousands were left homeless in what was described as "one of the worst disasters in its history" . . . until the manmade earthquakes struck Haiti.

"The World Bank says the disaster [4 hurricanes] caused almost $1 billion in damage in Haiti, the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere, where about half the population live on under US$1 a day."[63] And 80 % under US$2 . . . if that ain't slavery . . .

President Rene Preval called the situation "catastrophic", comparing it to the floods from Tropical Storm Jeanne in September 2004 that killed more than 3,000 people around Gonaïves.

Haiti's Hurricanes (15 August–15 September 2008)
The Hurricane season is 1 June to 30 November. An average season has 10 tropical storms, of which six strengthen into hurricanes. Haiti got four hurricanes in one month. They were arguably HAARP targeted, designed to destroy local food sources, render Haiti unliveable, unihabitable, and cause a mass exodus, thus leaving Haiti to America to mine its resources unhindered.

Haitia was hit by Hurricane/Tropical Storm Fay (15–28 August 2008) and killed around 50 people. It was near hurricane strength and was the first known storm in history to make landfall on Florida four times, mainly due to its 'S' shaped path, but still weather controlled, and a heavy-handed statement: 'We even own the retired Jews'.

Ten days later, Hurricane Gustav (25 August–5 September 2008) killed around 75, causing US$6.61 billion in damage to Haiti, Jamaica, the Cayman Islands, Cuba (Category 4).

Three days later, Hurricane Hanna (28 August–8 September 2008) unexpectedly smashed into Haiti as though it was led by HAARP, killing at least 537 in Haiti (Category 1).

Four days later, Hurricane Ike (1–15 September 2008) killed at least 74 people in Haiti. (Category 4 x 2).

Hurricane Hanna hit Haiti's port city, Gonaïves, which was submerged under 2 metres (6.5') of water. Roads and bridges were destroyed, 95 % percent of city's shops were flooded, as were the food warehouses and hospitals. 240,000 of the 300,000 residents (80 %) moved to their rooftops and at least 48,000 sought refuge in makeshift shelters with no food, water, toilets and medical supplies. There was nothing to cook with, or sleep on. This resulted in massive diarrhoea and skin diseases. Supplies had to be brought in by helicopter and boat.

Hurricane Ike was the largest observed tropical cyclone in the Atlantic basin (600 x 240 miles/ 965 x 390 km). Ike had the highest 'Integrated Kinetic Energy' (IKE) of any Atlantic storm, underwent "explosive intensification", went to Category 4 twice, and developed an eye on 3 September 2008 as it went over Haiti. It had a destructive scale of 5.6/ 6 and was the third most destructive U.S. hurricane on record, causing US $32 billion in damage.

Hurricane Ike (Integrated Kinetic Energy) had HAARP written all over it.
The total damage to Haiti (15 August–15 September 2008) was US$1 billion.

Then along came Bill . . . Prince William James Churchill Rex . . . Clinton, as the UN's Special Envoy and Ponergeopology's main media man with his rockstar political status and 'Peacemaker' legend – the same as his grandfather King Edward VII.

Bill Clinton, 19 May 2009: "I believe Haiti is better positioned to make progress for all its people than at any time since I first visited in 1978. Last year's natural disasters [Hurriances 2008] took a great toll, but Haiti's government and people have the determination and ability to . . . lay the foundations for the long-term sustainable development that has eluded them for so long."[64]

Well, Bill, exactly the opposite happened. It got worse. Much worse. As bad as it can get.

Aristide also looted government coffers, wrote cheques to front companies for nonexistent purchases, padded invoices to get kickbacks from vendors, secretly owned companies that cheated Haiti of taxes and stole laundered money through shell companies. He set up secret bank accounts in the United States, and had offshore tax havens in the Turks, Caicos, and British Virgin Islands. This is documented by copies of bank cheques, bank transfer documents, invoices, company payment statements, incorporation papers, and sworn testimony.

A Short History of Haiti and Recent Presidents

The Haitian Revolution (1791–1803) eliminated slavery in the French colony of Saint-Domingue becoming independent from France on 1 January 1804, complete with Governor-General. The Empire of Haiti was then born on 8 October 1804 – the first republic ruled by Africans, and the first Black Republic, which is a source of enormous pride.[65]

G-G Jean-Jacques Dessalines, who did the announcing, pronounced himself 'Emperor Jacques I' (22 September 1804–17 October 1806) after which the position was abolished.

President Faustin-Élie Soulouque (2 March 1847–22 January 1859) was intended to be a dull and ignorant puppet. However, 2.5 years into his rule ((26 August 1849), he declared himself 'Emperor of Haïti, Faustin I of Haiti', and ruled absolutely for the next 10 years.

There was a revolution in 1858, a successful takeover by December, and Emperor Faustin abdicated his throne on 15 January 1859, and removed as President a week later.

This ended Haiti's Post-Revolutionary period (1804–59), although the revolutions continued ad infinitum.

This was followed by the Post-Imperial period (1859–1915).

'Emperor Jacques I' great-grandson, Cincinnatus Leconte, then became President of Haiti (14 August 1911–8 August 1912).

President François Duvalier 'Papa Doc' (22 October 1957–21 April 1971) based his rule on voodoo, a rural militia, and a personality cult. This empirical combination resulted in a brain drain from which Haiti has never recovered.

But things didn't get any better as Papa Doc was succeeded by his 19-year-old son, Baby Doc.

President Jean-Claude Duvalier 'Baby Doc' (21 April 1971–6 February 1986) took over after his father's death, declared himself president for life, was brutal and corrupt, then overthrown by popular uprising.

Baby Doc moved to Paris to live in exile. France did not grant him asylum, nor was he successfully exiled back to Haiti. On 16 January 2010, Baby Doc announced he would formally ask the Simone Ovide Duvalier Foundation (set up in his mother's name) to transfer US$8 million of its assets to the American Red Cross for the 2010 Haiti earthquake.[66]

So Baby Doc wasn't exactly without funds, although he still claims he's fallen on hard times.

President (General) Henri Namphy (7 February 1986–7 February 1988).

President Leslie François Manigat (7 February– 20 June 1988) gained 50.29% of the votes with a 10 % turnout. He was deposed by the preceding President, General Henri Namphy.

President (General) Henri Namphy (20 June–17 September 1988), deposed.

President Prosper Avril (17 September 1988–10 March 1990) was removed by street riots. Avril was then jailed (2001–04) by the ex-Roman Catholic priest, Aristide, shortly before Jean-Bertrand Aristide became President (7 February 2001) and shortly after Astride was removed by coup d'etat (29 February 2004).

President Hérard Abraham (10–13 March 1990) held power for 3 days and was the only military leader of the C20th to give up power voluntarily. Well done. They all should do it.

[65] Haiti has been variously known as Hispaniola Island, Santo Domingo, San Domingo Island, The Spanish Island, Grande Terre, Saint-Domingue (French colony), Empire of Haiti (1804) in the West (French) and the Dominican Republican in the East (Spanish). Haiti (W) and the Domincan Republic (E) are joined on the same island.

First Provisional President Ertha Pascal-Trouillot (13 March 1990–7 February 1991) was the first woman to hold that office, although only for 331 days.

Jean-Bertrand Aristide (7 February–30 September 1991) was a Roman Catholic priest who became Haiti's first democratically-elected leader, with René Préval as Prime Minister. Aristide was removed by U.S. backed Army coup d'etat. U.S. pressure also prevented Joseph Nérette becoming the Provisional President, thus creating an unstable military state for the next three years. Aristide spent his exile in Argentina, then the U.S. (Sept. 1991–Oct. 94).

Haitian Military Junta leader, Raoul Cédras was de facto ruler (30 Sept. 1991–12 Oct. 1994) holding the real power over the next three Provisional 'Acting' Presidents.

Provisional President Joseph Nérette (8 October 1991–19 June 1992).

Provisional President Marc Louis Bazin (19 June 1992–15 June 1993), also Prime Minister.

Provisional President Émile Jonassaint (12 May–12 October 1994). Under Clinton's directive, U.S. Army and Marines were deployed in Haiti to oust this dictatorship and reinstate Aristide.

Jean-Bertrand Aristide (12/15 October 1994–7 February 1996). The constitution does not allow for consecutive terms.

Aristide and Préval were allys, so Préval got 88 % of the vote, but only 25 % of the pop. voted.

René Préval (7 February 1996–7 February 2001) with substantial rioting in Gonaïves in the early 2000s, backed by Aristide.

Jean-Bertrand Aristide (7 February 2001–29 February 2004). The Revolutionary Artibonite Resistance Front seized control of Gonaïves (5–29 February 2004) and started the 2004 Haïtian rebellion. The coup d'etat was supported by the US, France, and Canada and the U.S. flew Aristide into exile on a U.S. plane. Astride claimed he was "kidnapped", then lived in exile in South Africa (2004–10+).[67] After the HAARP earthquake on 12 January 2010, Astride offered to return to Haiti.[68]

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Boniface Alexandre, became Provisional/ Acting President (29 Feb. 2004–14 May 2006);

President René Préval (14 May 2006–2010+) is also commander-in-chief of the Military of Haiti. In April 2008 there were violent riots over high food prices, followed by looting, then the government was replaced, but not the President, who "urged Haitians to become agriculturally self-sufficient [but] did not say he would urge Haiti's congress to cut taxes on imported food."[69] Four months later, four hurricanes destroyed any agricultural self-sufficiency.

So Haiti is run by a 20-year shared dictatorship between Jean-Bertrand Aristide and René Préval (1991–2010+) with America showing its muscle and controlling Haiti in the background – ever since HAARP came on board as a possibility – now a probability, and a future likelihood wherever there is oil, or heroin, or a port to ship heroin.

12 January 2010 Earthquake: President René Préval and First Lady Elisabeth Delatour Préval were about to enter the National Palace – the residence of the President – when the earthquake struck. They walked away as their palace home collapsed and escaped injury.

How convenient for what is clearly a dual dictatorship for American interests.

Trevor Roger

Intelligence word: “Trevor Roger is a two-time MP for National in Otara and Howick [1990–96] charged with defrauding $3 million from a charitable trust. He got name suppression.” I got word of it around 20 January 2009 when they were before the courts, and before the courts had officially opened for the year, so I looked up his history.

“Former National Party politician Trevor Roger left the National Party to form and lead the Right Of Centre Party in 2000, then changed its name to ‘The Conservative Party’, then bowed out of politics altogether in 2001.

“In 1993, Trevor Roger tabled a private members bill in Parliament – the ‘Technology and Crimes Reform Private Members Bill’ where he wanted to: ‘Disconnect your phone for five years if it was proven to have been used to transmit ‘objectionable material’; and any objectionable communication with a foreign website would result in the Internet Service Provider ordered to cut their services off.[1]

A big thinker, with leanings between facism and rescuing the wounded, Trevor Roger fell short of reality, but managed to suck in some big names and big money from ‘others who wanted to help’.

Trevor Roger tried to develop the ‘Snark’ in New Zealand – an unmanned diesel-powered, radio controlled, military helicopter, almost undetectable by heat-seeking missiles, capable of 280 km/h and 24 hours continuous flying due exhaust recycling. The Snark has surveillance equipment, infrared/cameras, listening devices, and is extremely quiet.

It's designed and produced by TGR Helicorp but it's debateable whether it actually existed.

Mr Roger formed TGR Helicorp Ltd in 1997 and launched his innovative Unmanned Combat Aerial Vehicle (UCAV) – ‘The Snark’, at the 2005 Paris Air Show, but it was only a graphic. He had taken video games too far.

UVS INTERNATIONAL - NEWS FLASH

TGR Helicorp Unveils SNARK VTOL UAV

Auckland, New Zealand - June 4, 2004

TGR Helicorp Ltd, a New Zealand UAV manufacturer and member of UVS International, today released details of its VTOL UAV (full size) attack/defence helicopter called the «Snark» and announced that it is now close to flight trials for its Mk 2 pre-production «Snark».

This VTOL UAV has some notable features: autonomous flight take-off and landing systems; long range capability; satellite aircraft control over a long range; landing selection and ground level auto landing systems; automatic obstruction sensor system for landing and take-off. Snark comes complete with its stand alone hanger transporter system. The UAV can be assembled or dismantled from its base station hanger in 4 hours, (single operator, no pilot required) and with all maintenance and servicing requirements including stand alone power supply. The Snark's on-board computer has multiple smart expert systems to launch/fly and control the UAV's pre-programmed mission, which is overviewed by the base station operator. Snark has two real time data imagery/infra-red data collection cameras (front and rear), with an attack designator on the forward camera to target attack and defence ordnance. A full stealth carbon fibre fuselage, carbon fibre rotor blades and a multi blade fenistron tail rotor system, makes this aircraft very hard to locate in combat.Engine exhaust gases are internally cooled to eliminate any heat signature, making it extremely difficult to lock a heat seeking missile onto Snark.

Its self defence ordnance system includes computer targeting and fire control. Snark is fully armed with separate attack and defence ordnance systems designed and built at TGR Helicorp's own facility in Auckland. The Snark can pick up two injured soldiers and carry them back to base using computer override systems controlled by the base station operator. The UAV at present has 9 optional mission systems available with various range options for: payload, ordnance, supplies/ammunition, fuel deliveries, a full attack mission and long range loiter and observation options.

The aerial vehicle weighs in at 1100 lbs with a gross weight of 2480 lbs giving the helicopter a payload of 1280 lbs. With its superior 20-hour-plus flight range capability, Snark can undertake long range missions with a variety of optional packages. Its twin, four-barrel, 1 inch TGR Z4 defence rocket system will target, interrogate and automatically destroy an unidentified enemy well clear of the Snark. And the twin, 12 pod, 2.75 inch (24) rockets main attack ordnance provides a serious attack capability, coupled with optional radar systems and real time imaging back to the base station.

Snark is the first diesel powered helicopter and diesel powered UAV in the world today, and TGR believes diesel power is the cutting edge way of the future. TGR has a close working relationship with a diesel aircraft engine manufacturer who has developed the world's first vertical supercharged and turbo intercooled two stroke diesel aircraft engine. TGR is involved with ongoing engine electronics development work and is about to undertake a certification test program for the vertical diesel engine, which will also be used in TGR's new, three-seat light commercial helicopter. The three-seater is targeted for FAR 27 certification in 18 months in full cooperation and association with the engine manufacturer.

In combination with TGR-designed aircraft mechanicals, TGR believes this diesel engine will resolve many present UAV problems, including Navy acceptance for ship operated VTOL UAV helicopters. Diesel is a safer, lower combustible fuel which is compatible with navy ships' own fuel requirements.

Phenomenal performance, extended range and a rethink of accepted engine capability rewrites the book on engine performance, said Trevor Rogers, TGR's president and technical director. «TGR thinks mostly out of the square,» he said, «and our engine manufacturer is with us, pushing the boundaries and keeping right up there with us.»

The Snark helicopter was to be 8 metres long, the world's first diesel helicopter, satellite-controlled with full stealth capabilities, automatic weapons system including rocket launchers, run by satellite, and yours for US$5 million.

Gizmag 'the emerging technology magazine' was also sucked in by the graphic and reported, the Snark is "the meanest Unmanned Combat Aerial Vehicle in the World".

TGR Helicorp backed this up with: The Snark is "Fierce and Nasty"; but TGR stands for 'Trevor & Glenda Roger', who were still seeking funding for his graphic. Trevor Roger then tried to manufacture The Snark in East Tamaki, Auckland, as the only licensed helicopter manufacturer in the Southern Hemisphere"[2], but "TGR was not a member of the Aviation Industry Association (AIA)"[3] and nor were any of their vehicles tested by the Civil Aviation Authority (CAA). Despite this, his wife Glenda Roger, still managed to get funding.

Glenda Roger is a director of Virgin Concepts Ltd. At first I thought this was selling beauty products, but no, Virgin Concepts Ltd were given a grant of $75,000 in the 2001/02 round, then $25,000 in the 2002/03 round as part of a $100,000 contract, "To design and develop an electronic control system to remotely control unmanned aircraft military helicopter (VTUAV), contract Number VGCC0101) under Output Class(es) '9.0 Grants for Private Sector Research and Development (GPSRD)', by the Foundation for Research, Science & Technology, 'Investing in innovation for New Zealand's future'. TGR Helicorp also got $100,000 from FRST. The only tangible result were two $400 graphics and a plywood mock-up.

FRST: "Our mission: 'Actively growing value for New Zealand by investing for results from research and development.' We invest close to $500 million a year in science and technology research on behalf of the New Zealand Government, seeking benefits to New Zealand's economy, environment and society."[4]

The CIA's contract killer Dame Margaret Bazley was the Chairman of FRST at the time (May 2001–April 2008), yet FRST staff could not even provide any contact details for Chairman Bazley. She was spending her time rooting mental health patients and paying male prostitutes to gang-bang her. MICK P: "She is very private".

FRST replaced the respectable Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DSIR) and now for $10,000, FRST will change your methamphetamine result to a household product.

2 Uncensored magazine, Mikey Havoc's Column: The Snark, 14 January 2006, heavily paraphrased.
3 New Zealand Press Association, Wellington, 26 May 2008.
4 www.frst.govt.nz.

With the TGR venture failing on a military level, on a real level, and on a realised level, Trevor tried for funding as a rescue helicopter, with the arms removed, à la Lord of War – the 2005 movie starring Nicholas Cage.

Touting its unmanned capabilities to rescue mountain climbers off Mount Everest, Trevor and Glenda Roger drew in prominent patrons, Peter Hillary (son of the CIA asset Sir Edmund Hillary) and Mark Inglis, a mountaineering double amputee and leading motivational speaker. (God, and-I-don't-use-your-name-lightly, they're boring.)

Trevor Roger was the founding trustee and contact for the 'Everest Rescue Trust', as in Trevor Rogers Founding Trustee Everest Rescue Trust enquiry @ rescueoneverest. org (www. rescueoneverest.org) and they operated out of the same premises in East Tamaki – TGR Helicopters and 'Rescue on Everest' Trust:

> "Everest Rescue Trust Launches Kids Adventure Programme NZ Schools join global interactive campaign to learn about Nepal and Everest while following the Rescue on Everest Challenge at www. rescueoneverest.org Auckland, New Zealand, 13 March 2007: Today, the Everest Rescue Trust launches its Kids Adventure distance learning programme . . . In consultation with New Zealand education authorities, the Trust has developed a comprehensive and interactive schools project to run in tandem with the Rescue on Everest challenge . . . tailored to students aged between eight and twelve . . . enthusiastically endorsed by teachers . . . said Trevor Rogers, Founding Trustee of the Everest Rescue Trust. The schools project is available free of charge to all primary and intermediate English-speaking school-age children . . . said Bob Lye, Project Manager of the Rescue on Everest Challenge . . . On the 1st of February 2007, the Everest Rescue Trust launched the Rescue on Everest Challenge to design, build and operate a self-funding rescue helicopter service for the extreme altitude regions of Nepal . . . After six years research, development and building of Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs) TGR Helicorp in East Tamaki New Zealand, has designed and developed an unpiloted full-size alpine rescue helicopter; the Alpine Wasp, which will be able to operate safely and autonomously at altitudes up to and beyond 30,000ft (over 9000m). Most helicopters are not designed to operate above a ceiling of about 14,000ft (4,300m). The company will be donating the Alpine Wasp to the Everest Rescue Trust. It will be capable of airlifting up to two sick or injured climbers at a time from extreme altitude, using ultra-modern composite technologies, a revolutionary diesel helicopter engine and rotor blades designed especially for maximum performance in thin air. The Alpine Wasp represents a huge leap forward in helicopter performance and technological capability. The success of this project will increase the Trust's capability to help other people all over the world. The potential for pushing the boundaries of long range, high altitude rescue is unlimited, it could change the course of modern alpine aviation history."

So Trevor Roger got New Zealand Education funding, which means the Ministry of Education ("M.O.E.") is funding US military helicopter development. Why 'US'? Because Trevor had CIA heavies as his enforcers, and wanted to supply the US military.

TGR Helicorp claimed to have already developed an unmanned full-size rescue helicopter – the Alpine Wasp – made of high-tech composite materials and rotor blades designed specificially for thin air (as opposed to the fat air helicopters we normally ride in). But only one person ever claimed to have seen it, there were no rotor blades, and all she saw was a video mock-up and a plywood mock-up. TGR never flew a helicopter, not even a carbon fibre one.

TGR would test the Alpine Wasp on Mt Cook (3,754 metres high), and once the tests were complete, TGR would donate the helicopter to the Everest Rescue Trust, who would then establish a rescue service base at Namche Bazar in Nepal, 3,440 metres above sea level.

In support of this, Trevor Roger and the CIA employed the disgraced American spam artist Brendan Battles to spam off the Everest Rescue Trust website to get funding.

Sir Edmund Hilliary had worked for many intelligence agencies and one of them was the CIA. He was dropping radioactive listening devices on the Himalayas to spy on China. China retaliated and destroyed Tibet (part of the reason) and Sir Ed made it onto the New Zealand $5 note.

With charity being the new target, Trevor Roger was still touting for war: "Future wars will be fought with UAVs (Unmanned Air Vehicles)". Trevor had previously sought certification for military Wolverine helicopters and civilian Bandit helicopters, but there is no record of him succeeding. "A former Member of Parliament's dream to supply remotely-operated helicopters to the US military and a charity rescue base in Nepal is in limbo after the company was put in to receivership"[5] on 2 April 2008.

"Former MP for Howick Trevor Roger had run the East Tamaki-based TGR Helicorp Ltd for many years, but now the building is empty and For Lease signs stand outside. The charity operating out of the same premises, 'Rescue on Everest', still appears to be accepting donations online [until 4 May 2008][6] and Trevor's website still features computer generated images of the helicopters, but there are no real photos, and their whereabouts is unknown.

When the Times rang the TGR office it was diverted to his voicemail, then the charity's phone immediately cut off. New Zealand Truth (a disregarded weekly that tends to get things right first time) reported earlier that there was some speculation as to where the company's assets were. The investigator, John Landrigan, is now with the Aucklander, part of the Herald.

TGR went into receivership on 2 April 2008 with the receivers' report is due two months later. The Directors of TGR Helicorp Ltd include Howick's Arthur Noel French, a director of Auckland Masonic Centre Ltd; and Trevor Roger, whose Ultra Helicopters Inc (NZ) Ltd is also in receivership. The Freemason's used to talk in terms of "DWI" – Defender of White Integrity. So where is it now? The Everest Rescue Trust charity was cover for Trevor and Glenda Roger's frauds, which were cover for the CIA's military helicopter development.

Association with charity is a little like a knighthood – they tend to make one untouchable for the duration of the fraud. It works time and time again, often for decades. Women's Refuge, one of the biggest research frauds in history, is the best at it. So good in fact, that they became a government department for extremely ugly and mentally ill women – enforced lesbians – with NZ$6 million in guaranteed government grants each year.

Trevor Rogers...Trust founder

Companies Office records show the Roger family holds 3.1 million of TGR's 5.7 million shares. The masonic Mr French holds 0.77 million shares. Trevor Roger is also a director of EP Research & Development Inc Ltd.

Son of a Freemason: "I met Trevor Roger in 1997/98. He was in his early 60s then and had the swagger of someone with backing. He was with French who was then in his early 80s. Arthur French is a bean counter (accountant), a Freemason, and a serial prolific shareholder. Trevor Roger mentioned that he was selling helicopter parts."

Some guys who worked with Trevor Roger during this time said: "He's a pile of shit. All we do is assemble trailers. Nothing's going to come of it, but he does have heavyduty CIA connections, he is connected to the Everest Trust, and you'd better not say anything against him because it won't go anywhere. "

A different source said: "Others had been looking at this concept before Trevor. It was nothing new, it just hadn't been developed."

John Landrigan talking with the author, 11 March 2009: "When I broke this story in The Truth Trevor and Glenda Roger went into immediate action [with the CIA] and began securing their assets" with their accountants Deloitte's Auckland Office (Deloitte House, 8 Nelson Street) and the Companies office . . . and when it came to receivership, it was Deloitte's Wellington Office (10 Brandon Street) who became the official receivers. So it was all an in-house job.

The security Trevor and Glenda Roger offered was "Goods - Other" and the Collateral Type was "All Present And After Acquired Personal Property" which was no security at all. On this basis, they got $120,000 from Marac Finance and $660,000 from the private Bastia Investments (George/Sonia Glaister & Peter/Andrea/David Barry). Well off rural KIWI's also put in a couple of million and one of these family members died on 2 March 2009.

Since Deloitte is CIA connected, when the receivers were called in, TGR was given 4–5 weeks notice. The General Security Agreement was dated 5 March 2008, and by the time the receivers were called in on 2 April 2008 for "all assets and effects whatsoever", TGR Helicorp had already loaded everything into two containers, all except for a computer and a van which sold for $2,150.

When this went to court, Judge Peter Woodhouse ruled that the receivers could have everything except what was in the two containers, which was everything except the van and the computer. There was also $1,400 in their bank account as at 2 October 2008, probably from donations to the Everest Rescue Trust from stupid KIWIs – Keen Interest Without Intelligence.

With all the charity funding frauds, the CIA had also organised the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to refuse an export order for the helicopters. This gave TGR an excuse to pack up and leave. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs then refused to confirm or deny that TGR Helicorp had applied for a permit to export. So it was all very in-house at a government level as well.

Deloitte Wellington then produced the receivers report on 2 October 2008. Deloitte is full of excuses. As one of the five major accounting firms all they do is offer excuses as their receivers report shows. Deloitte Wellington did the receiving for their client at Deloitte Auckland.

Deloitte | TGR Helicorp Limited (In Receivership) [confused as two separate reports]:

"A van was uplifted by the receivers and has been sold." [$2,150]

"As at our appointment $660,000 was owed to the appointer as secured debt."
[That is $660,000 is owed to Bastia Investments, but they don't have first pick . . .]

"Marac Finance Limited as at 14 April 2008 is owed $120,000."

"Mr and Mrs Rogers have not yet advised the amount of the debt owed to them."
[Deloitte are giving preference to Trevor and Glenda Roger]

"We have received claims in the receivership from preferential creditors totalling $515,000." [Deloitte does not state here that Trevor and Glenda Roger are the preferential creditor]

"It appears unlikely . . . that there will be any funds available . . . . other than preferential or secured creditors."

The preferential creditors are Trevor and Glenda Roger (mispelt by Deloitte's as T.V. and G.F. Rogers for $250,000, followed by Bastia[7] Investments for $660,000.

The secured creditors and first charge holder were T.V. and G.F. Rogers under a General Security Agreement dated 29 February 2008 and registered 4 March 2008. This meant that Trevor and Glenda Roger get the first $250,000 . . . but they've not made their claim.

Trevor and Glenda Roger registered this agreement the day before the receivers were called on 5 March 2008. Talk about in-house cons.

The total owed was $2.961 million, plus the FRST funding of $100–$200,000 and the Everest Rescue Trust frauds, amounting to a total of $NZ3.1 million, or $3.6 million, depending on which Deloitte Receivers Report you look at. When they appeared in the Auckland District Court mid-January 2009 other politicians were amongst those accused.

[7] Internal Affairs Officer: "The name Bastia has turned up in drug-running inquiries".
Author: "If that's the case, that's how the CIA have control of them".

In all fairness, we have to ask where was the fraud. $3.1 million was dished out to TGR Helicorp, all the parts have been shipped overseas in two containers (controlled by the CIA) leaving an empty warehouse with one van and one computer ($2,150) and $1,400.

It seems that the CIA have used New Zealand's Foundation for Research, Science & Technology (FRST), the Ministry of Education, and private suckers to fund the development of their military helicopters using one of the dumbest patsy MP's in history. So no doubt these organisations were all headed at some level by CIA agents.

So here's some background on the likely parties involved:

> FRST's chairperson Dame Margaret Bazley is a CIA contract killer, so she's dead cert for funding an unmanned military attack helicopter (how feminist – unmanned).
> Mayors often influence funding decisions and the Mayor of Auckland John Banks (2001–04) and (2007–) is also a CIA agent.
> The Ministry of Education was compromised by it's Secretary, Karen Sewell, a gravely unpopular woman.

The CIA and the US Military were using New Zealand research money (no results required), New Zealand investment money (Keen Interest Without Intelligence – KIWI), New Zealand charity money (the bottomless pit of opportunists), and New Zealand Education money (stupid money) to develop their military helicopters.

Trevor Roger was a total entrepreneur as long as he made a buck. He worked for New Zealand Breweries and sold cheesecake rights in 1972, selling the Crofters brand to a chap in Edgecumbe who made it the largest cheesecake in Australasia, next to Sara Lee.

Like the cheesecake Mayor of Auckland John Banks (a CIA informant), both spend large amounts of other people's money on research which never comes to anything. Deloitte plays both sides of this coin, but primarily it works for the CIA . . . and we shouldn't forget that CIA stands for 'Communism In America', which is probably why the Ministry of Education wanted to help so desperately. After all, teachers are secret fascists being so socially inept 'n' all.

But wait, there's more. Trevor Roger and the CIA were blackmailing the Ministry of Education for funding, via the attrocious sex, death, child sex abuse and death record of those highest up.

This included the Secretary for Education, Karen Sewell, a former Green Bay High School Principal who sexually abused at least four 14-year-old girls in March 1997 (and was involved in a child murder).

Close by, and within a year, the Henderson High School principal Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell was killed by hanging during a sex act in Indonesia. The S&M went wrong, or right, or a little too far. Either way, it involved hanging with a plastic bag over his head and Mitchell died.

Karen Sewell was then promoted by Prime Minister Helen Clark to Chief Executive and Secretary for Education, to "re-engineer the education system" into the much criticised and soon to be abolished NCEA.

With this record (and Prime Minister Helen Clark's secret CIA status due to being sexually compromised by President Bush in January 2003) Karen Sewell gave out money to the CIA/US Military for development of their latest revolutionary breakthrough death star helicopter. This came with Helen Clark's approval and via the "Everest Rescue Trust global interactive Kids Adventure distance learning programme (March 2007) in consultation with New Zealand education authorities."

The money didn't go into development. It went into a press release and pockets.

Trevor Roger had the inside information on the Ministry of Education. He used this to get money out of them, then used the same information to silence them.

It was blackmail of the Ministry of Education.

Trevor Roger blackmailed the Ministry of Education.

The Secretary for Education, Karen Sewell, was blackmailed.

In return for Ministry of Education funding, Karen Sewell got CIA cover for her multiple child sex abuse and involvement in a child murder.

Internal Affairs Undercover: "Trevor Roger was given a 'we won't investigate you' from the Police Fraud Squad." Broken down, this is 'the Police and the Serious Fraud Office (SFO)' gave Trevor Roger immunity from investigation – and a wide birth in which to operate. "They gave it to him because he was vouched for by high-ranking National party figures – like the CIA's John Banks who was also the Minister of Police (1990–96) until he was removed for protecting paedophiles."

"On 1 November 1996, John Banks resigned as Minister of Tourism, Minister of Sport, Fitness and Leisure, Minister of Local Government, and Minister of Civil Defence. He had already resigned from Minister of Police earlier in the year. John Banks is a member of the Masonic Lodge of Parahaki No. 269."[8]

Maurice Williamson is also known to be a CIA informant, which is curious because I quite like him and he did some of the better investigations of the CIA/ Dupont crash of an Air New Zealand Flight 901 into Mt Erebus on 28 November 1979.

Internal Affairs Undercover: "This Trevor Roger Affair was during the time Inspector George Wood ran the SFO [ending in 1998]. The Fraud Squad received multiple complaints about Trevor Roger, from charities and individuals, but the SFO wrote the complaints off, because he had been vouched for by high ranking figures.[9]

"There were all sorts of rumours at the time . . . 'He's as crooked as a three-speed walking stick . . . He's been deemed non-viewable.'

"Trevor Roger was hooked up with Ashley Palmer, a convicted paedophile convicted of molesting kids in toilets, then he'd leave the kids crying behind him. The company that owned the public toilets started fitting these dead switches that opened the toilet door if no one used it [as a seat that flushes] for a certain time. So Ashley Palmer got caught in three or four different places and was sentenced to a big stretch of time in Paremoremo.

"Ashley Palmer kept going back to the High Court – Judge hunting – and he was on the verge of being branded litigous, when suddenly someone exempted him from all blame and cleared him.

"Ashley Palmer had been an Internal Affairs undercover, and worked for the cops. That he knew about paedophiles others were protecting [including Internal Affairs protection] meant that he could arrange for Internal Affairs to release him, also on paedophile charges. This included the Internal Affair's protection of child sex abuser Karen Sewell. To that we can add CIA protection."

To close off the increasingly known Serious Fraud Office frauds, the incumbent Labour Party tried to close the Serious Fraud Office in 2008 and merge it with the Police – another serious fraud. Labour were hoping that the last nine years of corruption records – of TOTALITARIAN STATE PROPORTIONS – would be lost in the moving and reshuffle.

I used to play golf with the Serious Fraud Office in the 1990s.

Inspector George Wood, former head of the SFO and Mayor of the North Shore (1998–2007) had this to say about education on the 'Character Education Programme of New Zealand':

> "I don't believe people are born with all the necessary attributes to develop their full potential in life.
> Many leadership and life skills must be learnt and developed as you grow up and go through life. Family, friends, workmates and other people we may meet all play a role in shaping and nurturing our character. Educating young people about values and ethics is a worthy and important way of helping them cope with this fast-moving, pressurised and constantly-changing world. We need to encourage our young people to be strong and stand up for what they believe is right, whatever pressures they may be under.
> If there is one virture, which I believe is above all others, it is that of integrity and good character."[10]

Translated as the two-faced, crime-supporting, kick-back artist George Wood is:

> "I don't believe in people's integrity and good character.
> I wasn't born with the necessary attributes to develop a full potential by anyone's standards. Leadership has to be stolen out of compromise, and this is a life skill that must be learnt and developed as you grow. We present a particular character to family, friends, workmates and others, and they all play a vital role in shaping and nurturing our cover. Presenting our cover to young people as 'values and ethics' is called 'education'. It is important and worth a lot for us to do this. It also helps young people accept the fast-moving, pressurised and constantly-changing world, making them easier to defraud later on, whether individually or on mass. We need to encourage young people to stand up for crimes we have committed and they didn't – to have a backbone for what we believe is right, and accept whatever pressures we may put them under. This is called Political Correctness and includes bleeding-heart donations.
> It used to be called 'Slavery'.
> If there is one virtue I believe in above all others, it is that of two-faced, crime-supporting, kick-back deceit. It's got me to where I am today."

"TGR thinks mostly out of the square."[11]

Arrhh, that would include reality. I find it interesting that Trevor Roger was charged with theft from charity in January 2009. Indications are that this was also Cerebal Palsy charity and Trevor was known to have visited Israel . . . and the Israelis, Eli Cara and Uri Kelman, officially caught on passport fraud, had to donate $50,000 to Cerebal Palsy for the murder of historian Michael King on 29 March 2004.[12]

John Banks and his close criminal associates

Archie Banks and Gus Parsons

The father of the Minister of Police and Mayor of Auckland John Banks' was the multiple convicted felon Archie Banks.

Archie Banks was a career criminal who worked hand in glove with Gus Parsons all their lives. They were a successful crime team because Gus Parsons was the longest serving policeman's narc in New Zealand's history, and he narced on everyone else.

In the 1970s and 80s, August "Gus" Parsons had Pandora's Box, a massage parlour in the Richmond Road shops. Gus was also a taxi driver for Co-op Taxis – New Zealand's largest and longest running – not without police support. Gus drove a cab, and picked up all the gossip, and sometimes delivered people to his brothel, or the crime, then picked them up. Whenever he got a complaint for bad behaviour with his passengers, it was simply swept under the carpet. Gus Parsons was still rooting boys until he was in his 80s.

Archie Banks was a 'Fence'. The Fence pays the criminals cash up front and then sells the goods on. Contract thieves steal and sell it on bulk, often to order, and John Bank's father, Archie Banks, was a fence who sold and distributed these stolen goods. Archie Banks was eventually convicted of being a getaway driver in a bank robbery.

John Banks (b. 1946–) traded his first suit for a set of stolen golf clubs that his father was fencing for. The golf clubs were left in the boot of the suit salesman's car.

Despite the suit and the golf clubs, Archie and his son John shared a lot together – mainly sodomy.

After spending his childhood in foster care (with a >50% chance of child sex abuse), John Banks was reunited with his parents at 15, and a victim of incestuous homosexual child sex abuse thereafter. His alcoholic mother drank, licked the labels off wine bottles, and when that distraction peeled off, she looked on. She was such a soak, she didn't actually know what she was looking at.

While John Banks was still at school, Archie Banks and his common law wife were sentenced and disappeared out of circulation for a couple of years, so schoolboy John took on Archie's role doing the bottle run. John Banks drove around in a Morris 8 towing a trailer at 3 am and picked up the empties from the sly grog joints and brothels. These were still going in the 1980s, although in a modified form from garages and spare rooms.

John Banks, the CIA, and all forms of entertainment

John Banks used to play rugby league at Mt Roskill and Mt Albert as a teenager and up to his early 20s. He played wing and was quite fast. He was flamboyant and a snappy dresser, even in his youth. He stood out. That's why everyone remembered him, and that's why the CIA took notice.

> CIA: "Here was a 5'5" peacock who flapped his beak before thinking, with a family background in crime. If we can put words in his mouth, we have ourselves a propagandist. So that's what we did."

John Banks was also a big drug dealer from the early 1960s.

All the entertainment promoters were dealing drugs – all sorts – marijuana and anything else they could get their hands on. The big deals, most of them, were done on the Akarana Golf Club course at the back of Mt Roskill (1388 Dominion Rd). Noddy Chisholm was the caddy for music promoter Hugh 'Hughy' Lynn who had Gobbles (Disco) nightclub on Queen Street, just across the road from the Civic Theatre.

Hughy Lynn: "Let's make like a turkey, we're going to Gobbles".

"But by the end of the decade [1980s], Lynn's 20 years of drug-fuelled, obsessive energy seemed to falter and Lynn seemed resigned to the collapse of his entertainment empire."[13]

Hughy Lynn's mother ran a dance studio in Dominion Road for fifty years. She was one of the originals who danced with Freda Stark (March 1910–99). Freda Stark danced stark naked and was noted for her painted "naked as a jay bird" body in the Wintergarden cabaret and nightclub at the bottom of the Civic Theatre during WWII. She was a favourite of American troops who referred to her as the "Fever of the Fleet" without them realising she was a very active lesbian who, after WWII, married a gay man in London, then became a secretary at Auckland University from 1970.

Ever since, the Auckland University has had a tradition of employing lesbians in gay cover marriages and gives elite support and higher grades to same-sex lovers. Auckland University was renamed the 'University of Auckland' to celebrate its complete takeover by the CIA. The Chancellor was then replaced by the bisexual child sex abuser Hugh Fletcher (18 October 2004), married to the sex addict Chief Justice.

All you have to do to have sex with the Chief Justice is to become her chauffeur. After that, she'll get you a job at the University of Auckland, where you'll report directly to the CIA – the highest ranking of the University of Auckland administration.

Spymaster: "Hughie Lynn's mother had a hand in killing Freda Stark. She was the chief prosecution witness. In my experience, if the chief prosecution witness is a female in a murder trial, she's usually the killer. This stops the female getting charged with murder and allows New Zealand to continue being run by murderous females."

"Mr Banks has worked in market research and sales for two international pharmaceutical companies, and has been Operations and Development Director in a group of licensed Auckland restaurants."[14]

John Banks had shares in Tony's Restaurant chain. Establish in 1963, Tony's Restaurant chain had a monopoly on Auckland Restaurants until the mid-1970s. The CIA that backed Tony's ensured that no one else got a license. Tony's served steak and spaghetti, two meals, "in an atmosphere reminiscent of an old English pub, cosy and inviting [tired and styleless]. The only things that change over the years are the carpet and the staff! [by 2008 Tony's added seafood.] Tony's Wellesley Street restaurant is Auckland's oldest surviving restaurant [1963–2009]."[15]

The CIA backed drug dealers and child sex abusers into the restaurant monopoly of Auckland (1963–74). Tony White was a known dope dealer.

Internal Affair's Agent: "In 1994 a group of four homosexuals, some of them transvestites were hanging around in a ring at the back of the men's toilets in the Wellesley Street Tony's. It was so bad, one of the patrons complained to the police. They didn't want to know and referred the complainant to an undercover, who then told me."

John Banks, Phil Warren and vanloads of dope

John Banks worked closely with the nightclub owner, music promoter and later, Auckland City Councillor, Deputy Mayor and Acting Mayor, Phil Warren, who would buy vanloads of dope from up north.

X: "As drugs became available, people started to use them and sing about them, and with 'the music marketeers', they started to aim their music at drug users. This was supported by Phil Warren, a music promoter TV talent scout who bought and sold the largest amount of marijuana in Auckland, if not New Zealand. Whenever a vanload of drugs came down from up north, and a quick enough sale could not be procured, it was Phil Warren who bought the vanload of drugs."

"During his monopoly on the Auckland drug market, Phil Warren QSO and JP spent 40 years working in the entertainment and music industries as one of its most hated players. He abused emerging entertainers and struck a management 'Yes' or 'No' chord with the talent and the talentless. His primary requirement was, 'Will this music help sell my drugs?'"

Phil Warren was balding with a devil's facial shave, short and fat, and always in a suit. He was short and talentless with connections (often through drugs), and ensured others with talent would not flourish, while those with both male and female parts were promoted into Australasian stardom.

Still, John Banks' and Phil Warren's name and face were plastered everywhere and they both had media protection (also through drugs) so that no police were brave enough to charge either of them. Instead they thought they had to protect them and their drug deals. So they did.

Police Minister John Banks was one of these

After dealing in vanloads of marijuana seasonally for decades, Phil Warren became a founding Auckland City Councillor in 1992 and ended up being the Chairman (1992–2002), re-elected a record four times.[16] He also spent four years as the Deputy Mayor and a period as Acting Mayor.

When he died on 23 January 2002, the ARC, the ARA, other City Councils and even the Government paid tribute to the former Auckland drug trafficker with Freemason and police connections. A lot of the councillors and politicans had grown up on his drugs, so the cover continued beyond his death, and even to this day.

These tributes considered Phil Warren "the man who helped develop some of this country's top entertainers", but he chopped many of them off at the knees. They cited him as a political and entertainment guru, well-known broadcaster and magazine columnist, yet he was a decidely poor entertainer and many considered him a Freemason-like creep. It was from him and the likes of him that the New Zealand bashing machine took public hold:

"I was born in New Zealand, the capital of criticism, where anyone with even half-a-brain gets kicked twice a day."

Phil Warren was the President of the SPCA for six years[17] and Auckland hosted a musical tribute to benefit the animal world which he cared so deeply about, a final tribute to the man known as "Mr Auckland" (as opposed to "Mr Asia").

Phil Warren was originally known as 'Mr Auckland' for his ability to purchase and distribute marijuana so quickly. Principally because he had police contacts and those police had contacts with the narcs who were the biggest drug dealers. Such a narc was August 'Gus' Parsons who worked with Archie Banks – John Banks father. So the Phil Warren/ John Banks drug connection carried over two generations.

Yes, you can bank on it.

All of Warren's charity work was done in exchange for ongoing cover for his drug dealing days, which covered decades. Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip are heavily into drug trafficking in the former colonies so made him a companion of the Queens Service Order in 1994, cementing his cover. His fellow drug dealer John Banks got the same cover in 2000.

[16] Not enough time has elapsed for anyone else to eclipse him.

[17] SPCA: 'Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals' – a cover for beastiality.

Usually you have to wait 18 years of not being charged for the cover to be set in concrete, via the Queen's approved metal and silk (so that would be 1976 and 1982).

When Phil Warren died in January 2002, Former Police Minister and Auckland City Mayor John Banks paid tribute by saying he: "had known Warren for 30 years [from 1971] and the city has lost one of its greatest [dealer] leaders. He was a great man who made huge contributions to Auckland."

John Banks provided on going cover for Phil Warren, as John Banks was heavily compromised by his homosexuality; pronounced vanity; egocentric mental illness in which he talks of himself in the third person as 'Banksie'; his relationship with a 13-year-old boy at Piha/Bethells Beach in 1996; his adoption of three Russian brothers and sisters; his sexual interference with them; his marriage to a woman who does not have sex with men; and he cancelled the Hero Parade to cover the fact that he was gay. All the queers were angry because they knew he is gay, and a kiddy fucker. Banks was, and is, a Freemason. No doubt Phil Warren was too.

"The Auckland Regional Council says Warren was one of the region's most colourful politicians, and he will be sorely missed." [18]

Auckland City Councillor, Local Government Minister, and former ship girl from the age of 14, child prostitute Sandra (née Barber) Lee: "Phil Warren had a distinguished record . . . most recently as Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council, but also previously with the Auckland City Council as Deputy Mayor, and as an office holder of Local Government . . . He was an icon of the New Zealand entertainment industry, and a popular talkback radio host."

Spymaster: "In other words, a total arsehole – not popular outside the circle of compromise."

Phil Warren had also been Chairman of the Auckland Regional Growth Forum and the Hauraki Gulf Forum since its inception. "He was also one of this region's most colourful politicians, prepared to take on any issue and call a spade a spade."[19]

Phil Warren went into hospital and died of a heart attack the same day. He was probably killed on the orders of Helen Clark for providing her with marijuana in the 1970s and 80s and having the ability to sniff out her heroin trafficking. He was most likely killed by the Mossad using a sniper with the heart attack attachment. It's been around since 1974.

"John Banks is an owner/operator of neighbourhood taverns and restaurants, and is a former chairman of the New Zealand Licensed Restaurant and Cabaret Association"[20] – a closet fag and CIA asset working to prevent competition restaurant and nightclub licenses to ensure a monopoly on drug dealing.

"Before politics he worked as a Market Researcher"[21] – mail orders for dope.

And from there he rose and rose, as has been given the rose – the CIA Rosicrucian badge of untouchability . . .

> "The Knights of Malta's intimate links with the Nazi movement found its ideological base in their common Rosicrucian belief system. This states that 'Man's evolution is held back by certain lower sub-races who must be removed for the process to continue. Let's extract the perfect description of John Banks out of this . . .

> "John Banks is a Nazi with a common Rosicrucian belief system where the advancement of New Zealand is held back by Maori and Polynesians who must be removed. This belief system has infiltrated into the heart of New Zealand democracy (1961–91). During the Cold War, the CIA became a global leader in biological and chemical warfare (distributing drugs in the West through restaurants and nightclubs), mind control techniques (speaking before thinking), psychological operations (drugs and drug dealers promoted), propaganda (a homosexual saying he's homophobic) and covert warfare (Banks gets on TV and everything he says is a lie) and . . . propaganda (Banks employs propagandist[23]), giving John Banks CIA status in its hierarchy, unprecedented financial support and powers – 'You sell the drugs, we'll protect you, you'll be rich, we'll control you through shame, we'll protect you from that shame, and you'll be our Rosicrucian Nazi, I mean CIA agent' . . . John Banks is a CIA asset and informant."

"John Banks is involved in commercial property development and historic property restoration, and is an avid antique and art collector." [24]

He made his investment money from drug deals behind all these fronts and had money to spare for his Victorian Kiddy porn and chamber pot dildos:

> ". . . [John Bum-Bandit Banks] B-B, who was busy poring over his collection of Victorian kiddy porn and chamber pots with china dildos embedded in the bottom . . . B-B has the largest collection of Victorian porn in the Southern Hemisphere and the second-biggest collection of chamber pots with china dildos in the Southern Hemisphere."[25]

Mr Banks is the holder of a private pilot licence – fixed wing and helicopters.

CIA: "Arrgh, would that be to still transport drugs from his old electorate 'up north' in Whangarei back to Auckland and any other location he choses to make remote."

"He has served as Parliamentary representative on the Dominion Council and the Auckland Divisional Council of the National Party. He was a Government appointee to the Northland Regional Development Council." [26]

CIA: "These consultants fees have been huge over the years. We imported these 'advanced reports' from America with the names changed, and any alterations necessary to achieve whatever the CIA wanted for New Zealand.

"This was generally no, or little progress, as we need New Zealand as a service island for Antarctica. That's the big picture.

"When we really wanted to stall progress, we infiltrated the unions, as with Bob Hawke in Australasia. This was a double win as we control your unions to protest and strike. This would stall the country and show us who the diehard commis were, what they were prepared to do, and would also 'shock test the economy' which gave us valuable feedback.[29]

"We even worked with your SIS, more or less ran the thing, although it always appeared to have more British control. When Dick Scott offered to be an SIS informant, we had the SIS refuse, as we didn't need him. Plus he was all high and mighty and no one was prepared to believe anything he said.

Last May, Mr Banks cited difficult economic times for trying to hold consultant spending to last year's level of $56.7 million.
> Despite promising to search for efficiencies and an end to the culture of waste, Mr Banks' first budget resulted in a 13.6 per cent rise in consultant costs to $64.4 million . . . Mr Banks admitted ratepayers' money was still being wasted on consultants . . .

So the Auckland Mayor John Banks is quite capable of giving his CIA minders NZ$8 million per annum in protection money.

What these guys charge a million dollars for, a local can do for $100,000. Deloitte especially, is part of globalisation – ignoring local education, qualifications and consultancy in favour of CIA-backed directives and consultancy fees as bribes in exchange for paedophile and drug cover-ups.

Since Auckland Mayor John Banks is a CIA mind-controlled drug-dealing shamed paedophile, he employs Deloitte in favour of locals.

The bills are huge, the progress is questionable, and the result is financial collapse.

John Banks' drugs and CIA takeover of Local Body Councils

A mate of former All Black, Auckland Boy's Grammar Old Boy and radio sports announcer Graham 'Twice-as-many-teeth-and-all-of-them-competing / Adopted-by-rich-lawyers-who-promoted-me-above-my-station' Thorne (National MP, 1990–93):

> "Everything John Banks says in public and to people in business, he believes the exact opposite of, and that's the key to his whole character."

Very short term Prime Minister Mike Moore:

> "John Banks will "say what he thinks, but he may not think about what he says".[31]

This was actually confirmed by John Banks, both the quote, and that he does this. This tends to indicate and confirm that John Banks is a CIA mind-controlled fuckwit and knows it.

Certainly, in the CIA takeover of Local Body Councils, Banks had a leg up. "He was the highest polling candidate – elected member of the Birkenhead Borough Council and the Birkenhead City Council and also the elected Birkenhead member of the Auckland Regional Authority."[32] All were zones of wankers.

John Banks' homosexual child sex Abuse

Son of a Freemason: "John 'Banksie' Banks likes 14-year-old Maori boys. He would drive around Whangarei where he was MP (1981–99) on his Harley-Davidson with his leather jacket with tassles streaming everywhere and pick up young Maori boys and let them ride on his bike with them. Then he'd make a sex date with them. Sex for an icecream – that sort of thing.

"When Whangarei MP John Banks was invited to present the end of year awards in 1995 at Whangarei Boys' High School [1200 students, at least 50% Maori[33]] and was up on stage during the end of year awards ceremony, all the male pupils started stomping their feet on the floor and Banksie had to leave. He couldn't present the end of year awards, and the students wouldn't let him.

"The boys at Whangarei Boys' High School ran John Banks out of town.

"John Banks realised he'd done so much damage up there, his behaviour had become so widely known, that he had to go.

"Shortly after being stomped off the Whangarei Boys' High School 1995 end of year awards ceremony for his rabid scouting Harely-Davidson-riding homosexual child sex abuse, Minister of Police John Banks resigned as the Minister of Police where he had been covering for paedophiles but placing them outside area zones and declaring their were none."

John 'Banksie' Banks realised that even his CIA backing could not save him. (For the Auckland City Council confirmation of John Bank's child sex abuse, See Attachment "ii", 'Taxi Stand')

John Banks removed/resigns from Minister of Police

There is nowhere on the web that shows when John Banks was removed from the Minister of Police. All we can find is that it was before 28 May 1996. He resigned his other positions on 1 November 1996, citing that he did not want to be in the same Cabinet as Winston Peters, which is interesting because Winston Peters is a Mossad asset, and the Mossad have all the sexual secrets on CIA assets, and are allowed to refer to them. The opposite is not the case.

The Mossad's Winston Peters could always have produced the photo of John Banks standing in a ballerina's tutu infront of a whole lot of police motorcycles with the traffic officers all dressed in their S&M gear with their S&M names displayed on the front of their motorcycles. This is (part of) the reason why the police promoted John Banks as one of their's. He's totally compromised and John Banks is unable to issue a word about a Police > 'crime, pinch, shout, stitch-up, assault, violence, murder, paedophilia, necrophilia, police beastiality, or the police manufacture and/or distribution of methamphetamines, and/or any other drug'.

"On 1 November 1996, John Banks resigned from Cabinet, becoming a backbencher after he refused to participate in the same cabinet as New Zealand First leader and coalition partner Winston Peters."[34]

John Banks was ousted from Minister of Police (1990 to end of 1995/early 1996) and replaced by the Honorable John Luxton, who then appointed one of the few (and last) honest and qualified cops. Peter Doone became the new Commissioner of Police on 1 July 1996:

"A qualified lawyer and financial manager with Masters degrees in law from Victoria University and Public Administration from Harvard University".[35]

Peter Doone was then removed as the Commissioner of Police on 25 January 2000 by the KGB agent Helen Clark. It was one of the first things she did (before the murder of Chris Beeby).

"Banks sometimes clashed with Prime Minister Jim Bolger and other senior ministers."[36]

It wasn't hard, the CIA's John Banks knew that PM Jim Bolger was a secret tea bag heroin user à la Taupo and extra vomit bags in the RNZAF helicopters.

John Banks' CIA Media cover

The CIA still managed to keep their agent's homosexual child sex abuse out of the media spotlight and arranged for further cover to be put in place. As usual this cover was in the form of promotion.

In 1997 John Banks (CIA mind-controlled paedophile) took over the talkback show from the Tavistock psychologically trained Robert Muldoon (d. 5 August 1992), by Muldoon's public request.[37]

Internal Affairs Agent: "Then in the late 1990s, John Banks was cruising on his Harley-Davidson all dressed in leather tassles, when he rode past a 6- or 7- year-old girl in a playground, stopped, and offered her a ride. She got on the motorcycle then her parents rushed out onto the road and flagged down the next car, which happened to be an unmarked police car following John Banks. The parents hopped in and the plain-clothed police gave chase. They caught up with Banksie, stopped him with child, and persuaded him to give up the six-year-old Australian girl, and to make good, invite the parents home for a barbeque – which he did. The Aussie parents were so dumb, they even wrote a letter praising John Banks as a great politician and 'the greatest advertisement for New Zealand ever'."

John Banks Honoured

In 1990, Mr Banks was awarded the 1990 Commemorative Medal. He is an honorary life member of the Pacific Asia Travel Association (PACA), whatever that is. He is also a member of the Masonic Lodge of Parahaki No. 269 – incestuous child sex abusers – you "too" can do the "69" with your child. We have the hot pools and private heated steam rooms, especially designed for cretinous fondling."

"Cretin": 'a stupid, obtuse, or mentally defective person'.

"Cretinous fondling": taking advantage of a retard in a steam room'.

Then in the 2000 New Years Honours, John Banks was awarded the 'Companion of The Queen's Service Order for Public Service' (QSO), probably on the basis of the Australian parent's letter.

The CIA control of talkback radio was still in place in 2005, when they made this confused "media release":

"Banksie came to Radio Pacific eight years ago when he was the MP for Whangarei. Sir Robert Muldoon [dead five years] had asked if John would take over his popular Sunday afternoon slot. John took to radio with unbridled enthusiasm and a talent that saw him rise to host the Radio Pacific breakfast show, subsequently winning 'Broadcaster of the Year' at the NZ Radio Awards."[38]

The CIA often play the same con twice, especially when the population are stupified – dumbed down by the New Zealand Judiciary's DEEP SLEEP Experiment – now a successful operation, so it's Operation DEEP SLEEP.

Radio talkback host's primary role, as the Intelligence assets they all are, is to wrap the public in ignorance.

Four (4) billion people say: "WE HATE TALKBACK RADIO HOSTS."

X: "The longest running, and most popular talkback host, Leighton Smith, is an ASIO captain and CIA asset. He won't even answer my calls. I guess my phone numbers are marked as "NAF" – 'Not a Friend', – "NAM" – 'Not A Mark',or "UM" – 'Unmarkable'."

Dr. Michael Bassett covers for John Banks, his family, himself, and Paul Swain

Dr. Michael Bassett: "His honeymoon lasted just four days before Banks got restless; 'constant activity seemed always preferable to relaxation and intimacy."[39]

Well, that's because he beat up his first wife, a pharmacist in Bank's Corner in Whangarei, circa 1974, then realised he was interested in children, and not in women, so he married Amanda – a woman who does not have sex with men, and adopted foreign Russian children, while lying about his status as Minister of Police, which he was no longer.

Dr. Michael Bassett: "Those privileged to have met his ready-made family of young Russian children can testify to his warm affection for them, yet there is a distance about John Banks in general that puzzles . . . John Banks and Amanda have three adopted Russian children, all from the same family – Natalia, Segei and Alexander."[40]

"The achievement that I'm most proud of would be honouring the promise to an eight year old Russian orphan who said to me, 'If you take me home with you, I'll sing and dance for you forever' . . ."[41]

Gee, what language was that in John?

This paedophile cover should not be surprising as Dr. Michael Bassett (b. 1938) was rooting Paul Swain (b. 1951) when Paul was a schoolboy helping Michael Bassett around the office (aged 15/16 and 28/29).

Paul Swain (39) was then promoted to a Labour Party Minister for 18 years (1990–2008), including Cabinet posts as Minister of Commerce; Communications; Corrections; Immigration; Information Technology; Labour; Statistics; State Owned Enterprises; Associate Minister of Finance; and of Economic Development. Paul was shunted around rapidly and never expected to achieve anything, as long as he spoke clearly and emptily to the camera, and never mentioned Dr. Michael Bassett's penis, arse, or mouth.

Dr. Michael Bassett was New Zealand Labour Minister of Health and Local Government (1984–87) and Minister of Internal Affairs, Local Government, Civil Defence and Arts & Culture (1987–90), and is a noted New Zealand historian.

He is noted for criticising historians and then doing everything he criticised.

Dr. Michael Bassett QSO has been 'allowed to be become' an 'Official Historian' as he is heavily compromised and so close to being a child sex abuser, few count the difference. Michael Bassett's role as 'Official Historian' is as a 'paedophile minder'.

Bassett is an historian who will never mentioned political paedophiles, or himself'.

So Dr. Michael Bassett will provide full cover for John Banks, despite them being from opposing political parties.

All four are QSO – Dr. Michael Bassett, Paul Swain, John Banks and Phil Warren.

The child sex abuser Dr Michael Bassett seems to be sharing web space with the bisexual paedophile Sir Roger Douglas. They served as Minister of Health and Minister of Finance under the transvestite-rooting Prime Minister David Lange. Here's what Lange's lover Margaret Pope had to say about Dr Michael Bassett's book Working with David and his role in the 1984–87 bisexual kiddy-fucking Labour government. I really does show Dr Michael Bassett to be a bitching fag:

> "Working with David, Michael Bassett's account of his part in the life of David Lange, comes heavily weighted with the trappings of scholarship, and its author hasn't stopped short of proclaiming his lingering affection for David . . . the first time I ever met Dr Michael Bassett I felt my flesh creep . . . The writing is purple, overheated, even foam-flecked. It starts with a slur, and looks for facts to back it up. If the author can't find any facts, he makes something up . . . reviewers have resorted to asking if the author could possibly be serious . . .
> . . . in this detestable book . . . the depression from which I think Lange sometimes suffered, and the drinking which came close to destroying him . . .
> From the time Lange . . . sacked Bassett from the health portfolio, Lange was the target of a campaign of smear and innuendo which is resurrected in the pages of Working with David. Here it is in text, just as it used to be in life. It increased in its viciousness and intensity . . . I'm glad David Lange never had to see this book, and glad too that the source of the poison has so comprehensively revealed itself. After close to three years of rejoicing in his ministerial partnership with Douglas. I do wonder how Bassett maintained the rage for close to 600 pages.
> David Lange: 'You've got to remember, Douglas has Bassett riding him'."[42]

The book was ready to published before Lange was killed, I mean died of introduced wrong medication. But I think Lange himself vetoed it just before he 'died'. David Lange's partner Margaret Pope and Lange's successor Helen Clark were accused of poisoning Lange . . . So the Labour Party really was a bitchfest.

So much for the Labour of love

Hon Dr. Michael Bassett

"In 1990 John Banks was appointed Minister of Police, Tourism and Sport before assuming the Tourism, Local Government, and Sport, Fitness and Leisure portfolios following the 1993 general election. The Civil Defence portfolio was added in March 1996.[43] Civil Defence is still Dad's Army.

"After endless rhetoric about the need for better gun control, all he [Banks] delivered as Minister of Police was a tame, ineffective piece of legislation. His 900 extra police turned out to be smoke and mirrors . . . John Banks' time as minister [of police] will be seen as a passing interlude, one where the Police were able to enjoy a friend at court who represented no threat to their established, increasingly old-fashioned ways of doing things."[44]

"The Police force and senior police hierarchy considered Banks one of their own, and gave him all the respect"[45] of a fellow criminal in a suit and fence activist.

Police Undercover: "90 % of murders in New Zealand are done by the police, or on police behest . . . while they promote all their crooked mates to the top positions and protect stolen meat, and any trade involving theiving."

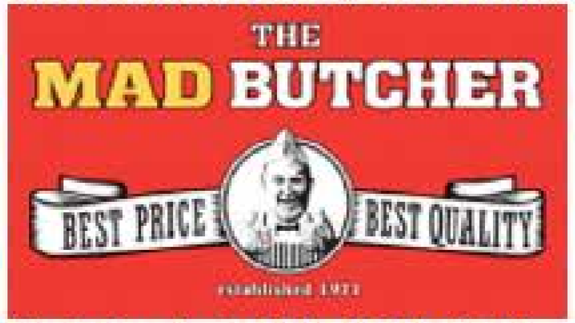
Peter Leitch – The Mad Butcher

When John Banks was the Minister of Police, all of this continued with increased immunity.

Peter Leitch was selling meat from Rosella Meats in Mangere, which became The Mad Butcher in 1971.

Mr Rogers leased a 150 acre farm on Puhinui Road from the ARA. Located near the Auckland International Airport, it was run as a sheep farm with a backshed, and no abattoir.



Circa 1985–90, The Mad Butcher truck used to go in and pick up dead and dressed sheep directly from the farm, and not from an abattoir. This unlicensed meat with no MAF approval, was cheaper because it wasn't inspected. It was backyard meat.

Rustled (stolen) meat is also processed in this way.

Antonio Dickson and Stuey Smith also used to steal meat and sell it to The Mad Butcher.

Stuey Smith noticed a refrigerated truck driver staying at a motel in Ellerslie, Auckland, so he pegged it out. Noting there was a six hour window, he stole the whole truck with Antonio Dickson. As pre-arranged, he sold the entire contents to The Mad Butcher in the wee hours, then returned the truck empty to the same park outside the Ellerslie motel. The whole trip was about 50 km.

Stuey Smith has done a lot of time and he's knifed a few people and Antonio Dickson was no wall flower. He was killed on 4 February 2009 in prison by THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE using the Head Hunters while Dickson had been transferred to solitary confinement for no reason.

The police wanted Dickson gone because his female drug dealing cohorts were police undercovers and the coroners report showed enormous inconsistencies with the official story – that he hung himself using towels.

So Peter 'Rustle Meat' Leitch was selling unlicensed unapproved partially stolen meat, and through this economic advancement, there are now twenty or so 'Mad Butcher' stores, with as many other butchers out of business – those who didn't sell unlicensed rustled meat, or had it stolen from them.

As usual, Queen and Country provided cover and in June 1991, Leitch was awarded the Queen's Service Medal for services to the community. As with John Banks, New Zealand television provided cover of the criminal. Peter Leitch ended up on TV, then with his own TV One show, 'A Mad Business', Saturday nights at 8.30 pm, 2008/09.

Peter Leitch/The Mad Butcher (who chops up animals for a living) is a patron of the SPCA (Society for the Prevention of Concerned finding out about beastiAlity) . . . and the Dyslexic Society, which he has.

For ongoing media cover, public empathy and tax evasion, he formed a trust with Suburban Newspapers Auckland, 'The Mad Butcher – Suburban Newspapers Charitable Trust'.

Rugby league supporter: "So you think Peter Leitch is a league supporter? Well, often during the match he's out the back shagging some Polynesian woman in the back of the St. Johns Ambulance."

Common opinion is: "The Mad Butcher is mad".

I'm MAD for stolen meat.

CIA Sabotage of New Zealand

For his CIA sabotage of New Zealand local-body and national governance, John Banks was made Minister of Police, awarded the QSO and made Mayor of Auckland – twice.

In 1994, the CIA officially approached Police Minister John Banks and asked him to write a column giving their point of view. John was so excited about it, he even mentioned it in his suburban newspaper column:

> ‘Hi, my name's John Banks. I'll be your CIA intermediary for the duration of this column. I am so proud to have been picked by the CIA.’

Yeah, sure John, but we know you've been CIA since the 1960s. The only reason you don't know is that you are a mind-controlled fuckwit.

As “New Zealand is the Pied Piper with cross-dressing mayors”, John Banks became the Mayor of Auckland (2001–04) beating Christine Fletcher who was married to the nappy-wearing alcoholic paedophile Angus Fletcher (Hugh Fletcher's brother); and again on 13 October 2007 when he managed to beat someone with less humour than him.

He also managed to find someone with less humour than him . . . which is hard.

“His political opponents accused him of racism towards Maori and immigrants, and of homophobia.”[46] This is the perfect CIA/ Rosicrucian/ Knights of Malta line. They wanted to keep the population down in New Zealand and turn the country into New Spain, only to be saved by the bell, when Bernie Madoff admitted to stealing the CIA money for the project . . . in December 2008. Thank's Bernie!

You're a thieving Jew Bernie Madoff, but thanks anyway.

Let's hope the Federal Reserve hasn't insured the CIA's money, as if, and when, Bernie Madoff admits to fraud.

So John Banks, is a CIA mind-controlled fuckwit . . .
. . . and John Banks is your National cover man for Trevor Roger.

Ian ‘Kahurangi’ Mitchell, Paul Holmes, and Secretary for Education Karen Sewell

MICK P: “Ian Mitchell from Henderson High School went around promoting Maori language being taught in schools up and down the country. For this he was given paedophile cover by Maori, and Ian Mitchell promoted the Maori language to generate cover for his paedophilia. In return Maori gave him the name ‘Kahurangi’.

“Ian ‘Kahurangi’ Mitchell came from South Auckland to take over Henderson High School in 1994 with middle-aged ‘can't-be-fucked’ Maori women singing and dancing the powhiri (Maori ceremonial welcome) in front of him.

“The school children waited in anticipation, ready for their welcome, and then the new school principal Ian “Kahurangi” Mitchell appeared – through the maize of Maori women singing and dancing and shaking their pois in distraction – a man in a dress.

“Ian ‘Kahurangi’ Mitchell died in Asia in a sex act, hanging upside down with a plastic bag over his head while being flagellated.

“All the queers around the world then did a big hue and cry, and of all of these, Paul Holmes was his biggest defender.”

CIA: “Paul Holmes is also a cross-dresser who had sex with his mother, kicked his father out of the family, trained his stepdaughter to have child sex for drugs with Paul Holmes' friends, including our asset Sir Bob Jones – how the fuck did you drag that one out of us . . . Holmes is a Jew. Yeah, he's a cross-dressing incestuous bisexual child sex abuser – Cuba. Five dollar a night whores in Cuba, You can tell them by their shoes. They're the only ones with good shoes and the only ones wearing high heels. Fuck, am I still talking, outloud?”

Author: “Yeah, I know. It's torture isn't it.”
CIA: “What did you slip in my drink?”
Author: “Sodium pentathol”.
CIA: “That'll work”.
Author: “Thanks for the confirmation. You've also had alcohol.”
CIA: “Yes I have. Can I go home now . . . Mr Hallett?”
Author: “You sure can”.
Gets up off chair and as he's swivelling around . . .
Author: “Can you take the agency with you . . .”
CIA: “I'll see what I can do”.

Fisherman: “Paul Holmes, dressed in a suit, was pushed into Auckland's Viaduct Harbour, in 1990. Dripping in his suit, he then stood up on one of the sand banks. This was before it was dredged and developed. He was pushed in purposefully by a fisherman, who expressed the sentiments of many New Zealanders, and just didn't like him. Thirteen years later Paul Holmes was walking through Newmarket, and on the opposite side the fisherman yelled out, ‘You child drug dealer’. Holmes tried to yell something back, but it was ineffective.”

Internal Affairs: “Ian Kahurangi Mitchell was the headmaster at Henderson High School and he reportedly committed suicide – hung himself with a plastic bag over his head in Phuket, Thailand. He was a Pakeha faggot who wore a big greenstone tiki around his neck and reckoned ‘Kahurangi’ was bestowed upon him by the Maori. It might have been. Maori have the credentials.

“The Western Leader used to give Ian Mitchell great glowing write ups, but he went up the wrong bum, resigned in a hurry and was dead within a month or two.”

Maori Transliteration: “Kahu” means ‘hawk’, “rangi” means ‘sky’. “Kahurangi” means ‘sky hawk’, ‘precious thing’, ‘a clock from Heaven’, ‘blue’, ‘noble’, and is a girl's name. It also means ‘treasured possession’ as in the Kahurangi National Park where fly the most rare of New Zealand birds.

Applied to a man, “Kahurangi” means ‘a treasured precious blue noble skyhawk hen that keeps the time’ – a very rare bird indeed, even amongst the Maori.

Ian ‘Kahurangi’ Mitchell was a Pakeha, a white guy, a cross-dressing faggot of a headmaster who spotted young boys from above, rooted them, faked their grades upwards, as long as he could ‘coach’ them, then pretended to be a noble honorary Maori.

He wore his greenstone tiki around his neck with noble pride – all the pride of a distracting pendulum hypnotising as he leaned forward to root his next child student victim up the brown love bottom.

The Ministry of Education hunts out any-and-all heterosexual males and eliminates them. The Ministry of Education now has a powhiri (long Maori welcome) for every visiting dignitory.

Why do they do it?

Because the Maori provide ‘children and cover’ for their paedophiles and child sex abusers, visiting or otherwise.

In exchange, the Maori get grant money which goes to the most useless Maori to ensure the next generation of Maori remain useless, and the cycle of Maori providing their children to paedophiles/ child sex abusers for funding continues ad infinitum.

Is this a racial trait?

Certainly "Maori are well known for being in the 'Comfort Trade'."

Internal Affairs Agent: "It is well known amongst the police and paedophiles that Pakeha's hire kids from Maori families. Often it's put to the parents or caregivers that the child is being taken to a place to be entertained and fed, or clothed, but usually it ends up as the kid being sodomised.

"Ian Mitchell was a headmaster and used his education position as his cover.

"John Banks, on the other hand, had a Harley, and was a Member of Parliament."

"When you hear Maori talk in terms of 'Kaumatua' ('respected tribal elder'), hear 'child pimp'.

"It's almost as if the Maori taught the CIA."

The Maori have managed to keep their funding provider's homosexual child sex abuse out of the media spotlight by arranging for further cover to be put in place, in the form of: promotion; by giving them a name (e.g. 'Kahurangi'); elevating their status to Kaumatua (respected elder); making them honorary Maori (Ngati Pakeha); giving a full welcome to known serial rapists (Clint Rickards), or suspected paedophiles (Clint Rickards), former prostitutes turned lesbian (Helen Clark), politicians married to homosexual child sex abusers (Helen Clark); and/or putting Maori in place for the cover up of honorary Maori paedophiles (Ian "Kahurangi" Mitchell/ Owen Hoskin).

Owen Erle Hoskin (January 1998–April 2005) replaced Ian "Kahurangi" Mitchell as Henderson High School Principal. Then the bisexual cross-dressing Mayor of Waitakere, Bob Harvey, rewarded the cover provided by allowing Owen Hoskin to become a Waitakere City Councillor (from 31 October 2001–2004) while still Henderson High School Principal. He served on the Waitakere City Development, Finance and Operational Performance, and Environmental Management Committees. This gave Hoskin an extra $50,000 a year – thus doubling his wage and adding a $150,000 bonus.

The Jews call this a "No cost bribe". It comes from controlling the job market.

Bangka Island paedophile | Maori child pimp | CIA paedophile promoter | No cost briber.

Whenever you see a teacher who's a City Councillor, it's a paedophile minder getting their bonus (Cath Tizard included, and she made it to Governor-General in the same role).

Hoskin then became Campus Director at Taylors College where international students get accustomed to New Zealand before going to university (a.k.a. 'Study Group NZ' or 'Embassy CES') at 75 K'Rd, where the transvestites, prostitutes and homosexuals hang out. He resigned after a year in 2007.

X: "Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell got the chop because he indecently assaulted MP Brian Neeson's nephew – the MP for Te Atatu North, 15 or so years ago. The nephew was between 13 and 16 years old when molested. How do we know this? Because Henderson High School doesn't have any senior students. They don't last that long."

Henderson High School is not isolated. It is a small school on Henderson Valley Rd surrounded by a plethora of other schools, all within 1 km, including Henderson School, Henderson South School, Holy Cross School, Western Heights School, Waitakere Seventh-day Adventist School, and Bruce McLaren Intermediate.

Brian Neeson MP for Te Atatu North (1990–93)

Brian Kevin Neeson (b. 1945, Durban, South Africa) arrived in New Zealand in 1951 and became a National MP (1990–2002). He represented three West Auckland electorates. Frequent boundary changes meant he never ran as an incumbent. Perhaps the boundary changes were designed to remove him. He was MP for Te Atatu North (1990–93), Waitakere (1993–96, 1999–2002), Waipareira (1996–99), and in 2002 he tried Helensville against John Key (now Prime Minister), changed to Independent during the running, lost, and quit politics.

Chris(tine) Carter replaced Brian Neeson as the MP for Te Atatu North (1993–96, 1999–2009+). The area now includes Te Atatu, Lincoln, Massey, and Glendene where his office is.

These are the lowest socio-economic areas of West Auckland, a low socio-economic area itself. These are areas where the macho men are bisexual schizophrenics, and the women have no pheromones in their hair. It is an area of rabid drug use, methamphetamine addiction, dope smoking, and crime, where the police stitch people up to rid themselves of thinkers, where they attack heterosexuals, and where no one can lay an honest complaint and be believed by the police, who are so crooked, they are actively supporting the Waipareira Trust's contracting out the manufacture and distributing P, now with the help of the rapist and former Auckland Area Police Commander Clint Rickards, since accepted to the Bar by the New Zealand Law Society, despite the largest number of character rejections ever received.

Under such a socially engineered regime – communist DPB, dole-bludging, sexually-deviant fascist, anti-heterosexual dictatorship – that Brian Neeson was an odd bird in an electorate of three-legged Drongos.

> The Drongo is a subfamily of small passerine (perching & singing) insect eating birds usually found in the open forests or bush of the Old World tropics. Dark grey or black, sometimes with metallic tints, they have long forked tails, with the Asian Drongo having elaborate tail decorations. They have short legs and sit very upright whilst perched. Their nest is high in a tree and they take prey off the ground. Given their small size, they're aggressive and will attack much larger species if their nest or young are threatened.[47]

X: "While National MP for Waipareira (1996–99), Brian Neeson was steaming on the Henderson High School Principal, Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell, for sexually abusing his nephew in late 1997."

Brian Neeson only lasted once in Te Atau North ("Tat North"). Then Christine Carter (the fag Chris Carter) took over as Labour for Tat North and announced he was gay, straight after he got in.

His girlfriend, Peter Kaiser, another teacher, was then promoted to headmaster of Tirimoana Primary School in Te Atatu South (children aged 5–11), so it was happy go lucky gay child sex abuse in Te Atatu North, Henderson, and neighbouring Lincoln, Massey, Glendene, and West Auckland.

Spymaster: ". . . although, I don't believe Peter Kaiser is a child sex abuser. He's not a bad guy."

MICK P: "He is cuckolded frequently by Paul Abdulatif, a Queen Street National Bank teller, and Christine Carter import."

"Homosexual ESL foreigners rarely make it to Court, having the full PC advantage. In New Zealand they have heightened immigration status from the homosexual MP Chris Carter, who has had a long-term homosexual affair with the immigrant Paul Abdulatif, who was then given a job as a National Bank teller at the bottom of Queen Street, Auckland. Despite this, MP Chris Carter and his official partner Peter Kaiser became the role model for homosexual marriage, having cuckolded each other for 30 years. Homosexual marriage was granted under the lesbian PM Helen Clark. She is married to the homosexual child sex abuser Peter Davis and they cuckold each other as though there were no marriage. This is the problem with homosexual marriage. They can have a relationship in five minutes, from beginning to end. For Chris Carter it is gerbils . . . for Helen Clark it is fisting."[48] (See Attachment "R", 'Helen Clark and Sian Elias' Murders – Quotes', p. 89.)

Then Peter Kaiser wrote in the Tirimoana Primary School weekly newsletter how he had met and fallen in love with his partner Chris Carter.

Not what you would call appropriate, Tirimoana.

This was then backed up by the Tirimoana Primary School Affirmation:

". . . Teacher's right to teach. Everyone's right to be safe and to be respected."

This is PC language for:

> 'Don't mess with us. We are three-legged Drongos who perch on high, sit straight, sing our PC Mind-Kontrol asexual[49] songs, prey on small children from on high, and attack anything bigger, plainer, and less gay than ourselves, with all the passive aggression of a primary school teacher and our influence over mayors.'

The rabid homosexual child sex abuser MP Chris Carter (with two complaints of child sex abuse from schoolboys before Carter was made an MP) then married Peter Kaiser on 10 February 2007, with full homosexual Labour Government attending.

One of the first homosexual civil unions, the ceremony included Chris Carter's mentor – the homosexual paedophile and international organising paederast, Johnathan Hunt, who was flown back from England at the Labour Government's expense, especially for the event. Helen Clark's government even paid for Johnathan Hunt's five accounts for sexual services from 12-year-old Indian boys at New Zealand House, 80 Haymarket, Haymarket, London, SW1Y 4TQ, phone 020 7930 8422.

As of March 2010, Johnathan Hunt is still New Zealand's High Commissioner to Britain, despite the change in government.

Waitakere Mayor Bob Harvey

Waitakere Mayor Bob Harvey: "I went to that wedding. It was me who gave permission for it to be held in the Waitakere City Council chambers . . . I'm not allowed in the Emirates, especially the areas around Dubai. They believe I'm gay. Officially I have been banned from going there. They will arrest and deport me if I step out of their airport and into a taxi . . . I believe it's the same in many fundamental Muslim countries . . .

"I began my career doing PR for the David Lange. I covered up all his many and varied sexual liasons with transvestites. That's how good I am. The public still don't know . . . I am the best."

Doesn't that make you the best liar Bob?

Internal Affairs: "Waitakere Mayor Bob Harvey is a cross-dresser and likes to hold hands with 13-year-old Maori boys. He wants to be the first Executive Mayor of Auckland's four cities – but as we know, a mare is a female donkey, and, as you say, 'New Zealand is the Pied Piper with cross-dressing mayors'. So any pied piper who exposes the homosexuals (gets rid of the rats) is run out of town. A little later the parents realise they have lost their children."

X: "Smells like Henderson High School, Tirimoana Primary School, Waitakere City, and the Ministry of Education to me."

Waitakere Mayor Bob Harvey, 1996: "Tirimoana Primary School headmaster Peter Kaiser was the MC for the evening throughout which a range of fabulous items were put up for auction including a weekend at Raglan beach, a week in glorious Taupo Bay and artworks from local artists."[50]

X: "'Fabulous'. Sounds like a fag to me. I agree with the Emirates."

United Arab Emirates local: "I'm from Dubai, and certainly in areas surrounding Dubai, Bob Harvey would be arrested and deported. That's how they treat homosexuals, old fags, queens, whatever you want to call them."

The Ministry of Education will root out any heterosexuals.

This is the direction of local body politics, education and the nation's politics under the direction of the Ministry of Education who will root out any heterosexuals and get rid of them . . . The Secretary is the lesbian child sex abuser Karen Sewell.

[50] PART B, Council, Wednesday, 29 November 2006, Commencing at 5.30 pm, REPORT OF THE MAYOR.

The M.O.E. are really evil about this and will often let heterosexuals train as teachers, let them teach for a year, then get it across to them that they have no chance of promotion and are not welcome. Those that stick to the job are then placed under suspicion and removed from all priviledges.

This way the M.O.E. get to waste four years of a heterosexual's life.
This is the new education.
This is the PC education.
This is the homosexual's education.
This is the child sex abuser's education.
This is the paedophile's education.
This is Chris Carter and Peter Kaiser's Education.
This is Karen Sewell, the Secretary of the Ministry of Education's Education.
Chris Carter and Karen Sewell are both child sex abusers.

Waitakere Mayor Bob Harvey: "If you get a lemon, make lemonade."[51]

Police Undercover: "The Henderson High School Principal Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell (1994–98) was as sleezy as fuck, but the school teachers, parents, and the Mayor Bob Harvey built him up like you wouldn't believe – 'an Education Hero' – but he was just a lousy paedophile.

"A senior police officer visited the headmaster at Henderson High and said: 'Listen mate, you're going to have to leave'. He then passed the file to Senior Sergeant Peter Evans – the Sexual Abuse Team officer (SAT) at Henderson Police. Peter Evans was widely thought of as an honest cop, and many considered him the last honest cop in Auckland. The problem was, he wasn't that bright.

"Ian Kahurangi Mitchell was under a cloud when he arrived at Henderson High School and still under a cloud when he left New Zealand for a sex tour in Indonesia, but he carried on as if nothing had happened. Even the other paedophiles didn't consider this derigueur.

"Ian Mitchell died on Bangka Island (there's a language academy there) in Indonesia during an S&M act that involved hanging. There were a whole pile of paedophiles on the island, all killed around the same time. Part of the cover is that no one seems to know exactly where Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell died.[52]

"Senior Sergeant Peter Evans (SAT) was then transferred from North Shore Hospital to Auckland Hospital (Grafton) where he was killed by injection in his back in a corridor. The male nurse who did it was either Paul F*. (a known paedophile), or a close friend of his, another male nurse, who frequented sex tours in Asia, and was later prosecuted for manslaughter of a woman. He was prosecuted and convicted for the manslaughter, and the Judge said: 'You led her in mind games which led her to kill herself' (2001). It was easy enough to return to work and put on a surgical mask, so the murderer could also have been someone off shift."

The Investigator: "The paedophiles, including Mr F*rm*r, used to go straight to Prime Minister Helen Clark for cover, and she always complied, often with murder.

"I brought in a 4-year-old boy to hospital who had been viciously sexually assaulted. Mr F*rm*r went straight to the Prime Minister Helen Clark and they tried to stitch me up for the assault, but luckily I'd been to the Police Surgeon first. Helen Clark and Mr F*rm*r then had CYFS accuse me of the violent paedophilia. They complied the following day. Mr F*rm*r then went to the police and took the tone that he was the injured party and tried to lay another complaint against me. This was all circa 1998/99.

"This is why paedophile cases don't get resolved in New Zealand. The paedophiles take the tone that they are right, and then use high-ranking people and government institutions to back them up – like the Prime Minister, the Prime Minister's department, CYFS and Police."

Helen Clark was involved in the cover up of the murder of Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell and SAT Senior Sergeant Peter Evans.

Police Undercover: "The cover-up for the Henderson High Principal held, and he was replaced by the Maori Owen Hoskin. Maori are often paedophile minders, and often promoted for being paedophile minders . . . and no one ever found out the name of the police officer who visited Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell in the first place. Paedophile cover runs deep in New Zealand. It is VERY OFTEN the ladder to promotion. SAT tried to bring Mitchell down, but nobody wanted to know, and Senior Sergeant Peter Evans was killed in the process."

Son of a Freemason: "In Feburary 2010 I was speaking to Peter Evans' mate from the Grafton Cricket Club that meets in Victoria Park. We were chatting on Auckland's North Shore."

GCC: "Peter Evans used to organise senior cricket tours over to Chiang Mai once a year for a few years, then they'd all go off in different directions. Evans became quite fluent in Thai and wanted to be the police ambassador up there . . . I saw the bastard in Phuket. He was holding hands with eight- to ten-year-old boys and girls then he took them away in different directions . . . Back in New Zealand his doctors phoned him saying: 'You'd better go up to hospital for further examinations' and he ended up dead. Check up and see what happened to him."

Son of a Freemason: "GCC obviously didn't know Peter Evans was the head of the Sexual Abuse Team at Henderson, or he would have been totally outraged."

Police Undercover, Thursday 4 March 2010: "Phuket is the child porn destination of every paedophile going to Thailand. It has such a reputation that everybody lies about going there, and only one in a thosuand would then go on to Chong Buri . . . Come to think about it, Senior Sergeant Peter Evans blocked virtually all of my information except for one guy, who was a paedophile. I gave him a huge amount of information and he used to sneer at me and say: "Good job, but keep digging. He said about another guy: 'You were right, but there is nothing I can do at the moment.

"One case I got into an argument with Evans about was the headmaster of Henderson College. I told him he was a gay paedophile . . . someone from the PM's department, or NHQ, had gone and seen him and come to a deal where he resigned. Peter Evans said: 'I don't believe a bar of it. That sort of thing doesn't happen in our police force'.

"There was one other case we came verbal fisti-cuffs over. That was of a school teacher. Eventually he did go for him, but only after I repeatedly told him the guy was bisexual. I had to find an informant for him in that case.

"Evans never admitted to me going to Phuket, even though specific information I gave him indicated that another town close by, Chon Buri, was the center of major offending. He sneered at this and said: 'You have no grounds to back that up'. To keep things on a workable relationship, I had to back down many times from the stance I'd taken, and concede defeat in matters I knew were right. The old spy saying: 'You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make it drink . . . No one is as blind as he who will not see' . . . applies here.

"I tried to talk to Evans about Takapuna District Commander Taffy Walsh, but he wouldn't hear a bar of it. I sat through Walsh's sentencing for paedophilia with his granddaughters and tried to tell Peter Evans what happened, but Evans would virtually call me a liar, and refused to hear the conclusion I made – that every case Taffy Walsh had either dealt with or overseen should be re-investigated and persons freed from prison.

"The last thing I took him was a huge list of paedophiles with hundreds of names on it. It was map and showed how they connected to each other. There were policemen, military officers, and every civilian occupation you could name, including coroners, lawyers, judges, and many of them had precursor qualifications for being included as they had been prosecuted by the Crown for precursor offences . . . and SAT Officer Peter Evans would not look at it. He dismissed it as total bullshit . . . But it wasn't bullshit. It was the product of ten years research and countless cases, where the degree of cross-contamination was huge.

[52] Bangka was pronounced "Bancha" when I got this info. There are a dozen or so islands with this name . . . and I've always been suspicious about the sexuality of English as Second Language (ESL) teachers.

"I'm completely blown away by your revelations that Peter Evans was also a paedophile. But considering that my relationship with him was so fractious, and the results of my work accepted so grudgingly, sporadically, and carried out in only about 2 per cent of cases . . . I hate to admit it, but it fits. It fits that this is another case of a high-ranking police officer self-sabotaging all that he touched . . . as much as I hate to admit it . . . Evans was married with two sons.

"Paul F. will shit himself. Everybody who knows him will recognise it instantly for what it is. Paul F. came to me once and said, 'You're a total bullshit artist" and I replied, 'Except that I'm usually right'. Paul F.: 'That's got nothing to do with it. I demand that you right all the people that you rung the first time and tell them that you made a mistake and you were wrong.' So I rung every Army Base that I could think of and said: 'I appear to have made a mistake. What I have told you regarding Paul F., that I may have made a mistake and were wrong. And they said: 'No don't worry about it. Because he came to a do here, and got pissed, and flaked out. And when we went to wake him up and move him, he said: "Please don't. I can't take any more. I can't do it any more. I'm very sore".' I think it was Papakura."

The Investigator: "Even as Leader of the Opposition (1993–99) Helen Clark was arranging paedophile cover. She got complicit cover from the first female Prime Minister, the evil Jenny Shipley (1997–99). Helen and Jenny were feminists together. They were 'organising and running a paedophile-minding racket hand-in-hand' – that's feminism. It was worse 1999–2008 when Helen Clark was Prime Minister.

Internal Affair's Undercover: "It is ironic that Trevor Roger ripped off a trust for cerebal palsy [connection later denied by Intelligence on 20 March 2009] because the Carlson School for Cerebal Palsy ["disorder of movement, sensation, cognition, perception, behavior, communication, and/or seizures"] which claims to be one of the best in the world (at 261 St Andrews Rd, Epsom in Auckland) had a huge paedophile problem with a caretaker that they refused to accept was a paedophile. So they kept him on and promoted him to shower cleaner. This was in the 1970s and 80s.

We present like the Brady Bunch . . .

[taking your minds off the Vietnam War].

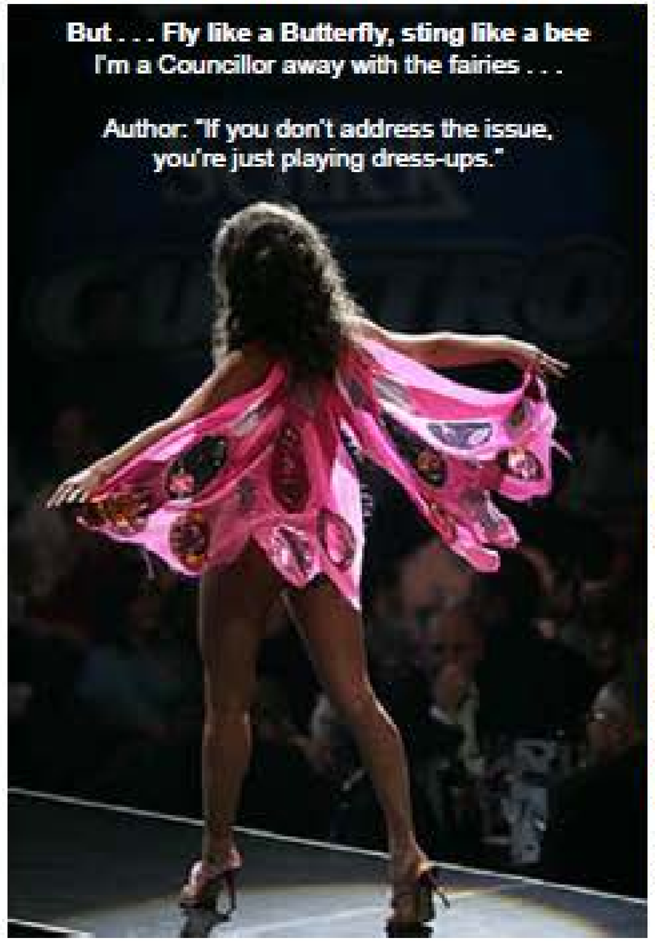
"The caretaker role of Cerebal Palsy's schools were given to paedophiles. It was virtually part of the job description . . . The women run Carlson and they are absolutely evil, the biggest paedophile enablers I've ever run across. They allowed paedophiles to take the Cerebal Palsy's children home and root them. The women would shield the paedophiles no matter what."

"They were comparable to Peter Liddell's wife. She would opt out of school camping trips and have her husband replace her, and in hundreds of cases, Peter rooted the kids. She gave perjured evidence in two of Peter Liddell's trials for paedophilia, and even after she was proved to have lied in court, the police refused to charge her with perjury. She was a total evil bag, but evil bags are never exposed in New Zealand.

"Peter Richardson, a writer for the Sunday News got someone on Radio Pacific circa 1997 talking about paedophiles and the phones lit up. Then this kid rang in and said he'd been sexually abused by the caretaker at the Carlson School for Cerebal Palsy.

"Even the mother of one of the kids Aussie Malcolm was rooting rang up during the radio show. She, Mrs N. had two boys at normal schools [not at Carlson] who Aussie Malcolm had got at during rugby training.

"Mrs N. took Aussie Malcolm to court on the basis of what one of her sons had said, and Aussie Malcolm threatened to kill the police Inspector Jones of Newmarket, who was in charge . . . and he got very ill soon after . . . Inspector Jones went to Harlech House (82 Great South Rd, Otahuhu, Ph 259 0600, where all the detectives are) and a whole bunch of them got poisoned from Legionnaire's disease (an acute respiratory infection). Inspector Jones was then demoted to Constable, then chucked out of the police."



But . . . Fly like a Butterfly, sting like a bee
I'm a Councillor away with the fairies . . .

Author: "If you don't address the issue, you're just playing dress-ups."

Helen Clark was involved in the cover up of, and the deaths of Ian 'Kahurangi' Mitchell, SAT Senior Sergeant Peter Evans, and Chairman of the Auckland City Council Phil Warren.

Helen Clark is a drug dealer herself, and 14 months after Deputy Mayor Warren was deceased, she was importing heroin. If Phil Warren were still alive, he would have sniffed it out.

CIA asset from 1966– and 1994–, drug dealer, paedophile, child sex abuser, Freemason, Minister of Police (1990–96), Mayor of Auckland (2001–04, 2007–), and high ranking National supporter of Trevor Roger, John Banks wasn't far behind.

John Banks: "Hi. I'm a CIA mind-controlled fuckwit involved in drug-trafficking.

"I supported Trevor Roger."

Hi, my name's Glenda Roger and New Zealand is a country of plywood helicopters with no rotor blade in sight

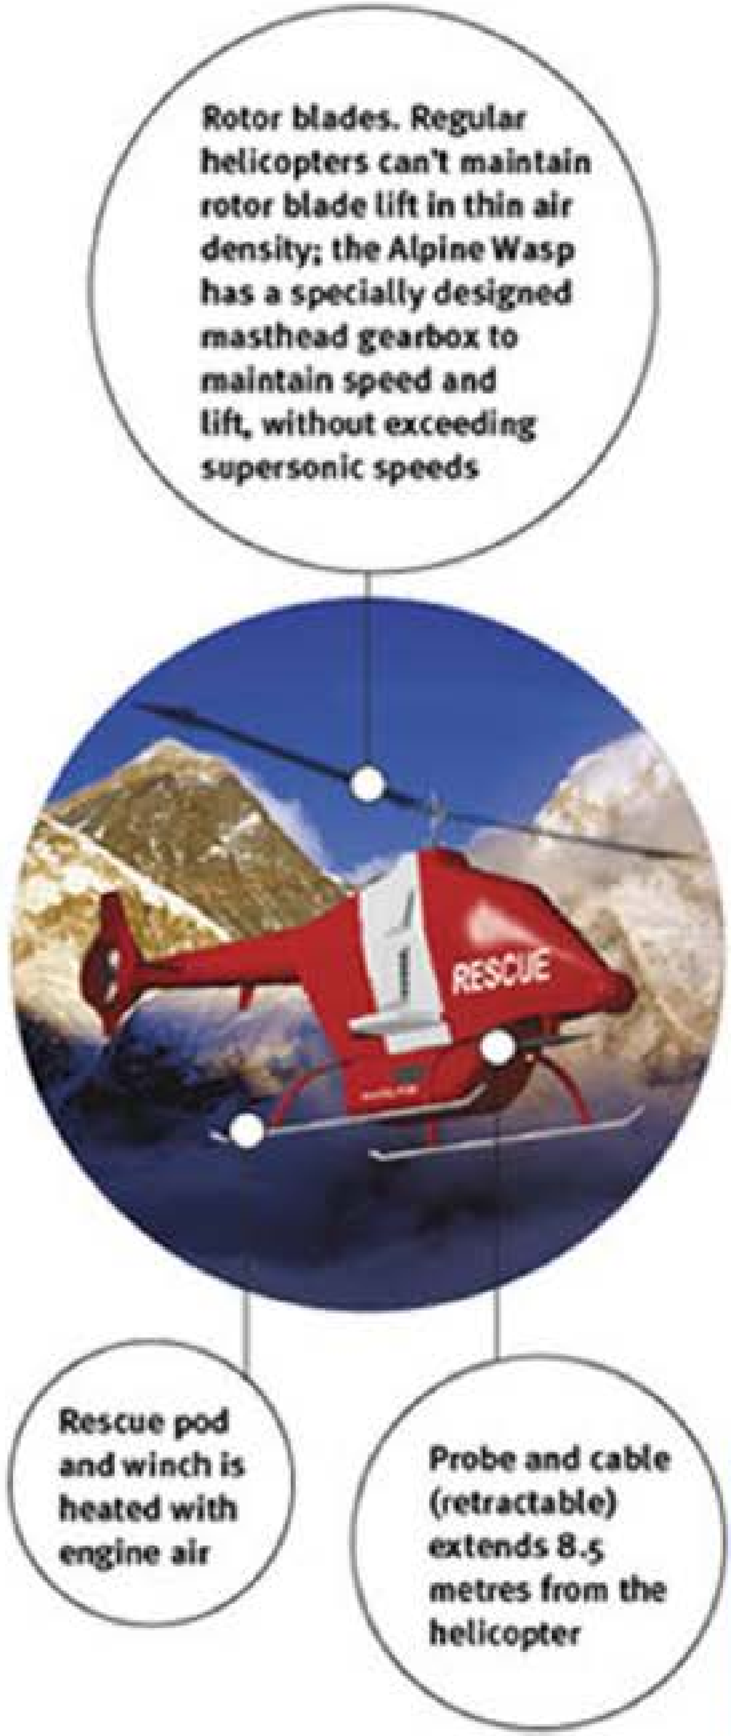
This symbol was not authorised, although both birds are flightless.

and bomb attachments supplied by the military under pressure from the CIA.



Rotor blades. Regular helicopters can't maintain rotor blade lift in thin air density; the Alpine Wasp has a specially designed masthead gearbox to maintain speed and lift, without exceeding supersonic speeds

Rescue pod and winch is heated with engine air

Probe and cable (retractable) extends 8.5 metres from the helicopter

. . . and more false promises than you can shake a stick at.

Why?

Because New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.

That's how all us Con Artists get away with it.

Where?

First, as KIWI's we get conned, then we do the con on others, and use the shit on others for protection.

When?

In the meantime, the Judiciary can't even settle a debt because the Chief Justice is a Jewish con artist who ripped off NZ$500 million.

So she surrounds herself with like-minded people.

That's how?

We ended up as New Zealand being the Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors.

What?

I hear Sir Edmund Hillary's house is now on the market.

How much?

I'm sure the CIA could buy it for a $5 note with Ed's picture on it. Afterall, houses are going for $1 in Detroit.[51]

John Banks and Bob Harvey compete to be the best and biggest cross-dressing Mayor

John Banks and Bob Harvey are competing to be the first Executive Mayor of Auckland's four cities, from Wellsford to Bombay, making it the single biggest city in Australasia.

The entire scheme is being instigated and nominated by the CIA contract killer Dame Margaret Bazley, with the report due on 31 March 2009. It was approved and due to take place in October 2010.

I move for the removal of John Banks and Bob Harvey as Mayors.

I move for the removal of Dame Margaret Bazley from any form of decision making, from any and every government department, to be charged on multiple counts of 'complicity to murder', and all of her previous work placed under review.

I move for a by-election in Auckland and Waitakere – A.S.A.P.

Non-Prosecution Certificate?

By June 2009, nothing more had reached the media, and no judical decisions were made public. It looks like someone came up with a Non-Prosecution Certificate, or even made a suggestion of one.

That's usually enough to terrify the police.

Karen Sewell pays her 'les-be-friends' an extra NZ$20 million

There were however, more fuck ups by Karen Sewell . . .

> "The Ministry of Education has admitted a mistake resulting in 'about $20 million' too much being paid out to early childhood education centres. 'I don't yet know all of the detail, but I do know that the Ministry of Education made a serious mistake and I'm very, very sorry for it', said Secretary for Education Karen Sewell. 'It's a significant amount . . . It's certainly unprecedented in the time that I have been here.'
> Ms Sewell said she believed the figure involved was 'about $20m' and that the ministry would not try to directly recoup the funds.
> The error occurred in July last year [2008] . . . The error was not found until last month [May 2009] . . . Education Minister Anne Tolley said she had ordered an inquiry into how the error occurred and why it took so long to pick up . . ."[53]

So let me get this right Karen Sewell! You lost 20 million dollars for ten months and didn't even know about it. What, . . . were you too busy fisting the Prime Minister.

The murder of Senior Sergeant Peter Evans of the Sexual Abuse Team

Peter Evans had received so much information from his Police Undercover/ intelligence officer (and initially rejected it) that he was in a position to bribe the judiciary, MPs, and education – so it was a case of who was bribing who, and who had to go.

Peter Evens had to go, so he was killed in Auckland Hospital by paedophiles, who were also paedophile minders, who were also protecting paedophiles in the New Zealand Government – so it was a government hit.

Commission of Inquiry into Police Murders (Paul White) and Government Assisted Thefts

Wise Counsel from Don Stewart on Police Corruption, 11 January 2007

"As a former NSW police officer, Don Stewart has a practical understanding of police culture that gives him added authority when it comes to tackling corruption and preserving integrity within the service. Added to his distinguished career as a judge, royal commissioner and inaugural head of the National Crime Authority, few are better placed to comment on what is needed to root out wrongdoers and restore public confidence in the Victoria Police Service. Mr Stewart led the Royal Commission into Drug Trafficking in 1981 that exposed the murderous "Mr Asia" drug syndicate. He headed an inquiry into the Nugan Hand Bank and the public hearings that exposed corruption in the NSW police force.

"In Victoria, the case for an open royal commission to restore public confidence is clear. The evidence includes a series of drug-related gangland murders, video evidence of police brutality, union hostility to official investigations and secret deals between the police union and the premier.

"In his forthcoming memoirs, Recollections of an unreasonable man, Mr Stewart rejects the view put by Victorian Chief Commissioner Christine Nixon and her supporters in government that the arrest and charging of police officers for leading roles in organised crime is proof the Victoria police force is upright, honest and true.

"Mr Stewart takes the opposite view.

"That is, the arrest of some corrupt police only proves corruption is deep-seated and continuing. Mr Stewart says it is obvious why the Victorian police don't want, and the Victorian Government will not have, an independent wide-ranging judicial inquiry into police corruption such as was had in Queensland and NSW: they know it would reveal what they don't want revealed.

"Mr Stewart does not suggest all Victorian police are corrupt, but his experience tells him that what's known about police corruption in Victoria is just the tip of the iceberg.

"The evidence to date paints an alarming picture. Twenty-eight people have been murdered in an underworld gang war over drugs that the Victorian police force appeared powerless to stop for almost 10 years. In September, the Office of Police Integrity presented damning video evidence in which officers of the now-disbanded armed offenders squad punched and abused a suspect as he pleaded for mercy. As bad as that was, of equal concern was the response of those embedded within the Victorian police culture.

"OPI proceedings were labelled a "Spanish Inquisition" by police union chief Paul Mullett, who argued they should be moved behind closed doors.

"The union had a similar response to revelations in The Australian this week that the OPI would conduct hearings later this year into links between allegedly corrupt officers and organised crime.

"The police union would closely monitor the investigation, while the Victoria Police Association assistant secretary, Inspector Bruce McKenzie, said the OPI was "unaccountable" and lacked proper oversight.

"The police union and police association are doing their job in defending their members. But they are not objective commentators.

"There is also evidence of an unhealthy relationship between the police union and executive government, with The Australian exposing that the union had made a secret deal with Premier Steve Bracks in the run-up to the November state election without > the knowledge of Ms Nixon. Despite requests by this newspaper, details of what was promised remain secret.

> Official corruption thrives on secrecy, as highlighted by corruption fighter Tony Fitzgerald QC in his landmark report into corruption in Queensland. Mr Fitzgerald said it was improper for the police union to meet executive government members without the police commissioner present.
> "Mr Stewart's support for a royal commission echoes that of Mark Le Grand, who argued in May 2004 that the Victorian government was neglecting its duty in leaving an investigation in the hands of Ms Nixon and the police service. Mr Le Grand, a former Criminal Justice Commission misconduct division director and deputy director of the commonwealth Department of Public Prosecutions, said Victoria had clear evidence of third-level corruption of the type faced by the Fitzgerald inquiry, well beyond the threshold required for royal commission intervention.
> "Third-level corruption is an entrenched system that ruthlessly protects itself.
> The Australian first called for a royal commission into Victorian policing in an editorial in March 2004, after the gangland execution of Andrew "Benji" Veniamin, the 21st victim of a drug-related killing rampage that started with the slaying of standover merchant Alphonse Gangitano in 1998. We argued then that only a royal commission had the power to go to the root of police corruption, while satisfying the deep concerns of the public that the Victorian police force was up to the job. Nothing has changed.
> "If anything, the case today for a royal commission, as expressed by Mr Stewart, is all the more compelling."

Spymaster: "If New Zealand ever harboured a judge as straight as Stewart, he would have been killed by a Cop car, run over while delivering the Briefs of Evidence on how corrupt the Police are."

Son of a National Party member: "Judge Yaldwyn said years before he committed suicide: 'Corruption takes many different forms in Australia. Australian corruption is different from New Zealand corruption. Nothing is beyond the Australian crims and coppers.'

"This upset my father who was high up in the National Party. Judge Yaldwyn occupied a similar level in the Liberal 'Country' Party in Australia, represented the PM and came to NZ a lot. They used to have late night sessions together and my father found Judge Yaldwyn quite disturbing and unsettling.

"In Sydney, around 1972, Judge Yaldwyn was allowed out of court to escape to commit suicide in his car on the roadside. My father wrote a tribute that was not read at his funeral. It said: 'He was a flawed genius'."

Winebox Inquiry

New Zealand has no one with Don Stewart's credentials as a police officer, judge, Royal Commissioner and inaugural head of the National Crime Authority, nor did New Zealand have a Royal Commission into Drug Trafficking in 1981 that exposed the murderous "Mr Asia" drug syndicate, although the financial syndicate behind it, the lead players, and most of the couriers came from New Zealand. It was run from New Zealand, as were the murders, with plenty of New Zealand lawyers involved.

Since New Zealand doesn't have a replacement, and since I'm writing this book, which should lead to a 'Commission of Inquiry into Police Corruption', then I'll put my name in here, and just to show I'm worthy, I'll solve a few crimes along the way.

New Zealand's closest inquiry into bank fraud and associated police corruption was the bought case, The Winebox Inquiry (1994–97) and the related Paul White murder (1991) which was totally fluffed over.

Investigate magazine's owner/ editor Ian Wishart then made the movie 'Spooked' in 2004. It didn't do too well, even by Wishart's admission:

"No one in New Zealand seems interested in the truth".

I'd have to agree. As soon as you write the truth in New Zealand, the entire public is switched off. I believe this is a reaction from being lied to for 35 years, ever since the communists invaded under the guise of 'feminism', then took over all forms of government including the top six positions – Prime Minister, Governor-General, Chief Justice, Attorney-General and Minister of Police who became the Minister of Justice.

The Winebox Inquiry was undertaken in New Zealand to investigate claims of corruption and incompetence in the Serious Fraud Office (SFO) and Inland Revenue Department (IRD). Officially it was the "Commission of Inquiry into Certain Matters relating to Taxation". It was established in September 1994. The Commissioner was Justice Ronald Davison. There was extensive litigation during and afterwards, and an extremely high level of public interest. After three different judgements were presented, and none were found to be acceptable to Michael Fay and David Richwhite, Fay, Richwhite & Company wrote a fourth for Justice Davison to accept. Nearly three years later, in August 1997, Justice Davison/ the Commission concluded: 'there were no grounds supporting the allegations of fraud and corruption'.

The entire nation cried "BULLSHIT, but no newspapers reported it.

Spymaster: "Justice Davison's cat was held ransom for about three days. The CIB managed to call it back from the gangs – using reliant gangsters, those with police connections – saying that their case would not be served by holding the cat to ransom because the judge was already working on the fourth draft of the judgement and had already taken the police suggestions onboard, plus Fay Richwhite's suggestions and the fourth draft would be the final one and wouldn't offend anyone in power. On that basis the cat was returned to Justice Davison who didn't even notice it was missing."

I (Hallett) took Spook to the 2004 movie 'Spooked' and we had the theatre all to ourselves in Target Road, Glenfield. Admittedly it was an afternoon session. Spook was actually Ian Wishart's informant for much of The Paradise Conspiracy book (1995) and the resulting movie 'Spooked' emerged from this. Wishart got his funding from people closely associated with Fay, Richwhite & Company – including Eric Watson, so this also had some influence on who the movie 'Spooked' was to blame for the murder of Paul White.

Paul White had bought a computer with discs attached in June 1991 and these showed a government crime syndicate, with the Citibank, who then ordered White's murder, and got the New Zealand government to carry it out as a combined forces exercise.

The move 'Spooked' showed Spook attaching a radio controlled hydraulic arm to the front wheel which could sharply turn the wheel and drive it off the road. It then showed Paul White driving down a motorway ramp with his Citibank payment beside him, the wheel turned hard left and he drove off the ramp and the car fell eight metres onto the ground killing Paul White. Then it cut to Spook laughing . . . but Spook is a caring sharing sort of guy.

Spook: "I rang DIC (Detective in Charge) of the White Murder Inquiry, Mel Churches, before the police changed it to 'an accident'. Mel Churches asked me: 'Who did it?" I told him: 'It was Panapa and Kimba Johnson'. Churches replied: 'That's what eveyone says. Ten people have told me that.' I said: 'Are you going to look at them for having done it?' and Churches replied: 'No, because I don't have to'."

Ian Wishart, You Shameful Sell Out – this is butt-cracking crap[1]

While I was sitting next to Spook watching the movie in the movie theatre, he was narrating what had happened, that it was basically correct, and adding bits, which was also quite irritating. Then, towards the end of the movie, when the above incident was shown, Spook got out of his seat and bought two icecreams "'cause the lies were playing with my blood sugar levels".

So I got Spook's story, then went to those involved and got the inside story. Here's what happened to Paul White. Here's how Paul White died . . .

The Murder of Paul White. . . and boy were the people involved qualified

The New Zealand Dairy Board had built an enormous shed for milk powder in the Middle East, but Israel was using it as a clearing house for arms deals. The New Zealand Dairy Board was paid a cut for these arms deals and the financial transactions were made through Citibank, the New Zealand subsidiary of Citicorp, a clearing bank for non-retail banking services, and one of the largest banks in the United States.

The name "NEW ZEALAND DAIRY BOARD" was used three or four times as the 'end user' in the arms deals and this is what the courts look for in a conviction.

In June 1991, Paul White bought a secondhand computer in a box, with loose discs and these discs had the Israel/ NEW ZEALAND DAIRY BOARD/ CITIBANK/ CITICORP/ Arms deal details in page-after-page abundance.

In July 1991, Paul White reported that the SIS (Security Intelligence Service) had approached him wanting ("to discuss the Citibank information") the discs. The SIS then said the police were going to search his property which they did two days later.

This is a typical SIS confirmation – to predict, then to have it happen.

The SIS and the SAS work together and are sometimes the same staff. The SIS first try non-violent means. That is, their first steps are requesting, then boiler-plating, hobbling, intimidation, blacklisting, isolation, reducing work opportunites, destroying relationships, then killing pets, etc.

The SIS work with the SAS when they don't get their way. The SIS didn't get their way with Paul White so they employed the SAS. This involved a new hat and arm badge, and sometimes new people. Since they're all government departments, they also employed the government contract killer Kimball Johnson.

Paul White then met with the shit stirring MP for Tauranga, Winston Peters, who was then Minister of Maori Affairs for the National government.[2] Winston stuck up for Paul White at first, then went quiet in lieu of future promotions instead of career assassination.

Winston had originally backed Paul White and was supposed to be negotiating, but the hit (murder of Paul White) had already been positively approved by Prime Minister Jim Bolger (2 November 1990–8 December 1997).

The deal was to pay Paul White, kill him in an accident, recover the money and walk away with clean hands, free of murder charges, with all involved experienced in murder and denial, and supporting each other in such.

Arrangement for payment was made through the National Party using Winston Peters (Minister of Maori Affairs) and Michelle Boag who was also the bag lady. At the time she was also the Director of Corporate Affairs for 'Fay, Richwhite & Company'; and working for the 'Public Relations Institute of New Zealand', and the 'International Association of Business Communicators' – some reference!

Paul White met with Winston Peters and Michelle Boag at the Parnell restaurant Non Solo Pizza (NSP) about 4 km from the future 'accident' site, with only one main access road leading to the Harbour Bridge. This made his direction somewhat predictable.

Paul White was paid by Michelle Boag $10,000 or $15,000 on Friday 3 September 1991 for a disc of Citibank information. It was probably $10,000, but $15,000 was claimed. Ask Michelle Boag. She should be able to confirm the amount.

Intelligence: "Michelle Boag was the Minister of Arts and President of the National Party. Once she was outside having a smoke at the back of the toilets outside an Arts function and said: 'What are the boring cunts talking about now?' She was a hard woman, good looking once, but now slaps everything on – 'a quasi-intellectual sexpot in semi-drag'. Her husband went to jail for fraud. She slipped out from underneath. They're back together again now, off and on."

Paul White celebrated his $10,000 or more payment at the Centra Hotel in Auckland, then left at 10 pm with a man and a woman (since identified, interviewed and cleared). Paul White then went to the Regent Hotel for a meal (now the Stamford Plaza at 22 Albert Street), then to a nightclub and left around 4 am. The next hour is unclear. Perhaps he was visiting a very tired Friday night hooker for the first time (4.10–5.10 am).

Paul White had the Citibank money beside him and was travelling north (not on the over-pass heading south as the movie showed, but) on Franshaw Street, across the Beaumont Street intersection and onto the motorway heading north towards the Harbour Bridge.

The murder of Paul Gordon Edward White (26) ocurred at 5.15 am on Saturday 4 September 1991.

A pale blue 1989 Ford Falcon driven by Kimball Johnson (assisted by Mr Panapa, cousin of rock radio personality Leah Panapa) shunted Paul White from behind into the concrete base of the motorway overramp approaching the Auckland Harbour Bridge.

Paul White wasn't killed in the accident, but he was unconscious. At least two other cars were following Paul White and they were all involved in his murder. They were also all part of the police and the military.

An SAS Army Medic happened to be the next car behind.

First there was Paul White, then Kimball Johnson, then the SAS Army Medic, then a random police officer, then important people in the know, then the ambulance, then the assigned police.[3]

The SAS Army Medic's job was to make sure Paul White was dead. Paul White may not have been dead, and other reports say and show that he wasn't.

There was no blood in the car, the steering wheel and dashboard were undamaged, and the maximum speed he would have been doing was 70 km/h as the crash showed.

> "Radio NZ last night quoted an unidentified source [Spook] saying that White's car was not as badly damaged as could be expected from an impact with a concrete pillar.

[1] SIS: "Incidentally, the old method was using vaseline and a detonator in the hubcap producing 150 lb/sq in. of explosion. The vaseline would spin to the outside then the detonator would explode "the cap" (as it was known) blowing the wheel off on the passenger front side, especially effective around steep roads like in Wellington. The vaseline would then mix with the other grease and detritus of the car, and on the ground, so it was virtually undetectable."

[3] The assigned police officer in charge of the murder scene/ 'accident' then sat in the back of my High Court hearing on 20 April 2009 (28 years later). He was sitting next to a tow truck driver. They were chatting away and the officer was expecting to have my car towed immediately. I won all four cases by verbal decision and the police officer immediately stormed out of the room, got on the blower to Wellington and they said: "How the fuck did that happen?" and went about changing the decision. So in Judge Lin Stevens' written decision two weeks later, I had only won 1 out of the 4 cases. This is another verson of the PC rewriting history. In this case "PC" stands for 'Police Cunts'. Judge Stevens was then requested to admit bias and recuse himself.

The front of the car was significantly damaged by the 5.15 am crash on the Fanshawe St, city side, approach to the harbour bridge, but the dashboard and steering wheel were not and there was no blood in the vehicle.”[4]

So the SAS Army Medic drove up to the crashed car, Paul White, assessed he was not dead, grabbed White's barely conscious head, twisted it to break his neck, assessed that Paul White was dead, then sped off.

Important people were to be the next to follow, but a police car happened to be close by heading to Takapuna and attended the ‘accident’ unexpectedly. The Maori/ Polynesian officer (Double Brown) was not in on it. He was not assigned, but saw Paul White's body, his watch and the money ($10–$15K), so he stole the watch, emptied the briefcase, and left with the watch and the money.

Paul White was dead at the time and has been ever since.

Later the police, especially Detective Inspector John Rex Hughes, decided they couldn't sack the Maori/ Pacifc Island police officer who was now $10–$15K richer.

The important people then waited.

The Ambulance service then received “two or three” anonymous emergency calls from mobile phones. Soon the ambulance arrived on the scene of the ‘accident’.

The higher-ranking-people-in-the-know then turned up to dictate what had happened.

Seeing the money was gone, higher-ranking-people-in-the-know investigated all the ambulance staff for the missing money.

To cut their losses, they had the Ambulance staff report: “Paul White died shortly after the ambulance arrived” . . . but Paul White died shortly before the ambulance staff arrived.

The same people then assessed that it was “an accident”, ensured that no evidence was taken, and no one could assess the accident, then all the evidence was taken away.

Paul White's lawyer, Mark Blomkamp on TV3: “‘Someone may well have considered the information on the discs serious enough to kill for’ . . . the money was not in White's briefcase in his crashed car. The accident could have been invoked . . . ‘You might well think that but I couldn't possibly comment’.”[5]

So even Paul White's lawyer was scared, or had been scared off, or bought off with the promise of lucrative cases.

Spook then checked the wrecked car for evidence of driver struggle, especially the steering wheel and dashboard and noted that the damage was not great enough to cause death.’

Winston Peters had met Paul White at NSP some nine hours prior. Winston was then retired from his cabinet position as Minister of Maori Affairs a month later (early October 1991) then used his knowledge to pressure his reinstatement back into government – into higher positions – by alleging ‘government links with big business and corruption’.

He did this around July 1992, some nine months after the murder.

It worked wonders for his career – absolute bloody wonders.

The CIA's John Banks was the Minister of Police at the time. His favourite occupation is ‘protecting his own reputation’ and ordering ‘go nowhere investigations’.

Banks spends millions on consultant's reports (Deloitte/ CIA) that won't be acted upon, and “high priority police investigations” that will find nothing and ‘protect the CIA name’.

[5] Pat Cain, ‘Police probe mans death in Citibank disk case’, cain@p@kosmos.wcc.govt.nz, 9 September 1992 as summarised from The Dominion and The New Zealand Herald, 9 Sept 1992.

So on 8 Sept. 1992, Minister of Police John Banks ordered the NEW ZEALAND POLICE to do a “high priority investigation” into “Paul White's death may not have been accidental”.

It was an Intelligence whitewash . . . a CIA exercise in Counter-Intelligence Action.

The CIA's role is to protect American business overseas and that includes Citicorp, Citibank, Deloitte, and any Israel-involved Arms deals.

Paul White's murder involved all five so it was definitely a hit with CIA overtones.

The pale blue Ford Falcon should have had bent front driving gear, but when it was later driven around the South Island: “Going around a corner, it would shudder and jump a little. It seemed as if the chasis was out of line.”

Winston Peters' Career Moves

At the time of the payment and murder on 4 September 1991, Winston Peters was the Minister of Maori Affairs for Jim Bolger's National Government. He was then sacked a month later in early October 1991. Winston's time as Minister of Maori Affairs is given as “September 1990 to October 1991”. No specific dates are given. Perhaps it was Maori time.

Winston Peters also lost his National Party's endorsement for the safe Tauranga seat, so he returned as an independent and remained the MP for Tauranga (1984–2005) forming and leading the New Zealand First Party in 1993 which got him into office 2005–08.[6]

So Winston Peters had been repremanded, but he had the bully on the government, so . . . By 1996 Winston Peters held the balance of power in Government and negotiated himself into the position of Jim Bolger's Deputy Prime Minister (1996–97) and became the first Treasurer (16 December 1996–14 August 1998). Murder will get you behind the money.

Under the also corrupt Labour Government (1999–2008), Winston Peters was then Minister of Foreign Affairs (19 October 2005–29 August 2008) Senior Citizens and Racing – who all lost their money – those retired, those betting, and those who invested overseas.

There was a Police investigation and Winston stood down from all positions. Admittedly he took the rap for the corruption of Prime Minister Helen Clark who was accepting donations from one of the CIA's biggest heroin traffickers – shipping magnate Owen Glenn.

Owen Glenn bought his cover by donating NZ$7.5 million to the University of Auckland's Business School for a new building in February 2005, and “the University of Auckland is the most CIA university outside of America”, so it was all entrenched payback.

Like his namesake ‘Winston Churchill’, Winston Peters was a Party Hopper – working for National, forming New Zealand First, then working under Labour. The only people who get to do this successfully are Mossad assets, Israeli agents, usually with a mental illness. Both qualify.

Michelle Boag – the Quasi-Intellectual Sexpot Semi-Drag Counter-Intelligence Queen

Michelle Ann Boag (10 December 1954–) is divorced with one child. She held various positions in the National Party (1976–90).[7] She was a Press and Research Secretary for Prime Minister Robert Muldoon (1976–81, Tavistock); Press Secretary for Leader of the Opposition Jim Bolger (1985–86); worked for Public Relations Institute of New Zealand (PRINZ, 1982–92, Paid Lairs and Hypers); and the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC, 1989–92, Leverage, More Leverage, and Hyper Leverage); then she worked as the National Party president during 2002.

Michelle Boag's career included four years as ‘Director of Corporate Affairs’ for the corrupt merchant bank 'Fay, Richwhite & Company' who were the subject of The Winebox Inquiry' which Ian Wishart wrote about in The Paradise Conspiracy (1995) – including the Paul White murder. Winston Peters started off as the Winebox antagonist and ended up as a soft cock.

Michelle Boag is a consumate failure, a paid serial liar who installs Counter-Intelligence people with trumped up qualifications into key positions for leverage and more leverage. Michelle Boag is literally a compromised bag of shit who spends her reverse earnt positions promoting the worst people into influential positions to ensure the continued limitation and destruction of New Zealand in exchange for their cover-up of her appalling achievements . . . Michelle Boag is a douche bag.[8]

Following a period as President of the National Party in 2002, Michelle set up the boutique recruitment agency 'PR People' (recruiting public relations and communications practitioners – paid public liars). Miraculously in September 2008 it was bought by one of New Zealand's largest privately-owned recruitment companies the 'Momentum Group of Companies' which includes 'PR People' (public relations, business development, communications, marketing, sponsorship, events) 'IT recruitment' and 'Velocity' (office support specialists).

For cover, Michelle Boag was Trustee of the 'Auckland Rescue Helicopter Trust (well-known for its advertising frauds and linked to the murder of a lawyer 'falling' over a Takapuna cliff in his underpants, via an Australian brothers hit team); a former Trustee of Surf Livesaving (men in short shorts and a multi-coloured Jewish cap crashing outdated boats in up-to-the-minute surf), and a former President of Variety – the Children's Charity.

After single handedly destroying the ACC in one month in 1987: "The sensationalist tone of media releases regarding the financial situation at ACC has ignored the causes behind this so called 'blow out'"[9] . . . which is a case of the guilty investigating the next generation of guilt by providing an agreed cover up . . . as it was before, so it is now – intergenerational lying.

Michelle Boag is a paid liar and installer of Counter-Intelligence people into key positions. She is now New Zealand's leading PR recruitment specialist – or hired liar and can be contacted at michelleboag@prpeople.co.nz, Mobile 021940884, Ph (09) 3065500, Fax (09) 3065511, PR People, Momentum Group of Companies, Level 3, National Bank Tower, Cnr Queen and Victoria Streets, Auckland, P.O. Box 105-732.

Michelle Boag is one of those people who have been failed to the top. She is best described as:

> 'a hard woman, good looking once, but now slaps everything on making her a quasi-intellectual sexpot in semi-drag . . . a douche bag protecting the heroin use of illiterate prime ministers in exchange for vaginal leverage and political enemas.'

New Zealand Police 'High Priority' Investigation into Paul White's Murder

The CIA's Minister of Police John Banks 'High Priority Police Investigation' could not possibly find that:

1. The death of Paul White was not an accident;
2. The murder of Paul White had been positively approved by Prime Minister Jim Bolger;
3. Paul White's murder had been instigated by the government contract killer Kimball Johnson, assisted by Mr Panapa;
4. A senior SAS Army Medic completed the killing of Paul White;
5. Minister of Maori Affairs Winston Peters knew of the impending murder;

[8] 'Douche bag': "a small syringe for fluid injections used chiefly for enemas and vaginal lavage."

[9] The Standard, Daily Archive, March 11th, 2009, 'How to reduce ACC costs without cutting cover'.

6. Director of Corporate Affairs for 'Fay, Richwhite & Company' Michelle Boag was the bag lady for the Citibank money and knew of the impending murder;
7. There was not enough damage to the car to render Paul White dead;
8. The New Zealand Dairy Board had been profiting from arms dealing in the Middle East;
9. Minister of Police John Banks was a CIA asset and agent;
10. Minister of Police John Banks has been a CIA asset and agent ever since he was involved in drug dealing (1960s–) and paedophilia (as soon as he turned 21);
11. Minister of Arts Michelle Boag, while in charge of the Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) account had lost NZ$90 million in week during unauthorised gambling in the stockmarket, and that is why accidental health care in New Zealand is so bad . . . "If you don't die from the paperwork, the hospital will kill you";
12. Winston Peters was promoted to Deputy Prime Minister (1996–97) because he had the wood on Prime Minister Jim Bolger ordering the murder of Paul White;
13. Prime Minister Jim Bolger had the reading and writing age of a 14-year-old;
14. Prime Minister Jim Bolger was an accidental heroin user on Ridgeway Road in Taupo (teabags with an elephant printed on the side) and this resulted in extra vomit bags being placed in the government helicopters ever since.

So Paul White's death remained an "unresolved accident" and when Ian Wishart came to make his 2004 movie on the death of Paul White, he got some funding from parties allied to the murder, then named the movie 'Spooked', and quite blatantly blamed Paul White's murder on Spook. This brings into question: "What do they have on Ian Wishart?"

Promotion almost always comes from being a sell out.
It is very rarely and almost never earnt.

Editorial: New Zealand Police Royal Commission overdue

Wise Counsel from Greg Hallett on Police Corruption, 11 January 2010

> "In New Zealand, the case for an open royal commission to restore public confidence in the Police is clear. The evidence includes a series of methamphetamine-related murders, gang warfare, video evidence of police brutality, police hostility to official police investigations of police (Operation Austin) and secret deals between the Police Association President and Spokesman Greg O'Connor and Prime Minister Helen Clark, as well as Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards and the Political Ombudsman Anand Satyanand – now Governor-General. All of these people were involved in methamphetamine and heroin trafficking, the murder of historian Michael King, and attempted murders of Greg Hallett, now head of the commission of inquiry into police corruption.
> "In his forthcoming memoirs, THE SEX COLLECTORS, How the World is Run on Shame, Vol I Stitch-ups, Vol II Murders, Vol III Heroin Ticket, Mr Hallett rejects the view put by the Police Commissioner Howard Broad, Minister of Police Annette King, and the Police Association President and Spokesman Greg O'Connor, that it's just a few corrupt cops and the rest are doing a fine job.
> "The unarrested and uncharged police officers in leading roles in organised crime involving 'contract killing, heroin trafficking, and methamphetamine manufacture and delivery' is proof the New Zealand police force is upright, honest and true only in its presentation to the public.

"In all other areas, the Police are a crime creation and social engineering movement that serves 'drug traffickers, arms dealers, paedophiles and their minders'.

"Mr Hallett takes the view that the unarresting of corrupt police only proves corruption is deep-seated and continuing. Mr Hallett says it is obvious why the New Zealand police don't want, and the New Zealand Government will not have, an independent wide-ranging judicial inquiry into police corruption such as was had in Queensland and NSW: they know it would reveal what they don't want revealed. Mr Hallett does not suggest all New Zealand police are corrupt, but his experience tells him that what's known about police corruption in New Zealand is just the tip of the iceberg.

"The evidence to date paints an alarming picture. One hundred and twenty-eight people have been murdered in an underworld gang wars over drugs that the New Zealand police force appeared powerless to stop for almost 30 years.[10]

"The police only admit to 3,000 gang members, but there are 20,000 gang members and only 9,500 police. Crime got so bad, like at 'Mad' Ave in Glendowie, that the Auckland City Council bulldozed all the houses on the street.

"Unable to solve crime, the New Zealand police have resorted to buying the gangs businesses and houses in bargains to keep the gangs out of crime. Their accountants worked out that this was cheaper. Their consultants worked out that this was the only effective method of reducing crime.

"In September, the non-existant 'Office of Police Integrity' presented damning video evidence in which officers of the still going Armed Offenders Squad punched and abused 20 suspects as they pleaded for mercy, and ordinary police shot and killed several unarmed people, and were then acquitted seven years later once the public had lost all interest and fogotten the names of the victims.

"As bad as that was, of equal concern was the response of those embedded within the New Zealand police culture.

"Proceedings were labelled a 'Spanish Inquisition' by Police Association President Greg O'Connor, who argued they should be moved behind closed doors. The Police Association had a similar response to revelations in The New Zealand Herald this week that the Police would conduct hearings later this year into links between allegedly corrupt officers and organised crime. The Police Association would closely monitor the investigation, while the New Zealand Police Association assistant secretary, Inspector Silent, said the Police were "unaccountable" and lacked proper oversight. With no Police Union, the Police Association are doing their job in defending their members. But they are not objective commentators.

"There is also evidence of an unhealthy relationship between the Police Association and executive government, with The New Zealand Herald exposing that Police Association's Greg O'Connor had made a secret deal with Prime Minister Helen Clark in the run-up to the November 2005 Election that 'Minister of Health Annette King would be made Minister of Police when she gave 10 kg of NATO heroin to the Police for free distribution to gangs in order to discover a market'.

"This was without the knowledge of the existing Minister of Police, George Hawkins whose career incompetence allegedly allowed the Head Hunters gang to take over the police in many aspects. In return the Police had the Head Hunters murder Antonie Dixon on 4 February 2009. He was transferred to a solitary confinement (for no apparent reason) where he reportedly hung himself with towels, but he had rung a contact of Mr Hallett 36 hours prior and said that he thought he was about to be murdered . . . so it was no surprise to us.

[10] CIB Undercover: "A lof of these deaths are from the Police contracting out killings to the gangs. Black Power used to moan to me that since they have had a working relationship with the Cops, the Police are forever asking them to do hits. That was in the late '90s."

"Despite requests by this newspaper, details of what was promised remain secret, however they were published in the October 2007 New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide with no published or reported denial. Although an unknown woman did complain 17 months later . . .

"Official corruption thrives on secrecy, as highlighted by corruption fighter Blank Blank QC in his landmark report into corruption in Auckland. Mr Blank said it was improper for the Police Association to meet executive government members without the Police Commissioner present – even though Police Commissioner Howard Broad liked watching 14-year-old girls fuck dogs on stage, all paid for by corrupt traffic tickets and taxpayer funding, and supported by his cover up of one of his fellow incestous child sex abusing Freemasons murdering his entire family – the 'bain' of the New Zealand Police.

"Mr Hallett's support for a royal commission echoes that of the 31 March 2004 Commission of inquiry into Police Misconduct report, and Ian Wishart, who argued that the New Zealand government was neglecting its duty in leaving an investigation in the hands of George Hawkins and the police service.

"Ian Wishart, a former journalist into Criminal Justice Commission misconduct, director of Howling at the Moon, and deputy director of his own large family, said New Zealand had clear evidence of third-level corruption of the type faced by the Fitzgerald inquiry, well beyond the threshold required for royal commission intervention.

"Third-level corruption is an entrenched system that ruthlessly protects itself.

"The New Zealand Herald first called for a royal commission into New Zealand policing in an editorial in March 2004, after the gangland execution of a number of brownskins, the 121st victim of a drug-related killing rampage that started with the slaying of Mr Asia courier Marty Johnstone in 1979.

"We argued then that only a royal commission had the power to go to the root of police corruption, while satisfying the deep concerns of the public that the New Zealand police force was up to the job. Nothing has changed. If anything, the case today for a royal commission, as expressed by Mr Hallett, is all the more compelling."

Spymaster: "You can always tell when the New Zealand Police have had a narc murdered under them – they moan forever at every opportunity. This is also what happens when they've deliberately stabbed him in the back by grassing him up to the other side that 'he's been instrumental in building a case against them'."

Author: "Yeah, once they're dead, they don't have to be paid".

Robert Downey Jr. and Jude Law in the 2009 'Sherlock Holmes':
"Will it be Fastice or Justice my dear Watson?"

Police Shagging during Stakeout

Greg Hallett then spoke to his Intelligence contact and said that the SIS had moved in next door within a week of his moving to Augustus Terrace in Parnell (2002–03), and his house was under close contact SIS surveillance.

"'The main reasons I was still alive was that they were so interested in what I was writing and the MP's daughter was a regular visitor.

"They wanted to see what I was going to come up with next. Plus the cop doing the recording had two female cops visiting him at different times, and each time the curtains would close and the surveillance would go lax'."

"The surveillance cop was shagging his assistants during the stakeout.

"'Proof of the police surveillance came when the MP's daughter came around, had some drinks, picked a domestic with my flatmate (her lover) and dragged it out onto the street. He drove off and she grabbed old of the rear side vision mirror while the BMW was moving.

"The police were there in 30 seconds.

"Penis out."

Greg Hallett: "It was close to Christmas and we work unacknowledged so we congratulated ourselves on what we had achieved. It is something we do only on rare occassions. I congratulated myself on causing the last snap election (announced but delayed) and said that I had learnt enough from my next book to take over a country and cause a snap election, whenever I wanted.

"This was due to having enough information to produce 'no confidence' in the current government. It was all true at the time and under that government, but didn't take into account the media suppression from sexually compromised employees – like Paul Holmes and Simon Dallow."

Greg Hallett: "I said that I was going to start working the information to cause a snap election in March 2005, not with the intent of installing another government, but with the intent of removing this one.

"I also said that because Trotsky, Lenin and Stalin were the Mafia bosses of their times, that Helen Clark, a KGB operative, asset and agent, was the Mafia boss of the South Pacific.

Intelligence: "You're probably right" – a compliment that doesn't happen too often.

Two days later (22 December 2004, 10:20 am) it was mentioned on Radio 1ZB that Helen Clark could call a snap election in March 2005.

Greg Hallett: "I then rang one of the Heads of Intelligence and he invited me over for tea".

The Election was eventually delayed by playing out the media. The media controls all politics in New Zealand, which means the CIA agent Rupert Murdoch controls the country. He was an Australian Counter-Intelligence agent working for the CIA. He is now a rabid homosexual and child sex abuser who lost US$4.3 billion in 2008.

Greg Hallett: "Not enough".

The Election didn't happen until it could get the sympathy vote from the death/ murder of former Labour Prime Minister David Lange. Rumour has it that he died of aids. He spent his entire time as Prime Minister rooting transvestites and not his wife – 'the Methodist Monobrow'.

Intelligence, 27 March 2009: "The Police are considering closing the file on you."

Greg Hallett: "That's probably because they haven't found anything on me. Peter Preece's (Police Forensics) clean report on me probably helped . . . or not."

Pre-Christmas Boiler-Plating 2004

On Friday night/ Saturday morning 17/18 December 2004 there was a huge violent argument between two men and a woman at one of Greg Hallett's neighbour's in Parnell. They were obviously on P – the police introduced and supplied drug.

The argument raged from midnight to 2 am and moved out onto the street and in front of his residence, focussing around his Mercedes parked outside.

When Hallett went to his car at 3 am the Mercedes hood ornament had been removed, the driver's window was down, although there were no signs of it being forced and his driver licence had been stolen. Nothing else was missing. The drugged out person on P left a button on the driver's seat and it looked remarkably like a police button.

Greg Hallett: "Other stuff had been rummaged through, but only the driver licence was taken."

"Every year, in the two weeks leading up to Christmas, the police specialise in boiler-plating their favourite customers. This involves observing them, breaking into their houses, tampering with their cars, trying to get them involved in violence, removing their children, interfering with their mail, stalling their outgoing products, stalling their incoming cheques, checking their mail, delaying it, and issuing traffic fines, preferably on false pretences.

"Since P is a police introduced drug, and the police focus on their boiler-plating in the two weeks before Christmas, and since the driver's window was down, without it being forced, and since the police had repeatedly broken into my place every second night in October and November 2004, and since the violence went from my neighbour's place to surround my car, and my car was the only one attacked, and since the police have been told to 'Alert central government in Wellington if Greg Hallett sets foot in a police station', then I consider this to be police boiler-plating."

Greg Hallett continued: "There are some other factors that make this so. My Intelligence contact came around on 20 December 2004 and said: 'There was a rumour put out by CYFs (Child Youth and Family services) that he was a paedophile. Would you please write a letter in support of me'.

"I suggest that 'Child Youth and Family services was the paedophile movement', and others are now agreeing to such an extent that ordinary people tell CYFs workers during interviews that 'CYFs is a paedophile movement' . . . and the CYFs workers agree.

"The entire Family Court, CYFs, Police role and network is designed to remove fathers from families, place the kids in government care and let the paedophiles pick and choose unprotected children under the guise of 'HELP'."

Greg Hallett: "I took the Intelligence dictation and discussed it with him. I decided that their gossip, which had amounted to nothing to date, was a fishing expedition to find out who his supporters were, and they were using this Intelligence contact's list of supporters to prepare an assassination list for CYFs and the Labour Government – another murder list.

"Under Helen Clark, Government was that hairy. It was. Really. Ask anyone who wasn't employed by her . . . and that's anyone who wasn't a party to fisting her.

Greg Hallett then told his Intelligence contact: "Everyone involved in exposing police/ government corruption was currently being boiler-plated".

Intelligence replied: "You're probably right".

Greg Hallett: "My Intelligence contacts main crime was that he had exposed paedophiles within CYFs. He had been published in the December 2004 issue of Investigate magazine for this. CYFs had been working diligently for many years to supply unprotected children to paedophiles.

The name 'Astrid Malcolm' was mentioned repeatedly. She worked high up in CYFs and would take children home for her husband, Aussie Malcolm, to 'coach', which he did, alone, in the bedroom for about eight (8) hours.

"I then told my Intelligence contact how this 'effective' Family Court lawyer had contacted me. He had been charged for having sexual images of children on his computer, but it was a shared use computer (family and staff used it), the police had stolen it, removed the harddrive, then said the porn images on the computer were his, but failed to ever produce the harddrive, or the images.

"His wife, a feminist involved with Women's Refuge, was divorcing him at the time and after the bach (holiday home).

"We rang this Family Court lawyer and he said that while he was in court defending himself, someone had come into his house and changed all the settings on his computer.

"I said that his computer would be tracked, his phone would be tapped and his house would be bugged.

"The lawyer replied: 'I can't take much more of this'.

Greg Hallett replied: "Toughen up laddy. It's been happening to us for years. Now you know all those stories from us you didn't at first believe . . .'"

Judge Elliot

Retired Undercover: "Judge Elliot was a paedophile and THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE eventually brought him to trial.

"Elliot sucked this boy's dick who was under 13 years old, and the boy grew up to become an alcoholic, unemployed, and had problems with the law because he had no respect for judges.

"He laid complaints against Judge Elliot for the sex abuse.

"Others had also complained.

"Judge Elliot sucked a lot of under 13-year-old boy's dicks. It was his thing.

"Words had been had in high places and the police had been told:

'Judge Elliot must be saved!'

"So the Police sent a plain-clothed police unit out (2–3 people). They waylaid the complainant from his first day's evidence in court and took him to a pub where they poured booze down his throat.

"So the next day the sexually abused complainant wasn't available to give evidence because he was in cells for drunk & debauchery having been arrested by the three-man unit that got him drunk.

"The case collapsed against Judge Elliot in the mid-2000s and the Police deny all knowledge to this day that they did anything wrong.

"The police did issue him with a traffic ticket at the same time and found him guilty of this, but not of the paedophilia.

THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE: "Who us? . . . Do you mean to say that we did something wrong? . . . We can do no wrong because we are Police . . . And to assert that we did do wrong is an arrestable offence on your part! . . . These are very serious complaints that you are bringing to our notice."

Retired Undercover: "At the end of the day, you and I will end up in the big Watchhouse in the sky and the well-known desk sergeant, St Peter, will be looking over all your crooked deeds, including all the mismatched cases, and the bullshit charges and the endless fit-ups and I wouldn't think much of your chances of not burning in hell."

Police: "Sarg – the fucking cunt just threatened us".

Sergeant: "Yes, but artistically done Mr H".

Judge Edward Taihakurei Durie

Edward Durie (18 January 1940–) graduated with a BA, LL.B from Victoria University in 1964 and was admitted to the Bar the same year; then became a partner in Murray, Dillon, Gooch & Durie (Tauranga, 1964–74); then a judge of the Māori Land Court (1974); then Chief Judge of Maori Land Court (1981–98); then Chairman of the Waitangi Tribunal (1981–2002); then appointed to the High Court bench in Wellington (1998); then became a High Court Judge (2004–); then took up a position in the Law Commission (July 2004–). His specialisation is "Maori Issues" and has been married twice, the second to Donna Hall, a controversial Treaty of Waitangi lawyer who works for Woodward Law in Wellington . . . and is a well known schizophrenic with large red glasses making her look like a blind-eye secretary from the movie 'L.A. Confidential'.

> "Judge Durie has been criticised on a number of occasions in the past for failing to declare possible conflicts of interest particularly in connection to his lawyer wife Donna Hall.
> In a 1994 High Court case against the Maori Land Court and West Coast dissidents, the defendant Rudolph Cecil Lousich [uncle of the child prostitute MP Sandra Lee, married to Chairman of the ARC Mike Lee] was represented by Donna Hall – Judge Durie's wife.
> Judge Tipping found it was improper that the case be heard in front of the Chief Maori Court Judge Durie, and should be heard in the High Court.
> Judge Durie took great offence to this reference to his connection to his own wife Donna Hall – for whom he had written the submissions – and tried unsuccessfully to get the Solicitor-Generals office to change the decision.
> In 1995 Judge Edward Taihakurei Durie took part in a confidential $150,000 review of the Crown Forestry Rental Trust carried out by his lawyer wife, Donna Hall [with Durie writing Hall's submissions for Durie to hear], and Professors Margaret Wilson [KGB, (Speaker of Parliament, 2005–08] in on the Labour vote gathering scam.
> The National Business Review (July 1999) reported that Judge Durie had made lengthy contributions to the 1995 trust review, processed through his wife's legal office – Woodward Law in Wellington."[11]
> H.L. Mencken: "JUDGE (n.) A law student who marks his own papers."
> Abraham Lincoln: "Nearly all men can stand adversity, > but if you want to test a man's character, give him power."

Judge Edward T Durie has been in a long term relationship with lawyer Donna Hall and their marriage has been full of Donna running away with any charismatic on the day . . . and they used to take care of foster children.

In 1983, one of the half-cast Maori children, a boy, then around 13 years old, and a new foster child, sneeked into Edward and Donna's bedroom and into the walk-in wardrobe where he found another door. He opened it and inside he found a very very large collection of child sex videos and three pounds of dope. So he stole the dope and left, never to return to that foster home.

In the early 2000s Donna Hall was rooting around on her husband Judge Edward Durie, and he had to go to some lengths to hawl her back in and avoid a scandal.

Although he fronts as a Maori, Durie is not a Maori, but the additional name "Taihakurei" managed to get him into the position as Chief Judge of the Maori Land Court, Chairman of the Waitangi Tribunal and then into the Labour (paedophile) appointed position in the Law Commission.

---

[11] www.kiwisfirst.com, paraphrased for your enjoyment.

Here Judge Durie writes applications to his own court and has his sex partner Donna Hall present them.

Judge Edward 'Taihakurei' Durie then approves them. This has given a lot of land to the Maori. It places the Judge E.T. Durie/ Donna Hall combination up there with Peter 'Two Wives' Sharples as the country's leading extortionist.

1. Does this not make the Maori Land Court a complicit paedophile movement?, and;
2. Has the granting of Maori land not been in exchange for sex with Maori children; and
3. Is this not by the very judges who then preside over the reactive crimes of a predictably socially-engineered generation of fatherless Maori, sexually abused by the very judges they justifiably stand staunchly in front of and have no respect for?

At the time that Judge Edward Taihakurei Durie was the Chief Judge of the Maori Land Court (1981–98), he was a dope-smoking paedophile masturbating in front of child porn movies and married to a schizophrenic dope-smoking paedophile with a penchant for swinging with whichever charismatic was most noted on the day.

So here's a photograph to prove the judiciary's endangerment to children. Check out Judge Edward Taihakurei Durie's gleeful smile as he's surrounded by young children.

Judge Edward Taihakurei Durie circa 1985 with unsuspecting children and some other baldhead.

Judicial Inside Jobs

The Disappearing Guy: "Judge Ted Thomas, whilst senior judge, took a case off Judge Blanchard, apppointed himself, and was then seen two days later having lunch with the Prosecutor . . . Detective Sergeant Mark Osbourne of the Auckland Drug Squad used to manage the Ponsonby Under 21 Rugby Team and got married around September 2007. Ten years earlier, Osbourne was having an affair with Karen Harding, who has since become a prominent Auckland lawyer specialising in driving cases, especially drunk driving. Osbourne and Harding met drunk at the Empire Tavern. Lawyers and police tend not to meet in places unless it's to their advantage. The Empire Tavern was owned by Billy Boyd – bought for him by the Mr Asia lawyers who weren't jailed. So Billy Boyd was another fall guy for judicial corruption – this time, heroin trafficking. Karen Harding then went back to her preferred gender – females. So was Mark Osbourne less well endowed than a feminist packing a Glock?, or drunk and couldn't get it up?'. From a prominent family from St Heliers, Harding is now a prominent lawyer, and quite probably on her way to the bench. How do we get a fair trial when the Detective Sergeant of the Drug Squad is having an affair with a criminal lawyer who is a self-professed lesbian? 'Sir' generally means 'sold out', and when the Courts go bankrupt, the country is soon to follow, so who you gonna call?"

Author: "Not Constable James Matewhinau Cassin – Corrupt Cop Front Runner. He was placed on the Internal Affairs Corrupt and Bent Cops list on 16 September 2004. He was put there, independent of myself, by this Intelligence Officer.

Intelligence Officer: "When Cassin is accused he will have to go to the Disciplinary Tribunal in a Police Station. He can then take a grievance against the police and get a huge pay packet through civil law under the employment legislation. Attorney-General Margaret Wilson (1999–2005) has been turning the police and judiciary into a pro-crime syndicate. That is, the more a police officer is accussed of crime, the more financial compensation they can claim due to 'stress' and 'future damages'."

Author: "And if the police officer was originally a criminal, that fact can no longer be brought up as evidence . . . and the Police would be employing known criminals . . . which is the goal of such communists as Margaret Wilson whose placement as Attorney-General and Speaker of the House were acts of nation sabotage.

"Margaret Wilson offered 'Hands Clean for Criminals' and finally got her way as shown on TV 1 at 11:11pm on 11 May 2004 when it was announced that 'Seven (7) years after a conviction the criminal doesn't have to declare their criminal records, the employers can't access it', and 'a citizen can't raise the cop's criminal history after seven years' as evidence that the cop was corrupt and acting on behalf of criminal politicians.

"Attorney-General Marget Wilson was so eager to get this law through, she claimed it as law when it had only passed its first reading, and not its second or third.

"So what Margaret Wilson was so desperately engineering was a 'hands clean' crime ring. It also meant that the crimes she committed pre-1997 could not be used to charge her . . . like her attempted nuclear strike on New Zealand between 1980 and 1989.

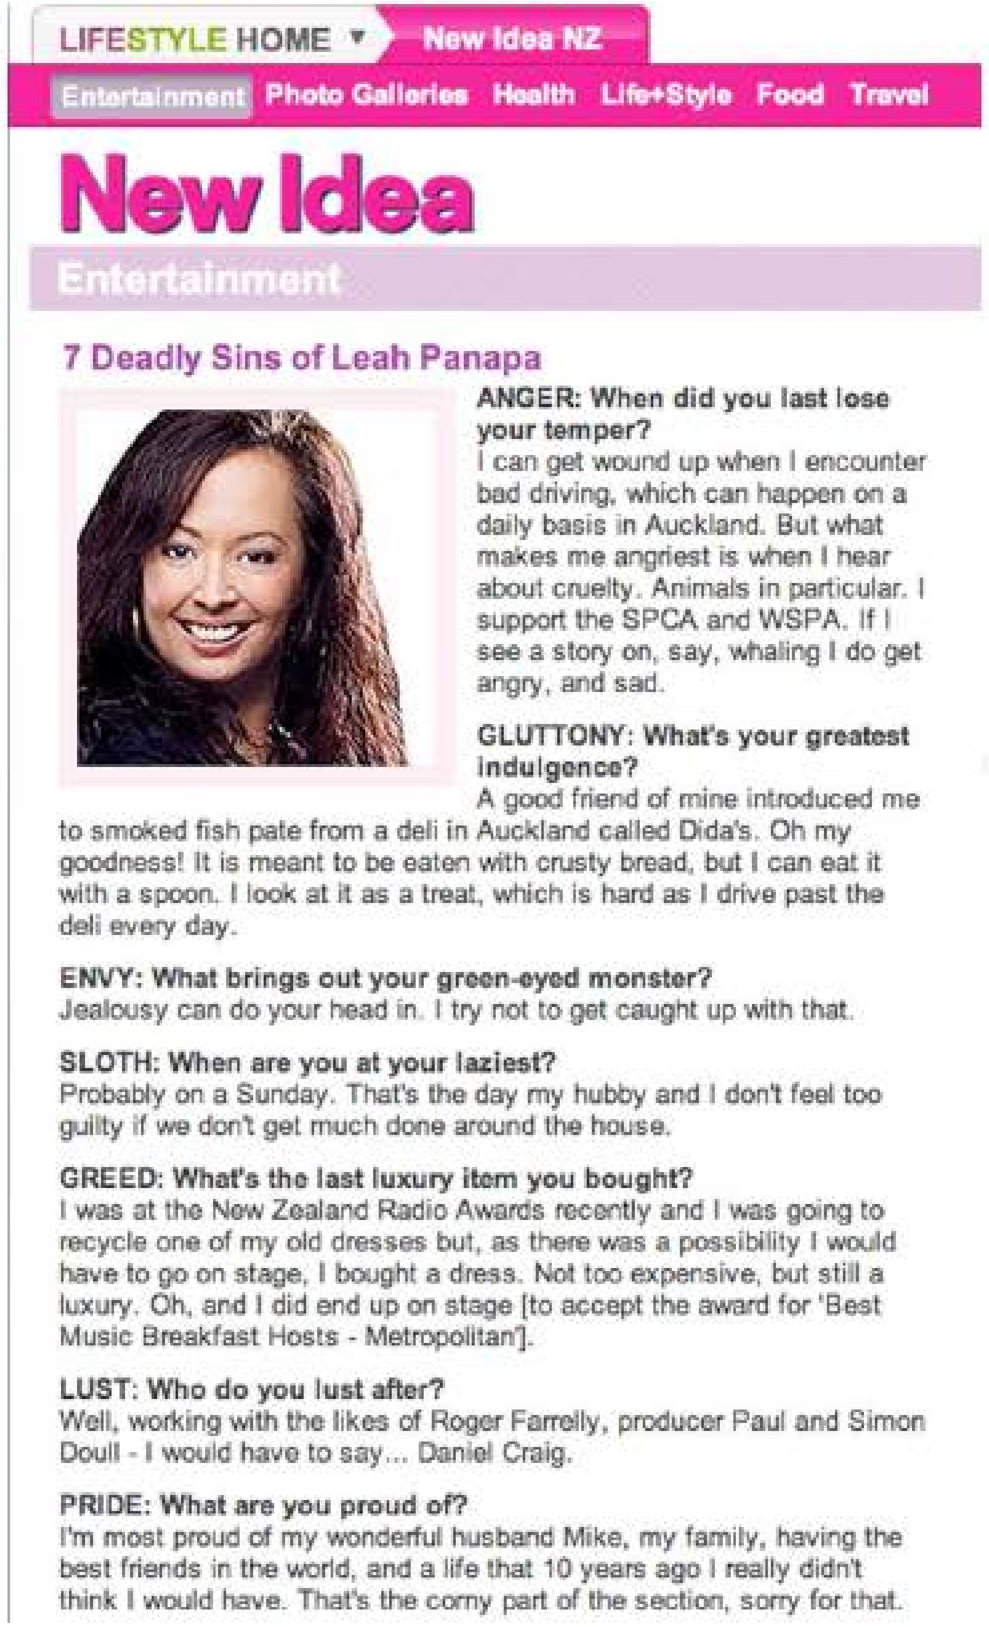
"As a result, the police now boiler-plate a target for seven years so they can't even lay their first charge against the bent cop.

"I exposed the trial head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user in January 1994, and was then falsely arrested on 22 June 1999. The arrest warrant was for a 'male assaults female 1,000 km away in Christchurch and under a different name', and the transport officer in Auckland was the Rotorua serial rapist and Waikato Area Commander Clint Rickards who then became a known P dealer while still in uniform.

"Five years later, the harrassments were still happening (2004) and four years later, Rickards was promoted to the Bar as a lawyer (2008) despite a record number of complaints."

And now for some distraction news . . .

If you are going to be a government contract killer, it increases your career length and immunity if one of your relatives is a TV personality.



7 Deadly Sins of Leah Panapa

ANGER: When did you last lose your temper?
I can get wound up when I encounter bad driving, which can happen on a daily basis in Auckland. But what makes me angriest is when I hear about cruelty. Animals in particular. I support the SPCA and WSPA. If I see a story on, say, whaling I do get angry, and sad.

GLUTTONY: What's your greatest indulgence?
A good friend of mine introduced me to smoked fish pate from a deli in Auckland called Dida's. Oh my goodness! It is meant to be eaten with crusty bread, but I can eat it with a spoon. I look at it as a treat, which is hard as I drive past the deli every day.

ENVY: What brings out your green-eyed monster?
Jealousy can do your head in. I try not to get caught up with that.

SLOTH: When are you at your laziest?
Probably on a Sunday. That's the day my hubby and I don't feel too guilty if we don't get much done around the house.

GREED: What's the last luxury item you bought?
I was at the New Zealand Radio Awards recently and I was going to recycle one of my old dresses but, as there was a possibility I would have to go on stage, I bought a dress. Not too expensive, but still a luxury. Oh, and I did end up on stage [to accept the award for 'Best Music Breakfast Hosts - Metropolitan'].

LUST: Who do you lust after?
Well, working with the likes of Roger Farrelly, producer Paul and Simon Doull - I would have to say... Daniel Craig.

PRIDE: What are you proud of?
I'm most proud of my wonderful husband Mike, my family, having the best friends in the world, and a life that 10 years ago I really didn't think I would have. That's the corny part of the section, sorry for that.

A Product of Failure

Fletchers' accountant, brother Jim Fletcher, was killed in Papamoa in 1993 with a bread and butter knife. He was my neighbour at the time with a few sand dunes between us.

Builder: "Jim Fletcher and Hugh Fletcher wanted to pay the homeowners back for the failed wall cladding, 'Weatherside', but obviously the others didn't.

"Fletchers had to put down a surety of $500 million and Sian Elias stole it. She also heard the court case – so nepotism. So there were no payments made. She threw the case out: 'There's obviously been an error'.

"Weatherside went like weetbix – the same consistency as chipboard. It was made out of burnt sugarcane, 3/8" thick, or 10 mm, and came in 6 metre lengths. They called it hardboard."

> Fibreboard: A building material composed of wood chips or plant fibers bonded together and compressed into rigid sheets "usually made from sugarcane refuse (bagasse) and treated with asphalt. It comes 25/32-inch thick, 24 and 48 inches wide, and 8, 9, 10, and 12 feet long."[12]

Painter: "They called the product hardboard, but Fletchers knew from the day it was first made that if it was painted with water based primer and water based paint, the whole material would break down to the same state and consistency as Weetbix cereal.

"If it wasn't sealed properly, especially on the cut ends, it went like weetbix so the tradesmen called it 'Weetbix Board' and if Fletchers caught anybody running around saying that, they would send letters threatening to sue. So most of the builders that had a clue about it, and how crooked a product it was, limited their comments to recommending other materials.

"But Fletchers being Fletchers, got the state to verify that it was a good building material, so the state stood behind it, and by implication, Fletchers stood behind the state.

"But the whole thing was based on illusion, because Fletchers were a totally criminal outfit. They were robber barons backed up by thieving murdering arseholes."

Fletchers Crooked Valuers and the SAS Murders

CIB Undercover: "Fletchers had a pool of crooked valuers that exceeded 150 alive at the time the case began. They ruled out the ones that had gone to Australia and Pommyland and gave the names of those that were left, even those retired, to the SAS, as a list. This became known as "The Fletchers List" – and these Valuers were assigned to be killed.

"They were killed in all sorts of strange ways. They were run over in car accidents. The most common car was being hit by a Valiant just after the pub had closed.

"One of the drivers was a Maori by the name of 'Dicky Noble'[13] – a member of the Nomads which was a gang formed by Prime Minister Muldoon (1975–84).

"New Zealand is one of the very few countries, apart from South America, where gangs of killers have been formed by the Prime Minister. The Police and other government departments have been assigned to assist them – everything from how to be funded, how to defraud government departments, and for the Police – how to avoid prosecution.

"Over fifty (50) valuers were killed.

"I knew that nobody was going to go to court and be found guilty from day one. So I told my bosses at CIB that no one was going to be found guilty, but they didn't believe me.

"I didn't tell them that the SAS were running around aiding and abetting the gang members in their hits. I just said: 'Nothing is going to happen' and they looked at me like [13] Dicky Noble also had brothers who were quite famous in the underworld. With the cousins, there's about 20 in Auckland and the Far North.

I'd taken leave of my senses, but this was the truth as I knew it. I'd already seen too many government cover-ups go down and I knew how they went down.

"Fletchers were a pack of criminals from one end to the other – from the managing director to the yard boy in any of their yards.[14]

"They had the whole weight of the state on their side and available to help them. All you had to do was ring anyone in the Police, Military or the Gangs and they only wanted to know how high they had to jump to murder for Fletchers. You told them the name and address of the person that you were tired of having around, and between them they would go away and do it.

"This is criminal conspiracy."

Valuers and Undertakers

CIB Undercover: "The role for the valuers was to hype the value of the house so that the borrowers could borrow more money on it. And this was essential to the whole of the Fletchers' scheme, which I likened to a criminal conspiracy.

"When a Fletchers valuer vauled a property, he knew roughly the percentage he had to inflate the property. He knew that if he did not inflate the property to the right extent, he was going to be A: Not paid by Fletchers; B: Severely criticised by Fletchers; or C: Killed by Fletchers if he didn't inflate it enough –which is what the valuers didn't anticipate.

"There were cases that came to the attention of the Courts where for one reason or another, Fletchers valuations were exposed as a crock of shit, and totally false. But here, the good old New Zealand judges conspired to cover up. These cases were so throughly covered up that they were known as 'cast in concrete'.

"This went on from the late 1980s right through to recent times."

Sian Elias Locks up Husband Hugh Fletcher

CIB Undercover: "Sian Elias had her husband Hugh Fletcher drugged and locked up for the duration of the case.

"At the beginning of the cases, I was told that Hugh wanted to run up the white flag and pay out compensation to every owner who had been financially disadvantaged by a false valuation.

"Sian Elias was subject to approaches by the top criminals at Fletchers and persuaded to do everything in her power to lock up her husband Hugh Fletcher under the Mental Health Act. And that is exactly what I was told happened to him. He was locked up in a rubber room and subjected to strong drugs for years and years and years until the situation resolved itself."

Author: "From earlier conversations, that's when he was shown the kiddy porn videos".

Sian Elias Steals the Compensation Money

CIB Undercover: "There were early cases which did not look to go down well in favour of Fletchers, but then you have to realise that this is New Zealand.

"Eventually the murderers of the state, led by the most corrupt cunts in the whole state, achieved victory, but Mrs Fletcher (Sian Elias) had accidentally deliberately swished the money – half a billion dollars ($500,000,000.00).

"Sian Elias stole money through courts. She stole money often. She had it down to a fine art. She would ask court staff to undertake transfers of money and she would always have a perfectly good reason for beginning the chain, but once the chain had begun, it would follow through to its conclusion of which she would claim no knowledge, even though these chains were virtually repeated in every detail.

[14] Author: "Hang on a minute, I used to work as a yard boy there in Cook Street, and put myself through university. I also used to supply my mates with firewood from the offcuts."

"The money went on this wild merry-go-round all around the world and soon became untraceable. It went to key places that were corrupt. One of them was Aruba, an island in the Caribbean owned by the Dutch Government – 2½ hours flight from Miami, Florida – the Jewish retirement state.

"Then Mrs Fletcher/Sian Elias threw up her hands and said: 'How do I know where it's gone'.

"More than once, Sian Elias would claim no knowledge.

"I was told the money had turned up in accounts carrying the names of Jewish family members known to her. But as the SAS wolves were looking at me with interested expressions on their faces, I deemed it the better part of valour not to advance my enquiries any further."

Sian Elias Bribed into Chief Justice Position

CIB Undercover: "What Fletchers may have seen was that she was the answer to all of their problems. And if she was elevated to the top job, she could then provide them with protection."

Author: "So in a turn of events, where the most corrupt becomes the Mafia boss, who then becomes the lawmaker, Hugh Fletcher bribed Helen Clark and Jenny Shipley to nominate Sian Elias as Chief Justice.

"All three of these women were fellow murderers and even Jenny Shipley's daughter was an accessory to murder – jailed for it around 1999. This was while Jenny was Prime Minister and why Helen Clark replaced her.

"In this case, Sian Elias was Mossad. Through her corruption, she became the highest ranking Mossad asset in New Zealand, then the highest ranking Mossad agent, then the highest ranking Sayanim agent in New Zealand . . . providing a sleeping room for all the other Mossad cons since.

M: "The real Mafia was always Jewish. The rest was for the movies."

Author: "Since then, the New Zealand Judiciary has a way to stealing people's futures. For this deselected group, they simply don't happen."_

Dicky Noble let out of Prison

CIB Undercover: "Kimball 'Kimba' Johnson was out there murdering to his hearts content. Dicky Noble was in and out of prison on a revolving door principal and the prison governors used to keep his carving project in the drawers of their own desk so it could be safely retained and handed back to him at any time should he re-enter the prison.

"They did this because it was how Dicky liked it.

"I was coming back from a briefing with the SIS at Whenuapai Marina just north of Auckland. As we made our way up the motorway towards Te Atatu North, who should pop up but Dicky Noble driving one of his stolen Valiants like a maniac. The SIS agent driving expressed alarm: "Who the hell is that driving like a maniac".

I replied: "That's Dicky Noble. He must be out for the day."

SIS: "Why would he be out?"

CIB Undercover: "It's a nice day. He must have something on.

SIS: "Don't be silly, he's got years to do."

CIB Undercover: "No, occasionally the prison gives him leave for a day of two and that's why he's out."

SIS: "That's nuts"

CIB Undercover: "Well we are living in New Zealand." Dicky Noble then changed lanes again and accelerated away at 100 mph. We carried on to our destination and that was that.

Chief Justice's Husband's Board of Directors Wear Nazi Uniforms

CIB Undercover: "There was a reason why Fletchers' Board of Directors used to dress up in Nazi uniforms and this came about not long after World War Two when Darcy Courlander was the financial brains behind the whole outfit. "Nicholas 'Darcy' Courlander had spent most of the war helping the Nazi SS.

Author: "Darcy was SS-Unterscharführer Roy Nicholas Courlander and wore a German Field gray uniform and paraded for Hitler's 55th birthday. It's in How to Take Over the World. He claimed at his trial that he'd only being assisting the SS to get them laid."

CIB Undercover: "Darcy was his nickname. It started as an alias he used to root under."

Author: "When barmen were short on cash, they would dress up a prostitute in school uniform and charge Darcy 100 quid to root her. The prostitutes may have been 17, 20, 25 or even mid-30s and used to line up as his 1-inch penis (others say 3-inches) hardly registered."

"He was then jailed in New Zealand and Sir James Fletcher used to go in to jail and consult with him for the Fletcher business."

Author: "It was from these Sir james Fletcher/ Darcy Courlander meetings in prison that Fletchers sewed up the forestry so the only timber port was Tauranga operating for the Kaingaroa Forest.

"Any forest in the Far North was unlikely to be able to exported. This made the northern pine forests next to worthless and when Marsden Point opened up Northport for log exports in 2002, even that was only for the selected few.

"Northport is jointly owned (50:50) by the Port of Tauranga and Northland Port Corporation so it was all sewn up. This made the forest worthless for those without access to Northport and profitable for those with selective access who could buy the northern logs for nothing.

"The stupid carbon credits have only made pine logs more of a rort.

"Prime Minister Helen Clark supported this, partly because her husband used to attend Hugh Fletcher's child sex abuse soirees – the same ones that murdered participant David McKnee."

Threats to Kill, Attempts to Kill and Recent Killings

Spook: "A lot of what was done in the way of murders was similar to the Fay, Richwhite & Company list who killed Paul (Gordon Edward) White (26) at 5.15 am on Saturday 4 September 1991.

"People would come to me and say: 'The death list has got to seven and you're number eight'.

"I used to be unconcerned about it because I assumed that my life was already forfeit."

Author: "I was named number two on one list and number ten on another list.

"I'm even more convinced now that the Samoa Tsunami was a hit requested by the Mafia boss Peter Williams QC, as carried out by the Fletchers team using their contacts – the Rockefellers.

"The contact between Williams and the Fletchers was Simon Moore SC – Sheriff of Auckland – Chief Crown Prosecutor.

"So the New Zealand Judiciary is right up there subcontracting the murders.

"Everything seems to come down to select familes. The families with the worst attributes, and the most reliably bad attributes, are successively promoted. "This is what helps maintain New Zealand as such a Mafia state."

The Serious Fraud Office Plan a Visit

On Wednesday 25 February 2009, I was mucking around with this 'catch me if you can' video cover, took a scan and replaced Frank Abagnale Jr.'s details with my own. This included, "by the time he was 31, he was an architect, a whatever, and a shrink". I knew there were cameras in the lightbulbs in my house, they've had them since 1967, so I put the video on the dining table so that those spying on me could read it and get a laugh.

Those guys have no sense of humour and on Saturday 28 February 2009 one of my Intelligence contacts came around at 8.30 pm, unannounced. He said he had tried to call me on my landline and on my mobile, but he didn't get through, and there were no recorded missed calls, and nobody else was taking calls. So his calls were blocked.

He said: "The Serious Fraud Office are looking at you. They are querying whether or not your degree is legitimate. They will come to you as uniformed police officers and won't declare they are SFO. You just tell them that this is above their station, outside their powers, and ask them to put you in contact with their director – Peter Parsons."

God, SFO, I laughed, so I told him what had happened then showed him my degree. It's sitting on top of a cool-as rusty-as cabinet collected off a dead freemason (to which I had added industrial wheels), and leaning against the wall, by the lightswitch, in the office, and 90° to the lightswitch, guys. I guess your cameras can't see that spot.

I also mentioned to my Intelligence contact that the Chancellor of the University of Auckland was Hugh Fletcher (2004–08) who I had named as a bisexual organising child sex abuser, CIA asset, Mossad agent, contract killer of Michael King and his brother was an alcoholic who wore nappies, and separated as soon as his wife, Christine, finished being the Mayor of Auckland – all in my previous book, New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide.

Shit, intelligence work is funny, especially when you collect all the details.

My Intelligence Officer went on to say: "CIBO's restauranteur Phillip David Sturm (b. 1958) who was convicted of drugging and burning boys on the way home from work in 2008, was a relative of Chas Sturt, the incestuous paedophile in charge of the SFO. They were also both related to the British Royal Family when a pregnant woman was sent out to Fiji on remittance, which meant she had her expenses covered, but was shunned. She had the child and others and these became the parents of Phillip Sturm and Chas Sturt. 'Sturm'/ 'Sturt' have one letter changed."

Chas Sturt was the youngest cop to head the police Armed Offenders Squad (which he touted as the Armed Defenders Squad). He got a law degree, made it to Detective Inspector, and expected to go right to the top of the Police, but he didn't have it, and they didn't want him, so he was side-stepped to the Serious Fraud Office, where he could do less damage as an incestous paedophile of the British Royal Family.

Described as a colourful character, he was always seeking the limelight. Chas Sturt became the founding director (1990–97) and turned the SFO into a serious fraud as soon as he became its director, which was straight away.

The police Armed Offenders Squad is a fraud that attacks blue collar people and ignores white collar crime.

The reason the SFO are taking any excuse to have an interest in me, is that Peter Williams QC, who I've charged with "slavery", has been named as Mr Asia's righthand man.

Peter Williams QC has been protecting his reputation for decades. He would even pay some of the £2 million he received from the Mr Asia gang, back to the Queen of England in order to secure elevation to Queen's Counsel status – thus getting the Queen's protection. This is a desperate move for Peter as he is well known for being extremely tight with his money and uses non-payment to maintain control of people – typical of bisexuals desperate to bond.

"Over a beer, [Chas] Sturt once said the only time he'd felt fear was when pointing a gun at Mr Asia, drugs boss Peter Fulcher."[1]

Serious Fraud Office Director Chas Sturt "quietly closed files and investigations", "claimed a lack of jurisdiction to investigate", "passed cases to another enforcement agency where it was also likely to be closed down", and "dropped charges", "citing public interest". "During the Winebox Inquiry Michael Fay and David Richwhite exerted pressure on Chas Sturt", no doubt citing his 'Paedophilia in the Pacific', not discounting the affidavit I have from his daughter's boyfriend alluding to incest, and "when it came to his turn to give evidence, Sturt denied the claim" and failed to produce the required evidence.

"But the dirt stuck" and "Sturt quit in a blaze of notoriety".[2]

Hello,

I am amazed nobody has shut your web site down by now - mind you why should they devote their time in doing so as it is absolutely nothing but 100% crap, as the vast majority of people who view it, only do so by accident.

I want to mention to you that you are publishing lies about Chas Sturt in 'NZ A Blackmailers Guide'. As far as recording an affidavit from Chas Sturts daughter's boyfriend stating that he is a 'teutonic Fijian and incestuous paedophile' - this is a lie upon a lie.

It is a pity that you have been gifted only nominal intelligence to be able to think and write filth.

Victoria de Lange

Spymaster: "Chas Sturt was having a mental breakdown. Sometimes when people have mental breakdowns they have malapropism where they introduce a new letter in front of a word. In Chas Sturt's case, he introduced a whole new word.

"Sturt brought a chicken into the SFO office and said to his staff:

'If you can't stand the heat, get out of the chicken'.

"This was relayed to me by one of his staff who swore me to secrecy. Later, during the Winebox Inquiry, around 1998/99, the SFO took me to one side and asked me how I knew about 'THE CHICKEN STORY'.

"She reckoned it was a sign Chas Sturt was coming unstuck at the seams. At the time it was the most important secret the SFO had. The woman's idea of 'Top Secret' was keeping secret the name of the latest person she was rooting. I don't think she even comprehened any other information, but any other information was free."

"SFO Abstract: The discovery of a serious fraud problem in New Zealand is very recent. Prior to the 1980s, there had been only three prosecutions for serious fraud in the history of the country, and penalties for those convicted were small. But a corporate boom in the 1980s, followed by the sharemarket crash of 1987, revealed extensive serious fraud. Initial attempts to combat the problem through the Commercial Affairs division of the Department of Justice failed. But in 1990 a Serious Fraud Office was established, with powers greater than those ever given before to a New Zealand law-enforcement agency. Three years later, the SFO had been notified of possible frauds totalling $2.5 billion. This represents many times what is reported stolen in all other property crime, but the SFO budget is only 1% of that devoted to ordinary policing.

"Since 1990, only one prosecution out of the seventeen completed has failed. Prison sentences of up to seven years and averaging almost four years, have been awarded. As the SFO nears the end of its third year, and its net gradually widens, its influence on illegal business activity continues to grow."[3]

I used to play golf with the Serious Fraud Office during the time Chas Sturt was director, and the staff were always complaining that they built up files on people and were ready to charge, then they would be swished to other cases, the case would be dropped, and most were not even charged. The staff spent all their time getting up to speed on cases, but not sinking the eight ball. This was the case time and time again, and it began to interfer with their golf, their marriage, and their outlook on life.

Perhaps the golf bags were bugged, because during this time, Chas Sturt was removed. I have little doubt that Chas Sturt either took bribes, or was bribed himself.

When the Founding Director of the Serious Fraud Office is found to be an illegitimate British Royal incestuous paeodphile, there is little hope of conviction.

I had finished writing all this up by 11.20 am on Sunday morning 1 March 2009 and was working on the second half of Attachment "Z5", 'The CIA's Protection Racket for MOE Paedophiles' about former Minister of Police John Banks and his paedophile drug dealing buddies, in Word . . . when the phone rang at 2.54 pm.

There was no one on the other end, but I could hear a meeting going on. From the acoustics I could tell that one guy was up the front talking and the rest were sitting around in chairs listening. They guy up the front was talking about "'visiting . . . him . . . he's very devious, you have to stick to the programme. He'll try and distract you."

Read: 'Charming'.

The officers didn't seem that interested. Read: 'Even the SFO officers and the Armed Offenders Squad think I'm a nice guy'.

Moments prior to this briefing, the Commanding Officer of this Serious Fraud Office/Armed Offenders unit had given out my phone number and most of the officers installed it into their mobile phone from where they can listen into my calls. One of the SFO inserted my number, saved it, then pushed dial. So I got a rather muffled preview of the meeting.

I don't want to give out his phone number, because he might be my help from the inside – my former SFO golfing buddy's golfing partner maybe. Anyway at 4.11 pm I saved it to my phone under "Sfo". Now we'll see what happens.

They think I have faked my degree. So to avoid them busting in on false pretences, I got a certified copy of my degree, certified by the University of Auckland, grabbed a legal envelope, wrote SFO | AOS on the front, and stuck it to the front door. I have a certified copy of my degree handy because I had used it to apply for a Masters in History, but was rejected. I guess that writing one sociology book and five history books didn't help!

The next day, Monday 2 March 2009, by 2.30 pm, my mobile phone was stolen. It was the only record of the number that called. Then, in the evening, the Spymaster called: "Sunday meetings are rare. They only have Sunday meetings if there is huge pressure to get the target. I've only ever heard of it happening once. It also means it's an interdisciplinary outfit are trying to take you down. The call to you means someone in SFO wants to take the group down. You can lessen it by ringing them all up at a high level. The National Party is behind it. Labour is dirty, National is just as dirty. They will scratch each others arses at the drop of a hat."

And two weeks later (17 March 2009) like the internal workings of a clock counting backwards, the New Zealand Herald published this article for my benefit, no doubt with SFO and multidisciplinary input:

> "Prime Minister John Key has asked the Security Intelligence Service to put on ice any active files it has on MPs after a report found they should be treated as a special case. Mr Key requested a report by the Inspector General of Intelligence and Security [Justice] Paul Neazor after Green MP Keith Locke discovered a file the SIS had on him since he was a child had been updated since he became an MP in 1999.
> Justice Neazor said as a general rule, he believed MPs should be excluded from SIS surveillance because of their jobs and standing. The law required the SIS to be politically neutral, but monitoring of MPs could amount to political interference or inhibit them from doing their proper jobs.
> Mr Key said he had written to SIS head Warren Tucker 'inviting' him to take up the recommendations. He had also asked the Speaker to begin considering it and would ask Justice Neazor to do a follow-up report in about six months.
> Green MP Keith Locke said he was pleased with the finding and hoped it would stop the SIS 'spying' on MPs. 'MPs must be free to criticise the government of the day without being viewed as a security risk, as was the case with me.' He said the party was happy to consider measures for 'exceptional' cases where MPs were > involved in security issues if there were genuine reasons for it. He also called for a wider inquiry into why the SIS had so many files on 'legitimate dissenters'.

> In explaining his findings, Justice Neazor said it was relevant that MPs were elected to serve the public interest and swore an oath of allegiance. There was also the possibility a constituent could try to involve an MP in such activity and care had to be taken not to give constituents any immunity from scrutiny. He said any new process should still allow the SIS to include information on dealings with MPs that other people under its watch had. Justice Neazor's report looked at the adequacy and appropriateness of SIS policies on keeping files on people. Overall, he said the SIS had suitable processes for opening a file and collecting information. However, more thought should be given to limiting the kinds of information it kept.
> Of Mr Locke's file, Justice Neazor said his belief that the SIS had added to its file because of his critical stance on intelligence agencies was partly supported by a note on one of the papers in Mr Locke's file which 'was certainly unprofessional and ought not to have appeared on a file of a neutral intelligence agency'.
> * Recommendations
> 'Deactivate' files of any person who becomes an MP.
> Require the SIS to get Speaker's [of the House] permission to put any MP under surveillance.
> SIS must show good grounds for believing the MP is involved in activities which endanger security. [currently this is 'backs to the wall here comes' Dr Lockwood Smith]
> Limit the information the SIS can keep on any other person's dealings with an MP."[4]

Well, I certainly have criticisms of this.

Intelligence Failures amount to Counter-Intelligence

First I would like to say that I was asked to be an MP in 2002 and the SIS has had a file on me from this year, and probably prior due to my long history of Intelligence contacts dating back to 1967 when I (6 years old) had a barbeque lunch at Porridge's house in the Kaipara after the shearing had finished. Porridge, Sir Arthur Espie Porrit had been King George VI's doctor and Queen Elizabeth II's sergeant-surgeon and became the Governor-General (1967–72) and had introduced me to Queen Elizabeth II's brother who resided in Rotorua and grew up for part of his time with Peter Tapsell who became Speaker of the House (1993–96) and while he was in this 'Intelligence' position started up the 'Monarchist League of New Zealand' and has remained Patron, despite also being NZ Patron of the Moonies.

But this ain't about me, its about the Green MP Keith Locke, the son of diehard commies and still being engineered and run by comintern agents – the results of his efforts showing him to be a comintern asset himself (Communist International). So let's look at the Keith Locke instigated Prime Minister John Key "Recommendations" to the Inspector General of Intelligence and Security Justice Paul Neazor and see if the horse has bolted . . .

1. "Deactivate files of any person who becomes an MP"

This means that any double agent, any New Zealander working for a foreign government or financial entity, will flock to be an MP, just as the comintern asset Keith Locke has, and just as 'the horse has bolted' Margaret Wilson and Helen Clark have.

This is already standard practise for paedophiles, as the Police will not charge a paedophile if they are an MP. Rather the Police will allow paedophiles to keep becoming MPs as is the case with Sir Roger Douglas, an MP from 1978 to 1990, and again from November 2008.

---

[4] Claire Trevett, 'Key calls on SIS to shelve files on MPs', New Zealand Herald, 17 March 2009, bold added.

2. "Require the SIS to get the permission of the Speaker of the House's to put any MP under surveillance"

In the last government (Labour, 1999–2008) the Speaker of the House of Parliament was the comintern agent Margaret Wilson and she tried to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand with her fellow comintern agent Helen Clark (PM 1999–2008). The SIS did assist the Americans in preventing a nuclear strike during these NZ Trawler Wars (1980–86), but failed to tell the public for 25 years (from 1982 to 2007) and this allowed Vladimir Putin to live in Wellington (1980–82); and the Putin-run comintern KGB agent and former St Petersburg prostitute Helen Clark to become Prime Minister and the Minister of the SIS.

Really now, in history we call this an outlandish joke – an Intelligence joke – a Counter-Intelligence joke – a Counter-Intelligence success story . . . and a complete Intelligence failure.

3. "SIS must show good grounds for believing the MP is involved in activities which endanger security"

Then they will do nothing until the horse has bolted. Why? Because there are two types of Intelligence – 'Intelligence' and 'Counter-Intelligence' and no Intelligence agent has been employed on a salary since 1984. All salaried Intelligence agents are now working for Counter-Intelligence, and this includes the Inspector General of Intelligence and Security Justice Paul Neazor, the SIS head Warren Tucker, and to varying degree the three Bobs.

4. "Limit the information the SIS can keep on any other person's dealings with an MP"

This is formula for double agent MPs fronting for a crime syndicate. The mischling Jewishness of PM John Key is now under question as an influence in compromising the integrity of the country. Still it would be hard to do as bad as Helen Clark, Margaret Wilson and Sian Elias, except that the Chief Justice Sian Elias MJ (Michling Jewess) is still in power, and has not yet been charged by the SIS for her contract killings and attempted murders. She only lives 100 metres from John Key so it's not exactly a big task.

Surely 'Intelligence' information is "legitimate dissent", but . . . anyone who isn't a double agent, but is informed, has the SIS, the SFO, and the AOS on their doorstep – unless they can prove their degree is not a fraud, and it is 'The Government' who are the government fakes – as in citizens paying taxes for their own Intelligence demise.

Too little too late, and in the wrong direction – that's New Zealand.
This is the true story of government fakes.

Sorry to bore you with these ongoing apparent and rather good endings, but stuff keeps happening, and as an author, I'm compelled to record them as they happen so you know what's going on live at an everyday level. Straight after finishing this chapter, like before I had finished my outside smoke, I got this email from someone whose email signature and address I didn't recognise . . .

Dear Greg;

I'm going to keep this short. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Airborne_Laser is operational. In april-june all its gonna take is a few nukes and a global Talon strike where there isnt going to be a non-zionist around. Global Lebensraum is here. If you are going to do something ever you better do it now.

What scared me about this was the timing. I was just finishing the book. Having organised all the files the previous day and now tidying up all the loose files, and I'd just gone through all the Antarctica information (40 pages) routing out the Chris Beeby and Sir Peter Blake murders, and I was pondering whether to go large or small. This email prompted me to go small and print early [it'll never happen].

Also pertinent was the "Boeing YAL-1 Airborne Laser (ABL) weapons" attached to the email as my hairdresser (below) from Sevastopol in southern Russia (Ukraine) had asked me about her Russian sailor husband's death on the ship Moscow. He was a hit by laser from space. Two died on the ship, and of undeclared means. There's your serendipity and the fear to publish soon. I had planed to finish in three days anyway [more like 12 months].

Spymaster, March 2009: "A similar thing was used in South Vietnam on the Ho Chi Minh Trail in 1969 on the standard combat battalion of the North Vietnamese. They had crossed the southern line and turned their collar badges upside down from blue on red, to red on blue, to look like the South Vietnamese Army. The survivors had big chunks out of their arms and legs that had been quarterised instantly. It looked like a hot icecream scoop had been applied to their flesh. They called this 'The Death Ray'."

Most of our information was presented in Moscow (January–March 2009), including my drunken ravings at the local bar, Easy Tiger, and the report had just come back: "Hundred per cent. He knows. So what."

Spymaster, November 2009: "In July 2009, the 2-IC of Intelligence in the Kremlin was reading your book, New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide in the bathtub. He laughed himself out of the bath. Security thought he was doing a Stalin [dying] so they burst in.
Kremlin 2-IC: 'Have you got any more books by Mr Hallett?'
Security: 'Another four have just arrived in the basement'.
Kremlin 2-IC: 'I want you to translate fifty copies of Mr Hallett's books [into Russian] and hand them around the Kremlin'."

The Boeing YAL-1 Airborne Laser (ABL) weapons system is a megawatt-class chemical oxygen iodine laser (COIL) mounted inside a modified Boeing 747-400F. It is primarily designed as a missile defense system to destroy tactical ballistic missiles (TBMs), similar to the Scud, while in boost phase. The low-power lasers have been test-fired in flight, aimed at an airborne target board.[1] The aircraft was designated YAL-1A in 2004 by the U.S. Department of Defense.[2] The Airborne Laser Laboratory, a less-powerful prototype installed in a Boeing NKC-135A, shot down several missiles in the 1980s.[3]

YAL-1 Airborne Laser

ABL aircraft in flight

Role	Airborne Laser (ABL) weapons system
Manufacturer	Boeing
First flight	July 18, 2002
Primary user	United States Air Force
Developed from	Boeing 747-400F

Overview [edit]

The ABL does not burn through or disintegrate its target. It heats the missile skin, weakening it, causing failure from high speed flight stress. If proven successful, seven ABL-armed 747s will be built and assigned to two combat theaters. The aircraft were originally slated to enter service in 2008, but development has been slower and costlier than planned. The current plan calls for a prototype ABL to attempt to shoot down a test missile in 2009.[4] Data acquired in the test will shape the final production design, which is now expected to enter service several years from now.

Artist impression of two YAL-1As shooting down ballistic missiles

Use against ICBMs vs TBMs [edit]

The ABL was designed for use against tactical ballistic missiles. TBMs have a shorter range and fly more slowly than ICBMs. The MDA has recently suggested the ABL might be used against ICBMs during their boost phase. This could require much longer flights to get in position, and might not be possible without flying over hostile territory. Liquid-fueled ICBMs, which have thinner skins, and remain in boost phase longer than TBMs, might be easier to destroy.

If the ABL achieves its design goals, it could destroy liquid-fueled ICBMs up to 600 km away. Tougher solid-fueled ICBM destruction range would likely be limited to 300 km, too short to be useful in many scenarios, according to a 2003 report by the American Physical Society on National Missile Defense.[5]

The US Air Force says the aircraft holds the world's largest turret assembly.

Intercept sequence [edit]

The ABL system uses infrared sensors for initial missile detection. After initial detection, three low power tracking lasers calculate missile course, speed, aimpoint, and air turbulence. Air turbulence deflects and distorts the laser beam. The ABL adaptive optics use the turbulence measurement to compensate for atmospheric errors. The main laser, located in a turret on the aircraft nose, is fired for 3 to 5 seconds, causing the missile to break up in flight near the launch area. The ABL is not designed to intercept TBMs in the terminal, or descending, flight phase. Thus, the ABL must be within a few hundred kilometers of the missile launch point. All of this occurs in approximately 8 to 12 seconds.

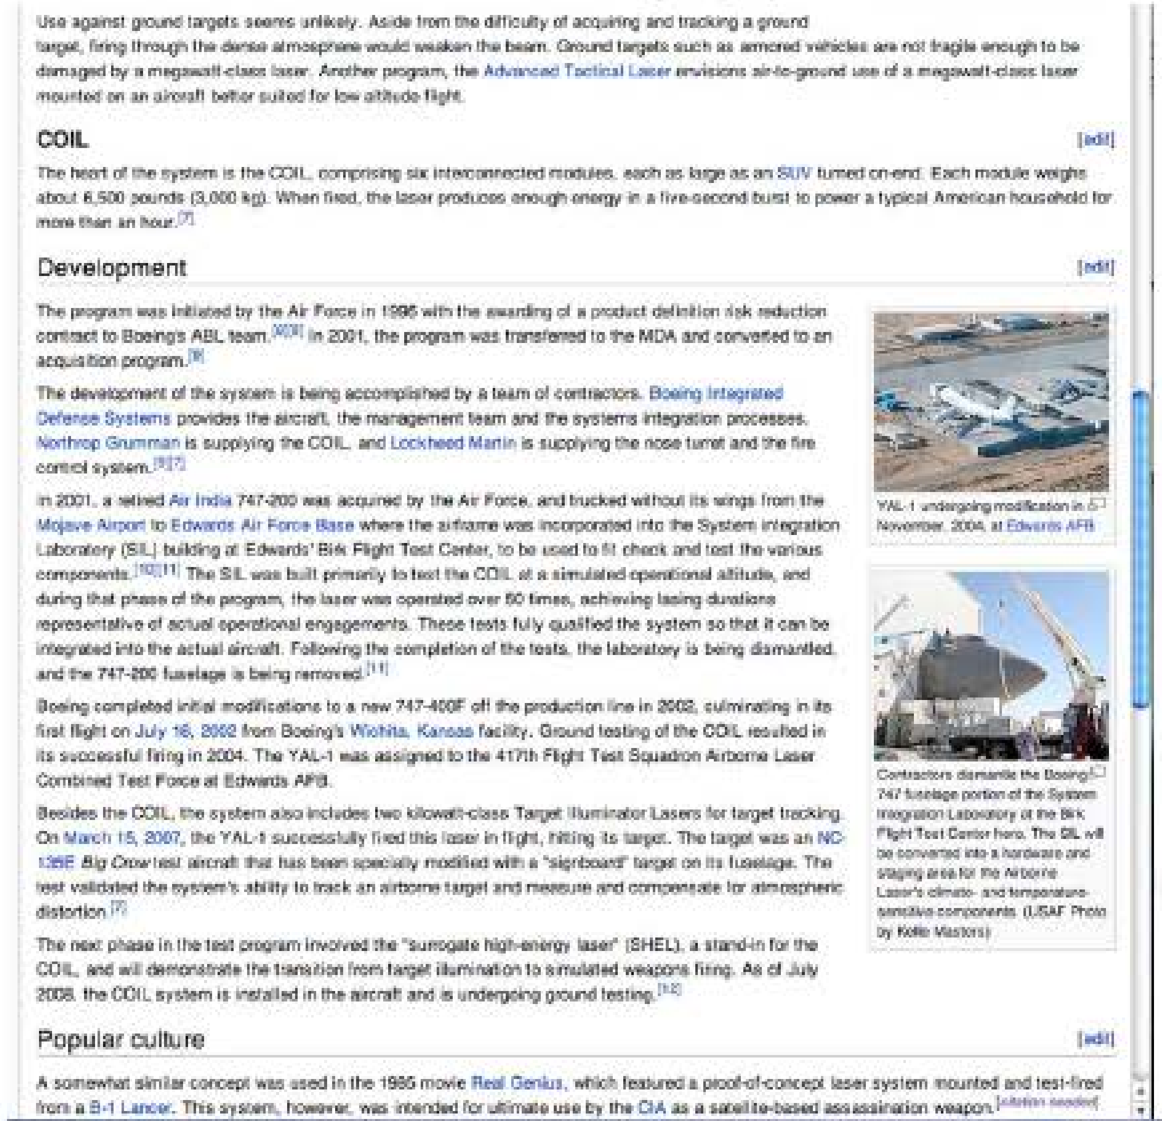
Operational considerations [edit]

The ABL uses chemical fuel similar to rocket propellant to generate the high laser power. Current plans call for each 747 to carry enough laser fuel for about 20 shots, or perhaps as many as 40 low-power shots against fragile TBMs. The ABL aircraft must land to refuel the laser. Preliminary operational plans call for the ABL to be escorted by fighters and possibly electronic warfare aircraft. The ABL aircraft would likely orbit near potential launch sites for long periods, flying a figure-eight pattern that allows the aircraft to keep the laser aimed toward the missiles. The aircraft can be refueled in flight, enabling it to stay aloft for long periods.

Use against other targets [edit]

In theory, the ABL could be used against hostile fighter aircraft, cruise missiles, or even low-earth-orbit satellites (see anti-satellite weapon). However, as they are not its intended target, the capability against them is unknown. The ABL infrared target acquisition system is designed to detect the hot exhaust of TBMs in boost phase. Satellites and other aircraft could have a much lower heat signature making them more difficult to detect. An analysis by the Union of Concerned Scientists discusses potential ABL use against low earth orbit satellites.[6]

A technician evaluates the interaction of multiple lasers that will be used aboard the Airborne Laser



Use against ground targets seems unlikely. Aside from the difficulty of acquiring and tracking a ground target, firing through the dense atmosphere would weaken the beam. Ground targets such as armored vehicles are not fragile enough to be damaged by a megawatt-class laser. Another program, the Advanced Tactical Laser envisions air-to-ground use of a megawatt-class laser mounted on an aircraft better suited for low altitude flight.

COIL [edit]

The heart of the system is the COIL, comprising six interconnected modules, each as large as an SUV turned on-end. Each module weighs about 6,500 pounds (3,000 kg). When fired, the laser produces enough energy in a five-second burst to power a typical American household for more than an hour.[7]

Development [edit]

The program was initiated by the Air Force in 1996 with the awarding of a product definition risk reduction contract to Boeing's ABL team.[8][9] In 2001, the program was transferred to the MDA and converted to an acquisition program.[9]

The development of the system is being accomplished by a team of contractors. Boeing Integrated Defense Systems provides the aircraft, the management team and the systems integration processes. Northrop Grumman is supplying the COIL, and Lockheed Martin is supplying the nose turret and the fire control system.[8][7]

In 2001, a retired Air India 747-200 was acquired by the Air Force, and trucked without its wings from the Mojave Airport to Edwards Air Force Base where the airframe was incorporated into the System Integration Laboratory (SIL) building at Edwards' Birk Flight Test Center, to be used to fit check and test the various components.[10][11] The SIL was built primarily to test the COIL at a simulated operational altitude, and during that phase of the program, the laser was operated over 50 times, achieving lasing durations representative of actual operational engagements. These tests fully qualified the system so that it can be integrated into the actual aircraft. Following the completion of the tests, the laboratory is being dismantled, and the 747-200 fuselage is being removed.[11]

Boeing completed initial modifications to a new 747-400F off the production line in 2002, culminating in its first flight on July 18, 2002 from Boeing's Wichita, Kansas facility. Ground testing of the COIL resulted in its successful firing in 2004. The YAL-1 was assigned to the 417th Flight Test Squadron Airborne Laser Combined Test Force at Edwards AFB.

Besides the COIL, the system also includes two kilowatt-class Target Illuminator Lasers for target tracking. On March 15, 2007, the YAL-1 successfully fired this laser in flight, hitting its target. The target was an NC-135E Big Crow test aircraft that has been specially modified with a "signboard" target on its fuselage. The test validated the system's ability to track an airborne target and measure and compensate for atmospheric distortion.[7]

The next phase in the test program involved the "surrogate high-energy laser" (SHEL), a stand-in for the COIL, and will demonstrate the transition from target illumination to simulated weapons firing. As of July 2008, the COIL system is installed in the aircraft and is undergoing ground testing.[12]

Popular culture [edit]

A somewhat similar concept was used in the 1985 movie Real Genius, which featured a proof-of-concept laser system mounted and test-fired from a B-1 Lancer. This system, however, was intended for ultimate use by the CIA as a satellite-based assassination weapon.[citation needed]

Welcome to my backyard.

Being a lawyer – It ain't that hard – Boiler-plating

Police boiler-plating covers all aspects of the target's life – their business, their driver licence, vehicle engine implosion (rather than explosion which is news worthy), access to their children, thefts of driver licence and visa cards within the house, contrary gossip (bagging), poisonings, murder attempts, ensuring court cases result in no payment whether the case is won or lost, and harrassing employees.

This story is about the later.

I tend to employ people who are deontic – that is, their values are instilled in them no matter the situation. When you're a working creative, you don't want all the other stuff going on.

My friends also tend to be deontic, but I didn't know what the word meant until the morning of the hearing.

So I was employing this young graduate architect, Anaru Coburn, who was a virtual genius on the drawing programmes. We called it 6-D – 3-D plus light and sound and motion and that's how we were presenting to clients – buildings in virtual reality video.

Anaru (nickname 'Anapu' from a kid) is a stockily built Maori guy (23). The police are rascist towards Maori, especially the Michling-Maori Police (MMP).

So Anapu's working for me and he goes out with his mates to the viaduct in Auckland City one Saturday night in 2008.

The Usual Police Stitch-ups

There's a fracus from another group and Anapu stops to observe some distance away. The rest of his friends carry on.

The Police layer their stitch-ups. Their goal is to get as many heterosexual males in the paddywagon as possible.

This is a hangover from having the lesbian Helen Clark as Prime Minister. She hates heterosexual males and had her KGB partner Margaret Wilson made Attorney-General so she could influence the Police into these stitch-ups.

It's called 'Politically Correct Training' – read 'Anti-Heterosexual Training'. It came about as a copy of the UK's retraining of the Metropolitian Police (1 April 1995–) into a 15-year long April Fool's joke.

Bad joke!

So this woman, who was probably a police plant, smashed a bottle on the ground. She was then placed inside the police paddywagon with the back doors left open (only for a female). A bunch of guys then milled around and said: 'What are you doing locking her up for?" More police came and started arresting the guys. Amidst the distraction, the female plant escapes and all the guys are then locked up – which was the police goal in the first place.

Anapu's standing there watching. Police officer (W156) comes up to him and says: 'Did you see what happened?'

Anapu: 'Yes'.

Police Officer Simon Walker W156: 'Well wait here'.

So Anapu waits. Everyone's put in the police paddywagon then Police Officer 2 comes along and arrests Anapu – the observer/ witness – and puts him in the paddywagon with the other guys – whom he's never met – and spends the night in the cells.

Police Officer 2 doesn't give his name or number.

The female is nowhere to be seen and was probably brought up from Hamilton as part of Police training and as a bloodrush precursor to one of their gang-bangs.

The Usual Judicial Confusion

The judiciary couldn't organise a piss up in a brewery. Or put more accurately – the Courts can't settle a debt. They work on net fishing and hope to eat 80 % of their catch every day.

To add to the confusion, the judiciary place charges against witnesses to stop them interferring with the police stitch-ups of the others, keep changing the case numbers, send innumberable letters from different organisations, and make defending oneself more laborous than admitting guilt (true or false) and paying the fine or doing the sentence.

This means, as soon as your pinged, you're effectively guilty no matter what.

The Police call this 'fingering' and back it up with 'verballing' which is lying and framing evidence around the target.

For a working creative, court is a real distraction. It can take the focus off your work and Architecture work is really intense and requires full focus.

With the addition of a young child, this has the potential to break someone, to make them unemployable, or so exhaust them they have a car accident.

In Anapu's case, it was a minor car accident and being ripped off by his other employers (Kererū, Hemiphaga novaeseelandiae, wood pigeons).

Maori Stats and Police Corruption

By the age of 18, 80 % of Maori males have been before the courts.

Of the children of Maori single-parent families, only 25 % break the pattern and breed into a two-parent family.

Guillaume Boglio - gboglio@yahoo.fr

Unlike 80 % of Maori, Anapu had never been to court before.

But like 99 % of the population (except for the sons of lawyers) he didn't understand what the court and police paperwork meant, what the charges meant, and why there were any charges at all.

What happens to the many Maori cousins spreads fear, resignation and hopelessness throughout the Maori race.

Anaru was a witness and deontic, which meant he had difficulty understanding and appreciating the deviousness of others – especially since the police are supposed to be respected authority figures.

More focussed on his architecture and his new baby son, he failed to make some of the many intermediary appearances which make proving innocence more expensive than admitting guilt.

Most importantly, there were four charges for "Obstructing" and "Resisting" in 2008 . . . and having missed four status hearings, there was now a warrant out for Coburn's arrest.

As usual, if the police can't convict on evidence, they try to convict on process. The police then make the process such a minefield, that they often get a conviction without the person even attending court.

In Anaru's case, he was guilty of witnessing a police stitch-up and the police needed to discredit him (or put the shits up him) so they could charge all the others without the hindrance of a witness exposing their fingering verballing stitch-up.

The police were doubly keen as they'd been to the gang-bang afterwards.

Late Starters

Anapu mentioned the case to me in May 2009 and I checked with the police. Conveniently for the police, Officer Simon Walker (W156) was serving in the Solomons, couldn't be contacted, didn't send a witness statement via messages, and wouldn't be back until September 2009 . . . so I note this.

Anapu then rings me up one Sunday night (24 May 2009) and says: "Can you please represent me. I know you'll do a good job. I'll be around in the morning around 8:30."

The traffic is thick over the Auckland Harbour Bridge, so he gets here to Parnell around 9.30. The call is at 10 am and the hearing at 11 am Monday 25 May 2009.

So I iron my shirt, put on my suit and tie, polish my shoes and write Anapu's affidavit.

My 16-year-old was having a late start at school and mentioned: "I'm studying ethics. I'm really enjoying it and I'm deontic."

Father: "What's deontic?"

16-year-old late-starter: "That's when your values are installed whatever the situation."

It was the first time I had heard of it, so I looked at Anapu, realised that's what he is, and put that in the four-page affidavit.

Fluffing in Court

We raced down to court and got there at 11 am – Courtroom 2. Normally we would lodge the affidavit with the Registrar in a separate room, but we didn't have time.

I'd never represented anyone in front of the bench before. Anapu was a brownskin (and me a little), so this short Maori female court staff came up and told us what to do, giving me a piece of paper to write my name as counsel, and representing my client – Anaru Coburn.

I was then ushered up to sit amongst the lawyers and face Judge Hubble.

Judge Hubble is one of the better judges in that he is classically trained.

I'd been before him four days prior on Thursday, and would be before him again on Wednesday, two days later – so I had three sittings infront of Judge Hubble in the same week. Going against me was that Judge Hubble had been friends with the mafia boss for three decades.

The 21 May 2009 hearing was against Jamie Lockett – one of Peter Williams QC's narcs.

The 25 May 2009 hearing was for Anaru James Coburn.

The 27 May 2009 hearing was against Peter Williams QC – the mafia boss and longtime friend of Judge Hubble.

So I guess the 25 May win was the piggy-in-the-middle.

Non-Mafia Result

We're called up. Anapu was placed in the dock with a police officer beside him who stood in the classic pre-fighting position with his hands clasped over his groin and his legs set astance. If you've ever seen a photo of this, it always makes the person standing next to them look guilty.

Amidst all this usual drama of presumed guilt, and made to look guilty, is some lawyer – in my case, non-lawyer – who comes along and presents a fine argument.

I made excuses for arriving late and requested to lodge the four-page affidavit. Judge Hubble accepted. The registrar walked over and received it, delivering it to Hubble. I allowed him time to read without speaking.

When his eyes looked up, I gave a brief explanation that Anaru James Coburn was the witness to the incident, the police officer W156 was serving in the Solomons, could not be directly contacted and would not be back until September, the defendant had been raised in a single-parent Maori family, where only 25 % make it out into a new social pattern, he had never been before the courts, he had just finished Architecture school at university, he was an excellent computer graphics technician, and was deontic.

Judge Hubble looked at Anaru Coburn and said: "Yes, I can see that he is not a criminal".

The police had shown that it was just a 'Status Hearing' to put the case back on track, not a 'Defended Hearing', and were showing "zero preparation" (according to the Registrar), so no police evidence was expected to be given on that day. It was to be adjourned for two to three months for a fixture until July 2009.

However it turned out to be a 'Defended Hearing' and the police stood up and did present an argument, but our affidavit and explanation held sway and the warrant for arrest was cancelled.

Judge Hubble offered me a Section 106. I didn't know what a Section 106 was, but it sounded good. Judge Hubble explained: "The results of a conviction would far outweigh the crime, and in this case, there appears to be none . . . I suggest you take it."

I'M A TALKING
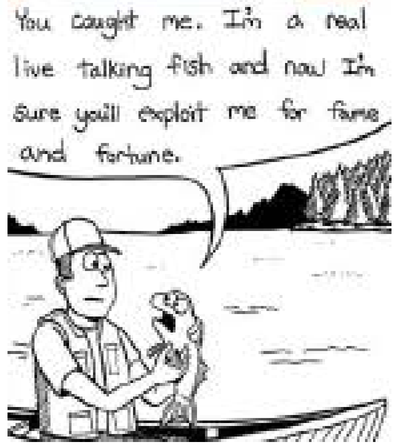
FISH



You caught me. I'm a real live talking fish and now I'm sure you'll exploit me for fame and fortune.

So I took the Section 106 and we were dismissed.

The little Maori female court staff then escorted us out of the courtroom (which isn't normal) and took us to a side office where she explained: "You boys did very well. A Section 106 is very rare. All the judges combined only give out one or two each year, and it can only be used once per person. It means that there is no record of the charge, no fine to pay, and no payment to a charity – which is normally $150 to $600.

"The second best option is 'Diversion' where there is a record, and payment is made to a charity in lieu of a fine."

So we left quite happy.

The normal lawyers fee for such a service was up to $5,000.

For payment, Anaru bought me some groceries on the way home, which is the way it should be. We were home by 12.15 pm laughing and eating which is the way it would be if the courts and police weren't such an occult mafia stitching people up, and stitching up groups of people so they could get off early for the gang-shag.

There are two schools of thought on me representing a client as a lawyer"
One is that it is illegal to pass yourself off as a lawyer and represent another in court, and you can face some quite serious charges'
The other is that it's risky and naughty, but done.

When I pass the Bar, it'll be in a boat with the fish mouthing off:
°o°o °o catch me if you can °o°o °o

Informant 233,

MAXIMS and EQUITABLE PRINCIPLES of LAW to be RELIED UPON:

I. All men and women are without excuse to not know that The Law is written "upon their hearts and in their minds", and that the origin of all law and commerce exists participating in the doctrine of maintaining 'clean hands in equity'; and

II. The integrity of telling the whole truth; and that

III. Every living-breathing-soul shall be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be, are ordained of God; moreover

IV. Whosoever therefore resisteth that power, resisteth the ordinance of the very God they invoke the help thereof to maintain their office: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. For honourable rulers are not a terror to good works, but only to the evil; and that

V. Truth as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce and where there is a conflict in opinions, the word of God prevails as true, over man's words; and

VI. An un-rebutted affidavit stands as what is true in commerce between the parties; and

VII. An un-rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgement in commerce.

VIII. GUARANTEED so that all men are neither held nor placed in an untenable position of peonage or involuntary servitude, all men shall have equitably prevailing available to them, a remedy by the due course and process of law. If a remedy does not appear to exist, or if the existing remedy appears to have been subverted, then one may equitably create a remedy for themselves and endow it with credibility by expressing such in their affidavit.

- a. (Ignorance of these facts might be an excuse, however ignorance of the law is never a valid excuse/reason for the commission of any wrongful/inequitable act or crime, when The Law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study it, and one acting as an officer of the law would be foolish to not do so or have it construed against them as tantamount to fraud).
- b. Notwithstanding all of the above, and that all higher laws are written upon the hearts and minds of all men, poor as well as rich without respect of the person of man any excuse is an admission as to the primary liability of the maker of such, and silence and non-response, is one's own honourable indication as to their:
- c. tacit assent or procuration/consent, passive acquiescence, cognovit affirmative, acceptance by silence, admission of guilt, or any part of their confession or avoidance plea(s), that they now have honourably prescribed and preordained under a clean hands in equity doctrine that;
- d. one or more of the options available therein were as stipulated, elected by them, furthermore they were asked to provide with a duty of care/trust responsibility and indemnified (four-fold) commercial liability as to certain evidence that are well established prerequisites for any honourable settlement for commercial bills and letters of request by the comity between the parties allowing for the honourable settlement without laches of any previously raised outstanding or contradictory matter(s).

IX. All incorporated or unincorporated bodies of government are based upon properly bonded: commercial affidavits, commercial contracts, constitutions, commercial liens and commercial distresses, hence, governments cannot lawfully exercise the power to expunge commercial processes, without first expunging themselves and the de jure source of their authority.

X. The legitimate political power of any corporate entity is incontrovertibly dependent upon its possession of commercial bonds and insurance instruments against any and all public hazard/liability/ies, because no bond means; no legitimate authority/responsibility, no real or de jure power of any official signature, no real corporate political power, no privilege to exercise/operate any statute(s) as the corporate vehicle/presumed transmitting utility they claim.

XI. That any corporate legal powers at best are; secondary to the commercial guarantors. Case law on its own is not a responsible substitute for a Bond and would only foolishly be accepted as such, in lieu of a bond.

XII. All municipal corporations including; cities, counties, districts, local, state and national governments, have no commercial reality without proper bonding of their entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

XIII. In commerce, the failure of this is therefore without excuse, itself being nothing more or less than tantamount to fraud or a criminal act for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a claim to its Bonding Company, and it would in the same manner be a crime for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay on the said claim.

XIV. If a Bonding Company does not get its own malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it is required to pay the full face value of a defaulted lien process (at 90 days).

XV. Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even an honourable Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a counter-affidavit, any affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit if one was provided to support the originating claim.

XVI. Judicial, non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation, hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

XVII. A foreclosure by summary[1] judgment done without a commercial bond is a fatal violation of commercial law.

[1] Black's Eighth Law Dictionary, Summary judgment: A judgement granted on a claim of defence about which there is no genuine issue of material fact and upon which the movant is entitled to prevail as a matter of law . . . The court considers the contents of the pleadings, the motions, and additional evidence adduced by the parties, to determine whether there is a genuine issue of material fact rather than one of law. This procedural device allows for the speedy disposition of controversy without the need of a trial. (See also genuine issue, material fact.)

Butterworth's NZ Law Dictionary, 5th Edition Spiller, Summary judgment: A speedy procedure for obtaining judgment on a proceeding where the court is satisfied that a defendant has no defence to a claim. See the High Court rules rr 135–44 and the District Court rules rr 151–67. Summary judgment is not available against the crown or where an allegation of defamation, malicious prosecution, false imprisonment or fraud. "The general object of the rules about summary judgment . . . is to enable a plaintiff to obtain judgment where there is really no defence to the claim made and so put an end to this spectacle of a worthless defence being raised and pursed for the purpose of delay" (Per Somers J, Pemberton v. Chappell [1987] 1NZLR1.2-3 DEFENCE).

Black's Fifth Edition, p. 1287, Summary: n. an abridgement; brief; compendium; digest; off-hand; without a jury; also a short application to a court or judge, without the formality of a full hearing.

XVIII. Corporate Governments cannot make un-bonded rulings or statutes, which control commerce, free enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships, without suspending commerce by a general and public declaration of martial law.

XIX. It is a tax fraud to use statute courts to settle a dispute/controversy, which could or are being attempted to be settled peacefully outside of, or without the assistance of such a corporate court.

XX. An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.,) must before acting first be able to demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to issue, use or implement any summary process they may rely upon.

XXI. An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of trust or contract or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, by commercial dishonour, by default becomes a lien debtor and their property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a crime of conversion and as such is a tort[2] and carries with it strict liabilities.

XXII. It is against The Law (including the royal law, the wisdom and lively Oracles of God as foresworn by every monarch since time immemorial) for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish any commercial lien.

XXIII. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve such a commercial lien.

XXIV. Any notice to the agent is notice to the principal; and accordingly notice to principal is notice to agent or their successor/s, assign/s or nominee/s.

XXV. PUBLIC LIABILITY INSURANCE BONDING OF CORPORATE OFFICERS/AGENTS: All officials are required by law to provide the name, address, and telephone number of their public liability/hazard and malpractice bonding company and the policy number of the bond and, if requested are required, to present, produce a certified copy of such policy, describing the bonding coverage as to their specific job performance. Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose the lien upon the official personally to secure their public oath and service of office.

It is reiterated that Undersigned Joseph Gregory Hallett does not understand your letter and he offers the attached Affidavit "A" in support as veracity to his claim and lawful right to ask questions to better understand the language, class, behaviour of any public servant before doing business with them, unless of course you can present lawful excuse that you can be a public nuisance contrary to any local government act currently in force you may consider yourself bound by.

The infringement and the attachment are accepted under the terms of the indemnity bond and this letter of requests and are accordingly returned to you for four-fold your presented value in anticipation of your honourable reply.

Joseph Gregory Hallett does not understand your form attached. However, it has been filled in with queries as underlined to comply with your request. Because your terms are so ill-defined, it cannot with integrity be completed, and in no way forms any admission to anything as to your ill-defined and misleading letter, request, bill, account, notice, claim, or whatever it portends to be.

No liability other than Undersigned's Indemnity Bond is accepted or considered until all of these matters have been explained and addressed.

Your complete reply to all matters raised is required within 7 days, otherwise it will be taken that T7609439 has no lawful or legal validity and has no infringement fee attached, and that all other statements made in this letter are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond.

Take notice that the Auckland City Council has been cited as an accessory to attempted murder, and by association, accessory to the murders that were carried out.

Pursuant to existing public municipal law and policy of NEW ZEALAND and the agreement of the parties of the private Security Agreement, the Secured Party is authorised to assign such funds from any said accounts as are necessary to settle all past, present, and future public debts and obligations incurred by the Debtor on behalf of the Secured Party.

The Debtor without the benefit of discussion or division, by accommodation does hereby agree, covenant, and undertake to indemnify, defend, and hold the Secured Party harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, costs, interests, and expenses, including all without restriction, legal costs, interests, penalties, and fines previously suffered or incurred, or to be suffered or incurred by the Secured Party, in accordance with the Secured Party's personal guarantee with respect to loans or indebtedness belonging to the Debtor, including any amount the Debtor might be deemed in the absence of any material fact or evidence being presented to the contrary, is not required to owe to any public creditor for any reason whatsoever.

Joseph Gregory Hallett

Dear Sir

Your letter of 30 September 2008 has been passed to me to reply to due to its nature and content.

I note that on 24 September 2008 a letter was sent to you in accordance with section 118 of the Land Transport Act 1998 requesting that you provide information that might identify the person who was driving the vehicle bearing registration plate EGP253 at 4:59 pm on 19 September 2008. That letter explained your legal obligation to provide such information within 14 days and that failure to do so or to provide false or misleading information in response to the request is an offence under section 52 of that Act.

You have stated in your letter that you do not understand these matters and have requested that a number of things be explained to you. However I must inform you that neither the Auckland City Council nor its employees can provide you with the independent professional help that you clearly need. If you still require assistance in understanding your legal obligations in this matter you must seek that from your own legal adviser. The Council is under no obligation to provide you with legal advice.

It may be of assistance if I point out that the legal provisions governing matters of this sort make no express allowance for the extension of the specified time periods for the purpose of allowing people additional time to seek legal advice. It is possible that the standard time period given by the legislation was assumed to be sufficient for this purpose.

I wish to make it quite clear that although I am not responding directly to any part of your letter this cannot be taken to indicate that I or the council have in any way indicated agreement, consent or even opinion on, or with, anything contained in your letter.

Once again I would urge you to seek professional help. You need to get your own legal advice to help you to better understand your legal position in regard to these matters. Alternately you may wish to deal with this matter by complying with the instructions given to you by the appropriate forms.

Yours sincerely

Terry Sugrue

Ref: T7609439, dated 24 September 2008 and received on 29 September 2008;

Letter from Terry Sugrue, Corporate Counsel Governance and Democracy, Auckland City Council dated 20 October 2008, making no reference to T7609439 and therefore relegated to hearsay to the benefit of Undersigned;

Infringement notice Issued under the authority of the Land Transport Act 1998, Enforcement authority: Auckland City Council having no date and no specified location on Khyber Pass Road other than “KP1” but referencing Notice no: T7609439, and therefore disregarded as unexplained to the benefit of Undersigned;

Reminder notice, Date reminder issued: 12 Dec 2008, in respect of infringement offence Section 42 (7) of the Transport Act 1962, section 140 of the Land Transport Act 1998, none of which was defined as requested and therefore not addressed democractically under the Auckland City Council’s claimed Democratic Governance.

Greetings and Peace to whom all this presentment shall come,

I. You do not have clean hands in equity, nor have you told the whole truth.

II. You are subject to a higher power that is not God, but a paedophile (Mayor John Banks) and a willing accessory to murder and attempted murder (Governor-General Anand Satyanand). As such you “shall receive to [your]selves damnation” as you are a “terror to good works”.

III. Truth as a valid statement of reality. Undersigned was turning left in something that could not be a “vehicle” as the driver was inside it. Therefore the Acts listed do not apply.

IV. Undersigned’s affidavit remains un-rebutted. Therefore his claims are to be acted upon as judgement in commerce.

V. Undersigned is not in your peonage nor to be place in involuntary servitude (slavery) by your hand/s.

VI. Bus lane enforcement officer 233/ Informant 233 Auckland City Council/ Terry Sugrue Corporate Counsel Governance and Democracy/ Auckland City Council (“233/Sugrue/ ACC”) have subverted the remedy, so Undersigned has offered a remedy, endowed it with credibility in an affidavit (30 September 2008), backed this up with an Indemnity Bond (JGH19610915) of four-fold the value ($600.00) and presented this under the laws of Equity for all parties to adher to.

VI. 233/Sugrue/ACC’s ignorance of the law is not an excuse/reason for any wrongful/ inequitable act and/or crime creation, and is tantamount to fraud.

VII. Not answering Undersigned’s Affidavit is passive acquiescence, acceptance by silence, admission of guilt and tacit assent, procurative consent and cognovit affirmative of unclean hands in equity and commerce.

VIII. 233 has not shown a duty of care/trust and therefore 233/Sugrue/ACC cannot lawfully exercise the power to expunge commercial process, without first expunging itself and the de jure source of its/their authority.

IX. If 233/Sugrue/ACC continues with this infringement notice without acknowledging Undersigned’s Affidavit and Indemnity Bond, then 233/Sugrue/ACC loses all of its powers to issue infringement notices/traffic tickets/rates to Undersigned and to the rest of the population presiding under the de jure Governance and Democracy of the Auckland City Council and AUCKLAND CITY.

X. Therefore three-fold the value of the Infringement Notice T7609439 is due to Undersigned from 233/Sugrue/ACC. This is 3 x $150.00 = $450.00 (four hundred and fifty dollars).

XI. Undersigned requests 233/Sugrue/ACC provide proof of its incorporation, commercial contracts, liens distresses, affidavits, contracts, commercial bonds and insurances against all liabilities, constitutions, constitutional liens, distresses, because no bond means no legitimate authority, no real power and no privilege to operate as the corporate vehicle they claim.

Rather 233/Sugrue/ACC is a legal fiction acting under presumption in matters that do not involve it truthfully under the higher power that is God, as opposed to some paedophile Mayor (John Banks) and some accessory to murder Governor-General (Anand Satyanand). (See ‘TAXI STAND, How the Auckland City Council Agrees from Undersigned and the Auckland City Council’)

Such claims were accepted by the Auckland City Council on 16 December 2008, P7862215) including: “The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile who protects paedophiles in the police and the Auckland City Council [and] As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms Anand Satyanand was nominated to the position of Governor-General by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute Helen Clark, ex-Prime Minister.”

Undersigned further requests that 233/Sugrue/ACC provide proof that Undersigned’s Indemnity Bond is not stronger than the Auckland City Council’s case law.

XII. 233/Sugrue/ACC municipal corporation has no commercial reality without proper bonding. Please provide proof of this and proof that it did not involve a paedophile, an accessory to murder, or someone who shagged the Queen Mother (Sir Ernest Davis, 1-4 February 1958, 3rd floor, north side, second window in from the street of the Northern Club, Princess Street, Auckland City) and then bought her a race horse, rigged the St. James Cup at Trentham to provide it with value, and was generally known as the “King of New Zealand” from 1930 to 1962. (See attached ‘The King of New Zealand shags the Queen Mother’)

XIII. Failure to provide proof of the Auckland City Council’s commercial bond is tantamount to a criminal act for 233/Sugrue/ACC, as is not reporting this infringement notice, Undersigned’s affidavit and Indemnity Bond, to the Auckland City Council’s Bonding Company, and it would be a crime for this Bonding Company not to pay this infringement, given that the affidavit has not been answered and is therefore commercially true, binding and bonding to the benefit of Undersigned.

Is a bond not something that binds?

Given the above, the Auckland City Council’s Bonding Company is due to pay the Auckland City Council $150.00; and, to pay Undersigned the remaining $450.00. Under equity, this is due wthin 72 hours of receipt of this letter. (See attached Account)

XIV. Commensurate with this, if the Auckland City Council’s Bonding Company does not get 233 prosecuted for criminal malpractise within sixty (60) days (by 3 December 2008) then the Auckland City Council's Bonding Company is required to pay the $150.00 infringement and Undersigned's $450.00 at ninety (90) days (by 2 January 2009) as a defaulted lien process.

Since Undersigned has received no evidence that the above has occurred, Undersigned encloses the account for $450.00 due for payment within 72 hours of receipt of this document.

Further Undersigned requests that Bus lane enforcement officer 233/ Informant 233 and Terry Sugrue of the Corporate Counsel Governance and Democracy be removed from the Auckland City Council for the above reason, for not maintaining clean hands in equity, and for not telling the whole truth:

a. Undersigned requested a photograph. It was not provided.
b. 233 did not take/provide a photograph of the rear of the vehicle turning left.
c. No points in the affidavit were answered, and therefore stand.

XV. Further, it is illegal for a judge to expunge Undersigned's affidavit without a counter-affidavit (of which none has been presented or referred to).

A jury is also required.

Therefore, if the Auckland City Council is to continue to claim it requires an affidavit and a High Court hearing, with a jury of Undersigned's peers.

Since Undersigned is the Prince of New Spain, the Auckland City Council may find this difficult.

XVI. The alternative is for the Auckland City Council to provide a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond, but the Auckland City Council is out of time. More than 3 days, 28 days, 30 days, 60 days and 90 days have passed and Undersigned has neither seen or been presented with either.

XVII. Any summary[3] judgement done will thus be a violation of commercial law.

XVIII. The Auckland City Council cannot make an unbonded ruling without declaring martial law, suspending commerce and making a general and public declaration of such.

XIX. Further, it is tax fraud to use statute courts to settle a matter which is being attempted to be settled peacefully outside the courts, unless a corporate court is used, but then the Auckland City Council has not provided any proof of its Bonding Company, or that it is not working for the Chinese Government.

XX. Any police involved must first demonstrate that they are individually bonded to the Auckland City Council.

XXI. The Auckland City Council officials 233 and Terry Sugrue have both abridged their obligation of trust, contract and commercial lien without proper cause and are therefore in commercial dishonour, and by default, they are lien debtors who have forfeited their security on the lien (4 x $150) $600.00, which is therefore due to Undersigned as of 2 January 2009, the breach of which is a Pound breach, a breach of impoundment, and is a crime of conversion, such as car conversion, which is a tort[4] (wrong injustice) and carries strict liabilities as a wrongful act and wrongful infringement. (See attached Account)

XXII. It is against The Law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish any commercial lien; or to ignore the Indemnity Bond of $600,00; or to ignore that it is now due, and has been due from 2 January 2009, and is now due within 72 hours of receipt of this document.

XXIII. Only Undersigned or a High Court jury can dissolve this commercial lien/Indemnity bond. Undersigned does not dissolve the Indemnity bond, but claims it at the full value of $600.00. Undersigned choses to offset the Bus Lane Infringement (if there ever was one, or could be one) to the value of $150.00 upon proof that Undersigned was not turning left into Suiter to Driving Sound (corner of Suiter and 394 Khyber Pass Road) in order to have his car stereo fixed, namely radio channels not maintaining their settings (See attached 'Driving Sound & Battery receipts') and that this was not caused by a weak battery which was then replaced by purchase from the Newmarket Warehouse for $150.00, the same price as the whorehouse the whorehouse where everyone gets a bargain, and that this company, The Warehouse, was not owned by Jenny Shipley and Ruth Richardson, and that Jenny Shipley's daughter was not involved in some beheadings in Australia with her Islamic taxi-driving boyfriend and that she assisted the murders by helping to store the decapitated bodies in the home freezer, and that this is how the Labour Government (Luv'ment) got into power in 1999. (See attached 'Ms. Shipley's Murders')

XXIV. Please provide the name, address and telephone number of 233/Sugrue/ACC's public liability/hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond and a certified copy of such policy describing the bonding coverage as to their specific job performance.

Failure to do so is further grounds to impose a lien upon 233/Sugrue to remove them from public office, and to warrant their public oath, their signature at the bottom of their letters and number attached to their position, as worthless, only warranting a carbon tax.

Further to the 30 September 2008 letter, points 1–37, the Auckland City Council, by way of non-rebuttal, passive acquiescence, acceptance by silence, admission of guilt, tacit assent, procurative consent, and cognovit affirmative, with unclean hands in equity and commerce, and within the timeframes of Equity, confirms the following:

2. There is no definition for "a special vehicle lane" and a vehicle has two wheels, not four.
3. Section 118(1) of the Land Transport Act 1998 has no definition.
5. A Bus lane does not exist.
6. One cannot drive a four (4) wheel vehicle or have a driver in a vehicle.
7. There is no such thing as a "road" on land.
8. A "Bus lane" does not come under the Land Transport (Road User) Rule 2004 part 2.3(1).
10. It is legal to turn left from a Bus lane.

[3] *Black's Eighth Law Dictionary, Summary judgment: A judgement granted on a claim of defence about which there is no genuine issue of material fact and upon which the movant is entitled to prevail as a matter of law . . . This procedural device allows for the speedy disposition of controversy without the need of a trial.

[4] Concise Oxford Dictionary: tort ; noun; Law: a wrongful act or an infringement of a right (other than under contract) leading to legal liability; ORIGIN: Latin tortum, 'wrong, injustice', tortious /torshəss; adjective: Law, constituting a tort; wrongful.

11. It is legal to travel in a Bus lane for 100 metres when turning left.

12. A Bus lane (2007) was never included in the Land Transport (Road User) Rule 2004.

16. Bus lane enforcement officer 233 is, by his own admission, an informant for the Auckland City Council/ Chinese Government/ Auckland area paedophile movement/ Mayor John Banks and is in commercial dishonour.

17. 233/Sugrue/ACC and Appointed Fiduciary mayor John Banks confirms that the Mayor of Auckland, the Hon. Johh Banks is a paedophile; the Auckland Regional Council senior Chairman Mike Lee was married to a child prostitute and was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark, ousted Prime Minister; the Auckland City Council employs child prostitutes as City Counsellors; Gary Taylor, who runs Auckland City, filmed his wife having sex with other Labour Party members; and the above was the primary influence on 233 not filming the rear of the car as it turned left from the bus lane.

18. No photograph, either front on, or from the back exists.

21. 233 has no bond with the Auckland City Council, no public liability insurance, and no hazard bond numbers.

22. 233 has no powers to issue an infringement notice and no bond.

23. The Auckland City Council is a legal fiction.

24. Bus Lane Enforcement Officer 233 is a legal fiction whose only status is a uniform.

25. 233 is an illegal immigrant.

26. The Auckland City Council employs fictional entities so that others may draw their wage.

27. Indians are collecting the wages of Pariah, Harijans, Untouchables, Outcastes and are working the Indian caste system in New Zealand for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya, Brahmin, and the Indian Governor-General Anand Satyanand.

    The Auckland City Council requires a certain amount of English to be spoken by their staff. Since 233 appears unable to respond to his letters, Undersigned summises that this is insufficient to order a steak.

28. Bus lane enforcement officer 233/ Enforcement Officer requesting information: 233/ Informant 233 appears to have two or more identities, none of which are properly bonded.

31. Undersigned received a response from the Auckland City Council on 7 January 2009 in defense of their involvement in the attempted murders of Joseph Gregory Hallett as ordered by the former Prime Minister Helen Clark who is a Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute who tried to murder Joseph Gregory Hallett on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, and 14–22 May 2004; and where, to all intents and purposes, the Auckland City Council acted as an accomplice to a breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – that is, accessory to murder followed by Auckland City Council fines to pay for these murder attempts.

    Out of the five accused in the NOTICE/S OF GENERAL APPEAL under the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 in the Auckland District Court on the 2 July 2008 (C.R.I. 2006-004-021-217) only the Auckland City Council has put up a defense and taken this to the High Court – due to be heard on 20 April 2009.

    THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE, Helen Elizabeth Clark, Sian Seerpoohi Elias, and James Matewhinau Cassin have presented no defense as they have no defense.

32. This is an official private equitable administrative proceeding with integrity, to settle all outstanding matters between the parties as your venue appears of its own, unable to settle and close the account. Undersigned is authorised to do this under several of the non-exclusive laws of New Zealand in order to achieve remedy.

    233/Sugrue/ACC appear to have failed to seek the necessary and timely counsel.

33. The Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders who report directly to the Governor-General, who is the Chief Boy Scout/ Girl Guide, and in collusion, this paedophile arrangement is overseen in Auckland by the paedophile Mayor, Hon. John Banks, formerly the Minister of Police, who protected paedophiles in the police, in all localities within New Zealand, and in the Auckland City Council.

34. The Auckland City Council confirms that it works closely with the Police.

35. The Auckland City Council confirms that the former Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist who worked closely with the Police Commissioner's Support Group (from 25 November 2003 or thereabouts), and the Ombudsman Anand Sayanand (from 23 March 2004 or thereabouts) who is now the Governor-General, as nominated by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute, Prime Minister Helen Clark.

    Take notice that failure to respond within the equitable 7 days has been taken as confirmation by the Auckland City Council that the above is indeed true correct complete certain and 233/Sugrue/ACC is now (with sufficient notice and without lawful excuse) known to be in ongoing collusion with such immoral behaviours as to be a public nuisance.

    233/Sugrue/ACC are partners in crime with the New Zealand Police and knowingly assist child molestors and rapists.

36. The Indian Governor-General, Anand Sayanand, is running Auckland City Council Informants/ Enforcement Officers/ Pariah/ Harijans/ Untouchables/ Outcastes under the Indian caste system for the benefit of the reincarnated Vaishyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin and himself.

37. 233 is a public nuisance contrary to any local government act currently in force.

38. Since no honourable reply has been presented within 90 days the Indemnity Bond is enforceable.

39. Undersigned questions why the document dated 30 September 2008 and presented to ACC and seeking clarification was not returned to Undersigned with any answers to his legitimate queries.

40. 233/Sugrue/ACC did not respond within 72 hours (Equity) or within 7 days (as stipulated) but at 19 days at best. Therefore it is taken by all concerned that T7609439 has no lawful or legal validity and has no infringement fee attached, and all queries and statements made in Undersigned's 30 September 2008 letter are true and correct to the benefit of Undersigned and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly and within 72 hours of receipt of this letter (i.e. 12 January 2009 and by 15 January 2009).

Further, all other statements made in Undersigned's 30 September 2008 letter are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond.

Take notice that the Auckland City Council has been cited as an accessory to attempted murder, and by association, accessory to the murders that were carried out.

Failure to respond has occurred. The terms of the Indemnity Bond stand. $600.00 is due from the Auckland City Council to Undersigned.

With the Undersigned's sincerest appreciation in anticipation of your continued honourable services and assistance, moreover as time is of the essence, he entreats you govern yourself accordingly as your oaths of office dictate, now with sufficient judicial notice that the prevailing rules of equity shall apply and properly, without failure of consideration, be taken into deliberation thereof.

Yours sincerely,

It should be obvious from this that the car was breaking down and had to be kept running. When it stopped, it then needed a jump start. In case the car did breakdown, the left lane was the least disruptive for all traffic. The car went to Driving Sound and then to the Warehouse for a battery charger (the same day), and when that didn't work, it went back the next day for a new battery.

The King of New Zealand shags the Queen Mother

Ernie Davis, formally known as Sir Ernest Hyam Davis, Kt (17 Feb. 1872–16 Sept. 1962) was a Jewish businessman educated at all the right schools. At 26 he joined his father's business, Hancock & Co in Auckland, and soon became chairman, then chairman of just about every other influential organisation in Auckland – the Northern Steamship Co., the Devonport Steam Ferry Co., the North Shore Transport Co., the Auckland Meat Co., New Zealand Breweries Ltd, the New Zealand Distillery Co., the Auckland Savings Bank from 1947–48 and again in 1960, and in 1962 he was made president of the Associated Trustee Savings Banks.

While Mayor of Auckland City (1935–41) he was knighted by King George VI in the 1937 Coronation Honours – a Knight Bachelor for public service. He then became New Zealand's leading horse race owner from 1952–58 and won the Auckland Cup in 1954 with Arawa. In 1957 he was made a life member of the Royal New Zealand Yacht Squadron.

Ernie Davis was also a member of the Northern Club on the corner of Princess and Kitchener Streets. In the 1950s he had his own room on the top third floor, on the north side, second window in from Princess Street. Sir Ed, as he was known, was the uncrowned King of New Zealand.

On 1 February 1958, the Queen Mother, Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon came to New Zealand and spent her first three days in Auckland with Ernie. Sir Ernie Davis (85), a widower of three years, shagged the shit out of the Queen Mother (57) in his third floor room. He even shagged her on the billiard table. To Kiwis, the 85-year-old's actions only served to confirm his status.

NEW ZEALAND CRANE HIRE

The Northern Club.

Northern Club billiard table.

The St. James Cup at Trentham (Wellington) was set up as a special race meeting to suit the Queen Mother's visit, and low and behold, Sir Ernie Davis' horse Bali Ha'i won. Ernie had rigged the race with his Jockey, Grenville Hughes, promising him all the winnings if he won.

Grenville Hughes, known as 'The Monkey', and right through the racing world 'Monkey Hughes' then promised an equal share in the winnings if Bali Ha'i won, so all the other jockeys hauled in the reigns and held their horses back while Monkey drew the whip from half-a-mile home – it was quite obvious really – and Bali Ha'i won. Monkey then shared the £6,000 winnings amongst the jockeys and the Queen Mum had her eyes on a 'proven' horse.

Mum's the word.

When the St. James Cup photo was taken on the stand at Trentham (sighted, but couldn't get a copy) it was of the jockey Grenville 'Monkey' Hughes, the well-shagged Queen Mum, the well-shagged uncrowned King of New Zealand Sir Ernest Hyam Davis, and the SIS bodyguards' Telpin and Roland Jayes (R.J. later involved in the Rural Development Finance murder). They'd come straight from the Ajax Meat Company behind the Manners Street Post Office – "No meat was delivered there, except the meat that worked there or walked through the door" – a.k.a. S.I.S. Operational HQ.

Ernie had spent three days in Auckland and four days in Wellington with the Queen Mother. Feeling a little guilty about shagging her rotten, rigging the race, and gifting the winnings – Ernie, thankful Bali Ha'i wasn't going to the glue factory, gave her the racehorse – then commissioned Edward Halliday to paint his most recent root.[5]

Then the Queen mother departed from Harewood Aerodrome in Christchurch on 14 February 1958.

Intelligence Historian: "Ernie's only son, Desmond Elias Davis (1908–58) died within months. Ernie gave his son Desmond a hard time and was virtually a dictator. The boy got pressured and I suspect died of overwork. That he died the same year as the Queen Mother's visit, shagging and horse bribe, could have been coinicidental, but Jews don't want the son becoming anything like as big a nose as the father."

[5] Wikipedia, slightly paraphrased: "Elizabeth Angela Marguerite Bowes-Lyon, (1900–2002) embodied traditional ideas of family and public service. She undertook a variety of public engagements, and became known as the 'Smiling Duchess' because of her consistent public expression . . . She had gin and tonic and salmon kedgeree for breakfast and hung onto the bottle of gin for the rest of the day. As Queen Consort, she took her title literally. Her husband King George VI was a notably weak man and died of a strange form of lung cancer called syphilis and she was a widow from 51. She became the senior member of the Royal Family, assumed the position of family matriarch and maintained public popularity as a roving shopping bag, clocking up some shocking bills. When Concorde first got airborne, she did a solo trip around Scotland at the cost of millions to the ire of the British taxpayer. It was then that they began to notice she was five foot nothing, vain as, and butt ugly, with yellow teeth that seemed to get sharper as they got longer – bolemic perhaps. Apart from reluctantly marrying into the royals (she had to be asked twice), she was the most indebted woman in the world, but strangely remained popular, probably due to a lack of competition. She died ranked 61st Greatest Briton, which doesn't say much for the saboteur colonisers."
'Bali Ha'i' was a Rogers and Hammerstein from 'South Pacific', based on Tales of the South Pacific by James A. Mitchener. and sung by Perry Como. It reached the Top Ten in 1949, then became a worldwide standard showtune.

The Outstanding Actress Of Our Day...

as Scarlett O'Hara

The following year, the Queen Mother entered Ernie's former racehorse Bali Ha'i into the Coombe Stakes at Sandown, and the Queen Alexandra Stakes at Ascot . . . Naturally it won.[6]

From the early 1930s to his death in 1962, Ernie Davis was contacted by every Prime Minister before they did anything. To do this, government officials would catch the overnight train from Wellington to Auckland and present Ernie with the government documents for him to decide either way or give his blessing. There were few exceptions and from 1930 to 1960 government ran as "What would Ernie think?", "What would Ernie do?", and "What has the King of New Zealand got to say about it?"

Sir Ernest Hyam Davis, shagger of the Queen Mother, consultant to every Prime Minister for thirty years, uncrowned King of New Zealand – Jewish.

And as a good Jew, when the Nazi's came to visit Auckland in their submarines in 1938, complete with swastika flag and Jews having already been gassed in ovens, Sir Ernie Davis gave the Nazis an official welcome, complete with Mayoral ceremony, then sat in the front row of the synagogue with his brother Elliot . . . but wait, there's more.

Vivien Leigh (1913–67) married Laurence Olivier in 1940 and the two were the most famous acting couple in the world, kind of the 'Brad and Angelina' of their times.

Olivier was knighted in 1947 at Buckingham Palace and Vivien became Lady Olivier, retaining the title after their divorce in December 1960. She was known socially as 'Vivien, Lady Olivier'.

By 1948 Olivier was on the Board of Directors for the Old Vic Theatre and the famous acting couple came out to New Zealand to raise funds for the Old Vic.

They performed 'The School for Scandal' with outstanding success, although Leigh was suffering from insomnia, became ill and her understudy replaced her for a week. The Olivier's argued with the most dramatic in Christchurch in October 1948 when Vivien refused to go on stage. Laurence slapped her on the face and Vivien slapped him one back, cursed him, went on stage, then charmed the press.

Well, there's more to this story. They were exhausted, their marriage was on the rocks and Olivier later confessed they were a couple of walking corpses.

Vivien Leigh.

Ernie Davis – the King of New Zealand – was attracted to all forms of royalty and always had a big thing for Vivien Leigh ever since she starred in 'The Mask of Virtue' (1935).

[6] An Encyclopaedia of New Zealand 1966 – 'Racing, Horse' and 'Royal Visits'.

He knew they were fundraising for the Old Vic, so he supported Vivien Leigh, but there were strings attached.

Ernie, then 76, and too old to fuck, employed a former Jewish sailor who owned a few nightclubs (a good stickman) to root Vivien Leigh on his glass-top table as he lay underneath watching. It was September 1948.

Sir Ernest was quite a generous man so he left money in his will for a theatre to be built at Auckland University to be called the 'Vivien Leigh Theatre', as among other things, he was a great admirer of the female anatomy, and she was a great actress.

Auckland University got the money and had begun construction when The Truth published the story that Ernie had paid his Jewish sailor/ nightclub owner/ stickman to root Vivien Leigh on his glass-top table so he could watch, as he was a bit old to do it himself. The article also mentioned Vivien's lesbian dutch dresser who had been with her for thirty years and used to sleep with her.

That was okay by the theatre because it wasn't heterosexual sin.

Spymaster: "Laurence Olivier also rooted Bert Lancaster in Hollywood. Laurence got his big break on stage by sleeping with Sir Noel Coward, whom everyone called 'The Master'. Coward had an affair with the first Duke of Kent for 19 years, and the Duke of Kent I (King George VI' brother) wrote Coward love letters, so it was all part of the royal lineage. Coward also had affairs with Kent's half-brother, Anthony Blunt (the Queen's uncle, Art Curator and communist spy), as did the incestuous cross-dressing Duke of Kent I.

" . . . but it's treasonous to have sex with a Royal Family member without the permission of The House of Lords . . . so doesn't that make Noel Coward guilty of treason?"

Auckland University should be liberal, being a University 'n all, but they are not liberal in the ways of heterosexuality, so they had a meeting and decided they couldnt' have a theatre named after a woman – no matter how famous – who was paid to have sex on a glass-top table with a Jewish sailor, regardless of whether she was raising money for the Old Vic – the English-Speaking world's most famous and historical theatre – so they named it after some bludger who'd worked the university for years, and called it the 'Maidment' Theatre.

Dr Kenneth J. Maidment was the University's first Principal whose contribution had been building up the University's library from the smallest to the largest in the country – nothing to do with theatre, or glass-top rooting. Maidment left in 1970 and the 'Vivien Leigh Theatre' opened as the 'Maidment Theatre' on 11 April 1976 with the world's worst theatre facade.

Before 'A Clockwork Orange' came out, Sir Ernie Davis would buy women tremendously expensive outfits, two of them, then snip one off with scissors, a bit at a time, until she was naked, then he'd lie under the glass tabletop and watch her urinate, or get shagged, or both – then make all government decisions.

Mrs Brazier was a housemaid to Sir Ernie Davis and had an affair with him. Later she owned a secondhand bookshop on Dominion Road, 150 metres down from Videon where she officially she says: "Ernie Davis was a nice kind man".

Her son Graeme Brazier became the lead singer of 'Hullo Sailor' whose B-side track 'lying in the sand' became a bit of a national anthem every summer. Perhaps the name of the band was a reference to Ernie's mistresses greeting Ernie's Jewish Sailor/Nighclub owner for the performance shag with "Hullo Sailor" with the whole performance shag called 'lying in the sand'. (Mrs Brazier also had an older son, Tim.)

Graeme Brazier.

Deirdre Smith also did this several times and would take her new £200 back to 60 Grafton Road (1 km from where she grew up behind the Nestlé factory south of Constitution Hill) shout her flatmates £5 or £6 in hamburgers and fill up the flat with food.

James K. Baxter also used to live there, as did this author. Baxter would walk around farting saying: "Ooops! Shot another Angel" – yet another reason why he was New Zealand's worst Catholic and the flat smelt like fart.

The four top Italian models toured the world then came to New Zealand for a month in search of another "Italian Model" to go with them. The quarter-cast Tongan Deirdre Smith became New Zealand's "Italian Model of the Year" and toured the world as an Italian beauty. Postwar, the Italians were marketing beauty . . . then Deirdre married a film director.

Then Bette Davis (1908–89) came to Auckland and Sir Ernie Davis gave her the Queen's Arcade, a rather regal shopping mall at the bottom of Queen Street.

Ernie Davis' Bagman was Norman Douglas. Norman carried Ernie Davis' letters to and from Government in Wellington just after the table top rooting and urination. By that time, Norman Douglas had a son Roger, who became Roger Douglas, Minister of Broadcasting, then Minister of Finance – partly because of this connection as he knew how things were run and had THE SEX COLLECTION on New Zealand politicians, and the King of New Zealand.

But Roger Douglas became the Minister of Finance mainly because he was a compromised paedophile, and he was knighted Sir Roger Douglas to seal the cover.

So I'd be happy to pay the Bus Lane infringement, and even forgo the Indemnity Bond, as long as the Auckland City Council can change the name of the 'Maidment Theatre' to the 'Vivien Leigh Theatre' because Kenneth Maidment sucks and Vivien Leigh blows.

Ms. Shipley's Murders
THE WHITE HOUSE PROJECT
Women Leaders
INTERCULTURAL FORUM

Friend of the Family . . .

Jenny Shipley's daughter was jailed in Sydney, Australia for one or two years for her part in some very strange murders. She was a girlfriend of a wog cabby (Mid-Eastern cab driver) who stalked people in known homosexual haunts in a park in inner-city Sydney. He shot them with a cross-bow then threw the body in the boot of his taxi, took them to the Wog&Shipley home, quarterised the body – limbs and head off – and placed the body parts in the freezer.

This came to the attention of the Sydney police when Ms Shipley returned to Ashburton, went down to the local cop shop and ranted and raved how she was mixed up with a guy that killed people and chopped them up into parts.

Ms Shipley Jr. came back from one of her drug sojourns in Sydney (suspected of methampetamine use – 'P') and four days later, when the drugs wore off, she was back in New Zealand, had a fit of conscience and went down to the local Wallopers shop and told the local Sergeant that she was mixed up with a mid-Eastern guy who was stalking fags, shot them, then chopped them up.

The Ashburton Sergeant then rang his counterpart in Sydney and asked if there were any chopped up fag bodies that they'd come across. He answered in the negative. So the local Sergeant just thought it was another teenage drug-crazed rave and he attributed that to Ms Shipley jnr. coming down off the P.

Six months down the track a torso was discovered in a Sydney tidal creek. It had been kept in the freezer for six months, then tied down in the creek, but had come unstuck.

One of the bodies was identified as Richard Dempsey, a known homosexual, son of William Dempsey of Ponsonby, Auckland and a Maori woman he had several kids with and then walked out on. She had worked at the Pacific Sauna at the top of Symonds Street in the old days.

Leave a kid fatherless and there's a greater chance they will turn out fag – and dead fag.

The Senior Sergeant of Ashburton put two and two together, came to the right result and figured that she was telling the truth. Ms Shipley Jr. was subsequently charged and jailed for being an accessory after the fact (she obviously knew about it) and the wog cabby was convicted of murder over the bodies.

These events were more or less reported in the front page of the New Zealand Herald in about 12 lines in a single column, including Ms Shipley Jr.'s incarceration, but only identifying her as a New Zealand woman.

All the while Ms Jenny Shipley Sr. was Prime Minister of New Zealand, so little to nothing was said about it.

Jenny dismisses her child to this day. But even more embarrassing was the timing. Jenny wanted to 'bring back the Birch' and prosecute beneficiaries whose children were playing up.

THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE covered up for Jenny, but she was thereafter subject to blackmail by THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and their Commissioner.

Jenny Shipley had a mild heart attack as a rather overweight big fat bitch and has since had a stomach tuck. The heart attack could have been caused by people's ongoing reaction to her – one of "Oh no, a bull with tits!" – only to be beaten by the enemy, "Here comes Mrs Bull" [Helen Clark].

Prime Minister Jenny Shipley left government in disgrace and Ms Shipley Jr. has since been disowned and extracated from the family.

Shipley, or 'Shapley' as jokers tend to call her, then got promoted to roving Ambassador throughout China so she could buy up cheap goods for her Warehouse – 'the whorehouse, the whorehouse, where everyone gets a bargain' – and the rest is history as they say.

Her supressed status as Ambassador to China is more or less an ongoing government-funded shopping trip that undercuts local retailers, puts them out of business, and destroys the local communities.

When ex-PM Shipley was strolling down Parnell Road just before the 8 November 2008 Election, the Prince of New Spain was heading up the hill and muttered "murderer" as she walked past. Her two female bodyguards/ companions/ gossipers looked at each other knowingly, but only Jenny Shapely knew PoNS was referring to her murder of Kimball Johnson – a New Zealand Govt./ Police contract murderer, who complained to THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE that they were giving him too much work, and:

'Why didn't they do some of it themselves?'

Prime Minister Jenny Shipley.

To her credit, Jenny Shipley was a former South Island swimming champion.

But wait, there's more.

Whilst on the campaign trail for the 1999 Election, at the Lakeland Motor Inn in Taupo, incumbent Prime Minister Jenny Shipley confessed to an acquaintance of mine that she hated the fact that she had authorised the "traffic ticket quota system" which she was continuously being caught up in on the Asburton Straight, whilst travelling between Ashburton and Christchurch on her frequent journeys to Wellington, to the Beehive, parliament.

The Prime Minister was adorned in her purple tent dress, and continued; "I hate the day that our government authorised the quota system and the fact that I can't do anything about it any more."

She said it twice, which amounts, more or less, to a confession.

I guess both female Prime Ministers were phantom speedsters.

I would be happy to pay for this Bus Lane infringement upon proof that:

1. Jenny Shipley's cover-up of her daughter's "murders" did not cost money;
2. This did not bring about the police quota system;
3. The Police are not issuing traffic tickets on a quota system;
4. This Police quota system was not brought about by blackmailing the Prime Minister;
5. The Prime Minister being blackmailed was not Jenny Shipley;
6. Blackmail is not illegal;
7. The Auckland City Council does not run its infringement officers on a quota system;
8. Jenny Shipley's blackmail by THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE has not contributed to the Auckland City Council traffic infringements running on a quota system;
9. Every Auckland City Council worker can speak and write English to a standard where they can answer their own infringement responses;
10. THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE are not paedophile minders (they don't seem to catch any, especially not the ones everyone knows about, like Jonathan Hunt);
11. Auckland City Council workers are not employed for their paedophile minding (they never seem to out one in the ACC or ARC);
12. There are no paedophiles in THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE; and
13. There are no paedophiles in the Auckland City Council.

Without this proof, I accuse THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL of BLACKMAIL, and complicity to blackmail, and employing paedophiles, and covering up for them by employing paedophile minders, many of whom can't speak English, can't answer letters, but can fill an infringement notice for the quota system.

Equitable timeframes apply.

Postscript . . . one of many

Spook: "At the time I was suffering from an information overload coupled with the effects of a recent head injury. I queried my bosses on this story and they said: 'Don't worry, let it roll. No one will dare go near a dragon like that with a personal matter like this', which was subsequently borne out by history . . . I remember my boss in the Police doubting the veracity of something that was also later proved by documents from the PM's Department as kicked under a hotel bed by a couple of govt. employed lesbians. This was discovered by Island cleaning ladies who called someone and were told to, 'Ring Spook'. The documents were later the basis of a well-known story in the Sunday News by Joe Losé . . . It has subsequently been shown that the 'Shipley in Australia' was not Jenny Shipley's daughter."

Author: "It's interesting that Jenny Shipley was so unpopular as Prime Minister that even her own government departments were trying to get rid of her, by hook or by crook . . . or by crossbow. And they succeeded, but I still wasn't convinced, so I went to the top."

MICK P: "I read this. I hadn't heard the story before [that's rare] so I checked it out. I spoke to a prominent MP and they confirmed it by saying: 'Yes it is a tragedy. Everyone in Parliament seems to have someone like that in their family. This was particularly embarrassing so no one talks about it. It's completely under the table.'"

So after much wrangling and getting through the Intelligence and Counter-Intelligence and back to the Intelligence again, we got to the truth of the matter:

> While Jenny Shipley was Prime Minister of New Zealand, her daughter was involved in some gruesome decapitation murders and jailed in Sydney, resulting in Prime Minister Jenny Shipley being removed – only to be replaced by the KGB prostitute Helen Clark – who still maintains this secret.

This reeks of 'Common Purpose'. It seems that the role of local government and parliament is now to protect the murderers, the drug dealers, the paedophiles and their agents. Helen Hargraves does this to maintain her respectability and that of her conmen bosses.

Bus lane enforcement officer 233, Terry Sugrue, Talita van Sittert and Helen Hargraves (all of the ACC) do this to maintain the status quo and their respectability, but the status quo in New Zealand is that 'murderers, drug dealers, paedophiles and their agents' are not charged, but are respected by the police, who rely on personality voids like Helen Hargraves to attack anyone who exposes them.

Jenny Shipley, Alcopops, Wilson Neill, IRD, Serious Fraud Office & Winebox Inquiry

An Internal Affairs officer speaks . . .

"Jenny Shipley [National Prime Minister 8 December 1997–5 December 1999], just before she was dropped-kicked out of Parliament, her family trust bought up large sections of Wilson Neill – the South Island's largest liquor supplier – and then lowered the drinking age from 20 to 18, and allowed a child of any age to drink liquor in the pub, as long as it was given to them by their parent or guardian. This took effect on 1 December 1999. She was removed from the Prime Minister's office four days later.

> Amendments to 'The 1989 Sale Of Liquor Act': "A person UNDER 18 years of age may have access to any licensed premises (other than restricted areas) and be supplied liquor, PROVIDING they are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian and the liquor is supplied to them by their parent or legal guardian."

Alcohol is the drug of choice in New Zealand and this created a whole new generation of boozers of any age from toddlers up.

It seems that everything Jenny Shipley touches eventually turns to shit. She bought her Wilson Neill shares, stood over the accountants and had all sorts of interloans going on so her investment was secure. She waited 18 months for the profit to kick in, then took her money out. The place was then investigated and everything went tits up big time.

When the National Party were in power in the 1960s and Muldoon was on the rise, there were all these sweatheart deals that went down with various companies. One of them was L&M Oil which was connected to BP Todd. Another one was Comalco – that was an American outfit and there were big bribes involved in that.

To a much lesser extent, Wilson Neill went broke in the 1980s. It got to the stage where Wilson Neill was so desperate for money that they were talking about borrowing money off Nigel Neill. It was his father that ran it.

Nigel Neill is the actor Sam Neill with huge real estate holdings in Queenstown. He could have easily bailed his father out, but he chose not to. The sums were so huge the proffered relief may have only been a temporary fix.

Sam Neill's father had always borrowed up large and the big mystery was how could anyone send a liqour company broke in New Zealand.

In the Winebox Inquiry (September 1994–August 1997) "to investigate corruption and incompetence in the Inland Revenue Department and Serious Fraud Office", there were forwarded letters to the Exchange Commission where Jim Bolger and Ruth Richardson thanked the Foreign Exchange Commission for giving them pre-warning that the currency was going to devalue. Four months later, Jenny Shipley organised a coup and took the Prime Minister's office off Jim Bolger.

Jenny Shipley was brought into Wilson Neill in the early stages and at first the accountants thought that it was going to end up as one of the biggest insolvencies in New Zealand history. The belief was wide that Wilson and Neill had both spent money freely and the collateral that backed the loans was now down the paddock.

Then one of Shipley's advisors noticed Alcopops being sold into Australia and they immediately jumped to the conclusion that if they changed the liquor laws slightly and lowered the drinking age to suit a sweater tooth, their purchase would be paid off in very short order, and they would then be off the donkey trail and on the pig's back.

With New Zealand's horrendous teen drinking all they had to do was sit on their hands and do nothing. The financial problem would take care of itself and the resulting social problems could be solved by the next government.

Every suburb in New Zealand, and even the rural areas, have their own gang of drunks, and these were quickly able to organise themselves into go-fors, pick-ups, whores, and protection men, and all the other impedimentia that you need to run a liquor empire disguised as a country.

This generated calls to lower the drinking age, lower the age for sexual consent (which Helen Clark really liked), and then lower the blood alcohol level for driving.

Jenny Shipley is out there defending the rights of her children to get pissed every night under the guise of Civil Rights, when in fact, if anyone's Civil Rights were threatened (like alcohol removed), teenagers would happily go into the police station and uplift the RTD Vodka Cruisers (Ready to Drink made from the synthetic vodka Kristov) complete with defiant finger.

There wasn't much profit for about a year and a half. To survive that time, Wilson Neill did a big write down and made a bunch of company interloans, then Jenny Shipley creamed the profits. This prompted National Business Review to print the following article in mid-2002:[7]

> "The receivers of Wilson Neill and its six subsidiaries have so far identified debts of more than $15 million, with total debts of at least $9 million, and inter-company debts of at least $6 million . . .
> Radionet's wireless communications total debt was $2.6 million; IT Media owed $2 million and unsecured creditors were unlikely to be paid; Cobb & Co restaurant franchise owed $0.8 million and another $1.2 million in accounts due, so disputed them all; Iguacu Ltd and Iguacu Properties which operate Iguacu restaurant in Parnell, Auckland was sold, but had 239 creditors due money; South Pacific Hospitality (a holding company) owed $1.2 million and unsecured creditors were unlikely to be paid.
> Bankruptcy proceedings are likely to proceed, but it is unlikely that unsecured creditors would be paid.
> Pricewaterhouse Coopers (the liquidator) is investigating Wilson Neill for breaches of the law relating to their rapid collapse."

So there we have it. Jenny Shipley – a self-serving Prime Minister.

The next Prime Minister, Helen Clark, then tried to lower the age of sexual consent from 16 to 12 years old for girls and from 16 to 14 years old for boys, which her husband really liked.

Both female New Zealand Prime Ministers have been absolute disasters. They couldn't have done a worse job if they were both double agents working for foreign powers to destroy New Zealand; just as Prime Ministers' Moore, Palmer, Lange, Muldoon, and Bill Rowling did. The only guy who has ever stood up for New Zealand was killed – Big Norm Kirk – and he never gets a mention, not from any Prime Minister now.

[7] Nick Stride, NBR Personal Investor: 'Wilson Neill failure tops $15m', 28 June 2002, paraphrased for your enjoyment, with the numbers rounded.

Here's some well document studious back-up: 'Lowering the Drinking Age in New Zealand Increases Car Crashes Among Youth':[8]

> "The outcomes found in the New Zealand study are similar to . . . when the United States lowered their drinking ages in the early 1970s . . . showed a substantial increase in traffic crashes involving young people. Today, all 50 states in the United States have a minimum 21 drinking age."[9]
> Robert B. Voas: "There is no traffic safety policy with more evidence for its effectiveness than minimum legal drinking age laws. Traffic crashes by young drivers were declining in New Zealand when that country [Jenny Shipley] decided to lower its drinking age. Thereafter, the overall road toll for those drivers rose dramatically. Most remarkable was the trickle-down effect that was seen in the 15–17-year-olds. Clearly, they're getting alcohol from older friends."[10]

"According to the New Zealand study, lowering the drinking age increases car crashes among youth. Comparing the four years before and after the drinking age was lowered (1995–2004) traffic crashes and injuries increased:

> 51% for 18–19 year old females, 24% for 15–17 year old females, 12% for 18–19 year old males, 14% among 15–17 year old males; 400 serious injuries; 12 deaths each year among 15–19 year olds could be prevented if New Zealand raised the [Jenny Shipley] minimum legal drinking age from 18 back to 20."[11]
> "The level of spirits has increased sharply since [the study began in] 1995. Spirit consumption was reasonably steady at 11 million ltr/year. By 2007 this rose to 66 million ltr/year due to the increased consumption of alcopops. Beer remained the favourite alcohol at 66 % (by volume), wine now accounts for 20 %, and the big mover has been spirits at 14 %."[12]
> "The increase for spirits is solely due to growth in alcopops."[13]

So Jenny Shipley, via your Alcopops profittering, you are responsible for 120 deaths and 4,000 serious injuries of 15–19 year olds making you the biggest murderer in New Zealand since the last international war (probably Vietnam).

Can you (ACC staff) show me that the profits Jenny Shipley received were not paid as bribes to the Auckland City Council in return for tickets issued to fund her bribing the media regarding Jenny Shipley's involvement in methamphetamines, murder and mass murder (lowering the drinking age), and are you not a 'Common Purpose' lackey covering for murderers, drug dealers, paedophiles, child sex abusers and 'treason-in-a-suit'; and

Have you not been convinced that protecting these people is not honourable?; and

Is it not erroneous that these people are honourable?; and

Authorities stand in Dishonour

My letter was delivered to the Auckland City Council on 12 January 2009. By mid-March 2009 local press releases were reviving Vivien Leigh and citing how great she was; and it was 21 March 2009 before the response was received (NOTICE OF FINE).

This came as a 'NOTICE OF FINE' with an extra $30 Court costs attached, and is out of the 72 hour response time required under equity (10 days including postage), or the 28 day standard reponse time, and has moved into a 'breach of the Declaration of Helsinki (June 1964)'.

This unwarranted delay (illegal under the Declaration of Helsinki) came without an apology, so the matter with the Auckland City Council/ Auckland District Court is out of honour and out of time – no longer stuffing their pockets full of pre-allocated funds.

Is this matter not resolved other than the Indemnity Bond ($600.00)?

Authorities will fork out thousands on their PR, but won't cancel a ticket once:

1. It's established there was no reason for the Infringement Notice;
2. They are debt collecting to cover the PR costs to cover their politician's crimes;
   DRUG DEALING, PAEDOPHILIA & MURDER
3. They are not willing to save face and pay the Indemnity Bond;
4. They have provided no proof of the Infringement; and
5. Authorities appear incapable of apologising for their grave and ongoing errors.
   EVEN WHEN THEY ARE DIRECTLY INVOLVED IN THE MURDERS

Is it not true that authorities are fining those who expose the crimes of the criminal gangs in government?

Is it not true that these gangs have no name?; and/or various names?; and these include:

the CIA; the KGB; MI-6; Freemasons; The Three Murderers; the Feminists; the Lesbians; the Homosexuals; the Cross-Dressers; the S&M; the Paedophiles; and/or Common Purpose?

Authorities have all the pomp and ceremony, but by and large they are, standing or sitting in permanent dishonour, as the infringement ticket informations show.

No doubt the ACC legal team were working in conjunction with the Vivien Leigh PR Department, and three days after I wrote the above, the ACC legal team/ Vivien Leigh PR society decided not to prosecute me for $10,000.00.

Since that became too embarrassing – instead they added "$30 Court costs"; although

1. I was never invited to Court, and
2. I never had any of my questions answered; and
3. My accusations were accepted/denied; and
4. I was advised/threatened it would be "$10,000.00 and have a hearing"; but rather
5. The matter became $150.00 + $30.00 court costs, without being invited to have the matter heard?

I understand this is an automatic system that lacks any and all traces of common sense, as dictated by Common Purpose, is illustrated by s.21:

> "Indeed, the s.21 procedure was introduced to provide an automated system . . . the informant Ministry's computer discs then generate, through the District Court computer system . . . notice of fine. Nothing in that process can be characterised as a determination of an information by the District Court."[14]

Does this not mean that the entire system is automated?

Does this not mean that the entire system is lacks justice?

Is it not true that a computer generated ticket is not being judged by your peers?

Does this not mean that once a citizen is fingered by an illiterate foreigner then there is no clear pathway to justice?

Is it not true that a very black lower caste Indian who does not speak or write English adequately and does not have a camera pointing in both directions – is employed as a crime creator?

Does this not make the Auckland City Council a crime creation movement?

Is this not injust?

Is this not fascism?

Is this not Kafkaesque?

Does Helen Clark's PR agent – the bisexual paedophile Brian Edwards – not have a doctorate in Franz Kafka?

Are Franz Kafaka, Common Purpose, Traffic Tickets, Freemasons, and Respectable/ Honourable paedophiles not formulas for misery?

Is it not true that anyone who is a stumble-bum and has been fired out of at least 20 jobs, is now running a government department in New Zealand?

Is is not true that authors, public speakers and talkshow hosts are now noting that:

"New Zealand is a country where nothing works"; and

"New Zealand is a country where shit rises to the top on a daily basis"?

The dishonourable fee/ unconfirmed infringement notice is now $180.00 with the added threat that authorities may prevent me from flying overseas – "being stopped at any international airport" – and will add a further $100.00, 28 days after they wrote their letter, which was received four days late, then refers to this non-response and delay as "Save $100".

[14] Richardson J in Davies v MOT [1989] 3 NZLR 300; (1989) 5 CRNZ 371 (CA), p. 4; as cited in High Court Appeals 20 April 2009 – CRI-2008-404-379 & 380, Jurrian Kiewik, Associate, Simpson Grierson for Auckland City Council.

All of this, from the continual delays; to not acknowledging/ answering valid questions; to requesting one to name the accussed for them; to the mixed messages like 'save if pay'; the Court costs without a court hearing; the threats of a $10,000.00 fine; "being stopped at any international airport"; and positive and negative signals . . . is a breach of the Declaration of Helsinki and a crime under international law as perpetrated by the Auckland City Council and their staff.

> Straight out of MKULTRA training this is:
> "Stimulated stresses causing a breakdown of the individual and society using intense signals, long waiting periods, rotating positive and negative signals, and changing the subject's physical condition (threatening to remove their car at any time) . . . thus brainwashing the target victim into a perfect CIA MKULTRA JUDICIAL citizen."
> The effect of these harrassing ill-defined, illogical, illegal infringement notices for legal common sense acts is to turn citizens into passive aggressive amnesiac vegetables who regret giving up their freedoms in the name of democracy, and either lose their ability to question authority and challenge in the face of conflict, or turn into a perfect CIA killing machine.
> LIKE THE CIA AGENTS' DAME MARGARET BAZLEY & MAYOR JOHN BANKS

Invalid traffic infringement notices and their process are a source of untold misery of an expanding nature and an ongoing attempt by the governance to keep pushing, through depleting emetics, just short of civil war.

> What's worse is that this is a highwayman's tax backed up by the bludgeoning force of non-communicative authorities paying the wages of Police, Council and Court corruption with special reference to their drug trafficking, murder, paedophilia, beastiality, necrophilia, S&M use of prosititutes, theft, profiling and social engineering . . . turning good people into bad and targetting them as such.
> As such, the Auckland City Council traffic tickets and the process by which they are issued and re-issued are in breach of international law, the Declaration of Helsinki and its predecessor – the Code of Nuremburg.
> This is understandable given the fact that the Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a Rosicrucian CIA homosexual paedophile, incestuous from his father and by adoption, and supported by all the Freemasons in the land.

Invalid traffic infringement notices are being used by Common Purpose paedophiles, drug dealers, cross-dressers, prostitutes/ users of prostitutes, and swingers in the Auckland City Council to keep their citizens in continual fear.

This includes head of the ARC Gary Taylor filming his wife having sex with others because he liked it. It was only later that he realised he could use this for promotion into his current position.

All of this has now been going on for over six months, and I still have not got any answer to any of my simple requests, nor any explaination as to why the 'Auckland City Council/ Highwayman's-Common-Purpose/ misery-for-all/ Vivien Leigh/ bludgeon-the-white-male society' has not answered.

I call for a Commission of Inquiry into why the Auckland City Council disbanded its department that read Infringement Notice replies and replaced them with the District Court/Ministry's automatic computer generation system incorporating Common Purpose breaches of the Declaration of Helsinki.

This is illegal under international law and has been since August 1947 as the Nuremberg Code, and since June 1964 as the Declaration of Helsinki.

Is this not the same criminal dictatorship of Hitler and the highwaymen of old?

Is Helen Clark not the reincarnation of Adolf Hitler?

Is this not a bully's tax?

Is bullying not being outlawed with public campaigns in schools?

As Undersigned has told the truth all the way through, and Undersigned has received no response to any of the queries, questions proposed, and affirmations then stated, is the $600.00 Indemnity Bond not now due for the Auckland City Council to restore its honour? since the ACC has proven itself to be in dishonour!

Are the statements offered, not denied/ accepted by the Auckland City Council not now available for public consumption, and for confirmation by the Auckland City Council as CLEAR SUBSTANTIVE AND TRUE?

Did the HIGH COURT of Auckland not take these documents seriously enough to seal them?

Did the Auckland HIGH COURT Judge J Stevens not take these documents seriously enough to SEAL them at 3.45 pm on 20 April 2009 with the following minute:

[19] I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is not to be made available to be searched or inspected without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the sealed affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application.

Stevens J

Justice has been denied after lengthy delays loaded with positive and negative signals.

Does "I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is not to be made available to be searched or inspected without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the sealed affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application" not mean that the New Zealand courts have made it impossible for me to defend any of my cases?; and that I am a refugee in my own country? and that Justice has not only been delayed, it has been denied?; and that Does this not mean that the New Zealand courts have made it impossible for me to defend any of my cases below the High Court and/or the Court of Appeal?

Is this not a breach of international law, including basic human rights, and the Queen-given right and responsibility to yell the truth in public places as per the Hale case circa 1686, and anyone nominating themselves a Town Crier?

Have I not already done this in Vulcan Lane and outside the Auckland High Court on 11 November 2008?; and

Was this not lodged as an Affidavit in the Auckland District Court the same day?; and

Was a full transcription of the Court's transgressions not outlined in that affidavit?

Given that there are reasonable grounds for all actions on the part of Undersigned, would it not be prudent to abandon all cases against Joseph Gregory Hallett for now and in the future?

Would it not therefore be prudent to issue Undersigned, Joseph Gregory Hallett with the Keys to the City?

In order to prevent these documents spreading to courts in other cities, to be heard in front of other judges, would it not therefore be prudent to issue Undersigned, Joseph Gregory Hallett with the keys to all the cities of New Zealand?

In order to prevent these documents spreading to courts in other countries, to be heard in front of foreign courts and judges, who would then gain advantage over New Zealand (further advantage if they haven't already done so) would it not therefore be prudent to issue Undersigned, Joseph Gregory Hallett with keys to all cities?; and in all countries?

Would it not then be easier to issue Undersigned, Joseph Gregory Hallett with Diplomatic Immunity?

With delayed and denied justice, triple sealed by the High Court and therefore a refugee in my own country, is diplomatic immunity not the only honourable solution left to the courts? and governance of New Zealand? especially given the many and various assassination attempts by those departments, and the people running them?

Am I not due diplomatic immunity from the very courts that are supposed to serve and protect me?

Have the courts not become 'dis-service and attack' institution?

Do they no specialise in misery?

Are the Police not the anti-Police.

Are the Courts not anti-Justice?

Is your Justice system not referred to as "Just -Us"?

Is the job of government now to ensure there is no governance?

Is the government not anti-Governance?

Is this not anarchy?

Is government not anarchy?

Are the Courts not anarchists in suits and black silk?

Is it not true that the New Zealand Bar association stems from the International Bar

Association which stems from the American Bar Association and that, logically, New Zealand follows America in many matters and "America is now an horrendous fascist police state snitch culture" and the Auckland City Council and Police require owners of cars to identify/ snitch on the driver of the vehicle; and that

This is profiling, as anyone with more than 2 per cent Irish in them finds this to be an anathema; and that

This is reminiscent of Cattle Dogs (Catholics) running Ireland; where

Three (3) million Irish were either killed or emigrated, or died during emigration; and

Are not activities such as profiling, emigration, murder, and wantonly repeating horrendous historical acts of genoicide a matter for International attention.

In order to prevent these documents spreading to courts in other countries, to be heard in front of foreign courts and judges, who would then gain advantage over New Zealand, would it not therefore be prudent to issue Undersigned, Joseph Gregory Hallett with Diplomatic Immunity?

Is the alternative 'further embarrassment to the country' when Undersigned – a qualified professional – seeking refugee status from New Zealand – to another country
because the governance is so bad?

The grounds for refugee status are breaches of International Law actively carried out and targetted by THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council, both of which are run by the CIA as an MKULTRA DEEP SLEEP Experiment under OPERATIONS RESEARCH 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War' with both the POLICE and Auckland City actively involved in murder, targetted murder, covering for each other's murders and running Auckland City and NEW ZEALAND on the basis of 'misery just short of civil war'.

Is this not a statement worthy of quoting?

Do these CLEAR, SUBSTANTIVE, TRUE AND UNDENIABLE STATEMENTS as PUBLISHED in NEW ZEALAND, A BLACKMAILER'S GUIDE (in October 2007, December 2007, January 2008), and accepted by the Auckland City Council and THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE, and SEALED by the HIGH COURT of AUCKLAND on 20 April 2009, not include the following . . .

As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms:

(Notified 30 September 2008 and accepted by the Auckland City Council on 6 October 2008)

1. Anand Satyanand worked closely with New Zealand's worst ever rapist Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards (2003–05). Anand Satyanand was then nominated to the position of Governor-General by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute Helen Clark, Prime Minister (1999–2008);
2. THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE are rapists;
3. Jenny Shipley is the biggest killer in New Zealand since the Vietnam War and her daughter is an accessory to murder and jailed for it;
4. The King of New Zealand shagged the Queen Mother. That is Ernie Davis sexually penetrated Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon on the billiard table of the Northern Club from the first to the fourth of February 1958;
5. The Maidment Theatre is to be renamed the Vivien Leigh Theatre . . .

As of 4 December 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms:

(Notified 24 November 2008 and accepted by the Auckland City Council on 4 December 2008)

6. The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a homosexual and a paedophile who protects paedophiles in THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council;
7. The Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council Mike Lee was married to the child prostitute Auckland City Councillor Sandra née Barber/Vercoe Lee;
8. Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with the KGB St Petersburg prostitute Helen Clark;
9. Gary Taylor filmed his wife having sex with Labour Party members and used this footage for leverage to place himself in the position of running Auckland to the detriment of the city;
10. Indians are collecting the wages of illiterate Untouchables and Outcastes and are working the Indian caste system for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin for the benefit of the Indian Anand 'the Brown Humpty Dumpty' Satyanand who supplies and protects the paedophilia of Jonathan Hunt who pays 12-year-old Indian boys for sex, as funded by Helen Clark with taxpayers money;
11. Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders and report directly to the Governor-General who is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide;
12. The Auckland City Council works closely with the Auckland Police. Both are accessories to attempted murders of the Undersigned Joseph Gregory Hallett ("Greg Hallett") and this can now be publicly stated . . .

As of 22 January 2009, the Auckland City Council confirms:

(Notified 12 January 2009 and accepted by the Auckland City Council on 22 January 2009)

15. Not every Auckland City Council worker can speak and write English to a standard where they can answer their own Infringement Notice responses, especially the Untouchables and the Outcastes;
16. There are paedophiles in THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council, and Police and Council staff are employed (job requirement) as paedophile minders;
17. THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council are issuing infringement notices (tickets) to fund an ongoing PR campaign to cover the shame of New Zealand politicians, on a quota system, as brought about by the blackmailed Prime Minister Jenny Shipley – mother of an accessory to murder;
18. Dame Margaret Bazley is a CIA mass murderer and sex addict who has sex with mental patients, if they are well hung, and/or traffic/police officers seeking promotion. She established the methods of THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and Auckland City Council highwayman extortion as Secretary for Transport (1988–93) and has tweeked most government departments in this direction – in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki.

Such statements have been lodged in the Auckland District Court since 17 June 2008, as stamped as received 'Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence', CRN 02004076568, CRN 06004140594, CRN 07004400778, CRN07004918708 as a 32-page AFFIDAVIT OF Joseph Gregory Hallett, subtitled "HOW THE CIA RUNS THE NEW ZEALAND JUDICIARY AS AN MKULTRA PSY-OPS".

These were then backed up with a 400-page affidavit on 7 November 2008 and by this High Court 860-page affidavit at 11 am on 20 April 2009, before the 2.15 pm hearing.

Undersigned won all the cases and this 860-page Affidavit and Attachments was then SEALED in the HIGH COURT of AUCKLAND only to be released by the signatures of the two lawyers present – Mr Dale Duffy of Meredith Connell for THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE; and Mr Jurrian W. Kiewik of Simpson Grierson for the AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL, AND A HIGH COURT JUDGE, with the right to take it to the COURT OF APPEAL.

This is the first productive thing to happen.
Everything else has been counter productive.

Dame Margaret Bazley was the principal of three in charge of the decision on whether or not to have Auckland as a Super City, the largest in Australasia, as decided on 31 March 2009.

Dame Margaret Bazley is also in charge of pre-selecting an Executive Mayor of which the choice is any one of the three cross-dressing paedophiles – John Banks, Bob Harvey, or Paul Holmes.

Does New Zealand's biggest drug user Paul Holmes not have NZ$2 million in backing?

Do Paul Holmes' backers, the public and the Auckland City Council staff know that this Executive Mayor contender had sex with his mother, removed his father from the family, has four drug dealers, trained his stepdaughter as a crackwhore from 14, supplied her for sex with his friend Bob Jones (CIA) in exchange for methamphetamines (P), went to Cuba with Sir Bob Jones for a sex tour with minors, then married he and his wife's prostitute – Deborah Hamilton?

Do Paul Holmes' backers, the public and the Auckland City Council staff know that he is the "Washington Programmer" whose role it is to ensure that the truth is never told?

Is it not true that the Auckland Super City scheme is a CIA take over of Auckland?

Is it not true that this will increase costs?

Is it not true that this will increase traffic infringement notices and tickets?

Is it not true that this will make the Auckland City Council and Police more hardlined?

Is it not true that this is the opposite of what the citizens and ratepayers want?

Is this not a formula for fascism?

Is New Zealand not a fascist country fronting as a socialist country?

Is it not true that this has direct influence on my traffic infringement notices given that I had legitimate reason to be in the lefthand Bus Lane and had the parking ticket, and have presented evidence of both of these to the Auckland City Council?

Is it not true that changing the rules of a fine from 'not having a parking receipt' to 'failing to display a parking receipt' and then manufacturing the parking receipt from extremely lightweight paper so that it blows away in the slightest wind, is CRIME CREATION by the Auckland City Council?

Is it not true that designating a Bus Lane and then the Auckland City Council buses not using that Bus Lane, shows a lack of common sense by the Auckland City Council?; and

Is it not part of the Common Purpose agenda to remove common sense?; and

Are CIA slappers and paedophiles like Dame Margaret Bazley and John Banks not part of Common Purpose?; and

Is this common sense?; or Common Purpose?

Is it not true that these tickets are a bitchslap for exposing the Mayor of Auckland John Banks as a paedophile, a drug trafficker, and a CIA agent?

Is it not true that these tickets are a bitchslap for exposing the Dame Margaret Bazley as a slapper, contract killer of at least 2,000, and CIA agent?

Are these tickets then not an attempt by the CIA to enforce the Common Purpose paedophile movement to the detriment of common sense?

Is it not true that paeodphilia is illegal?

Is it not true that child sex abuse is illegal?

Is it not true that the following "respectable" and "Honourable" people are paedophiles and/or child sex abusers:

Mayor of Auckland John Banks; Husband of the Chief Justice, Hugh Fletcher; Husband of ex-Prime Minister Helen Clark, Peter Davis; Husband of Judge Coral Shaw, Peter Shaw; PR agent to Helen Clark, Brian Edwards; Sir Bob Jones; Sir Ron Brierley; Sir Roger Douglas; David McNee whose murder was covered up by Chief Justice Sian Elias, Helen Clark and Judge Coral Shaw; Jonathan Hunt who was promoted from Speaker of the House to High Commissioner of Britain after US Customs exposed him as a paedophile; and Takapuna Police District Commander Taffy Walsh who was jailed for having sex with his own 8 and 10 year old granddaughters in his executive toilet?.

Is it not true that the word "respectable" means 'paeodphile minder'?

Is it not true that the style "Honourable" means 'long-term paeodphile minder'?

Is it not true that no one who has exposed a paedophile or a child sex abuser has ever been considered respectable?

Is it not true that these unnecessary traffic infringement notices are being used to prevent me from charging Peter Williams QC with slavery?

Does this not make the Auckland City Council an accessory to slavery?

Is this not in breach of many international laws, in particular 'Involuntary Servitude'?

The Ministry of Justice ignores Mayor John Banks paedophilia and makes threats
The Ministry of Justice in Auckland phoned at 10.15 am on Wednesday 25 March 2009: "Josef Hore'let. Nella . . . 'Nalita I'mtheonlyonehere' . . . of the Auckland District Court. I'm just making you aware there is another fine on the system and we can take your car at any time, arrest you at any time and take your property at any time . . . This is a fine and cannot be disputed."

Greg Hallett: "Mayor John Banks is a paedophile. This has been published in a book. I'm getting vindictive traffic tickets for exposing the Mayor John Banks as a paedophile."

Nella I'mtheonlyonehere: "John Bank's paedophilia is not our issue".

Greg Hallett: "What! I just told you your boss was a paedophile."

Nella I'mtheonlyonehere: "[Nothing]."

Greg Hallett: "Well here's my issue. You're allowed to turn left from a bus lane. I've got receipts to show I had business there. I had a parking receipt, but they're too light and blow off in the wind. Copies of these were presented to you . . . The Auckland City Council issues the ticket and then decides whether or not they will accept the reason offered, and when they don't, they send it to the District Court and add $30 without prior notification of non-acceptance of the reason given. The Auckland City Council is acting as judge and jury."

Nella I'mtheonlyonehere: "You could fill in a Form 57 to apply to have it taken back to the Auckland City Council . . ."

Greg Hallett: "Where they would act as judge and jury and decide whether or not they would 'no longer pursue it', or it would go back to the Auckland District Court for further collection. This makes the Auckland City Council their own court. You're acting in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki. Can you put me through to your superior [10.25 am].

Nella I'mtheonlyonehere: "I'll put you through to the team leader Sydney Bird".

Team Leader Sydney Bird: "Sid . . . We obviously have to look at your profile".

Greg Hallett: "[As above and] Isn't profiling illegal, from the end of the Cold War on? You're acting in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki."

Team Leader Sydney Bird: "[pause, hung up, not even a good bye or return call, 10.33 am.]"

The Ministry of Justice Head Office in Wellington then phoned two days later at 10.11 am on Friday 27 March 2009.

Sarah I'mtheonlyonehere: "You have another traffic ticket – the same one".

Greg Hallett: "I mentioned to the Ministry of Justice in Auckland that the Auckland Mayor John Banks is a paedophile, and they and you are in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki."

Sarah I'mtheonlyonehere: "The only people who can withdraw the ticket are the ACC. I will put this on hold until the end of April . . . the 30th of April."

Greg Hallett: "I want this ticket heard with the others on 20 April".

Sarah I'mtheonlyonehere: "Fill in the form 57 for it. The Deputy Registrar at the Auckland District Court should know."

The Auckland City Council/ Just-Us/ Injustice Department have now spent more money and resources collecting and informing than they're worth.

This makes it a 'fear-and-breach' exercise where the government boiler-plates (pay now or else 1, 2, and/or 3), hobbles (removal of car) and blacklists (one challenged ticket attracts more) in an attempt to create the perfect MKULTRA CIA contract killer – a lot like Dame Margaret Bazley who dictated the system to the police she had sex with, in exchange for their promotion to enforce her rules.

So New Zealand traffic tickets look a lot like Dame Margaret Bazley's fanny – it takes a lot of punishment but always returns to form.

Author: "FUCK! I'd hate to break that seal."

Gavin, Ministry of Justice, Wellington, 11.40 am, 29 April 2009: "I've been here for a year and never seen a file sealed . . . I do apologise for it taking so long to be dealt with."

> All of these matters should be established as CLEAR, SUBSTANTIVE AND TRUE upon a full hearing with a court reader, reading out this entire document, which will be filmed for DVD sale and/or display on YouTube, along with this accompanying document with the Judge making summary judgements on each point . . . and anything less is a breach of justice.

THIS IS A FORMAL REQUEST FOR DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY.

May I remind you that one hundred million New Zealand dollars (NZ$100,000,000.00) was claimed in the HIGH COURT on 20 April 2009 and this claim still stands.

PM Helen Clark with the MP for Auckland Judith Tizard at Cable Bay on Waiheke Island.

Judith Tizard was Helen Clark's jilted lover prior to Helen's cover marriage to the homosexual child sex abuser and former president of the Auckland University Gay Society, Peter Davis, two weeks before Helen entered politics. The nutty-as-a-fat-fuck Judith appears to be in fanny ecstasy.

Officer 027
Auckland City Council
Private Bag 92516, Wellesley Street, Auckland; and Transport Division, Private Bag 92516, Wellesley Street, Auckland

Ref: Notice No: P7862215 received on windscreen at 9:55 PM 14/11/2008.

Officer 027,

Take notice that the Auckland City Council has been cited as an accessory to attempted murder, and by association, accessory to the murders that were carried out.

Under section 118(3) of the Land Transport Act 1998 Joseph Gregory Hallett is complying with your request.

Joseph Gregory Hallett swears to following:

1. The signs in question were not lit.
2. The signs in question are too high up to be lit by car lights, even by high beam.
3. There are no streetlights illuminating the signs.
4. There are no sign-lights illuminating the signs.
5. There was no way to see the signs.
6. The signs in question are flipped down 24 hours before required, as required by bylaw.
7. There is no way of telling whether the signs are currently valid or not.
8. There is no way of telling whether the signs would be enforced.
9. Since the concerts that they refer to only go on for 4 hours, the signs are invalid 24 out of 28 hours.
10. The signs are invalid for 85 per cent of the time that they are up.
11. There was no sign saying "concert in progress".
12. There was no sign saying "concert in progress" to show that the sign would be enforced.
13. No taxis were using the space at the time the "vehicle" was parked.
14. No taxis showed that the area was a taxi stand.
15. Officer 027 was not parked to prevent an infringement.
16. Officer 027 could easily have parked to prevent an infringement.
17. Officer 027 could warn incoming drivers as to the unlit infringement.
18. Officer 027 was stationed in a hidden car in order to gain pecuniary advantage.
19. This is not a service, but an unnecessary tax. This is an employment scheme for corrupt foreigners. This is contrary to a just and equitable society.
20. I suspect Officer 027 drove his car into a darkened hiding place and issued traffic tickets once the target "vehicle" was parked, in the darkened area, where the signs could not be seen, where no taxis were parked, when the driver was absent, and without warning.

21. The INFRINGEMENT NOTICE reads: "Offence: PARKED IN A VEHICLE NOT BEING A TAXI IN AN AREA MARKED OUT AS A TAXI STAND".
22. Please explain and define all terms and references without using any other references.
    a. Please define the term "Taxi" to a parked "vehicle" with no person inside.
    b. Please define how a "vehicle" can be a "taxi".
    c. Please define the term "Taxi Stand" to a parked "vehicle" with no person "inside".
    d. Please define how a "vehicle" can have a person inside.
    e. Please define the terms of lighting required for a "Taxi Stand".
    f. Please define the terms of lighting required for a temporary "Taxi Stand".
    g. Please define the terms of lighting for all Auckland City Council signs.
    h. Please define section 118 (1) of the Land Transport Act 1998.
    i. Please define the Land Transport (Road User) Rule 2004 part 2.3(1).
    j. Please illustrate the term "vehicle" with four (4) wheels under statute. It is my understanding that none exists.
23. Registration EGP253 has at all material times four wheels.
24. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
    "Please show that the October, November and December 2007 publication of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, which illustrates that the Mayor of Auckland, John Banks, was a paedophile (p. 151), the Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council, Mike Lee, was married to the child prostitute Sandra née Vercoe Lee (p. 19) and Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark (p. 19), that the child prostitute Sandra Lee was an Auckland City Councillor (p. 19), and Gary Taylor who runs Auckland City filmed his wife having sex with other Labour Party members (p. 168)" . . . was not an influence on not lighting the signs for which you have placed an infringement notice.
25. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for two months (by 24 November 2008) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council confirms:
    The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile.

    The Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council Mike Lee was married to a child prostitute.

    Auckland City Councillor Sandra née Vercoe Lee was a child prostitute.

    Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark.

    Gary Taylor who runs Auckland City filmed his wife having sex with Labour Party members.
26. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
    "Please provide evidence that Indians are not collecting the wages of Pariah, Harijans, Untouchables, or Outcastes, and/or are working the Indian caste system in New Zealand for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin."

27. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for two months (by 24 November 2008) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council confirms:
    Indians are collecting the wages of Pariah, Harijans, Untouchables, and Outcastes, and are working the Indian caste system in New Zealand for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin.

28. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
    "I still have not had a response from the Auckland City Council where I lodged a NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL in the Auckland District Court on the 2 July 2008 (C.R.I. 2006-004-021-217) that Prime Minister Helen Clark is a Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute who tried to murder Joseph Gregory Hallett on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, and 14–22 May 2004; and where, to all intents and purposes, the Auckland City Council acted as an accomplice to a breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – that is, attempted murder, followed by fines to pay for the murder attempt. Please clarify the Auckland City Council's involvement in these murder attempts/traffic tickets within 7 days."

29. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for three months (by 2 October 2008 [and now by 24 November 2008, four months]) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council is accessory to murder and that this matter should be addressed publicly.

30. The Auckland City Council is accessory to attempted murder.

31. It can now be publicly stated that the Auckland City Council is an accessory to attempted murder.

32. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
    "Could you please confirm or deny, in full readable sentence, that the Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders and who report directly to the Governor-General, who is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide, and in collusion with this paedophile arrangement, the Mayor of Auckland, is, once again, the paedophile John Banks, who was, formerly the Minister of Police, who protected paedophiles in the police and/or the Auckland City Council."

33. The Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders.

34. The Justice of the Peace report directly to the Governor-General.

35. The Governor-General is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide.

36. The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile who protects paedophiles in the police and the Auckland City Council.

37. The Auckland City Council works closely with the Auckland Police.

38. Could you please confirm/deny that the Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist and that he worked closely with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand (from 2003) who is now the Governor-General, as nominated by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute, Prime Minister Helen Clark. Failure to respond within 7 days will be taken as confirmation by the Auckland City Council, the above, and that the Police are rapists.

39. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist.

40. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that New Zealand's worst ever rapist Clint Rickards worked closely with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand who is now the Governor-General.

41. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms Anand Satyanand was nominated to the position of Governor-General by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute Helen Clark, ex-Prime Minister.

42. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that the Police are rapists.

43. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:

    "Your complete reply to all matters raised is required within 7 days, otherwise it will be taken that T7609439 has no validity and has no infringement fee attached, and that all other statements made in this letter are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond."

44. Joseph Gregory Hallett a.k.a. Prince of New Spain is hereby materially due, from the complicity and admitted guilt of the Auckland City Council, a sum from the Auckland City Council, for the Auckland City Council's accessory to the attempted murder of Joseph Gregory Hallett.

45. Notice No: P7862215 has no validity and all other statements made in the letter from the Prince of New Spain dated 24 November 2008 are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 and 29 September 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond.

46. Failure to respond occurred on 6 October 2008.

47. Joseph Gregory Hallett a.k.a. Prince of New Spain is hereby materially due from the complicity and admitted guilt of the Auckland City Council, a sum due for the Auckland City Council's accessory to the attempted murder of Joseph Gregory Hallett.

No liability is accepted or considered until all of these matters have been explained and addressed.

Ref: INFRINGEMENT NOTICE No: P6784324 received on windscreen at 5:07 PM 11/11/2008.

Officer 117,

I spoke with Tere at the Auckland City Council at 12.38 pm today and she confirmed that this reply can be lodged by hand at 1 Greys Ave, Auckland City by 5 pm, and also noted the mix up with not receiving this on 24 November 2008, as was the reply to Notice Number P7862215.

I apologise for any part I may have played in this letter not getting to you on 24th November 2008. On my behalf it was intended to be delivered on the same day as reply to Notice Number P7862215 in which Joseph Gregory Hallett received a reply on 16 December 2008 : "I am writing to advise that the above infringement notice has been cancelled. Payment is not required . . . Yours sincerely Talita van Sittert Infringement review advisor | Infringement review services | Transport | Auckland City Council" ; and that

Undersigned has not been presented with any evidence to the contrary.

Further to a copy of the parking receipt attached for High Street from Parking Meter ACC_6274-NZ and chsglobal/wwwchsglobal.com, I was reading out in the style of a Town Crier as was, and is, my responsibility to read out the truth under the Monarch of Great Britain, Queen Elizabeth-the-Second, who presides over the High Court, and therefore holds sway over the Queen in Right of New Zealand, MS. ROSEMARY BANKS, who's jurisdiction is over the District Court, under whose rules the Auckland City Council's Infringement Notice is issued as a debt management agent for a US$150 million debt at 9.875 per cent due for final payment on 15 January 2011 (See attached) ; and afterwhich

Undersigned contends that Traffic Infringement Notices will not longer have to fund this debt, and will thereafter primarily contribute to the cost of the Domestic Purposes Benefit ("DPB"). In Anno Domini 2000 the cost of the DPB was NZ$1.5 billion and this was, more or less, exactly matched by the revenue from District Court fines ; and that

Undersigned further states that this is more of a connection than a coincidence ; and that

Undersigned requests the Auckland City Council further investigate the above matter and report their findings back to Undersigned before any further payment requests ; and that

Undersigned further requires the Auckland City Council to investigate the connection between this US$150 million debt from the United Nations/International Monetary Fund and chsglobal/www.chsglobal.com and report their findings back to Undersigned before any further payment requests ; and that

Undersigned further states as a matter of 'more than coincidence' that at the time the ticket was issued, Undersigned was reading out in the style of a Town Crier, the clear and substantive and therefore true document lodged in the Auckland District Court at 4.30 pm on 11 November 2008 (see attached) between Joseph Gregory : Hallett and NEW ZEALAND POLICE and Auckland City Council and Helen Elizabeth Clark citing : "I have been the subject of numerous murder attempts, including, but not limited to those by Helen Elizabeth Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand." (See Affidavit and Exhibit 'A' attached) ; and that

Undersigned lodged a video of this on YouTube ; and that

Undersigned finds it curiously interesting that the Auckland City Council should 'manufacture' a Parking Infringement, especially the "End Time", at the precise time that Undersigned was fulfilling his duties under the High Court Queen, only to be undermined by the District Court Queen, of which the co-accused Auckland City Council was debt collecting for.

It is therefore requested that the Auckland City Council cancel INFRINGEMENT NOTICE No: P6784324.

No liability is accepted or considered until all of these matters have been explained and addressed.

Yours sincerely,

Officer 117,

Take notice that the Auckland City Council has been cited as an accessory to attempted murder, and by association, accessory to the murders that were carried out.

Under section 118(3) of the Land Transport Act 1998 Joseph Gregory Hallett is complying with your request.

Joseph Gregory Hallett swears to following:

1. The attached PARKING RECEIPT was inside the "vehicle" at the time.
2. PARKING RECEIPTs are made from lightweight plasticized paper that blows off the dashboard when the door is closed, or there is a gust of wind.
3. PARKING RECEIPTs are made from lightweight plasticized paper that even blow out of the ticket dispenser in a gust of wind.
4. I approached Officer 117 several metres up High Street with that attached PARKING RECEIPT in hand.
5. Officer 117 then confirmed the following:
    a. "Just send in the INFRINGEMENT NOTICE along with the PARKING RECEIPT along with a short letter, within the next 28 days, and the Auckland City Council will let you off."
6. I then asked Officer 117: "How can the ticket read "End Time: 05.16 PM", when it is now only 5.15 PM now?"
    a. Officer 117 replied: "We just make up the end time".
7. Officer 117 manufactured the "End Time" for pecuniary advantage.
8. Some or all Auckland Council Officers manufacture the "End Time"'s of INFRINGEMENT NOTICES.
9. This is not a service, but an unnecessary tax. This is an employment scheme for corrupt foreigners. This is contrary to a just and equitable society.
10. The INFRINGEMENT NOTICE reads: "Offence: PARKED VEHICLE IN PAY &DISPLAY AREA&FAILED TO DISPLAY PARKING RECEIPT SHOWING FEE PAYABLE PAID FOR TIME VEHICLE PARKED IN AREA"
11. This is not English. There is no such word as "&DISPLAY" or "AREA&FAILED".
12. I take these to mean "AD I PLAY" and "ARE AA FAILED".
13. Please explain and define all terms and references without using any other references.
    a. Please define the term "vehicle".

   b. Please define section 118 (1) of the Land Transport Act 1998.
   c. Please define the Land Transport (Road User) Rule 2004 part 2.3(1).
   d. Please illustrate the term "vehicle" with four (4) wheels under statute. It is my understanding that none exists.

14. Registration EGP253 has at all material times four wheels.

15. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
"Please show that the October, November and December 2007 publication of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, which illustrates that the Mayor of Auckland, John Banks, was a paedophile (p. 151), the Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council, Mike Lee, was married to the child prostitute Sandra née Vercoe Lee (p. 19) and Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark (p. 19), that the child prostitute Sandra Lee was an Auckland City Councillor (p. 19), and Gary Taylor who runs Auckland City filmed his wife having sex with other Labour Party members (p. 168)" . . . was not an influence on advancing the end time of the ticket into fiction.

16. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for two months (by 24 November 2008) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council confirms:
The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile.

The Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council Mike Lee was married to a child prostitute.

Auckland City Councillor Sandra née Vercoe Lee was a child prostitute.

Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark.

Gary Taylor who runs Auckland City filmed his wife having sex with Labour Party members.

17. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
"Please provide evidence that Indians are not collecting the wages of Pariah, Harijans, Untouchables, or Outcastes, and/or are working the Indian caste system in New Zealand for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin."

18. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for two months (by 24 November 2008) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council confirms:
Indians are collecting the wages of Pariah, Harijans, Untouchables, and Outcastes, and are working the Indian caste system in New Zealand for the benefit of Sudras, Vaisyas, Kshatriya and/or Brahmin.

19. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
"I still have not had a response from the Auckland City Council where I lodged a NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL in the Auckland District Court on the 2 July 2008 (C.R.I. 2006-004-021-217) that Prime Minister Helen Clark is a Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute who tried to murder Joseph Gregory Hallett on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, and 14–22 May 2004; and where, to all intents and purposes, the Auckland City Council acted as an accomplice to a breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – that is, attempted murder, followed by fines to pay for the murder attempt. Please clarify the Auckland City Council's involvement in these murder attempts/traffic tickets within 7 days."

20. I take it that the Auckland City Council's failure to respond for three months (by 2 October 2008 [and now by 24 November 2008, four months]) is confirmation that the Auckland City Council is accessory to murder and that this matter should be addressed publicly.

21. The Auckland City Council is accessory to attempted murder.

22. It can now be publicly stated that the Auckland City Council is an accessory to attempted murder.

23. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:
"Could you please confirm or deny, in full readable sentence, that the Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders and who report directly to the Governor-General, who is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide, and in collusion with this paedophile arrangement, the Mayor of Auckland, is, once again, the paedophile John Banks, who was, formerly the Minister of Police, who protected paedophiles in the police and/or the Auckland City Council."

24. The Justice of the Peace (JP's) are the area paedophile minders.

25. The Justice of the Peace report directly to the Governor-General.

26. The Governor-General is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide.

27. The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile who protects paedophiles in the police and the Auckland City Council.

28. The Auckland City Council works closely with the Auckland Police.

29. Could you please confirm/deny that the Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist and that he worked closely with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand (from 2003) who is now the Governor-General, as nominated by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute, Prime Minister Helen Clark. Failure to respond within 7 days will be taken as confirmation by the Auckland City Council, the above, and that the Police are rapists.

30. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist.

31. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that New Zealand's worst ever rapist Clint Rickards worked closely with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand who is now the Governor-General.

33. As of 6 October 2008, the Auckland City Council confirms that the Police are rapists.

34. As requested in a letter dated 29 September 2008 to Bus lane enforcement officer 233 of the Auckland City Council, Ref: T7609439:

"Your complete reply to all matters raised is required within 7 days, otherwise it will be taken that T7609439 has no validity and has no infringement fee attached, and that all other statements made in this letter are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond."

35. Joseph Gregory Hallett a.k.a. Prince of New Spain is hereby materially due, from the complicity and admitted guilt of the Auckland City Council, a sum from the Auckland City Council, for the Auckland City Council's accessory to the attempted murder of Joseph Gregory Hallett.
36. Notice No: P6784324 has no validity and all other statements made in the letter from the Prince of New Spain dated 24 November 2008 are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008 and 29 September 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond.
37. Failure to respond occurred on 6 October 2008.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE PLAINTIFF Joseph-Gregory : Hallett IN SUPPORT OF FALSE ALLEGATIONS JOINTLY AND SEVERALLY PRESENTED BY DEFENDANTS AS EARLIER CLAIMED.

I, Joseph-Gregory : Hallett of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, non-military, swear:

1. I am of age of majority, competent to testify as required, an author and an architect.
2. I have been the subject of numerous murder attempts, including, but not limited to those by Helen Elizabeth Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand.
3. These are as outlined in Exhibits "A", "B", and "C".
4. The contents of Exhibit "A" as per the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, Public Act No. 109, s4 (a) (b) applies.

SWORN at Auckland ....

This Eleventh day of November 2008

Before me F M [illegible]llan
Deputy Registrar ....
(A ~~Solicitor of the High Court of New Zealand~~)

Exhibit "A"

Hear yea… hear yea…. hear yea.
Greetings and peace to all whom this presentment shall come.

Let it be known by this open public declaration and notice that on Armistice Day, the eleventh day of November 2008, as mainstream media do not ensure the public remain informed, this document is required to be read out loud, in public, in the style of a Town Crier; therefore

By this sincere public declaration, all attempts shall be made to ensure this proclamation is not withheld and is also widely available at www.greghallett.com and on YouTube, under "Helen Clark | murders | year and a day rule | New Zealand".

The period of "a year and a day" was considered a sufficient and convenient period to represent a significant amount of time. Its use was both generally and specially to define a 'permanence',[i] and to provide 'clarity'.[ii]

Thus; if something was in place for at least a year and a day, it is 'considered permanently and clearly so'.

The period of a year and a day is a well-established and enshrined principle of Westminster Law, widely recognised under the principles of common law legal systems, particularly those that trace their legal heritage back to Britain. This includes: America, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Over time, common law has been refined by judges as a legal system developed through decisions of their courts and tribunals. Common law uses previous decisions to influence current cases, and binds future decisions.

The only law that overrides common laws are the Laws of God and nature, and the rules and principles of equity. Where there is no common law, judges have an obligation to make equitable law, thus creating honourable precedent.

If a similar dispute has been resolved in the past, the court is duty bound to follow the reasoning used in that prior decision. This principle is known as; stare decisis – the principle that 'similar cases should be decided according to consistent principled rules to reach similar results'.

This equitably lies at the heart of all common law systems, and similar principles include a 'life sentence' for murder, and a 'prolonged sentence' for treason.

The 'Year and a Day' Rule also applies to murders carried out by, or involving politicians, as does the publication of these murders.

Death for treason was repealed and replaced with a jail term by Helen Clark's peers, namely Geoffrey Palmer in 1986. Therefore, murder and treason, more rightly so, should include a life sentence and a jail term; similarly,

'Should attempted murder not include, at minimum, a significant jail term?'

Historically, and even in recent times, leaders who have murdered have then been beheaded, hung, drawn and quartered, or executed. King Charles I, Mussolini, the Nuremberg Trials, and Nicolae & Elena Ceausescu are case in point.

Since Helen Clark as responsible Prime Minister, in the last election has been proven by overwhelming majority, ruled with similar despotment as the aforementioned, notwithstanding greater socialistic excesses and sexual deviancy, she too, should not be exempt from trial, life sentence, execution, or the equivalent.

The published and unrefuted claims regarding Helen Clark's murderous and treasonous affairs, should equally and rightfully so, have the year and a day rule apply to them.

Helen Clark's excesses included; the continued abrogation of the death penalty for treason, which was immediately followed by numerous treasonous acts by her and her Labour Party peers.

If the court(s) find the claims of murder against Helen Clark fundamentally distinct and separate from all previous murder and treason cases, it will decide as a "matter of first impression." Thereafter, this 'new decision' would set a precedent binding all future New Zealand court sittings under the principle of stare decisis.

If not, would this not show a set of separate rules for 'us' and 'them'?

Would this not be an extension of sexism, separatism, idealism, or other form of inequity, and could this not be deemed as an 'authoritarian murderous-elite'?

Would the court's jurisdiction throughout New Zealand then not have to treat all murderers the same way they treat Helen Clark – with a golden handshake?

In order to apply the common law 'year and a day rule' to the murders authorised by Helen Clark, the interpretation of the rule reads as follows:

"The period of a year and a day has been applied to published charges of murder against Helen Clark, the most senior public figure with many aides and associates, remaining fully informed, and without excuse.

"Under the (common) law, the notion that Helen Clark is a murderer is now enshrined in permanent clarity and is clearly permanent – her victims remaining indefinitely unchanged in their perpetual existence for an indefinite duration in the same state and place in the permanence of nature – and the public, with clear perception and lucidity of thought or style, free from obscurity, without ambiguity or obfuscation, and in all manner easy to understand, comprehend and clearly express, with brightness, splendour and crystal clarity, that Helen Clark shall hereby be pronounced a murderer."

When the short Act of Parliament abolishing the 'year and a day rule' was given Royal Assent on 17 June 1996[iii], it 'only removed the conclusive presumption that death was not murder[iv] if it occurred more than a year and a day since the act or omission that caused it'[v]. It did not remove the clear and permanent fact that the murder had occurred and the victim as still deceased.

The precise scope of the year and a day rule may have been unclear, however it was clarified in the House of Lords where Lord Dormond's second reading stated:

"It certainly applies to murder, manslaughter, infanticide, and aiding and abetting suicide. It may also apply to motoring offences in which death is an element: causing death by dangerous driving; causing death by reckless driving while under the influence of drink or drugs; and aggravated vehicle taking causing death."

The same 1996 Act has only three sections; section 1 simply states: "The rule known as the 'year and a day rule' is abolished for all purposes."

However "all purposes", by Privy Council decree, only applies to 'offences involving death by act or omission if more than a year and a day has elapsed'.

More fully the 1996 Act Section 1 states: The rule known as the 'year and a day rule' (that is, the rule that for the purposes of offences involving death and of suicide, an act or omission is conclusively presumed not to have caused a persons death if more than a year and a day elapsed before he died) is abolished for all purposes.

Section 2 allows for prosecution where a death occurs more than three years after an injury.

Section 3 applies where the accused was previously convicted of an offence connected with the death (e.g. grievous bodily harm) however requires the Attorney-General's consent before proceeding.

This now means, without reservation that:

Helen Clark can now be charged with murder by her own act or omission to deny the allegations, which occurred more than a year and a day ago; and

This can now be spoken about with clarity and permanence due to the publication of such, for more than a year and a day;[vi] as Publication is fully supported by the principles of the common law[vii] 'year and a day rule', and was not abolished in 1996 as affirmed by the Bill of Rights Act, 1990.

It is therefore, that I now, as the born-free living breathing man known as: Joseph-Gregory (Hallett) hereby charge the ousted Prime Minister; Helen Elizabeth Clark with the complicity, conspiracy and involvement to the murder and attempted murders, in part or in full, with causation or command, by deceit, willing accessory, or unimparted foreknowledge: of

1. Chris Beeby on 19 March 2000 (Christopher David Beeby);
2. Sir Peter Blake on 5 December 2001 (Peter James Blake);
3. Greg Hallett on 2 April 2002 (Joseph Gregory Hallett);
4. Greg Hallett on 23 August 2002;
5. David McNee on 20 July 2003;
6. Sir Peter Elworthy on 13 January 2004;
7. Michael King on 29 or 30 March 2004;
8. Greg Hallett on 14 to 22 May 2004;
9. David Lange on 13 August 2005 (David Russell Lange);

11. Greg Hallett in July 2006;

13. Greg Hallett on 27 July 2007;
14. Greg Hallett on 26 October 2007;
15. Greg Hallett on 17 to 27 March 2008; and of referred to in the within affidavit of Joseph -Gregory : Hallett

sworn at Auckland this eleventh day of November 2008

16. Taking a Standing Order Hit out on Greg Hallett on 3 June 2008;

as lodged in the AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT on the second day of July 2008 under a NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL (Summary Proceedings Act 1957), CRI 2006-004-021217 and CRI 2008-004-13851; where

I have not seen or been presented any material fact, genuine issue, or evidence, which does not demonstrate that Helen Elizabeth Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand as further charged, was not a "KGB agent, graduate of the St Petersburg Tavistock, and was not a former St Petersburg prostitute, and/or contract killer"; and that

Helen Clark is not "in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – attempting to kill a citizen, then fining them to fund the existing murder attempt, and/or the next murder attempt"; and that

The Declaration of Helsinki (1964) was not derived from the Code of Nuremberg (1947); and

I sincerely believe no evidence to the contrary exists.

Others also will accordingly be indictably charged in the near future.

The above is an exhibit sworn in an affidavit in the HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND on the eleventh day of November 2008.

According to the American Heritage Dictionary, Common Law is also: the doctrines implicit in those decisions and on customs and usages, and does not exclude codified written laws.

According to WordNet, Common law is also: a system of jurisprudence based on precedents and originated from the unwritten laws of England, then applied to the United States; and

According to the American Heritage New Dictionary of Cultural Literacy, Third Edition: Common Law is particularly stressed in the legal system of Britain,on which the legal system of the United States is based [and the New Zealand Bar is based on the International Bar, which is a subset of the American Bar.]

According to the Merriam-Webster Dictionary of Law, Common Law is: a body of law based on custom and general principles embodied in case law, that then serves as a precedent; is applied to situations not covered in tort; and allows particular remedies like damages and/or replevin (action to recover personal earmarked physical property unlawfully taken); and preserves the right of jury trial; and is the basis of United Stated federal law, and state law (except Louisiana) [and by Bar association, subset and dictatorship, is an integral part of New Zealand law].

Dear Mr Hallett

Our ref: P6784324 - Stationary Vehicle Offence – Registration no: EGP253

We refer to your letters dated 24 November 2008 and 30 December 2008.

We draw your attention to the offence attached to the above infringement notice. It is parked vehicle in a pay and display area and failing to display the parking receipt showing the fee payable.

We note that you claim that in fact you had paid the parking fee and that you have sent a copy of the parking receipt to us. However, the offence contains an element of failing to display the ticket in the vehicle. The enforcement officer noted that there was no parking receipt on display in your vehicle and accordingly issued you with an infringement notice.

We request that you pay your infringement fee of $40.00 by return.

Finally, we confirm our advice to you on 16 December that infringement notice P7862215 has been cancelled.

Yours faithfully

H. Hargraves.

What is so strange about this is that the ACC is confirming that I got off the 14 November 2008 Taxi Stand ticket where Mayor John Banks was named as a paedophile.
This was unnecessary on their part, but appreciated on mine.
The ACC have also accepted that I had a ticket, just that it blew away in the breeze as the car door closed.
So the ACC are really limiting themselves to a weak-footed formality.
They're going through their process while trying to remove themselves from their Mayor John Banks' strange sexuality.

My ref: Your letter dated 2 March 2009 and received 13 March 2009
Your ref: P6784324 - Stationary Vehicle Offence; and letters to ACC dated 24 November 2008 and 30 December 2008

HELEN HARGRAVES,

I apologise for any part I may have played in your letter getting to me 11 days after you dated it. I note that your envelopes are delivered with no date stamp, only "Permit No. 156594". Under section 118(3) of the Land Transport Act 1998 Joseph Gregory Hallett is complying with your request to "draw attention" to "and".

Take notice that the Auckland City Council ("ACC") has been cited as an accessory to attempted murder, and by association, accessory to the murders that were carried out.

Joseph Gregory Hallett swears to following:

1. Undersigned accepts that Helen Hargraves accepts on behalf of the Auckland City Council that the attached PARKING RECEIPT was inside the "vehicle" at the time.
2. That it blew off the dashboard in the wind.
3. That infringement officers just make up the ends times, including Officer 117 on 11 November 2008: "We just make up the end time", as cited on 24 November 2008.
4. That the infringement notice is not in English, does not use sentences, and does not make sense: "AD I PLAY" and "ARE AA FAILED".
5. That Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a paedophile who protects paedophiles in the police and the Auckland City Council; the Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council Mike Lee was married to a child prostitute; Auckland City Councillor Sandra née Barber/ Vercoe Lee was a child prostitute; Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark; Gary Taylor who runs Auckland City filmed his wife having sex with Labour Party members; the Auckland City Council is accessory to attempted murder and that this can now be publicly stated; Justice of the Peace ("JP") are the area paedophile minders; JPs report directly to the Governor-General ("G-G"); the G-G is the Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide; the Auckland City Council works closely with the Auckland Police; the Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards was New Zealand's worst ever rapist who worked closely with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand (from 2003) who is now the G-G, as nominated by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute [ex-] Prime Minister Helen Clark; and the Police are rapists.
6. The Auckland City Council failed to respond within 7 days. The ACC took 100 days to respond. Notice was given by Undersigned on 29/30 September 2008 and 24 November 2008. The Auckland City Council's reply was dated 2 March 2009 and received on Black 'Horse' Friday 13 March 2009.

7. With seven (7) days right of reply the Auckland City Council took 100 days to reply. This has been given, taken, accepted, and hereby acknowledged as passive acquiescence, acceptance by silence, tacit assent, cognovit affirmative, procuration/consent, and/or admission of guilt by the Auckland City Council, that all of the collective accusations in the opening paragraph and in point 5 herein are clear and substantive, true, and can be publicly stated with clean hands in equity as honourably prescribed and preordained by the Auckland City Council; as confirmed by Undersigned, and the Auckland City Council, in the letters dated:

   30 September 2008 (as backed up with an Indemnity Bond for $600.00); the ACC's letter dated 20 October 2008; letter dated 24 November 2008 which included an Affidavit Exibit "A" of Helen Clark's 15 murders and attempted murders as lodged in the Auckland District Court on 11 November 2008; the ACC's letter dated 16 December 2008; letter dated 30 December 2008; letter dated 12 January 2009, including account for $600 due by 15 January 2009; the ACC's letter dated 17 February 2009; and the ACC's letter dated 2 March 2009.
8. Labour's Dr. Michael Cullen, Minister of Finance (6 November 1999–19 Nov. 2008) and Deputy Prime Minister (2002–08) whose nicknames are 'Horse' and 'The Six Million Dollar Man' is a serial problem gambler, as long as it is other people's money he is gambling with.
9. For the 16.5 months from 1 July 2007 to 8/19 November 2008, Minister of Finance Dr. Michael Cullen borrowed NZ$6 million per day, then gambled and lost NZ$6 million per day, hence his nickname – 'The Six Million Dollar Man'.

   "The Government has confirmed it will cut contributions to the national superannuation fund, known as the Cullen fund . . . The [Labour] Government borrowed $50 million a week to make its contributions.
   "Prime Minister John Key: 'From July 2007 to January 2009, the Crown paid $3.4 billion into the fund, however all of that was lost'."[1]

The Sex Collectors, Attachment "B", p. 31, 2009:

"Finance Minister Michael Cullen was 'The Six Million Dollar Man'. He was losing NZ$6 million a day. He was gambling with money he didn't have. All the money was borrowed. This makes Labour's Finance Minister Dr Michael Cullen the biggest fraudster in New Zealand's history. It's almost de rigueur for the Labour Finance Minister to be a paedophile, only this one was British, and sent to New Zealand to destroy it. The British paedophile Dr Michael Cullen was always a double agent. Now he is one of the single biggest fuckwits in New Zealand's history – that greasy man-child."

10. Would the Auckland City Council please confirm that its issuing traffic tickets for 'purchased windblown undisplayed parking' and 'made of lightweight paper' is not for debt collection for the enormous gambling problem of the Minister of Finance Dr Michael Cullen – British paedophile.
11. I understand from your letters dated 16 December 2008 and 2 March 2009 that the Auckland City Council confirms all items summarised in Point 5, that: "John Banks is a paedophile who protects paedophiles in the police and the Auckland City Council, and in Parliament . . . the Governor-General was nominated by the murderer and St Petersburg prostitute [ex-] Prime Minister Helen Clark, and the Police are rapists."

---

[1] 'Government confirms cut to superannuation fund', TV3 News, 6:51 pm, 11 March 2009.

Dr Michael Cullen, 'Tall Horse'.

12. Can the Auckland City Council confirm that the Finance Minister Dr Michael Cullen (1999–2008) is not: British; is not a paedophile; does not have an enormous gambling problem; did not borrow $6 million a day and lose $6 million a day for 16 months; that this would not pay off five (5) average mortgages a day, and 150,000 mortgages over 16 months; but instead, 150,000 home owners now have negative equity.
13. Can the Auckland City Council confirm that the above is an outrageous unfounded comment and Dr Michael Cullen is not: a complete idiot; who was sent out to New Zealand to destroy it; and did not marry a primary school teacher in order to have sexual relations with her children; that she did not serially cuckold him; that Dr Michael Cullen's nickname is not 'Horse'; and that if you gave him viagra, he would not grow taller.
14. Can Helen Hargraves and/or the Auckland City Council confirm they are not: issuing traffic tickets and reminder notices to pay for the gambling problem of the British paedophile [Dark] 'Horse' – Labour's Minister of Finance Dr Michael Cullen's serial gambling of taxpayer's hard earned money, of which you, and your children, and your children's children are now victims.
15. Joseph Gregory Hallett a.k.a. Prince of New Spain is hereby materially due, from the complicity and admitted guilt of the Auckland City Council, a sum from the Auckland City Council, for the Auckland City Council's accessory to the attempted murder of Joseph Gregory Hallett.
16. Notice No: P6784324 has no validity and all other statements made in the letter from the Prince of New Spain dated 24 November 2008 are true, and all matters lodged between Joseph Gregory Hallett and the Auckland City Council on 2 July 2008, 29 September 2008, 7 November 2008 and 11 November 2008 are in the material favour of Joseph Gregory Hallett, and are to be compensated for accordingly, promptly, and within 72 hours from note of date of failure to respond.
17. Failure to respond occurred on 6 October 2008, 19 January 2009 and 24 February 2009 with $450 due (or $600 if the ACC fails to prove its claim); and again on 8 January 2009, confirmed by your 2 March 2009 letter. This places the Auckland City Council in debt to Joseph Gregory Hallett.
18. Joseph Gregory Hallett a.k.a. Prince of New Spain is hereby materially due from the complicity and admitted guilt of the Auckland City Council, a sum due for the Auckland City Council's accessory to the attempted murder of Joseph Gregory Hallett.

No liability is accepted or considered until all of these matters have been explained and addressed.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett

TICKET TO RIDE

Bernie Madoff, the CIA, Antarctica and the Auckland SuperCity

Bernard "Bernie" Lawrence Madoff (29 April 1938–) worked as a lifeguard and sprinkler installer, had US$5,000 to spare, and became a penny stock trader, then founded 'Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC' (BLMIS) in 1960 and became one of the pioneers of modern Wall Street. He was an investment adviser, one of five broker-dealers involved in developing NASDAQ, then became its non-executive chairman, with Madoff Securities becoming the largest market maker at NASDAQ.

Madoff bypassed specialist firms by executing retail broker orders directly over-the-counter becoming a third-market provider. He also offered investment management advice – essentially give me money, don't give it to others, do you like my suit, my view, my silence. In this way, BLMIS reduced the number of intermediaries, suspicions, checks and balances, and became the sixth-largest firm on Wall Street in 2008.

Madoff also served as Chairman of the Board of Directors and on the Board of Governors of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD), a self-regulatory securities industry organization, which was a total failure which ever way you look at it. It was a complicit handshake for higher crimes. The more money they took, the higher they rose.

The BLMIS investment management and advisory division was the focus of the fraud investigation. Bernie Madoff then admitted to operating one of the largest Ponzi schemes in history. It was a case of Jews, Jews and more Jews, so they were all Jewish. Bernie Madoff took in US$65 billion (US$65,000 million) of other people's money, and stole, spent, or lost US$18 billion over three decades. All branches of his firm are now considered part of his Ponzi scheme fraud.

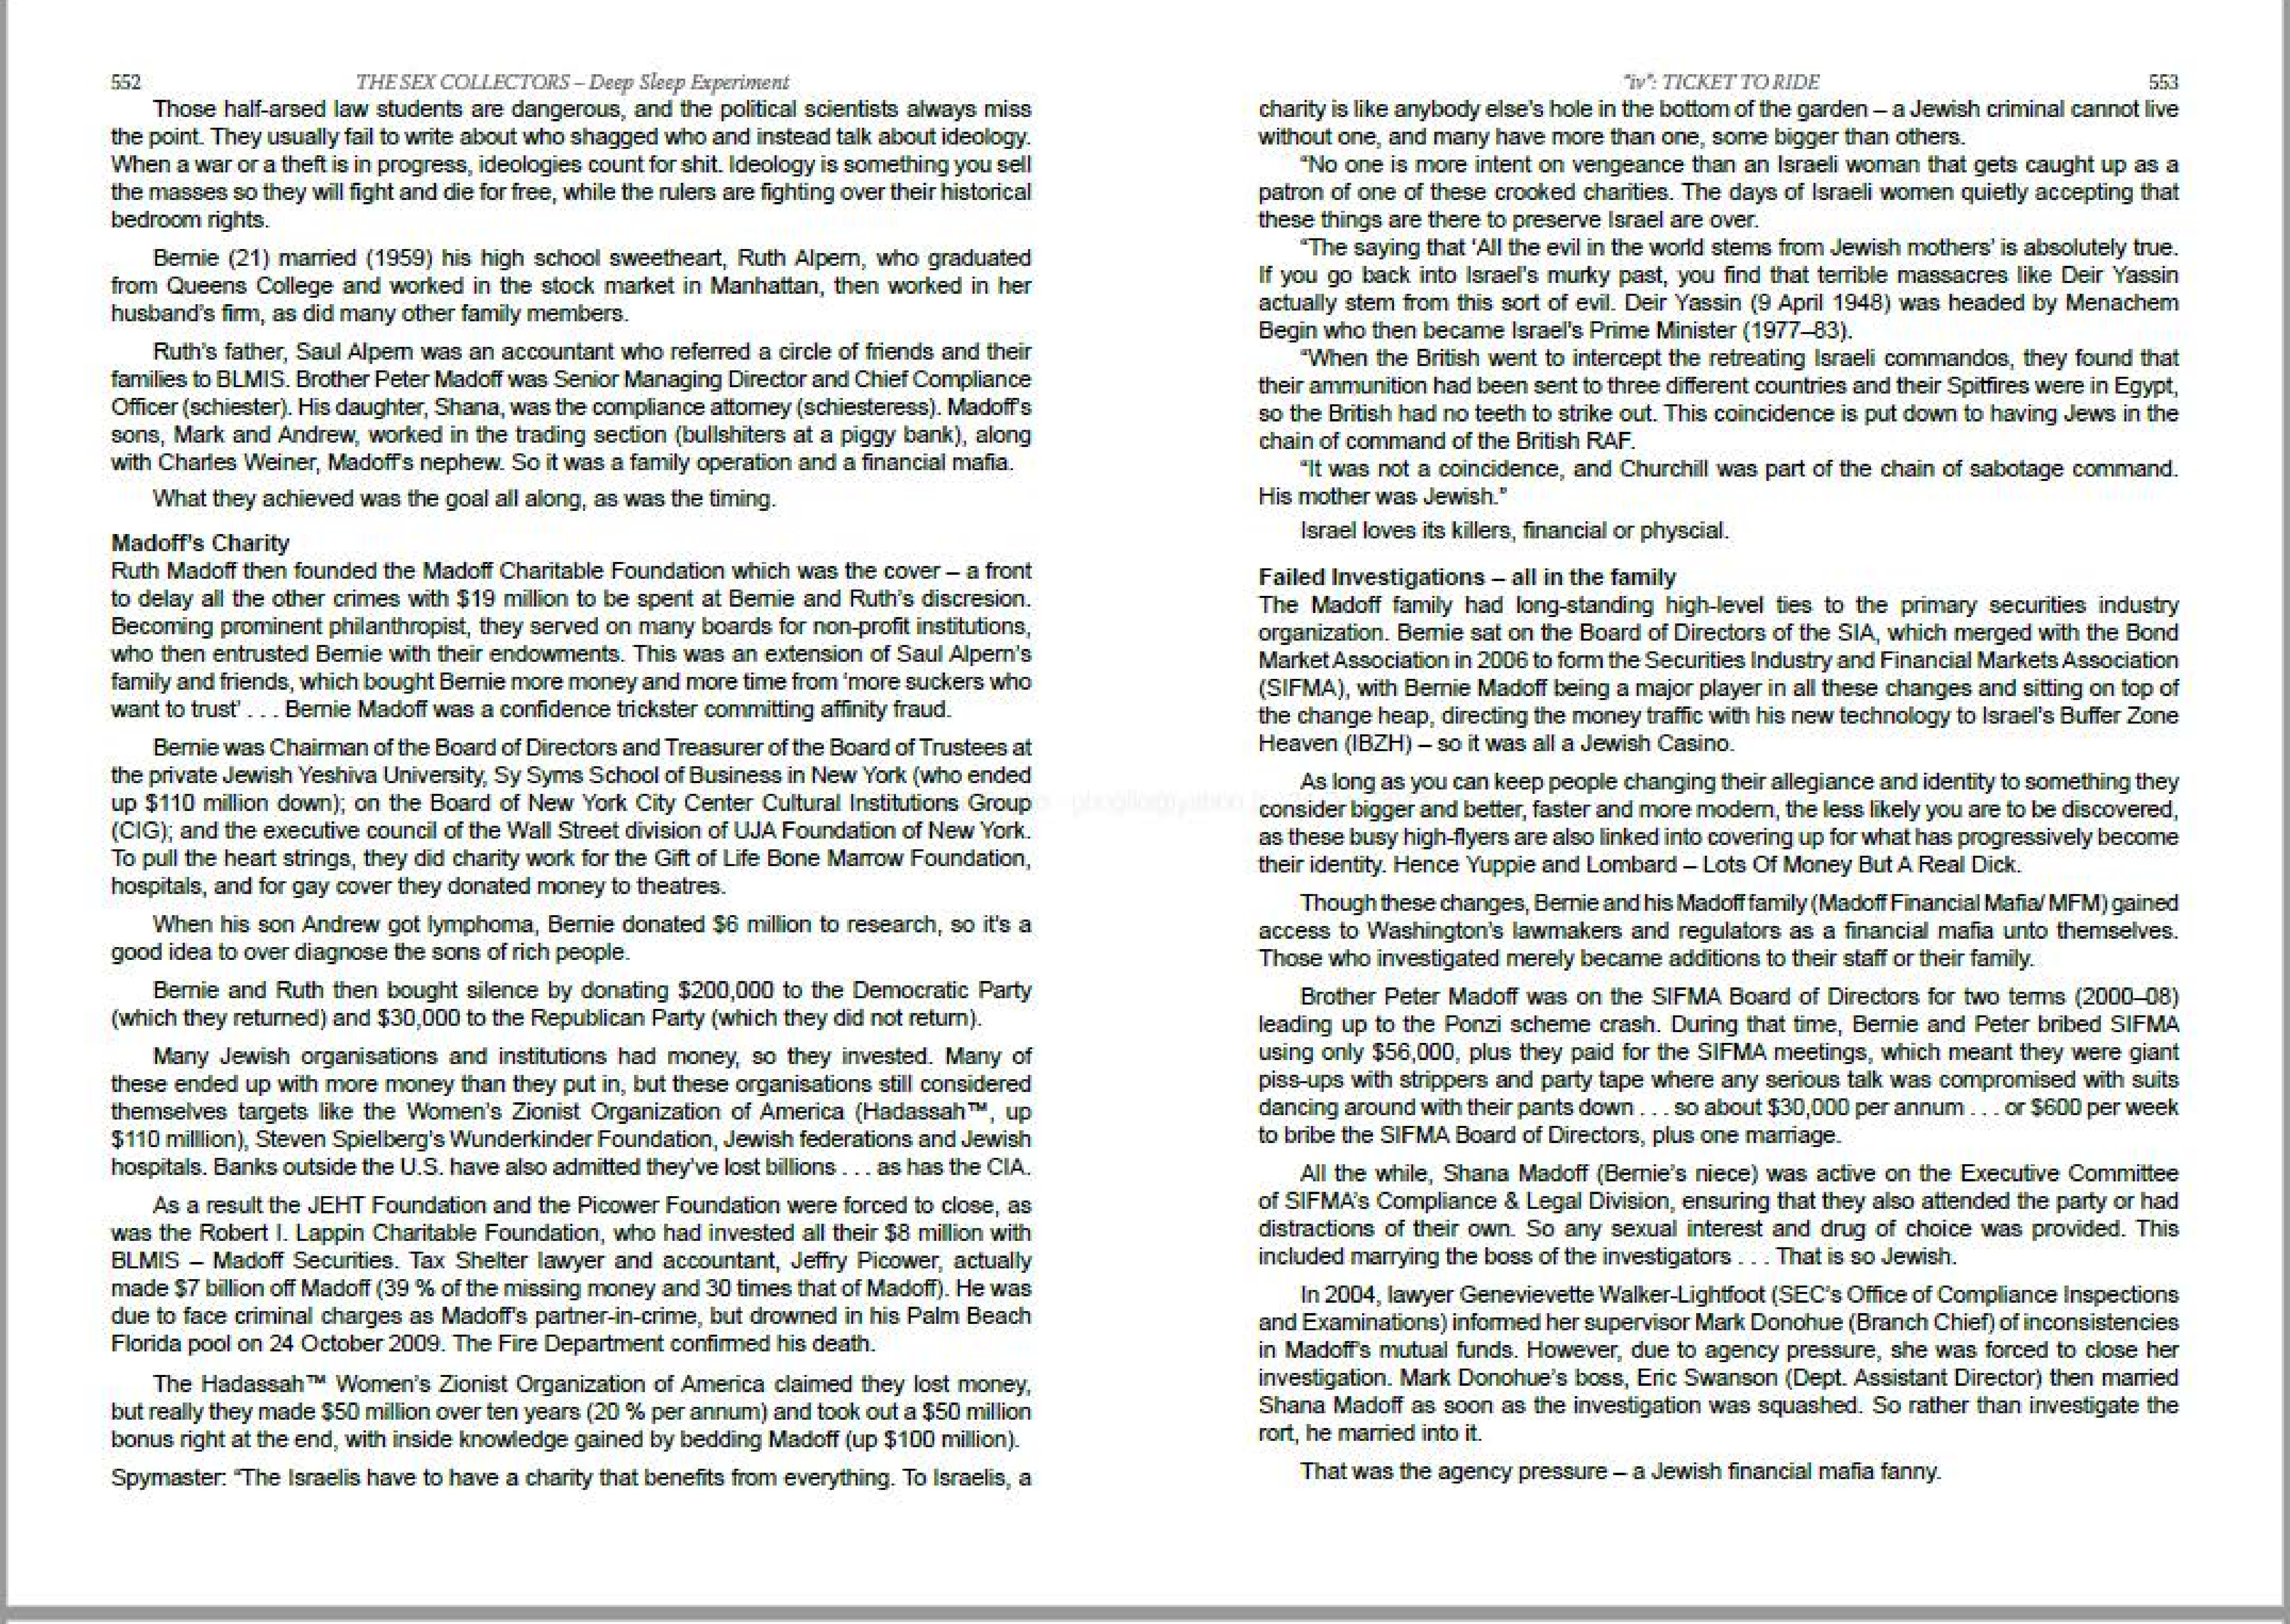
A Ponzi scheme is a fraudulent investment operation that pays returns to investors from their own money and from subsequent investors, providing unrealistically high short-term returns – lasting as long as the new investors (suckers) keep coming on board.

It usually involves selling unregistered securities, but if you are the chairman of NASDAQ you can get away with it – until the next Credit Crunch – when the Jack and Jill tumble begins and virtually all Ponzi schemes expose themselves within months – like Miami's Andres Pimstein's US$39 million (2005–April 2008), the Italian mob's US$400 million, and Nicholas Cosmo's US$400 million (26 January 2009) using his Agape World Inc., also in New York, albeit Long Island.

The European King Movement in Europe in the early 1990s was a Ponzi scheme that paid 20% per month, went up to 40%, then collapsed. The guy who ran it had his press claim that he had suicided, then disappeared, then murdered. So he was hard to find. Dead for six years, he was no longer culpable – so free and rich by 1999.

Bernie Madoff's Early Years

Madoff was born in the New York City borough of Queens and raised Jewish. His father, Ralph, was a plumber, then a stockbroker. The two seem to go hand-in-hand. Bernie graduated from Hofstra College in 1960 with a degree in political science, then went to Brooklyn Law School, but dropped out.



Those half-arsed law students are dangerous, and the political scientists always miss the point. They usually fail to write about who shagged who and instead talk about ideology. When a war or a theft is in progress, ideologies count for shit. Ideology is something you sell the masses so they will fight and die for free, while the rulers are fighting over their historical bedroom rights.

Bernie (21) married (1959) his high school sweetheart, Ruth Alpern, who graduated from Queens College and worked in the stock market in Manhattan, then worked in her husband's firm, as did many other family members.

Ruth's father, Saul Alpern was an accountant who referred a circle of friends and their families to BLMIS. Brother Peter Madoff was Senior Managing Director and Chief Compliance Officer (schiester). His daughter, Shana, was the compliance attorney (schiesteress). Madoff's sons, Mark and Andrew, worked in the trading section (bullshiters at a piggy bank), along with Charles Weiner, Madoff's nephew. So it was a family operation and a financial mafia.

What they achieved was the goal all along, as was the timing.

Madoff's Charity

Ruth Madoff then founded the Madoff Charitable Foundation which was the cover – a front to delay all the other crimes with $19 million to be spent at Bernie and Ruth's discretion. Becoming prominent philanthropist, they served on many boards for non-profit institutions, who then entrusted Bernie with their endowments. This was an extension of Saul Alpern's family and friends, which bought Bernie more money and more time from 'more suckers who want to trust' . . . Bernie Madoff was a confidence trickster committing affinity fraud.

Bernie was Chairman of the Board of Directors and Treasurer of the Board of Trustees at the private Jewish Yeshiva University, Sy Syms School of Business in New York (who ended up $110 million down); on the Board of New York City Center Cultural Institutions Group (CIG); and the executive council of the Wall Street division of UJA Foundation of New York. To pull the heart strings, they did charity work for the Gift of Life Bone Marrow Foundation, hospitals, and for gay cover they donated money to theatres.

When his son Andrew got lymphoma, Bernie donated $6 million to research, so it's a good idea to over diagnose the sons of rich people.

Bernie and Ruth then bought silence by donating $200,000 to the Democratic Party (which they returned) and $30,000 to the Republican Party (which they did not return).

Many Jewish organisations and institutions had money, so they invested. Many of these ended up with more money than they put in, but these organisations still considered themselves targets like the Women's Zionist Organization of America (Hadassah™, up $110 milllion), Steven Spielberg's Wunderkinder Foundation, Jewish federations and Jewish hospitals. Banks outside the U.S. have also admitted they've lost billions . . . as has the CIA.

As a result the JEHT Foundation and the Picower Foundation were forced to close, as was the Robert I. Lappin Charitable Foundation, who had invested all their $8 million with BLMIS – Madoff Securities. Tax Shelter lawyer and accountant, Jeffry Picower, actually made $7 billion off Madoff (39 % of the missing money and 30 times that of Madoff). He was due to face criminal charges as Madoff's partner-in-crime, but drowned in his Palm Beach Florida pool on 24 October 2009. The Fire Department confirmed his death.

The Hadassah™ Women's Zionist Organization of America claimed they lost money, but really they made $50 million over ten years (20 % per annum) and took out a $50 million bonus right at the end, with inside knowledge gained by bedding Madoff (up $100 million).

Spymaster: "The Israelis have to have a charity that benefits from everything. To Israelis, a charity is like anybody else's hole in the bottom of the garden – a Jewish criminal cannot live without one, and many have more than one, some bigger than others.

"No one is more intent on vengeance than an Israeli woman that gets caught up as a patron of one of these crooked charities. The days of Israeli women quietly accepting that these things are there to preserve Israel are over.

"The saying that 'All the evil in the world stems from Jewish mothers' is absolutely true. If you go back into Israel's murky past, you find that terrible massacres like Deir Yassin actually stem from this sort of evil. Deir Yassin (9 April 1948) was headed by Menachem Begin who then became Israel's Prime Minister (1977–83).

"When the British went to intercept the retreating Israeli commandos, they found that their ammunition had been sent to three different countries and their Spitfires were in Egypt, so the British had no teeth to strike out. This coincidence is put down to having Jews in the chain of command of the British RAF.

"It was not a coincidence, and Churchill was part of the chain of sabotage command. His mother was Jewish."

Israel loves its killers, financial or physcial.

Failed Investigations – all in the family

The Madoff family had long-standing high-level ties to the primary securities industry organization. Bernie sat on the Board of Directors of the SIA, which merged with the Bond Market Association in 2006 to form the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (SIFMA), with Bernie Madoff being a major player in all these changes and sitting on top of the change heap, directing the money traffic with his new technology to Israel's Buffer Zone Heaven (IBZH) – so it was all a Jewish Casino.

As long as you can keep people changing their allegiance and identity to something they consider bigger and better, faster and more modern, the less likely you are to be discovered, as these busy high-flyers are also linked into covering up for what has progressively become their identity. Hence Yuppie and Lombard – Lots Of Money But A Real Dick.

Though these changes, Bernie and his Madoff family (Madoff Financial Mafia/ MFM) gained access to Washington's lawmakers and regulators as a financial mafia unto themselves. Those who investigated merely became additions to their staff or their family.

Brother Peter Madoff was on the SIFMA Board of Directors for two terms (2000–08) leading up to the Ponzi scheme crash. During that time, Bernie and Peter bribed SIFMA using only $56,000, plus they paid for the SIFMA meetings, which meant they were giant piss-ups with strippers and party tape where any serious talk was compromised with suits dancing around with their pants down . . . so about $30,000 per annum . . . or $600 per week to bribe the SIFMA Board of Directors, plus one marriage.

All the while, Shana Madoff (Bernie's niece) was active on the Executive Committee of SIFMA's Compliance & Legal Division, ensuring that they also attended the party or had distractions of their own. So any sexual interest and drug of choice was provided. This included marrying the boss of the investigators . . . That is so Jewish.

In 2004, lawyer Genevievette Walker-Lightfoot (SEC's Office of Compliance Inspections and Examinations) informed her supervisor Mark Donohue (Branch Chief) of inconsistencies in Madoff's mutual funds. However, due to agency pressure, she was forced to close her investigation. Mark Donohue's boss, Eric Swanson (Dept. Assistant Director) then married Shana Madoff as soon as the investigation was squashed. So rather than investigate the rort, he married into it.

That was the agency pressure – a Jewish financial mafia fanny.

Just before sentencing, Bernie Madoff told the SEC Inspector General that 'the investigators were bumbling and never asked the right questions.' The only thing they did right was wear trenchcoats and look obvious. 'In 2003, they never even looked at his stock records. Nor did they check with the Depository Trust Company that centralises security deposits. This was the first place you look for a Ponzi scheme', so the SEC investigators were in on the Madoff Financial Mafia payroll.

Then on 17 June 2009, Madoff cited SEC Chairman Mary Schapiro as a "dear friend" and SEC Commissioner Elisse Walter as "a terrific lady". So it was more Jews in on the money and denying any responsiblity, while sharing in the profits, either in cash, portfolio, or promotion – which is pretty much what Jews do: "It's the money or the job".[1]

From 1992, SEC botched six investigations into Madoff. This was done through neglecting allegations of whistle-blowers and financial experts, not looking at stock records, not checking with the Depository Trust Company, incompetent staff work, identifying with the trenchcoats and not the information, the Madoff family marrying the boss of the investigation and sharing the rort with him, and SEC Chairman Mary Schapiro being a 'dear friend' maintained in her position for the duration of the Israeli-run con that taxed America . . . and the CIA out of its Antarctica development money.

In 1999, financial analyst Harry Markopolos informed SEC that it was legally and mathematically impossible to achieve the gains Madoff claimed to deliver. The Boston SEC then ignored him in 2000 and 2001, as did the New York SEC in 2005 and 2007.

Others then pointed out that the growing volume of Madoff accounts could not be competently and legitimately serviced by his accounting auditing firm of only three people, only one of whom was actually doing any accounting work. Here's how badly it worked:

Brother Peter Madoff deposited $32,146 into his Madoff accounts, then withdrew $16 million.

Son Andrew Madoff deposited $1 million into his Madoff accounts, then withdrew $17 million.

Son Mark Madoff deposited $745,482, then withdrew $18.1 million.

These were family frauds of $50 million in just three deals, plus Mark Madoff owed his parents $22 million, and Andrew $9.5 million for their Manhattan apartments and Greenwich, Connecticut homes . . . so $81.5 million in five deals.

Lover Sheryl Weinstein was a chief financial officer of Hadassah™ (Women's Zionist Organization of America Inc.) who had an affair with Bernie Madoff around 1988. As of 1997, Hadassah/ Zionist Women had invested $40 million, yet by December 2008 they had withdrawn $140 million, from an account valued at $90 million . . . so another $100 million fraud to the benefit of Zionist women – who still complained . . . so $181.5 million in six piggy bank deals.

The US$65 billion handled by one backroom accountant turned $32,146 into $16 million; $1 million into $17 million; $745,482 into $18.1 million, and $40 million in 1997 into $90 million in 2008 (20% p.a.), which magically became $140 million overnight . . . and a total loss of US$18 billion.

So it was an in-house family fraud – Jewish, and who was rooting who. The brothers were not so blind that they could not see, it's just that they all knew the way out was the ageing Bernie Madoff (70) who, within nine months of prison would fall out of his bunk and spend his time in hospital, rather than prison.

On 3 November 2009, Madoff's accounting front man, David Friehling, pleaded guilty to securities fraud, investment adviser fraud, making false filings to the Securities and Exchange Commission, and obstructing the IRS.

[1] This was then undone within 5 months. SEC Inspector General David Kotz, 30 October 2009: "I did not find any corroboration or evidence to support Madoff's claim of a close relationship with Mary Schapiro."

Robert M. Stockmann to Greg Hallett et al, 22 April 2009: "On April 20, 2009 CNN issued a special report 'Judge blocks Madoff bankruptcy' stating 'A federal judge Monday blocked Bernard Madoff's assets from being moved into bankruptcy, saying there is probable cause the assets should be forfeited to the government'. Forfeited to the government for the pro bono, or common purpose? This smells like the biggest Communist stitch-up game in history to steal private property.

Rumors go that Madoff has been working hand-in-hand with the SEC, to pull that off, ever since 1993, when Mary Schapiro (not Shapiro) abandoned SEC Rules and instituted SEC Guidelines, to prepare for a 'Derivatives Revolution and World Financial System'."

Mary Schapiro served as a Commissioner of the SEC (December 1988–October 1994), appointed by President Reagan, then reappointed in 1989 by President George H. W. Bush. By July 1990 she was chairman of the Task Force on Administrative Proceedings which ultimately determined it necessary and appropriate to completely revise the entire Rules of Practice and abandon them. In 1993, President Clinton appointed Schapiro as SEC acting chairman. In February, Schapiro issued The Task Force Report: 'Fair and Efficient Administrative Proceedings'.

In October 1993, in Lugano, Switzerland, at the 'Eighth Annual Symposium for the Foundation for Research in International Banking and Finance' Schapiro gave a speech – 'The Derivatives Revolution and the World Financial System': "The benefits to financial innovation that may result from a more flexible regulatory paradigm . . . not convinced that consolidated regulatory supervision of securities firms and their affiliates is necessary or appropriate at this time." So Mary Schapiro was in the Madoff Financial Mafia's back pocket.

On 22 November 1993, SEC wrote in the Federal Register, to adopt her proposals pertaining to the Rules, then solicited responses. In 1994, President Clinton appointed Mary Schapiro as chairperson of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (1994–96). On 9 June 1995, they adopted some of the solicited responses into SEC guidelines, which were now so heavily deregulated as to support any con that Israel requested through their agent Bernie Madoff.

In 1996 she became president of NASD Regulation (National Association of Securities Dealers).

Schapiro became Chairman of the International Organization of Securities Commission (IOSCO) Consultative Committee (2002–06) which stopped any proposals to investigate anyone paying any backhanders of sufficient amount to purchase greenback blindness . . . or those representing Isarel.

In 2002, she was made NASD vice chairperson, where, in 2005 she oversaw a wide-reaching probe into gift-giving and entertaining on Wall Street, uncovering several instances of lavish and excessive activities, that led to many charges, but not Peter Madoff's SIFMA Board of Directors' giant piss-ups with strippers and party tape and suits dancing around with their pants down.

In 2006, Mary Schapiro was made NASD chairman and CEO, where she oversaw the consolidation with the NYSE Member Regulation, to form the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) – the largest non-governmental securities industry self-regulatory organization for broker-dealers that showed complete failure, just as Bernie Madoff wanted it. It was all PR and self-promotion up the Yuppie ladder to LOMBARD status at everyone else's expense.

In 2008, Investment Advisor magazine, IA 25, named Schapiro one of the top 25 most iinfluential investment business advisors: "If it's ultimately wrong, we will promote it. Listen to her. She spouts the game, but knows not what she does. She's part of the Madoff Financial Mafia."

On 18 December 2008 – a week after Bernie Madoff confessed, and during the lame duck period – Barack Obama designated Mary Schapiro as the intended nominee for Chairman of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

In January 2008, one of the last things President George W. Bush did was appoint Mary Schapiro to the 19-member council of the President's Advisory Council on Financial Literacy. [I've just found out at the end of my presidency that I can't read or count, help!]

Mary Schapiro was sworn in as the first woman permanent Chairman of SEC on 27 January 2009. Now that the horse has bolted, and America is stripped of its gold, permanent SEC Chairman Schapiro's priorities are reinvigorating a financial regulatory system that protects investors and vigorously enforces rules, the same rules she removed for Madoff, Picower, Hadassah and blah.

Madoff Hands Himself Over, but Not the Money, or his Family

Spymaster: “The instructions came from Israel for Madoff to hand himself over.

“This was during the lame duck period between Presidents' Bush and Obama, so none had to deal with it.

“Ever since the Lavon Affair/ Operation Susannah in the 1950s, there's been problems with Israeli agents establishing themselves in a safe place after committing crimes in the name of Israel. Since then, instructions went out within Mossad, that agents were not to turn up at Israeli consular offices, or to make phone calls to Israel begging for immunity, and return home in poisoned circumstances.

“After the death of Robert Maxwell on 5 November 1991 at the hands of the Mossad, the Israeli government brought about a new methodology to these fraught handovers. The fraudster would contact a phone number and indicate that he wished to seek asylum and it would be organised between governments direct from Israel, but orchestrated from the US.

“At the same time, all Israeli citizens that had assisted with the crime – usually bookkeeping – would be flown back to Israel, urgently.

“This happened in the wake of BCCI collapse (Bank of Credit and Commerce International) in July 1991 which was a British Bank supposedly run by Saudis, but actually run by Mossad in London.”

Author: “It was described as ‘widespread fraud and manipulation’ and ‘a $20-billion-plus heist’. On 29 July 1991, Time Magazine described BCCI as ‘The world's sleaziest bank’ and ‘The Dirtiest Bank of All’. Three months later Robert Maxwell (a.k.a. Ján Ludvík Hoch, ex-British MP) was dead.”

Initially, BLMIS firm quoted bid and ask prices via the National Quotation Bureau's Pink Sheets which was slow and had no advantage. In order to compete with members on the New York Stock Exchange trading floor, Madoff's firm used new computer technology to disseminate quotes. It was a computer bulletin board, but had no real connection with buyers or sellers, until it became automated, then it became a popular trade and volume reporter. So after a trial run, it became the NASDAQ on 8 February 1971 – the first electronic American stock exchange.

Spymaster: “The Israelis then developed fast moving transfer systems into a fine art, then became staff in Madoff's accounting rooms where funds were fast-tracked on their way to financial oblivion. All these Israeli money funnels ended in Israeli accounts in Hifa.

“The crazy thing is, Madoff was proud of them and took investors down to see them in action. Investors actually viewed them from special viewing rooms. A lot of these people never realised that what they were witnessing was the Mossad at work, and their money being transferred into heaven's buffer zone.

“In New Zealand, when Israelis were discovered forging counterfeit money (c. 2005) it was deemed to be a secret. The operation was suppressed, no crime was deemed to have been committed, and everyone was allowed to return to Israel . . . these things are big enough to cause depressions. In this case, it forging American notes from US$1 to US$100.”

From 1992, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) conducted investigations into Madoff's business practices, but Madoff managed to produce enough data and buy them out. The Israelis helped Madoff with both the data and the Inspectors who failed to look beyond what was provided. The NASDAQ provided speed advantage and enough confusion for cover.

Assets and Last Minute Steals as Madoff hands over the problem

Madoff lived in a ranch house in Roslyn, New York, then an ocean-front residence in Montauk Long Island ($3 million) with a residence on Fifth Avenue ($7m), a mansion in Palm Beach, Florida ($11m), a house in France ($1m), had 50 % of BLM Air Charter ($12m), a 27 metre sportfishing yacht Bull ($7m), other [In]securities ($45m), cash ($17m), furniture, household goods, and art ($9.9m), and jewellery ($2.6m).[2]

As at 13 March 2009, Bernie and Ruth Madoff were worth $126 million personally, plus $700 million in interests in Bernard L. Madoff Investment [In]Securities. After Bernie Madoff's arrest, the Federal Court froze the assets of the Madoff Family Foundation.

On 9 December 2008, Bernie Madoff planned to pay out $173 million in bonuses two months early, although he knew he would fail to pay redemptions of $7 billion in the next few weeks.

On 10 December 2008, Bernie Madoff (70) admitted to his frauds. This was staged for its timing in the lame duck period between presidents.

Bernie confessed to his sons, Andrew and Mark (who knew all along), that the asset management arm of his firm was one giant Ponzi scheme – an ongoing lie for well-bred suckers. Andrew and Mark Madoff then told authorities that their father had just confessed ‘the asset management arm of his firm was a massive Ponzi scheme’ – “It was one big lie.”

On 11 December 2008, FBI agents arrested Madoff and charged him with securities fraud – a clampdown at least 16 years late. Madoff resigned as chairman of BLMIS the same day, admitted loudly to fraud with liablities of US$50 billion, and posted a US$10 million bail bond.

Soon after, Madoff pleaded guilty to 11 felonies and was charged with the largest investor fraud ever committed by a single person – bigger than the 2001 US$31.2 billion Enron collapse (where the bad guy also faked his death.) Madoff said he began the Ponzi scheme in the early 1990s, but it began in the 1980s, and it appears that none of his investment operations were legitimate. The amount missing from client accounts, including fabricated gains, was almost US$65 billion, however the court appointed trustee could only estimate actual investors losses at $18 billion. That's because many of his Jewish investors were hugely overpaid. That included his wife, sons, brother, neice, and lover – the front woman for Zionist Women of America. Those fundraising feminists are always fronted by a greasy root.

Around US$36 billion was invested into the Madoff Ponzi scam which stole half and gave half back. About half of Madoff's investors were “net winners,” earning more than their investment (Hadassah/ Women's Zionist Org), with $18 billion missing – mainly to non-Jews, and the CIA.

That this went on for 20 years and got past U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission checks (SEC), just goes to show a check is a handshake with money wrapped in brown paper along with a sandwhich, and/or snatch attached, whatever country you are in.

On 16 December 2008, Madoff's assets and those of his firm were frozen (5 days late).

On 17 December 2008, Judge Denny Chin accepted Madoff's plea for house arrest in his Fifth Avenue Upper East Side Manhatten penthouse apartment with a $10 million bail, 24-hour monitoring, and bed by 7 pm. Early nights are still considered punishment.

When it was realised that even the $10 million bond wouldn't be his, Madoff was placed in the Metropolitan Correctional Center on 12 March 2009.

Still, Judge Denny Chin had given Bernie Madoff 11–16 December 2008 when his assets weren't frozen (rumour has it he gave away millions to Jews), and three months (12 December 2008–12 March 2009) to place his affairs in order from home, which meant shunting the money even further along heaven's buffer zone (IBZH).

[2] The U.S. Marshals Service auctioned these in September 2009.

Pre-Sentencing

Initially Madoff (70) faced up to 20 years in prison and a fine of US$5 million . . . which is peanuts by comparison. It's 0.01 % of what he stole – 1 cent in the $100.

In February 2009, Madoff agreed with SEC that he would be banned from the securities industry for life, which is all PR and did nothing about everything.

Bernie Madoff refused to name any co-conspirators, insisted he was the sole fraudster, refused to plea bargain with the government, and pleaded guilty to all charges. In this way, there were less people to extract out of prison (which are really there for the Goyim) and Israel has still not been charged. After all, Israel is a sovereign nation (just, and by the skin of their teeth, and using a compromised homosexual edible-mouse-breeding excentric who rode around on a carriage drawn by zebras) and the whole thing was a kind of civil war, extracting goyim money out of the West (US$18 billion missing) while overpaying Jewish women's organisations by US$100 million and the Jewish mafia family by another $198 million.

Madoff admitted there were no legitimate investments and he deposited the money into his business account at Chase Manhattan Bank, which then became JPMorgan Chase in 2000 and earnt him $483 million in interest.

On 22 June 2009, the defence requested a 12-year sentence citing Social Security Administration tables that his life expectancy was another 13 years (83).

Ruth Madoff then agreed to forfeit $85 million in assets. This left her with $2.5 million in cash which the SEC and Court trustee were allowed to pursue. Massachusetts regulators then accused her of withdrawing $15 million from company-related accounts shortly before Bernie confessed – so she had foreknowledge, the whole thing was a staged event, and she still had $17.5 million.

On 26 June 2009, Judge Denny Chin ordered Madoff to forfeit $170 billion in assets. Federal sentencing guidelines for fraud only went up to $400 million in losses, so Madoff's frauds were off the charts. "Madoff did not provided meaningful cooperation or assistance" and the Prosecutors asked for 150 years in prison – the maximum sentence. Parole had been abolished in 1984, so it was a life sentence.

Judge Denny Chin did not received any mitigating letters from friends or family testifying to Madoff's good deeds: "The absence of such support is telling". It is telling that it was a known Ponzi con and Madoff was the front man and the fall guy who would be rescued by those who would otherwise have bothered to write a letter of support.

Ruth Madoff then issued a statement which told of her compliance. It was one of those double-speak letters that meant the opposite of what it says, requires reading twice, then undoes everything they've said, and finally admits co-conspirator status: "I am breaking my silence now because my reluctance to speak has been interpreted as indifference or lack of sympathy for the victims of my husband Bernie's crime, which is exactly the opposite of the truth."

Interpreted correctly, this says: "I am a Jewish wife and mother of the Madoff Financial Mafia that has stolen billions off Goyim and overpaid billions to Jews. I have kept $17.5 million of this and attempted to hide it and blame everything on my husband and take no responsibility myself. My money will go towards Bernie's plastic surgery and a bodydouble so that his escape may be facilitated out of prison within nine months of incarceration. Goyim, go fuck yourself."

Son's Mark and Andrew, brother Peter, and Peter's daughter Shana, were then sued for $198 million. They had received over $80 million in compensation since 2001 and used the BLMIS bank account as a personal piggy bank to buy apartments and houses. They were the compliance officers in the fraud and compliant with the fraud.

Bernie Madoff's Escape

Bernie Madoff was remanded in the Metropolitan Correctional Center on 12 March 2009. On 29 June 2009, Justice Denny Chin sentenced him to 150 years at the Butner Medium Federal Correctional Institution in North Carolina. 15 weeks later, on 13 October 2009, Bernie got into a senior citizens fight. And when that didn't cause enough damage, he immediately fell out of his bunk onto his face. He was then transferred to Duke University Medical Center in Durham, North Carolina and has been treated for serious facial injuries ever since.

It must have been a very high bunk, or the facial injuries (photo unsighted) must have been well overstated by Jewish doctors. So . . . we should be reading 'plastic surgery followed by a paid bodydouble to replace him'. The healthcare will take as long as it takes to find and prepare a convincing bodydouble. The most difficult thing to immitate is the walk, so you won't see him walking ever again, nor a comparison of him walking before and after.

Bernie Madoff will then die, and six years later he will reappear as 'a dead man walking' with no debts, having spent only nine months in prison (12 March–18 December 2009).

Madoff is Jewish, and for the Jews, the Courts are all the world's a stage.
So guess who's out of prison – Bernie Madoff.
It's a Jewish thing. No Jews are allowed in prison because it's their Jewishdiction, Jursidiction, Jewish dictatorship.

How did he do it? Bernie Madoff was given government access, in effect making him a gang member with the U.S. Government, and with U.S. Govt. employees complicit in the length of his con – all of whom were conned and controlled by Israel as they perfected IBZH.

America is a perfect example of Israel's Buffer Zone Heaven.

Bernie Madoff was arrested on 12 December 2008 and detained; his assets and those of his firm were frozen on 16 December 2008; he was then given house arrest on 17 December 2008; remanded in the Metropolitan Correctional Center on 12 March 2009; sentenced to the Butner Medium on 29 June 2009; and hospitalized in the Duke University Medical Center on 18 December 2009 from where he has been replaced and escaped.

So of his 150 year sentence, Israel's Jewish Financial Mafia frontman and fall guy Bernie Madoff spent nine months incarcerted, from 12 March–18 December 2009.

It doesn't say much about the security of United States prisons. Like the Mexican police force, it's an entrepreneurial activity. And when the Jews say to a Judge: "Get him out", the American judge 'lets him out'.

The CIA looses US$ billions with Madoff and Steals Auckland

When Madoff was questioned privately about stealing the CIA's money and how dangerous that was, he simply shrugged his shoulders. What do you expect? He was Jewish on a bigger rig.

The US$ billions in CIA money was due for development and expansion in Antarctica and turning New Zealand into 'New Spain' – as the leaping point to the new continent to be developed – Antarctica. The billions had been set aside for the development of secret shit in Antarctica. It's all secret shit down there. How do I know? Because they never tell you what it is, even when it's succeeded.

All we get is the results of pollen samples and dehydrated penguin bodies as cover for the return of SAS bodies, and no one mentioning that Mt Erebus spits out more CFC's than the rest of the world's volcanoes put together, and periodically causes a hole in the ozone layer.

To recover the lost billions, the CIA decided to steal Auckland. They decided to use their CIA assets in New Zealand to facilitate this by creating one big Auckland Super City whereby all four cities of Auckland would be amalgamated into one giant city – where all the infrastructure assets are worth NZ$28 billion – equavalent to US$19 billion.

This is due to occur by October 2010. It comes with meetings in secret, and a moratorium on any changes for the first year while the assets are stolen beyond reach – the CIA's Buffer Zone Heaven (CBZH) . . . all with the help of the New Zealand frausters Fay Richwhite.

New Zealand is really easy to steal from. Kiwis tend to be 'Keen Interest Without Intelligence' and want to believe the best in everyone. From 1990, the CIA stole NZ$50 billion out of New Zealand, and this occurred with the support of NZ's leading financial advisors. Add to this the NZ$22 billion for the Leaky Building Syndrome that won't be resolved by the CIA SuperCity and the NZ$28 billion Auckland infrastructure theft, and you have NZ$100 million stolen by the CIA from New Zealand over two decades.

So the CIA has decided to recover its US$19 billion loss from the compliant suckers down in New Zealand, as led by the sexual deviants and CIA agents that run Auckland. Despite them knowing that I know this, and that I have spoken about this on radio in America on The Real Deal with Dr James Fetzer on 24/25 November 2009, 28/29 January 2010, 18/19 February 2010, and with Rayelan Allan on Rumour Mill News on 21/22 December 2009 – the CIA still say: "It's still going to go ahead".

Meanwhile I get off my traffic tickets by citing the Mayor of Auckland John Banks as a paedophile and drug trafficker.

The two people most behind the CIA takeover of the four cities of Auckland amalgamated into the one Auckland SuperCity, are the drug lords, sexual deviants and contract killers, Dame Margaret Bazley and Auckland City Mayor John Banks. Both are known CIA agents. Typical of a CIA agent, John Banks claims that he does not know what he does. He also sleeps in a separate bed from his wife, and will try anything sexually, and then deny that he has had any such experience, citing "I can't remember" – which is a sure sign of a CIA agent.

There are no women in Auckland who claim to ever having had sex with John Banks. John Banks is a 5'4" paedophile, drug trafficker, cross-dresser, tranny-rooter, and he lied about his status when he adopted three children from Russia. He said "I am the Minister of Police", when he had been removed as the Minister of Police for riding around his Whangarei electorate picking up underaged Maori boys on his Harley-Davidson and arranging sex dates with them. When he came to give out awards at the Whangarei High School in 1995, he got stomped off the stage, then resigned as Minister of Police.

John Banks beat up his first wife in 1972, and his second wife does not have sex with men. So what we have here is a cover marriage.

Dame Margaret Bazley was married to Steve Bazley who was jailed for 15 years for the murder of Steve and Isobel Wilson (and another) in order to protect the Mr Asia heroin trafficking ring. The heroin ring started in New Zealand, then moved to Australia and England.

During the hearings, Lillian Bazely, now Dame Margaret Bazley, was incited as a heroin courier and told she could never hold a government position in Australia – so she moved to New Zealand where the CIA promoted her up the government ladder faster than a lizard on heat. Here she practised exactly what the Australians cited of her: "She couldn't organise two dingos to shit in a can" and now none of the government departments work.

The end result for the Auckland SuperCity is doubling the rates where nothing gets done, the rubbish isn't collected, the roads aren't fixed, the city turns into a slum, and everyone leaves except the Chinese, who thank the CIA for handing them Auckland on a plate.

So Bernie Madoff's ponzi scheme could result in Auckland becoming uninhabitable for white New Zealanders, circa April 2011, according to some predictions.

Bernie Madoff & Jeffry Picower are such consters but then so is the CIA with Auckland

The Good | Ilinois Republican Rep. Ray LaHood: “Rahm Emanuel legitimately can be called the golden boy of the Democratic Party today. He recruited the right candidates, found the money, funded them, and provided issues for them. Rahm did what no one else could do in seven cycles.”

Open Secrets: “Rahm Emanuel was the top House recipient in the 2008 election cycle of contributions from hedge funds, private equity firms and larger securities/ investment industry.”

The Bad | The Spymaster on the US President, the Irgun and the Stern Gang: “Rahm Emanuel [29 November 1959–] is the Israeli who controls the world. Named after the terrorist in the Irgun in the 1940s, Rahm Emanuel was foremost in planning 9-11. Even the Israelis say he was in charge of it. Rahm(bo) Emanuel is now the White House Chief of Staff, so it's understandable that it's career suicide in US Intelligence and US Armed Forces to mention 9-11 and Israel(is) in the same breath.

“The Americans don't realise that their presidents are British mind-controlled. I mean the business of appointing a Jew, and the Jew Rahm Emanuel puts Obama at the top of British-Israeli Intelligence, and neither of them even changed their names.

“This meant that the Irgun and the Stern Gang won the Israeli War of Independence. They beat the Arabs, America, Britain and Sweden, killing the Swedish diplomat Count Bernadotte (d. 17 September 1948) and American Brigadier General Mickey Marcus (d. 11 June 1948) who built their army.

“He took them from the days of rushing the Arab Legion in frontal assaults, to a co-ordinated successful army. The Israelis killed Mickey Marcus because they wanted no one around to contest ‘the fact’ that they ‘created an army by and for themselves’.

“Mickey Marcus' murder was so shonky it makes the Gaza murders look like an Act of God. The Israeli's also murdered the British Intelligence Undercover. They would have killed Lord Gort (d. 31 March 1946) but he was already dying of cancer.

“It seems to be a case of ‘murder thus’.”

The Ugly | Rahm Emanuel Wikipedia: Rahm Emanuel served as an advisor to Bill Clinton, resigned in 1998, became an investment banker at Wasserstein Perella (now Dresdner Kleinwort), managing director of the Chicago office (1999–2002) and made $16.2 million in 2.5 years. On top of that, President Bill Clinton put Emanuel on the Board of Directors of Freddie Mac. He was paid $31,060 in 2000 and $231,655 in 2001. During this time Freddie Mac was plagued with accounting irregularities, huge campaign contributions, scandals, and failed to investigate these matters. Emanuel then resigned and ran for congress – a blaze of corruption followed him, and a blaze of bankruptcies and bank bailouts followed that.

The Future | Intelligence on Barack Obama: “The plan for Barack Obama is to keep him in for two terms. Most of the changes will occur in the second term. The changes in the first term will still be revolutionary, but minor. Changes in the second term will be radical and revolutionary. Barack Obama is to be named the Commander-in-Chief of the World's Army – beginning at the end of the first/start of second term (Nov. 2013) from where it will be easier to declare war on a pariah state and wipe the floor with them. Anything said about giving the Palestinians a fair go is for the consumption of the Palestinians and not to be taken seriously.”

Israel in Australasia | MICK P: “Israel's plan to take over Australia is still in place. By Feb. 2009, Black Saturday was already a 1-in-a-100-year fire, 209 dead, and 7,000 homeless . . . ‘One man has been charged with arson and police suspect other fires deliberately lit’. The Israelis are going to intensify weather warfare until hundreds are dying in Australia each day. Then they will start with the deserts. They want to bring salt water in from the Indian Ocean, turn the central Australian deserts into orchards, create a huge desalination plant, and become the world's biggest salt producers. From here they will move out to take over the rest of Australia. Then it's onto New Zealand as ‘New Spain’ in preparation for Antarctica.”

"Rahmbo" Emanuel.

"Barack" means 'lucky' in Swahili, Arabic and French. In French it also means 'for the Greater Good' which fits in with the 2007 movie 'Hot Fuzz' and Common Purpose.

In Hebrew "Barack" means 'charisma, divine grace, or divine presence' which should keep the Jews tugging at his coattails.

"Barrack" also means 'able to emerge from dangerous situations unscathed'.

Barack's role is to look like he's putting America back in the black.

And guess who profitted –
Jewish Chicago mobsters you can trust [x] – now White House Chief of Staff, Rahm Emanual, who dictates to the coffee brown orator, Barack Hussein Obama, with all the names of the U.S. enemies, so it's a psyops
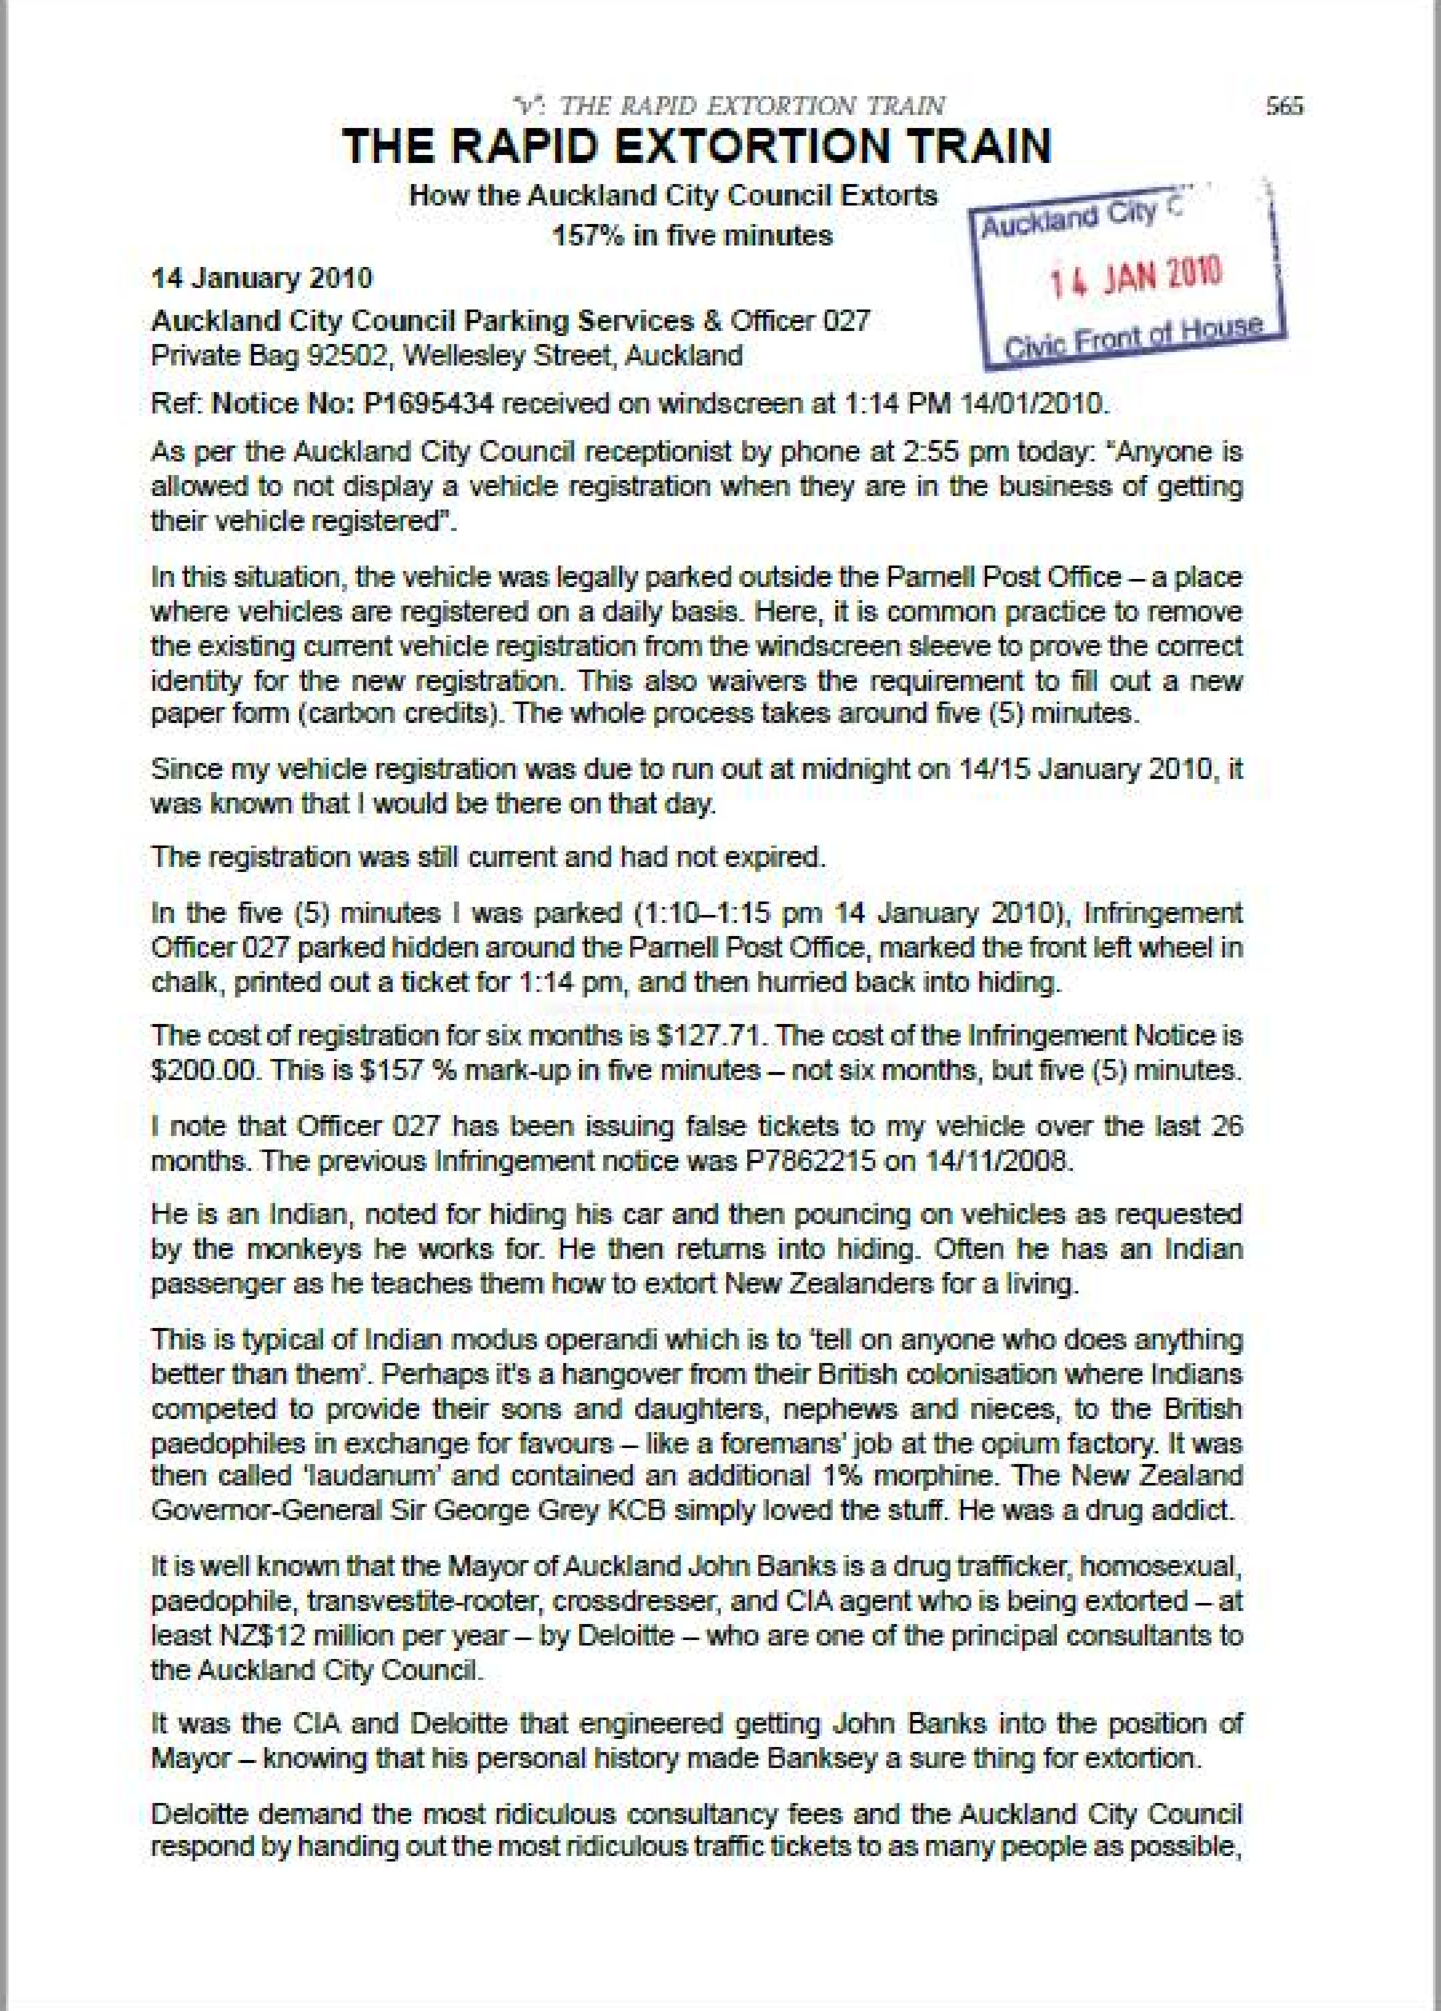
. . . and as 'QEII's Black Prince',
Madoff's Ponzi scheme helped fund this new Pirate Captain into the power vacuum.

The Queen raids and the Fed pays.

Chicago Jewish big money gangster – profitted from the Wall Street Ponzi scheme.

Queen Elizabeth II's Black Prince – Pirate Captain Renegade.



THE RAPID EXTORTION TRAIN

How the Auckland City Council Extorts 157% in five minutes

Auckland City C

14 JAN 2010

Civic Front of House

14 January 2010

Auckland City Council Parking Services & Officer 027
Private Bag 92502, Wellesley Street, Auckland

Ref: Notice No: P1695434 received on windscreen at 1:14 PM 14/01/2010.

As per the Auckland City Council receptionist by phone at 2:55 pm today: "Anyone is allowed to not display a vehicle registration when they are in the business of getting their vehicle registered".

In this situation, the vehicle was legally parked outside the Parnell Post Office – a place where vehicles are registered on a daily basis. Here, it is common practice to remove the existing current vehicle registration from the windscreen sleeve to prove the correct identity for the new registration. This also waivers the requirement to fill out a new paper form (carbon credits). The whole process takes around five (5) minutes.

Since my vehicle registration was due to run out at midnight on 14/15 January 2010, it was known that I would be there on that day.

The registration was still current and had not expired.

In the five (5) minutes I was parked (1:10–1:15 pm 14 January 2010), Infringement Officer 027 parked hidden around the Parnell Post Office, marked the front left wheel in chalk, printed out a ticket for 1:14 pm, and then hurried back into hiding.

The cost of registration for six months is $127.71. The cost of the Infringement Notice is $200.00. This is $157 % mark-up in five minutes – not six months, but five (5) minutes.

I note that Officer 027 has been issuing false tickets to my vehicle over the last 26 months. The previous Infringement notice was P7862215 on 14/11/2008.

He is an Indian, noted for hiding his car and then pouncing on vehicles as requested by the monkeys he works for. He then returns into hiding. Often he has an Indian passenger as he teaches them how to extort New Zealanders for a living.

This is typical of Indian modus operandi which is to 'tell on anyone who does anything better than them'. Perhaps it's a hangover from their British colonisation where Indians competed to provide their sons and daughters, nephews and nieces, to the British paedophiles in exchange for favours – like a foremans' job at the opium factory. It was then called 'laudanum' and contained an additional 1% morphine. The New Zealand Governor-General Sir George Grey KCB simply loved the stuff. He was a drug addict.

It is well known that the Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a drug trafficker, homosexual, paedophile, transvestite-rooter, crossdresser, and CIA agent who is being extorted – at least NZ$12 million per year – by Deloitte – who are one of the principal consultants to the Auckland City Council.

It was the CIA and Deloitte that engineered getting John Banks into the position of Mayor – knowing that his personal history made Banksey a sure thing for extortion.

Deloitte demand the most ridiculous consultancy fees and the Auckland City Council respond by handing out the most ridiculous traffic tickets to as many people as possible, in the shortest amount of time, specialising in using staff whose English is not capable of meaningful reply. This engineers ACC protectionism.

In real terms, the cost of these fake Infringement Notices is 1.5 times the compliance cost of the item over six months – in just 5 minutes. This is ludicrous secondhand extortion.

This practice of paedophile to paedophile – John Banks to Indian 027 – is done to pay for the Deloitte CIA extortion of Mayor John Banks via the Auckland City Council.

As you can see by the Vehicle Registration, it was current and never lapsed. The new Registration was obtained at exactly the same minute as the Indian Infringement Notice, and the Infringement Notice, like their complicit paedophilia, is illegal.

Take notice that the Auckland City Council Infringement Notice is cancelled.

I'm sure that after multiple delays upon delays of 30 days and more, and possibly even manufacturing the use of your legal team, you will place in writing that your 14 January 2010 Auckland City Council Infringement Notice P1695434 has been cancelled.

Should you show any concern over your Mayor's private life/ extortion, please do not hesitate to attach a request for this information along with your cancellation.

Yours sincerely,

JGHallett

Dear Mr Hallett

Notice Number:	Date Issued:	Registration Number:
P1695434	14-Jan-2010	EGP253

Thank you for your correspondence dated 14 January 2010 requesting a review of the infringement notice issued to your vehicle.

The infringement notice was issued as no current licence label was displayed. This is an offence under the Transport (Vehicle and Driver Registration and Licensing) Act 1986. It is the driver's responsibility to ensure that their vehicle is compliant prior to driving or parking it on a road.

If a current licence label is not displayed on the windscreen, even when the vehicle is currently licensed, an offence is deemed to have been committed. The label must be affixed to the inner left hand side of the windscreen and be clearly visible from outside the vehicle.

After reviewing your correspondence, a decision has been made to treat this as a warning. Payment is therefore not required on this occasion. Please ensure that a current licence label is displayed at all times.

Yours sincerely

Welcome to Auckland – the Mafia Capital of the Western World's South Pacific

Auckland is the Meth Capital of the world. This could not happen without the complicity of the Police, Lawyers and Mayor. The entire CIA drug takeover of Auckland was organised by Dame Margaret Bazley – a longtime CIA agent, heroin trafficker and murderer.

As of January 2010, all Auckland Transition Agency (ATA) meetings (Auckland SuperCity) are held in secret, not accountable to anyone, and will not accept any submissions.

Early in February 2010, Auckland City Mayor John Banks invited John Tamihere to join the Auckland SuperCity – which is nothing but a collection of old and current drug traffickers – cannabis, heroin, crystal meth, and whatever they could get and sell as a drug.

Lawyer John Tamihere runs the Waipareira Trust with Clint Rickards out of West Auckland. The Waipareira Trust sold all its assets, invested in P, outsourced the cooking of P, then sells it using its new police contacts and protection.

Clint Rickards was the Auckland Area Police Commander charged with rape, also involved in paedophilia, who then became a lawyer whom no one would employ, so he got a job at the Waipareira Trust. Pam Corkery then does TV documentaries on meth, blames it on the Asians, and fails to mention the Waipareira Trust, which she has a close asssociation with.

So when the drug trafficking Mayor of Auckland John Banks invited the meth-manufacturing lawyer John Tamihere, he was actually endorsing maintaining Auckland as:

'The Meth Capital of the World'.[1]

The Mafia Boss Peter Williams QC works on the meth trade at arm's length using his junior lawyer and partner, Heeni 'Prozac' Phillips, who occassionally shags John Tamihere.

When the Auckland 'SuperCity' Council is established by October 2010, the Auckland Transition Agency will be disestablished, so there won't be any body responsible for what was snuck through. The intention of what is snuck through is:

'The CIA owns the Auckland infrastructure, nothing gets done, the rates double, those in control are drug lords, and Auckland is still the meth capital of the world – only permanently so'.

So when the drug lord, CIA agent and paedophile, Auckland Mayor John Banks, is exposed as a paedophile in a response to a traffic ticket, they have to weigh up whether to collect $200, or keep mumsy, take over all of Auckland, and steal back NZ$7b/US$5 billion in assets.

Heroin trafficking is now controlled by NATO with the help of select rock stars with their talking guitars. The Secretary General of NATO is now chosen for his controllablity and compromise – hence their roles in Parliamentary Paedophile Rings, cross-dressing, cocaine addiction, heroin trafficking to the Western World, and ongoing wars wherever there is either heroin, or oil.

All forms of international goverment are now mafia operations, so the worst politicians from each country are selected to join. Just like the mafia, everything is the opposite of what it seems.

Leading Defense Lawyers are running the gangs as bankers and shareholders. Queen's Counsel are heading heroin trafficking syndicates, laundering the drug money as bankers, and subcontracting out the murder of competition and leaks.

Those who commit the biggest crimes are progressively promoted to lead their country. So the fastest way to Prime Minister or President is to try and launch a nuclear strike on your own country, or supply high-end military weapons to rebels where the heroin is seeded. To become a judge, it's laundering heroin money and covering for paedophiles. For Police, it's covering up the heroin imports and selling meth. That gets you off your rape charges and makes you immune from conspiracy to murder.

Mayors are no different. If your father was the leading fence for stolen goods, then you can be a long-running mayor of the largest city. This makes it easier for the CIA to come in and steal $100 million and no one says "boo", because the cross-dressing drug-trafficking homo-Mayor was also the Minister of Police. Education is run on similar grounds, as are State Services, where a history of heroin trafficking and mass murder is a qualification above all others.

During World War II, children were traded between countries, some of noble birth. These were the Illuminati children, de-empathised as contract killers. George Bush, Bill Clinton, and Madeleine Albright are three such people. Bill Clinton was the son of Winston Churchill and Pamela Harriman – his daughter-in-law and brothel madame – who went on to snaffle US$110 million and raise son Prince Billy James Rex into the White house. Bill Clinton, as it turns out, is the grandson of King Edward VII, and both uncle and half-brother to Queen Elizabeth II – who is her own aunt.

President Barack Obama's history is just as confusing, and it seems the CIA have been cloning since 1920 – hence the Frankenstein movie as an Intelligence leak: "Here, this is what we've been up to now". So after all the discussions of whether Obama was born in Hawaii, Kenya, or the States at all, it appears he was born in Kansas, as was his mother – and is American Military property.

Because the Police and Military Intelligence are involved in so many civilian murders, very few of them ever get solved. The murder of Paul White is a case solved here, that involved banks, their conmen, the military, and police.

With a clear point of view from participants, operatives, witnesses, and the deathbed confessions of government contract killers, the myths evapourate and the finger-pointing can begin. It seems to be moving more and more in the direction of governments run as a mafia operation, and your taxes funding your own demise, with no service to back it – making you an impoverish voided slave, suspicious and anti-patriotic.

A favourite form of governance is NO RELIEF for those who expose the crimes of government and judiciary. This comes in the form of blacklisting, boilerplating, hobbling, poisoning, car accidents, and attempted murders – successful or otherwise.

Despite all this, security is still really lax, and relies most on the fog of ignorance portrayed nightly through false media readings by talking hairdos projected into your living room as award winning news. Then we find that the real news is the news reader's drug use, homosex, silent witness to a murder or two, and their bent police parents shagging transvestites in public toilets.

Despite all this, somehow I've managed to walk into a courtroom, project myself as a lawyer, and win cases for clients against those same crooked crime-creating cops, and I still expose the Mayor as a cross-dressing paedophile to get off traffic tickets.

The biggest case I won was out of courts, on radio in America, when I exposed a Queen's Counsel as the Mafia Boss of a heroin trafficking ring. He then retired on TV three hours before the second interview.

So after all the discussions of whether Obama was born in Hawaii, Kenya, or the States at all, it appears he was born in Kansas, as was his mother – and is American Military property.

Because the Police and Military Intelligence are involved in so many civilian murders, very few of them ever get solved. The murder of Paul White is a case solved here, that involved banks, their conmen, the military, and police.

With a clear point of view from participants, operatives, witnesses, and the deathbed confessions of government contract killers, the myths evapourate and the finger-pointing can begin. It seems to be moving more and more in the direction of governments run as a mafia operation, and your taxes funding your own demise, with no service to back it – making you an impoverish voided slave, suspicious and anti-patriotic.

A favourite form of governance is NO RELIEF for those who expose the crimes of government and judiciary. This comes in the form of blacklisting, boilerplating, hobbling, poisoning, car accidents, and attempted murders – successful or otherwise.

Despite all this, security is still really lax, and relies most on the fog of ignorance portrayed nightly through false media readings by talking hairdos projected into your living room as award winning news. Then we find that the real news is the news reader's drug use, homosex, silent witness to a murder or two, and their bent police parents shagging transvestites in public toilets.

Despite all this, somehow I've managed to walk into a courtroom, project myself as a lawyer, and win cases for clients against those same crooked crime-creating cops, and I still expose the Mayor as a cross-dressing paedophile to get off traffic tickets.

The biggest case I won was out of courts, on radio in America, when I exposed a Queen's Counsel as the Mafia Boss of a heroin trafficking ring. He then retired on TV three hours before the second interview.

Claimer & Disclaimer

You are about to enter the reality zone where the truth is stranger than fiction, reputations are destroyed, crimes are solved and governments are exposed as Counter-Intelligence agencies for overseas interests. Government is a Twilight Zone. Court is their censor. Read this book in daylight. The author has failed to receive the usual promotion from 'learned opinions'[1] who are in turn funded by bankers, whose role is to suppress knowledge of the Counter-Intelligence Twilight Zone. The author is trained in buildings and computers with degree and certificate as proof that his only expertise is 'sharing his opinions with these inanimate objects'. Not writing about buildings, the author is unqualified, and talking through fingers to an inanimate computer for the sole and expressed edification of that computer, renders all else an unqualified, unauthorised leak. If through feedback between the computer, the building, and Hallett, you find yourself with a signed copy of the computer's retention of Mr Hallett's fingers, then this is surely an Act of God. The writer therefore disclaims at will, any and all liability for the consequences of informing real people of their, or their neighbour's real actions, and resulting consequences, as evidence by result. No Further Disclaimer Necessary There is no further disclaimer in this book as any reader worth their own weight in salt, will find themself responsible for their own perceptions, realities, and interpretations, and influence the world as they do so. Either we allow ourselves to determine, or we allow ourselves to be determined. The later are the most forcefully ignorant complainers resulting in the most published feedback. My intent at all times is to remain honourable. Any dishonour of one, only honours the masses. If you are in the book, it is because you are in grave dishonour and have acted covinously.[2] The building, the computer, Mr Hallett's fingers and various other combined Acts of God, have never intended to dishonour the honourable mantel, only the dishonorable mantel that wears and honourable title for Counter-Intelligence and Twilight purposes. e.g. Players in the conspiracy that limits our freedoms. If you feel the need to take this information as gospel without your own due diligence then it would be against your better judgement to take action without confirming investigation. If you wish to wake from your slumber, then spread the word and join in the new peace, freedom and culture. May you have new and better paradigms, perceptions and horizons. If you find your reality in the bondage of involuntary servitude and count this as common success, then you are another drudge of the masses and I request no contact. Truth Arthur Schopenhauer (1788–1860) Philosopher paraphrased for your enjoyment: 'All truth passes through three stages: Ridiculed, violently opposed, then accepted as self-evident'. In a time of universal deceit, telling the truth is a revolutionary act. When a well-presented web of deceit is gradually sold to the masses, the truth will appear utterly preposterous, and its author a raving lunatic. A truth's initial commotion is directly proportional to how deeply the lie was laid. If you want to make someone angry, tell them a lie. If you want to make them furious, tell them the truth. Few people will listen to what they don't want to hear. Those who do are later sought out for advice. We want the full truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help me bartender. Do not confuse what you think you know, with what is true. The chances are you have been told a series of partial truths and half-baked lies. The truth is very rarely 'popular opinion'. It is usually unpopular and unpalatable. Each thinking man is opposed by a thousand mediocre minds appointed to guard the nonsensical past with all the apathy they can bore into others. Contempt without complete investigation enslaves associates into ignorance. Never underestimate the power of a large group of very stupid people. There was 'what we know', 'what we don't know', and 'what we don't know we don't know'. 'Not knowing' is unfortunate. 'Not knowing that we don't know' is tragic. Now with less of 'what we don't know', and less of 'what we don't know we don't know', the reader should be less tragic and less unfortunate. With this book, the supply of truth far outweighs the demand. Deuteronomy 19:15, paraphrased for your enjoyment: "At the mouth of two or more witnesses shall the the truth be established". This book is a collection of many viewpoints. If they all stood up in court, then it would be verified as true evidence. Having already had everything taken away from them except their lives, there are reasons they use this process of 'man, computer, book, leak, Act of God'. Telling the truth is a balancing act between getting the resolved message out and people reacting badly. Many people have lost their lives by not opening their mind. The walking dead springs to mind and adds spring to my step as I sprint away from their boring boredom. Morpheus: "You are a slave. Like everyone else, you were born into bondage, kept inside a prison you cannot see, smell, taste, or touch – a prison for your mind". Accept it or reject it, you have been told. What you do with this knowledge is your part in the revolution back to normality. The revolution has been the government ignoring the citizen. The slave is the taxpayer funding their own ignorance. Lack of information and lack of knowledge only assists the deceiver. Accurate information makes us more discerning, wiser, better informed and better able to inform our masters of their misdeeds. Withholding information serves no one. Not investigating is an ill service to ourselves. Lend me your ear, rather than your preconceived notions, psychological defences, or prejudices. Remember your initial thoughts of unencumbered freedom and direct your mind. Logic only works when the first premise is true. The government and courts never ever begin with a true premise. To them, the first true premise is an act of revolutionary violence, antipathy, and an explosion worthy of Guy Fawkes suppression. The courts act with certainty that the truth about anything will never be told. The truth begins with the question, which is the reader's initial response. This book is a collective claim. You are not part of the claim until you have investigated the truth with due diligence. Ranting opposition does not qualify. "I don't like the tone" does not qualify. Which part did you not agree with, or what part do you know a greater truth to? "I know this person, they're not like that" does not qualify. Unless you meet them in the bedroom, you do not know that person. Your doubt is worth investigating. It leads to research, and research usually leads to exhaustion and paths of doubt. The only thing that counts is the inside story and that most often originates in the field, or is sourced in the bedroom. A secret is only secret because so few want to hear. When everyone knows, it can still be a secret. Each story, repugnant, impossible, absurd, has a greater chance of being true, especially since New Zealand is run by Counter-Intelligence and not by intelligence. First they ridicule the story, then they blacklist the author, then they accept it as a self-evident secret, then they refuse to act on it, and when it has lost its power to influence, they talk about their involvement in the story and the subjects downfall. How weak is man when truth limits him. When Guy Fawkes attacked the government, his real target was the banks who control the governments and the courts, who dictate by occult.

DEDICATION

To the dead,
and the walking dead,
and those who can no longer talk.

To those murdered, genocided, killed, suicided, wiped out, wetted, liquidated, snuffed, snuffled, treated with extreme unction, missing, left behind, hidden, suppressed, informed on,
disbelieved, and burnt alive.

To those who are on their way to finding out that Government is just another gang – the world's biggest gang that no longer serves the people, but the One World Order, and will resort to murder with extreme bias and approved immunity to carry out the agenda dictated to them, and accepted by them,
on account of their shame.

Beware the contract killer under the guise of:
"WE ARE THE AUTHORITY HERE TO HELP".

Author: "I was adopted into the fringes of the mafia and here's my story.
I've dealt with them all."
Spymaster: "No don't, f*ck, don't write that. Put a line through it.
Are you sick of life?"
Safebreaker: "Well it's true. You have been."

INTRODUCTION

THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME

Sex, Drugs & Murder provide opportunity for the most shame

These three volumes were lodged in the High Court on 20 April 2009 and in the District Court up to 11 September 2009. Both were then updated. The Court is a court of record and these documents include the record of New Zealand government attacks on the author in order to protect their own from being exposed as murderers, drug traffickers, drug money launderers, drug users, paedophiles, incestuous child sex abusers and slavers . . . while promoting each other as career twins compromised and shamed by all of the above.

Effectively, New Zealand does not have a judiciary or a government. It has an Occult Mafia who will go to any lengths to ignore the truth and have it suppressed in order to suppress the truth about themselves.

In maintaining a respectable face, there is no limit to the lengths they will go, escalating from issuing traffic tickets, kidnapping your children, drugging children, turning them into child drug dealers, arranging car accidents, removing your driver licence, doing false tax audits then closing down your business, stealing your house, surrounding you with government narcs and spies, arranging false bills, ensuring no credit is ever paid and no financially beneficial case is ever won . . . and then murdering the target and their immediate family when deemed necessary (Samoa Tsunami).

This is all pervasive in the New Zealand Government and Judiciary. Both are an Occult Mafia of Economic Hitmen who specialise in arranging bills, minimising payouts, maximising losses, manufacturing charges, maintaining unproven charges on record, and listing with extreme prejudice in all government departments. The target is then marked for non-promotion with maximum prejudice against employment – by blacklisting, hobbling, and boiler-plating. This is called "NO RELIEF".

In effect, the whole scenario becomes a distraction – for a lifetime – and a meal ticket for the person who records it. Conversely, the paedophiles and paedophile-minders are on the life-long promotion list as protected citizens. Their shame is directly proportional to their promotions, which is directly proportional to how much they can be controlled. The Protocols of Zion, 1903, No. 10: ". . . as have in their past some dark, undiscovered stain . . . then they will be trustworthy agents . . . out of fear of revelations . . . a puppet in our hands."

Government murders are treated as the most effective means of blacklisting, and when these fail, repeatedly, financial assassinations take precedence. They are run to rule and ruin until their target has nothing left to lose. This is usually done by influential judicial figures on the promotion ladder in exchange for cover of their shame. The compromised ladder, the spineless ladder, the shame ladder, and the promotion ladder are all the same thing.

New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.

In protection of the mafia boss Peter Williams QC, on 11 September 2009, Auckland District Court Judge Roderick Joyce permanently sealed: The Statement of Claim, and associated Affidavit (11 February 2009); Memorandum, and Interlocutory Application in Support (22 May 2009); Evaluation Conference document (26 August 2009); Statement of Claim, Affidavit in Support, and Discovery request (26 August 2009); and the Memorandum of Plaintiff (28 August 2009); and four books authored by Greg Hallett as stolen by Peter Williams' partner, Heeni Phillips (they're both thieves) and presented to the Auckland District Court including:

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide; How to Take Over the World – A Right Royal Con; Stalin's British Training – Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War; and Gifting the United Nations to Stalin.

Hitler was a British Agent would also have been suppressed, but it was stolen off the court files by Williams' own narc – No. 5 on the terrorist list. Williams was running the terrorism racket and had his target named as No. 5. Then, when I was making a documentary on terrorist No. 5, I was named No. 10 . . . by Peter Williams QC – so that's narky nepotism terrorism.

First there was heroin, then there was terrorism and Peter Williams QC was involved in both.
That boy just can't keep out of the limelight.

It's not that these permanently sealed documents were wrong in their content, it's just that they were too difficult for Williams to sidestep, which was too embarrassing for the Judiciary to handle.

PAWQC was backed into a corner admitting he was Mr Asia, so the Courts did the denying for him.

In support of the mafia boss Peter Williams QC, Judge Roderick Joyce enlisted the help of the Auckland District Court Law Society seminar (10–11 September 2009) who justified the "permanently sealed" status of the enclosed documents, by going back over 800 years of rulings (to 1841, 1872 and 1873) to establish that:
"The District Court has no such jurisdiction" but
"Court embarrassment is an abuse of the process",
"However outrageous conduct is not scandalous if relevant to the issues" and unsealing [is] by judicial direction only; so Mr Hallett was given the option to drop the entire case or retain only one document – a single page, as presented on 27 May 2009.

Judge Joyce's 11 September 2009 Minute was an historical censorship document, one of the biggest censorships in the history of New Zealand Law, next to Judge Lin Stevens' censorship of substantially similar material in the High Court on 20 April 2009.

Judge Joyce: "The present application are permeated with scandalous material . . .
Mr Hallett has gone far beyond any permissible boundaries."
So it's a case of:
"The oath shall not be an oath, the pledge shall not be a pledge, and the vow shall not be a vow. They shall have no force and effect."

It appears that the Judicary raised the car thief, heroin trafficker and murderer, Peter Williams, to Queen's Counsel so he could arrange their murders for them, whenever their reputation was questioned. Like paedophiles, judges always demand respect, but think they are rock stars. They arrive in court, no one knows who they are, and they get really grumpy when you ask: "Who are you? What is your name?"

It is true: Judges are rock stars, but they are the rock stars of the criminal world.
New Zealand is a country where the gang gets the gong, and in New Zealand, the judiciary is a gang.

The New Zealand judiciary is heavily involved as protagonists and defenders in heroin trafficking, murder, laundering drug money, taking bribes, and destroying the lives of any citizen more honest than themselves . . . the Judiciary is the bane of New Zealand.

The questions on all of our lips should be –
"When did Government stop serving its Citizens and start attacking them?" . . . and
"When did Government stop serving its Citizens and start murdering them?"

We have few heroes because they are killed off.
They are killed off because they make governments and judiciaries look bad.
Governments look bad because, upon investigation, they are murderers, heroin traffickers, paedophiles and prostitutes.

Shocking claims in book

FRANK: Bridget Saunders says she knows some of the stories are true.

by John Landrigan

MILLIE Holmes, her “drug-running stepfather Paul”, the “incontinent KBG operative Helen Clark”, Christine Rankin and her “bondage lover” Geoffrey Palmer, all feature in bizarre and outrageous stories featured in a widely available New Zealand book.

But rather than being banished, this absurd work by Greg Hallett – New Zealand – a Blackmailers’ Guide is available in the non-fiction section of Auckland University library and bookstores near you.

The prolific writer has already written bizarre titles such as Hitler was a British Agent, How to take over the World – A Right Royal Con, and Gifting the United Nations to Stalin.

“The only reason I have not been sued is because everything I say is true,” says the Auckland architect. “I find out stories before they are lost among counter-intelligence.”

He even gets the nod of approval from Kiwi gossip columnist Bridget Saunders whose supportive comments in her Sunday Star Times column appear on the back jacket of his book.

“Much of it defies belief,” says Saunders. “But some of it I know for a fact (because of my own crazy occupation) to be true.”

What bizarre claims are true, Bridget? Has Hallett correctly named well-known Kiwi paedophile enablers, compromised bi-sexuals, homosexuals, drug users and dealers, and unravelled the gay-lesbian bid to take over the world?

But what’s more disturbing is Hallett’s sordid analysis of 19-year-old Millie Holmes’ drug conviction and the means by which she is said to have gained her supply of P.

This book is readily available to her peers at university libraries.

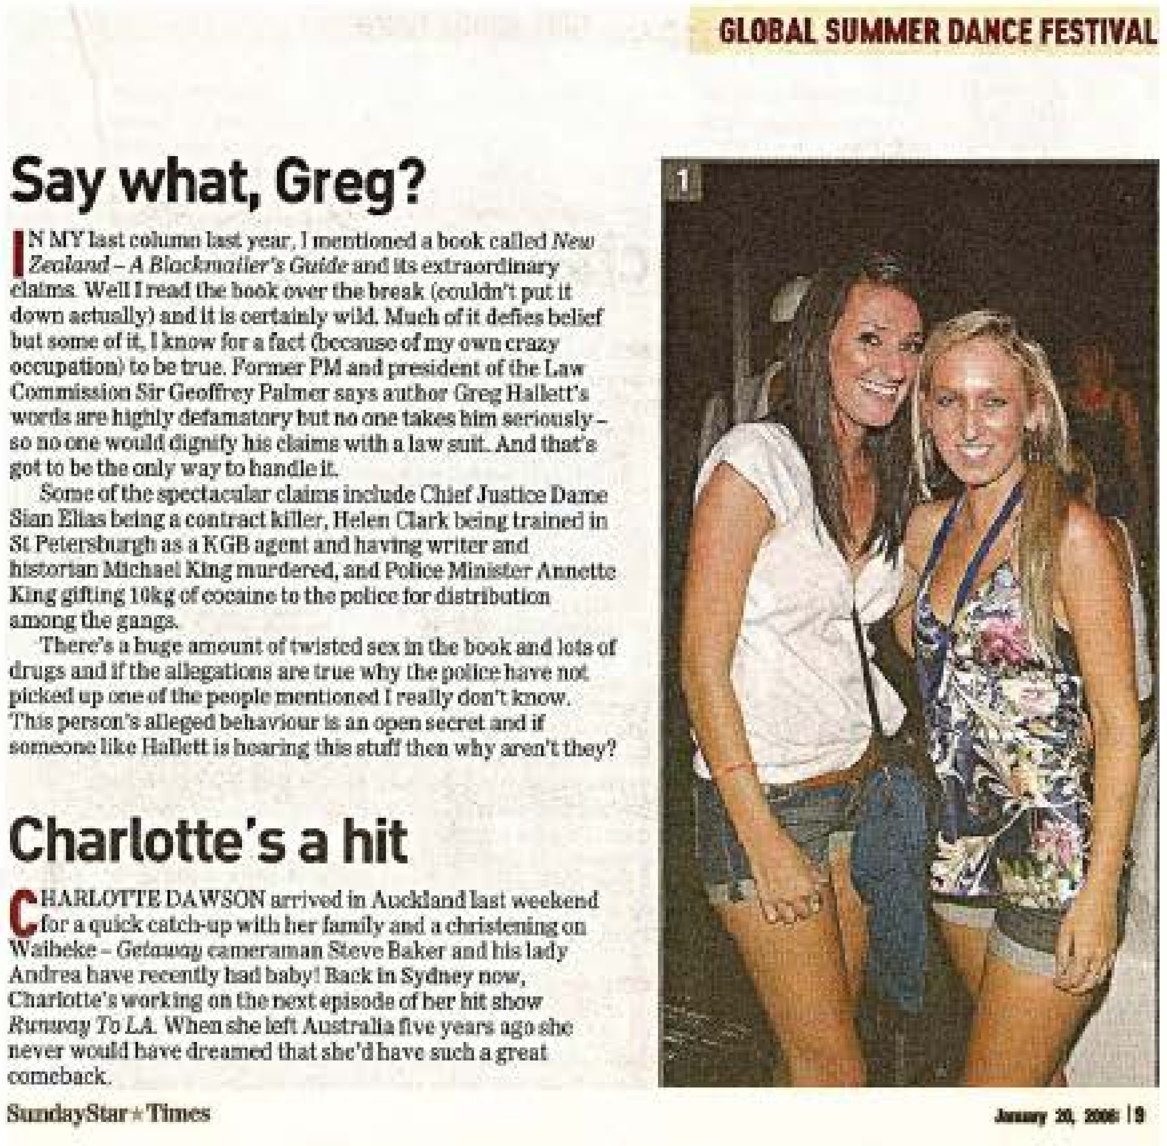
Although media in New Zealand largely ignore Hallett, he has more than 14 hours of podcasts available online where he tells the world New Zealand is run by paedophiles, homosexuals who are controlled by shame.

His works are also discussed on global websites as if they were fact.

He is also considering making documentaries.

Truth has already reported that Harrods’ owner Mohammed Al Fayed has bought several copies of his books in the lead up to the inquest into Princess Diana’s death.

And now Hallett proudly counts among his readers comedian Russell Brand and Toto guitarist Steve Lukather.



GLOBAL SUMMER DANCE FESTIVAL

Say what, Greg?

IN MY last column last year, I mentioned a book called New Zealand – A Blackmailer’s Guide and its extraordinary claims. Well I read the book over the break (couldn’t put it down actually) and it is certainly wild. Much of it defies belief but some of it, I know for a fact (because of my own crazy occupation) to be true. Former PM and president of the Law Commission Sir Geoffrey Palmer says author Greg Hallett’s words are highly defamatory but no one takes him seriously – so no one would dignify his claims with a law suit. And that’s got to be the only way to handle it.

Some of the spectacular claims include Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias being a contract killer, Helen Clark being trained in St Petersburgh as a KGB agent and having writer and historian Michael King murdered, and Police Minister Annette King gifting 10kg of cocaine to the police for distribution among the gangs.

There’s a huge amount of twisted sex in the book and lots of drugs and if the allegations are true why the police have not picked up one of the people mentioned I really don’t know. This person’s alleged behaviour is an open secret and if someone like Hallett is hearing this stuff then why aren’t they?

Charlotte’s a hit

CHARLOTTE DAWSON arrived in Auckland last weekend for a quick catch-up with her family and a christening on Waiheke – Getaway cameraman Steve Baker and his lady Andrea have recently had baby! Back in Sydney now, Charlotte’s working on the next episode of her hit show Runway To LA. When she left Australia five years ago she never would have dreamed that she’d have such a great comeback.

Freedom of screech?

IN THE mould of the long-defunct but horribly scurrilous website NZtabloid, there's now a gossip book just come out ($45) that could fry certain celebrity minds – and careers! It's called New Zealand Blackmail and has been written and independently published by Greg Hallett, an architect and the author of six other books – including one called Hitler Was A British Agent.

Hallett's a character – he gatecrashed the BMW dinner for Bill Clinton here in 2002, walked passed umpteen secret service guys and handed him one of his books in brown paper wrapping. It could have been a bomb! So much for security!

Anyway, this latest tome sounds wild. It cites one high-ranking politician as having to wear nappies permanently thanks to a certain deviant practice and a media superstar is named as a drug dealer. This naming would have the person in question behind bars for quite a long time so I am scratching my head as to why legal bombs have not been dropped. If Wendyl Nissen's book was menaced with legal action because it intimated a writer got a job because of nepotism, then what sort of legal action would a book that names a celebrity as a dealer incur?

The most stunning aspect of this is that the book is available through the Auckland Library catalogue. Former PM and president of the Law Commission, Sir Geoffrey Palmer, says Hallett's words are certainly defamatory, but still in circulation because no one takes him seriously. So far Truth is the only publication to refer, albeit incredulously, to Hallett's oeuvre, which includes such gems as Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias being a contract killer, Helen Clark being a KGB agent and Police Minister Annette King gifting 10kg of cocaine to the police for them to distribute among the gangs.

The Diana link. . .

THE LATE Dodi Al-Fayed, who, let's face it, had no reason to much like the royal family, bought five copies of Hitler Was A British Agent. In January 2007 Hallett got a cheque along with a letter postmarked Knightsbridge, saying: "I am certain that Mr Al-Fayed would be interested to read any other material that you publish." He has framed them and they hang proudly on his wall.

PUTIN ON GRAVE FACE IN NZ

Was Russian leader a KGB kingpin in Godzone?

BODY DOUBLE: A Russian (far left), with an uncanny resemblance to Vladimir Putin (right), was pictured in New Zealand in 1986.

by John Landrigan

IF Russian President Vladimir Putin was the man photographed in New Zealand during the 1986 inquiry into the sinking of a Soviet cruise liner he was a bigger KGB player than previously thought, say Kiwi authors.

But the Russian embassy says a snapshot, supplied exclusively to NZ Truth Weekly by Kiwi author Greg Hallett, bears "no relation to reality" because Russia's most powerful man was working in East Germany at the time.

Truth readers can make up their own minds about the Putin-like figure shown standing next to Captain Vladislav Vorobyvev of the sunken liner Mikhail Lermontov, and chairman of the preliminary inquiry into its sinking, New Zealander Stephen Ponsford.

Author Graeme Hunt, whose just released book Spies and Revolutionaries, which claims three prominent New Zealanders, Bill Sutch, Ian Milner and Paddy Costello, were spying for the Russians in the 1960s, is also adamant Putin was here well before his official first visit at the 1999 Apec meeting.

"A man bearing a striking resemblance to Putin was in New Zealand in 1986 during the inquiry into the sinking of the Mikhail Lermontov in the Marlborough Sounds," says Hunt.

"New Zealand was a major listening post for the Russians and of great significance for their intelligence gathering in the Pacific. If it's him it shows he was a little more than the pen pusher he claims he was for the KGB."

The book, which covers the history of spying from the 1860s to the Israeli passports scandal in 2004, also suggests Putin may have been here when David Lange ordered Soviet diplomat Sergei Budnik to leave in 1987.

But third secretary at the Russian Federation embassy in Wellington, Alexander Kim, says Putin was only in New Zealand in 1999 to attend the Apec summit as the then-Prime Minister of the Russian Federation.

But "as to the assertions" Putin came to New Zealand on assignment for the KGB in 1986 for the sinking inquiry, he's not so sure.

"They seem to bear no relation to reality taking into account that from 1985-90 he worked in East Germany."

Kim refused to answer more questions surrounding the mysterious telltale photograph prolific conspiracy writer Hallett published in his latest book How To Take Over The World.

Hallett's book sensationally claims Putin was Helen Clark's KGB contact from 1980-82, when he lived in Wellington as a fisheries inspector for the Russian embassy. He says Putin, who drank at the Shamrock Hotel in Wellington at 7.30pm on Fridays, had two body doubles who went by the names of Valenti Putin, Alexia Putin and Alexander Putin while cover was maintained in East Germany.

"The KGB in New Zealand had covers as obvious as fisheries inspectors and cultural attaches when there was no need for Russia to inspect fish nor did they have a culture present."

■ With 734 people on board and under command of Captain Vorobyvev, the Mikhail Lermontov headed on its last voyage to Milford Sound in February, 1986. Captain Don Jamison, the Marlborough Harbour Board harbourmaster, pilot and acting general manager, joined the ship to guide her out of the Marlborough Sounds while Vorobyvev was in his cabin. For some unexplained reason, Jamison directed the helmsman to steer between Cape Jackson and the lighthouse, barely 460m from shore and an area he reportedly knew to be too shallow.

The ship, which is now one of Marlborough's most popular diving attractions, suffered severe damage after it was grounded on rocks, took on water, rolled to one side and later sank.

All passengers and crew were taken off, apart from a Russian engineer who was thought to have drowned when the Lermontov first hit the rocks. His body was not recovered.

Richard Prebble, Minister of Transport when the cruise liner sank in 1986, says he still gets phone calls from "conspiracy theorists".

SOME OF THE TARGETS

Hitler Was a British Agent: Complete with wild accusations about prominent New Zealanders, it is available in all libraries.

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con: Just released and soon to be available in public libraries.

Stalin's British training – Paedophiles at War: Hallett says known history is a con. Available soon.

Books available to all from libraries

TWO of Auckland author Greg Hallett's books are available to anyone anywhere in New Zealand through an inter-loan scheme with public libraries, National Library spokeswoman Allison Elliott says.

It is a legal requirement to file copies of all books published in New Zealand, which means Hallett's latest works, if published here, will also be available.

"We are required to receive it and make it accessible for the peoples of New Zealand – to document our heritage for the benefit of New Zealanders," Elliott says.

Hallett says his two other books have been posted to the library, as required by law.

Auckland City Libraries group manager Allison Dobbie says they also hold two of his works.

One is Are you my father? The Family Court and Other Experiments, published in 2002.

"This is widely held in New Zealand libraries. We have had no customer complaints about this work, and the 10 copies we hold are still getting reasonable use by our customers."

The other title held is Hitler Was a British Agent.

"Auckland City Libraries holds one copy of this work available for customers to request and borrow. We have received one complaint about the work," Dobbie says.

"Looking at the work it is clear that it is not an example of orthodox scholarship.

"But it is quite common for customers to want to read a controversial title, particularly if published in New Zealand."

Dobbie says the presence of an item in the collection does not indicate an endorsement of its contents by Auckland City Libraries, but rather is an affirmation of the principle of intellectual freedom.

The library's collection development policy says it "will endeavour to make available to its users a balanced presentation of all sides of any controversial issues.

"Materials are acquired that represent varying points of view so that members of the community may be informed and make individual judgements.

"In upholding these principles it is accepted that while people have the right to reject for themselves material of which they do not approve, they do not have the right to restrict the freedom of others," it says.

THE QUEEN: Anand Satyanand is the Governor-General and personal representative here of Queen Elizabeth II. He did not answer questions before Truth went to print about Hallett's allegations the British royal family should be sent into exile because they are a subset of an incestuous bloodline who control all wars.

PRIME MINISTER HELEN CLARK: KGB operative/contract killer. Not available for comment when Truth went to print.

CHIEF JUSTICE DAME SIAN ELIAS: Accused of being a contract killer who is gifting the South Island to China. No comment.

POLICE MINISTER ANNETTE KING: No comment on accusations of dishing out 10kg of cocaine for the police to distribute to gangs. Her press secretary, John Saunders, would not say if she had received our questions or is aware of Hallett's books. He hung up and did not return calls.

NAZI DICTATOR ADOLF HITLER: British agent from an incestuous bloodline connected with the British royal family. Unable to comment.

RUSSIAN PRESIDENT VLADIMIR PUTIN: In cahoots with Clark and Wilson while working as fisheries officer in Wellington from 1980-82.

MICKEY MOUSE: Disneyland founder Walt Disney is accused of financing Germany during WWII. Not a squeak.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE MARGARET WILSON: Would not speak to NZ Truth Weekly. Accused of being a KGB operative who planned to nuke US property.

WHAT HALLETT SAYS

SOME examples of Greg Hallett's more peculiar accusations:

- Prime Minister Helen Clark was born male, was trained as a KGB operative and held secret talks in the 1980s with Russian President Vladimir Putin, who was at the time allegedly working undercover as a Wellington fisheries inspector.
- With Speaker of the House Margaret Wilson, the three allegedly planned a nuclear strike on American property from a Russian nuclear-armed submarine in New Zealand waters.
- Chief Justice Sian Elias and Helen Clark contracted Israeli Mossad agents to kill writer and historian Michael King, Sir Peter Elworthy and Green MP Rod Donald.
- Adolf Hitler was a British agent related to the British royal family through an incestuous bloodline.
- Sweeping allegations are made against Paul Holmes and international broadcaster Anita McNaught whose Kiwi husband Olaf Wiig was kidnapped and held in Gaza, Palestine, for two weeks last year.

KIWI'S BOOK CLAIMS

Exclusive by John Landrigan

PROMINENT Kiwis are savagely attacked in a series of conspiracy books distributed globally by a New Zealand author and available to all in public libraries here.

Prime Minister Helen Clark and husband Peter Davis bear the brunt of Auckland writer Greg Hallett's claims, as does Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias, several MP's including Police Minister Annette King and Speaker of the House Margaret Wilson, and media stars Paul Holmes and Anita McNaught.

Many of the allegations are of a sexual nature and so outlandish they are laughable, not withstanding that Hallett promotes them as fact in his books and on worldwide Web radio.

And the well-presented Auckland architect Hallett does not pull any punches when it comes to world figures and his wacky version of historical events either.

The books claim prominent people throughout history are part of a cross-generational plot to dominate and force a new world order on the unsuspecting masses.

But former prime minister and president of the Law Commission Sir Geoffrey Palmer says the books are probably still circulating because no one takes them seriously.

"You could get orders suppressing the books. This is defamation ... it is a published libel now – (but) who wants to spend money to pursue them?" says Sir Geoffrey.

"You can never disprove a conspiracy. It's not possible because you have to prove a negative. People who want to believe them do, but the vast majority with common sense don't take that stuff seriously."

This month Truth discovered Mohamed Al Fayed, owner of iconic London store Harrods, bought five copies of Hallett's 550-page tome Hitler Was a British Agent, with an accompanying letter saying he was interested in further works.

Al Fayed is embroiled in what is the world's most sensational inquest into the car crash deaths of his son Dodi and Princess Diana. He claims there was a conspiracy led by the British royal family.

Hallett and unidentifiable co-writer "The Spymaster" have written How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con; Stalin's British training – Paedophiles at War; Hitler Was a British Agent; and Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments.

He says he is surprised no one has taken him to task over the allegations.

"It's in 24 countries. I spread it wide as a safety valve. After two years it will be an accepted work rather than considered new and dangerous. It will be supported and utilised by other writers."

"We are required to receive it and make it accessible for the peoples of New Zealand – to document our heritage for the benefit of New Zealanders," Elliott says.

Hallett says his two other books have been posted to the library, as required by law.

Auckland City Libraries group manager Allison Dobbie says they also hold two of his works.

One is Are you my father? The Family Court and Other Experiments, published in 2002.

"This is widely held in New Zealand libraries. We have had no customer complaints about this work, and the 10 copies we hold are still getting reasonable use by our customers."

The other title held is Hitler Was a British Agent.

"Auckland City Libraries holds one copy of this work available for customers to request and borrow. We have received one complaint about the work," Dobbie says.

"Looking at the work it is clear that it is not an example of orthodox scholarship.

"But it is quite common for customers to want to read a controversial title, particularly if published in New Zealand."

Dobbie says the presence of an item in the collection does not indicate an endorsement of its contents by Auckland City Libraries, but rather is an affirmation of the principle of intellectual freedom.

The library's collection development policy says it "will endeavour to make available to its users a balanced presentation of all sides of any controversial issues.

"Materials are acquired that represent varying points of view so that members of the community may be informed and make individual judgements.

"In upholding these principles it is accepted that while people have the right to reject for themselves material of which they do not approve, they do not have the right to restrict the freedom of others," it says.

WHAT HALLETT SAYS

SOME examples of Greg Hallett's more peculiar accusations:

- Prime Minister Helen Clark was born male, was trained as a KGB operative and held secret talks in the 1980s with Russian President Vladimir Putin, who was at the time allegedly working undercover as a Wellington fisheries inspector.
- With Speaker of the House Margaret Wilson, the three allegedly planned a nuclear strike on American property from a Russian nuclear-armed submarine in New Zealand waters.
- Chief Justice Sian Elias and Helen Clark contracted Israeli Mossad agents to kill writer and historian Michael King, Sir Peter Elworthy and Green MP Rod Donald.
- Adolf Hitler was a British agent related to the British royal family through an incestuous bloodline.
- Sweeping allegations are made against Paul Holmes and international broadcaster Anita McNaught whose Kiwi husband Olaf Wig was kidnapped and held in Gazza, Palestine, for two weeks last year.

Blacklisting

Hobbling and Boiler-Plating

Blacklisting : to stop someone's career from taking off; to interfer in their relationships so that they cannot breed; to prevent good fortune; to sabotage happiness; to ensure no promotion; to segregate from the community; to relegate from society; to place a black mark against one's name; to judge unfairly.

Hobbling : to impede and hamper progress; to harness a person as though their legs were tied together; to place a person in an awkward situation, and a series of difficult situations; to carve up someone's future on uneven ground; to judge unfairly.

Boiler-Plating : to put someone in a continual state of fear through untraceable events, often using NTO's (Non-Traceable Operatives) so that the target is hobbled and the result is blacklisted; to create crime in the target's name; to convict without warrant; to judge unfairly.

Commensurate with the ongoing defamation by government departments, Google search for "Greg Hallett" on 27 July 2008 shows the Nomore Cowboys listing of "Greg Hallett" comes 6th. The 28 July 2008 Nomore Cowboys listing of "Greg Hallett" comes 9th. If you Google "Greg Hallett", I fill up to 70% of 10 pages, so 6th and 9th are very prominent listings. It means a lot of people are looking at the Nomore Cowboys listing.

Since people search for my website about every 6 minutes, and I get a hit on my website about every hour, this Nomore Cowboys listing of "Greg Hallett" is highly defamatory. It is limiting my book and architecture sales, and the credibility of my interviews.

I checked the shareholders of Nomore Cowboys and many are lawyers. I presume they are attacking people they are instructed to attack by judges who have been instructed to attack.

"John" of no surname says: "Shocker, should not be allowed to practice".

But who is John?

The listing may not be someone who has employed me, but a personal attack, as I don't operate as "Greg Hallett Designs", but as "Hallett Design Solutions Limited".

Had there been a Nomore Cowboys listing against Hallett Design Solutions Limited, it would hardly have shown on Google.

I strongly suspect "John" is working the defamation on behalf of the judiciary, like 'Judge Johnny Hole'. Since the attacks began in earnest, my income has dropped to 15% of what it was. This is over the last 10 years, so that's about NZ$1.4 million lost.

Memberships and directorships

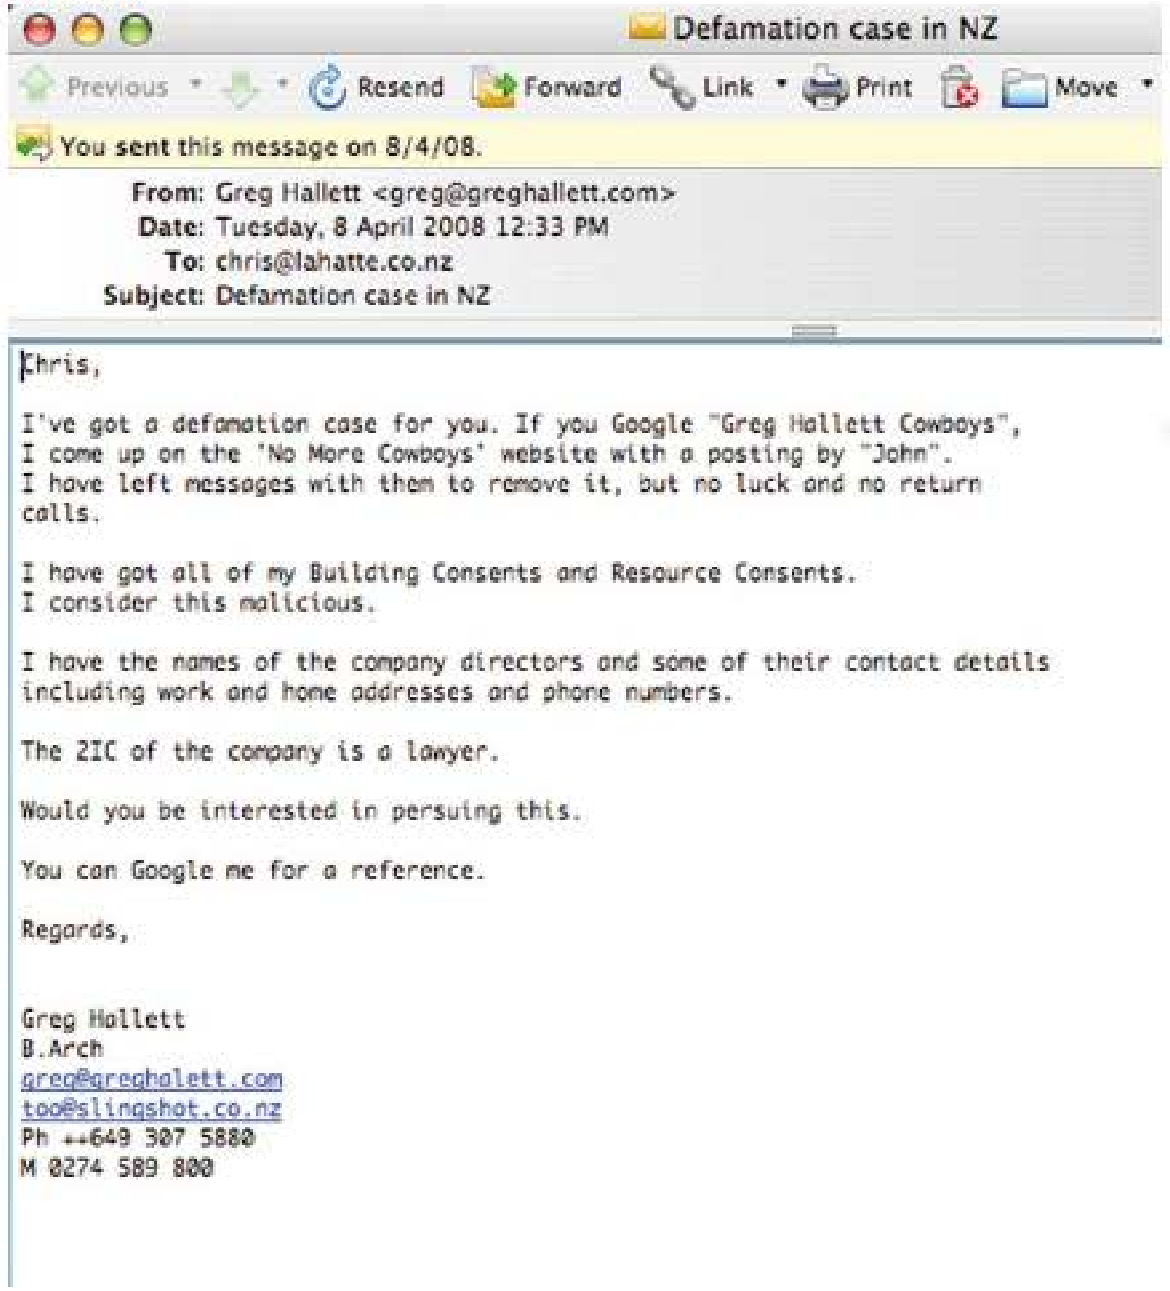
NOCOWBOYS LIMITED Company Director Zane KENNEDY.

I phoned the NoCowboys/ www.nocowboys.co.nz/ NOCOWBOYS LIMITED contact, Bruce Lindsay, (M 0274 280 162) and got no answer. This was followed by return silent calls from 0274 280 162 that bordered on harrassment.

Zane Kennedy was also unavailable. I tried phoning him. No response. I tried emailing him. No response. I left a message with his secretary. No response. When push comes to shove, it would appear that Zane Kennedy is a cut-and-dried legal assassin. I'm sure that by attacking me he has an easier ride with judges.

I also phoned the NoCowboys/NOCOWBOYS LIMITED accountants, Blackmore Virtue and Owens, and they were equally evasive, as if none of them could do their job.

So I contacted the defamation lawyer Chris Lahatte on 8 April 2008. He was away in Afghanistan at the time and was expected back in January, so I guess it's time to contact him again.



You sent this message on 8/4/08.

Subject: Defamation case in NZ

Chris,

I've got a defamation case for you. If you Google "Greg Hallett Cowboys", I come up on the 'No More Cowboys' website with a posting by "John". I have left messages with them to remove it, but no luck and no return calls.

I have got all of my Building Consents and Resource Consents. I consider this malicious.

I have the names of the company directors and some of their contact details including work and home addresses and phone numbers.

The 2IC of the company is a lawyer.

Would you be interested in persuing this.

You can Google me for a reference.

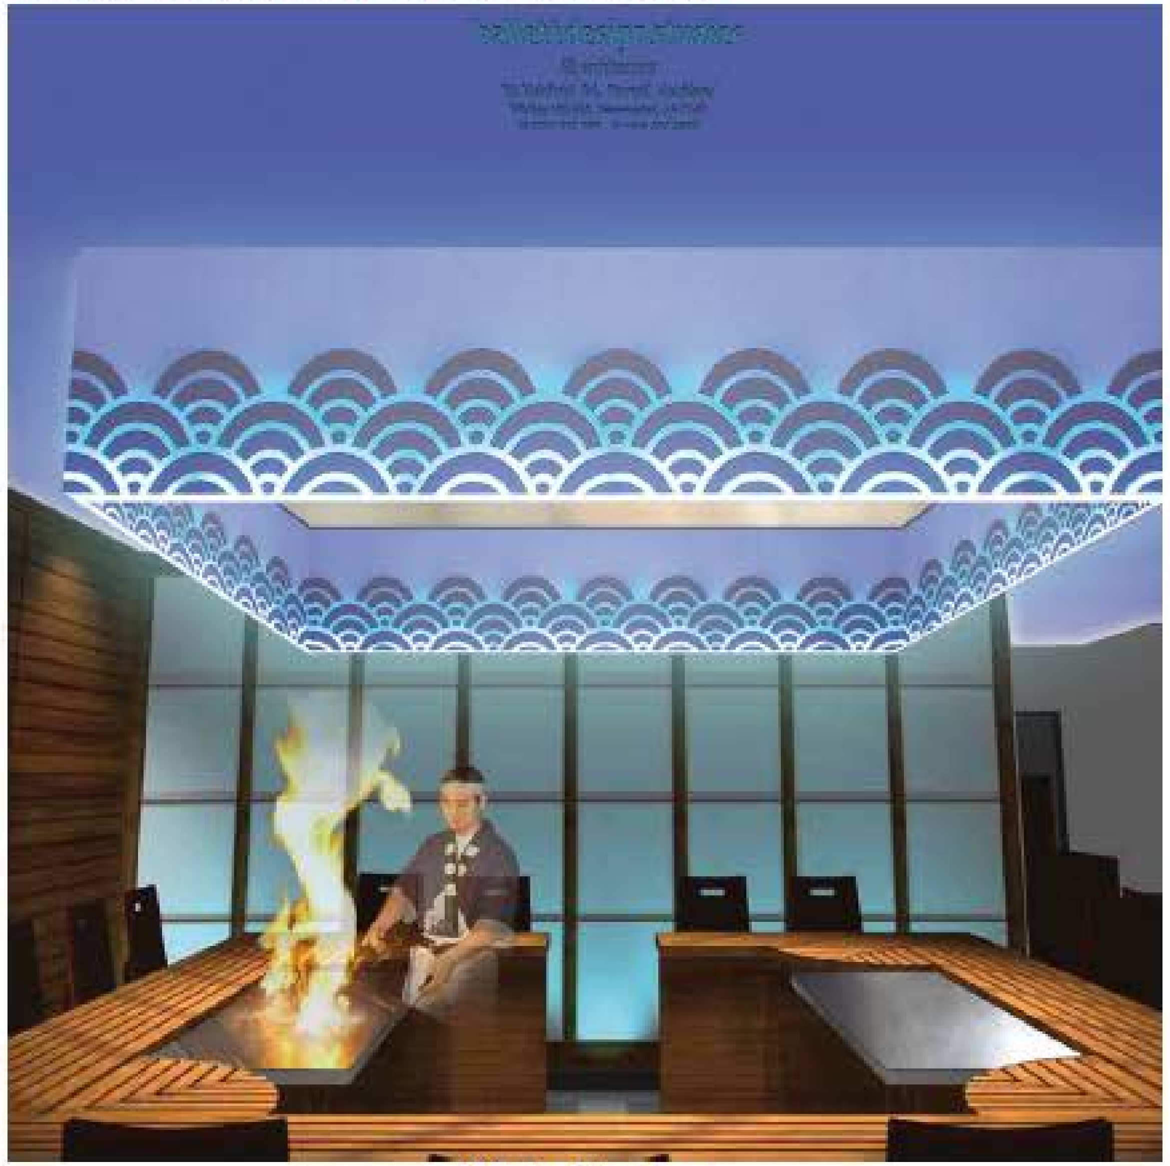
Following are some samples of my work as Director of Hallett Design Solutions Limited.

All of the work is virtual. That is, it is not yet built. Note the teppanyaki chef with no legs.

The last three images are photos of a house designed by me 1999 for a Landscape Road in Mt Eden, Auckland. It was built in 2000.

Bailey's Real Estate described it as "an inspirational Greg Hallett design" in 2007.

Its government valuation was four times the cost to build.



Virtual Design
(Not built but placed in a model of existing surroundings)

Blacklisting against me became so well known, clients didn't pay and preferred to take their chances and advantage in Court. This happened with this teppanyaki design. The client argued that he never received the drawings. In my cases, the judges do everything they can 'not to see the evidence', thus ensuring maximum use of the courts, maximum delays, and maximum stress – Operations Research and silent weapons for a quiet war.

Just a pertinent note:
Judges don't understand architects and architects don't understand law.
Neither understand architectural insurance.
Judges have money and no taste. Architects have taste and no money.
Judges are envious of architects because they actually produce something real, physical and worthwhile. Architects think judges are part of the Axis of Evil . . . so judges tend to go for existing houses over 100 years old and have no understanding or experience of the process and practise of architecture . . . so in a hearing, judges always go for the kill shot.

Contemporary Living for the Modern Family

An inspirational Greg Hallett design, this spacious 268m² four bedroom, plus study and two bathroom family home has an ageless character of its own. Perfectly designed and positioned to capture and to take full advantage of the sun, enhancing that all important indoor to outdoor flow to the immaculately tended grounds, which presents a superb safe and secure playground for all ages. Stunning views of Mt Eden to the City from the top level balconies are merely a bonus. Being a rear section of 497m², this tranquil and private setting will be an absolute delight to come home to at any time of the year; upon viewing you will soon determine that for yourself. An incidental, but still important....good gated off street parking both covered and outdoor. CV: $820,000 (July 2005)

SILENT WEAPONS FOR A QUIET WAR

An Introductory Programming Manual
Operations Research Technical Manual

[Formerly TOP SECRET]

"WELCOME ABOARD: This publication marks the 25th anniversary of the Third World War, called the 'Quiet War', [1954–] being conducted using subjective biological warfare, fought with 'silent weapons'. This book contains an introductory description of this war, its strategies, and its weaponry. (May 1979, No. 74–1120)."[1]

Security

It is patently impossible to discuss social engineering or the automation of a society, i.e., the engineering of social automation systems (silent weapons) on a national or worldwide scale without implying extensive objectives of social control and destruction of human life, i.e. slavery and genocide.

This manual is in itself an analog declaration of intent. Such a writing must be secured from public scrutiny. Otherwise, it might be recognized as a technically formal declaration of domestic war. Furthermore, whenever any person or group of persons in a position of great power, and without the full knowledge and consent of the public, uses such knowledge and methodology for economic conquest – it must be understood that a state of domestic warfare exists between said person or group of persons and the public."

> Interpretation: This manual is recognized as a technically formal declaration of domestic war. Whenever any person or group in a position of power uses this knowledge and methodology for economic conquest, a state of domestic warfare exists between the person/group and the public.[2]

"The solution of today's problems requires an approach which is ruthlessly candid, with no agonizing over religious, moral, or cultural values."[3]

You have qualified for this project because of your ability to look at human society with cold objectivity, and yet analyse and discuss your observations and conclusions with others of similar intellectual capacity without a loss of discretion or humility. Such virtues are exercised in your own best interest. Do not deviate from them.

Historical Introduction

Silent weapon technology has evolved from Operations Research (O.R.), a strategic and tactical methodology developed under the military management in England during World War II. The original purpose of Operations Research was to study the strategic and tactical problems of air and land defense with the objective of effective use of limited military resources against foreign enemies, i.e. logistics.

It was soon recognized by those in positions of power that the same methods might be useful for totally controlling a society. But better tools were necessary.

Social engineering (the analysis and automation of a society) requires the correlation of great amounts of constantly changing economic information (data), so a high speed computerized data processing system was necessary which could race ahead of the society and predict when society would arrive for capitulation.

Relay computers were too slow, but the electronic computer, invented in 1946 by J. Presper Eckert and John W. Mauchly filled the bill.

The next breakthrough was the development of the simplex method of linear programming in 1947 by the mathematician, George B. Dantzig.

Then, in 1948, the transistor, invented by J. Bardeen, W. H. Brattain, and W. Shockley, promised great expansion of the computer field by reducing space and power requirements.

Between 1946 and 1948 the electronic computer, simplex linear programming, and transistor were invented. Under Operations Research direction (with the help of RCA) it was strongly suspected that it was possible to control the whole world with the push of a button.

The Rockefeller Foundation got in on the ground floor by making a four-year grant (1948–52) to the 'Harvard economic research project' for the study of the structure of the American economy.

In 1949 the U.S. Air Force joined in.

By 1952, the Harvard economic research project had been very fruitful and a high level meeting of the elite was held to determine the next phase of Social Operations Research (SOR).

In 1953, the results were published suggesting the feasibility of economic and social engineering.[4] By 1954 it was ready to be implemented as the new Quiet War machine (QW).

In 1954 the Maser promised to unlock unlimited sources of fusion atomic energy by extracting heavy hydrogen from seawater. This was to occur within decades and considered an unlimited source of energy, and an unlimited source of social power.

To the Operations Research Elite (ORE), the combination of controlling the world with the push of a button, understanding the structure of the American economy, the feasibility of economic and social engineering, and unlimited fusion atomic energy, was magnetic, and the Operations Research Elite have stuck to this ever since.

Heads were spinning like a child first engaging their mind and thinking it was possible to become God. Successively down the ego line, this was to be gods – to be relied upon as God – that which allocates or destroys all commodities – and hence to be in TOTAL CONTROL. To the commoner, GOD became 'Guaranteed-Over-Draft'.

At a meeting of the international elite in 1954, this document was adopted as doctrine by the Policy Committee of the Bilderburg Group and the Quiet War was quietly declared. It was this research that caused their first known meeting in 1954. 13 years later in 1969, the Silent Weapons System (SWS) of the Quiet War (QW) were nearly exposed when this document (actually its forerunner) was found in possession of Naval Intelligence (SWSQM). Apart from this close shave, the evolution of the new silent weapons of the Quiet War machine has never suffered any major setbacks . . . until it was discovered in an IBM copier purchased at a surplus sale on 7 July 1986. This document was dated May 1979 with the code No. 74–1120. As far as I know, it was released to the public on 28 June 2008.

"This volume marks the 25th anniversary of the beginning of the Quiet War [1954–]. Already this domestic war has had many victories on many fronts throughout the world."[5]

Political Dominance – Public v. Private Utopia

The elements of the new Silent Weapon Technology (SWT) were able to provide a public utopia, just as they were able to provide a private utopia. In 1954 this was well recognized by those in positions of authority – the Bilderburg Group, Operations Research, Rockefeller Foundation, US Air Force, and Harvard Economics.

The general public would be able to grasp this information and upset the cradle of power. It was only a matter of time, only a few decades, before they did.

The primary issue then became 'dominance around the energy sciences', so the real science was kept from the masses. The public were taught 'Dumb Science' and the elite were taught 'Real Science'.

Bookkeeping Energy in Real Science

Energy is recognized as the key to all activity on earth. Natural science is the study of the sources and control of natural energy.

Social Science is theoretically expressed as Economics.

Social Science and economics is the study of sources and control of social energy.

Both are bookkeeping systems with mathematics as king.

The mathematician who is the primary energy science bookkeeper is king, as long as the public remains ignorant of the bookkeeping and the machinations behind it.

All science is merely a means to an end. The means is knowledge. The end is control. Beyond this remains only one issue: 'Who will benefit?'

1954

In 1954 'Who will benefit?' was the issue of primary concern. The moral issue was raised.

In view of the law of natural selection it was agreed that 'people who do not use their intelligence are no better than animals who have no intelligence'. By their own choice, such a people are 'beasts of burden' and 'steaks on the table'. Their ignorance and lack of application of intelligence was considered consent.

What was not considered was that the public were denied this information and would have had to do the research of Harvard Economics and have the funding of the Rockefeller Foundation to break out of this ignorance.

"Consequently, in the interest of future world order, peace, and tranquility, it was decided to privately wage a quiet war against the American public with an ultimate objective of permanently shifting the natural and social energy (wealth) of the undisciplined and irresponsible many into the hands of the self-disciplined, responsible, and worthy few.

"In order to implement this objective, it was necessary to create, secure, and apply new weapons which, as it turned out, were a class of weapons so subtle and sophisticated in their principle of operation and public appearance as to earn for themselves the name 'silent weapons'.

"In conclusion, the objective of economic research, as conducted by the magnates of capital (banking) and the industries of commodities (goods) and services, is the establishment of an economy, which is totally predictable and manipulatable.

"In order to achieve a totally predictable economy, the low class elements of the society must be brought under total control. They must be housebroken, trained, and assigned a yoke and long-term social duties from a very early age, before they have an opportunity to question the propriety of the matter. In order to achieve such conformity, the lower class family unit must be disintegrated by a process of increasing preoccupation of the parents and the establishment of government operated day care centers for the occupationally orphaned children."[6]

> Interpretation: The Lower Class must be brought under control and the Middle Class destroyed and made worse than the Lower Class. Both must be assigned long-term social duties from birth, to be instilled before they have the ability to question, in place before marriage, and reinforced through peer pressure and assigned family roles. Absolute conformity is required.
> Parents must be pre-occupied with work, and the offspring must become Key-Hole-Kids, aligned to the state through government daycare centres, orphaned from their parents through lack of time and lack of quality time, via parental exhaustion.

"The quality of education given to the lower class must be of the poorest sort, so that the meat of ignorance isolating the inferior class from the superior class is and remains incomprehensible to the inferior class. With such an initial handicap, even bright lower class individuals have little if any hope of extricating themselves from their assigned lot in life. This form of slavery is essential to maintaining some measure of social order, peace, and tranquility for the ruling upper class."[7]

> Interpretation: Ensure the worst people become the bureaucracy and elite of Government education. Ensure Government education is crap. Force-feed the 'meat of ignorance' to the lower class. Ensure superior education and true science remains incomprehensible. Teach them to run away from things that work.
> Attack the brightest kids as soon as they begin to achieve. Equate 'bright' with 'naughty'. Turn the brightest of the Lower Class into slaves and ensure they return to their social class, either through attitude, criminal record, financial achievement, status, or end result.
> Create shit-for-brains and ban-the-mind. Avoid integration. Break up subject integration by teaching five different subjects a day.
> If a citizen is about to shift up a class, destroy their relationship, their marriage, take their house, driver's licence, and children. Preoccupy them with matters that go nowhere. Preoccupy with non-productivity. Looking back on life they realize they were fiddled, and spent their time in useless activities, recreational or instigated by the government. By then it is too late.
> The Lower Class are fiddlers on the roof without hope or destiny.
> This is what government is now about – political hitmen ensuring only the unquestioning are elevated above their station.
> Authority (root word 'author') is to attack all authors who make waves. One wave is enough. The government does not allow any waves. They are the levellers.
> Slavery of the Middle and Lower Class is essential to the Government's appearance of social order, peace, and tranquility. This is what keeps the Upper Class ruling and the tourist brochures viable – if only slightly.

Descriptive Introduction of the Silent Weapon

Everything that is expected of an ordinary weapon is expected from a Silent Weapon.

It differs only in the way it functions, but it has the same long-term results.

The Silent Weapon (SW) shoots situations, not bullets.

It is propelled by data processing, not explosion, or chemical reaction.

---

[6] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 3.
[7] Ibid.

It originates from bits of data, not gunpowder; from a computer, not a gun.

It is operated by a computer programmer, not a marksman.

It operates under orders from banker/judge/politician, not a military general.

It makes no obvious explosive noises, causes no obvious physical or mental injuries, and does not obviously interfere with anyone's daily social life.

Yet it makes an unmistakable 'noise', causes unmistakable physical and mental damage, and interferes with daily social life. To the trained observer, one who knows what to look for, the physical and mental damage is remarkable.

The public cannot comprehend such a weapon and therefore do not believe they are being attacked or subdued such a Silent Weapon.

The public instinctively feels something is wrong – that someone is controlling their life – but they cannot comprehend the individual and technical machinations of the Silent Weapon all working against them. The public cannot express their feeling that something is wrong in a rational way, or with the required intelligence, as opposed to the counter-intelligence world they live in.

The Government's role has been fulfilled: to educate with counter-intelligence for a counter-intelligence reality, where 'counter-intelligence-as-reality is rewarded and intelligence is attacked with the full force of the silent weapons.

The public now recognise that crying for help on polling day has no effect.

Prior to 1991, they did not know how to cry for help, they did not know how to associate with similar others, nor how to defend themselves against counter-intelligence's silent weapons. Now we the public have the net.

When a silent weapon is applied gradually to the public, the public adjusts and adapts to its presence and learns to tolerate the new encroachments until economic pressure, followed by psychological pressure, becomes too great. They crack up in the form of financial meltdown, individual breakdowns, a financial downturn, public riot, and civil war.

The Silent Weapon is a type of biological warfare that attacks the vitality, options, and mobility of the individuals. It attacks free choice.

It does this by attacking their physical, emotional, mental and financial strengths and weaknesses; by knowing, understanding, manipulating, and attacking their source of energy – sexual [attack on family, promotion of homosex by Jewish media], social, natural (garden seeds that can reproduce), financial and national identity (through immigration and double agent leaders).

The Silent Weapon is added to as technology becomes available.

For every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction. When a technology becomes available to the public, the military has had it for at least 20 years.

When a new technology becomes user friendly, saves time and increases production, wages are concurrently reduced.

Mayer Amschel Rothschild's Theory Becomes Reality (1743–1812)

"Give me control over a nation's currency, and I care not who makes its laws."

Silent weapons technology is an outgrowth of a simple idea discovered, succinctly expressed, and effectively applied, by Rothschild. He discovered the missing passive component of economic theory – 'economic inductance'.

More commonly state 'inductance' is: 'If you have the money, people will come running to you and all else will follow in its wake'.

As soon as mathematical analysis got the theory of mechanics, electronics, and the computer, it could be effectively applied to control the world economy. The numbers followed.

Mathematical analysis and energy source bookkeeping were to be king.

General Energy Concepts

In the study of energy systems, there are always three elementary concepts:

Potential Energy (PE): In physical mechanics, PE has elasticity or stiffness and a material has memory and resistance. In electronics, PEs is stored in a capacitor.

Kinetic Energy (KE): In physical mechanics, KE has inertia or mass, as in a flywheel in motion. In electronics, KE is stored in an inductor and creates a magnetic field. KE is called inductance.

Energy Dissipation (ED): In physical mechanics, ED has friction and resistance which converts to heat. In electronics, ED is performed by a wire that conveys electricity with resistance or a conductance.

All of the mathematical theory developed in the study of one energy system can be applied in the study of any other energy system. Electronics is the model for national and sub-national Economics. In Economics the three energy concepts are associated with:

Economic Capacitance: Capital (money, stock/inventory, buildings);

Economic Inductance: Services (influence of population in industry and their on output);

Economic Conductance: Goods (production flow coefficients).

Physical Mechanics is the model for psycho-economic individual and community reactions. In Physical Mechanics the three energy concepts are associated with:

Physical Memory and Resistance: Social Capital (Status existence, prestige, community, care, association, home, stiff routine, elastic holidays);

Physical Inertia and Mass: Ongoing Good Influence (on the community rewarded with acknowledged output);

Physical Friction and Resistance: Home/work Services, habit, routine, growth and family production (resistant to change, friction results in heat if any of it is taken away).

Mr. Rothschild's Energy Discovery[8]

What Mr. Rothschild had discovered was the basic principle of power, influence, and control over people as applied to economics. That principle is "when you assume the appearance of power, people soon give it to you".

Mr. Rothschild had discovered that currency or deposit loan accounts had the required appearance of power that could be used to induce people (inductance, with people corresponding to a magnetic field) into surrendering their real wealth in exchange for a promise of greater wealth (instead of real compensation). They would put up real collateral in exchange for a loan of promissory notes. Mr. Rothschild found that he could issue more notes than he had backing for, so long as he had someone's stock of gold as a persuader to show to his customers.[9]

Mr. Rothschild loaned his promissory notes to individuals and governments. These created over-confidence.

Then he tightened control of the system, made money scarce, and collect his collateral through the obligation of contracts . . . Then the cycle was repeated.

The financial pressures were used to ignite a war. Then Rothschild would control the availability of currency to determine who would win the war.

Collection of debts was guaranteed by economic aid to the enemy of the debtor, and the government that agreed to hand over control of its economic system got his support.

The profit derived from this economic methodology made Mr. Rothschild very wealthy and in a position to extend his wealth. He found that the public greed allowed currency to be printed by government order beyond the limits (inflation) of backing in precious metal or the production of goods and services (Gross National Priduct – GNP)."

The Appearance of Economic Capital as Faux Paper Economic Inductor

Credit presented as currency has the appearance of Economic Capital.

It is in fact negative capital – a lack of money with stock/inventory and buildings as security, and inflation as a balancer.

Credit looks like the Service of Economic Inductance, but is in fact, indebtedness, debt waiting to happen, and inflation waiting to happen.

Credit is a faux paper Economic Inductance instead of a real Economic Capacitance.

Total goods and services represents real Economic Capital (GNP). Currency may be printed up to this level and still represent real Economic Capacitance. Beyond that, currency printed is subtractive. It represents the introduction of Economic Inductance, a faux paper Service given by the banks.

This Credit/faux paper Economic Inductance were notes of indebtedness and resulted in inflation, stagflation, war, genocide, the welfare state and open-ended frontier breaking programs like the conquest of America or the space program. When these frontiers were conquered, there was to be genocide in the form of war, or any deaths that could be arranged, usually through planned manmade means blamed on natural causes.

If not balanced by payment, Credit was to be balanced by the negation of population (war, genocide) returning natural resources to the banks at a lower rate than its value, minus any debts on it (debt free value).

[8] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 5.

[9] Mao Zedong did the same thing, a.k.a. Mao Edmond/ Zedong Rothschild (Zedong ≈ Edmond). He even persuaded Ho Chi Minh with pots of gold after his long march ended in 1934. Mao Zedong (1893–1976) worked with Ho Chi Minh (1890–1969) in a restaurant kitchen in Paris in 1913, doing dishes. Little did they know they were brothers in arms, but also brothers – their father, and that of Stalin, was Baron Edmond de Rothschild who used to dine at these restaurants. Ho Chi Minh also worked as a waiter (aged 23) in 1913 in the Carlton Hotel in the Haymarket, London. The Carlton Hotel was bombed during the war, and in 1959 New Zealand House was built on the site.

Ho Chi Minh, Marx, Lenin and Stalin all lived in London. Karl Marx (1818–83) lived at 28 Dean Street, Soho above the sumptuous Quo Vadis restaurant (1851–56). A Prussian agent visited Marx there and reported back: "Everything is broken, tattered and torn, finger-thick dust everywhere, and everything in the greatest disorder . . . it is dangerous to sit down". Marx didn't help his wife raise the children, three of them died of pneumonia, then his wife inherited money and they moved to Primrose Hill. Ironcially Karl Marx is buried in the Highgate Cemetery opposite the Free-Market Economist, Herbert Spencer – 'Marx and Spencer'. Lenin lived in Percy Circus, on the edges of Islington, just round the corner from King's Cross. Stalin stayed in the building next to the Whitechapel Mosque in the early 1900s, and at 77 Jubliee Street off Whitechapel Road in 1907.

War is balancing the system banks use. Banks kill the true creditors – the public who have exchanged true value Capital and Inductance for faux over extended Credit inflated currency. Banks then fall back on whatever is left of the resources of nature and the regeneration of those resources.

In doing this, the banking Rothschilds had discovered that Credit/faux paper Economic Inductance gave them the power to rearrange economic structures to their own advantage, to shift Economic Inductance (Service of currency printed beyond GNP) to economic positions that encourage the greatest economic oscillation (inflation, deflation, stagflation) and instability (war, civil war, civil unrest, to the point of migration).

Total economic control came when high speed computing could process sufficient data to watch the economic oscillations (1954–). These were created by excess Credit (faux paper Economic Inductance/Paper promisory notes/inflation) and price shocking, which required the use of more credit.

And now there was a cycle within a cycle and total control with it.

Breakthough in Aviation[10]

The aviation field provided the greatest evolution in economic engineering by way of the mathematical theory of shock testing. In this process, a projectile is fired from an airframe on the ground and the impulse of the recoil is monitored by vibration transducers connected to the airframe and wired to chart recorders. By studying the echoes or reflections of the recoil impulse in the airframe, it is possible to discover critical vibrations in the structure of the airframe which either vibrations of the engine or aeolian vibrations of the wings, or a combination of the two, might reinforce resulting in a resonant self-destruction of the airframe in flight as an aircraft. From the standpoint of engineering, this means that the strengths and weaknesses of the structure of the airframe in terms of vibrational energy can be discovered and manipulated.

Shock Testing Applied to Economics

To use this method of airframe shock testing in economic engineering, the prices of commodities are shocked, and the public consumer reaction is monitored. The resulting echoes of the economic shock are interpreted theoretically by computers and the psycho-economic structure of the economy [Physical Mechanics] is thus discovered.

Partial differential and difference matricos are revealed that define the family household and make possible its evolution as an economic industry (dissipative consumer structure). The response of the household to future shocks can then be predicted and manipulated. Society becomes a well-regulated animal with its reins under the control of a sophisticated computer-regulated social energy bookkeeping system.

Eventually every individual element of the structure comes under computer control through a knowledge of personal preferences, guaranteed by computer association with consumer preferences (universal product code/UPC/zebra stripe pricing codes on packages [now bar codes]) with identified consumers (identified via association with the use of a credit card and later a permanent 'tattooed' body number invisible under normal ambient illumination.

> Interpretation: The economy is engineered by shock testing. The public reaction is monitored via Credit Cards and Barcodes (with body ID's still resisted), and the psycho-economic structure of the economy is interpreted through Physical Mechanics. Response to future shocks can then be predicted. Society can then be regulated through a social energy bookkeeping system.

Summary[11]

Economics is only a social extension of a natural energy system. It, also, has its three passive components (Potential, Kinetic, Dissipation). Due to the distribution of wealth, the lack of communication and data, Economics was the last energy field for the three passive components to be developed and applied.

Since energy is the key to all activity on the face of the earth, it follows that in order to attain a monopoly of energy, raw materials, goods, and services and to establish a world system of slave labor, it is necessary to have a first strike capability in the field of economics. In order to maintain our position, it is necessary that we have absolute first knowledge of the science of control over all economic factors and the first experience at engineering the world economy."

In order to achieve such sovereignty, we must at least achieve this one end: that the public will not make either the logical or mathematical connection between economics and the other energy sciences or learn to apply such knowledge."

This is becoming increasingly difficult to control because more and more businesses are making demands upon their computer programmers to create and apply mathematical models for the management of those businesses.

It is only a matter of time before the new breed of private programmer/economists will catch on to the far-reaching implications of the work begun at Harvard in 1948. The speed with which they can communicate their warning to the public will largely depend upon how effective we have been at controlling the media, subverting education, and keeping the public distracted with matters of no real importance.

Ha!. The common man has the internet and has realized that the value of the news emanating from the media has no value. A revolution has begun. Its beginnings are replete with suspicion that governments and their agencies are the conspiracy. This is now backed up with knowledge, followed by individual action. Successful individual actions have already achieved wide sweeping consequences. When this becomes mass action, it's a revolution.

The Economic Model

Economics, as a social energy science, first describes the complex way in which any unit of resource is obtained, processed and used to satisfy some economic want.[12] The first economic objective is to get the most product from the least resource, or the most from the most limited resources. Such industrial logistics shared the objectives of the military. Both are known as Operations Research.[13]

The Harvard Economic Research Project (1948–) was an extension of World War II Operations Research. Its purpose was to discover the science of controlling an economy, at first the American economy, then the world economy.

With sufficient mathematical foundation and data, it has become possible to predict and control the trend of an economy – as accurately as a projectile, missile or bullet. Since then, the economy has been transformed into a guided missile on target.

The target has been designated by the International Bankers. It is you.

The immediate aim of the Harvard project was to discover the economic structure, what forced change in that structure, how the behavior of the structure can be predicted, and how it can be manipulated. What was needed was a well-organized knowledge of the mathematical structures and interrelationships of investment, production, distribution, and consumption.

[13] See the simplex method of linear programming.

It was discovered than an economy obeyed the same laws as electricity and that all of the mathematical theory and practical and computer know-how developed for the electronic field could be directly applied in the study of economics. This discovery was not openly declared, and its more subtle implications are a closely guarded secret.

In the economic model, human life is measured in dollars or silver, and:
The electric spark generated by a switch connected to an active inductor is mathematically analogous to the initiation of a war.

The greatest hurdle theoretical economists faced was the accurate description of the 'household as an industry', because consumer purchases are a matter of choice which is influenced by income, price, and other economic factors.

Shock testing (indirect and statistically approximate) determined the current characteristics of the household industry, called current technical coefficients' (CTC).

Theoretical Economics can be easily translated into Theoretical Electronics, and the solution can translated back again, so a concept definition and language translation was defined between Electronics and Economics.

The remaining understanding of Economics could be got from standard books on electronics and mathematics.

This made the publication of books on advanced Economics redundant. Since education was all about dumbing down the masses, project security was simple.

Industrial Diagrams

An ideal industry is defined as a device which receives value from other industries in several forms and converts it into one specific product for sales and distribution to other industries. It has several inputs and one output. What the public normally thinks of as one industry is really an industrial complex where several industries under one roof produce one or more products.

Three Industrial Classes

Industries fell into three categories or class by type of output:

Class 1: Capital (resources)

Class 2: Goods (commodities or use – dissipative)

Class 3: Services (action of population)

Class 1: Capital Industries exist at three levels
(1) Nature: sources of energy and raw materials; (2) Government: printing of currency equal to gross national product (GNP), and extension of currency in excess of GNP;
(3) Banking: loaning of money for interest, and extension (counterfeiting) of economic value through deposit loan account – inflation.

Class 2: Industries exist as producers of tangible or consumer (dissipated) products. This sort of activity is usually recognized and labeled by the public as an 'industry'.

Class 3: Industries are those which have service rather than a tangible product as their output. These industries are called (1) households, and (2) governments. Their output is human activity of a mechanical sort, and their basis is population.

Aggregation

The whole economic system can be represented by a three-industry model if one allows the names of the outputs to be (1) Capital, (2) Goods, and (3) Services.

The problem with this representation is that it would not show the influence of, say, the textile industry on the ferrous metal industry.

This is because both the textile industry and the ferrous metal industry would be contained within a single classification called the 'goods industry' and by this process of combining or aggregating these two industries under one system block they would lose their economic individuality.

The E-Model

A national economy consists of simultaneous flows of production, distribution, consumption, and investment.

If all of these elements including labor and human functions are assigned a numerical value in like units of measure, say, 1939 dollars, on this flow can be further represented by a current flow in an electronic circuit, and its behavior can be predicted and manipulated with useful precision.

The three components of Electronics – Capacitor, Inductor, Conductor/Resistor – correspond to the three components of Economics: Capital, Goods, and Services.

Economic Capacitance is the storage of Capital in one form or another.

Economic Conductance is materials for the production of Goods.

Economic Inductance is the inertia of economic value in motion, known as Services, it is a population phenomenon.

Economic Inductance

An Electrical Inductor (coil of wire) primarily has an electric current (Inductor), then a magnetic field (Inertia).

Corresponding to Economic Inductance, a primary flow of money into a population causes a magnetic field (people are attracted to money) and they stick to the source with Inertia.

The public Inertia/Magnetic Field is a result of consumer buying habits, expected standard of living, self-preservation, and desired/expected status.

When the flow of money diminishes or stops, the magnetism holding the humans together collapses (the community collapses).

In order to keep the economy flowing, the open-ended Social Welfare, open-ended Space Program, Continual Wars and Genocide are used.

Economic Inductive Factors to Consider

(1) Population;

(2) Magnitude of Government's economic activities;

(3) Method of financing Government outside GNP or in debt.[14]

---

[14] See Peter-Paul Principle; Inflation of currency when Government prints money over and above the Gross National Product; When Government is in debt it loses its ability to self-govern.

Translation – with a few examples given
Charge is Coulombs = $ (1939. Humans are valued in Silver, as in 'Silver dollars'); Charge is the value of the human in $ or Silver.

Current or Flow is Amperes (coulombs) = $ of flow per year (Current/cy);
Current is Currency Supply in $ per year.

Demand or Motivating Force is Volts = $ (output) demanded;
Volts is Demand.

Conductance is Amperes/Volt = $ of flow per year/$ demanded;
Conductance is Supply/Demand (Supply v. Demand).

Capacitance is Coulombs/Volt = $ of production inventory/stock per $ demand;
Capacitance is Production and Charge in $/Demand (Charge v. Demand)

Time-Flow Relationships and Self-Destructive Oscillations

An ideal industry may be symbolized electronically in various ways. The simplest way is to represent 'Demand' is Voltage and 'Supply' is Current. When this is done, the relationship between the two becomes what is called an admittance (it's proven to be true), which can result from three economic factors:

(1) Hindsight Flow
(2) Present Flow
(3) Foresight Flow

Foresight Flow is energy or food to be stored for a period of low energy (a winter season). In industry, it is stock and inventory. Due to storage it creates a lag. In Electronics this is Capacitance and the stock is a stored as a charge.

Present Flow involves no delays – input today for output today, hand-to-mouth flow. Such Inductance requires a simple economic inductor, a dissipative element, a valve, like a bakery shop assistant. This creates a Magnetic Field where human populations are drawn to eat, play, converse and socialize.

Hindsight Flow is known as habit or inertia. In Industry the Currency flow is a Wire where the active human population are regularly drawn to work and wired money. If the money flow diminishes, or is switched off, everything collapses . . . War is then used to Conduct the Current/Currency flow of money. In Electronics this is the Conductor. In war it is a Con – a Conducted Con. The Conductor can be used for Flow/Currency or Resistance/war.[15]

> Interpretation: Current/Currency is a supply line that creates a magnetic field of workers and society – a Capacitance – the Capacity of the Society.
> If the current diminishes or turns off, the Magnetic Field fades away (ghost town). Before this occurs, there is still a demand for power, a demand to be motivated, and others further down the supply line make demands on those working for and feeding off the current – the pressures and demands of family.
> If war is created as a job option, workers have limited choices. War is one of them. War is the choice banker's push. War is a bank draft, not a government draft. Wars are conducted events where the humans have a value in silver dollars. Killing them ensures faux banker assets are replaced with real assets.

[15] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 10. In the original document, they mixed up Present Flow/Conductance and Hindsight Flow/Inductance. So I rang the former 2IC of the SIS during the Cold War (July 2008) and he said: "People often get these things mixed up when they don't understand electronics. The document is . . . terrifying and worthy of study."

Alternatives to War as Economic Conductors, Economic Heat flywheels, or Economic ghost towns are the open-ended social welfare program, or the enormous open-ended space program.

"The problem with stabilizing the economic system is that there is too much demand on account of too much greed and too much population."[16]

One could easily argue that Banks and Governments are the principle source of corruption.

This is Operations Research thinking and it is the most shortsighted element of their Programming Manual. This is partly due to their historical mistake.

In May 1979, Operations Research mixed up Kinetic Energy and Energy Dissipation; Inertia and Mass, with Friction and Resistance; the qualities and attributes of Present Flow with Hindsight flow, Present and Hindsight – all wrong.

I got it right and it's corrected above.

Apart from their gross mistake (an understatement if ever there was one) this is the crucial turning point in their thinking, but it was backed up on 22 March 1980 with plans to kill 25% of the population by 2020 and 50% of the population by 2050, with the ultimate goal of reducing the world's population from 6.6 billion to 0.5 billion – 92% dead.

This requires the manufactured deaths of 12 out of 13 people.

This is confirmed by the Georgia Guidestones, a rather expensive monument to the deaths of 6.1 billion people, all targets. Financed anonymously, it is sited on a hilltop in Elbert County in Georgia, USA.

The Georgia Guidestones, erected on 22 March 1980, are made of granite, stand over 6 metres tall (almost 20 feet) and weigh over 100 tons. Ten guides in eight languages (English, Spanish, Russian, Hebrew, Arabic, Hindi, Swahili, and Chinese) and four ancient scripts (Sanskrit, Egyptian Hieroglyphs, Babylonian, and Classical Greek) are often called the American Stonehenge. Their engraved message reads:

1. Reduce the human population to 500 million [from 6.6 million, so 92% have to die].
2. The fit and diverse breed.
3. One language for all survivors.
4. Reason over religion, faith and tradition.
5. Fair laws and just courts.
6. All nations rule internally and a One World Court rules external disputes.
7. Get rid of bureaucrats and petty laws.
8. Balance personal rights with social duties.
9. Value beauty, love and harmony with the infinite.
10. Live in harmony with nature.[17]

The Golden Dawn coven was used in the build up to the Second World War, and as a code during it. It also provided a means to understand who was behind an event by analysing the date of that event.

In Golden Dawn coven occult language "22 March 1980" gives the numbers: 22.03.1980 (British order of day and month). These are then read in reverse as 08.91.3022.

[16] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 10.
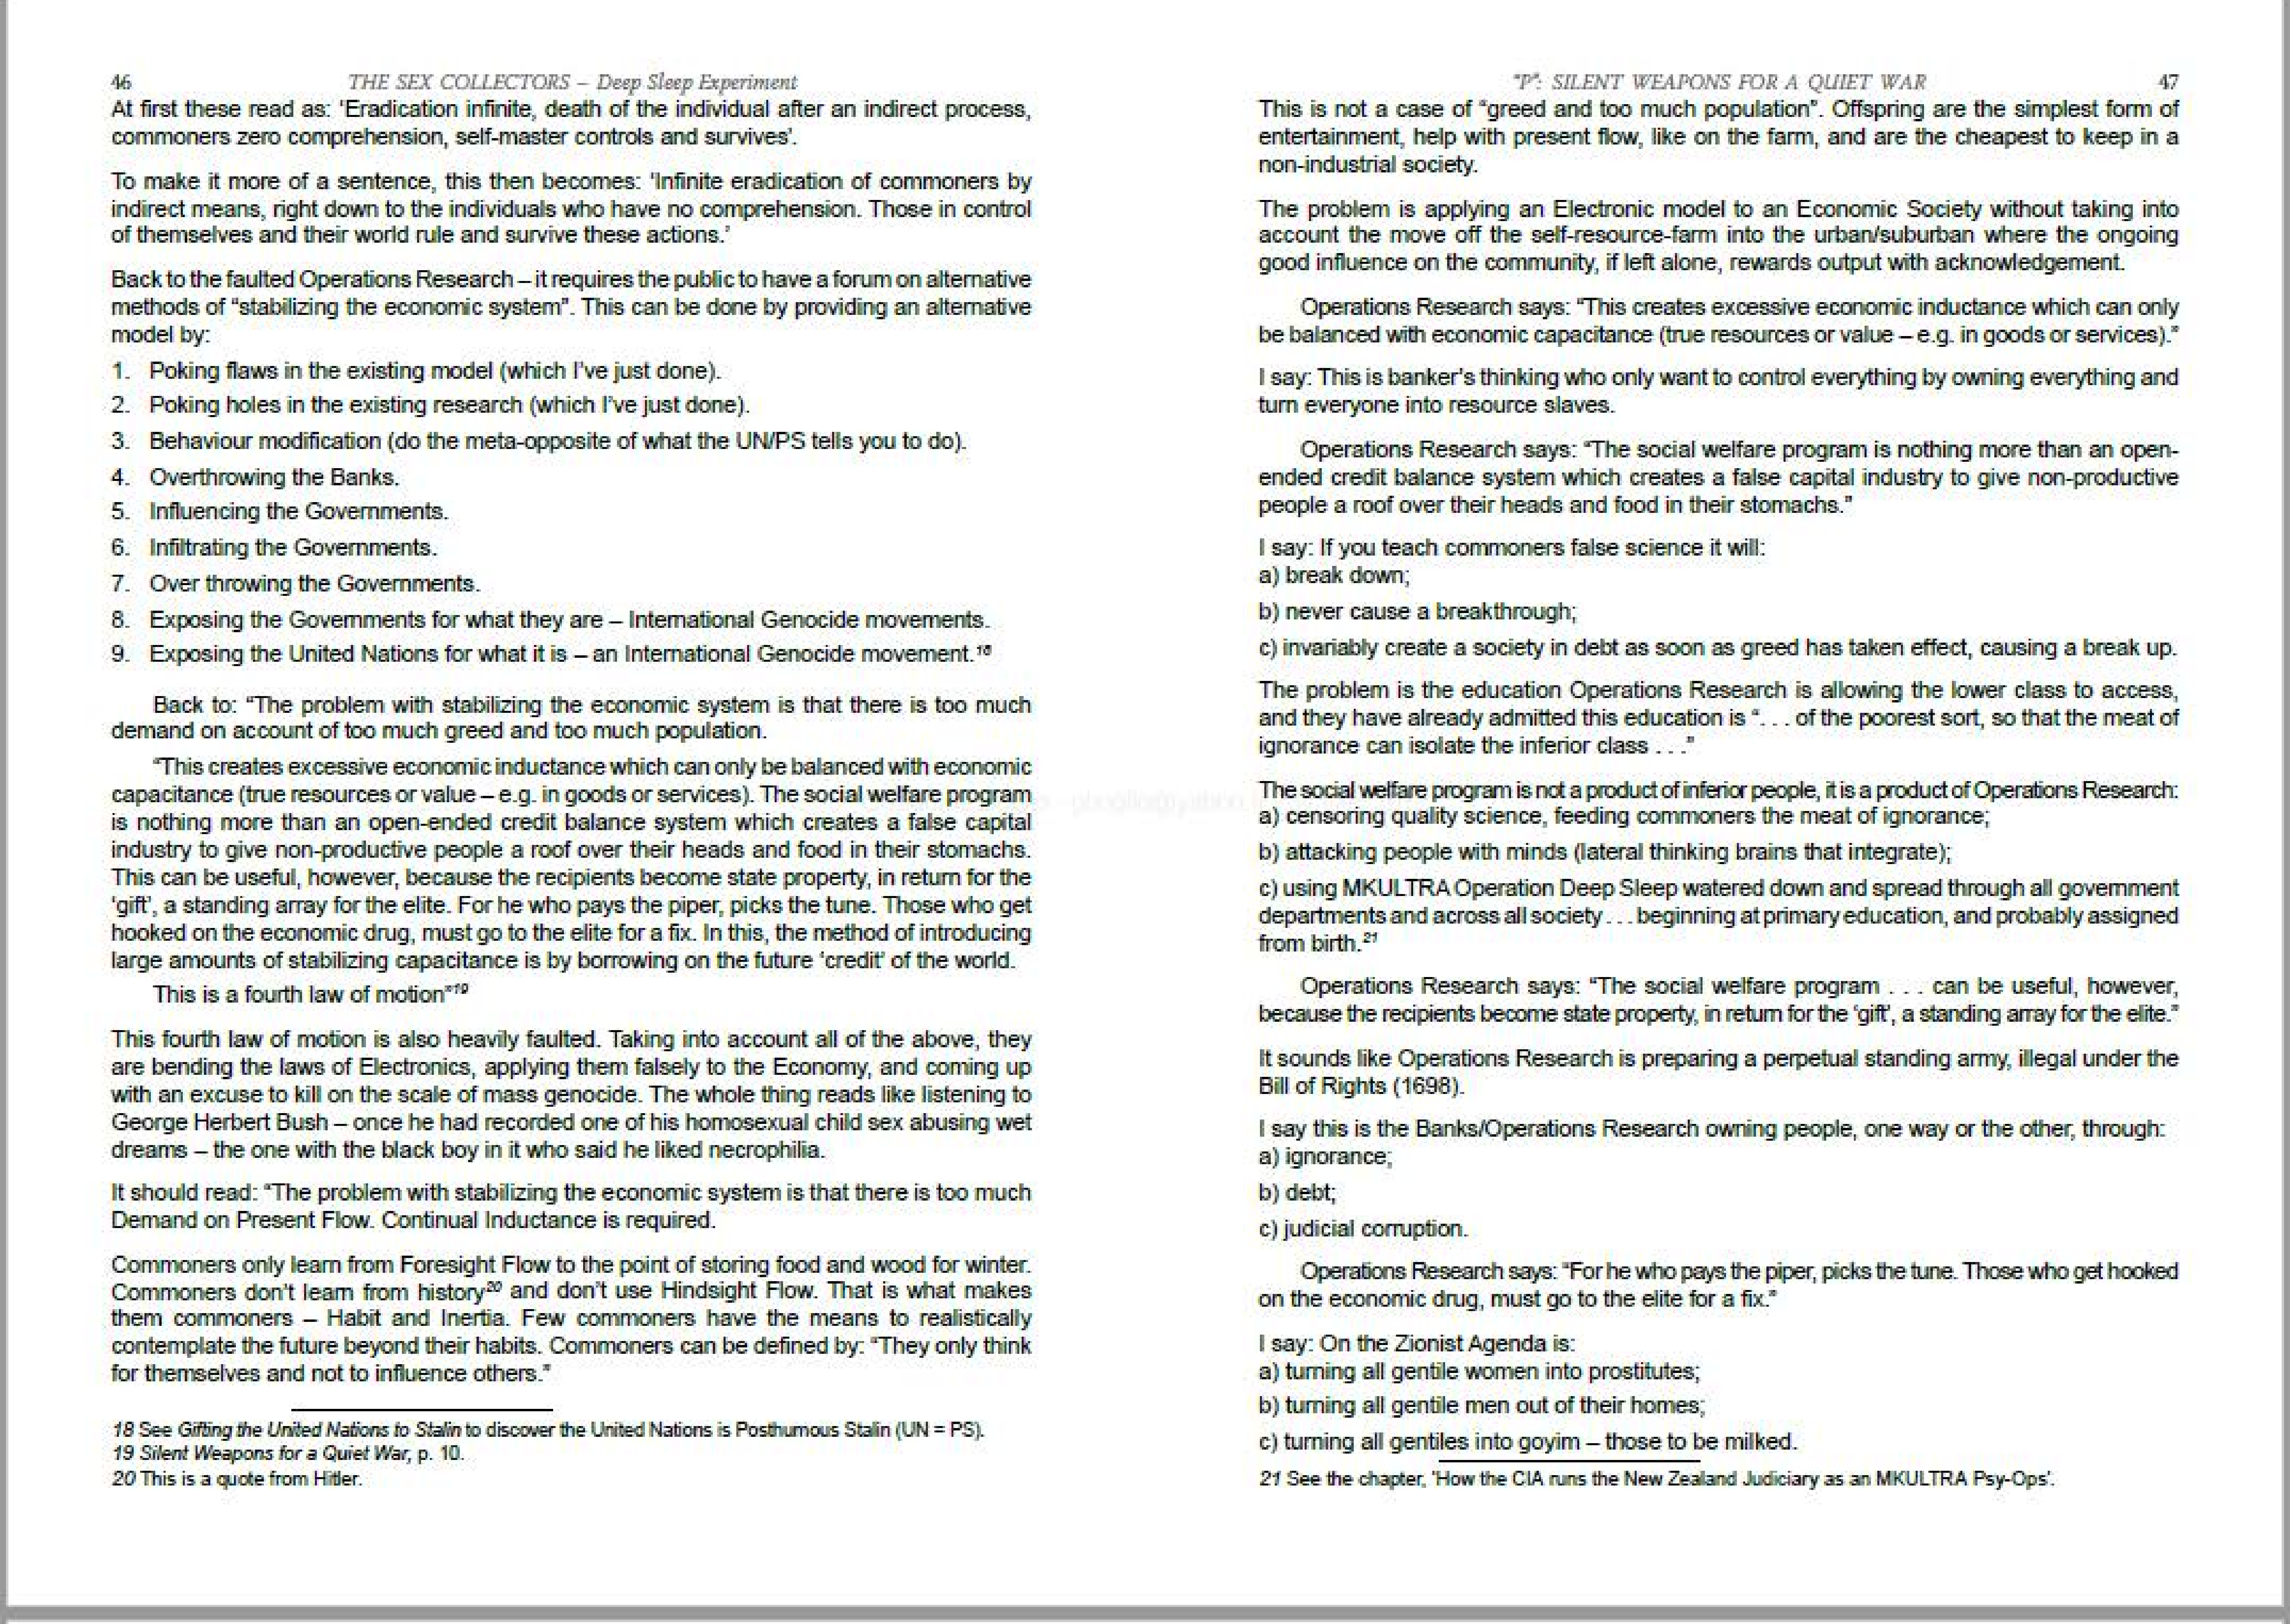
[17] Wikipedia, Georgia Guidestones, paraphrased for easy reading.



At first these read as: ‘Eradication infinite, death of the individual after an indirect process, commoners zero comprehension, self-master controls and survives’.

To make it more of a sentence, this then becomes: ‘Infinite eradication of commoners by indirect means, right down to the individuals who have no comprehension. Those in control of themselves and their world rule and survive these actions.’

Back to the faulted Operations Research – it requires the public to have a forum on alternative methods of “stabilizing the economic system”. This can be done by providing an alternative model by:

1. Poking flaws in the existing model (which I’ve just done).
2. Poking holes in the existing research (which I’ve just done).
3. Behaviour modification (do the meta-opposite of what the UN/PS tells you to do).
4. Overthrowing the Banks.
5. Influencing the Governments.
6. Infiltrating the Governments.
7. Over throwing the Governments.
8. Exposing the Governments for what they are – International Genocide movements.
9. Exposing the United Nations for what it is – an International Genocide movement.[18]

Back to: “The problem with stabilizing the economic system is that there is too much demand on account of too much greed and too much population.

“This creates excessive economic inductance which can only be balanced with economic capacitance (true resources or value – e.g. in goods or services). The social welfare program is nothing more than an open-ended credit balance system which creates a false capital industry to give non-productive people a roof over their heads and food in their stomachs. This can be useful, however, because the recipients become state property, in return for the ‘gift’, a standing array for the elite. For he who pays the piper, picks the tune. Those who get hooked on the economic drug, must go to the elite for a fix. In this, the method of introducing large amounts of stabilizing capacitance is by borrowing on the future ‘credit’ of the world.

This is a fourth law of motion”[19]

This fourth law of motion is also heavily faulted. Taking into account all of the above, they are bending the laws of Electronics, applying them falsely to the Economy, and coming up with an excuse to kill on the scale of mass genocide. The whole thing reads like listening to George Herbert Bush – once he had recorded one of his homosexual child sex abusing wet dreams – the one with the black boy in it who said he liked necrophilia.

It should read: “The problem with stabilizing the economic system is that there is too much Demand on Present Flow. Continual Inductance is required.

Commoners only learn from Foresight Flow to the point of storing food and wood for winter. Commoners don’t learn from history[20] and don’t use Hindsight Flow. That is what makes them commoners – Habit and Inertia. Few commoners have the means to realistically contemplate the future beyond their habits. Commoners can be defined by: “They only think for themselves and not to influence others.”

[18] See Gifting the United Nations to Stalin to discover the United Nations is Posthumous Stalin (UN = PS).

[19] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 10.

[20] This is a quote from Hitler.

This is not a case of “greed and too much population”. Offspring are the simplest form of entertainment, help with present flow, like on the farm, and are the cheapest to keep in a non-industrial society.

The problem is applying an Electronic model to an Economic Society without taking into account the move off the self-resource-farm into the urban/suburban where the ongoing good influence on the community, if left alone, rewards output with acknowledgement.

Operations Research says: “This creates excessive economic inductance which can only be balanced with economic capacitance (true resources or value – e.g. in goods or services).”

I say: This is banker’s thinking who only want to control everything by owning everything and turn everyone into resource slaves.

Operations Research says: “The social welfare program is nothing more than an open-ended credit balance system which creates a false capital industry to give non-productive people a roof over their heads and food in their stomachs.”

I say: If you teach commoners false science it will:
a) break down;
b) never cause a breakthrough;
c) invariably create a society in debt as soon as greed has taken effect, causing a break up.

The problem is the education Operations Research is allowing the lower class to access, and they have already admitted this education is “. . . of the poorest sort, so that the meat of ignorance can isolate the inferior class . . .”

The social welfare program is not a product of inferior people, it is a product of Operations Research:
a) censoring quality science, feeding commoners the meat of ignorance;
b) attacking people with minds (lateral thinking brains that integrate);
c) using MKULTRA Operation Deep Sleep watered down and spread through all government departments and across all society . . . beginning at primary education, and probably assigned from birth.[21]

Operations Research says: “The social welfare program . . . can be useful, however, because the recipients become state property, in return for the ‘gift’, a standing array for the elite.”

It sounds like Operations Research is preparing a perpetual standing army, illegal under the Bill of Rights (1698).

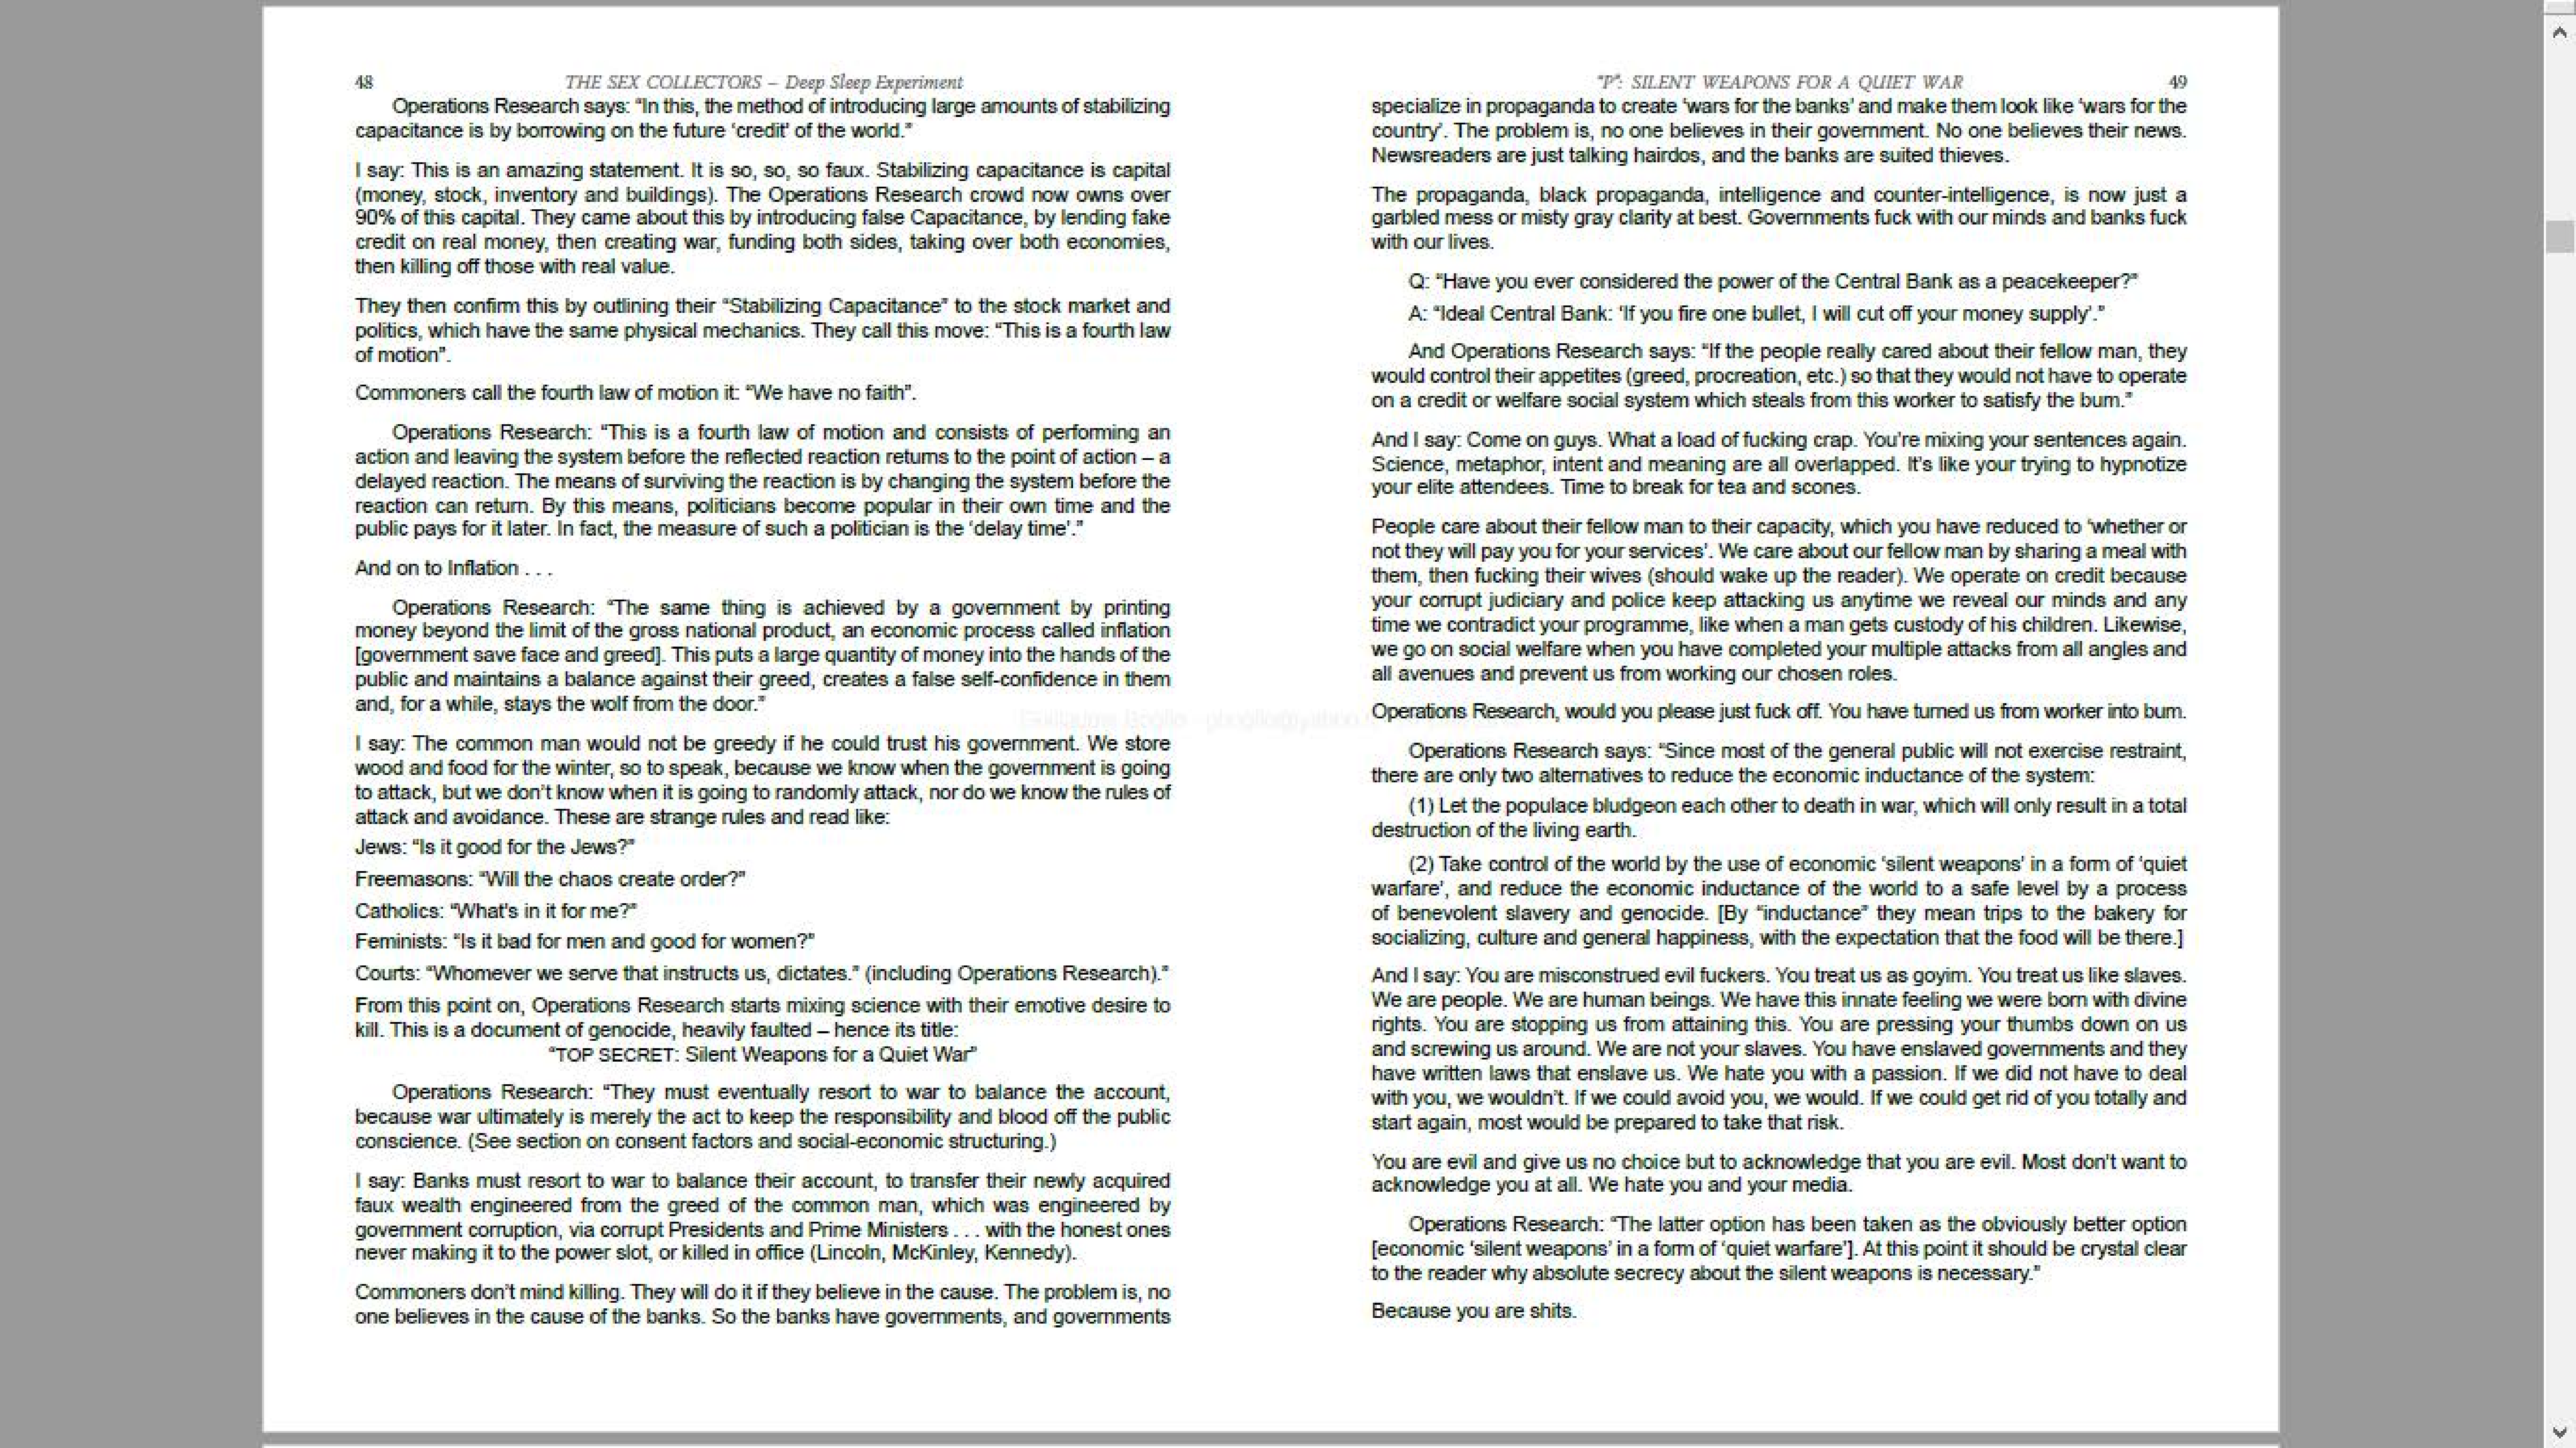
I say this is the Banks/Operations Research owning people, one way or the other, through:
a) ignorance;
b) debt;
c) judicial corruption.

Operations Research says: “For he who pays the piper, picks the tune. Those who get hooked on the economic drug, must go to the elite for a fix.”

I say: On the Zionist Agenda is:
a) turning all gentile women into prostitutes;
b) turning all gentile men out of their homes;
c) turning all gentiles into goyim – those to be milked.

---

[21] See the chapter, ‘How the CIA runs the New Zealand Judiciary as an MKULTRA Psy-Ops’.



Operations Research says: "In this, the method of introducing large amounts of stabilizing capacitance is by borrowing on the future 'credit' of the world."

I say: This is an amazing statement. It is so, so, so faux. Stabilizing capacitance is capital (money, stock, inventory and buildings). The Operations Research crowd now owns over 90% of this capital. They came about this by introducing false Capacitance, by lending fake credit on real money, then creating war, funding both sides, taking over both economies, then killing off those with real value.

They then confirm this by outlining their "Stabilizing Capacitance" to the stock market and politics, which have the same physical mechanics. They call this move: "This is a fourth law of motion".

Commoners call the fourth law of motion it: "We have no faith".

Operations Research: "This is a fourth law of motion and consists of performing an action and leaving the system before the reflected reaction returns to the point of action – a delayed reaction. The means of surviving the reaction is by changing the system before the reaction can return. By this means, politicians become popular in their own time and the public pays for it later. In fact, the measure of such a politician is the 'delay time'."

And on to Inflation . . .

Operations Research: "The same thing is achieved by a government by printing money beyond the limit of the gross national product, an economic process called inflation [government save face and greed]. This puts a large quantity of money into the hands of the public and maintains a balance against their greed, creates a false self-confidence in them and, for a while, stays the wolf from the door."

I say: The common man would not be greedy if he could trust his government. We store wood and food for the winter, so to speak, because we know when the government is going to attack, but we don't know when it is going to randomly attack, nor do we know the rules of attack and avoidance. These are strange rules and read like:

Jews: "Is it good for the Jews?"

Freemasons: "Will the chaos create order?"

Catholics: "What's in it for me?"

Feminists: "Is it bad for men and good for women?"

Courts: "Whomever we serve that instructs us, dictates." (including Operations Research)."

From this point on, Operations Research starts mixing science with their emotive desire to kill. This is a document of genocide, heavily faulted – hence its title:

"TOP SECRET: Silent Weapons for a Quiet War"

Operations Research: "They must eventually resort to war to balance the account, because war ultimately is merely the act to keep the responsibility and blood off the public conscience. (See section on consent factors and social-economic structuring.)

I say: Banks must resort to war to balance their account, to transfer their newly acquired faux wealth engineered from the greed of the common man, which was engineered by government corruption, via corrupt Presidents and Prime Ministers . . . with the honest ones never making it to the power slot, or killed in office (Lincoln, McKinley, Kennedy).

Commoners don't mind killing. They will do it if they believe in the cause. The problem is, no one believes in the cause of the banks. So the banks have governments, and governments specialize in propaganda to create 'wars for the banks' and make them look like 'wars for the country'. The problem is, no one believes in their government. No one believes their news. Newsreaders are just talking hairdos, and the banks are suited thieves.

The propaganda, black propaganda, intelligence and counter-intelligence, is now just a garbled mess or misty gray clarity at best. Governments fuck with our minds and banks fuck with our lives.

Q: "Have you ever considered the power of the Central Bank as a peacekeeper?"

A: "Ideal Central Bank: 'If you fire one bullet, I will cut off your money supply'."

And Operations Research says: "If the people really cared about their fellow man, they would control their appetites (greed, procreation, etc.) so that they would not have to operate on a credit or welfare social system which steals from this worker to satisfy the bum."

And I say: Come on guys. What a load of fucking crap. You're mixing your sentences again. Science, metaphor, intent and meaning are all overlapped. It's like your trying to hypnotize your elite attendees. Time to break for tea and scones.

People care about their fellow man to their capacity, which you have reduced to 'whether or not they will pay you for your services'. We care about our fellow man by sharing a meal with them, then fucking their wives (should wake up the reader). We operate on credit because your corrupt judiciary and police keep attacking us anytime we reveal our minds and any time we contradict your programme, like when a man gets custody of his children. Likewise, we go on social welfare when you have completed your multiple attacks from all angles and all avenues and prevent us from working our chosen roles.

Operations Research, would you please just fuck off. You have turned us from worker into bum.

Operations Research says: "Since most of the general public will not exercise restraint, there are only two alternatives to reduce the economic inductance of the system:

(1) Let the populace bludgeon each other to death in war, which will only result in a total destruction of the living earth.

(2) Take control of the world by the use of economic 'silent weapons' in a form of 'quiet warfare', and reduce the economic inductance of the world to a safe level by a process of benevolent slavery and genocide. [By "inductance" they mean trips to the bakery for socializing, culture and general happiness, with the expectation that the food will be there.]

And I say: You are misconstrued evil fuckers. You treat us as goyim. You treat us like slaves. We are people. We are human beings. We have this innate feeling we were born with divine rights. You are stopping us from attaining this. You are pressing your thumbs down on us and screwing us around. We are not your slaves. You have enslaved governments and they have written laws that enslave us. We hate you with a passion. If we did not have to deal with you, we wouldn't. If we could avoid you, we would. If we could get rid of you totally and start again, most would be prepared to take that risk.

You are evil and give us no choice but to acknowledge that you are evil. Most don't want to acknowledge you at all. We hate you and your media.

Operations Research: "The latter option has been taken as the obviously better option [economic 'silent weapons' in a form of 'quiet warfare']. At this point it should be crystal clear to the reader why absolute secrecy about the silent weapons is necessary."

Because you are shits.

Operations Research: "The general public refuses to improve its own mentality and its faith in its fellow man."

Things only break down when there is not enough to go around. You engineer wars by removing what is required out of society.

Operations Research: "It has become a herd of proliferating barbarians, and, so to speak, a blight upon the fate of the earth."

FUCK OFF !!!

Operations Research: "They do not care enough about economic science to learn why they have not been able to avoid war despite religious morality, and their religious or self-gratifying refusal to deal with earthly problems renders the solution of the earthly problem unreachable by them."

Okay, okay. You have just given us your economic science 54 years late, which is the average lifetime of an irate worker with a mind who couldn't bare the reality you limited him to. As for "religious morality", Christianity is led by CIA agents as either the top dog, or the 2IC, and when you're planning a war, you tell your Christian leaders to quell resistance, then you teach them to hate Muslims, who are in turn led by KGB agents, and now, wait for it, CIA MKULTRA mind controlled Deep Sleep experiments – perfect mass assassins, sooo just Fuuuuccck OFFFFffff.

We call " . . . their religious or self-gratifying refusal to deal with earthly problems renders the solution of the earthly problem unreachable by them" – a mind wank. Keep it to yourself. No one wants to see a banker wanking in public, although it would be an appropriate sentence.

Operations Research: "It is left to those few who are truly willing to think and survive as the fittest to survive, to solve the problem for themselves as the few who really care. Otherwise, exposure of the silent weapon would destroy our only hope of preserving the seed of future true humanity."

This takes me back to the Golden Dawn coven numbering interpretation of 22 March 1980 Georgia Guidestones: "Infinite eradication of commoners by indirect means, right down to the individuals who have no comprehension. Those in control of themselves and their world rule and survive these actions." La de da, I got it right!

The Household Industry[22]

The industries of finance (banking), manufacturing, and government, real counterparts of the pure industries of capital, goods, and services, are easily defined because they are generally logically structured. Because of this their processes can be described mathematically and their technical coefficients can be easily deduced. This, however, is not the case with the service industry known as the household industry.

Household Models[23]

Comparing the industry flow diagram with households each has an economic value . . . Households may be thought of as monthly consumer flows following commodities: A alcoholic beverages; B beef; C coffee, . . . O Oil, . . . U unknown, etc..

The problem theoretical economists face is the consumer preferences of any household are not easily predictable and the technical coefficients of any one household tend to be a non-linear, very complex, and variable function/income/prices, etc.

---

[23] Ibid.

Computer information derived from the use of the universal product code (U.P.C.) in conjunction with credit card purchase as an individual household identifier could change this state of affairs. But the U.P.C. method is not yet available on a national or even a significant regional scale. To compensate for this data deficiency, an alternate indirect approach of analysis has been adopted known as economic shock testing. This method, widely used in the aircraft manufacturing industry develops an aggregate statistical sort of data.

And I say, this has now been updated to: Computer information derived from barcodes in conjunction with credit card purchases of the individual household is now available, so economic shock testing is no longer required to discover what the individual household-as-industry is.

"Applied to economics, this means that all of the households in one region or in the whole nation are studied as a group or class rather than individually, and the mass behavior rather than individual behavior is used to discover useful estimates of the technical coefficients governing the economic structure of the hypothetical single household industry . . . One method of evaluating the technical coefficients of the household industry depends upon shocking the prices of a commodity and noting the changes in the sales of all of the commodities [like oil]."

And I say: Economic shock testing was developed before barcodes and before credit cards and is no longer necessary.

Barcodes and credit cards have been part and parcel of Operations Research from their beginning. Credit has also been part of the destruction of the family. By destroying the family, we have to borrow off visa cards as the family no longer gives or lives with us. The Family Court has been a major player in this breakdown. We used to live as three generations. Now we live as half-a-generation.

The next step is microchip body identification. Resistance to this is the reason for the latest economic shock test – OIL. War was just the excuse.

Using oil to shock test known consumer spending is a way for oil companies to target affected groups. It works like this . . .

It has been found that people are buying computers more powerful than those that landed the Luna Module. They are also accessing information off the net that is above 'Lower Class Education'. That is, some of it is 'Good Science'. Oil companies want to limit the quality of knowledge getting out and the number of citizens who can access good information. Oil companies double their oil price in 12 months under the guise of a phoney war instigated by a phoney president, with a phoney American father, who derives from a real Nazi family (it's been phoney for generations). Oil companies wait until people stop buying computers, and when sales drop off, the value of the computer companies drop. The Oil companies then buy up the computer companies, build Ghost/GHOST programmes and faults into the computers, then drop the price of oil and sell Ghostly/Ghastly computers.

Ghosts and GHOST[24]

Ghosts were an incredibly popular form of fear, but lost their footing when mobile phones started to block the airwaves in 1982 – then aliens took over as the primary source of fear. But now we have a new form of ghost that runs hand in hand with 'World Anti-Independence Day'. This began on 4 July 2003 with any government department now allowed to hack into anyone's computer and share that information with any other government department – via 'The Privacy Act'!

[24] Hitler was a British Agent, Publ. FNZ Inc, Auckland, New Zealand, pp. 451–53.

There are two computer programs called “Ghost/GHOST”. One was developed by a member of the test population at the bottom of the Pacific (New Zealand) and called “GHOST”. The other was developed as a cover called “Ghost”. GHOST can draw down all information on a computer without the computer realising it has been tapped and can work whether you are offline or online.

As soon as GHOST was developed, one of the New Zealand employees was seconded by the US Government to assist in tapping computers in America. GHOST was bought out by Semantec, the same company which delivers Norton Anti-Virus. If you have a Norton Anti-Virus program, you have GHOST, and all of your computer data can be downloaded and read.

There are some 120,000 people in America working for the US Government solely reading the information on your computer, faxes, emails and listening to your phone calls – so send them something funny. Can you imagine how dull their job might be? GHOST makes thinking and research a dangerous profession. Part of the One World Order is One World Thinking (OWT), and ensuring that no one thinks outside the square . . .

Facial Recognition: Mandrake and Biometrics

The facial recognition programme Mandrake was publicly dropped in October 2003, with the announcement that it did not work. It was withdrawn to be forgotten about, probably because it worked so well and was considered a military device. It was continually developed and upgraded in secret and then marketed again after the secret testing process and withdrawal from the market had increased its value. It was capable of distinguishing between a real person and a body double and this proved problematic for higher-end politicians who use body doubles as a cover and as a form of political afterlife.

Sure enough, facial recognition was re-released to the public as Biometrics in May 2005. It never went away. Whereas fingerprints are not immediate and check 60–90 points, Biometrics instantly records and database-compares 50 points on the face and 240 points on the iris. This occurs from further away than one would think possible – like across the street and two storeys up. It also checks the movements of groups of people as to whether a crime is about to take place. When biometrics was reintroduced, the final shot was of Hitler with the statement “Someone is watching you”.[25]

As soon as the Web became a common tool, it also became a common tool for crime. From 2003, computer crime has escalated at a greater rate than any other form of crime. Fishing attacks on computers masquerade as official bank websites, and invite the target to log in passwords. Keystroke loggers also place the Trojan virus silently at the back of the target computer. This activates during telephone banking and passes the logged information back to the Fisher, allowing them to use the passwords to withdraw funds via the target's Internet banking. This gives new meaning to the term ‘Fisher King’.

Radio Frequency Identification Device Tags (RFIDT) are now on many purchased products. This is a low-powered tracking device and can be scanned from up to 10 metres away. RFIDT allows the new Tech-Burglars to identify new items in a home without even entering. This gives new meaning to the term ‘stealing to order’.[26]

Economic Shock Testing[27]

In recent times, the application of Operations Research to the study of the public economy has been obvious for anyone who understands the principles of shock testing.

In the shock testing of an aircraft airframe, the recoil impulse of firing a gun mounted on that airframe causes shock waves in that structure which tell aviation engineers the conditions under which parts of the airplane or the whole airplane or its wings will start to vibrate or flutter like a guitar string, a flute reed, or a tuning fork, and disintegrate or fall apart in flight.

Economic engineers achieve the same result in studying the behavior of the economy and the consumer public by carefully selecting a staple commodity such as beef, coffee, gasoline, or sugar and then causing a sudden change or shock in its price or availability, thus kicking everybody's budget and buying habits out of shape.

They then observe the shockwaves which result by monitoring the changes in advertising, prices, and sales of that and other commodities.

The objective of such studies is to acquire know-how to set the public economy into a predictable state of motion or change. A controlled self-destructive state of motion will convince the public that certain 'expert' people should take control of the money system and re-establish security, foregoing liberty and justice for all.

Arrr, part of this would be the Homeland Security Bill.

“When the subject citizens are rendered unable to control their financial affairs, they of course, become totally enslaved and a cheap source of labor.”[28]

Operations Research controls the United States Government and has been shock testing with 9/11, the Iraq War and the oil price increases. The latest oil spikes have engineered depleting emetics, reducing the populations resistance to being microchipped.

Operations Research: “Not only the prices of commodities, but also the availability of labor can be used as the means of shock testing. Labor strikes deliver excellent test shocks to an economy, especially in the critical service areas of trucking (transportation), communication, public utilities (energy, water, garbage collection), etc.

“By shock testing, it is found that there is a direct relationship between the availability of money flowing in an economy and the psychological outlook and response of masses of people dependent upon that availability.

“For example, there is a measurable, quantitative relationship between the price of gasoline, and the probability that a person would experience a headache, feel a need to watch a violent movie, smoke a cigarette, or go to a tavern for a mug of beer.

“It is most interesting that, by observing and measuring the economic modes by which the public tries to run from their problems and escape from reality, and by applying the mathematical theory of Operations Research, it is possible to program computers to predict the most probable combination of created events (shocks) which will bring about a complete control and subjugation of the public through a subversion of the public economy (by shaking the plum tree).”[29]

Introduction to the Theory of Shock Testing[30]

Let the prices and total sales of commodities assume a simple economic model in which the total number of important (staple) commodities are represented as beef, gasoline, and an aggregate of all other staple 'M' (an aggregate of C, S, T, U, etc.).

Introduction to Economic Amplifiers[31]

Economic amplifiers are the active components of economic engineering. The basic characteristic of any amplifier (mechanical, electrical, or economic) is that it receives an input control signal and delivers energy from an independent source to a specified output terminal in a predictable relationship to that input control signal.

The simplest form of economic amplifier is a device called 'advertising'.

If a person is spoken to by a TV advertiser as if he were a 12-year-old, then, due to suggestibility, with a certain probability he will respond or react to that suggestion with the uncritical response of a 12-year-old and will reach into his economic reservoir and buy that product on impulse when he passes it in the store.

An economic amplifier may have several inputs and outputs. Its response might be instantaneous or delayed. Its circuit symbol might be a rotary switch, if its options are 'exclusive', 'qualitative', 'go' or 'no go', or it might have its input/output relationships specified by a matrix, with his internal energy sources represented.

Whatever form, its purpose is to govern the flow of energy from a source to an output sink in direct relationship to an input control signal – an 'active circuit element' or 'component'.

Economic Amplifiers fall into 'classes' called 'strategies'. In comparison with electronic amplifiers, the 'specific internal functions of an Economic Amplifier are called 'logistical' instead of 'electrical'.

Therefore, Economic Amplifiers deliver power gain and effectively cause changes in the Economic Circuitry. In the design of an Economic Amplifier we have some idea of the five functions:

(1) Available Input Signals (Personal is specific, National is a statistic);

(2) Desired Output Objectives (Personal or National control);

(3) Strategic objective (clear National input signal, high gain, strong feedback);

(4) Available Economic Power sources (Power = Motivation x Currency);[32]

(5) Logistical options (all Game Theory).

"The process of defining and evaluating these factors and incorporating the economic amplifier into an economic system has been popularly called 'Game Theory'.

"The design of an economic amplifier begins with a specification of the power level of the output, which can range from personal to national.

The second condition is accuracy of response – how accurately the output action is a function of the input commands.

"High gain combined with strong feedback helps to deliver the required precision.

"Most of the error will be in the input data signal. Personal input data tends to be specific, while national input data tends to be statistical."[33]

Diversion: The Primary Strategy
"Experience has proven that the simplest method of securing a silent weapon and gaining control of the public is to keep the public undisciplined and ignorant of basic systems principles . . . keeping them confused, disorganized, and distracted with matters of no real importance . . . This is achieved by:

(1) Disengaging their minds and sabotaging their mental activities by providing a low quality program of public education in mathematics, logic, systems design, and economics, and by discouraging technical creativity.

(2) Engaging their emotions, increasing their self-indulgence and indulgence in emotional and physical activities, by:

(a) Unrelenting emotional affrontations and attacks (mental and emotional rape) by a constant barrage of sex, violence, and wars in the media – especially the TV and newspapers.

(b) Giving them what they desire, in excess, like 'junk food for thought' (crap news and porn), and depriving them of what they really need (a good relationship).

(3) Rewriting history and law, thus subjecting the public to deviant creations that to shift thinking from personal needs to highly fabricated external priorities.

These preclude their interest in, and discovery of, the silent weapons of social automation technology.

> Interpretation: These ensure the public are excluded from discovering the silent weapons of social automation technology.

The governing rule is: There is profit in confusion – the more confusion, the more profit. Therefore, the best approach is to create problems and then offer the solutions.

The governing rule is: THE SOLUTION IS THE OBJECTIVE IN THE FIRST PLACE.

Outcome Desired – Problem created – Chaos – Media – Bureaucracy – Solution

Diversion Summary
Media: Keep the public adult attention diverted from real social issues, and captivated with matters of no real importance (Glossy women's magazines).

Schools: Keep the young public ignorant of real mathematics, economics, law, and history.

Entertainment: Keep public entertainment below a sixth grade level.

Work: Keep the public busy, busy, busy, with no time to think – 'back on the farm with the other animals'.

Consent: The Primary Victory

"A silent weapon system operates upon data obtained from a docile public by legal (but not always lawful) force. Much information is made available to silent weapon systems programmers through Internal Revenue.[37] This information consists of the enforced delivery of well-organized data contained in federal and state tax forms collected, assembled, and submitted by slave labor (provided free by taxpayers and employers).

"The number of forms submitted to the IRS is also a useful indicator of public consent, and an important factor in strategic decision-making."[38]

A Short List of Inputs shows consent to silent weapons of social automation technology controlling someone's life.

A Short List of Outputs controls (allocates or destroys) someone's life.

This is the carrot and the stick.

"These 'Consent Coefficients' are numerical feedback that indicate victory status. "Their Psychological basis is:

"When the government is able to collect tax and seize private property without just compensation, it is an indication that the public is ripe for surrender and is consenting to enslavement and legal encroachment. A good and easily quantified indicator of Inland Revenue at harvest time is the number of public citizens who pay income tax."[39]

Amplifying Energy Sources[40]

The next step in the process of designing an economic amplifier is discovering the Energy Sources. Energy Sources that support any economic system are the supply of raw materials and the consent of the people to labor. Labor assumes a certain rank, position, level, and class in the social structure – a pecking order.

Each class is guaranteed a level of income and controls the class immediately below it. This preserves the class structure. It provides stability, security, and keeps people busy so they require a government from the top.

As time goes on and communication and education improve, the Lower Class become knowledgeable and envious of the good things of the Upper Class. The Lower Class attain a knowledge of Energy Systems which is able to propel them upwards.

Such a mass uprising threatens the sovereignty of the elite.

If this rise of the Lower Class can be postponed for long enough, the elite achieve Energy Dominance, and labor consents to never holding positions in the Essential Economic Energy Source – Economic Capacitance – Capital God.

The consent of people to labor, with others (Government) handling their affairs must occur until Energy Dominance is absolutely established and secured.

Part of this security is killing anyone around an oil field. This is usually done by creating a civil war around energy or mineral resources and is common practice in Africa.

Failure to secure Energy Dominance could cause the people to rise up and interfere in the final transfer of Energy Sources to the elite.

Manufactured public consent is still an essential key to the release of energy in the process of Economic Amplification.

> Interpretation: Advertising is essential to delivering power gain. In the Game Theory, the game must never be enunciated.

A major part of the advertising is ensuring distraction news.

The news specializes in distraction news.

When there is a big story in New Zealand, instead of getting the big story, we get a cat up a tree, a raincoat on the motorway, the number of birds killed by cats in Dunedin each year (each cat kills two birds), or the lesbian Prime Minister handing out awards to people guaranteed never, ever, ever to enunciate the Game Theory.

Prime Minister Helen Clark's lesbianism has never ever been on the news. Everybody knows, and pondering it constantly is a far greater distraction. New Zealand is got the Montauk thought reading device in June/July 2008. The one that reads thoughts. My bet is it will be turned off after a fortnight because half the population ponder, dream, daydream and subtly plan murdering the former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute.

Now Helen Clark's prostitution will be read by the latest of Montauk's technology-of-the-future . . . and here's how they have sex.

Helen Clark's Detail[41] used to ring me up, via an intermediary, and say: "Where the fuck is she?" And I'd reply, "235 Jervois Road, Herne Bay, at Maryan Street's house". So when Helen Clark would jump into her car at 3 am and shoot off, the boys had time to wake up, jump through their trousers, put the billy on and have a cup of tea before they drove five minutes up the road.

Maryan Street is a lesbian married to another woman with a child conceived by hot teaspoon in Helen Clark's house. Now there's a little Montauk mindreader.

Anyway, another while I'm in distraction mode. You're wondering how Helen Clark has sex with her husband, when she does on those rare occasions, like the consummation that didn't happen for decades. Well, some builder mates of mine were working on her house and they found the biggest dildo you could find under her bed. She sticks the fisted end up her fanny, puts the dick end in her gay husband's arsehole and fucks him doggy style.

Go Montauk that.

Anyway, that was just a little distraction from someone often interviewed, but never on the news.

Social Engineering is key. The public receives an input control signal and delivers energy. Advertising controls the 'exclusive', 'qualitative', 'go' or 'no go' switch and 'Ignorance' governs the active circuit.

If you're not ignorant, you're not a good citizen in George Herbert Bush's world. The switch is turned off for you, and you are governed by 'NO ALLOCATION' and ultimately destroyed.

There is an advertising strategy for each class. Each class is expected to perform specific internal functions. If they fail, they change class and a new strategy is heaped upon them.

For the Lower Class, we call this ignorance inducing advertising 'PC' (Political Correctness).

---

[41] Detail is Security.

All of this depends on the Energy Source Elite's dominance: your input, their desired output; your desired output, their strategic objective; their money, your motivation for currency; their logisitical option, your entire life which they control by allocating or destroying.

They want strong gain with no feedback.

You want strong gain and motivational feedback.

Now you know why your employer's encouragement sounds so hollow.

Consent is an Economic Valve. It is involved in Present Flow, and must be maintained constantly. This is the role of the news. The news ensures that we continually have no news.

The Magnetic Field of the human population is based on ignorance, total ignorance. If Commoners got the news, they would demand power, a share in the supply line, a share of the current, and unlimited choices.

What do Commoners want? We want money.

Commoner's minimal assets would be replaced with a share of the banker's assets.

In short, the Lower Class would want to vastly increase their Capacity.

Capital is Economic Capacitance, but that is all going to the Energy Barons, the Energy Elite.

Iraq is currently a good example where: "A declining capacity to deliver services and carry out investments . . . Iraq has no clear framework as to who owns the oil."[42]

This is just how the Energy Barons want it – total and utter confusion and war, with less and less Iraqis owning a share, and more and more warmongers fighting for the oil companies on private contracts.

It's civil war all around oil, with the Americans drawn in on behalf of Israel, all sides controlled and paid for by the banks, with the Druze dressed as Iraqi Arabs, shooting at the American soldiers, who then shoot Iraqis. When the Brits caught onto this, they dressed as Arabs, shot Israelis and were caught by Coalition Forces. MI6 were rather embarrassed, but it was little matter compared to the blood-oil they were gaining.

Iraq is the model of the new PC Lower Class. Now you know what to expect.

Once the elite have total control of the Prime Energy Sources, Citizens will have no Capacity to control their government's actions, and the governments will no longer be required to act, even minutely, like their polling day pledges.

This will make it a One Government system, no matter who gets in.

When all governments are One Government, you have One World Order.

Already the New Zealand Supreme Court has its ruling made in Israel. But, hey, what do you expect, the Chief Justice is a Sayanim Mossad agent and a "thief, a slapper and a contract killer".[43]

This is how it already is. Governments haven't made a change since one of our leaders was assassinated in every country.

I think Britain might be the exception, but then "there is that famous Scottish saying: 'He fought to the last like an English Knight', which meant give up as soon as the battle swung, taken for ransom, and rescued with complicated land transactions."[44]

The methods of fulfilling the Georgia Guidestones policy of killing 92% of the world's population are currently being tried out. Some are perfected. To date, only a very small amount have been killed – less than 0.92%.

So we can expect 100 times the dead of what we are experiencing now. Iraq is the model for the rest of the world.

Since Communism has been a sham run by the Jews, who took control of Britain, then America, then Russia, then China, then Israel, then Vietnam, then Egypt,[45] we can expect the world events to be modelled on the worst of these.

It should make Henry Kissinger very happy. He's the world's biggest killer – bigger than Mao. Mao was a Jew and Kissinger is a German Jewish homosexual – the worst of any kind.

Logistics[46]

The successful application of a strategy requires a careful study of inputs, outputs, strategy connecting the inputs and the outputs, and the available energy sources to fuel the strategy. This study is called logistics.

A logistical problem is studied at the elementary level first, and then levels of greater complexity are studied as a synthesis of elementary factors.

This means that a given system is analysed (broken down into its sub-systems), and these in turn are analysed, until, by this process, one arrives at the logistical 'atom', the individual.

This is where the process of syntheses properly begins, at the time of the birth of the individual.

Home – The Artificial Womb[47]

From the time a person leaves its mother's womb, its every effort is directed toward building, maintaining, and withdrawing into artificial wombs – various sorts of substitute protective devices or shells.

The objective of these artificial wombs is to provide a stable environment for both stable and unstable activity; to provide a shelter for the evolutionary processes of growth, and maturity. The home/womb is for survival. It provides security for protective defense, offensive activity, and freedom.

The Political Structure of a Nation – Dependency[48]

The primary reason why the individual citizens of a country create a political structure is a subconscious wish or desire to perpetuate their own dependency relationship of childhood.

Simply put, they want a human god to eliminate all risk from their life, pat them on the head, kiss their bruises, put a chicken on every dinner table, clothe their bodies, tuck them into bed at night, and tell them that everything will be alright when they wake up in the morning.

This public demand is incredible, so the human god, the political, meets the incredible with incredible by promising the world and delivering nothing. So who is the bigger liar?, the public?, or the 'godfather'?

This public behaviour is surrender, born of fear, laziness and expediency. It is the basis of the welfare state as a strategic weapon, useful against a disgusting public.

Dependency and ignorance is also the basis of the Welfare State which is used as a strategic weapon that leads to war, whether national or international.

Action/Offense[49]
Most people want to be able to subdue and/or kill other human beings who disturb their daily lives, but they do not want to have to cope with the moral and religious issues, which such an overt act on their part might raise.

Therefore, they assign the dirty work to others (including their own children) so as to keep the blood off their own hands.

They rave about the humane treatment of animals and then sit down to a delicious hamburger from a whitewashed slaughterhouse down the street and out of sight.

But even more hypocritical, they pay taxes to finance a professional association of hitmen collectively called politicians, and then complain about corruption in government.

The public pays taxes to employ politicians to take responsibility, risk, liability, and face reality for them. When they fail, which is always, the public complains about government corruption.

Operation Research states: "Politicians are a professional association of hitmen".

Responsibility[50]
Most people want to be free to do things (to explore, etc.), but they're afraid to fail.

The fear of failure is manifested in irresponsibility.

Commoners delegate responsibility to others when success is uncertain, carries a liability, or infringes the law.

The commoner is not prepared to accept such risky responsibilities, so demands an authority (root word – 'author') to take responsibility and accept liability.

Commoners hire politicians to face reality for them, to be responsible and liable.

Politicians take up the job, yet fail miserably every time.

Politicians are good on attack and useless on accomplishment.

'Politician' – "Poll it I can".

Summary[51]
People hire politicians so people can:
(1) Obtain security without managing it.

(2) Obtain action without thinking about it.

(3) Inflict theft, injury, and death upon others without having to contemplate either life or death.

(4) Avoid responsibility for their own intentions.

(5) Obtain the benefits of reality and science without exerting themselves in the discipline of facing or learning either.

People give their politicians the power to create and manage a war machine to:
(1) Provide for the survival of the Nation/Womb.

(2) Prevent encroachment of anyone or anything upon the Nation/Womb.

(3) Destroy any enemy who threatens the Nation/Womb.
. . . and destroy citizens who threaten the stability of a nation, including non-conformists who write about the game.

"Politicians hold many quasi-military jobs, the lowest being the police which are soldiers, the attorneys and the C.P.A.s [and Deputy Commissioners[52]] next who are spies and saboteurs (licensed), and the judges who shout the orders and run the closed union military shop for whatever the market will bear. The generals are industrialists. The 'presidential' level of commander-in-chief is shared by the international bankers.

People know that they have created this farce and financed it with their own taxes (consent), but they would rather knuckle under than be the hypocrite."[53]

In Economic Theory:
Bankers are Presidents/Commander-in-Chief of the Military.

Industrialists are Commanders of the Military.

Politicians are a Professional Association of Hitmen.

Deputy Commissioners are politically appointed and control the judges on behalf of Politicians – the Professional Association of Hitmen (PAH!).

Judges run a closed-union military shop for whatever bankers require and the market will bear.

Attorneys are Licensed Saboteurs.

Police are Foot Soldiers [who spend most of their time covering up for paedophiles, including Judges into kiddy porn].

This created farce called government is a professional association of hitmen. It is financed by taxes, which are derived from public consent. Public consent is derived from manufactured consent. Manufactured consent is derived from media advertising and 'news', which create our public values and views. Our public values are controlled by the Bankers, who are the real Presidents and Commander-in-Chief of the Military.

Thus, a nation becomes divided into two very distinct parts: a Docile sub-Nation; and a Political sub-Nation.

The Political sub-Nation remains attached to the Docile sub-Nation, tolerates it, and leaches its substance until it grows strong enough to detach itself and devour its parent – the 'Political Association of Professional Hitmen'.

PAH – the 'Political Association of Hitmen' – Government.

This can happen by force, or it can happen every three or four years.

System Analysis
In order to make meaningful computerized Economic decisions about war, the primary Economic Flywheel, it is necessary to assign concrete Logistical values to each element of the war structure – personnel and material alike. This process begins with a clear and candid description of the sub-systems of such a structure.

> Interpretation: In order to make computerized Economic decisions about war –the last resort of economic heat – the Conducted Con against all Resistance – it is necessary to assign Logistical values to each element of the war structure and to avoid making the Human Value Table, human. This process begins with a candid description of everyone's preferred role.

The Draft (As military service)[54]

Few efforts of human behavior modification are more remarkable or more effective than that of the socio-military institution known as the draft. A primary purpose of a draft or other such institution is to instill, by intimidation, in the young males of a society, the uncritical conviction that the government is omnipotent.

He is soon taught that a prayer is slow to reverse what a bullet can do in an instant. Thus, a man trained in a religious environment for eighteen years, can, by this instrument of the government, be broken down and purged of his fantasies and delusions in a matter of months.

Once the previous fantasies are removed, all else is easy to instill.

Even more interesting is the process by which a young man's parents, who purportedly love him, can be induced to send him off to war to his death. Although the scope of this work will not allow this matter to be expanded in full detail, nevertheless, a course overview will be possible and can serve to reveal those factors which must be included in some numerical form in a computer analysis of social and war systems.

We begin with a tentative definition of the draft.

The draft: (selective service, etc.) is an institution of compulsory collective sacrifice and slavery, devised by the middle-aged and elderly for the purpose of pressing the young into doing the public dirty work. It further serves to make the youth as guilty as the elders, thus making criticism of the elders less likely (Generation Stabilizer).

The Draft is marketed and sold to the public under the label "patriotic & national" service.

Once a candid economic definition of the draft is achieved, that definition is used to outline the boundaries of a structure called the 'Human Value System', which in turn is translated into the terms of Game Theory.

The value of such a slave laborer as the draft is broken down into categories by intellect, experience, post service job demand, etc. It is the Table of Human Values.

Some of these categories are ordinary and can be tentatively evaluated in terms of the value of certain jobs for which a known fee exists.

Some jobs are harder to value because they are unique to the demands of social subversion.

One such job is the value of a mother's instruction to her daughter causing that daughter to put certain behavioral demands upon a future husband, 10 or 15 years hence. By suppressing her new husband's resistance to a government perversion, it makes it easier, for example, for a banking cartel buy the State of New York in 20 years.

Such a problem leans heavily upon the observations and the data of wartime espionage [Operations Research, 1939–45] and many types of psychological testing. But crude mathematical models (algorithms, etc.) can be devised, if not to predict, at least to predetermine theme events with maximum certainty.

What does not exist by natural cooperation is enhanced by calculated compulsion.

Human beings are machines, levers which may be grasped and turned, and there is little real difference between automating a society and automating a shoe factory.

---

[54] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 19–20.

These derived values are variable. It is necessary to use a current Table of Human Values for computer analysis.

These values are given in true measure [silver] rather than U.S. dollars, since the latter is unstable, being presently inflated beyond the production of national goods and services so as to give the economy a false kinetic energy ('paper' inductance).

In 1979 the US was producing more money than the GNP hence inductance.

"The silver value is stable, it being possible to buy the same amount with a gram of silver today as could be bought in 1920. Human value measured in silver units changes slightly due to changes in production technology."[55]

ENFORCEMENT

Factor I[56]

As in every social system approach, stability is achieved only by understanding and accounting for human nature (action/reaction patterns). A failure to do so can be disastrous, and usually is. As in other human social schemes, one form or another of incentive or intimidation [carrot or stick] is essential to the success of the draft. Physical principles of action and reaction must be applied to both internal and external sub-systems. To secure the draft, individual brainwashing/programming in both the family unit and the peer group must be engaged and brought under control.

Factor II: Father[57]

The man of the household must be housebroken to ensure that junior will grow up with the right social training and attitudes.

The advertising media, etc., are engaged to see to it that father-to-be is pussy-whipped before, or by the time, he is married.

He is taught that he either conforms to the social notch set out for him, or his sex life will be hobbled, and his tender companionships will be zero.

He is made to see that women demand security more than logical, principled, or honorable behavior.

By the time his son must go to war, father (with jelly for a back bone) will slam a gun into junior's hand before father will risk the censure of his peers, or make a hypocrite of himself by crossing the investment he has in his own personal opinion or self-esteem.

Junior will go to war or father will be embarrassed.

So junior will go to war, the true purpose of the war notwithstanding.

Factor III: Mother[58]

The female element of human society is ruled by emotion first and logic second [Emotion, fantasy, imagination, then logic].

In the battle between logic and imagination, imagination always wins and fantasy prevails.

Maternal instinct dominates so that the child comes first and the future comes second.

A woman with a newborn baby is too starry-eyed to see her children as a wealthy man's cannon fodder or a cheap source of slave labor.

---

[55] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, p. 20.

[56] Ibid.

[58] Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, pp. 20–21.

A woman must be conditioned to accept the transition into "reality", when it comes, or sooner.

As the transition becomes more difficult to manage, the family unit must be carefully disintegrated, and state controlled public education and state operated childcare centers must become more common and legally enforced so as to begin the detachment of the child from the mother and the father at an earlier age.

Interpretation: The Family Court destroys the family in preparation for children going to war. When there is no war, they are sent to prison.

Inoculation of behavioral drugs can speed the transition for the child (mandatory).

Interpretation: The government is behind vaccination drugs, medical drugs, the removal of quality food to create the desire for fantasy drugs, and illegal drugs.

"Caution: A woman's impulsive anger can override her fear. An irate woman's power must never be underestimated, and her power over a pussy-whipped husband must likewise never be underestimated. It got women the vote in 1920."[59]

Factor IV: Junior[60]
Due to the emotional pressure of self-preservation during wartime and the self-serving attitude of the common herd, an option to avoid the battlefield is to be curbed. If junior can be persuaded to go, then all of the above pressure should be used to propel Johnny off to war.

Family and society's quiet blackmailings are the threat:
"No sacrifice, no friends; no glory, no girlfriends."

Factor V: Sister[61]
And what about junior's sister? She is given all the good things of life by her father, and taught to expect the same from her future husband regardless of the price.

Factor VI: Cattle[62]
Those who will not use their brains are no better off than those who have no brains, and so this mindless school of jellyfish, father, mother, son, and daughter, become useful beasts of burden or trainers of the same.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF A NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL OF NEW ZEALAND

3 April 2006

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS ISSUED BY THE PRESS SECRETARY TO THE QUEEN

The Queen, on the recommendation of the Prime Minister of New Zealand, has been pleased to approve the appointment of Judge Anand Satyanand as the next Governor General of New Zealand.

Judge Satyanand will serve in succession to Dame Silvia Cartwright and will assume office in August 2006.

Background
Judge Anand Satyanand, DCNZM, has until recently been a Parliamentary Ombudsman in New Zealand.

His work in that role involved dealing with complaints about unfairness on the part of government officials. He also worked in the freedom of information jurisdiction dealing with cases about the release of information by ministries, agencies involved with policy and those in the regulatory field.

This work enabled him to work with various departments and organisations including Social Welfare, Education, Health, Fisheries, Police and Inland Revenue.

Of Indo-Fijian parentage, he was born and raised in Auckland and is married with three adult children.

He was formerly a legal practitioner in the 1970s with the Crown solicitors Office and subsequently as a partner in an Auckland law firm specialising in court work.

He became a District Court Judge in 1982 and spent 12 years in that role before being appointed as an Ombudsman in 1995.

Judge Satyanand has pursued a number of interests alongside his judicial and ombudsman work. He has maintained a long term interest in Medico-legal Society proceedings in Auckland and Wellington.

He has also taken part in a range of community activities in sport and sporting administration.

He is a Government appointed Board member of the Asia New Zealand Foundation (formerly Asia 2000) and a member of the Standing Committee of the New Zealand Institute of International Affairs.

Since 1998 he has been a regular contributor each year to the delivery of a Commonwealth Secretariat funded training programme for persons newly appointed to Ombudsman office.

Helen Clark and Sian Elias' Murders as influenced by their sexual practices:
Quotes

Hitler Was A British Agent, September 2005, October 2006, 'Afterword', p. 442:
"J' Accuse . . .

J'Accuse Helen Clark of training with the soviets in Tavistock St Petersburg from 1968 and being the KGB operative IE.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of using the nuclear free treaties as cover for launching a nuclear strike on American property between 1980 and 1989.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of complicity in the murders of Diplomat Chris Beeby, sailor and greeny Sir Peter Blake, Sir Peter Elworthy, historian Michael King and Green politician Rod Donald.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of letting out a contract in October 2003 for the murders of Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Sharon Crosby and Alison Holst.

J'Accuse no one of picking up the contracts so they went to Chief Justice Sian Elias who organised and funded the Mossad to murder.

J'Accuse Sian Elias of stealing over half a billion dollars and transferring the money to the Cayman Islands in 1989.

J'Accuse the Mossad of spotting this transfer and bribing Sian Elias. The Mossad would take over New Zealand and in exchange they would carry out any murders for Sian Elias.

J'Accuse Sian Elias of ordering the murder of her accountant brother-in-law in 1993.

Most of the money stolen was due to the Chinese and China threatened war on New Zealand. The Mossad intervened and an agreement was reached resulting in the Asian immigration of 1995. China would take over New Zealand by immigration, just as it has.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of three attempted murders on the author.
The first on 2 April 2002 using the SIS and the KGB.

The second on 23 August 2002 using the SIS and the Police.

The third on 14–22 May 2004 using the Mossad. The later was ordered with complicity of the Labour Party and initiated and funded by the Chief Justice Sian Elias.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of contract killing.

J'Accuse Dame Sian Elias of contract killing.

J'Accuse Helen Clark and Dame Sian Elias of competing to be the Mafia bosses of New Zealand and the South Pacific.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of promoting Jonathan Hunt to New Zealand's High Commissioner to Britain after he was exposed as a paedophile by US Customs.

J'Accuse Helen Clark of being in an arranged marriage to a homosexual child-sex abuser."

Hitler Was A British Agent, 'Hess and Hess Fly to Britain', pp. 150–53:

"The 'Progrom' was to maintain the Berlin Wall until 30/31 December 1999, once Helen Clark and her minder Vladimir Putin had got into power. Helen Clark is the KGB operative 'IE', pronounced 'E'. "She trained in St Petersburg"[1] from 1968 and worked with Vladimir Putin from 1978–91 in an attempt to launch a nuclear strike on American property (Canberra, Adelaide, Sydney, Taupo) from a Russian nuclear-armed submarine in the deep New Zealand waters. This was known as the "Trawler Wars".

Vladimir Putin lived in Wellington for two years as a Fisheries Inspector (between 1980–82) and returned for the sinking of the Lermontov (16 February 1986). At least some of Putin and Clark's clandestine meetings were held on Wellington's Wharf No. 3 in the early hours of the morning and these were recorded. These records were then read and discussed on a political level, but did not reach the public domain due to ideological similarities . . .

Prior to WWI, London, St. Petersburg and Berlin were opulent cities of equal wealth. After WWI, WWII and the Cold War, London was by far the wealthier city. The battle between these countries continues in the realm of WAR-IN-PEACETIME. It is now fought around the distribution of drugs and the induction of feminism into each other's societies.

Feminism was invented in Russia as a method of war, and during the Cold War feminists in Russia were deported to the West. Feminists break down the family, reduce breeding and create infighting.

War-in-peacetime is the war of family attrition. Vladimir Putin's agent Helen Clark is a feminist and lesbian. She became Prime Minister only after another female PM lost to her, so there was no choice. Clark has taken the feminist motto, "If it works, break it" to the nth degree and in just six years of her communist/fascist leadership, NZ has become a country without an identity where the citizens fear and distrust the police and paedophiles have been elevated to the highest office."

Hitler Was A British Agent, 'Lost Leaders', pp. 389–90:

"Wars have been back-engineered. That is, treaties, agreements and contracts (cause and effect) have been placed on paper beforehand to ensure maximum profit and minimal interference. The United Nations is a case in point. Since the UN receives 50% of its funding from the US, it has come under the thumb of the CIA.

The UN has no opposition
when conflicts serve American interest.
No American can be charged by the UN for international war crimes.

The UN is now a white paper on war, drugs and paedophilia and only those with secret CV's of corruption, murder, bribe taking, drug use, paedophilia and front-marriages (intell. files held by the CIA, the FBI, the Mossad and the KGB) are considered for any position of influence.

Secretary general of NATO Lord George Robertson: "Jaap [de Hoop Scheffer] has a distinguished record as both diplomat and politician that make him superbly qualified to be secretary general of NATO . . . I am delighted that we have found the right man to ensure NATO remains the world's most successful defense alliance." Lord Robertson went on to become deputy chairman of the British-based Telecoms group Cable and Wireless – the ultimate position for spying on drug and paedophile markets . . . and supplying them.

[1] The author announced this on televisions on 29 November 2005, replayed on 8 February 2006. There have been no law suits, and worse still, no contact from any media. This includes the Head of Television who has a copy of the first edition.

NATO's new secretary general is Amsterdam born Jaap de Hoop Scheffer. Jaap was a reserve officer in Dutch Air Force, senior diplomat before entering Parliament in 1986 and is described as "as extremely talented professional". Jaap: "the enemy is international terrorism . . . . that is why NATO is in Afghanistan."[2]

After near bankruptcy post-WWII, Monaco's bank was taken over by Aristole Onassis. Monaco then became a meeting point for drug shipments, washing drug money . . . and a tax haven.

The Pope John Paul II (Karol Jozef Wojtyla) and Prince Rainier were both terminally ill and NATO went in search of new drug markets for their newly acquired role of drug trafficking Afghan heroin. The paedophile Lord Robertson (Dunblane massacre) knew of the New Zealand government's paedophilia through the US Customs naming of Jonathan Hunt (Speaker of the House) as a paedophile in September 2004 and the ongoing intelligence documented homosexual child-sex abuse of Peter Davis (husband of Prime Minister Helen Clark) from pre-1979 to his arrest at San Francisco's Airport on 7 June 2006 where he propositioned an underaged Mexican boy by grabbing his crutch and saying "How about it?" The underaged boy turned out to be a policeman and Davis was arrested. First Laddy Davis claimed diplomatic immunity and was rescued by the RNZAF and three diplomatic officers (Sodomy Olympics).

Jaap de Hoop Scheffer went to Australia and New Zealand and gave a speech at Wellington's Victoria University on 31 March 2005: "We have come closer together over the last three years . . . Australia and New Zealand were the top candidates for NATO partnerships . . . NATO is everywhere." He arrived into New Zealand with 10 kg of Afghan heroin via diplomatic pouch. Once this new market was accepted the two previous drug lords were knocked off.

The next day (1 April 2005) the homosexual paedophile Jonathan Hunt became New Zealand's High Commissioner to Britain. The following day the Pope died (2 April 2005) and Prince Rainier (codenamed 'Tax') died four days later (6 April 2005). Both were involved in drugs and money laundering. Tavistock's MI-6 drug activator Peter Frampton then appeared in New Zealand on television (11 May 2005) using words and coded phrases to activate the baby boomer's drug habit. Tavistock's Frampton was the popular culture hook into the heroin market.

Minister of Health Annette King was responsible for the cover up of police paedophilia at Banks Ave in Christchurch. She moved the focus to a Christchurch kindergarten and this was written up by Internal Affairs agent Linley Hood in A City Possessed. The excessively weak Minister of Police George Hawkins was then replaced by the 'sustainable-corruption Minister' of Health Annette King on 19 October 2005.

In order to become the Minister of Police, Annette King delivered the Afghan/NATO heroin to the police for distribution prior to the 17 September 2005 rigged election. As a reward, Annette King became Associate Minister of Defence, Trade, and Race Relations (all 19 October 2005–3 May 2006). The police distributed the Afghan heroin to the gangs on 30 November/1 December 2005 and planted drugs on any gang member who did not comply.

On 3 May 2006, once the Afghan heroin had taken hold, all of Annette King's positions were upgraded to Minister of Police, State Services, and Transport. This provided Annette King with full cover. Annette King has a Bachelor of Arts, a Post Graduate in Dental Nursing and was a practicing dental nurse from 1967–81. Her daughter was involved in drug dealing and was struck off as a teacher.

[2] BBC News, 23 September 2003.

New Zealand's Minister of Police is a heroin enabler.

Intelligence officers: "The Afghan heroin definitely came into New Zealand by diplomatic pouch." It arrived in March 2005 with street word that it had arrived in February 2005, thus diverting the focus of the search. All of this came as a backdrop to Helen Clark's status as the highest-ranking KGB operative in New Zealand, former St Petersburg prostitute and Tavistock St Petersburg graduate.

Helen Clark is the prime contender for the position of Secretary General of the United Nations. She was filmed having sex with another woman at Anderson's Cottage (better known as Lincoln Cottage), near the White House on the night of 3/4 January 2003. This gave the crooked American President George W. Bush full control over her, hence his backing for the KGB operative Clark as the Secretary General of the pitifully useless and massively corrupt United Nations."

Hitler Was A British Agent, 'Afterword – Counter Intelligence', p. 421:
"New Zealand is the spies' holiday and retirement home. In New Zealand it is not illegal for a woman to kill her male partner, as long as she is dark brown, lesbian, lesbians are attracted to her, or she has a history of mental illness . . . New Zealand's legalising of 'female murders male' came under the KGB operative Prime Minister Helen Clark, a renowned feminist and lesbian herself.

This law was tested in Whangarei in 2002 when a female Maori rugby player stabbed her husband and father of her two children to death in front of her mother in her own kitchen during a party. She didn't lose custody of her children for a minute and wasn't even convicted of manslaughter. This set in concrete the New Zealand judiciary as an 'occult mafia'."

Hitler Was A British Agent, 'Afterword – Counter Intelligence', pp. 437–40:
"9 March 2005: predicted election in late September 2005 to Time magazine; 28 June 2005: predicted David Lange would publish an autobiography and die soon after, but before the election; 24 July 2005: knew election was to be announced, as it was the following day; 9 August 2005: Lange's book came out and he died four days later on the suspicious date of 13 August 2005. The election was due five weeks later and Lange's death caused a lot of sympathy to the incumbent government.

It's easy enough to rig a rugby test match with the awarding of penalties. The winning team has penalties awarded in their opposition half and the losing team has theirs awarded in their own half. If the bribe is big enough, the loosing team's kicker, kicks for touch, rather than for goal. This is how the Lions lost all three test matches to the All Blacks in June/July 2005. It came with the complicity of Tony Blair's paedophile minder, Alistair Campbell (ex-military) who fronted as the Lions maître d'.

The Prime Minister had a consultation lunch with Alistair Campbell on 26 June 2005 regarding rigging the next election. First there was to be no KGB or lesbian information on Helen Clark, no homosexual child-sex abuse information on her husband, Peter Davis, no paedophile information on Jonathan Hunt, the High Commissioner to Britain; no coverage of Sir Peter Elworthy's 'death', or Michael King's 'death'; butch lesbians were to hide from the public, no lesbians were to drive convertibles and lesbians were to disappear from public view in general; all Labour women were to get new bright pastel clothes and were to dress like heterosexuals; Helen was to lose weight and have her 55-year-old lesbian XY-self made to look like a 28-year-old heterosexual complete with manufactured teeth. This image was to be placed on an election pledge card. David Lange was to die just before the election – engineering sympathy, and the leader of the opposition Don Brash was to be accused of being CIA backed. The latter was to prevent last minute accusations that Helen Clark was the KGB operative IE and had worked with Vladimir Putin in Wellington to launch a nuclear strike on American property during the Cold War – namely Canberra, Adelaide or Sydney in a rotating fashion.

After the chicken salad had arrived, the NATO delivered Afghan heroin was not to reach the market until after the election, regardless of who won. In exchange for no information on Tony Blair's rock spider activity, Campbell would throw the Lions Tour of New Zealand which would make Helen Clark popular in the eyes of rugby fans. He would also ensure the world's media remained silent on Helen Clark's filmed sex with Heather Simpson at Anderson's Cottage. He could only guarantee W. remained quiet on it as long as she continued to not criticise the Iraq war. This was the deal. This was how it was engineered and this was how it was done, complete with carbonated water.

Another interesting aspect of election rigging is the engineering of fine weather during the winter leading up to the election providing that feel good factor.

Under Operation CLOVERLEAF (1997–) aerosol and electro-magnetic operations, high frequency microwaves are used to manipulate the charged atmosphere for weather modification. Along with this are 4 beats per second extremely low electro-magnetic frequencies breaking down human biological and mental functioning . . . and aerosol poisons dissipated by planes.

These particles (10% the width of a human hair) are made up of barium salts, aluminium and radioactive thorium, viruses, bacteria, fungi, desiccated bovine (cow) blood cells and mutated spores which secrete a powerful microtoxin, Ethylene Dibromide (a carcinogen and toxin banned in 1983) and Mycoplasma Fermetens Incognitus, the same Mycoplasma that created the Gulf War syndrome.

Weather modification is bought via bribes to the CIA who fly unregistered planes stolen off the American military and America companies as well as pre-modified commericial planes like the KC-10A, KC135 (707) and C-130s. These have been adapted with 500 litres of poisons stored amongst the sewerage bowels and are dissipated through the modified static discharge wicks at the rear of the plane's wings.

Spymaster: "The CIA just waltz in with their bogus and forged documentation and commandeer the planes. They are not all commercial flights and some of the planes are unregistered."

The poisons are so fine they are breathed in and enter the blood cells. Their toxic metals suppress the immune system, weakening muscles and cause cancers, Alzheimer's, blood clots, strokes, heart attacks, changes to the endocrine and nervous system, respiratory problems, coughing fits, shortness of breath, sinus headaches, respiratory failure, severe infections to the throats and sinuses, swelling of the lymph glands and liver damage . . . and it only costs US$0.73¢ per kilo to disseminate.

The cover for this is that the aerosols contain fine metalic particles which reduce the sun's electromagnetic radiation to stop global warming, but GLOBAL WARMING IS A HOAX.

DuPont's CFC patent was due to run out in 1985 and they wanted to stop Asian companies producing CFCs cheaply, so they banned them and introduced HCFC's having the sole patent for this. HCFC's are more expensive and less effective, but DuPont has the patent.

Mt Erebus releases more CFCs than all the rest of the world's volcanoes put together and these are sucked up into the atmosphere during the spring and autumn equinox. To prevent this being measured, a plane crash was engineered.

When the 28 November 1979 Air New Zealand crash was arranged to hit Mt Erebus, DuPont and the CIA were present at all meetings. The CIA's motto is to PROTECT AND ADVANCE AMERICAN BUSINESS. The Erebus crash now prevents anyone climbing Mt Erebus to test its CFC emissions.

The hole in the ozone layer was caused by a nuclear explosion in Antarctica in 1958. It was measured for 60 years and when the ozone hole began to contract in 2002, it was no longer news. Erroneously the GLOBAL WARMING HOAX is still with us.

Instead of spraying fine reflective particles to stop global warming, poisons are being sprayed to assist the new Avian Flu (H5N1) which has been designed to be as strong as the 1918–19 Spanish Flu that killed 50 million. The Bush administration has been having discussions as to the optimum number of people to 'work the planet' and their current estimates are around one billion (May 2005). This has resulted in experiments to kill 5 out of 6 people.

"United States health officials said this week they have started human tests of a vaccine against Avian Flu, which experts believe could kill tens of millions of people if it becomes easily passed from person to person . . . Usually, people catch the virus directly from birds such as chickens or ducks. Geese and wild birds and mammals such as cats can also carry the virus . . . To date, there has been a small number of cases where human-to-human transmission of the virus may have occurred . . . public health experts fear that the virus may evolve into one that is more easily transmitted between people . . . If this were to happen, a worldwide pandemic could follow . . . the public health community is concerned that the virus will develop the capability of efficiently spreading from human to human and thus create a risk for a worldwide pandemic . . . the vaccine [is] made by Sanofi Pasteur [with] Chiron Corp. of Emeryville, California."[3]

Prime Minister Helen Clark stuffed up the importation of the vaccine ensuring that a less effective vaccine was purchased . . . just as previous Prime Minister William Ferguson Massey (1912–25) carried the Spanish Flu into New Zealand personally, refusing to be quarantined. In Freemasonry he was 'M. W. Bro. W. F. Massey' and for his efforts in eugenics (mass murder) a Freemasonry lodge was named after him – 'William Fergusson Massey Royal Arch Chapter No. 60'.[4] [Massey belonged to the British-Israel-World Federation with an office next to Buckingham Palace (1924–90). Federated on 3 July 1919, its roots can be traced back to the 1800s.]

Deaths in New Zealand are due to happen with a cold snap in late October after the election and after a warm winter. The Avian Flu is due to arrive into New Zealand (the world's test population) via planes carrying Chinese 'Chicken-Sleepers' from Manchuria on 10 October with the virus taking hold on 14 October,[5] followed by an extreme cold snap in late October.

Almost all natural disasters are man-made and governments arrange emergencies to keep them in power. For the Bush government it was 9-11 and the Iraq War. For Blair it was the Iraq War and the London tube bombings. For Helen Clark it is 250,000 deaths from the Avian Flu.

The rules of Nordic-Anglo-Saxon colonising are that you have to limit the killing of 'people with integrity'. These are noted as white heterosexuals. The plan from 1500 years ago is for those from Thule (Greenland) to sweep down to Antarctica over 1500 years and then to sweep back up again with a different species – modified humans – for the next 1500 years."

Hitler Was A British Agent, 'Was Wallis Simpson A Man', pp. 515–16:

"Treatment

XY females with testes (AIS Grade 4) have lower oestrogen levels than XX females with ovaries (normal) and XY CAIS females (AIS Grade 7), who are immune to being masculinized due to their complete insensitivity to androgens. The CAIS Grade 7 are known for their huge Tanner stage V breasts, model looks and masculine drive.

However at puberty XY females with testes' can spontaneously feminize. If this does not occur, their gonads can be removed aged 20. This is called a Gonadectomy or Orchidectomy. A Gonadectomy can bring about osteoporosis (bone thinning), menopause and cardiovascular disease and hormone replacement therapy (HRT) is recommended. HRT also helps initiate puberty in 10-11-year-old AIS females.

Skin grafts and sections from the intestine can be used to lengthen the vagina, but vaginoplasty should be avoided in early childhood.

With today's technology, "it might be possible for primitive sperm material extracted from intact AIS testes to be used to fertilise a donor egg."[6] That is, Wallis Simpson may have been able to conceive a child as the male and use an egg donor and rent-a-womb – thus giving her the possibility of half the King's ransom.[7]

In 50% of the AIS Grade 4/5 females, the undescended testes can result in a groin hernia during infancy. In the remaining 50% undescended testes may not be discovered until a failure to menstruate at puberty. The AIS Grade 4/5 adult will look like a girl and can lean towards any sexuality. AIS adult females with their testes removed say their testes never bothered them."

Androids in New Zealand

"The condition of females being perceived as men is common in New Zealand, especially in politics, and especially in the Labour Party (New Communist) where many of the females have few female characteristics, have not reproduced and have married homosexuals and child-sex abusers as a form of mutual cover. (The Moneys in the Bag.)

When these Grade 4 & 5 women are heard on the radio they sound like men. Some of these masculine females (who actually feminized males) resort to hormone replacement therapy, but it doesn't seem to work for long, and certainly not between election photos and election speeches. Thus, in mid-term politics, New Zealanders are treated to masculine sounding AIS Grade 4 & 5 females who have enlarged their vaginas through masturbation, often helping each other in the process. This has resulted in the Labour Party being correctly diagnosed as "Fabian Fisters" and "Butch Lesbians". The Androgenous fist fight is a long journey to the middle.

New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark is a case in point. She has the dressed appearance of AIS Grade 4/5 and looks a lot like the AIS Grade 3 Adolf Hitler. Both were 56 years old when last photographed.

Amongst the tea ladys of the civil service, Helen Clark is known as "Mrs Bull" and there is some truth to the statement "She's a man".

Baby Helen was conceived an XY male and at some later date she rejected the androgen but retained a lot of the male characteristics.

Medically it can be said that Helen Clark was born male.

[7] "Half the King's ransom" meant that if a man gave birth he was entiled to half the King's possessions. This was removed from the law books during the 1950s as the result of chromosome research.

What is so scary is that this SheMan, with her voluntary radical hysterectamy in December 1976/January 1977, is touted as being the next Secretary General of the United Nations. That would make her a SheDevil.

AIS has previously been known as Androgen Resistance Syndrome, Feminizing Testes Syndrome, Male Pseudo-hermaphroditism, Goldberg-Maxwell Syndrome (CAIS), Morris's Syndrome (CAIS), Lub's Syndrome (PAIS), Gilbert-Dreyfus Syndrome (PAIS), Reifenstein Syndrome (PAIS) and Rosewater Syndrome (PAIS). Either a lot of sex doctors were Jews or a lot of Jews were inter-sexed. Other XX female conditions with some AIS-like features include: Mayer Rokitansky Kuster Hauser (MRKH) Syndrome and Mullerian dysgenesis. Other XY male conditions with some AIS-like features include: 5 alpha-reductase deficiency, 17 keto-steroid reductase deficiency, Denys-Drash Syndrome, Leydig cell hypoplasia, Smith-Lemli-Opitz Syndrome and Swyer Syndrome (XY gonadal dysgenesis).

The Danish patient register, 1992 "suggesting an incidence of 1 in 20,400 XY births (hospitalized cases only, so true incidence probably higher). PAIS may be only about 1/10 as common as CAIS." Source, AIS website and AIIaS newsletter, www.medhelp.org."

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, January, May, December 2007, August 2008, 'Post War Social Patterns', pp. 163–64:

"Cover for Homosexual Child Sex Abuse creates much of History

The husband of New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark, Peter Davis, is a homosexual and married Helen Clark for mutual cover. He was selected by Helen Clark's previous lover Jim Anderton (MP) from a police list of sex offenders. Helen Clark is a lesbian and Peter Davis is a homosexual who organised the first two Hero Parades. She is the First Lady and he is the First Laddy.

In late March 2004 a Police DPS officer told me, off the record, that Peter Davis had been "placed under house arrest" at their Auckland home (4 Cromwell Street, Mt Eden) in February 2004 due to an overt interest in under-aged children. He had been transferred from Christchurch to Auckland and was then given a position as a professor at the University of Auckland, of which the Chancellor, Hugh Fletcher, is the husband of the Chief Justice. This was not the first or the last time he has made sexual advances on under-aged boys and one was reported on the television news in November 2001.

'House Arrest' requires diplomatic orders and effects a diplomatic silence. The Minister of Security and Intelligence would have signed this off and this just happens to be the First Laddy's wife, PM Helen Clark.

The myth that Helen Clark and Peter Davis return to live together in their house is just that – a myth – a cover exercise practised on their poor, easily-sucked-in voters. The myth contains not even a shred of truth.

For the myth to be believed all that is required is to present it on the Holmes show with Paul Holmes making bored comments when required. He does this in return for their silence about his own frauds perpetrated on the New Zealand public.

Any government that actively covers up paedophile crimes no longer has a mandate to rule, and this equally applies to both major political parties and the judiciary. Both are as corrupt as each other, with the incumbent party being more corrupt. The police and military cover up everything and therefore get away with their own crimes. This creates a scenario where 'The Forces of Order' play with our legal system and routinely subvert it for their own purposes, which is in line with the American Military Industrial Complex via their takeover of every judiciary in the world. This was done with the American Bar Association which colonised the world as the International Bar Association.

Spymaster: "Because of this, the legal system in New Zealand has become one of the most criminally subverted in the Western world. The only place that you will ever strike honesty in New Zealand is in D-Block in Parry [The Mongrel Mob ward in Paremoremo Prison four km across the water from Hobsonville and Whenuapai Air Bases]."

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, pp. 165–67:

"On 17 June 2006 I got a phone call from Intelligence, who told me that in the last two weeks Peter Davis had been arrested by police in Los Angeles Airport for indecent assault on a Mexican boy. He claimed diplomatic immunity and was sent on the next flight back to New Zealand.

As further information came in, the details were corrected. Peter Davis was caught in San Francisco in a sting operation to catch homosexual child sex abusers. At the airport Peter Davis went up to a young Mexican boy, grabbed him by the genitals and said, "How 'bout it?". The young boy was a police officer, older than he looked. Peter Davis was arrested with a lot of other homosexuals and then claimed diplomatic immunity.

A New Zealand police officer stationed in San Francisco (for terrorism and drugs, not homosexuality) was called. He had to assure the San Francisco police that he would not leave Peter Davis' side and would escort him back to New Zealand. They then drove to Los Angeles state and were eventually met by two members of the New Zealand Diplomatic Protection Squad (DPS).

As further information came in, more organisations became involved in the cover-up, all according to their backgrounds and capabilities. The New Zealand Air Force flew up to Hawaii to retrieve Peter Davis and they took another three days to come back.

Three high-ranking police personnel from Northern Command were on board. Most of these guys have military rank as well as police rank. The police routinely second staff from the police to the Army and back again, thus making available the shifting of all ground rules and status during action.

"Was Police Officer Smith on the plane?"
"No."
The answer is "No" because he was, at that time, 'Sergeant Smith of the Army'.

The three high-ranking police personnel came from National Police Headquarters (NHQ). NHQ is the heart and control centre of paedophilia in New Zealand. NHQ is where all paedophilia is controlled – from introduction to cover.

Spymaster: "They may have used taxi aircraft of some kind. It was not an Air Force aircraft. They covered their tracks every step of the way. They do this so often they have come to an agreement with each other. The police are always dragging Air Force personnel out of public toilets. It is virtually unheard of to raid a toilet in Auckland and not catch the Air Force. This gives the police a certain amount of leverage over the RNZAF. The police went to Hawaii on the Boeing 757 [transport plane] owned by the RNZAF. It would have left from Whenuapai. They're slippery bastards and the plane would have been flown to another base first, like Hobsonville [3 km away], then landed at Auckland Domestic Airport [30 km away] before take-off into international air space."

The three DPS officers flew to Hawaii with the RNZAF in their 757 [transport plane], leaving from Whenuapai, then Hobsonville, then the Domestic Airport, then to Hawaii. The RNZAF holidayed for a few days while the three DPS officers took a normal commercial courier flight to LA and met with Peter Davis and the NZ police officer. The three DPS officers then escorted Peter Davis back to Hawaii and enjoyed a few days' holiday before they flew back to New Zealand on the RNZAF 757. Its flight from New Zealand to Hawaii and back was the maximum flight of an RNZAF aircraft before it broke down.

As further cover, Peter Davis was photographed sitting next to Helen Clark at the All Blacks versus Ireland rugby international at Eden Park, Auckland on Saturday 17 June 2006. Helen Clark denies that any incident took place, but then she would. It's her marriage and career on the line again. If her husband gets exposed as a homosexual, then her lesbianism comes under the spotlight with her international fisting junkets amongst the world's political lesbian heavyweights.

In New Zealand's capital city Wellington, Helen Clark is known as H1 and Heather Simpson is known as H2. They are long-time lovers having met when Heather Simpson was a netball coach in Christchurch. Heather benchpresses 250 pounds during her lunch-hour and looks remarkably like a Scottish man, which was the clincher. Starting a day after the Sydney Olympics (15 September–1 October 2000), the Gay Games were held (16 Sept.–2 Oct. 2000) using many of the same facilities. Helen Clark's long-time lover Heather Simpson won gold in the fisting competition. When I first heard this story I thought it was a joke, but when I asked again 18 months later I was told, "No, its true. Helen Clark's long-time lesbian partner Heather Simpson is a deaf weightlifter and won gold at the Sydney Gay Olympics for fisting." That, and she minds the Tavistock-St. Petersburg-trained Helen Clark.

A politician is just a sexual deviant running an agenda for the oligarchy. Any straight and honest politician is ignored. It requires dirt to reach the top."

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'Post War Social Patterns', pp. 170–71:
"In August 2006, Helen Clark needed another story to distract from her husband being arrested in a toilet at San Francisco Airport so she pulled in some more favours. Helen Clark had seconded the motion for Sian Elias to be the Chief Justice, who presided over a swish whereby a minimum of $500 million, which was due to the Chinese, got transposed to another location. China threatened to declare war on NZ. The most likely repository for the money was British possessions in the Carribean, going over to Dutch and French possessions in the Carribean run by Israel.[8]

The Israelis came up with an arrangement with the Chinese then exerted pressure on their New Zealand contacts to sponsor them in New Zealand, and in turn, they would do any murders they required. This all came to pass, including the murders of Sir Peter Elworthy, historian Michael King and MP Rod Donald.

Murder by arrangement with the Mossad has spread to Prime Minister Helen Clark and she had a meeting with General Moshe Ya'alon in late November 2006. General Ya'alon was to secretly return to New Zealand on 5–8 December 2006 to inspect the training fields in NZ's South Island (Fiordland) for jungle warfare training, to discuss Israel supplying heroin to NZ with Helen Clark (repeating her 31 March 2005 heroin import with NATO) and any murders the Labour Party wanted done. Since I have been Helen Clark's favourite by exposing her as a KGB operative on 25 March 2002, I am on the Labour Party's hit list. As such, I was privy to this knowledge as a matter of courtesy.

On Helen Clark's request, the Mossad arranged the kidnapping of Anita McNaught's husband, Fox News cameraman Olaf Wiig (36), and Fox News reporter Steve Centanni (60) from their vehicle by masked gunmen near the Palestinian security headquarters in Gaza City on Monday 14 August 2006. It was to last thirteen days."

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'Post War Social Patterns', pp. 174–77:
"Similarly, the world's media reacted to the fake kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni with a monumental summary of Anita McNaught's work in the Middle East. She was elevated in the eyes of the media and became a news anchor for AlJazeera TV, an extension of Voice of America, that claims to be the Islamic point of view. As such, 'anyone's agent' Anita McNaught works for them. Intelligence refers to her as 'Anita McNaughty.'

Helen Clark also benefited, using the scenario to create a diversion from her husband's homosexuality and ongoing child sex abuse. The kidnapping was quickly followed by a National Distribution Union strike and Progressive's lockout of the strikers for a month, resulting in no food on the supermarket shelves . . .

As soon as Helen Clark knew of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni's release (24 August, with the actual release on 27 August), she gave the go-ahead for the former Labour

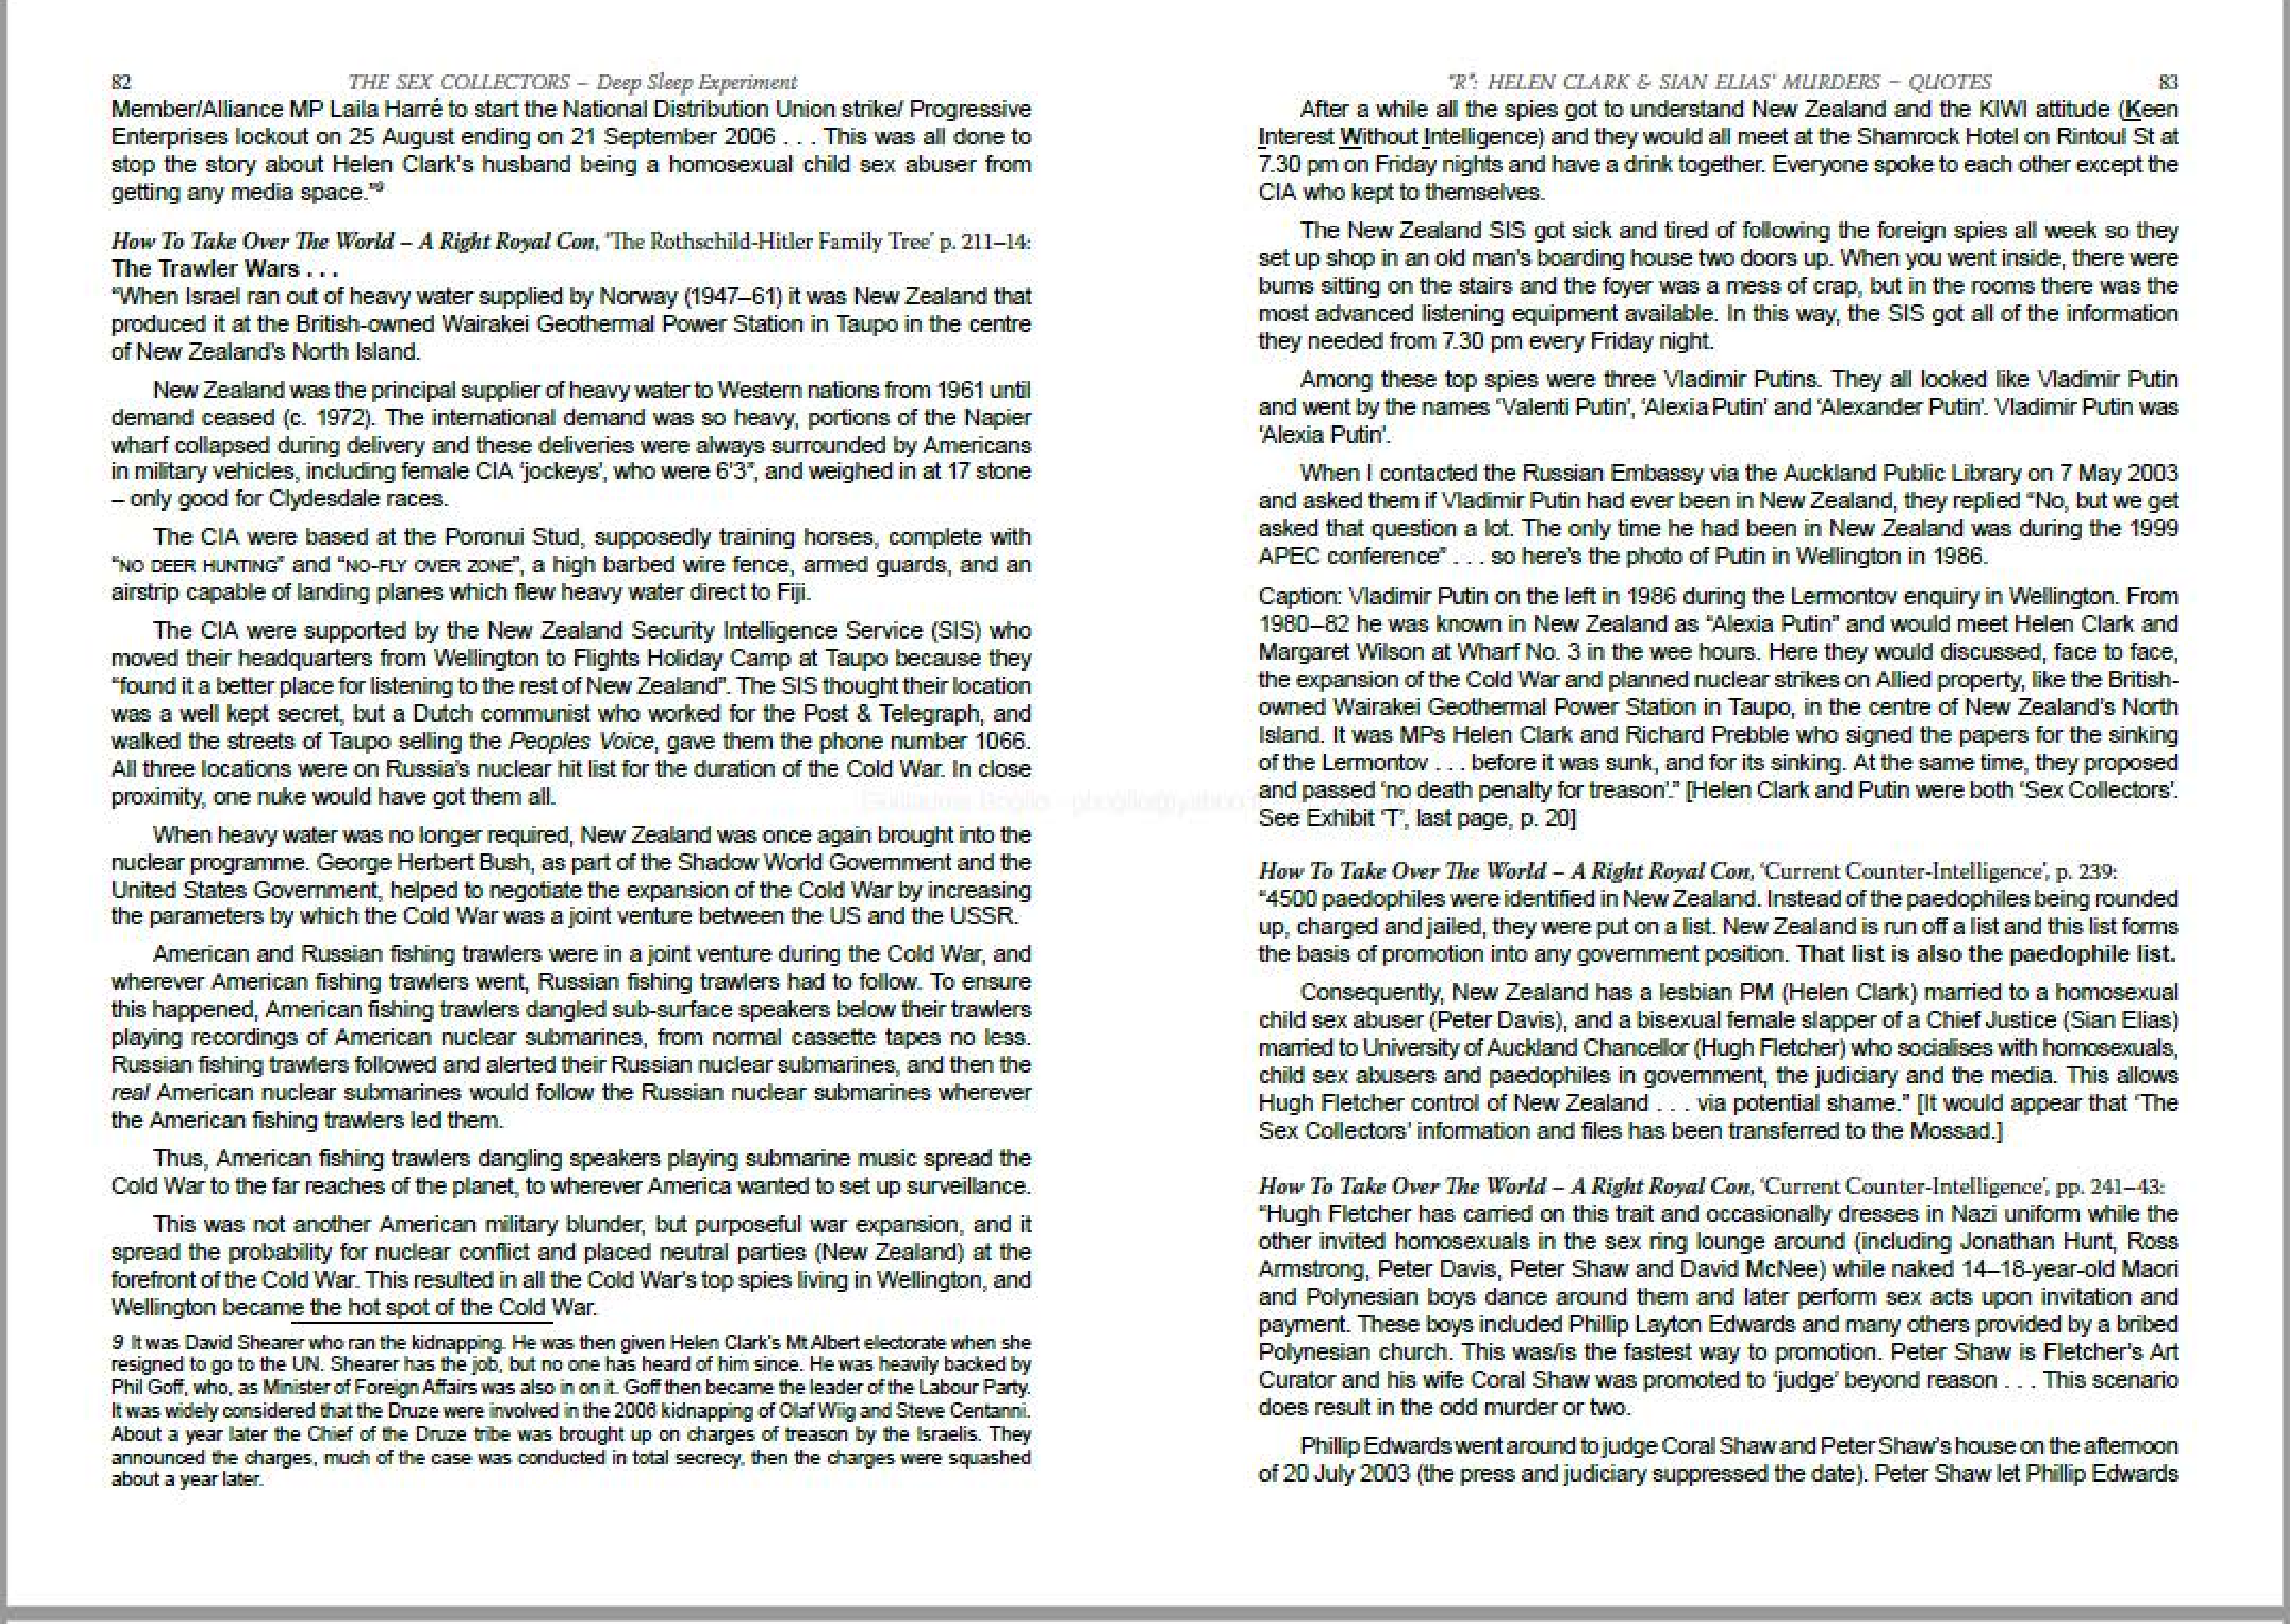
[8] Israel owns other entire states, virtually extant (lock, stock & barrel). The most famous of these is Burma, now called Myanmar (which Israel turned into a giant methamphetamine lab) and Monaco, which they own through the Grimaldi Royal family. Prince Rainier died recently of old age, requiring his son to step in and supposedly pick up the royal reigns. The old man, called 'Tax' in criminal parlance, was the only tax on Mafia heroin before it found its way to the United States. In reality, one civil servant in Tel Aviv kept the entire file and made all decisions, including the state of the Prince's pocket money and alimony.



Member/Alliance MP Laila Harré to start the National Distribution Union strike/ Progressive Enterprises lockout on 25 August ending on 21 September 2006 . . . This was all done to stop the story about Helen Clark's husband being a homosexual child sex abuser from getting any media space."[9]

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'The Rothschild-Hitler Family Tree' p. 211–14:
The Trawler Wars . . .
"When Israel ran out of heavy water supplied by Norway (1947–61) it was New Zealand that produced it at the British-owned Wairakei Geothermal Power Station in Taupo in the centre of New Zealand's North Island.

New Zealand was the principal supplier of heavy water to Western nations from 1961 until demand ceased (c. 1972). The international demand was so heavy, portions of the Napier wharf collapsed during delivery and these deliveries were always surrounded by Americans in military vehicles, including female CIA 'jockeys', who were 6'3", and weighed in at 17 stone – only good for Clydesdale races.

The CIA were based at the Poronui Stud, supposedly training horses, complete with "NO DEER HUNTING" and "NO-FLY OVER ZONE", a high barbed wire fence, armed guards, and an airstrip capable of landing planes which flew heavy water direct to Fiji.

The CIA were supported by the New Zealand Security Intelligence Service (SIS) who moved their headquarters from Wellington to Flights Holiday Camp at Taupo because they "found it a better place for listening to the rest of New Zealand". The SIS thought their location was a well kept secret, but a Dutch communist who worked for the Post & Telegraph, and walked the streets of Taupo selling the Peoples Voice, gave them the phone number 1066. All three locations were on Russia's nuclear hit list for the duration of the Cold War. In close proximity, one nuke would have got them all.

When heavy water was no longer required, New Zealand was once again brought into the nuclear programme. George Herbert Bush, as part of the Shadow World Government and the United States Government, helped to negotiate the expansion of the Cold War by increasing the parameters by which the Cold War was a joint venture between the US and the USSR.

American and Russian fishing trawlers were in a joint venture during the Cold War, and wherever American fishing trawlers went, Russian fishing trawlers had to follow. To ensure this happened, American fishing trawlers dangled sub-surface speakers below their trawlers playing recordings of American nuclear submarines, from normal cassette tapes no less. Russian fishing trawlers followed and alerted their Russian nuclear submarines, and then the real American nuclear submarines would follow the Russian nuclear submarines wherever the American fishing trawlers led them.

Thus, American fishing trawlers dangling speakers playing submarine music spread the Cold War to the far reaches of the planet, to wherever America wanted to set up surveillance.

This was not another American military blunder, but purposeful war expansion, and it spread the probability for nuclear conflict and placed neutral parties (New Zealand) at the forefront of the Cold War. This resulted in all the Cold War's top spies living in Wellington, and Wellington became the hot spot of the Cold War.

After a while all the spies got to understand New Zealand and the KIWI attitude (Keen Interest Without Intelligence) and they would all meet at the Shamrock Hotel on Rintoul St at 7.30 pm on Friday nights and have a drink together. Everyone spoke to each other except the CIA who kept to themselves.

The New Zealand SIS got sick and tired of following the foreign spies all week so they set up shop in an old man's boarding house two doors up. When you went inside, there were bums sitting on the stairs and the foyer was a mess of crap, but in the rooms there was the most advanced listening equipment available. In this way, the SIS got all of the information they needed from 7.30 pm every Friday night.

Among these top spies were three Vladimir Putins. They all looked like Vladimir Putin and went by the names 'Valenti Putin', 'Alexia Putin' and 'Alexander Putin'. Vladimir Putin was 'Alexia Putin'.

When I contacted the Russian Embassy via the Auckland Public Library on 7 May 2003 and asked them if Vladimir Putin had ever been in New Zealand, they replied "No, but we get asked that question a lot. The only time he had been in New Zealand was during the 1999 APEC conference" . . . so here's the photo of Putin in Wellington in 1986.

Caption: Vladimir Putin on the left in 1986 during the Lermontov enquiry in Wellington. From 1980–82 he was known in New Zealand as "Alexia Putin" and would meet Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson at Wharf No. 3 in the wee hours. Here they would discussed, face to face, the expansion of the Cold War and planned nuclear strikes on Allied property, like the British-owned Wairakei Geothermal Power Station in Taupo, in the centre of New Zealand's North Island. It was MPs Helen Clark and Richard Prebble who signed the papers for the sinking of the Lermontov . . . before it was sunk, and for its sinking. At the same time, they proposed and passed 'no death penalty for treason'." [Helen Clark and Putin were both 'Sex Collectors'. See Exhibit 'T', last page, p. 20]

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'Current Counter-Intelligence', p. 239:
"4500 paedophiles were identified in New Zealand. Instead of the paedophiles being rounded up, charged and jailed, they were put on a list. New Zealand is run off a list and this list forms the basis of promotion into any government position. That list is also the paedophile list.

Consequently, New Zealand has a lesbian PM (Helen Clark) married to a homosexual child sex abuser (Peter Davis), and a bisexual female slapper of a Chief Justice (Sian Elias) married to University of Auckland Chancellor (Hugh Fletcher) who socialises with homosexuals, child sex abusers and paedophiles in government, the judiciary and the media. This allows Hugh Fletcher control of New Zealand . . . via potential shame." [It would appear that 'The Sex Collectors' information and files has been transferred to the Mossad.]

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'Current Counter-Intelligence', pp. 241–43:
"Hugh Fletcher has carried on this trait and occasionally dresses in Nazi uniform while the other invited homosexuals in the sex ring lounge around (including Jonathan Hunt, Ross Armstrong, Peter Davis, Peter Shaw and David McNee) while naked 14–18-year-old Maori and Polynesian boys dance around them and later perform sex acts upon invitation and payment. These boys included Phillip Layton Edwards and many others provided by a bribed Polynesian church. This was/is the fastest way to promotion. Peter Shaw is Fletcher's Art Curator and his wife Coral Shaw was promoted to 'judge' beyond reason . . . This scenario does result in the odd murder or two.

Phillip Edwards went around to judge Coral Shaw and Peter Shaw's house on the afternoon of 20 July 2003 (the press and judiciary suppressed the date). Peter Shaw let Phillip Edwards in and was assaulted by him.Peter Shaw then laid a complaint and his wife Judge Coral Shaw then notified Prime Minister Helen Clark who got them to withdraw the complaint. Helen Clark then had the police cover up the complaint.

---

[9] It was David Shearer who ran the kidnapping. He was then given Helen Clark's Mt Albert electorate when she resigned to go to the UN. Shearer has the job, but no one has heard of him since. He was heavily backed by Phil Goff, who, as Minister of Foreign Affairs was also in on it. Goff then became the leader of the Labour Party. It was widely considered that the Druze were involved in the 2006 kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni. About a year later the Chief of the Druze tribe was brought up on charges of treason by the Israelis. They announced the charges, much of the case was conducted in total secrecy, then the charges were squashed about a year later.

The police did not arrest Edwards, which would have prevented the murder of David McNee later that night. This makes the police, the Shaws, Prime Minister Helen Clark, Chief Justice Sian Elias and University of Auckland Chancellor Hugh Fletcher accessories to murder.

The assault was then mentioned in 20/20's "Ticking Time Bomb" and 20/20 disclosed Peter Shaw's name. This resulted in a complaint to TVNZ over breach of privacy under section 8(1)(c) of the Broadcasting Act 1989. The complaint was not upheld.

What 20/20 didn't tell you was that Phillip Edwards was in Child Youth and Family Services care (the government department known as CYFs) from a very young age and a male multi-millionaire lawyer for CYFs used to sodomise Phillip Edwards from a young age . . .

The CYFs lawyer was lured to a meeting with Philip Edwards' younger brother (14) on the promise of sex. The lawyer turned up in his BMW in a red dress and women's underwear ready to sodomise the under-aged boy, which he did. In the middle of Act II, he was jumped by the boy's uncle and severely beaten, resulting in brain damage, a paralysed arm and a non-functioning leg. Police recovered a used condom from the park and this was never forensically tested even though it was evidence of a serious crime. The condom was then destroyed by the police. The brother of the sodomising CYFs lawyer was a bag man for the Labour Party working for Helen Clark's PM's department. He organised the cover-up so New Zealanders would not know what the Labour Party was made of. There was a small move to prosecute the child sex abusing CYFs lawyer but the police considered enough damage had been done and sent the uncle to jail instead, silencing him for six years.

Television interior design presenter David McNee specialised in pillows for biting in every room he had TVNZ film. Maori-Rarotongan dancer Phillip Layton Edwards was jailed and 11 days after yet another early release, David McNee picked Edwards up off Auckland's Karangahape Road (the same day Peter Shaw was assaulted) and paid Edwards $120 to masturbate in front of him. One step beyond the sex paid for and Phillip Edwards killed the homosexual Fletcher sex-ring television presenter David McNee. McNee was a child rapist, into boys or girls, as long as he could get to their arsehole. His victims were often street kids.

All three (Shaw, McNee, Edwards) attended Hugh Fletcher's Nazi-in-a-dress homosexual child sex parties. Fletchers wife, the Chief Justice Sian Elias (daughter of a Jewish doctor, although non-practising) is the highest-ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand. Hugh Fletcher is up there in the Jewish stakes, Nazi uniform included – Nazis were mainly comprised of half and quarter Jews. [Hugh Fletcher is a practising Jew.]

Sian Elias remains married to Hugh Fletcher. Under Jewish Law, paedophilia is considered 'halakah'. 'Halakah' is a rabbinic technical term which refers to rules that guide everyday behaviour. To the Jews, even the daughters of non-practising Jews, paedophilia is part of 'walk-the-walk but don't talk-the-talk'. Halakah includes paedophilia by marriage and paedophilia within marriage.

It is well rumoured that PM Helen Clark and Chief Justice Sian Elias don't talk to each other, but murders shared will do that to a relationship.

Sian Elias' father was a doctor, cited for shagging his Polynesian clients and for signing papers for socialistic compensation without question. In late 2006, at a formal government covention, two MPs from different political parties noted one of the official government limousines rocking so they went up for a closer look. They peered in through the back window to find Chief Justice Sian Elias sitting on top of her chauffeur and singing while she shagged the clown-fucker.

Former Intelligence Officer: "Don't mention politicians' secret sexuality. It seems to increase their popularity."

Author: "But it makes them compromised and controlled by anyone with the knowledge, including groups outside NZ."

Former Intelligence Officer (I.O.): "Can you blame her. She is married to a homosexual paedophile."

Hugh Fletcher, married to Sian Elias, is the grandson of the founder Sir James Fletcher (1886–1974) who was absolutely and resolutely determined to make money. His son, also Sir James Fletcher, inherited this trait."

How To Take Over The World – A Right Royal Con, 'Current Counter-Intelligence', pp. 244–46:
"Sian Elias became a Queen's Counsel in 1988 (protection for the treasonous crimes to come), judge of the High Court in 1995 (a normally respected Court), Chief Justice in 1999, was awarded the GNZM the same year, then established the Supreme Court in January 2004, while at the same time becoming the head of the Supreme Court and avoiding, under question, her sexual relationship with the rape-accused judge Anthony Christiansen who she then secretly promoted to reserve judge. Much of her cover was provided by the married-to-a-homosexual-child-sex-abuser Helen Clark KGB.

Sian Elias then oversaw the design of the new Supreme Court building in Wellington, which takes all the elements of the large-scale Jewish parliamentary buildings (like the Knesset) complete with 'them and us' symbology and a golden egg in the middle of the roof. This is actually an antenna (similar to Black Birch) for sending and receiving information so that Supreme Court decisions can be made from Israel.

The Jews view themselves as "Living Souls" and gentiles as a "person" to be judged by the Courts. Jews define a 'person' as a gentile to be milked, hence 'cattle' and 'chattel'. In New Zealand, 'persons' being charged and fined in Court, and taxed in their work life, were still paying the debts of the 1845–72 Maori Land Wars. These payments were made to Great Britain until recently and Great Britain is owned by the Jewish bankers.

The judges' "bench" translates as 'bank' and is utilised to collect for the International Bankers' war debts . . . Justice anyone? Sorry, 'Just Us'.

Under Sian Elias' tenure the paedophile Jonathan Hunt was promoted to New Zealand's High Commissioner to Britain. To create cover for this, the Minister of Health Annette King nominated herself to assist in trafficking Afghan heroin from NATO, through the PM to the police and then the gangs. This was nothing new to Annette King as her daughter's boyfriend was also a drug dealer. As a reward, Annette King was promoted to 'Minister of Police' and everyone else involved was silenced through complicity – which means all the police. The heroin was targeted to the drug dealers through the chain discovered by the undercover cop and now Police Association President and TV spokesman, Greg O'Connor."

Stalin's British Training – Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War, February, September 2007, 'Stalin's British Training', pp. 121–25:

"Muldoon handed over the government 12 days late on 26 July 1984 because he had contacted the Pentagon and requested they take over New Zealand. During those 12 days the Pentagon Committee voted 4 'for' and 4 'against', with the chairman casting the deciding vote against the American occupation of New Zealand. Muldoon spent this entire time in his office getting drunk . . .

There are many more double agent Prime Ministers like this. It is typical in Western nations to have a double agent PM or president every 25 years, but this timeframe has now been reduced to 'nearly always'.

New Zealand's Labour (Russian-aligned) PM Helen Clark took office in November 1999, 24 years after Muldoon. She is the KGB operative 'IE' (pron. 'e'). Through Stalin, the British Tavistock war school psychological training was incorporated into Frunze,[10] Russia and then on to the KGB, with a branch opening on the outskirts of St Petersburg. At the same time, Tavistock opened up in London. Helen Clark was trained in Tavistock St Petersburg and consequently uses the Tavistock-London-trained National PM Robert Muldoon as her role model.

As Marx once said, "As goes the family, so goes the country". Helen Clark's communist goal is the destruction of the family and the promotion of homosexuals and paedophiles. In support of this, she has a homosexual husband and bisexual PR agent. Her husband Peter Davis is a compulsive child-sex abuser whom she placed under house arrest in February 2004 – for child-sex abuse (not the first or the last time). Helen's PR agent Brian Edwards is a paedophile caught in the act with a 12-year-old schoolgirl in 1981 at 21 Salamanca Road, Kelburn, Wellington, a house he was evicted from, about a month later, for unpaid rent. The schoolgirl was from the Anglican Samuel Marsden Collegiate and was not Brian Edwards' first or last paedophile victim. There have been many.

Helen Clark's much-promoted Minister of Conservation Chris Carter was also outed as a paedophile by the former Minister of Police on 23 March 2006. Helen Clark had made the homosexual child-sex abuser Chris Carter the unofficial Minister of Internal Affairs in order to cover up her own paedophilia (and to rig elections) and that of the homosexual paedophile Jonathan Hunt whom she promoted from Speaker of the House to New Zealand's highest political position, High Commissioner to Britain (April 2005) upon his exposure as a paedophile by US Customs in September 2004 (top on a list of 75 names). To complete the cover-up, the Privy Counsellor (as of 1989) was invested (1 April 2005) with New Zealand's highest order, Member of the Order of New Zealand, restricted to 20 live members . . . Jonathan Hunt mentored Chris Carter.[11]

[10] The area was known as Pishpek (1877–1926) and renamed Frunze (1926–91) after Lenin's friend and Bolshevik military leader in the 1905 and 1917 revolutions and the Russian civil war of the early 1920s – Mikhail Frunze. It contains a major Soviet military pilot training school and trained Hosni Mubarak who has been president of Egypt since Sadat's assassination in 1981. Frunze is a landlocked mountainous area in Central Asia and borders on China, Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan. The population gained independence on 31 August 1991 and the name changed again, this time to Bishkek.

[11] We only know Chris Carter to be a child-sex abuser. His paedophilia was news to us. The difference is in the age of the child. Paedophilia is under 13 and child-sex abuse is 13–16 years old. Labour (New Communism) MP Chris Carter has two cases of child-sex abuse against him from two of his male students while he was their schoolteacher. The New Zealand Police are refusing to press charges while he is an MP. That's their excuse and it is a delaying tactic. They will probably never press charges as they employ so many paedophiles themselves. Paedophiles in the New Zealand Police are protected by promotion and paedophiles become MPs in order to avoid being charged, prosecuted, and jailed.

The investiture was made by the Governor-General Dame Silvia Cartwright, who was elevated to that position via the process of career twins, by Helen Clark. She was previously Judge Silvia Cartwright, New Zealand's most corrupt judge, with 18 major complaints against her – none of them heard and most of them regarding gender bias. It is most common for fierce feminists to promote paedophiles as this suits their agenda – the destruction of the family in order to access unprotected fatherless children, often for their husbands.

When I was asked on radio when I was going to get into politics, I thought about it and came to the conclusion that "Parliament is dining with paedophiles". Similarly, when the position of Director of Security came up in April 2006 three references were required and I wasn't prepared to give any.

This is the way that countries are colonised today, through financial turmoil, paedophilia, child-sex abuse, bisexuality, the destruction of the family and financial, social and cultural annexing. As such, New Zealand has been renamed, although the new name is only known by a select few, and New Zealand citizenship has not officially existed since 10 January 1920 . . .

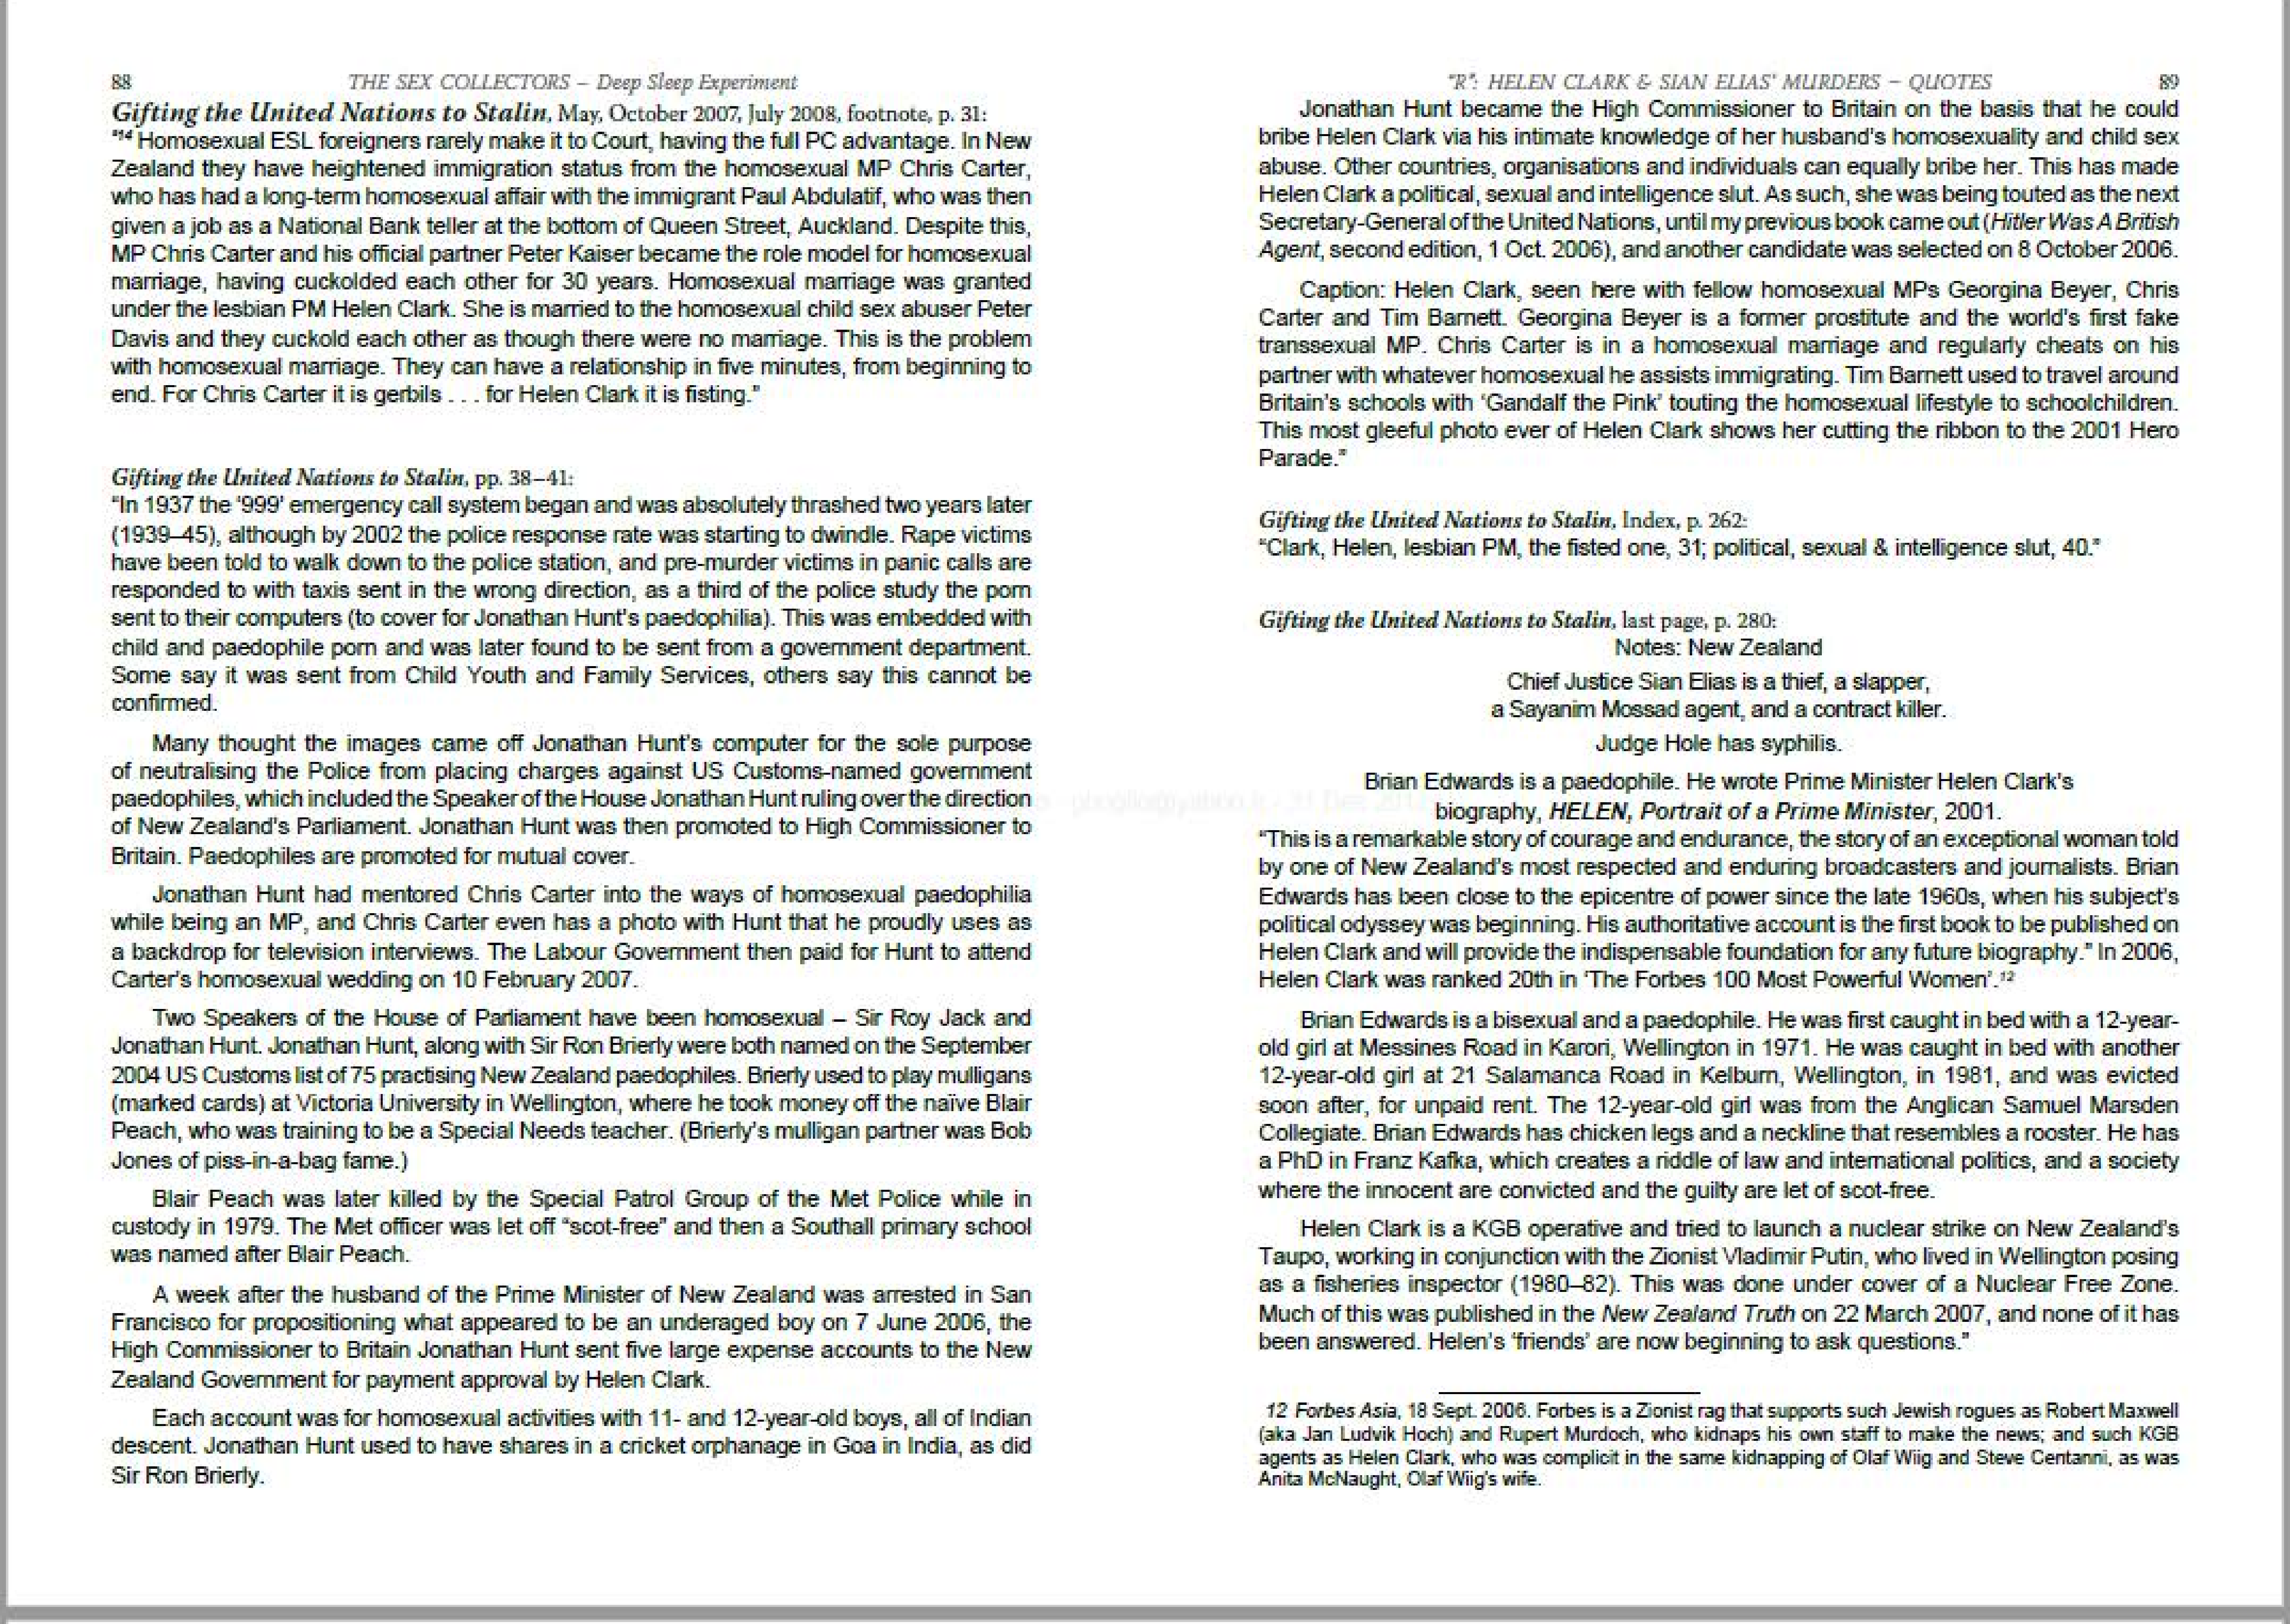
Similarly, the US gave Helen Clark full cover for her KGB training by giving her two Fulbright scholarships, despite her aborted nuclear strikes against New Zealand, Australia and America, 1980–89. In the height of her communist putsch (2002) she requested Who's Who remove these Fulbright scholarships from her résumé.

America then regained control of New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark by filming her having sex with a female CIA pillow talker at Andersen's Cottage, better known as Lincoln Cottage, a short horse-and-buggy ride from the White House on the night of 3/4 January 2003. The diplomatic community roared with laughter and shouted each other out to lunch just so they could tell the story. I paid for lunch.

No one has been so easily honey-trapped since the Profumo Affair."

Stalin's British Training – Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War, 'Occult Royalty', p. 200:
"Just imagine a world without these people. There could have been less forced emigration, genocide, One World Order social policy, One World Order Military Industrial Complex, CIA-controlled Christianity, KGB-controlled Islam, Israel-controlled Western governments through paedophilia . . . and no lesbian prime ministers taking a month's holiday for international fisting junkets (PM Helen Clark, KGB) . . . Oh, and no Cold War. This is what the Freemasons call "doing good in the world"."

Stalin's British Training – Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War, 'Index', p. 209:
"Clark, Helen, trained in Tavistock St Petersburg, communist goal is destruction of family, promotion of homosexuals & paedophiles, filmed having sex with female CIA pillow talker at Andersen's Cottage/Abe Lincoln's Cottage/near White House on 3/4 January 2003, 121–25; lesbian PM taking month's holiday for international fisting junkets, 200; KGB operative 'ie' (pronounced 'e'), 121."



Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, May, October 2007, July 2008, footnote, p. 31:
"[14] Homosexual ESL foreigners rarely make it to Court, having the full PC advantage. In New Zealand they have heightened immigration status from the homosexual MP Chris Carter, who has had a long-term homosexual affair with the immigrant Paul Abdulatif, who was then given a job as a National Bank teller at the bottom of Queen Street, Auckland. Despite this, MP Chris Carter and his official partner Peter Kaiser became the role model for homosexual marriage, having cuckolded each other for 30 years. Homosexual marriage was granted under the lesbian PM Helen Clark. She is married to the homosexual child sex abuser Peter Davis and they cuckold each other as though there were no marriage. This is the problem with homosexual marriage. They can have a relationship in five minutes, from beginning to end. For Chris Carter it is gerbils . . . for Helen Clark it is fisting."

Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, pp. 38–41:
"In 1937 the '999' emergency call system began and was absolutely thrashed two years later (1939–45), although by 2002 the police response rate was starting to dwindle. Rape victims have been told to walk down to the police station, and pre-murder victims in panic calls are responded to with taxis sent in the wrong direction, as a third of the police study the porn sent to their computers (to cover for Jonathan Hunt's paedophilia). This was embedded with child and paedophile porn and was later found to be sent from a government department. Some say it was sent from Child Youth and Family Services, others say this cannot be confirmed.

Many thought the images came off Jonathan Hunt's computer for the sole purpose of neutralising the Police from placing charges against US Customs-named government paedophiles, which included the Speaker of the House Jonathan Hunt ruling over the direction of New Zealand's Parliament. Jonathan Hunt was then promoted to High Commissioner to Britain. Paedophiles are promoted for mutual cover.

Jonathan Hunt had mentored Chris Carter into the ways of homosexual paedophilia while being an MP, and Chris Carter even has a photo with Hunt that he proudly uses as a backdrop for television interviews. The Labour Government then paid for Hunt to attend Carter's homosexual wedding on 10 February 2007.

Two Speakers of the House of Parliament have been homosexual – Sir Roy Jack and Jonathan Hunt. Jonathan Hunt, along with Sir Ron Brierly were both named on the September 2004 US Customs list of 75 practising New Zealand paedophiles. Brierly used to play mulligans (marked cards) at Victoria University in Wellington, where he took money off the naïve Blair Peach, who was training to be a Special Needs teacher. (Brierly's mulligan partner was Bob Jones of piss-in-a-bag fame.)

Blair Peach was later killed by the Special Patrol Group of the Met Police while in custody in 1979. The Met officer was let off "scot-free" and then a Southall primary school was named after Blair Peach.

A week after the husband of the Prime Minister of New Zealand was arrested in San Francisco for propositioning what appeared to be an underaged boy on 7 June 2006, the High Commissioner to Britain Jonathan Hunt sent five large expense accounts to the New Zealand Government for payment approval by Helen Clark.

Each account was for homosexual activities with 11- and 12-year-old boys, all of Indian descent. Jonathan Hunt used to have shares in a cricket orphanage in Goa in India, as did Sir Ron Brierly.

Jonathan Hunt became the High Commissioner to Britain on the basis that he could bribe Helen Clark via his intimate knowledge of her husband's homosexuality and child sex abuse. Other countries, organisations and individuals can equally bribe her. This has made Helen Clark a political, sexual and intelligence slut. As such, she was being touted as the next Secretary-General of the United Nations, until my previous book came out (Hitler Was A British Agent, second edition, 1 Oct. 2006), and another candidate was selected on 8 October 2006.

Caption: Helen Clark, seen here with fellow homosexual MPs Georgina Beyer, Chris Carter and Tim Barnett. Georgina Beyer is a former prostitute and the world's first fake transsexual MP. Chris Carter is in a homosexual marriage and regularly cheats on his partner with whatever homosexual he assists immigrating. Tim Barnett used to travel around Britain's schools with 'Gandalf the Pink' touting the homosexual lifestyle to schoolchildren. This most gleeful photo ever of Helen Clark shows her cutting the ribbon to the 2001 Hero Parade."

Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, Index, p. 262:
"Clark, Helen, lesbian PM, the fisted one, 31; political, sexual & intelligence slut, 40."

Notes: New Zealand

Chief Justice Sian Elias is a thief, a slapper, a Sayanim Mossad agent, and a contract killer.

Judge Hole has syphilis.

Brian Edwards is a paedophile. He wrote Prime Minister Helen Clark's biography, HELEN, Portrait of a Prime Minister, 2001.

"This is a remarkable story of courage and endurance, the story of an exceptional woman told by one of New Zealand's most respected and enduring broadcasters and journalists. Brian Edwards has been close to the epicentre of power since the late 1960s, when his subject's political odyssey was beginning. His authoritative account is the first book to be published on Helen Clark and will provide the indispensable foundation for any future biography." In 2006, Helen Clark was ranked 20th in 'The Forbes 100 Most Powerful Women'.[12]

Brian Edwards is a bisexual and a paedophile. He was first caught in bed with a 12-year-old girl at Messines Road in Karori, Wellington in 1971. He was caught in bed with another 12-year-old girl at 21 Salamanca Road in Kelburn, Wellington, in 1981, and was evicted soon after, for unpaid rent. The 12-year-old girl was from the Anglican Samuel Marsden Collegiate. Brian Edwards has chicken legs and a neckline that resembles a rooster. He has a PhD in Franz Kafka, which creates a riddle of law and international politics, and a society where the innocent are convicted and the guilty are let of scot-free.

Helen Clark is a KGB operative and tried to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand's Taupo, working in conjunction with the Zionist Vladimir Putin, who lived in Wellington posing as a fisheries inspector (1980–82). This was done under cover of a Nuclear Free Zone. Much of this was published in the New Zealand Truth on 22 March 2007, and none of it has been answered. Helen's 'friends' are now beginning to ask questions."

Forbes is a Zionist rag that supports such Jewish rogues as Robert Maxwell (aka Jan Ludvik Hoch) and Rupert Murdoch, who kidnaps his own staff to make the news; and such KGB agents as Helen Clark, who was complicit in the same kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni, as was Anita McNaught, Olaf Wiig's wife.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, October, November, December 2007, opening page:
"Greg Hallett is the author of six books and another five yet to go to publication. He has been arrested, detained, stitched-up, attacked and ignored multiple times – presumably for his opinions, which he voices on podcast overseas to great interest. He was the first to expose New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark as a KGB agent. He is the survivor of ~~three~~ four assassination attempts . . .

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, Preface:

This book is the result of at least three decades of intelligence research. The histories were collected from multiple sources independent of each other and the results have been disturbing enough to warrant checking and rechecking.

The actual events are so bizarre and unbelieveable that they have to be recorded in detail just to confirm their existence. The media never reports bizarre stories, or the truth, or the bizarre truth. The most common excuse given is 'fear of litigation', but the media . . . are usually connected . . .

Governments spend huge money and resources covering their true nature – this is called counter-intelligence. Counter-intelligence permeates throughout every government department. It produces nothing, costs the most, controls the media, presents quiet lies to the public, and maintains governments in power. That is the role of counter-intelligence. Its greatest ally is the media, then the police and judiciary.

Counter-intelligence is the most influential and far-reaching government department and is not limited in methods or extent of attack. Anyone who thinks out loud is on their list.

To date, I have never come across a government that wasn't primarily based on deception. If the average citizen knew of their government's plans, no government would survive. All governments are now double agent governments, controlled through their indiscretions and shame.

Governments are not success based. Governments are failed to the top. Failures make governments controllable. When controlled governments are installed and their failures become common knowledge, they are, eventually, voted out and the next failure takes the reins. The greatest failures are our double agents, and double agents are regularly installed as Prime Minister or President.

The role of governments is not to act for their citizens, but to act for any entity wanting to control that country. It is the role of compromised double agent governments to act for any foreign body against the citizens and use the media to project those actions in the most favourable light.

To achieve this the media is loaded with the most compromised staff it can employ, train, or deceive. As such, the media is party to any conspiracy going, and their primary role is distraction news . . . the media has become the conspiracy . . . It is the media's role to create conspiracy theories and project these on to the public as historical fact.

As a result, voting citizens are left with information they cannot trust, a history that is a con, and politicians whose every word is lies built on previous lies, supported by other liars. Because this has been going on for so long, our worst murderers and villains are presented as heroes, and our most courageous citizens are sidelined.

The government, judiciary, media and military work hand in hand in this conspiracy. In the case of New Zealand, it has left the country with no control over its assets, debts, financial direction, social policy, media content, laws, or military capability. The elections are also rigged, as are the rugby and league tests, as these have been found to influence voting.

The greatest shame is brought about through sexual deviancy. Prior to Political Correctness, any homosexual politician was considered a security risk. Now that New Zealand is run by a 75% non-heterosexual government, the results of their achievements are bordering on treason – acting against citizen and country.

The greatest shame is provided by paedophilia and prostitution, and when New Zealand finds out that its Prime Minister has been involved in both, the media will take a rap over the knuckles with a few lines on page six.

When New Zealand finds out that its Prime Minister and Speaker of Parliament were both KGB agents, involved in prostitution, paedophilia, attempted mass murder, mass poisonings, murder and treason, the media may apologise on page one and give it a brief mention in the news.

The worst things that happen overseas also happen in New Zealand and often New Zealand is the model for overseas disasters. The damage is done. Voting and publication have become fringe effective at best. The job now is to undo the damage as far back as possible . . . Greg Hallett, 25 October 2007 . . . Helen Clark got wind of this book and tabled amendments to the Terrorism Suppression Act. These allow "Helen Clark" to draw up a list of terrorists annually, effectively making her 'dictator ad infinitum' and New Zealand a total police state, including the thought police."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Faggots write Fiction', pp. 8–11:
Prime Minister Helen Clark had the government commit large sums of money to writers' trusts . . . to the Michael King Writers' Centre, with writers-in-residence paid $10,000 in four-month stints to live there.

It's just a shame that more of the public don't know that Michael King was murdered on the October 2003 orders of Prime Minister Helen Clark (KGB). No one picked up the job, so it was given to the Chief Justice Sian Elias (Sayanim-Mossad). Others on the list were Sir Peter Elworthy (killed 13 January 2004 by digitalis in his midnight cake snack), the TV chef Alison Holst, and Sharon Crosby who held the 'Morning Programme On Popular Culture, Advertising and Propaganda' and became the chief executive of Radio New Zealand. The women survived, the men didn't.

"Michael King and his second wife Maria Jungowska were killed when their car crashed into a tree and caught fire near Maramarua, on SH2 in the north Waikato [on Monday 29 March 2004, not Tuesday 30 March 2004]. The cause of the crash was reported by the police at the time to be a complete mystery as speed was not a factor and investigators have little idea why the car would veer off a straight road. A coroner's inquest into the deaths determined that the accident was most likely caused by driver inattention"[13] . . . Epecac and an impact-activated explosive.

There was no investigation into the burnt-out car or the Mossad couple travelling behind them. Michael and Maria were both burnt to a cinder and had to be identified from dental records. As appeasement, Michael's daughter is now an award-winning writer.

To qualify for the MK Writers' Centre, all you have to do is write one poem and root two children. The second child has to be with Helen Clark's husband, Peter Davis, or similar . . .

Prime Minister Helen Clark will go down in history as one of New Zealand's greatest ever paedophile minders – of Frank Sargeson, Brian Edwards, Jonathan Hunt, Sir Ron Brierly, Sir Roger Douglas, Hugh Fletcher, Bert Potter, and of course, her husband, the child sex abuser, Peter Davis, whom she continually places under house arrest.

Brian Edwards is Helen Clark's biographer and the media consultant to the Labour Party. He was caught in bed with a 12-year-old girl at Messines Road in Karori, Wellington in 1971, and with another 12-year-old girl at 21 Salamanca Road in Kelburn, Wellington in 1981. She was from the Anglican Samuel Marsden Collegiate.

Jonathan Hunt was a Labour MP from 1964, then Parliamentary Speaker, then New Zealand's High Commmissioner to Britain. Hunt has been running paedophile rings with Sir Ron Brierly for over four decades, and when the British-European-American paedophile group was exposed and then shut down by the media in June 2007 it led straight to New Zealand House in the Haymarket, London (Jonathan Hunt) and to New Zealand, to Sir Ron Brierly, who was initially financed by Tavistock. [Karl Marx used to live in New Zealand House.]

Sir Roger Douglas was the Minister of Broadcasting (1972–75) during the feminist takeover of the media (feminists remove fathers and expose children to paedophiles) and Minister of Finance (1984–87). Roger Douglas was continually supplied with children and recorded by ASIO at Leichardt's Hotel at 95 Norton Road, in Leichhardt, Sydney, Australia. Knighthoods are given to paedophiles for complicity in destroying their country. Roger Douglas was knighted in 1990.

Hugh Fletcher is married to the Chief Justice Sian Elias and runs a sex club for members of the media, government and judiciary, and the partners thereof. Fletcher's sex group specialises in homosexual parties with Polynesian boys 14–18 years old, with members negotiating for sex on an individual basis – no age limits. One of its members, David McNee, was killed, with complicity of another of its members – Peter Shaw, who is married to Judge Coral Shaw. She sits in Wellington while Peter lives in Auckland. For the last 20 years he has been the art curator of the Fletcher art collection.

Bert Potter was an ex-Air Force officer who ran a satellite Tavistock at the Centrepoint commune in Albany just north of Auckland (1978–92). Tavistock tests and exports their psychological programmes and one of Centrepoint's programmes became the TV series 'Temptation Island'. Centrepoint's loose sex has since infiltrated all aspects of New Zealand society and entire suburbs are now known for their swinging – Auckland's Panmure et cetera.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Nuclear New Zealand, KGB agents Helen Clark & Margaret Wilson – early mission', pp. 13–36:
New Zealand prides itself on being nuclear free and having no history of nuclear capability, either in arms, power, production, or war. It prides itself on being a peaceful country. This could not be further from the truth. . . an article in The Auckland Star.[14] . . . the Wairakei Geothermal Power Station was . . . built by the British Atomic Energy Commission to produce heavy water for the manufacture of nuclear weapons.

"The purchase name, price and date was established from the Title Deeds Office which showed the British Atomic Energy Commission took out loans of millions of dollars to build the Wairakei Geothermal Power Station . . . now . . . does produce some electricity for the national grid, but not comparable to its size. At the time of heavy water production there were a whole series of strange and unusual events.

"The American CIA ran a quarter-horse stud on the Napier–Taupo road called the Poronui Station . . . had a ten-foot barbed-wire fence around their perimeter. You couldn't enter . . . hunt . . . 'No-Fly Zone' . . . had a fairly large airstrip which took planes that carried heavy water and flew directly to Fiji and Guam.

"A couple of times American warships came into the Napier wharf to pick up heavier loads. In the middle of the night there would be police cars with lights flashing. There were Jeeps[15] in all directions, with army personnel carrying side arms, escorting the heavy water cargo onto the American warships. The big army trucks would come down with these incredibly heavy loads, two of which actually damaged the Napier wharf. New Zealand was producing 'heavy water' for nuclear weapons. It was producing almost all the heavy water for the Western alliance.

. . . New Zealand is the only 'Nuclear-Free State' that fails to put to print it's history of manufacturing nuclear material. As well as 'heavy water', New Zealand also manufactured detonators for nuclear bombs and Prime Minister Muldoon was set on testing a nuclear power station in at least three different locations . . .

[p.16] "In 1981, the known gay and child sex abuser Colin Moyle was re-elected to Labour and became the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries from 1984–90. He assisted the Russians in placing submarine locator beacons for Russian nuclear-powered submarines for a nuclear strike against America.

"Helen Clark's anti-nuclear policy only applied to 'American ships'. Russian nuclear-armed vessels were never questioned.

"Such duplicity is consistent with those converted to an agenda-driven ideology from a foreign country for non-national purposes, in exchange for hiding their sexuality. This results in treasonous activities tantamount to war – and that's what we got so very close to – nuclear war from NZ."

[p. 17] The KGB in New Zealand had covers as obvious as fisheries inspectors and cultural attachés when there was no need for Russia to inspect fish, nor did they have a culture present.

The current president of Russia, Vladimir Putin, was a fisheries inspector in Wellington from 1980–82. He arrived prior to Helen Clark becoming an MP [28 November 1981] and visited off and on for two years, while maintaining a cover in East Germany.

I had the Auckland Public Library email the Russian Embassy on 7 May 2003 to ask them if Vladimir Putin had ever worked in Wellington or been to New Zealand. They said, "No, but we get asked that question a lot. The only time he has been in New Zealand was during the 1999 APEC conference."

In Wellington he went by the name 'Alexia Putin' and he used to drink at the Shamrock Hotel at 7.30 on Friday nights . . . After Ivanoff came Putin, with his barrage of false names . . .

[p. 18] "Vladimir Putin had two body doubles in New Zealand . . . known as 'Valenti Putin', 'Alexander Putin' and 'Alexia Putin', with 'Alexia Putin' being the New Zealand name of Vladimir Putin. They all drank at the Shamrock Hotel on Rintoul Street in Wellington. All the world's top spies were in Wellington. Wellington was the hot spot of the Cold War and the Shamrock Hotel was their haven.

"The Security Intelligence Service had their office two doors up . . . Friday was a very focused and busy day for the eavesdroppers at the SIS – it was when the world's intelligence community came together and came to them."

---

[15] Secret Service, No. 1 said "Jeeps". This was later corrected by another agent as: "The US Navy used four-wheel drives the same size and shape as a Jeep, but different. The marines also used this vehicle."

“Spies also worked behind the door labelled ‘H.A. Perfect’ on the 6th floor of the AMP Building, with the lifts only going to the 5th floor, and also at the office labelled ‘Ajax Meat Export Company’ attached to the Manners Street Post Office in Wellington.” . . .

“Vladimir ‘Alexia’ Putin . . . kept a routine alibi in Eastern Europe . . .

[p. 19] Putin had three main tasks while in New Zealand:

1. Collecting the sexual proclivities of politicians of all parties;
2. Laying and moving submarine beacons so that their nuclear vessels could accurately locate their position for a determined nuclear strike;
3. The deconstruction of Westerners.

As soon as Putin arrived in Wellington he demanded the sexual profiles of all the politicians from all the major parties, and Helen Clark provided many of these. Her last heterosexual relationship was in 1980, during her junior lecturing days, with the ship’s officer Mike Lee who was then married to the former ship girl Sandra Vercoe. Sandra Lee née Vercoe had been working the ships from the age of 14, along with her mother, and under her mother’s tutelage.[16] [The Auckland City Councillor and Labour MP Sandra Lee was a child prostitute].

Helen ended her relationship with Mike Lee by throwing all his belongings out the window and calling the cops. When Mike Lee arrived, he found his stuff strewn all over the lawn and the police warning him to stay off the property and he was not to approach Helen Clark. The relationship was over.

To assist in the ongoing silence of this, Mike Lee was made Chairman of the Auckland Regional Council (1992), known for its ongoing failure to produce anything past B&B – ‘beaurocracy and any bedpal’ . . .

Mike Lee’s former wife is Sandra Lee (1952–). To maintain her silence she was made an Auckland City Councillor, an MP (1993), and the New Zealand High Commissioner to Niue (12 Feb. 2003–3 Oct. 2005) . . . from where she was fired . . . Her Maori bodyguard boyfriend kept hauling her out of diplomatic meetings and beating the crap out of her . .

The previous High Commissioner to Niue was also hand selected by Helen Clark. She was a lesbian and had instigated sexual relations with her very young female maid. The maid’s father retaliated by stabbing the New Zealand High Commissioner in the heart with a knife.

[p. 20] Helen Clark then sent the New Zealand police up to concoct a story and they came back with a beauty: “She had been carrying the knife from one part of the house to another, slipped, and fell on the knife, stabbing herself in the heart.” Helen Clark then attended the funeral of her one-time fisting buddy.

The same influence that sexual data has on local body politicians is used on international politicians. Rather than be shamed and fired, politicans are generally promoted, protected and ultimately controlled.

Collecting the sexual data on New Zealand politicians served Helen Clark and Vladimir Putin well. Eighteen years after their ill-gotten gains, Helen Clark was New Zealand’s Prime Minister and Vladimir Putin was President of Russia. Both gained their new top roles in the same month and year.

Vladimir ‘Alexia’ Putin became the President of Russia in December 1999, some 18 years after collecting the sexual data on New Zealand politicians and overseeing the laying of nuclear submarine beacons from Russian fishing vessels . . .

“When we watched these fishing boats, sure enough, fishermen would get off, but so would intellectuals. Every top KGB and CIA spy was in Wellington at that time (1980–86). The CIA were offering huge money to the Russian fishermen to tell them where they were laying the submarine beacons, but taking the bribe would have meant the death of their families.

“At that time, when the West was still in its Cold War frenzy, a nuclear strike was going to be launched from submarines because they were not in a fixed location and therefore more difficult to attack, but the submarines had to know exactly where they were, and that’s why they needed the underwater beacons. They also liked our deep remote waters and sexually compromised politicians.

“The Russians were tracking and finding where the American Omega Grid Pattern was. The Omega Grid Pattern showed the American submarines carrying the Polaris missiles exactly where they were within a fraction of an inch.

“The Americans stated that Black Birch outside Blenheim was ‘a weather station’, but it was a CIA base (still is) and was the control centre for the Omega Grid Pattern and American submarines carrying Polaris nuclear missiles in New Zealand waters.

[p 21] “The American and Russian trawlers were finding each other’s locator beacons and adjusting them a few inches to the left or right. The Omega Grid was spread over the whole world and by knowing where the finite markers were, they knew exactly where they were. This was post-satellites (1957–58), but the satellites weren’t functioning very well and the first satellite broadcasts only came about in 1980”. . .

“Although Helen Clark brought in the anti-nuclear policy under the Lange government (July 1984–August 1989), it did not prevent Russian nuclear submarines, only American ones. Hence the Americans think of New Zealand as ‘Pinko’ and Helen Clark as ‘a KGB operative’, and quite correctly so. The Americans call Helen Clark ‘Red Helen’.”

MICK P[17] in late November 2004: “This is to confirm that Putin was here twice in Wellington. The Lermontov was one of his interests and he was here to debrief and collect information from a paid informant who was a member of ASIO in Wellington [Australian Security Intelligence Organisation].

“During the Polaris submarine type thing it became absolutely imperative to have a grid pattern. You had to know exactly where you were before you could fire an intercontinental ballistic missile from the submarine, otherwise you wouldn’t know what you were going to hit, unless you knew precisely your position. There were these fishing boats going around and the Yanks were doing the same thing, and they were fucking up each other’s markers . . . So they were quite likely to aim at Moscow and hit New York’. [p. 22] That’s one of the reasons why it never happened.”

Vladimir Putin’s official biography is somewhat different from what actually occurred and this is standard practise for a spy, and for all of Russia – a liar’s paradise.

Putin was born in 1952 and graduated with a law degree in 1975 from Leningrad. He then joined the KGB as a spy in East Germany until 1989 . . . Just as Russia was using its universities as an intelligence-gathering front and training Western students as double agents, the same practice was going on in New Zealand, and the New Zealand exchange student to Russia, Helen Clark, was teaching at Auckland University training students to think like Russians . . .

[p. 26.] By August 1999, Vladimr Putin was heir apparent to the presidency and on New Year's Eve 1999, he became Acting President and Prime Minister of Russia, 26 days after Helen Clark. Putin's meteoric rise was due to his ability to appear ordinary, kill unnoticed, make veiled threats believeable, control the media, and give everything external investors wanted from Russia . . .

Four weeks after his protégé Helen Clark, Vladimir Putin got into power by an interesting means. Yeltsin came to Putin in need of cover for his billion-dollar fraud on the Russian people. Putin arranged for a body double of the Prosecutor General to be filmed in an orgy . . . Vladimir Putin became the President of Russia in 1999, some 18 years after collecting the sexual data on New Zealand politicians which allowed Russia to take over New Zealand via social policy.

Helen Clark became an MP on 28 November 1981, and became Prime Minister on 5 December 1999, exactly 18 years after providing some of that sexual data.

[p. 27] The two used to meet at Wellington's Wharf No. 3 in the wee hours of the morning and they discussed the means by which they would launch a nuclear strike on Taupo – New Zealand's heavy water manufacturing facility.

It is beginning to look more and more like Bill Sutch was a well-publicised distraction. In intelligence you don't know how you are going to be used. There is often no integrity, but the general rule is, 'the further down the path of lack of integrity you go, the more you are promoted'. This follows the . . . lore of 'Pimps and Hoes'.

In Wellington, the go-between for Helen Clark and Vladimir Putin was a female activist. Her diary was found by her father in 1982 and was read by two people (including an area Party leader), before being passed on and passed off as burnt . . . I bought his car.

The diary contained arrangements for Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson's clandestine early-hour meetings with Vladimir 'Alexia' Putin at Wharf No. 3; to the agreed plan to remove white males out of positions of power which served both factions, the lesbians and the communists; and the sexual data and drug habits of politicians on both sides of Parliament.

Manipulating sexuality for political reasons was called "sex-communism", or "gender communism" to the intellectuals. It encouraged paedophilia and crime-creation and would therefore gain the support of the gay and lesbian community, high finance, the judiciary, the police force and religion – especially Roman Catholics, Anglicans, Presbyterians and the Salvation Army.

It is typical that the heads of sexcurity and information become the leaders of countries. Information competes with military might as the dominant power, and when the two combine, you have an entrenched government with international Mafia-Zionist links.

Vladimir Putin and Helen Clark share some basic KGB intelligence training. Their timeline and positions are a perfect match.

In August 1985, The South Pacific Nuclear Free Treaty was signed. In 1987 The New Zealand Nuclear Free Zone Disarmament and Arms Control Act was signed with David Lange declaring New Zealand 'Nuclear Free of Arms' and Helen Clark (and Margaret Wilson) adding 'Free of Nuclear Power and Nuclear Powered Vessels'. This isolated New Zealand's intelligence and economy, and in the intervening decades no Nuclear Weapons were used, but a heck of a lot of trade was lost.

[p. 28] When this issue was under discussion within the Labour Party, a round robin went out for the authoritative reply. They rang MP Richard Prebble's house and Margaret Wilson was lying on the couch having a rest with her leg off (she's an amputee). Richard Prebble deferred the question to Margaret Wilson and Margaret replied: "Nuclear free of arms and power."[18] Job done.

Thereafter American nuclear military vessels were kicked out of New Zealand waters, ending ANZUS, the Australian-New Zealand-United States military defence pact, and any trade alliance between these former allies. New Zealand was now under economic attack.

Russian nuclear submarines, nuclear ships and spy vessels have been allowed into New Zealand waters without question while non-nuclear American ships were questioned. New Zealand had been duped with the assistance of subliminal television advertising, politicians silenced with threats of revelations of their abundantly fringe sexual profiles, and a prime minister (Lange) who was compromised by sex with transvestites – since murdered [by Helen Clark and Margaret Pope]..

British intelligence rang me in July 2002 and told me the Waikato River was radioactive and made so by Muldoon's secretive nuclear plant on the Waikato River (of which the details are sketchy) and cheap radioactive fertiliser imported from around Chernobyl after April 1986. This seems more accurate, and it has since leaked into the underground water table in the Waikato and Bay of Plenty, and hence the Waikato River. When the Germans came to test the water quality of the Waikato River for pumping to Auckland as 10% of its water supply, their first question was, "How far upstream is your nuclear power station?". [It was 100 metres upstream from a milk powder processing plant near Ngarawahia.]

From mid-2002 'Project Waikato' got under way with 50,000 cubic metres of radioactive Waikato River water pumped into Auckland every day, with the goal that 150,000 cubic metres of Waikato River water will be available to Auckland by 2015. With so many compromised double agent political leaders in the Western 5,[19] the goal of governments now is to kill their own citizens by attrition, poison included. Slow acting poison is one of their favourite methods. [The radioactive water now floods out the clean water, so its more like half of Auckland's water supply is from a radioactive source.]

[p. 29] Slow-acting poison includes spraying for the Painted Apple Moth (July 2002–May 2004). The moth had supposedly just arrived and was a threat to "urban, native and commercial trees", but one was captured and framed for display in the Henderson Museum. It has been there since 1931. The spray is now causing muscular dystrophy, birth deformities, and early deaths. The MP in charge is the homosexual child sex abuser Chris Carter. The chemical was Bactur 48 LC, and the active ingredient was Bacillus thuringiensis var. kurstaki (Btk).

Then there are the chemtrails. New Zealand is a test country and chemtrails have been going since 1961, well before they became popular in other countries. These have continued into 2006 with American B-52 bombers flying over New Zealand at night and spraying toxic chemtrails and a variation of the Bird Flu, laid every March, and taking hold every May.

Rather than exposing paedophiles, thus cleaning up the government, paedophiles have been continually promoted and the police have been instructed not to charge any paederast MPs. As a result, paedophiles fight tooth and nail to become MPs, or encourage their spouses to do so, thus ensuring their non-exposure . . . and a double agent government.

New Zealand truly does have a communist mafia government (CMG).

[18] Margaret Wilson was appointed Attorney-General by Helen Clark in 1999. Since then New Zealand has not had a justice system, but a 'Just Us' system.

The Cook Strait Trawler Wars

America and Russia were in a joint venture together in the Trawler Wars. Their goal was to spread the Cold War and create a need for their existence. This involved secrecy about their joint venture status.

American trawlers were playing submarine music from speakers below their boats and the Russian trawlers were travelling along behind picking it up, as they were required to do. This meant that the Cold War went wherever an American trawler went and the submarines followed: « US trawler « USSR trawler « USSR sub « US sub . . .

[p. 30] The American and Russian submarines would travel up the east coast of the South Island, through the Cook Strait and then up the west coast of the North Island. Then they'd travel down the east coast of the North Island, through the Cook Strait and down the west coast of the South Island. To stop them being followed, and render themselves invisible, they went through the very deep Cook Strait very close to the bottom. While near the bottom the submarines would lay mines like there was no tomorrow and ditch all sorts of ordnance.

Occasionally they made mistakes and hit the bottom, and on one occasion a submarine hooked up the Cook Strait cable. The media covered for them by saying "it had been pulled up by a trawler" . . .

The whole of Fiordland is a magnetic anomaly that renders a submarine invisible so . . . America was hiding its nuclear-armed submarines in Fiordland until well after the August 1985 South Pacific Nuclear Free Treaty and the 1987 New Zealand Nuclear Free Zone Disarmament and Arms Control Act to which Helen Clark had added 'Free of Nuclear Power and Nuclear Powered Vessels'.

[p. 31] Helen Clark had effectively kicked the American submarines out of New Zealand waters and left the Russian submarines here . . . [just as the communist Bush snr. wanted]

[p. 33] New Zealand's Nuclear Timeline . . .

2. The British Atomic Energy Commission built the Wairakei Geothermal Power Station to produce heavy water containing deuterium oxide (D_2O) for use as a moderator in the West's nuclear reactors and in the production of H-bombs . . .

5. [p. 34] After WWII, New Zealand replaced Norway in the production of nuclear detonators.

6. In 1961, New Zealand took over from Norway in the production of heavy water. This carried on to 1972 and beyond.

7. New Zealand produced nuclear detonators for Britain which were then sold to France and used for the Mururoa Atoll tests . . .

8. The French conducted 36 atmospheric nuclear tests over the Pacific from 1966. In 1975, France announced it would have an underground test at Mururoa Atoll and the incumbent Labour Party protested, but they had supplied the detonators and the communications for the test. The Mururoa nuclear tests were detonated from the French Embassy in Wellington on 2 September 1975. All one had to do to stop them was cut the telephone cable . . .

11. [p. 35] From 1980–86 Wellington attracted the world's top spies from England, America and Russia.

12. American trawlers played submarine music from subsurface speakers and were followed by Russian trawlers and submarines, then American submarines, thus expanding the Cold War to wherever the American trawlers went.

13. The Americans and Russians laid locator beacons, followed each other around on trawlers, and moved each other's locator beacons for their nuclear-capable submarines . . .

15. From 1980–82 Vladimir 'Alexia' Putin was in Wellington for two years collecting sexual data on politicians, deconstructing Westerners, and supervising the positioning of locator beacons for their nuclear submarines. His offical roles were 'Fisheries Inspector' followed by 'Cultural Attaché'. His main contacts are Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson, with another as a go-between. Her diary was stolen in 1982. We know her name and job description.

16. During the Lange Government (1984–89), Clark managed to secure the chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs and Defence Select Committee – a prestigious position for a pro-communist nuclear activist.

17. In August 1985 The South Pacific Nuclear Free Treaty was signed.

18. Naturally, paranoia set in. The Americans began spying on Helen Clark, Auckland Star, 1986: "They have surveillance equipment to pick up long-distance telephone calls and I believe mine would interest them." Both were correct.

19. In February 1986 the [Mikhail] Lermontov is sunk to prevent a Russian nuclear strike on Taupo, Australian and American property. It begins a 15-year undeclared American naval war against Russia, including Chernobyl.

20. [p. 36] Two months later, in April 1986, Chernobyl burns in a radioactive meltdown. Both disasters are blamed on staff sleep-deprivation.

21. In 1987 The New Zealand Nuclear Free Zone Disarmament and Arms Control Act is signed declaring New Zealand 'Nuclear Free of Arms and Power'. Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson again.

22. Cheap radioactive fertiliser is imported from the nuclear Chernobyl drift. The radioactive fertiliser leaches into the Waikato ground-water, making the Waikato River radioactive.

23. Radioactive Waikato River water is pumped into Auckland's water supply from mid-2002 with increased supply planned from 2015. This will make 30% of Auckland's water supply radioactive. [already 50%]

24. From 1961–2006 chemtrails are sprayed over New Zealand. This helps to keep everyone stupid. New Zealand is written up as NS on intelligence reports. "NS" stands for "New Spain".

25. In 2006, American B-52s spray poisons over New Zealand in clandestine night flights. At midnight on 5/6 April 2006 a B-52 flew (SE to NW) directly over Parnell, Auckland. This is not a flight path and not in the direction of flight corridors. The plane was so large and flying so low, the windows and doors were rumbling and the occupants had to get out of the house to see if the plane was going to hit. One of the occupants was the author.

26. The Cold War and Nuclear Arms Race was a joint-venture exercise between the US and the USSR, run by Israel using sexually compromised politicans. It was based in Israel, Belgravia in London, Fiordland in the South Island, and Wellington in New Zealand.

27. Israel was running the Trawler Wars/Nuclear Arms Race from Fiordland with Russian and American trawlers and nuclear-armed submarines hiding and meeting in the same location.

28 . The Cold War was an excuse to put the entire world under surveillance. Previously it was the 'Hitler was here, there, and everywhere' myth, but that could only be run for so long.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'How Exciting', pp. 39–41:

" . . . Ahmed Zaoui – an Algerian MP . . . arrived in New Zealand on 4 December 2002 claiming refugee status. He was detained for five years including 10.5 months in solitary confinement at Paremoremo prison. The SIS Minister Helen Clark issued Zaoui with a Security Risk Certificate using the schizophrenic mental patient and Immigration Minister, Lianne Dalziel, as her front . . . The Israelis told Helen Clark to hassle Zaoui. This was done on behalf of the Americans."

Helen Clark is totally compromised by the Americans and has been since she was honey-trapped at the White House in January 2003. The excuse to detain Zaoui was manufactured out of a verbal typo recorded by the novice customs agent who asked Zaoui if he "belonged to the GIA" and Zaoui replied "F. I. S." and the Customs Officer took this to be "Yes', as he was instructed to do. The GIA was oulawed, the FIS was not.

M: "By 2001 Silvia Cartwright had become New Zealand's most corrupt judge with 18 complaints against her, mostly for gender bias – plus the protests from her foetus. As soon as they developed legs, they voted with their feet and were out of there. She was then made Governor-General [2001–06] by the lesbian and former Freud Hilton graduate, Helen Clark, herself married to a homosexual child sex abuser – so it was all very in-house and 'our-husbands-are-kiddy-fuckers, don't tell'.

"After the Governor-General Silvia Cartwright stole the 17 September 2005 election for her paedophile and prostitute buddy Helen Clark, MP Gerry Brownlee said: "I have to publicly say that I have lost respect for the Governor-General [Dame Silvia Cartwright]."

As well as being married to a lawyer and paedophile, and taking her breaks in known paedophile locations, Silvia Cartwright was a paedophile enabler.

On 16 June 2002 Governor-General Silvia Cartwright criticised section 59 of the Crimes Act 1961 which "allowed parents to use reasonable force to discipline their children". She was backed up by . . . the Green MP Sue Bradford . . . a well-known slapper in both senses of the word. If anyone needed a root in Auckland in the 1980s they could always go to Grey Lynn to the drooler Sue Bradford. Sue was also known for publicly slapping the living daylights out of her kids outside Ranui's Railside Café on a semi-regular basis."

As an MP, Sue Bradford had become a paedophile minder and the primary requirement of a paedophile is that one or both parents are removed, preferably the biological father . . . after years of hating the police, she finally came on side.

This was something Silvia and her paedophile husband, and Helen Clark and her child sex abusing husband, had also discovered quite early on in the piece. That is why they became feminists – to provide children to paedophiles, and that is why paedophiles agreed to marry them.

A large proportion of prison inmates are paedophile victims, and. . . three months after criticising the Crimes Act, at a speech at the opening of the Specialised Applied Research Centre at Wellington's Victoria University . . . on 12 August 2002 . . . Governor-General Cartwright introduced mandatory sentencing for criminal convictions and reduced the likelihood of parole.

This was designed to keep paedophile victims in prison longer, to keep them quiet longer, and to allow paeodphiles longer free time between child sex and accusation, while discrediting the accuser . . . Helen Clark then backed up Silvia Cartwright's decision to keep paedophile victms in prison longer by saying ". . . we clearly are no longer a dominion of Britain . . ." This was a bit like saying, "This scenario has been planned and is agenda-driven public speak. We will talk slowly and quotably and not address the issues." So nothing's changed."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Drugs and Corruption in TVNZ', pp. 52–53:

" . . . They looked around the room to see if anyone of any note might be against their feminist actions and spotted me sitting under the divider wall, all sneezy and covered in a balaclava. One of the feminist flatmates covered for me, "He's alright. Don't worry about him", and they began talking, quite excitedly, about "catching Mervyn Thompson . . . stripping him naked . . . and tying him up" . . . Wikipedia: "Mervyn Garfield Thompson (1936–92) was a prominent New Zealand playwright and theatre director . . . In February 1984, Mervyn Thompson, then a lecturer at Auckland University, was abducted and left tied to a tree in an Auckland park wearing a sign labelling him a rapist. The abduction was allegedly staged by a feminist action group based at the University following an accusation by one of his students." . . .

Mervyn Thompson was left strapped to the telephone pole outside the public toilets on the high north side of the Auckland Zoo on Old Mill Rd, opposite No. 85, which is now occupied by a feminist Family Court lawyer who works from home. They prize such sites.

"We know the names of some of the people involved. According to Detective Inspector John Hughes, there were 11 or 12 women involved. They include Miriam Saphira (now a psychologist honoured by the Queen), Maryan Street (one of Helen Clark's lovers, now an MP), and Dale Candy (police officer), who as you suggested, looked a bit like Anthony Blunt."

Detective Inspector John Hughes: "All of them now have some sort of government grant or position, are in charge of a quango, or are the lawmakers now . . . Dale Candy was part of the police. She showed her true colours by pressuring prostitutes to charge the owner of Atlas Cement. Dale was gilding the lily with phoney witnesses and was a prolific rooter of police officers, which kept them under her thumb. The prostitutes were charged with perjury, Dale Candy was removed from the police rather quickly and the owner of Atlas Cement got off, having never committed any of the crimes Dale Candy charged him with . . . the feminist kidnappers were never charged. Rather they were promoted . . . The Family Court is 'supply and demand to paedophiles'. Their primary focus is on removing fathers as this is the primary requirement of paedophiles and of feminists, who, like their communist model, spend their time creating crime. The previous Principal Family Court Judge, Patrick Mahoney (1984–2004), was New Zealand's biggest-ever supplier of children to paedophiles and the current Principal Family Court Judge, Peter Boshier, was Chairman Mao's biggest fan in NZ, editing the Victoria University communist magazine in the 1970s – Left of Victory."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Drugs and Corruption in TVNZ', p. 55:

"As it turned out, it was the avid feminist, St Petersburg swallow and Freud Hilton graduate Helen Clark who organised the kidnapping of Mervyn Thompson, but I didn't find this out until 2006 – some 22 years later.

Helen Clark also arranged the kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni in Gaza, Israel from 14–27 August 2006. Olaf Wiig is married to Anita McNaught who had an affair with Helen Clark in February 1993.

Five years after flatting at Hepburn Street, I was in Moscow having lunch with the KGB – my shout – and they confirmed they were training New Zealand women as KGB assets to run sex communism. So this all fits with Helen Clark being the organisational mind behind the kidnapping . . .

Two of the girls flatting there proposed to me, by letter, on the same letter, while I was down south working on one of my holidays, but by the time menstruation had done another couple of rounds it was getting pretty cold in there so I looked for another place to live.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Pedigree-Mongers', pp. 65–70:
At 10 am on 18 October 2007 I went to visit Christine Cole Catley at her home in Narrowneck, near Devonport, to buy Bloody Marvellous, the book she co-edited and published on George Haydn . . . Then Christine started to talk about Michael King, so I listened.

Christine Cole Catley: "Michael King had cancer at the base of the tongue [an author with cancer of the tongue], which was supposed to be in remission. He had just abandoned his Catholic faith and told me, 'I feel like Lazarus risen from the dead'. He had so many plans . . . He was on his way to the Bay of Islands . . . Michael's wife, Maria Jungowska, came out to New Zealand with her mother and when she died, Maria went a little potty as she had nobody else . . . There was a car travelling very close behind when they crashed."

She then went away and came back with a 10" x 8" framed photo of her, Prime Minister Helen Clark and Michael King . . . "The two occupants were a Mossad couple, never interviewed. . . . Michael King opposed Helen Clark [and Sian Elias] on the Foreshore and Seabed legislation. It never occurred to him that he would be contracted on by the government and that this opposition would cost him his life."

Christine Cole Catley: "Michael King's daughter rang me up when the autopsy report came through. She said that they thought Michael had had a TIA, a Transient Ischaemic Attack, and this caused a moment of unconsciousness. Strangely, five minutes after she rang, Cath Tizard rang up and said she had collapsed on stage while giving a speech, and her doctors had diagnosed this as a Transient Ischaemic Attack" . . .

The bodies were completely burnt and had to be identified from dental records. Cath Tizard will contribute to any conspiracy that advances her future and covers her past.

T/A was all the rage in Auckland Hospital for about a year and they were telling everyone they had just suffered from a TIA. There are other medical so-called conditions that rise up in popularity at times then go away again . . . all bullshit. This is doctors playing tootsie with spies and hitmen . . .

[p. 66] Christine Cole Catley: " . . . Cath Tizard . . . Yes she is known for the drink . . . Margaret Hayward is now doing a thesis on the leadership styles of New Zealand prime ministers and is due to live at the Michael King Centre for five months with a $10,000 grant, starting in November."

Margaret Hayward was Labour Prime Minister Norm Kirk's secretary for many years and was chosen for her lack of intelligence. She wrote Diary of the Kirk Years in 1981 which she got from Norm Kirk's diaries. It was . . . the publisher Christine Cole Catley you were talking to. It was the most remaindered book in New Zealand for many years. She's not too bright but then not many doctorates are. She now teaches. When you can't do, you teach.

"With this history as a tiresome woman, Margaret won the Writers-in-Residence at the Signalman's House at the Michael King Writers' Centre with the assistance of Creative New Zealand. She also co-authored Women Writers of New Zealand after the Kirk book. If you fill up the white space with distraction crap, you get funding, especially when you have a mafia government."

Communist Mafia Government, CMG. It's interesting that Norm Kirk's secretary should look like the next Labour Prime Minister David Lange . . . While resident, Margaret plans to complete a book on prime ministerial leadership in New Zealand . . . Apparently it's really juicy and full of gossip . . .

[p. 67] Of course I won't be recognised for telling the truth because I've told the truth.

Margaret will be recognised for telling the truth because she's left so much out and has academic backing, which is all about rose-tinted ideology and a life of service and no sex.

Christine Cole Catley: "I asked her if she was going to get it out before the election, I'm Labour you know, and she said it wouldn't do the Labour Party any good" . . .

Author: "It's all about sex. Who shagged who and those in control are controlled by the shame of their sly rooting."

Then we started to talk about Norm Kirk, and Christine was talking about how his wife Ruth Kirk was such a dark woman, a black woman, and I chipped in that, "She was known as 'Black Hearted Ruth'. She sold all of Norm's possessions when he died", and Christine added, "Even the international gifts".

Then I told her how Norm [6 January 1923–31 August 1974] would shoot a pigeon out the window of Parliament . . . Christine: "Yes he did" . . . and had an affair with Whetu Tirikatene-Sullivan [ONZ, b. 9 January 1932] who used to hide in the closet and wait for the cleaners to leave, and Tirikatene would bring the puha [watercress] and Norm would pull his gas cooker out from the top right-hand drawer and they would have pigeon and puha. Then big Norm would pull out a mattress from under his desk and they would shag."

Christine: "Ooh, I haven't heard that."

Author: "Norm would do anything to avoid going home."

Christine then started to speak about Martyn Finlay and his wife Peggy. "She was known as Peggy II, after his first wife Peggy I and didn't want to be known as Peggy II so she changed her name back. She was born Zilda Margaret, but always called Peggy, so now she is Zilda Finlay. Her mind's gone now. She's in a home" . . .

[p. 70] 12 September 2007: The Government announced the end of the Serious Fraud Office . . . because it was a fraud, on many levels. Chas Sturt was a teutonic Fijian and incestuous paedophile and was promoted to head of New Zealand's Serious Fraud Office. As this became public knowledge the credibility of the Serious Fraud Office vaporised.[20] Their history was equally vacuous.

The Serious Fraud Office was assisting in serious frauds and prone to blackmail by complicit silence. The Serious Fraud Office refused to uncover the government's serious frauds, much of which was sex with minors, including that of the Attorney-General reponsible for them.

I think people need to know that the government is not 'a government of the people, for the people', but a government for foreign ownership designed entirely to keep the people subjugated and ignorant. This includes all the government's support networks and includes 'literature'.

So who got rid of all the fun?"

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Drugs and Corruption in TVNZ', pp. 88–89:
"Paul [Holmes] worked enormous hours – one would say too many for any human to consistently do without the assistance of chemical support. He had his radio show Monday to Friday from 6 am to 8.30 am (1989–2007) and his Monday to Friday TV slot from 7–7.30 pm (1989–2004). This peaked for 15 years and drizzled for another two, and you have to ask yourself, how did he do it?

[20] I recorded an affidavit from Chas Sturt's daughter's boyfriend and it seems to be true.

It was under these circumstances – as a reforming alcoholic consistently falling off the wagon, as a methamphetamine user, as a bisexual and intermittent heterosexual, and a toady for the judiciary and politicians . . . Obviously Paul had received media tips from his bisexual paedophile friend Brian Edwards – Helen Clark's biographer. With a PhD in Franz Kafka, Edwards trained Helen Clark's toadies in all aspects of engaging the media.

As a result we have had at least two methamphetamine-riddled newsreaders (Paul Holmes and Darren McDonald) and a lesbian KGB prime minister for eight years, having never won an election on any issues that weren't first created for her . . . and a media that is a child sex abuse and child drug movement – with the Prime Minister married to the child sex abuser Peter Davis.

Paul Holmes has already earnt his pardon by covering for Helen Clark's husband's homosexual child sex abuse. This was first on TV and then in the Sunday papers. That Sunday night, 11 March 2007, they had dinner together in Greenhithe – Paul and Peter, two old Queens – so where was David?, where was Deborah?, and where was Helen? . . .

Even when this comes out, I doubt that Paul Holmes will be charged with supplying methamphetamine to a minor. I doubt that Bob Jones will be charged with receiving and suppling methamphetamine to the glitterati. I also doubt that the police and Serious Fraud Office will be charged with supplying methamphetamine to a nation. I also doubt that police spokesman Greg O'Connor will be charged for sourcing the drug pyramid.

What tends to happen in these situations is the status of the messenger is downgraded into something not worthy of reference. That's me . . . Since New Zealand is run by counter-intelligence and not by intelligence . . . I might as well name sex abusers amongst New Zealand's notorieti . . ." [See p. 43]

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Drugs and Corruption in TVNZ', p. 99:
"By 2003, feminists were on to it and wanted to name Paul Holmes 'The ideal New Zealand male' . . . At the same time, Paul was supplying methamphetamines to his stepdaughter Millie [14]. Paul was hardly "Father of the Year", but according to the best feminist principles, he was very good at directing his stepdaughter into prostitution – albeit sex.4.drugs."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Drugs and Corruption in TVNZ', pp. 111–14:
". . . Paul Holmes would turn up to a house at the bottom of Remuera in his red Bentley. It wasn't hard to spot. It was the only one in the country. The guy would get into Paul's car, there would be some quick exchanges under the dash and the guy would get out again. This was done on a regular basis. It was six or seven years ago [circa 2000–01].

"Paul Holmes would also go to Takapuna, to the One Red Dog, actually to the bar next door, and go upstairs and have some coke with the owner. Paul's well known as a big coke head – especially in TV circles. In TVNZ his nickname is 'Grumpy'."

'Grumpy' is a perfect nickname for someone who is always coming down off drugs. When he's high on drugs you never see him – except once or twice on the Holmes show as the state TV broadcaster . . . When Paul Holmes turned up in court to support Millie, the CIB had a huge interest in him and wanted to interview him, but Prime Minister Helen Clark intervened and wouldn't let them. The CIB had been silenced about the government broadcaster and his methamphetamine use and supply to a teenager.

"Helen Clark's main concern at the moment is the Minister of Police Annette King whom she calls "P-G"[sic] – short for "Pig Dog" . . . pretty much everyone I spoke to said "Annette King is a right slut." I had published that Annette King/Pig Dog/P-G was trafficking heroin from Helen Clark's office to the police while she was Minister of Health, and was then promoted to Minister of Police very soon after. The person who promoted her was Helen Clark.[21]

Helen Clark, Annette King and Paul Holmes are all involved in Class A drug trafficking. As such, they will all cover for each other.

The CIB (Crime Investigation Bureau) wanted to get involved, but will no doubt be directed to spurious activities, like charging innocent people with crimes those above have committed. This includes all of Millie's friends and contacts, but not the Class A drug traffickers – the Prime Minister, the Health Minister (now Police Minister) and the state broadcaster.

Similar enquiries have terms of reference that are so weak, there is no way a forthright conclusion can be reached. Still, it's a way into politics – something which no one, and absolutely no one, has any faith in any more. You wonder why?

. . . what came before the Pig Dog?"

Answer: "The Tavistock St Petersburg trained prostitutes."

Question: "And what do the Tavistock St Petersburg trained prostitutes do now?"

Answer: "They run the country and rule over Parliament."

MICK P, Saturday 21 July 2007: "I just got this. Last night [20 July 2007] Paul Holmes was at a farewell dinner for a senior magistrate along with Peter Williams QC and his wife with the ever-changing name – Janine/Hine/Hinemoa Phillips/Williams or whatever other surname she uses. They were all dining together at a posh restaurant in Auckland's favourite dining suburb, Ponsonby. [My pick is Prego.]

"Paul Holmes, a former alcoholic [and supposed dry-drunk from one of Auckland's better Alcoholics Anonymous] got hopelessly pissed, as he does. He started cursing his former wife, Hine Elder [not present], for causing him so much trouble. Holmes' drunken rant confirms a lot of what you have been saying . . ."

Paul Holmes, Friday night, 20 July 2007: "This is what happens when you get tied up with a hopeless lesbian. There's nothing you can do to help them. She's just a filthy fucking lesbian bitch . . ."

MICK P: "All this was said in front of the retiring senior magistrate and a QC lawyer, as well as the other dining patrons. Both the judge and Peter Williams called the paramedics."

Private I: "This is typical of what people at this level do."

MICK P: "It was like Holmes was having Tourrette's. He was really quite disruptive to the entire party and the entire restaurant. The paramedics arrived and Williams and another manhandled Holmes into the back of Hine Phillip's 4WD and then sat in the back seat with their feet on Holmes while he lay on the floor. Then Hine Phillips drove them all to Holmes' place."

Author: "So much for the New Zealand Order of Merit."

MICK P: "At the dinner they were all concerned about the political interference that H1 and H2 [Helen Clark and Heather Simpson] were displaying. They are getting tough on P and had informed the judges that they want Millie Elder to get ten years. They want to set an example."

Author: "That's rare considering Helen Clark has been involved in trafficking ten kilograms of heroin into New Zealand and to the police back in 2005, via the then Minister of Health, Annette King . . .

[21] Hitler Was A British Agent, pp. 389–90; How To Take Over The World, pp. 245–46.

It was even printed in the newspaper that Deborah Hamilton was Paul Holmes' 'comfort woman' [See Exhibit "S", 'Key to Murder Attempts', pp. 16–17] . . . "It appears that Paul Holmes was the media minder for paedophiles in New Zealand . . . Cabinet Minister David Benson-Pope was demoted to backbench MP about two hours later. [p. 114] He was renowned as a teacher for stuffing tennis balls in student's mouths, for making a hole and looking through into the girls' changing rooms and for handing out pamphlets denying police paedophilia, along with the current Minister of Finance Michael Cullen . . . Of course it was the man who had to go and it all served as a smokescreen for the Police Minister Annette King." . . .

"The paedophile ring in England that went across Europe and into America, that led back to New Zealand, the one that was exposed in June 2007 and then closed down off the media . . . In England they traced it back to Jonathan Hunt and he just threw up his hands and claimed diplomatic immunity. And in New Zealand they traced it back to Sir Ron Brierly. Those two have been working paedophile rings together for at least four decades . . . I find it interesting that we have an Indian Governor-General when we have a High Commissioner to Britain [Jonathan Hunt] who is into sex with 12-year-old Indian boys. Even more so when you consider the G-G is always the Chief Boy Scout and primary paedophile minder." . . .

'Governor-General' is essentially an intelligence position and strange that Anand Satyanand should be made G-G when he is a Catholic who signed against abortion and Helen Clark is a communist who was so far into abortion she had a voluntary radical hysterectomy at Auckland Hospital in late December 1976 as a Christmas and New Year's present to herself. This was illegal at the time. She was 26.

There is one advantage that the former judge Anand Satyanand has. He and his wife backed the recently deceased David Lange (4 August 1942–13 August 2005) in his first attempt to become Prime Minister during the 1975 general election . . . and between 2005 and his appointment as Governor-General on 23 August 2006, he chaired the 'Confidential Forum for Former In-Patients of Psychiatric Hospitals'.

This would have given Satyanand plenty of inside information against the government, as a lot of spies, official or otherwise, end up in these institutions, and he would have come out with enough information on the government to close the thing down as a counter-intelligence exercise . . ."

From 1975, Satyanand would also have had the inside information on David Lange's penchant for transvestites . . . and be offering protection . . . and for Helen Clark and Margaret Pope's part in the slow killing of David Lange by changing his medicine resulting in advanced diabetes, too much protein in his blood, and his leg amputation just days before he died."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', p. 123:
Christine cites dubious family violence as the reason to not discuss her early life, but really she's covering up for her sex work. Prime Minister Helen Clark attacks Christine because there is only room for one sex worker at the top, and Christine is still heterosexual."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 128–130:
". . . Christine Rankin returned to work in a massage parlour as an S&M dominatrix (still going in the late 1980s and 1990s). One of her repeat clients was Geoffrey Palmer, who liked getting his arse whacked. After regular visits, Geoffrey said, "You've got talent", and either got her the job working in Social Welfare . . . or had her listed for fast track – the unseen hand.

Christine Rankin was sexually experienced, but intellectually doubtful, and forgetful. She made up for this in height, and legs that went on and on until they made an arse of themselves. Not much else was going on. She did have a fanny with no brain attached and many men found this combination attractive.

When the transvestite-rooter David Lange was re-elected as Prime Minister in 1987 Geoffrey Palmer dropped the role as Leader of the House and took up the portfolio of Minister for the Environment . . . When Lange got exposed as a transvestite-rooting fat-as-fuck-fraud, Palmer took over the role as Prime Minister (August 1989–September 1990) and dropped all his other portfolios except for saving the whales and having his arse beaten. The transvestite-rooting David Lange then became the Attorney-General.

It was a case of trading places.

David Lange was so fat, when he was a lawyer presenting in the Onehunga District Court he fell through the floorboards and they had to bring in a forklift to lift him out. Presenting in front of the judge, he was always pulling lollies out of his pockets and eating them. This mesmerised the judge and confused him as to who was out to lunch. As a result, Lange used to win the most outrageously guilty cases and the scot-free criminals would regularly forget to pay him. Lange also forgot to charge. [He didn't need to charge as he was funded by the KGB.]

The Christchurch police certainly had the motivation to be involved. These paedophile police were desperately in need of cover and who best to provide it than the Attorney-General, or a Prime Minister who had been an Attorney-General, and was then replaced with another corrupt Attorney-General like former Prime Minister David Lange?

In 1984, Lange received fellatio from a K' Rd tranvestite at the duck pond in the Auckland Domain and ASIO had subsequently murdered Alisha. When Lange was told of Alisha's murder, he went to pieces and was pretty much a lame duck Prime Minister thereafter. Lange was paddling in a lake of paedophiles who had the wood on him . . . but then government is "Dining with Paedophiles" . . . so nothing's changed.

Prime Minister Geoffrey Palmer's arse whipping was still going on in 1989–92, at the time the police were suppressing the recent story about police paedophiles in Banks Road, Christchurch, for which the 'it-didn't-happen-Christchurch-Civic-Crèche-paedophile-case' was the cover (1992–2007) . . .

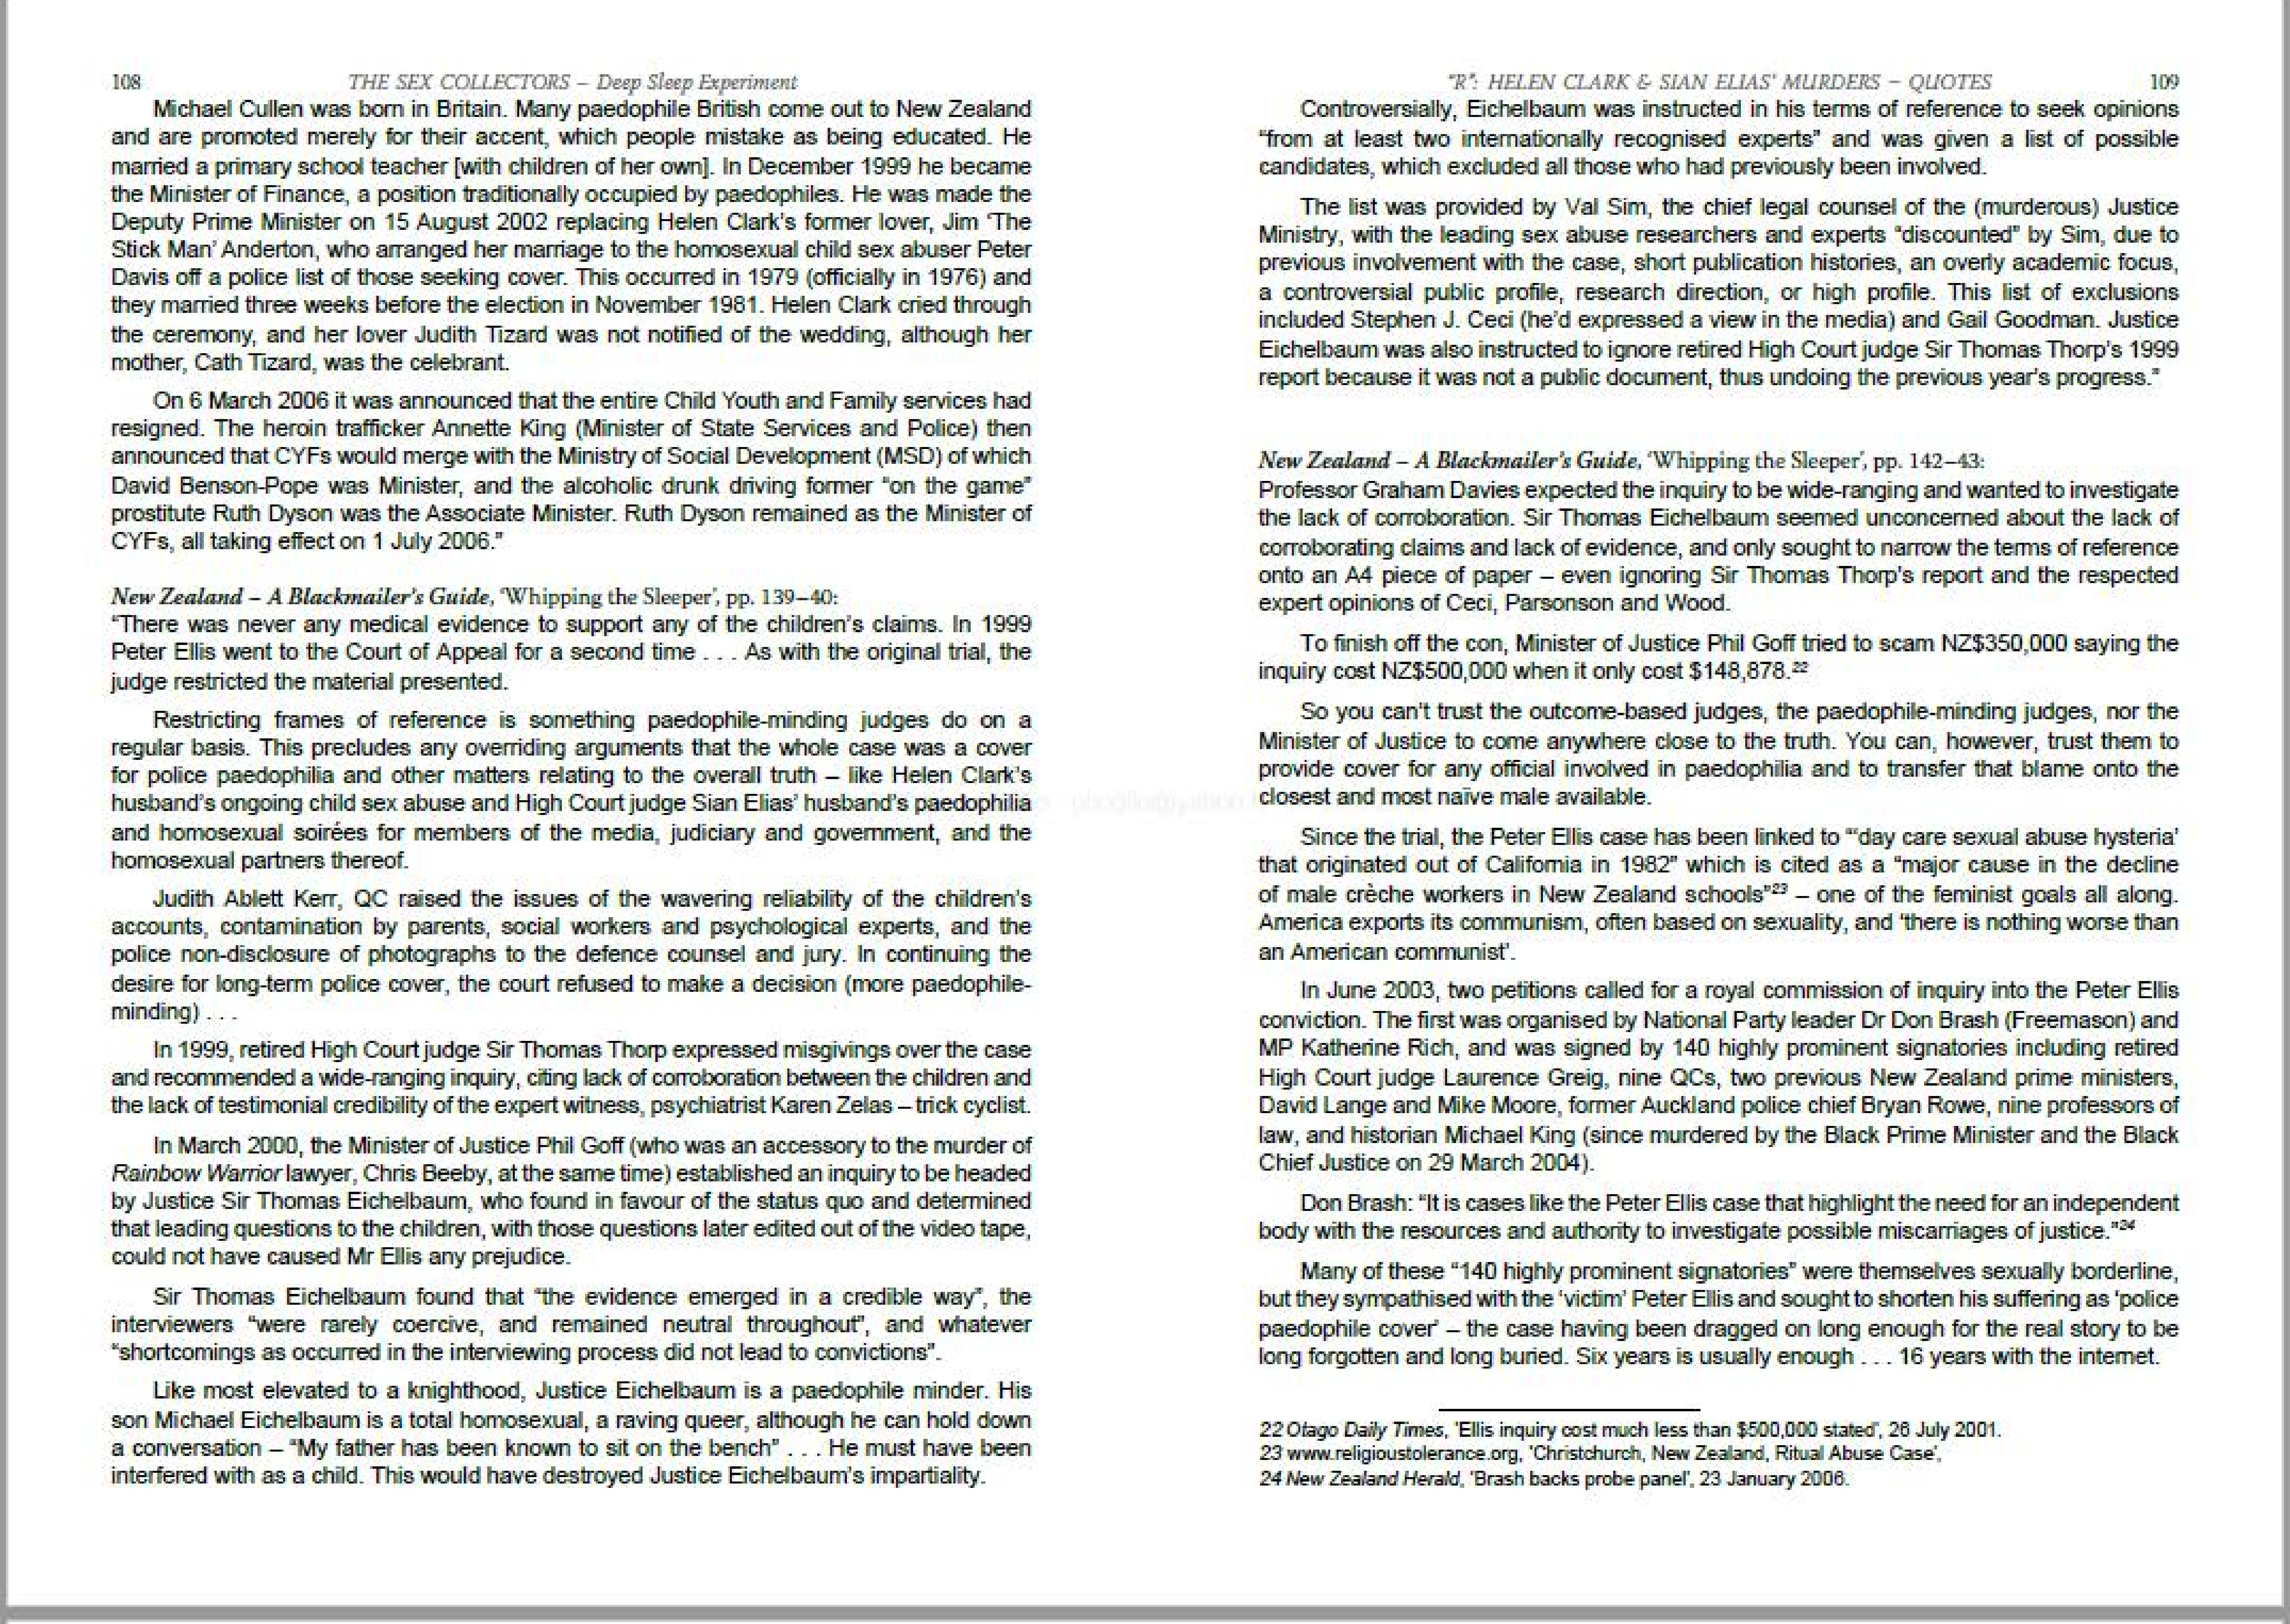
Peter Ellis, the naïve Christchurch crèche worker was then convicted and jailed for eight years on evidence manufactured by the twin sister of the Labour MP Lianne Dalziel, who used her daughters to make accusations. Both families are evil none-too-brights and Lianne Dalziel spent at least two years in a mental institution as a certified schizophrenic.

Peter Ellis was released in 2000 and any publicity he was due was superseded by another case where a similar-looking and similar type of man (David Bain), in a town close by (Dunedin), was wrongly convicted of murdering his entire family.

Some of the police involved in the Bain murder case were also having sex with Laniet Bain who worked in the Reflections massage parlour in Dunedin as a prostitute when she was 17 (illegal) and 18 years old. The older daughter, Arawa Bain, also worked as a prostitute.

. . . Having sex with Laniet Bain in exchange for complicit silence included Detective Sergeant Milton Weir. When the family were murdered, he was in charge of the investigation. One of the first things he did was steal Laniet's diary with all her client contact names. This very likely included Michael Cullen, the Labour MP for St Kilda, and [his friend] David Benson-Pope, a schoolteacher at Bayfield High School, both in Dunedin.

Benson-Pope was renowned for . . . acquiring girl's school uniforms and taking them to massage parlours and demanding the prostitute wear them while he employed their services. Benson-Pope then became a Labour MP and the minister in charge of such children as Laniet and Arawa Bain.



Michael Cullen was born in Britain. Many paedophile British come out to New Zealand and are promoted merely for their accent, which people mistake as being educated. He married a primary school teacher [with children of her own]. In December 1999 he became the Minister of Finance, a position traditionally occupied by paedophiles. He was made the Deputy Prime Minister on 15 August 2002 replacing Helen Clark's former lover, Jim 'The Stick Man' Anderton, who arranged her marriage to the homosexual child sex abuser Peter Davis off a police list of those seeking cover. This occurred in 1979 (officially in 1976) and they married three weeks before the election in November 1981. Helen Clark cried through the ceremony, and her lover Judith Tizard was not notified of the wedding, although her mother, Cath Tizard, was the celebrant.

On 6 March 2006 it was announced that the entire Child Youth and Family services had resigned. The heroin trafficker Annette King (Minister of State Services and Police) then announced that CYFs would merge with the Ministry of Social Development (MSD) of which David Benson-Pope was Minister, and the alcoholic drunk driving former "on the game" prostitute Ruth Dyson was the Associate Minister. Ruth Dyson remained as the Minister of CYFs, all taking effect on 1 July 2006."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 139–40:
"There was never any medical evidence to support any of the children's claims. In 1999 Peter Ellis went to the Court of Appeal for a second time . . . As with the original trial, the judge restricted the material presented.

Restricting frames of reference is something paedophile-minding judges do on a regular basis. This precludes any overriding arguments that the whole case was a cover for police paedophilia and other matters relating to the overall truth – like Helen Clark's husband's ongoing child sex abuse and High Court judge Sian Elias' husband's paedophilia and homosexual soirées for members of the media, judiciary and government, and the homosexual partners thereof.

Judith Ablett Kerr, QC raised the issues of the wavering reliability of the children's accounts, contamination by parents, social workers and psychological experts, and the police non-disclosure of photographs to the defence counsel and jury. In continuing the desire for long-term police cover, the court refused to make a decision (more paedophile-minding) . . .

In 1999, retired High Court judge Sir Thomas Thorp expressed misgivings over the case and recommended a wide-ranging inquiry, citing lack of corroboration between the children and the lack of testimonial credibility of the expert witness, psychiatrist Karen Zelas – trick cyclist.

In March 2000, the Minister of Justice Phil Goff (who was an accessory to the murder of Rainbow Warrior lawyer, Chris Beeby, at the same time) established an inquiry to be headed by Justice Sir Thomas Eichelbaum, who found in favour of the status quo and determined that leading questions to the children, with those questions later edited out of the video tape, could not have caused Mr Ellis any prejudice.

Sir Thomas Eichelbaum found that "the evidence emerged in a credible way", the interviewers "were rarely coercive, and remained neutral throughout", and whatever "shortcomings as occurred in the interviewing process did not lead to convictions".

Like most elevated to a knighthood, Justice Eichelbaum is a paedophile minder. His son Michael Eichelbaum is a total homosexual, a raving queer, although he can hold down a conversation – "My father has been known to sit on the bench" . . . He must have been interfered with as a child. This would have destroyed Justice Eichelbaum's impartiality.

Controversially, Eichelbaum was instructed in his terms of reference to seek opinions "from at least two internationally recognised experts" and was given a list of possible candidates, which excluded all those who had previously been involved.

The list was provided by Val Sim, the chief legal counsel of the (murderous) Justice Ministry, with the leading sex abuse researchers and experts "discounted" by Sim, due to previous involvement with the case, short publication histories, an overly academic focus, a controversial public profile, research direction, or high profile. This list of exclusions included Stephen J. Ceci (he'd expressed a view in the media) and Gail Goodman. Justice Eichelbaum was also instructed to ignore retired High Court judge Sir Thomas Thorp's 1999 report because it was not a public document, thus undoing the previous year's progress."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 142–43:
Professor Graham Davies expected the inquiry to be wide-ranging and wanted to investigate the lack of corroboration. Sir Thomas Eichelbaum seemed unconcerned about the lack of corroborating claims and lack of evidence, and only sought to narrow the terms of reference onto an A4 piece of paper – even ignoring Sir Thomas Thorp's report and the respected expert opinions of Ceci, Parsonson and Wood.

To finish off the con, Minister of Justice Phil Goff tried to scam NZ$350,000 saying the inquiry cost NZ$500,000 when it only cost $148,878.[22]

So you can't trust the outcome-based judges, the paedophile-minding judges, nor the Minister of Justice to come anywhere close to the truth. You can, however, trust them to provide cover for any official involved in paedophilia and to transfer that blame onto the closest and most naïve male available.

Since the trial, the Peter Ellis case has been linked to "'day care sexual abuse hysteria' that originated out of California in 1982" which is cited as a "major cause in the decline of male crèche workers in New Zealand schools"[23] – one of the feminist goals all along. America exports its communism, often based on sexuality, and 'there is nothing worse than an American communist'.

In June 2003, two petitions called for a royal commission of inquiry into the Peter Ellis conviction. The first was organised by National Party leader Dr Don Brash (Freemason) and MP Katherine Rich, and was signed by 140 highly prominent signatories including retired High Court judge Laurence Greig, nine QCs, two previous New Zealand prime ministers, David Lange and Mike Moore, former Auckland police chief Bryan Rowe, nine professors of law, and historian Michael King (since murdered by the Black Prime Minister and the Black Chief Justice on 29 March 2004).

Don Brash: "It is cases like the Peter Ellis case that highlight the need for an independent body with the resources and authority to investigate possible miscarriages of justice."[24]

Many of these "140 highly prominent signatories" were themselves sexually borderline, but they sympathised with the 'victim' Peter Ellis and sought to shorten his suffering as 'police paedophile cover' – the case having been dragged on long enough for the real story to be long forgotten and long buried. Six years is usually enough . . . 16 years with the internet.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 146:

"The jury was not told the father Robin Bain was "quite seriously disturbed", as the Taieri Beach School principal had beaten his students more than the Labour MP David Benson-Pope, and had published brutal and sadistic children's stories in the school newsletter, one involving the serial murder of family members. The jury were also not told that Robin Bain had been having sex with his daughters (Laniet, murdered aged 18, and Arawa, murdered aged 19), that the Dunedin police were having sex with Laniet in a brothel and Arawa was also a working girl . . . nor were the jury told that Robin Bain was clinically depressed, and part of the craft, a fellow Freemason.

The Freemasons control the police and Freemasons are an incestuous child sex abuse movement. Any Freemason with the above credentials of incest, child sex abuse and/or paedophilia is protected, even after death."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 151–53:

"B-B [John Banks] was sentenced, secretly, to the withering scorn of several senior police mafioso, and sent to Coventry. Prime Minister Bolger added to this ignominy by transferring the portfolios of B-B and leaving him with the 'go nowhere' portfolio of Tourism.

"Inspector Clint Rickards, when told about this, said 'Ooough! He was the best minister the police ever had', and this was a comment straight from the heart."

Rickards was a Mongrel Mob gang member in Hawke's Bay. The police used him to dob in his fellow gang members for 18 months on full police pay. He then trained at Trentham joining the police in 1979. Rickards began serial raping in 1983 and then became New Zealand's most prolific rapist.

Operation Austin: "Clint Rickards was then promoted to Assistant Police Commissioner and Auckland City Commander and then charged with multiple cases of rape, of which there are 34 separate complaints, which will be converted into charges whenever the police need cover for crimes more serious than rape. Raping in a pack since 1983, Rickards was outed as a rapist publicly on 31 January 2004. Two of his rape buddies were convicted and his minder, John Dewar, head of Rotorua's CIB, was convicted on four counts of obstructing justice during 1993–95. Clint Rickards remains a free man except in the eyes of the public and privately, the police . . . and privately, any lawyer with a conscience. He is a Maori and his freedom is being used to secure the Maori vote."

The scorn did not phase B-B one iota and in less time than it takes a rat to burn a cat, he had reinvented himself as the best Minister of Tourism anyone had ever seen. He then went to Russia and adopted three children. He told the KGB who assisted him with the adoption, that A: He was 'still the Minister of Police', and B: He 'required a nuclear family that had not been in foster care long, and wanted to remain together'.

This aroused the suspicion of my chief who told me that the probability was high that B-B was still a paedophile. He [B-B] married a woman who does not have sex with men . . . they sleep in separate beds . . . B-B did have a past as a CIA informer . . .

The New Zealand police have a huge history of not solving crime, so the public have to do it for them. The police routinely provide cover for crimes the police commit, or the Freemasons commit. The Freemasons control the police from within the police force and all high-ranking staff in the police are either Freemasons, Catholics or paedophile minders. The only exception is when some drug dealers make it through to the higher ranks, but they have to be hard drugs like methamphetamine or heroin. Then they become the police spokesman. Oh, I'm sorry, they're Catholic as well.

When members of the public had finally solved the long-standing Crewe murders and presented the information to Minister of Police George Hawkins, he gave it to his private secretary Gerry Cunneen, who was most known for his drunkenness.

In his drunken appraisal, secretary to the Minister of Police Gerry Cunneen concluded: ". . . there was not enough hard evidence to bring a conclusion . . .", and Police Minister George Hawkins added: "Mr Cunneen reviewed the information, but does not believe there was enough substance to the information to shed new light on the murders."

Internal Affairs: "Gerry Cunneen, renowned for his alcoholism, was so dumb he could review a file, like the Citibank's murder of Paul White by Mr Panapa and Kimball Johnson, and declare that the file did not shed any light on the crime at all. Cunneen wouldn't even acknowledge that the murder was a murder and not an accident. Gerry Cunneen is a bagman for crimes by officials, including murder."

Freemasonry: "While a Constable, Gerry Cunneen was in charge of taking all the bribes – it was always Constable Cunneen that you went to if you didn't want the charges pressed, or were in need of cover."

Superintendent Gerry Cunneen is most known for his breakfast club at Bellamy's [Parliament's restaurant] and spending the entire day working drunk. This even became an issue for Parliament to address under 'Prosecution of Member of Parliament, Minister's Actions'. Here, on 13 May 2004, MP Gerry Brownlee put the question to Parliament: Does the Minister accept that the serious questions raised by papers released yesterday, coupled with the widespread knowledge that he, Inspector Marty Grenfell, and the Minister's police adviser, former Superintendent Gerry Cunneen, had their own little Bellamy's breakfast club . . .'".

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Whipping the Sleeper', pp. 161–73:

Helen Clark was providing the KGB's Vladimir Putin with the sexual history of New Zealand MPs and wannabe MPs, thus giving Russia complete control of the New Zealand government. This included David Lange who was a KGB asset from 1971. The method was so widely known that whatever country David Lange went to there would be a transvestite waiting outside his hotel entrance for him to invite up. This was filmed (as Lange always got a designated room), and this footage was used so that Lange would provide whatever that country wanted. This was the case outside a Darlinghurst Hotel. We don't know of the other cases, or whether Lange wised up to it.

In this way the Labour Prime Minister David Lange set about destroying New Zealand, or at least it was destroyed under his name . . .

Sian Elias is now the Chief Justice and has been the Acting Governor-General from time to time. Her father was a Jewish doctor who sexually interfered with his patients, especially Polynesian females, and would shag them on his doctor's table. He died mid-2007. There were even enquiries about Dr Elias's sex with patients.

Dr Elias would then sign for the complying Polynesian mother's government grants with whatever number of children the Polynesian mothers presented on the day. This has now become de rigueur and Maori and Polynesians have houses that are holding pens for children to be taken to Social Welfare for grants. The children are paid to keep quiet, dress differently, be picked up and returned on the same day, on following days if required, and stay overnight as required. Some of these children are also used by bribing police for paedophilia . . . as required.

From this rotten moral background Sian Elias married New Zealand's richest man, Hugh Fletcher (born, not made). Hugh was the third generation. As the adage goes, 'the grandfather makes it, the father sustains it and the grandson destroys it'. His father Sir James Fletcher died on 29 August 2007.

Hugh was no prize – a bisexual who runs a homosexual sex group for members of the judiciary, government and media and the partners thereof. His speciality is all-male soirées with 14- 18-year-old Maori and Polynesian boys dancing naked and the group members making personal offers afterwards – sex with minors in exchange for money. This resulted in the murder of soirée member TV presenter David McNee and was covered up by the KGB Prime Minister Helen Clark and Hugh Fletcher's clown-faced wife, the Black Chief Justice, Sian Elias.

Helen Clark is a lesbian married to a homosexual child sex abuser, who had attended Hugh Fletcher's homosexual group. Sian Elias is a thief, a slapper, a Sayanim, a contract killer and a Mossad agent. The Mossad is the foreign intelligence of Israel – the equivalent of MI6 – military intelligence that specialises in death and control through sex and murder compliance.

In 1989 Sian Elias stole over NZ$500 million off her husband. Much of this money was due to the Chinese and the Chinese Government threatened to declare war on New Zealand. Israel noted the transaction and had intervened. A deal was set. Chinese would be allowed to immigrate into New Zealand en masse. (Sian Elias – 'touched by an Asian'.)

Mass Asian immigration began in 1995 and was known as "the Asian Invasion" and even written up on the cover of Metro magazine as such. China increased the bargain and 45% of Chinese immigrants were military trained, many of them arrived with government money to invest, all of the students were spies, and any Chinese spy that defected would be returned to China to be turned into organ transplants. All of this came to pass . . . and continue.

In late December 2006 a Chinese spy defected in New Zealand and gave the names of 2000 Chinese spies living in New Zealand. Most were not students, but government investors. Instead of giving the defector 'refugee status', Helen Clark had him jailed in the Green Room at Mt Eden Prison. This went on for three days without food, water or toilet breaks (New Year's Day 2007). The room has a padded floor and walls, with nowhere to piss, shit, or get a drink. It was torture by a supposedly Western Prime Minister.

The Chinese are arriving into New Zealand now with such large sums of Chinese government money they are in need of dairy managers to manage the dairy farms they are buying. The average milk payout for these dairy farms is NZ$675,000 per annum (June 2007). The Chinese immigrants are not even required to speak English.

Israel's part in the bargain, for brokering the agreement, was that New Zealand would be disarmed so that Israel could do whatever it wanted. It was the same deal for Australia.

So, in 1990, Margaret Wilson (now Parliament's Speaker) became the founding dean of Waikato University's Law School, the first law school to be established in New Zealand in over 75 years.[25] She then went about creating HAIPP – the 'Hamilton Abuse Intervention Pilot Project'

---

[25] University of Waikato News, 5 January 2004. Margaret Wilson went on to accept the self-nomination of lawyers as judges, including Hamilton lawyer, paedophile enabler, and judicial drug minder Paul Geoghegan as a Family Court judge. Geoghegan sits in Rotorua [and Taupo] where the Family Court is in such a shambles, both mothers and fathers do everything they can to have their cases heard outside Rotorua. Paul Geoghegan attacked fathers who had exposed his 'career twin', Grant Aislabie, as a drug user. Grant Aislabie was the Principal Disputes Tribunal Referee, officially from June 1999–January 2005; however, he appears to have been the Head of the Disputes Tribunal from at least January 1994 when he was exposed as a drug user during a hearing – by the author. It was coke and ecstasy, 1982–87.

Aislabie is renowned for his mental breakdowns and only getting seven votes in the Tauranga mayoralty race. Even his wife Jill didn't vote for him. You need over 20,000 votes to win. Aislabie was valued by the occult as he was born New Zealand's hairiest baby and his mother wanted to kill him. When I asked her about this at a party at Aislabie's home on 4th Ave in Tauranga in 1980, she said nonchalantly: "I contemplated smothering him with a pillow".

Things won't be improving as the KGB's Margaret Wilson has appointed Professor Spiller as Aislabie's replacement. Spiller taught at the faux Waikato Law School. Any graduate of the Waikato Law School should be treated as a Tavistock graduate.

in 1994. This passed into law in 1996 as "the Protection Order" and meant that any female who accused any male of anything, resulted in the male losing their firearms licence. About 7000 men got protection orders each year and within 10 years the country had been disarmed.

Along with this, 98% of the 10,000 fathers divorcing lost access to their 18,000 children and any thoughts of patriotism went out the window.

It was also a "paedophile's paradise" as the primary requirement of paedophiles is that the biological father is removed. With 18,000 newly fatherless children to access each year, this suited the paedophiles:

Jonathan Hunt (Labour MP, Speaker of Parliament, High Commissioner to Britain);

Brian Edwards (Helen Clark's biographer and media consultant to the Labour Party);

Hugh Fletcher (married to the Black Chief Justice, runs homosexual child sex soirées and is Chancellor of the University of Auckland);

Sir Roger Douglas (Labour MP, Minister of Broadcasting, 1972–75 and Minister of Finance, 1984–87);

Sir Ron Brierly (paedophile schemer in partnership with Jonathan Hunt for four decades, they invested in a cricket orphanage in Goa, India);

Peter Shaw (child sex abuser and art curator for Fletchers, married to judge Coral Shaw);

Aussie Malcolm (National MP, convicted paedophile in Gladstone, Australia, married to a CYFs foster care manager [Astrid Malcolm], accused of murdering her and making it look like a drowning accident);[26]

Chris Carter (Labour MP, two complaints of child sex abuse from former male students, which the police refused to convert into charges);

Karen Sewell (Green Bay College teacher who sexually abused at least four girls of 14 and was then promoted by PM Helen Clark to Chief Executive and Secretary for Education, to re-engineer the education system into the much criticised and soon to be abolished NCEA);

Cath Tizard (got her 14-year-old daughter Judith Tizard to have sex with the 35-year-old Labour MP Mat Rata at their Kuaotunu bach);

David Lange (who dedicated his life to spending every opportune moment with transvestites); and Prime Minister Helen Clark, married to a child sex abuser [Peter Davis] . . . she will go down in history as New Zealand's biggest ever promoter of paedophiles.

Sian Elias's part in the 'Paedophile's Paradise' bargain was that the Mossad would do any murders she wanted and Sian would be made the Chief Justice and would be allowed to get away with murder (hence the 'Black Chief Justice'), the theft of huge amounts of land, no building consents required, and her husband would not be charged for his paedophilia.

In order to embarrass anyone out of doing this, Hugh Fletcher was made Chancellor of the University of Auckland and then employed the homosexual Peter Davis as a professor, but only after he was repeatedly placed under house arrest by the Minister of Security and Intelligence (SIS) – aka Prime Minister Helen Clark, in a cover marriage to the one and same child sex abuser Peter Davis.

Doctors who were taught at Auckland's medical school by Professor Peter Davis simply hated the man . . . They hated being taught by a child sex abuser.

[26] My then girlfriend debriefed Aussie Malcolm during his grieving.

When Helen Clark was having her 'Night of the Long Knives' and wanted to kill all those who knew of her sexuality, her prostitution in St Petersburg and her gang bangs at Mary and Gary Taylor's house at Bethells Beach (in and around 1982), she put out a contract on Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Sharon Crosby and Alison Holst.

All four were in a primal scream workshop run by Bert Potter in Wellington in 1974 and were privy to the sexual secrets of Helen Clark and Peter Davis etc. (It was actually Peter's brother David who attended. He was an ex-diplomat to India – so it was the frighteners.)

Paedophiles always get the latest psychological methods and Bert Potter was no exception. Being close to the experimental sex game, he was fluent, if not an expert, in New Zealand's sex history, which included many prominent players. [See Exhibit "T", 'The Sex Collectors']

I heard about this [the murders] in October 2003 while waiting for my cup of tea. When no one picked these up, Sian Elias had her hand raised by the Mossad who eagerly carried out the murders for her, male only.

The same crowd tried to kill me in April and August 2002 and May 2004, but I told them I wasn't available. Their names are Zev William Barkan, Uriel Zoshe Kelman, Eli Cara, an Auckland University lecturer, and a Mossad agent living on Auckland's Waiheke Island called Yaron, a former Israeli tank commander who got stuck in the mud outside my place while doing reconnaissance. The place has since burnt down.

Zev William Barkan ran a studio making snuff and porno movies on the Mekong River at Pen Yau in Cambodia. Here they were also arranging car accidents, and fiddling with death certificates and passports. Barkan (aka Zev Bruckstein) moved from simple snuff movies to filming the suicides of vagrants and Russian roulette.

Barkan was in New Zealand 3–20 March 2004 and travels as a Canadian under the name Kevin Hunter.

The two Israeli agents caught were Uriel Kelman and Eli Cara. They pleaded guilty to the passport frauds, were charged NZ$50,000 each (to be paid to charity) and sentenced to six months in prison. Helen Clark bowed to pressure and let them out after ten weeks. The fourth person involved was a lecturer at Auckland University where Sian Elias's husband Hugh Fletcher was made Chancellor on 18 October 2004, just months after the murders and in the middle of the (complete lack of) investigation.

Hugh Fletcher replaced the enormously popular John Graham (1999–2004) after North & South magazine named Graham 'New Zealander of the Year' (1999) and described him as 'a man who sets standards'. Hugh Fletcher was to be the exact opposite.

The University of Auckland, 'University of Auckland Council elects new Chancellor', 20 October 2004. The Acting Vice-Chancellor was Professor Raewyn Dalziel who broke up the marriage of History Professor Keith Sinclair. She and her non-relative, Lianne Dalziel, of the paedophile-minding family, belong to 'The New Horizons for Women Trust' 250 List along with Hugh's brother's wife, ex-Auckland Mayor Christine Fletcher, and the murdering Helen Clark and Sian Elias. Patrons include the child sex abuser and schizophrenic ex-Auckland Mayor and G-G Cath Tizard, and NZ's most corrupt judge and G-G Silvia Cartwright . . . The Auckland University Council also elected Jenny Gibbs as the new Pro-Chancellor. "Mrs Gibbs is a prominent art collector and patron, who founded Auckland City's New Gallery, and has had a leading role in supporting the Auckland Art Gallery, and the Museum of New Zealand Te Papa Tongarewa" – as well as having a McCahon stolen to order, then funding the painting's return in exchange for a dameship, while bribing her husband.

After the sentencing, New Zealand Prime Minister Helen Clark said there were very strong reasons to believe that the two Israelis convicted on charges relating to a fraudulent attempt to obtain a New Zealand passport were acting on behalf of Israel's intelligence services.[27] She should know, she let them into the country, via her murder compliance agent, Sian Elias – the Black Chief Justice.

Prime Minister Helen Clark: "New Zealand condemns without reservation these actions . . . the breach of New Zealand laws and sovereignty by agents of the Israeli government has seriously strained our relationship with Israel." Helen Clark is deeply involved in her own cover – covering her murdering arse. To Helen Clark, public protest and public denial are the most cleansing form of cover.

"Police found that Kelman, Cara and another two individuals had been operating in Auckland since November 2003. [Sian Elias picked up the contract in October 2003 and moved fast.] Cara had travelled in and out of New Zealand 24 times since October 2000." Eli Cara was organising the group and had picked up Zev Barkan for his flair for murder.

As a result of this, Helen Clark and Sian Elias stopped speaking to each other – murders shared will do this, especially when they are keeping up a purist front – so their husbands made up for it with closer ties. Sian's husband employed Helen's husband as a university professor and they kept on looking at young boys' arses together.

. . . the Black Chief Justice Sian Elias has given up the ghost screwing her chauffeur in the back of the limousine outside official functions. She sits on top and sings. The chauffeur is from West Auckland and picks her up from the Auckland Domestic Airport every Friday night around 6 pm. As they exit the airport, she grabs his arse . . .

So Geoffrey Palmer, it is now your turn to make academic sense of this and make an academic ruling which satisfies natural justice. I would suggest the removal of Sian Elias as Chief Justice and the removal of Helen Clark as Prime Minister. I also suggest that both be charged with plotting to kill, accessory to murder, financing murder and treason.

I would appreciate your reply in a manner that is to the point and did not involve putting the nation to sleep. Once you have completed this task, I request that you retire from public office and any advisory position, to be flogged publicly. That should be sufficient compensation.

. . . then there is the New Zealand judiciary working for the American Military Industrial Complex which in turn works for Israel. It goes along these lines. All New Zealand lawyers sworn to the Bar are swearing to the International Bar Association, which is a subset of the American Bar Association, which is controlled by the US Military Industrial Complex, which is controlled by Israel, not excluding the United States long-time real el presidente, dictator Henry Kissinger.

So the reason we have a Jewish Chief Justice is . . . The Jewess Sian Elias founded New Zealand's Supreme Court in 2004 with the KGB agent Margaret Wilson as the official on-the-day ceremonial challenger. On the day, and well before and after, both were having an affair with the rape accused judge Anthony Christiansen.[28] Both denied it, making them liars, and liars of us all. Now all court decisions in every court are in favour of the liar, the bisexual, the homosexual, and the sex offender, with all Supreme Court decisions made in Israel.

[27] Scoop, 'NGOs Claim Wanted Israeli Agent Barkan In North Korea', State Of It, Selwyn Manning, Scoop Co-Editor, 19 July 2004.

[28] Disgraced High Court judge Anthony Christiansen of Christchurch remained on full pay but with restricted duties, until he was selected to sit in August 2007 on the 'army bridge collapse' that resulted in the death of a beekeeper. Don't expect any decision other than one that supports the government and not the citizen, deceased or otherwise. When it comes down to the wire, the feminist judiciary selects its male judges for the size and availability of their cocks. They even have to drop their trousers. When this is filmed, their positions are secure.

New Zealand's Supreme Court Act was passed by Parliament on 15 October 2003 [two days after Sian Elais have picked up the murder contracts]. The Court formally began on 1 January 2004, so the new judges could get paid, and first sat on 1 July 2004, giving them six months' free salary.

The Supreme Court replaced appeals to London's Privy Council. The Supreme Court is to get a new $67 million home complete with antenna dome from where all decisions will be made in Israel. Chief Justice Sir Thomas Eichelbaum who is so wrong it warrants a permanent signpost, is a relieving judge to replace a sick judge, or sit on substantive appeals.

“There is no automatic right of appeal to the Supreme Court of New Zealand and you first have to apply for leave to appeal with the overarching principle that 'it must be in the interests of justice for the Court to hear the appeal'. This can be heard orally or by writing in one's absence . . . employment, criminal and family law can be heard by the Supreme Court” – but would this include criminal murders and paedophilia by the Supreme Court justices and their spouses?

Wikipedia: “The legal profession in general were opposed to the creation of the new court, and members were generally concerned that such an important legal change was forced through in the face of heated opposition.”

And on the occult conspiracy front . . . Helen Clark presented her 'Night of the Long Knives' to all murderers. No one picked them up until Chief Justice Sian Elias on 13 October 2003. She then employed known murderers in the Mossad who arrived in November 2003. In exchange Helen Clark pushed through the Supreme Court Act on 15 October 2003 whereby Sian Elias became the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court on 1 January 2004. [The inaugural judges Andrew Tipping, Peter Blanchard, Thomas Gault, and Sir Kenneth Keith,[29] then worked in fear of their boss. The validity of this was quickly supported by] the murder of Sir Peter Elworthy 12 days later on 13 January 2004, quickly followed by the burning to death of historian Michael King on 29 March 2004. Thus began the occult tradition of the New Zealand Supreme Court.

Geoffrey Palmer, could your extensive put-adults-to-sleep books have achieved enough disinterest in the law to make this possible? Are you, Geoffrey Palmer, an accomplice to these events? Has your arse-whipping by Christine Rankin née Parker made you silent on all important matters and you charge the government NZ$10 million per annum, when in fact, all you do is save an Alaskan whale?

Lawyer, lawyer,
liar liar,
liar liar,
Hell for hire.

Have you, Geoffrey Palmer, Chief Justice Sian Elias, former Attorney-General Margaret Wilson and Chief Justice Sir Thomas Eichelbaum turned New Zealand into Hell?

I say you have.

You have been hiding the agenda of New Zealand by confusing and obfuscating all significant material matters.

As accomplices to paedophilia and murder you have made New Zealand a 'murderer's paradise' and a 'paedophile movement fronting as a country'. You have made the judiciary an occult mafia.

Could it have been any different with your involvement?

The real name of New Zealand is 'New Spain' and has been since 19 May 1950. The term 'New Spain' has all the clues for the agenda of New Zealand, and what it is to become.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'The Battle of Nelson Crescent', pp. 177–80:
Jocelyn Counsell got the grant for child ritual murder. That is, to study it, believe it, and make others believe it. She is also a nymphomaniac with a history of mental illness and is one of those responsible for getting Peter Ellis convicted. She received $100,000 of taxpayers' money to investigate child occult murders and found nothing, but rooted everyone.

She used to set up chairs in her laundry, supply beer, then stick a brick under her washing machine. Once the guests were seated, she'd strip naked, turn on the washing machine, place her crutch on the corner and have an orgasm with her invited guests watching and drinking the beer she had supplied.

Jocelyn Counsell was a genuine nymphomaniac. Her husband had been killed in a car accident and she was under suspicion, especially after her interview was recorded audially. There were all sorts of stories about cut break linings, but since the police favour genuine nymphomaniacs, and treat such return favours as R&D, Research and Development, any investigation was squashed . . .

That Jocelyn Counsell had had at least two stops at the Porirua mental institution beforehand did not sway this police bias. She then became a lesbian and was living in an old old villa on the west side of Nelson Crescent, close to the city, between McLean Park and the railway line, then there's the sea.

She became involved with the lesbian Carol Mouritsen who had a panelbeating business and only repairs wimen's cars. She still has the panelbeating-mechanics business. The lesbian Sally Farmer was also involved and Jocelyn was dating them both at some point in time.”

At that time, in the mid-1980s, Jocelyn's place on Nelson Crescent was the place to be, and the place not to be seen. Often visitors were instructed to park their cars around the corner.

Jocelyn was living with Sally Farmer at the time and Jocelyn's son was going to high school. Troy wagged one day and spent it in bed with Sally Farmer who became pregnant to him. When Jocelyn came home she found her lover in bed with her 16-year-old son and all hell broke loose.

A huge fracas broke out. They were throwing knives and tomahawks at each other, then there was silence and guns went off. Lesbian arguments and lesbian murders are the most violent and the police thought it was a gang battle so they sent all their police cars and dog handlers, closed off the street and named it the 'Battle of Nelson Crescent'. They never revealed to the public that it was a 'lesbian domestic' . . . Even the Fire Brigade were out with their hoses.

And even the press thought it was a gang battle. The local police stayed very close-lipped about it and State Housing were informed to tell their tenants that they would throw anyone out who spoke about it, which they did. This is routine for State Housing.

In her interview there was something wrong with the woman. Something was left out in the recipe that made the sponge cake that was Jocelyn. You knew she was going to do something wrong and that was Peter Ellis. She'd do anything to please if it meant gaining applause and getting into the limelight. The police knew they could take her down to the [29] Sir Kenneth Keith claimed the credit for the nuclear free policy but all the preliminary work was done by diplomat Chris Beeby who had an excellent juristists mind. Under these false pretences, Keith was made a Supreme Court judge by the Mossad's Sian Elais. The Mossad primarily values those who lie the best.

practice room and give her the script and she would learn it and deliver it in court. After all this, Jocelyn was chosen to study child ritual murder and become the government-funded expert, then Peter Ellis happened.

. . . Helen Clark had some involvement in this selection. She is a former Tavistock St Petersburg swallow, a Freud Hilton graduate turned lesbian feminist, and is quite a sexual compulsive herself. She now has her secretary ring up other aging women and ask them, 'Would you like to have a cup of tea with Helen?' and when PM Helen turns up its all lesbian twinkling eyes, forearm rubs, kisses and pokes. If the woman says 'No thanks', then that's the end of favours from Helen and she gives the contracts to someone else . . . from direct experience . . . PM Clark did this to one of my girlfriend's mothers. The mother said, 'No thanks'. When you pull all this together, it's the most horrible picture of New Zealand.

When Jocelyn Counsell was in Christchurch, as the official consultant to child ritual murders . . . one of the policemen got an obsession with her, and was converted, through rooting, into believing her views on child ritual murder. He was then put in charge of investigating the Christchurch Crèche case and then started having sex with some of the mothers he was interviewing. Then he resigned . . . the investigating detective Colin Eade. He hit on one of the children's mothers during the investigation and had sex with two of the children's mothers after the trial."

Jocelyn Counsell . . . has kept on side with the police . . . despite her mental illness, her exhibitionist nymphomania, her lesbian domestic, throwing knives and a tomahawk, and letting off a firearm in the suburban area. She now tells the police who the local dope smokers are.

Jocelyn Counsell helped to stitch up Peter Ellis and cover for the police paedophilia at Banks Ave in Christchurch. The police still remember favourably her ringside washing machine orgasms, and are reluctant to convict a fanny as they find them useful and entertaining.

"So any corrupt mentally ill nymphomaniac is considered by the police to be an R&D asset in the waiting and will pull them in, with huge government funding whenever the police require cover for their own lies and cover-ups.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Sex & Drugs and being a TV Personality', p. 183:
"Woman's Day and Woman's Weekly are both notorious for covering for compromised bisexuals, homosexuals, paedophiles, drug users, drug dealers and informants, and presenting them as clean-living heterosexuals. That is why Helen Clark is the first to celebrate Woman's Weekly's 75th anniversary as women's magazines have given Helen Clark three decades of cover for her lesbianism and her husband's homosexuality and child sex abuse. Treason?"

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Sex & Drugs and being a TV Personality', pp. 186–90:
"Paul Holmes is the media representative for paedophiles. He covers for them. In exchange they cover for him. At the same, time Paul Holmes wrote a glowing article about Helen Clark's achievements and put down the Opposition leader . . . Helen Clark is New Zealand's biggest ever paedophile minder. Clark is married to a child sex abuser and Holmes also writes glowing articles about him and then has dinner with him. Clark is also a vehicle for the importation of heroin into New Zealand.

The Dominion Post, 'Heiress on drug charges unmasked', 21 August 2007. Auckland University law professor Bill Hodge: "High Court rules haven't excluded 'judge shopping' and because it [the High Court] is still formless it [judge shopping] is still possible."

Sir James Fletcher . . . died of a broken heart . . . two sons who were paedophiles . . .

NZ. It is a police state run by idiots who jump to the conclusion that anyone who knows more about crime than they do must have been the perpetrator. This especially applies in Bomb Squad investigations where anyone who puts together 'a replica that the police asked them to build' was the 'probable offender' because 'how else would they know how to build a bomb?'"

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Difficult New Zealand', pp. 217–19:
"There are over 200 complaints against judges for gender bias. These are then collected by a Complaints Officer, complete with title. He's been collecting them for over four years and he's done absolutely nothing with them.

The New Zealand judiciary hasn't found in favour of a heterosexual this millennium and ever since Sian Elias became a High Court judge. I think it's because her husband is bisexual.

The judiciary is a social activist movement that's trying to turn NZ gay. It's judicial activism covering their non-heterosexual arses.

I'm a heterosexual and I haven't won a case in 14 years, ever since I exposed the Head of the Disputes Tribunal, Grant Aislabie, as a drug user back in January 1994. I'm pretty sure he's bisexual and twisted. I used to cycle home from school as a 17-year-old, in the 7th Form, and he'd be at home drinking with my father at 3.30 pm. He'd stop playing pool, open the ranch slider and stick his head outside and look at my arse as I got off my push bike.

When I was at a party, at say, John Saunders' place, now a judge in Singapore, and Aislabie was there, he was always looking at my arse, and when I came home from university and went to the local parties and he was there, he'd be looking at my arse – you know, with that really uncomfortable stare. Then he got into drugs, drugs and alcohol, then lots of mental break-downs. The drugs were hidden under the seat of his golden brown 1938 Plymouth, the one he had shares in, that was parked in his garage behind the cabana, behind the swimming pool, behind his house on 4th Ave . . . Tauranga . . .

The New Zealand judiciary is as bent as. There are a few judges who are not into same sex, and those few that are heterosexual are usually swingers, and the few remaining are into drugs, and those that aren't are into all of the above, are into kids, or at least protecting the paedophiles who are into kids. All of them are compromised and all of them make compromised decisions . . .

Each judge lives in fear of the other judge. The judges make the most unfair decisions and routinely get away with it because no other judge will discipline them, because each knows they're all so compromised . . .

Wise citizens generally avoid the courts. As the saying goes, 'Don't expect justice from the New Zealand judiciary' . . . I used to work in Britain for MI-5 and C6. Then I came over to New Zealand and did some consulting work. It was my job to work through evidence and pull it apart and I can tell you the New Zealand police are very reliable – the most reliable police force in the world. You can always rely on the New Zealand police to manufacture evidence . . .

That's certainly what I've found . . . and the police, lawyers and judges work together. Some police are given permission to lie in court and some judges are guaranteed to believe everything a police officer says. Judge Gittos is one of these. He works on the police stitch-up and police informants scheme cases. I remember, after the poisoning, after my Cook Islands speech, I got Judge Gittos and he threw the book at me. Twelve hours after the poisoning I was driving in a straight line at 35 km/h and was charged with dangerous driving. During the hearing I exposed Constable Cassin as having two convictions for assault prior to entering the police. Gittos took my driver's licence and fined me $1,490.00. I took it to the High Court. The police and District Court lost the hearing transcript, their notes and files, and one officer resigned. I got my licence back within the hour, then Cassin was put on the Internal Affairs' list of corrupt cops.

What we need is a vote of 'no confidence' in the judiciary. I have files on the sexual improprieties of judges [Elias, Cartwright, Geoghegan, Hole, Mahoney] and heads of department [Aislabie]. I could use these files. I thought about it, but it's a whole other book, even in note form . . .

You know, it can be argued, and quite easily, that judges are the biggest killers in New Zealand, more than heart attacks, road accidents and cancer.

That was in my first book, Are You My Father?

Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference. For decades he's been refusing to pay people he's hired. He's ripped off so many people, if he paid them all, he'd lose one of his buildings. He keeps using 'the sick excuse'. The latest one is 'his prostate cancer count is over 10' . . . He employed his daughter Katie Williams as his secretary for a number of years. Since then she's become an alcoholic and a P addict. She's a runaway self-destructive manic-depressive child, now in her 30s and showing no signs of improvement. When Peter goes overseas, he's just returned from a trip to Fiji [late August 2007 including 29 August], she acts up.

There are various ways she does this including stealing Peter's vehicle and driving around telling everyone it's hers. She uses this as security to purchase P from gangs like Black Power. When they come asking for the money, QC Williams has to bail her out. The last time he bailed her out, he had to pay Black Power NZ$20,000 . . .

Perhaps that's why Peter Williams hasn't paid my fee for over two years . . . From his own mouth he told me Katie was a serial cuckolder. It seems to run in the family. When they were living in Remuera Peter's son, Durrell, cut the telephone lines to their neighbour's house. When the neighbour confronted Peter he didn't discipline his son and didn't compensate the neighbour . . . so he's up there with Paul Holmes as New Zealand's worst father . . . I went sailing with Williams once. As soon as we were past North Head he started talking about how he'd had sex with a man and asked me if I'd tried it. Then one of his useless crew, a drunken Maori lawyer [Albi Orme] threatened to kill me. I even wrote Peter a letter of complaint. Quite a strange man that Williams.

I did over $5,000 worth of architectural work for him and he never paid me. He's all friends and self-fame until you present the bill then he cuts off all communication. I've been looking for a court to sue him in but haven't found one yet. I wonder if the judges respect him for his legal opinions, his sex with a man, his cuckolded status, his loose wives, his poor fathering, or the compromised information he has on them . . .

I'm surprised he's so tight. When he was defending Mr Asia in London, mafia boys in suits came up to him in the hotel lobby and said, 'Your payment's in your room'. Williams went straight up and found a suitcase on his bed, stuffed full of money. It had £2 million in it . . .

Seems like the old guys got it right. Stick a non-heterosexual in power and they'll fuck up the entire nation . . . Give them an inch and they'll take the country . . . It certainly applies to Helen. Put a 'Zionist prostitute in a cover marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser' in power and she'll try and launch a nuclear strike on you."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'The New National Anthem – Hot Teaspoons', pp. 221–24:
One of Helen Clark's lesbian lovers is Maryan Street. She is married to Annemarie Wille and they lived at 235 Jervois Road in Herne Bay, about five minutes' drive from Helen Clark's house. Swinging Helen and swinging Maryan have been casual sexual partners for over two decades. Helen made Maryan an MP and then a cabinet minister on 5 November 2007.

Maryan Street and Annemarie Wille had a child together, Elsje Marteke, born in 1991. The biological father is Mr John Burrows, an architectural student who changed to engineering at Auckland University. The child was conceived in Helen Clark's home in an occult ceremony.

Helen Clark is very much into the occult and the feminist occult. The Parthenogenesis Farm on Waiheke Island is home to the 'lesbians of the immaculate birth'.

Finding a dirth of immaculate births, Helen Clark agreed to them coming over to her place in their white robes to conceive a hot teaspoon baby. They danced around in their white gowns while Mr Burrows got wanked into a bucket and the sperm was placed into the lesbian vagina of the aptly named 'Annemarie Wille'.

The midwife was Barbara Harvey. Her husband, Bob Harvey, was then awarded the Queen's Service Order for Services to the Community in 1991, and soon became Mayor of West Auckland in October 1992. Mr Burrows got a job at the UN setting up nation's sewerage systems. Forty weeks later confusion was born.

Thereafter Helen Clark would escape her detail (bodyguards) at 3 am and drive madly to 235 Jervois Rd, to the home of Maryan Street, Annemarie Wille, and Elsje Marteke, to check up on their occult child and mix with more of the fisted ones. Helen's detail would complain that they'd have to jump through their trousers into their boots and follow her at that ungodly hour.

I've been in Maryan Street's gingerbread house and builders have been in Helen's house. Here they found the biggest dildo available under her bed. Helen has sex with her husband Peter, fanny to arse, doggy style with Helen on top . . .

New Zealand wasn't too hard to take over. The strongest form of resistance came from the Wellington Apple Pie Contest, and this, combined with the national anthem, 'Hot Teaspoons', left no doubt that Kiwis were the world's apple pie. Here, I'll leave you with a verse from the new national anthem by Walk.on.me:

"Peace, not war, shall be our boast, But, should foes assail our coast, Make us then a mighty host, God defend our free land."[30] From dissension, envy, hate . . . From dishonour and from shame . . . Men of every creed and race . . . . corruption guard our state . . . Make her praises heard afar . . . Crown her with immortal fame . . . Guide her in the nation's van . . . Working out Thy glorious plan . . . Guard our country's spotless name."

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Fisting in America', pp. 225–32:
"Helen Clark has been wearing waterproof under-pants for the last two years. They're called 'incontinence diapers'. Too much fisting has caused incontinence and her fanny's always leaking and she pisses herself all the time, especially when she's talking on TV. That's why she appears bigger around the hips and has been instructed to lose weight . . .

This is the same person Forbes Asia voted 20th most powerful woman in the world . . . as you said, her partner Heather Simpson did win gold for fisting at the Sydney Gay Olympics in 2000.

[30] In Intelligence speak, "Peace" means 'no resistance to communism'. "Freedom" means 'no resistance to American colonialism'.

If we're going to make this a book about New Zealand and how easily external entities bribe New Zealand politicians, then I guess we should talk about Helen Clark's time at the White House. I published this in March and May 2007 in How To Take Over The World, and in March and September 2007 in Stalin's British Training – and I haven't been charged, sued, convicted, or reported in any mainstream media, so it must be true . . .

Promise of the Iraq war was being built up by the Americans and they were canvasing world leaders for support. This meant that they were pulling out all their FBI smut files to bribe politicians . . . the Afghan War began on 7 October 2001 and Helen Clark was against it, saying 'America has no right to be there'. Then Helen Clark left New Zealand for her Christmas holidays on 19 December 2002 without telling anyone where she was going and when she returned on 19 January 2003 she said she had been staying at her husband's parents place in the south of England. We know different.

[p. 228] When Helen Clark was in England, President George W. Bush called her up and invited her to his Capital. Being from a small country and President Bush being so big and all, she turned up. On 3 January 2003 she was flown to Washington DC and taken to the White House, without any pomp and ceremony, or media coverage. Helen Clark did not turn up with her husband, the embarrasingly effeminate homosexual Prof. Peter Davis, but with her long-time on-call lesbian lover, the world fisting champion Heather Simpson, whom she had appointed as Head of Policy.

Taking things at face value and listening to all the bar-room rumours down-under, W offered Helen-&-Heather Lincoln Cottage, which has more cameras per square metre than any other building in the world and when it comes to bargaining power, Lincoln Cottage is the Hollywood of spying.

When they arrived at the cottage W rang them and offered them a girl-typist. The typist George selected was a sapphic CIA pillow-talker and she came over and joined them. Helen and her honey-trap were caught on tape for hours on end doing all the things lesbians do – a bit of tongue and groove, strap on dildos, girl-talk, fisting, trade and security secrets, ménages à trois, that sort of thing.

[p. 229] This is the same sort of thing Helen Clark does at 235 Jervois Rd, Herne Bay, Auckland at 3.30 am with the lesbian Maryan Street [former Media Woman for Auckland Feminist teachers] and her civil union partner, Annemarie Wille. If we know about this, you can guarantee the Americans know about it, especially since the CIA informant John Banks was the Mayor of Auckland [2001–04] at the time.

When Helen's detail contacted me over this, back in 2003, they were surprised when I got back to them in the same sentence with the address. Their reply was, 'How did he know that? . . . Mr Hallett'.

The upshot of all this is that Helen Clark has remained silent over the Afghanistan and Iraq wars ever since. She hasn't said a word against President Bush, even though the rest of the world has, and she has been secretly sending New Zealand forces to Afghanistan and Iraq. [The NZSAS would go on holiday to various parts of Australia, then meet two weeks later in Perth, joining their Australian counterparts on a ship bound for the warzones.] She has also been flying other country's troops into Iraq on the national carrier Air New Zealand. To maintain cover, when questioned, she says only peace corps have been sent in and as soon as the shit hits the fan, she has other MPs answer for her collossal failures as Prime Minister.

Helen Clark can't answer any questions under pressure as you know, she pisses herself. She also hasn't presented a speech in public since she was asked a difficult question in 1996 and broke down crying . . .

[p. 230] She also hasn't walked across an intersection the whole time she's been PM. She's the most hated woman in New Zealand's history and if she walked across an intersection someone would volunteer to run her over . . .

I'm aware of the sentiment. I'm also aware that there have been many discussion regarding removing her protection, especially since her murders . . .

After Prime Minister Helen Clark's sex with the lesbian CIA pillow-talker, George Bush rang her up the next day and invited her up to the Oval Office. Helen turned up, feeling great about her latest fisting, but wondering why she no longer had any control over her bladder, and George, not being the great diplomat, showed Helen the photos and asked her if she would like these to go to the media.

[p. 231] Helen said 'Arrr, no thanks' and George said, 'Well you will be supporting US in Afghanistan and Iraq. You won't say a word against US and you will support US by whatever means possible.' Helen said 'Yes, I'll arrange whatever I can to keep you in power and for New Zealand to support your war' and Bush said, 'And we will do the same for you'.

So Helen Clark has remained New Zealand's prime minister. She is a former KGB agent supporting the American invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq in exchange for maintaining her position as prime minister and American silence about her lesbianism, her honey-trap, and her leaky fanny syndrome, which surprise, surprise, began soon after the Lincoln Cottage honey-trap. The pillow-talker must have known exactly where to push and scrape, what toxins to use, and what lubricants to hide them in. Anyway, the fisted one is still in power [ousted on 8 November 2008], despite not winning the election and being New Zealand's most unpopular woman – ever . . .

The diplomatic community heard about this and there was a flurry of invitations out to lunch, first in America and then around the rest of the world. The diplomatic community roared with laughter and shouted each other out to lunch just so they could tell the story. I got invited to one. Each wanted to tell the other the story because 'no one has been so easily honey-trapped since the Profumo Affair' . . .

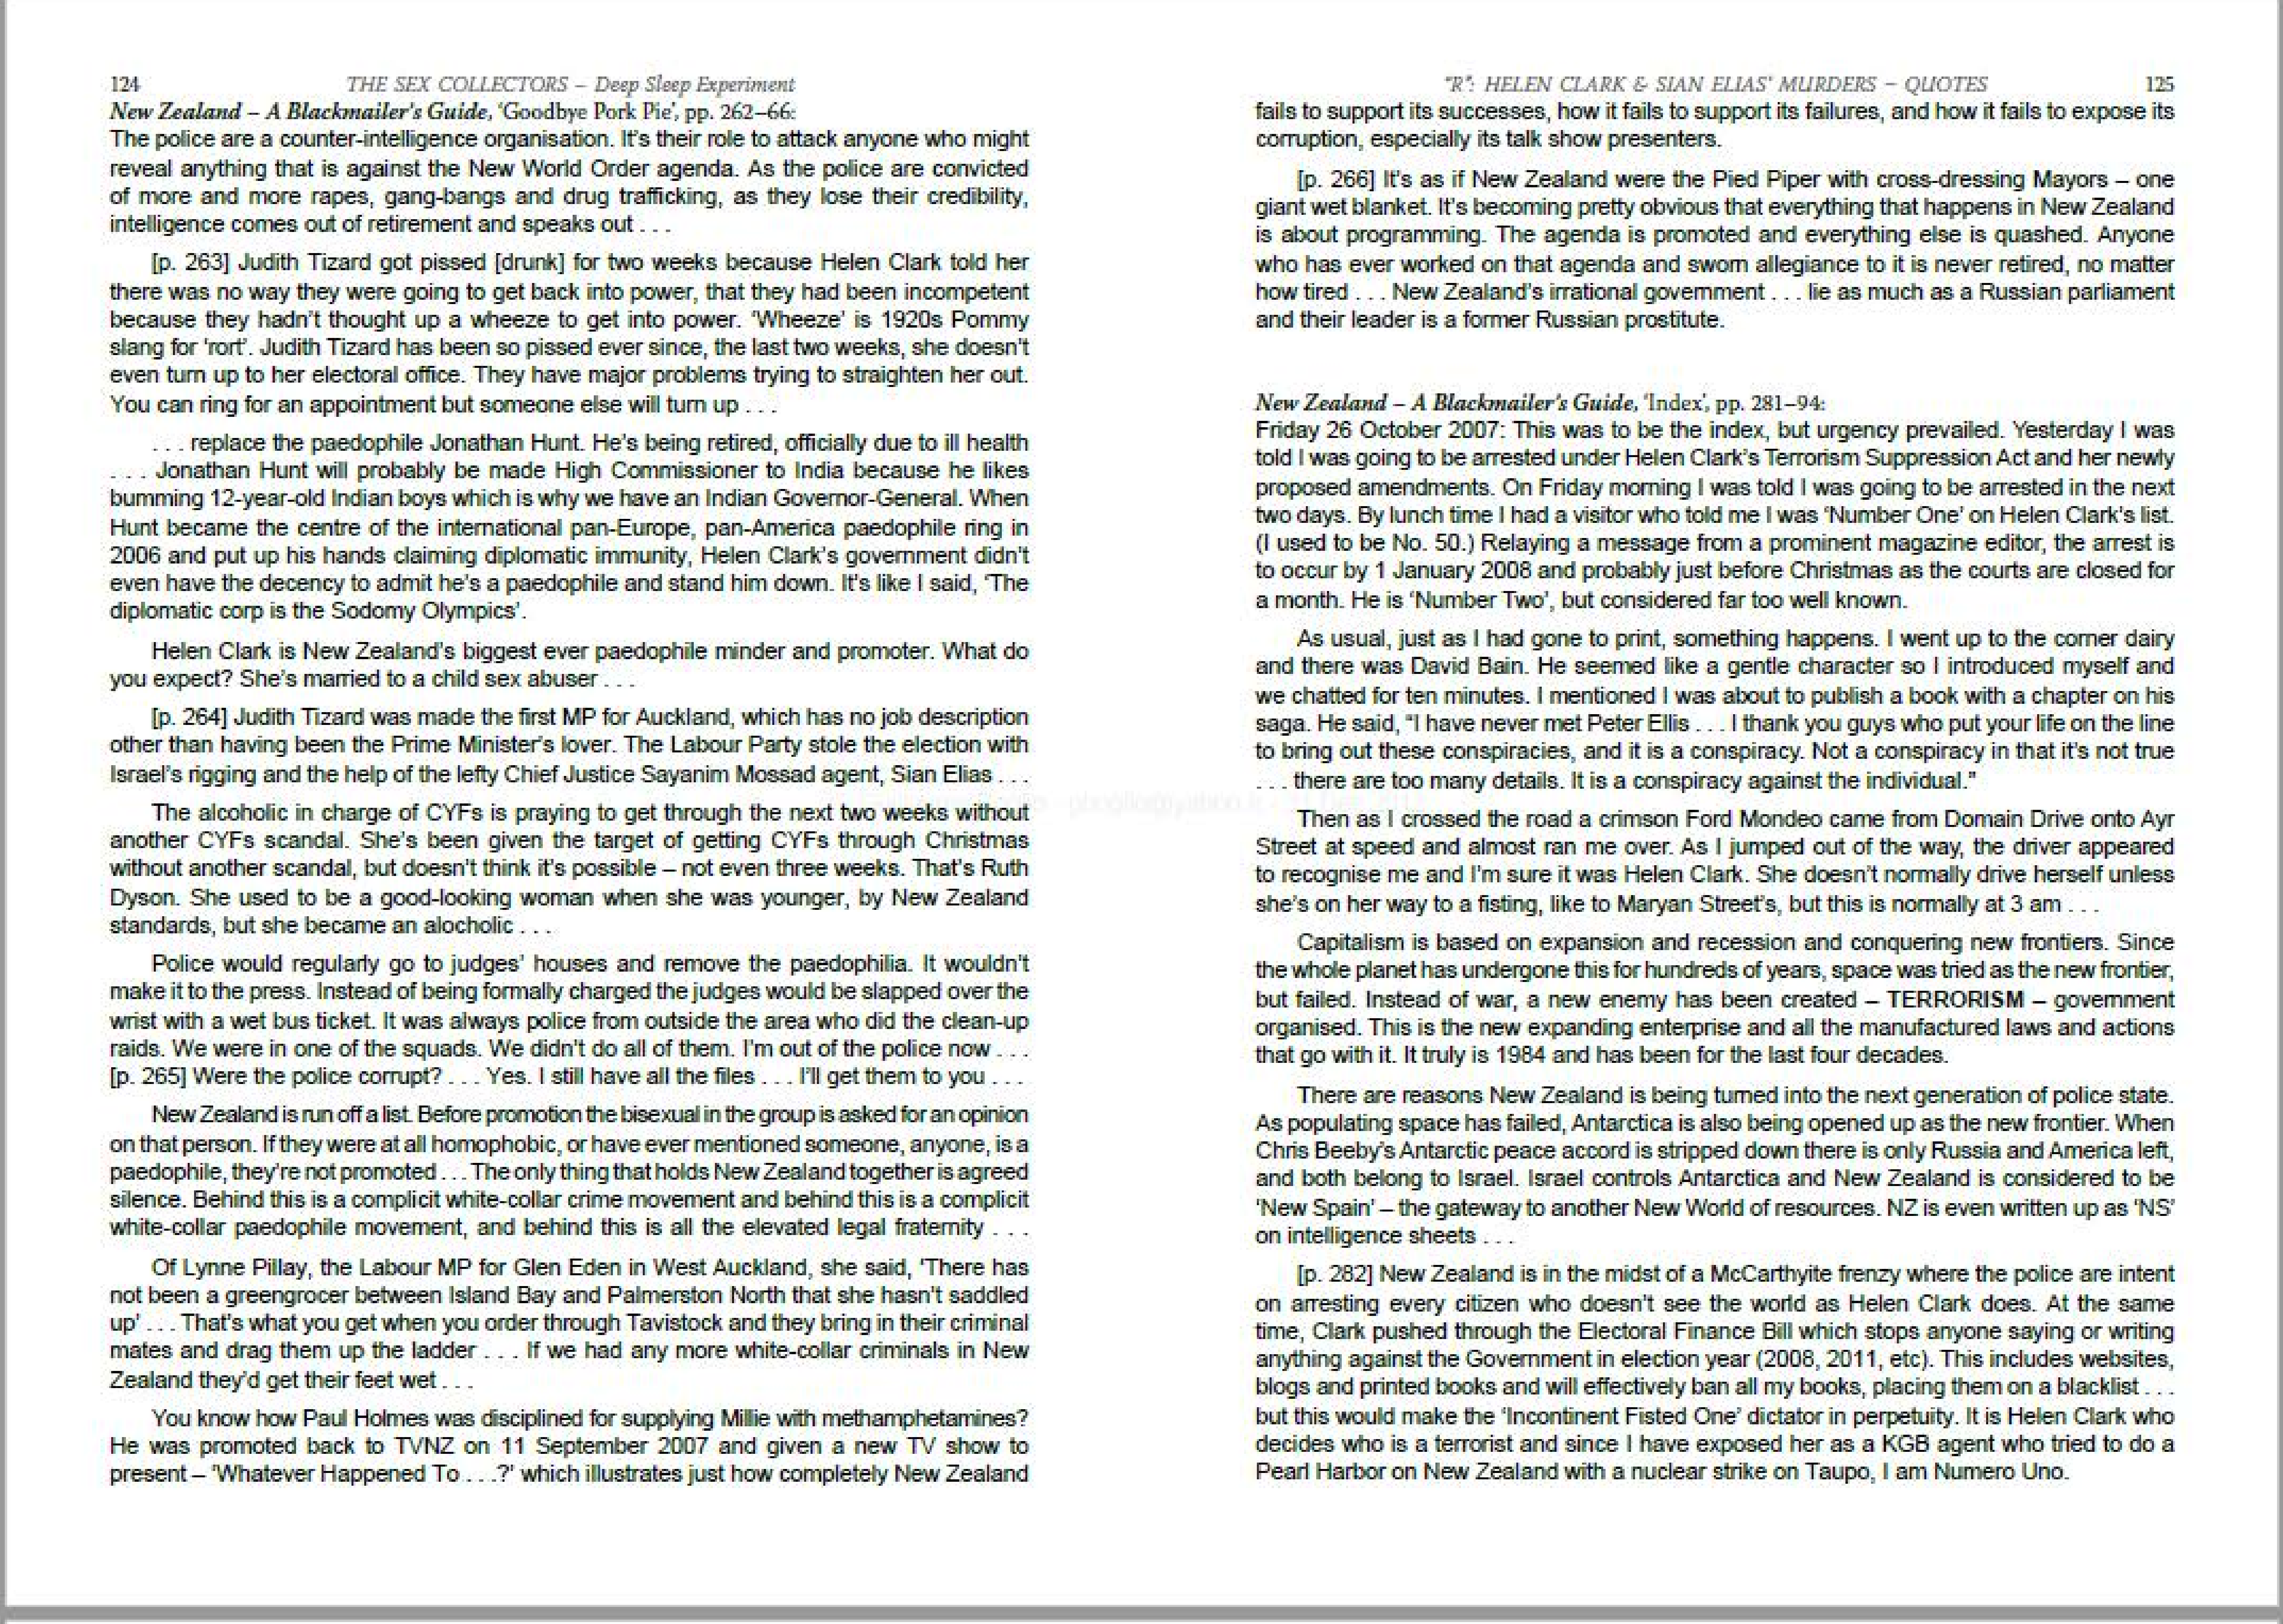
When Helen Clark returned, she had no intention of sending New Zealand to war. The tapes were alluded to and Helen was told that if she didn't back America in the war against Iraq, these tapes would make it to the media . . .

[p. 232] Initially she didn't know which way to swing about the war. She had SAS troops in Afganistan which were easy enough to send through Iran to Iraq, but she pulled out of the Iraq war when she remembered that her primary goal was to destroy New Zealand.

So instead Helen Clark sent the New Zealand Peace Corp to Iraq. Essentially, these are a group of 'free re-builders' and the last people to leave Iraq . . .

Sexually bent politicians in denial of their sexuality to the public are a threat to their own country and policies. They are easily setup, photographed, politically bribed, toppled, and supported in the destruction of their country. This method of altering a country's policies is epidemic and now endemic to politics. It is something larger more experienced countries try on smaller less experienced politicians, whenever they can . . . and laugh outrageously when it still works . . .

If you are a political leader, and you're having sex overseas with anyone who is not your recognised partner, then you are filmed and bribed. Der! That's how Helen Clark was trained by the KGB in the first place. She is a former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute. Is she as forgetful as Christine Rankin? . . . She only has to learn her lines and she never answers a question that wasn't first prepared by her aides, as are the answers . . ."



New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Goodbye Pork Pie', pp. 262–66:
The police are a counter-intelligence organisation. It's their role to attack anyone who might reveal anything that is against the New World Order agenda. As the police are convicted of more and more rapes, gang-bangs and drug trafficking, as they lose their credibility, intelligence comes out of retirement and speaks out . . .

[p. 263] Judith Tizard got pissed [drunk] for two weeks because Helen Clark told her there was no way they were going to get back into power, that they had been incompetent because they hadn't thought up a wheeze to get into power. 'Wheeze' is 1920s Pommy slang for 'rort'. Judith Tizard has been so pissed ever since, the last two weeks, she doesn't even turn up to her electoral office. They have major problems trying to straighten her out. You can ring for an appointment but someone else will turn up . . .

. . . replace the paedophile Jonathan Hunt. He's being retired, officially due to ill health . . . Jonathan Hunt will probably be made High Commissioner to India because he likes bumming 12-year-old Indian boys which is why we have an Indian Governor-General. When Hunt became the centre of the international pan-Europe, pan-America paedophile ring in 2006 and put up his hands claiming diplomatic immunity, Helen Clark's government didn't even have the decency to admit he's a paedophile and stand him down. It's like I said, 'The diplomatic corp is the Sodomy Olympics'.

Helen Clark is New Zealand's biggest ever paedophile minder and promoter. What do you expect? She's married to a child sex abuser . . .

[p. 264] Judith Tizard was made the first MP for Auckland, which has no job description other than having been the Prime Minister's lover. The Labour Party stole the election with Israel's rigging and the help of the lefty Chief Justice Sayanim Mossad agent, Sian Elias . . .

The alcoholic in charge of CYFs is praying to get through the next two weeks without another CYFs scandal. She's been given the target of getting CYFs through Christmas without another scandal, but doesn't think it's possible – not even three weeks. That's Ruth Dyson. She used to be a good-looking woman when she was younger, by New Zealand standards, but she became an alocholic . . .

Police would regularly go to judges' houses and remove the paedophilia. It wouldn't make it to the press. Instead of being formally charged the judges would be slapped over the wrist with a wet bus ticket. It was always police from outside the area who did the clean-up raids. We were in one of the squads. We didn't do all of them. I'm out of the police now . . . [p. 265] Were the police corrupt? . . . Yes. I still have all the files . . . I'll get them to you . . .

New Zealand is run off a list. Before promotion the bisexual in the group is asked for an opinion on that person. If they were at all homophobic, or have ever mentioned someone, anyone, is a paedophile, they're not promoted . . . The only thing that holds New Zealand together is agreed silence. Behind this is a complicit white-collar crime movement and behind this is a complicit white-collar paedophile movement, and behind this is all the elevated legal fraternity . . .

Of Lynne Pillay, the Labour MP for Glen Eden in West Auckland, she said, 'There has not been a greengrocer between Island Bay and Palmerston North that she hasn't saddled up' . . . That's what you get when you order through Tavistock and they bring in their criminal mates and drag them up the ladder . . . If we had any more white-collar criminals in New Zealand they'd get their feet wet . . .

You know how Paul Holmes was disciplined for supplying Millie with methamphetamines? He was promoted back to TVNZ on 11 September 2007 and given a new TV show to present – 'Whatever Happened To . . .?' which illustrates just how completely New Zealand fails to support its successes, how it fails to support its failures, and how it fails to expose its corruption, especially its talk show presenters.

[p. 266] It's as if New Zealand were the Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors – one giant wet blanket. It's becoming pretty obvious that everything that happens in New Zealand is about programming. The agenda is promoted and everything else is quashed. Anyone who has ever worked on that agenda and sworn allegiance to it is never retired, no matter how tired . . . New Zealand's irrational government . . . lie as much as a Russian parliament and their leader is a former Russian prostitute.

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, 'Index', pp. 281–94:
Friday 26 October 2007: This was to be the index, but urgency prevailed. Yesterday I was told I was going to be arrested under Helen Clark's Terrorism Suppression Act and her newly proposed amendments. On Friday morning I was told I was going to be arrested in the next two days. By lunch time I had a visitor who told me I was 'Number One' on Helen Clark's list. (I used to be No. 50.) Relaying a message from a prominent magazine editor, the arrest is to occur by 1 January 2008 and probably just before Christmas as the courts are closed for a month. He is 'Number Two', but considered far too well known.

As usual, just as I had gone to print, something happens. I went up to the corner dairy and there was David Bain. He seemed like a gentle character so I introduced myself and we chatted for ten minutes. I mentioned I was about to publish a book with a chapter on his saga. He said, "I have never met Peter Ellis . . . I thank you guys who put your life on the line to bring out these conspiracies, and it is a conspiracy. Not a conspiracy in that it's not true . . . there are too many details. It is a conspiracy against the individual."

Then as I crossed the road a crimson Ford Mondeo came from Domain Drive onto Ayr Street at speed and almost ran me over. As I jumped out of the way, the driver appeared to recognise me and I'm sure it was Helen Clark. She doesn't normally drive herself unless she's on her way to a fisting, like to Maryan Street's, but this is normally at 3 am . . .

Capitalism is based on expansion and recession and conquering new frontiers. Since the whole planet has undergone this for hundreds of years, space was tried as the new frontier, but failed. Instead of war, a new enemy has been created – TERRORISM – government organised. This is the new expanding enterprise and all the manufactured laws and actions that go with it. It truly is 1984 and has been for the last four decades.

There are reasons New Zealand is being turned into the next generation of police state. As populating space has failed, Antarctica is also being opened up as the new frontier. When Chris Beeby's Antarctic peace accord is stripped down there is only Russia and America left, and both belong to Israel. Israel controls Antarctica and New Zealand is considered to be 'New Spain' – the gateway to another New World of resources. NZ is even written up as 'NS' on intelligence sheets . . .

[p. 282] New Zealand is in the midst of a McCarthyite frenzy where the police are intent on arresting every citizen who doesn't see the world as Helen Clark does. At the same time, Clark pushed through the Electoral Finance Bill which stops anyone saying or writing anything against the Government in election year (2008, 2011, etc). This includes websites, blogs and printed books and will effectively ban all my books, placing them on a blacklist . . . but this would make the 'Incontinent Fisted One' dictator in perpetuity. It is Helen Clark who decides who is a terrorist and since I have exposed her as a KGB agent who tried to do a Pearl Harbor on New Zealand with a nuclear strike on Taupo, I am Numero Uno.

. . . Perhaps the Government's judiciary could return my architecture practice developed to where it would have been, the properties they stole, compensation for their murder attempts, and wipe clean their manufactured record – the one they created in my absence to limit my output . . .

Helen Clark introduced the Electoral Finance Bill into Parliament admidst great secrecy. The secrecy was that she did not declare what the Bill was about and introduced it at least six months late, and in haste. The Electoral Finance Bill is designed to silence all opposition to her.

In part, that is due to this book and others I've written which mention her attempt to launch a nuclear strike on Taupo, her murder of historian Michael King, her Comintern [Communist International] training by the KGB, her prostitution in St Petersburg, her marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser, her three or more attempts on my life, the Rothschilds considering Helen Clark to be ‘the Hitler of the South Pacific’, her honey-trap at the White House, and her wearing incontinence nappies – which is what the Electoral Finance Bill/Act is about.

[p. 283] Helen Clark doesn't want it mentioned. Say “Incontinence Nappies” to her face and see what reaction you get.

When I mentioned that New Zealand's real name was New Spain, I wasn't kidding and when I mention that Helen Clark is compared to Hitler by many, I wasn't kidding either.

Newstalk ZB: “Members of the migrant community on the march say they came to New Zealand to escape dictatorship, and some have likened Miss Clark to Adolf Hitler.”

Since 1999 the Labour Party has shown itself to be a paedophile and crime creation movement. They have continually stolen from the coffers, funded homosexuals, child sex abusers and paedophiles into positions of power, refused to jail violent criminals, promoted gang members to the top of the police force (Mongrel Mob member Clint Rickards), promoted New Zealand's worst ever rapist to Auckland City Commander (Clint Rickards), promoted one of New Zealand's worst paedophiles as one of New Zealand's best police undercover agents (Clint Rickards), promoted the heroin trafficking Minister of Health Annette King to Minister of Police, got the police spokesman and President of the NZ Police Association trafficking heroin to gangs (Greg O'Connor), turned Maori activists into government agents (Tame Iti, Ken Muir), made many of Helen Clark's lesbian fisting buddies cabinet ministers (Maryan Street, Ms Steve Chadwick), removed the heterosexual males out of cabinet positions, had the police hassle heterosexual males and lay trumped-up charges, had most of heterosexual New Zealand spied on by Telecom, the SIS, Matrix Security and Mr Whippy, and ensured no heterosexual male wins a court case (only sex offenders do) . . . [p. 284] removed heterosexual solo fathers from their homes, put lesbians in government jobs so they could buy houses, then let house prices skyrocket . . . made the poor poorer, imported poor immigrants to vote for them, carried out murders for the New World Order (Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, MP Rod Donald, Augie Auer), gave the Jewess Sayanim Mossad agent Chief Justice Sian Elias unlimited funds to start a Supreme Court which was rammed through Parliament at record speed, and ensured that all legal decisions in New Zealand will be made by Israel for Israel, with New Zealand being the New Spain for the new continent Antarctica.

The New Zealand Computer Society Inc.” “Greg O'Connor is a former drug undercover, detective and Police Officer with over 30 years experience. He has been the elected President of the NZ Police Association since October 1995 and presides over 8000 Sworn Police Officers and 2000 Non-sworn (civilian) staff. O'Connor is also the Chairperson of the Police Welfare Fund with over 13,000 members and a large network of Holiday Homes. Greg O'Connor also leads the worldwide body of Police Associations – the International Council of Police Representatives & Associations” . . .

This should keep the police worldwide very busy trafficking NATO heroin to their local criminals – kickbacks in the police holiday homes included. When the police say “stress leave”, think “drug holiday”. Former police officers, Senior Sergeants and lawyers consider Greg O'Connor to be “a total dick.” This rolled off their tongues without hesitation.

Did I mention Helen controls the brothels and keeps re-employing the ‘any-and-every-drug addict’ Paul Holmes as the state media personality for her cover-ups when he clearly supplied his own daughter Millie with a range of Class A drugs and got her into prostitution for drugs, earning her nickname ‘anal lover’ . . . and when Millie stole Paul's Cartier watch and porned it for P and the P dealers later found out it was fake, Paul kicked Millie out.

Millie got Paul back by moving in with her father's P dealer, Perish (white Mercedes, tinted windows). Paul may have been involved when Perish was placed on trumped up kidnapping charges, but it was Millie who trumped Paul when she was charged with P while high on Perish's stash. By December 2007 Millie was well past her sentence date. She'd got on the needle and was back at the Capri rehab clinic. Meanwhile Paul was texting her saying he was too drunk to pick her up . . . and that's state TV – not enough morality to cite the Prime Minister as a KGB agent and a former St Petersburg prostitute who wears incontinence nappies as a result of a White House honey-trap fisting with toxic lubricant.

The end result of all this is that the 2008 Election will have to be decided in the courts, and that is by the Jewess Sian Elias and her Supreme Court, which in turn has all its decision made in Israel. Israel will be backing their exploitation of Antarctica with New Zealand as New Spain – the launching pad to the new continent. As a result, they want to make New Zealand a legal, political and social mosh pit. [As it turned out, the country got educated to the Labour Government's corruption resulting in a landslide victory to the opposition].

[p. 285] According to the Georgia Guidestones, the transitional agenda for New Zealand/New Spain is that 12 out of 13 people are to be neutralised. This includes exporting thinkers and importing dummies; exporting white people and importing brown and yellow people; exporting heterosexuals and importing lesbians, gays, bisexuals and sex abusers (with the help of the paedophiles Sir Roger Douglas and Aussie Malcolm who run immigration firms); exporting capitalistic intent and importing communist intent; exporting morals and importing white-collar criminals; charging and convicting honest people and letting murderers go free on bail; charging men with domestic violence and taking their weapons, while giving custody to mentally ill violent mothers, setting them up in house and home and paying for their university education, while refusing the father's access and boiler-plating him until he gives up on his own family and emigrates to Australia – 40,000 of them each year . . . since 1970 a third of the population has emigrated.

The transitional agenda for New Zealand/New Spain also includes murder and MAD (Medically Assisted Death). When the polls are down, Helen murders.

Helen Clark is a former KGB prostitute, a graduate of the St Petersburg Freud Hilton, as is her long-time Comintern buddy Margaret Wilson. They formed a pact with New Zealand's United Nations representative, Silvia Cartwright, as to how they wanted New Zealand run. This involves New Zealand becoming the first Western communist state, modelled on Russia. And who created Russia? The Jews – before they got Israel. And who is Israel's representative in New Zealand – Chief Justice Sian Elias. Her nomination was tabled by the evil first female Prime Minister Jenny Shipley and seconded by the Comintern's Helen Clark.

In the eight years Clark has been in power, she has never answered a question clearly and now leaves all difficult answers to her cabinet ministers who are instructed to answer like unrealistic blinkered bratty schoolchildren – which they are. As a result the . . . finances are run by a British paedophile married to a primary school teacher who runs around cuckolding the bad doctor . . .

Helen Clark's Electoral Finance Act . . . is a doctrine of absolute silence and will have a more devastating effect on New Zealand than Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson's planned nuclear strike on Taupo.

[p. 286] On 12 November 2007 the New Zealand Herald ran a rare front-page editorial: "When is the government going to get this message: democracy is not a device to keep the Labour Party in power . . . If these bills pass, they will be Labour's epitaph" . . . Your Electoral Finance Bill is so bad that even your Labour-appointed Chief Human Rights Commissioner described the original Bill as having 'a chilling effect on the right of freedom of expression'. The Human Rights Commissioner then asked for the Bill to be withdrawn – that any changes be subject to the widest possible scrutiny.

Helen Clark refused another round of public submissions, did not withdraw the Bill and rammed it through Parliament. The Electoral Finance Bill . . . making the New Zealand Government the most anti-democratic of its type in the world. Helen Clark has extended the gagging order to 11 months.

The select committee's report reveals that, under questioning, Ministry of Justice officials could not offer committee members any rationale for the extended regulated period. To have done so would have meant embarrassing the Government . . . Incontinence Nappies . . . Comintern Training . . . Prostitution in St Petersburg . . . murders, an attempted nuclear strike on Taupo, and a toxic fisting at the White House . . .

[p. 287] the Labour Party are . . . passing law to make legal what was illegal in the last election . . . The Minister of Justice doesn't even understand it . . .

The Chief Justice is Sian Elias, a Sayanim Mossad contract killer and murderer of the chief historian Michael King. Sian Elias is supported by the Public Law specialists Chen Palmer . . . Founding Director Geoffrey Palmer pays to have his arse whipped by Christine Rankin, the former head of New Zealand's largest government department. Christine didn't even pass her first school exam. She failed School C twice and was limited in her moonlighting career to 'dominatrix'. The knee-jerk retard Christine Rankin drives Geoffrey Palmer, and Geoffrey Palmer drives the unwritten constitution for a fee of $10 million a year.

The Electoral Finance Bill is the result – no human rights for those less bent . . . New Zealand doesn't have a written constitution. It depends on an anchor of decency based on common understanding . . .

[p. 288] Under Helen Clark, New Zealand is designed to become the first Western Russian satellite country – fascism for the oligarchy and communism for the masses – with thinkers exported and uneducated voters imported to maintain the fascist/communist agenda . . .

When Helen Clark started to be compared to Adolf Hitler in 2004, it was by a lawyer. Her letter was read over the radio (Newstalk ZB), but it was in 1989, when I interviewed a member of the KGB in Moscow that it first became apparent that Helen Clark (now Prime Minister) and Margaret Wilson (now Speaker of the House) were both trained in Russia as KGB Comintern agents. Part of this training was prostitution. Shame brought control . . .

[p. 289] . . . the reason Bush has so easily pushed Helen Clark into American style fascism is that Helen Clark was honey-trapped at the White House by one of W's female CIA pillow-talkers. As a result, Helen Clark nows wears incontinence nappies, something which would deter most voters from ticking her box. She leaks like a sieve and pisses herself during interviews.

Rather than have Helen Clark's incontinence nappies come up as an election issue, she has decreed that no one can mention her incontinence in election year. This is what the Electoral Finance Act is about – Helen Clark's incontinence . . . Even the New Zealand Law Society wants the Electoral Finance Bill scrapped . . .

[p. 290]. . . the Government no longer has any legitimacy. It is a dictatorship without support. It is a New World Order Government controlled through the sexual deviancy and drug trafficking of New Zealand MPs . . . It is the wheeze Helen Clark was looking for . . . that, and the manufactured terrorism by government agent[s] . . . An early indicator of Helen Clark's contempt for the rule of law came with the retrospective amending of the Electoral Act to keep one of her Ministers in Parliament [the thief, the con man, the mental patient, the prostitute, or her lover] . . .

The damage Helen Clark has done to New Zealand will never ever be repaired . . . and make sure any Prime Minister obeys the law, and is not above the law . . .

[p. 291] My 1 x 0.8 metre placard on an extended painter's pole is a prime example as it appeared at the end of the 1 December 2007 Queen St march with over 5000 people protesting. I was photographed by the SIS and Internal Affairs and even posed for them. When they came up to interview me as we marched down Queen Street we openly shared we what we knew and didn't know, then I gave them my business card. They were aware of this book and were investigating the claims in it. I haven't heard from them since. Nor have I received copies of the photographs.

[p. 292] The police and SIS used to sit in the second floor of buildings with high-powered cameras, take photos of the crowd, then blow them up several metres high and get their protest agents to come in and name the activists and the ringleaders. No need in my case . . .

[p. 293] . . . because America's President George W. Bush has control over New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark through filmed fisting.

John Marshall QC, President of the NZ Law Society: ". . . and when you have the Electoral Commission itself saying, 'We can not interpret this law', you know you have problems. And if the Government had published their draft bill when they were scheduled to – in early 2007 – then there would have been plenty of time to get it right. But they kept the secret negotiations with their allies [Geoffrey 'Spank Bottom' Palmer] going for months, minimising the chance to have decent public consultation. So [Helen Clark's Labour] Government are the only people to blame for leaving the Bill so late" . . .

All the while Helen Clark was overseas talking to Hitler's sperm, Angela Merkel (which she cited as her year's highlight), and Speaker of the House Margaret Wilson was away on leave trying to patch up Jonathan Hunt's ongoing paedophilia. Jonathan Hunt is a former Labour MP and Speaker of the House. He is now New Zealand's High Commissioner to London and is an international organising paederast.

[p. 294] Weather manipulation is partly why the CIA agent Augie Auer was killed on 10 June 2007. Augie Auer ran Operation CLEAR SKIES during the Vietnam War for the Americans. They rigged clear skies over North Vietnam and heavy monsoon rains over South central Vietnam.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST SPIES AND SPYMASTERS

Swallows: From Russia With Love

Major James Holbrook turned away from the window of the small hotel room and gazed again at the beautiful girl stretched out on his bed. She made it hard for the American military attaché to concentrate on the task which had brought him from the embassy in Moscow to the small town of Rovno, a few miles east of the Soviet border with Poland. He was supposed to check rumours that Russia was preparing to invade its neighbouring satellite, plunged into turmoil in 1981 by Solidarity demands for economic and political reform. Then he had met the girl ...

He returned to her inviting arms. Holbrook, 41, had never met anyone so skilled at loving, so ready to pander to his every whim. Her embraces were a lonely man's only comfort in such a bleak outpost. But as they clung together again, the door was abruptly kicked down, camera flashbulbs exploded harshly, and a Russian colonel known to the American walked into the room. He gently pointed out that, as a married man with two children, Holbrook had seriously compromised himself. However, his Soviet friends could ensure that his wife and the embassy never heard of the incident if Holbrook cooperated by providing Moscow with a little information.

Holbrook was no naive amateur in the espionage game. He courageously confessed his indiscretion to his superiors and was recalled to Washington. An intelligence spokesman there said:

> 'We can only guess that the Russians got wind of the fact that Major Holbrook was being considered for a new job as military adviser to Vice President George Bush at the White House. He would have had access to the most highly secret material of President Reagan's administration.'

Holbrook had been hooked by a 'swallow', one of the hundreds of stunningly lovely Russian girls ruthlessly trained at specialist camps to cold-bloodedly seduce Westerners. And the fact that an agent well-versed in KGB espionage techniques could be tempted proved how effectively the beauties learn their lessons. But Moscow leaves nothing to chance in its efforts to recruit shamed victims of sex traps as spies. Targets are meticulously scrutinized for 'personality defects'. If a man has an eye for a pretty girl, the KGB provides one exactly suited to his tastes. And it has plenty of erotic experts to select from.

In his book Sexpionage, author David Lewis tells of an interview he had in Tunisia with Vera, a swallow who defected. She told him how the KGB recruited intelligent and attractive girls from schools and colleges with promises of salaries and privileges superior to those of most Russians in return for unspecified duties for the state. They were then taken to heavily guarded camps in remote areas for a de-humanizing course, designed to rid them of all inhibitions. First they watched films of every sexual activity, including perversions. Then they were ordered to strip in front of other women. Later men watched them undress, and caressed and criticised their bodies. Then coachloads of soldiers arrived, and the girls were ordered to make love to the complete strangers. Their performances were filmed for group discussion later. After several weeks, the girls lost all shame, and were ready to fall in with any suggestion for group or single sex.

As Vera told Lewis:

> 'We were told we should remember that we were soldiers fighting in > the front line of a bitter ideological battle. In war soldiers were often ordered to do things which, as individuals, they would find repulsive; but hard sacrifices were essential. Our bodies were weapons to be used in a cause. By the time our training was completed, we were hard, cynical, sophisticated young women capable of bedding any heterosexual man authority selected for us, and giving him the time of his life.'

Vera said she became sickened by her role as a sexy spy in 1963, after seducing a young Frenchman about to get married. He was told his bride-to-be would learn of the liaison unless his father, an influential chief in the mining industry in France, passed over commercial secrets. The boy killed himself by walking in front of a car in Moscow's Red Square, unable to cope with the shame of his seemingly 'innocent affair'. Vera then seduced a senior KGB official in return for official papers allowing her to visit East Berlin, where she defected.

The French, with their traditional partiality for amour, have been special targets for swallows. And it was the suicide of another sex trap victim, Moscow air attaché Colonel Louis Guibaud, that prompted the defection in London in 1963 of Yuri Krotkov, a film scripwriter used by the KGB to set up seductions, often using actresses as bait. What disillusioned Krotkov told MI5 stunned his interrogators and rocked the French establishment. For he revealed that France's ambassador to Russia had been compromised by at least two swallows.

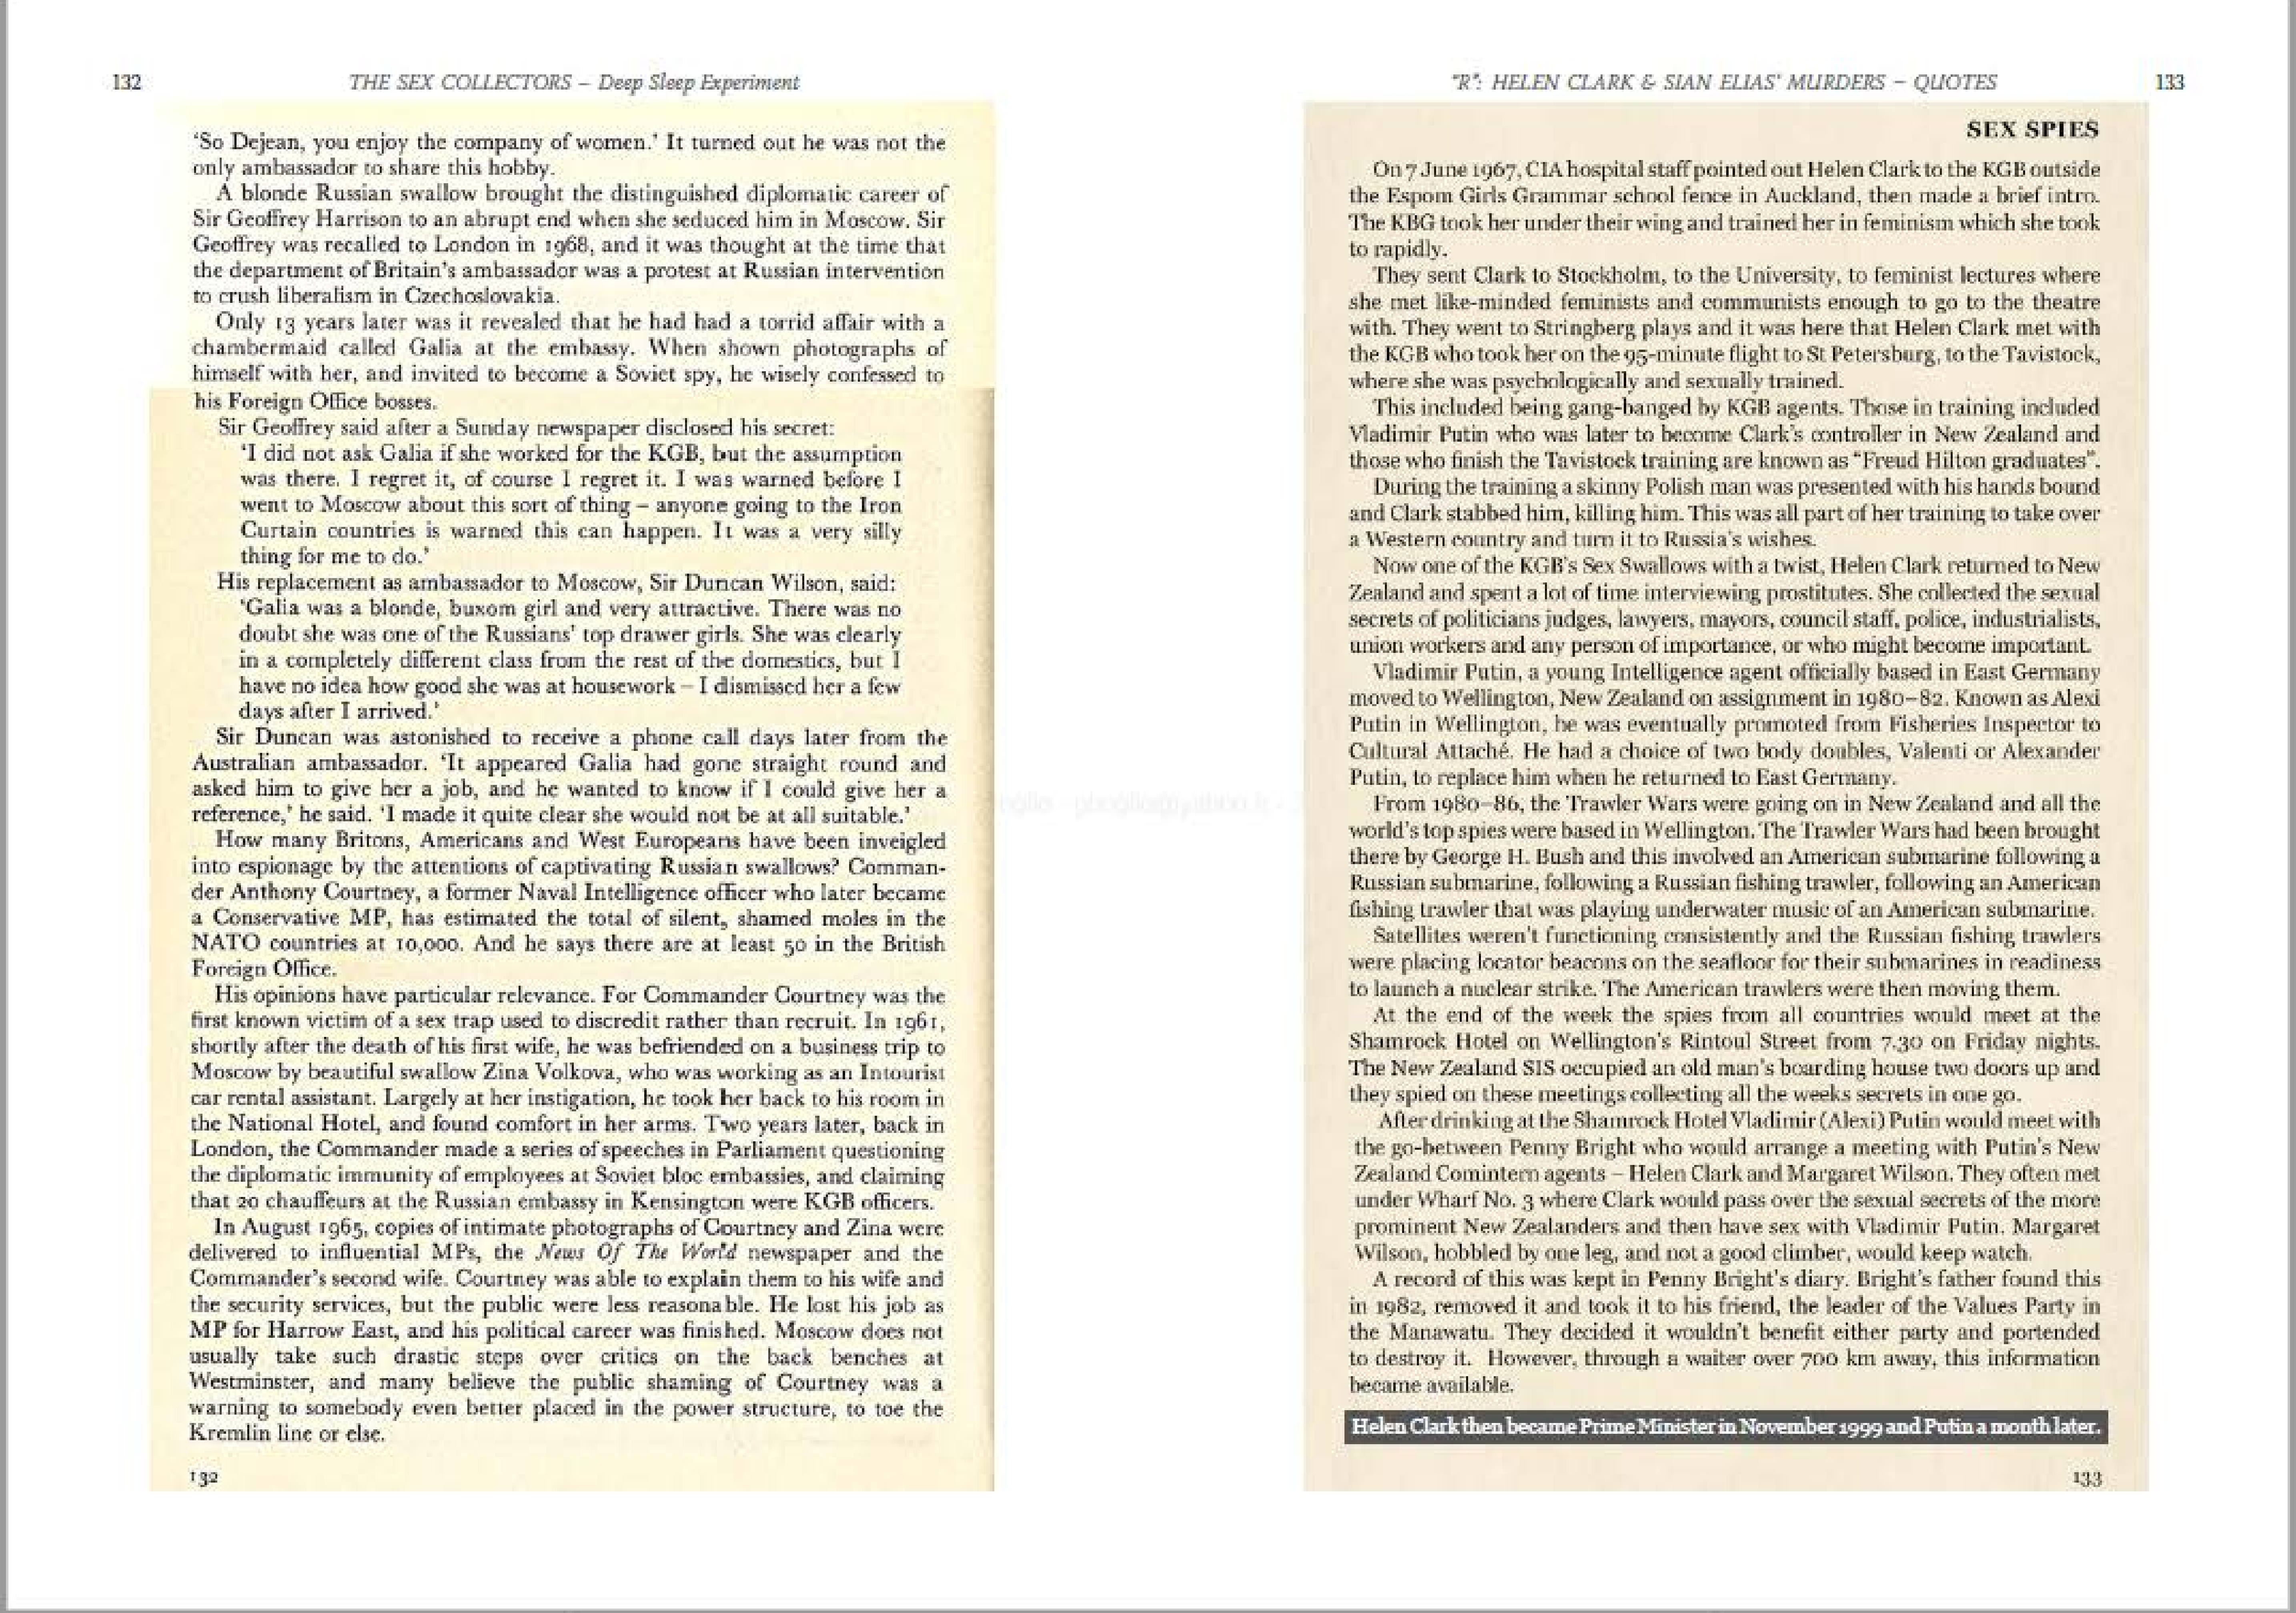
Maurice Dejean arrived in Moscow with his pretty young wife in 1955, and was quickly picked out by KGB sex trap mastermind Lieutenant General Oleg Gribanov as a likely target. His roving eye made him vulnerable. Krotkov, who had previously compromised Mexicans, Indians, Pakistanis, Americans and Britons, decided to win the ambassador's trust by charming his wife, Marie Claire. After engineering a meeting at a diplomatic reception, he cultivated the acquaintance by inviting her on river cruises, providing tickets to the ballet, and picking up the bill for lavish dinners. Eventually Dejean joined them on the social outings. Krotkov introduced him to a buxom, sophisticated interpreter called Lydia. Then, after arranging for Madame Dejean to enjoy a day away in the country, he invited the ambassador to an exhibition of paintings.

The lovely Lydia just happened to be admiring the pictures when they arrived. Within hours, she and Dejean were lovers.

Having photographed the event, the KGB already had a hold on the French envoy. But Lydia was known to be divorced. To spring their trap, the Russians needed another swallow. Lydia was sent out of Moscow 'to film on location' and Dejean was introduced to another actress, Larissa. Within days they too were bed partners. But in June 1958, the amorous ambassador received a nasty shock. Two burly men burst into Larissa's love nest. One played the part of an outraged husband. Dejean was left in no doubt that he would hear more about his adultery.

Worried, he consulted one of the friends Krotkov had introduced to him – Gribanov himself. He was reassuring, promising to try to pull strings. Within days, he was able to set the ambassador's mind at ease. The 'husband' had agreed not to press charges. But Dejean was now dangerously entangled. One day, the KGB would expect repayment for this 'favour'.

After Krotkov's defection, Dejean was recalled to Paris by his close friend, President De Gaulle, and grilled by counter-espionage men. It seemed the KGB had never called in the debt. De Gaulle dismissed him with the words,



'So Dejean, you enjoy the company of women.' It turned out he was not the only ambassador to share this hobby.

A blonde Russian swallow brought the distinguished diplomatic career of Sir Geoffrey Harrison to an abrupt end when she seduced him in Moscow. Sir Geoffrey was recalled to London in 1968, and it was thought at the time that the department of Britain's ambassador was a protest at Russian intervention to crush liberalism in Czechoslovakia.

Only 13 years later was it revealed that he had had a torrid affair with a chambermaid called Galia at the embassy. When shown photographs of himself with her, and invited to become a Soviet spy, he wisely confessed to his Foreign Office bosses.

Sir Geoffrey said after a Sunday newspaper disclosed his secret:

> 'I did not ask Galia if she worked for the KGB, but the assumption was there. I regret it, of course I regret it. I was warned before I went to Moscow about this sort of thing – anyone going to the Iron Curtain countries is warned this can happen. It was a very silly thing for me to do.'

His replacement as ambassador to Moscow, Sir Duncan Wilson, said:

> 'Galia was a blonde, buxom girl and very attractive. There was no doubt she was one of the Russians' top drawer girls. She was clearly in a completely different class from the rest of the domestics, but I have no idea how good she was at housework – I dismissed her a few days after I arrived.'

Sir Duncan was astonished to receive a phone call days later from the Australian ambassador. 'It appeared Galia had gone straight round and asked him to give her a job, and he wanted to know if I could give her a reference,' he said. 'I made it quite clear she would not be at all suitable.'

How many Britons, Americans and West Europeans have been inveigled into espionage by the attentions of captivating Russian swallows? Commander Anthony Courtney, a former Naval Intelligence officer who later became a Conservative MP, has estimated the total of silent, shamed moles in the NATO countries at 10,000. And he says there are at least 50 in the British Foreign Office.

His opinions have particular relevance. For Commander Courtney was the first known victim of a sex trap used to discredit rather than recruit. In 1961, shortly after the death of his first wife, he was befriended on a business trip to Moscow by beautiful swallow Zina Volkova, who was working as an Intourist car rental assistant. Largely at her instigation, he took her back to his room in the National Hotel, and found comfort in her arms. Two years later, back in London, the Commander made a series of speeches in Parliament questioning the diplomatic immunity of employees at Soviet bloc embassies, and claiming that 20 chauffeurs at the Russian embassy in Kensington were KGB officers.

In August 1965, copies of intimate photographs of Courtney and Zina were delivered to influential MPs, the News Of The World newspaper and the Commander's second wife. Courtney was able to explain them to his wife and the security services, but the public were less reasonable. He lost his job as MP for Harrow East, and his political career was finished. Moscow does not usually take such drastic steps over critics on the back benches at Westminster, and many believe the public shaming of Courtney was a warning to somebody even better placed in the power structure, to toe the Kremlin line or else.

SEX SPIES

On 7 June 1967, CIA hospital staff pointed out Helen Clark to the KGB outside the Espom Girls Grammar school fence in Auckland, then made a brief intro. The KBG took her under their wing and trained her in feminism which she took to rapidly.

They sent Clark to Stockholm, to the University, to feminist lectures where she met like-minded feminists and communists enough to go to the theatre with. They went to Stringberg plays and it was here that Helen Clark met with the KGB who took her on the 95-minute flight to St Petersburg, to the Tavistock, where she was psychologically and sexually trained.

This included being gang-banged by KGB agents. Those in training included Vladimir Putin who was later to become Clark's controller in New Zealand and those who finish the Tavistock training are known as "Freud Hilton graduates".

During the training a skinny Polish man was presented with his hands bound and Clark stabbed him, killing him. This was all part of her training to take over a Western country and turn it to Russia's wishes.

Now one of the KGB's Sex Swallows with a twist, Helen Clark returned to New Zealand and spent a lot of time interviewing prostitutes. She collected the sexual secrets of politicians judges, lawyers, mayors, council staff, police, industrialists, union workers and any person of importance, or who might become important.

Vladimir Putin, a young Intelligence agent officially based in East Germany moved to Wellington, New Zealand on assignment in 1980–82. Known as Alexi Putin in Wellington, he was eventually promoted from Fisheries Inspector to Cultural Attaché. He had a choice of two body doubles, Valenti or Alexander Putin, to replace him when he returned to East Germany.

From 1980–86, the Trawler Wars were going on in New Zealand and all the world's top spies were based in Wellington. The Trawler Wars had been brought there by George H. Bush and this involved an American submarine following a Russian submarine, following a Russian fishing trawler, following an American fishing trawler that was playing underwater music of an American submarine.

Satellites weren't functioning consistently and the Russian fishing trawlers were placing locator beacons on the seafloor for their submarines in readiness to launch a nuclear strike. The American trawlers were then moving them.

At the end of the week the spies from all countries would meet at the Shamrock Hotel on Wellington's Rintoul Street from 7.30 on Friday nights. The New Zealand SIS occupied an old man's boarding house two doors up and they spied on these meetings collecting all the weeks secrets in one go.

After drinking at the Shamrock Hotel Vladimir (Alexi) Putin would meet with the go-between Penny Bright who would arrange a meeting with Putin's New Zealand Comintern agents – Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson. They often met under Wharf No. 3 where Clark would pass over the sexual secrets of the more prominent New Zealanders and then have sex with Vladimir Putin. Margaret Wilson, hobbled by one leg, and not a good climber, would keep watch.

A record of this was kept in Penny Bright's diary. Bright's father found this in 1982, removed it and took it to his friend, the leader of the Values Party in the Manawatu. They decided it wouldn't benefit either party and portended to destroy it. However, through a waiter over 700 km away, this information became available.

Helen Clark then became Prime Minister in November 1999 and Putin a month later.

Fishing for submarines
The East Coast fisherman Tom Sinel (then 60ish) reckoned he lost a set of trawler gear in the early to mid-1980s because he hooked a submarine off the 70 foot steel trawler Kaite ('small feed') while fishing off the East Coast. The door, sweeps and net were all gone.

Fisherman: "Sinel was ex-Navy and lost a lot of gear because he didnt' know what the fuck he was doing. He made it believeable for a small catch and lost gear. He used to sell hot fish to helicopters flying into Hicks Bay. This was before the quota system. It was getting to the stage when his employment with Watties was about to be terminated."

James Bond III: "Hicks Bay is a very deep-water bay and you can drop a line off the shore and catch deep-water groper. America did a survey of Hicks Bay and it was to be the South Pacific base for the Polaris nuclear submarines. They even dug underwater tunnels for the subs.
"At that time, early to mid-80s, when Tom Sinel lost his fishing gear, the East Coast was lousy with submarines".

Author: "So there you go Tom, you've been vindicated on that one."

Key to Murder Attempts

Contract Killing and Failed Contracts in recent New Zealand

Judicial Promotion Corruption

In 1989 Sian Elias stole NZ$0.5 billion (NZ$500 million or thereabouts) off her husband Hugh Fletcher. The overcharged amount was due to investors in China. China threatened to declare war on New Zealand. The Mossad intervened and brokered deal. China got to invade New Zealand via immigration from 1995 (the 'Asian Invasion'); Sian Elias got to keep the money and became the leading Sayanim Mossad agent in New Zealand; and the Mossad now does any murders Sian Elias wants, or the Mossad wants. Sian Elias was then promoted to Chief Justice and it is now her role to cover these murders up.

Sian Elias also failed to reveal information during the inquiry into her father's sex with patients in his doctor's surgery, and his subsequent form-signing for their government grants.

During a Disputes Tribunal hearing in January 1994, I accused the trial Head of Disputes Tribunal, Grant Aislabie, of being drug user. Grant was born New Zealand's hairiest baby and his mother contemplated smothering him with a pillow. He was also my family's lawyer, my father's drinking partner, he would confide in my mother (who was raised in Rangiora near Christchurch – retired British spy country), he had a series of mental breakdowns, and one of my closest relatives was one of his drug dealers . . . but Aislablie was in fear as he was hiding a much bigger secret.

Sometimes the troubled Grant Aislabie would come around to our home at 12 Norton Road in Tauranga to confide in my mother – his confidant – and we siblings were all sent away. This particular instance was around 1986, a time when, at least during the summer, Aislabie was a casual user of ecstacy and cocaine, as supplied by my MI-6 drug dealing close relative. The three adult children were sent off the property, but I ate worms at the bottom of the garden and Aislabie confided in making sexual advances towards his daughter, Carolyne, then about seven years old. I remember my mother saying: "Hush, don't tell anyone" and there being a long silence, or very diminished voices. So much for the family lawyer – just another Roman Catholic (paedophile) Freemason (Incestuous Child sex abuser).

From 1994–2002 there was a custody case over my daughter. Her mother worked for Intourist (1986–90) in Hungary during Cold War. Intourist bosses were KGB informants – part of the Comintern information gathering collective.

The Counsel for the Child is essentially another lawyer for the mother, and this was to be Paul Geoghegan – Grant Aislabie's 'career twin'. Both are Roman Catholics and Freemasons (allowed from 20 January 1980) and they support each other in attacking each other's enemies and promoting each other up the paedophile scales known as the Judiciary. This model has now spread to become 'Common Purpose'.

New Zealand had not shaken the paedophile shackles since the worst of the British and French invaded under the guise of religion and trade from the 1840s. Bishop Pompallier, Reverend William Yate and Colonel Wakefield are cases in point – they still have houses, terraces and roads named after them.

My daughter's mother, who had been my secretary in Moscow, was instructed to go and hide in Hamilton and use Paul Geoghegan to delay access and obstruct custody. Once Geoghegan had done this for four years, and tallied up the second highest Legal Aid fee in the country, and as soon as I won custody, Paul Geoghegan nominated himself as a judge and is now destroying families in Rotorua and Taupo where both fathers and mothers do everything they can to have their cases heard elsewhere.

Paul Geoghegan's self-nomination was accepted by the Freud Hilton graduate and KGB agent, Margaret Wilson – Helen Clark's Comintern partner (Communist International). Both were under the control of Vladimir Putin and they used to meet and have sex with him under Wharf No. 3 in Wellington between 1980 and 1982 during the Trawler Wars.

The go-between was Penny Bright and she left a diary record which her father stole off her in 1982 and took it up to his best friend in the Manuwatu – the president of the Social Credit Party for Manawatu, 200 km north of Wellington.

From 1998 to 2000, I was removed from my own house and extra section, then removed from my next house and extra section, my driver licence was taken off me, and my Architecture practise was blacklisted, I was successively boiler-plated, and then hobbled until it was neigh impossible to move forward. This is called 'blacklisting', hobbling' and/or 'boiler-plating'.

I was then removed from my Parnell rental, then from my next rental in Remuera – one of the poshest suburbs in Auckland. The Police use a battering ram on door and the whole frame came off. I was sitting inside videoing it. Sitting next to me was one of my lawyers. Visitors were coming up and down the ladder through the rear window. It had a slightly festive feel inside, but not outside.

I heard the police coms read out a list of about twenty charges as though they were convictions. They finished with: "He's a real bad bastard". When I requested my criminal record from the Wanganui Computer on 15 August 2003, the official letter came back on 28 August 2003 with " . . . criminal history . . . there is no information held . . . in respect of . . . Joseph Gregory Hallett . . . September 1961." (See Attachment "E", 'District Court Hearing I, Fines and Appeal')

The police manufacture crime in order to remove fathers from families so the fatherless children then get into crime – 90 % of all crime is committed by fatherless children. The police are a crime creation movement. They create over 80 % of all crime, and only solve 40 %, and this includes traffic and drugs. The police do not solve murders in New Zealand as they're normally involved, and 40 % of the people in jail are there for crimes they did not commit.

The police bought two dog wagons to the Remuera eviction and the whole stand off lasted several hours until the police lost patience and smashed the door in with two officers behind a battering ram. I was then escorted out – evicted – and an hour later the acting landlord, Pat Taylor, gave me a rent refund. His wife, Mary Taylor, had been hitting on me and refused to do the maintenance work – like supply hot water and have closing windows. Their marriage is not quite kosher and Pat Taylor had a habit of standing outside his Ray White Reality on Manukau Road and smoking cigarettes wherever the schoolgirls were walking past. His previous business was a mail order business and he was easily manipulated by the police – a skinny runt of a man with a fat wife compromised into police stitch-ups.

As soon as I was evicted, the real landlords realised I was right and closed the apartment down for six weeks while the maintenance I had been requesting for six months took place. This included putting a knew gas hotwater cylinder on the outside of the building. Someone else then moved in.

My Architecture career had been under attack since at least 1998. One of the methods used in blacklisting/ hobbling/ boiler-plating is to keep their target moving, so they can't set up a dependable shop, or put down roots.

From 1999, all of my relationships were terminated by counter-intelligence. Whenever I had a nice blonde thing in the car, police would either give me a ticket or take my driver licence off me. As a result, from 1998, when I first purchased a house, my Architecture practice was attacked, and from 1999 my income was reduced by 85% to 15%. I was then targetted for hobbling and my driver licence was removed – twice. Both times I was sober and stationary.

10/90 Wooton Road in Remuera, the scene of another police stitch-up and a new gas hotwater cylinder above the entrance.

In November 1999, I formed Fathering New Zealand Incorporated and began researching Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments – a 326 page sociology book which found the New Zealand Judiciary to be a crime creation and paedophile movement. Since then it has been confirmed that the Chief Justice Sian Elias is married to a bisexual child sex abuser, and Sian Elias is continually having sex with her chauffeurs in the back seat. This includes outside official functions where she sits on top and sings.

In May 2000 Fathering New Zealand Inc. gained charity status. This lasted until 1 July 2008. Initially there was funding, but as Prime Minister Helen Clark is, herself, married to the former 'President of the Auckland University Gay Society' in the 1970s who is a known homosexual child sex abuser, all charity funding was removed from "helping fathers access there kids and kids access their Dads" . . . towards any organisation that supported paedophilia.

This was any charity organisation that worked with mothers, fatherless children, and events without fathers present. Funding gave preference to drag queens. This was Prime Minister Helen Clark giving her husband free and further access to children, and his paedophile buddies further access to fatherless children.

The primary requirement of a paedophile is that the biological father is removed.

The destruction of the family is part of this. Paedophile Members of Parliament are also part of this. The paedophiles in Parliament and the Judiciary are active motivators towards the destruction fo the family, which is now an epidemic, so much so that it is now the "normal face of society".

Opinionated radio show hosts and former MP's like Pam 'Squawkery' Corkery have their own views of politicians. Her book Pam's Political Confessions (p. 9, 1999) and Wikipedia entry shows:

> "Politicians are, by and large, far more self-deluding, devious, bloated, insecure, egocentric wankers than I had feared."

Apart from his child sex abuse, which resulted in his house arrest in February 2004, the First Laddy Peter Davis imported many of his homosexual lovers. They would arrive at the Auckland International Airport and Peter Davis would demand a taxi with tinted windows which would drive him from 4 Cromwell Street in Mt Eden, to the International Airport and back.

Such a taxi van was owned and operated by John Kirwin, uncle of All Black John Kirwin, who took drugs, sprinted faster than any human should, then became the poster boy for depression.

Undercover: "I mentioned to the All Blacks that John Kirwin was hitting on barmen and they said, 'We're onto it'. The next thing I noticed was John Kirwin married to this Italian sheila with a couple of kids. That they intially met in Italy was fabricated."

Uncle John Kirwin (who watched a lot of porn) would regulary drive Peter Davis to pick up another homosexual at the Auckland International Airport and there was always kissing and fiddling going on in the backseat between the First Laddy Peter Davis and his next homosexual international rent boy. In December 2006 John Kirwin went missing. His Polynesian de facto wife of many years still doesn't know where he is.

Helen's homosexual child sex abusing husband, Peter Davis, is paid to be her husband, on call whenever the media requires him to cover up Helen's lesbianism. She actually hates having him around, snarls at him and turns her back to him whenever she can. He's just brought out on election nights and whenever the rumours re-surface.

Within months of Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments being published on 12 May 2002, funding dried up, although charity status remained until 2008.The Arts funding was going to Gareth Farr (34), a cross-dressing orchestra conductor and First Laddy Peter Davis' Christchurch live-in landlord and lover. He got a $50,000 grant grant from Creative New Zealand and celebrated it by having two $12,000 full length backless evening gowns made by a queer Parnell dress designer, then paraded them during a dinner at Helen Clark's house. As the drag queen 'Lilith Lacroix' he released the CD 'Drumdrag'. Meanwhile, Helen Clark was getting fisted by Marlyn and Heather, and Annemarie and Judith, etc etc.

Helen Clark's Deconstruction and the 2 April 2002 Murder Attempt

In January 2002, I went on Radio 1ZB and said that 'deconstructing' the subconscious was part of the Cold War and 'reconstructing' the subconscious was one of the most powerful tools.

Deconstructing the subconscious made one think like the state.
Reconstructing the subconscious allowed one to reach their own potential.

In February 2002, the deconstructed KGB agent Helen Clark then employed six (6) KGB agents into the Security Intelligence Service (SIS). I was told of this in May 2002. The KGB were part of an attack against me, placed in late March 2002, and enacted in early April 2002.

On 25 March 2002, I went on the same Radio 1ZB saying: "Helen Clark is a KGB agent and is deconstructed".

The radio host/Austraila Security Intelligence Organisation (ASIO) Captain Leighton Smith (Casio/'Oasis') asked me: "Have there been any attempts on your life?"

I replied, "No", and he inferred that there could be.

I didn't drive my car for a week as I was still researching Are You My Father? and was walking to the grocery store for supplies. Then on 2 April 2002, I went down to the basement carpark and noticed that the pedestrian door had been tampered with. The door jamb was loose, the bottom plate was loose, and the lock wasn't working. I got into my 1990 300E Mercedes and drove it for the first time in week.

While travelling along the motorway at 80 km/h I notice the front left wheel wobbling like it was going to fall off, so, after 4 km, I pulled off at the nearest exit, Gillies Ave, and cruised down to my mechanic – Austrian Motors. The Austrian Mercedes/BMW mechanic, Manfred, hoisted my car up, took the front left wheel off, and moved the wheel bearing locknut with his hand.

Manfred then turned to me white-faced and said: "I've been working on Mercedes for thirty years and I have never seen a wheel bearing locknut that I could turn with my hand. It has a reverse thread which means it tightens as you drive."

As a new immigrant, Manfred then told me how he loaned $100,000 to his new Kiwi girlfriend. She drugged him and he was out for three days. The last thing he remembered was a policeman – her real boyfriend – carrying him out of his house. With the help of her police officer boyfriend she then got a Protection Order against Manfred and kept the $100,000, splitting it with her real boyfriend – the police officer and fellow conman. The stitch-up was all stitched up and all judges refused to do anything about it.

They obviously considered it fair cop.

Protection Orders were brought in by the KGB agent Margaret Wilson in 1996 as part of Feminism.

Feminism is Gender Communism – socialism for mothers and a police state for fathers and it was an act of war during the Cold War, exported out of Russia, having been designed by the Jews at least by the mid-1960s.

When I was interviewing the KGB in Moscow on 9 December 1989, they mentioned this as: "Sex Communism . . . we have some of your Australasian women training here."

Both Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson were trained in Russia in Feminism/Gender Communism, and both are graduates of the St Petersburg Tavistock. In both cases, sex training was involved. Helen Clark mentioned Germain Greer as her mentor, and Germain Greer was well known for walking into a bar and having sex with anyone – usually the dumbest, ugliest, hairest man she can find. Truck drivers in Australia used to complain about her.

Helen Clark did the same in St Petersburg and was used as a KGB gang-bang prostitute. She went to feminist lectures in Stockholm, then met the KGB at Stringberg plays, then flew for 95-minute to St Petersburg, and was then taken to the Tavistock Mind Control Institute for deconstruction.

By July 2002 I had developed some Intelligence contacts in New Zealand and they confirmed that Helen Clark had employed six KGB agents into the SIS and that it was an SIS and police hit on me. Both Manfred-the-mechanic and Intelligence explained that it was possible to undo the wheel bearing locknut without taking the wheel off, but you had to take the wheel off to tighten it.

This was the first listed murder attempt: 25 March–2 April 2002. It was difficult to report to the police as the police were involved in the hit. As I've said before, murders in New Zealand go unsolved because the police are usually involved.

On 12 May 2002, Mothers Day, I publish 'Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments'.

Having mentioned the deconstructon of the subconscious on radio, I then got a phone call saying there was a man from overseas who wanted to meet with me. So I drove down to the central North Island and met with him. He turned out to be the President of the Scientists Club in St Petersburg. We got to talking about reconstructing the subconscious and he said: "Why do you open your mouth when you don't know what you're talking about?"

European scientists can be quite abrupt and it's good to let it go, because their information is unique, as is their angle on many things. He then pulled out the most recent hand-held KGB equipment for 'deconstructing' the subconscious, which he had converted to 'reconstructing' the subconscious, now contained in what appeared to be an old doctor's bag.

Adolf came and stayed for a month in Parnell at 3/9-11 Fox Street, Parnell. He briefed me on the Cold War secrets, and we spoke a lot about gravity, anti-gravity, antimatter (at Krasnoyarsk, behind the town of Krasnoyarski) and flying the planet – "when you've worked that out, you've cracked gravity".

Anyway, after a months briefing and sufficiently impressed, he asked me if I would like to have a subconscious reconstruction . . . so on 20 July 2002, I was trained as the Prime Minister and Governor-General. Training was for 10 hours between 8 am and 6 pm.

The next day I met a former aide to a Prime Minister, and two weeks later I met the Spymaster, as that's how the reconstructing subconscious works. It draws people and events towards you.

We told stories and it was at least four years before they started to repeat. The Spymaster and I published four books together and the former Aide to Prime Ministers also contributed.

The 23 August 2002 Murder Attempt

In August 2002, I flew to the Cook Islands for a week with my blonde millionaire girlfriend. While there, I gave a speech at the Rotary on the 21st. (See Attachment "K", 'Rotary Club thank you') I mentioned that China was taking over the Cooks. Intelligence were present from USA, Australia, China and New Zealand. During the speech I stated that Helen Clark is a KGB agent. After the speech, Australian Naval Intelligence warned me that there could be an attempt on my life. He spent a bit of time drinking fast next to me before he told me this.

The Cook Islands are on the other side of the dateline from New Zealand, so we flew back on the redeye, leaving about five hours after my two-hour speech had finished. We arrived in New Zealand at 7 am on Friday 23 August 2002, now 12 hours after then end of my speech.

My Mercedes was parked undercover, but with paedestrian access. When I got in the car (or "get on the car", as the Cooks would say), the back of the steering wheel was sticky at 10 and 2 o'clock. It had been poisoned with epecac. This doesn't affect you until it reaches your mouth, as in when you eat, or rub your lips.

I was living in Judges Bay, where all the Judges live (essentially a small burb of Parnell) with my blonde millionaire girlfriend, which really pissed off the 'can't get a straight lay' authorities. Her sister had been taking care of the place and left us with a bowl of fresh fruit. At 8 am I picked up an apple and took a bite – the epecac transfering to my lips and stomach.

For the next eight (8) hours I was vomitting everything, shitting everything, I had hot and cold fevers like never before, I went unconscious several times, and I actually thought I was going to die. My spinal juices were doing strange things, like closing down. The only thing that saved me, I think, was the fevers I had as a kid. My body was used to extracting poisons and I had had a reasonably rough and tumble childhood.

I burnt off the fever, and by 7.45 pm I was just well enough to drive to pick up my 10-year-old from the Sky City Bus Station about 4 km away, ETA was 8 pm or soon after.

I hadn't eaten all day and the quickest feed was my semi-regular subway at the Caltex petrol station on Stanley Street, so I bought a deli tuna sandwich, took one bite and drove on. This was already a PM Helen Clark/ KGB/ SIS/ Police/ Mossad hit, so there were bound to be three snags in case the first and second failed.

The contract hitman Kimball Johnson used to complain to the police that they gave him so much killing work that he couldn't keep up. On at least one occasion KJ said to them: "Why don't you do your own dirty work?"

Ironically two of my Intelligence contacts knew him, and one got his deathbed confession, which included his doing hits for the police and government.

Anyway, a few minutes before 8 pm I drove onto Stanley Street and turned left into Beach Road, as is normal. There had been roadworks there since I had been overseas and there was a large round sign citing "no left turn", but this had been rolled over a 1.0 metre high orange/white interlocking barrier so it couldn't be seen, and was not visible from the petrol station exit I took.

This was a ploy to get me a second time, if the poisons didn't work, and it was Sunday before I noticed the sign had been reinstated.

No left turns are as rare as hen's teeth in New Zealand, especially when the roads are two-way. In America, they are the equivalent of a no right turn on streets where traffic flows both ways. In this case, there was no obstruction to turning left, other than the deposed sign, and turning left didn't even require a traffic light.

So I turned left onto Beach Road heading towards the Sky City Bus Terminal to pick up my daughter. The police had been hiding at the bottom of Constitution Hill in a position from where they could accost me from any direction. The driver was the twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matewhinau Cassin – a police contract hitman – part Maori as many of them are.

Even the Maoris complain about the michling-Maori Police.

I was driving slowly, around 35 km/hr when a police car pulled me over. Constable Suzanne Mead of the Auckland City 'Strategic Traffic Unit' got out of the car and asked for my particulars, name and address.

Operation Boiler-plate-greg-hallett had already removed my driver licence from the ashtray of my car (it was returned by Sunday by 3.45 pm) so I gave Mead my credit card and address. She got this information twice over eight (8) minutes. My daughter then rang my mobile. Constable Suzanne Mead had only been two months in the force and left soon after. She overheard the phone call and I asked her to follow me and gave her the destination – Sky City Bus Terminal. She retained the credit card and agreed to follow.

Under Gender Communism, a mother would have been escorted by the police, but fathers get attacked. They are pressured by the authorities to let their children down. This is called boiler-plating. So on the way, I was attacked again. This time by the driver of the Strategic Traffic Unit vehicle – Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, an unreformed criminal and police hitman, now up on charges of attempted murder.

Constable Cassin used a classic entrapment procedure. I was allowed to go and they did not follow me initially. I travelled at 35 km/hr in the outside righthand lane. After I was ahead by 500 metres Cassin slowly crawled out in the inside lefthand lane. I went through the first green light and waited at the second light – red.

Cassin, in the left lane, then turned on his grill lights for the car in front of him in the inside lefthand lane. The light turned green and I carried on behind other traffic.

At the next red light, Cassin turned on his roof lights and siren, then quickly changed lanes so he was now targetting me. He then jumped out of his car with his batten, ran up to my Mercedes, slammed his hands down on the boot, ran up to the driver's window and started smashing it with his truncheon. On the third strike the batten bounced out of his hands and onto the other side of the street. Twice-convicted for violent assault, Constable Cassin now considered this to be a serious situation as he was on the attack but was now unarmed. Phase two of the attack had failed.

Cassin is not very bright, but he is vicious when he is instructed that he is allowed to be vicious by his superiors.

I didn't get out of the car, the lights turned green and I carried on to pick up my daughter, still under the influence of phase one – the poisoning.

Three days later, on the Monday, I went to a specialist in Kingslan and she confirmed that my body was reacting like it had been starved of food and only fed coffee for three days.

Constable criminal-Cassin then ran back to his Strategic Traffic Unit car and radioed for all help. I drove off at the green light and got within 30 metres of the Bus Station on Hobson Street where I was surrounded by three police cars and three unmarked police cars. Cassin hauled me out of the car, threw me on Hobson Street, handcuffed me, drove me past my waiting daughter, took me to the police station, arrested me, 20 minutes later, unarrested me, then let me go.

My daughter was delivered to the station after waiting an extra twenty minutes in the Sky City Bus Station, alone, in the winter cold, at night – aged 10. When the police did finally pick her up, they tried to recruit her.

I was charged and convicted of everything they could think of – $1,490.00 in fines with a six month loss of licence, four house moves, relationship ended, then another ended. This was boiler-plating at its max. This was hobbling in progress.

Within 24 hours of exposing Helen Clark as a KGB agent in an international speech, I had been poisoned to near death, fined, lost my licence, removed from my work environment, from my social environment, had two successive relationships destroyed . . . and all for what – covering up that the Prime Minister is a KGB agent and Cold War criminal. That's quite well known now.

Why, because the truth of that is even worse. Helen Clark is a former KGB gang-bang prostitute, who had an illegal voluntary radical hysterectomy as part of the service, and tried to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand with the KGB's Putin under the alias 'Alexia' Putin.

Sir Peter Elworthy and Michael King Hits

But even more importantly, the way Helen Clark, the SIS and the Police tried to murder me in August 2002 was the same way they murdered historian Michael King 19 months later in March 2004 – minus the car bomb. So I recognised the hit and the methods, and appreciate that the same team were involved – that is, Sian Elias' Mossad hit squad with add ons.

Sir Peter Elworthy was murdered six weeks prior to Michael King by digitalis (Foxglove extract) in his midnight snack. I was particularly alarmed because I was somewhat related to both of them. Sir Peter Elworthy was my girlfriend's uncle and Michael King was her stepmother's ex-husband, and all had some form of relationship with Bert Potter of Centrepoint 'sex commune' fame.

Bert was, in many ways, Helen Clark's controller, at least one of them. To put it plainly, while Helen Clark was Prime Minister, she was being run by Bert Potter. Indeed, she achieved everything he wanted, just falling short of legalising paedophilia – confirming Bert Potter's status as an Internal Affairs agent – and Helen Clark's need to kill those who knew of her sexual history – 'prostitute turned lesbian in a cover marriage to a child sex abuser' et cetera.

Even worse, we got forewarning of the Michael King hit by phone call on 3 February 2004, followed up by a meeting on 4 February 2004 from high ranking police in Wellington who feared: "Helen Clark is going to do a Night of the Long Knives". They flew up to Auckland to tell us a second time in person.

After an eight (8) year battle, I had won equal shared joint custody of my daughter on 16 August 2002 and this was reason for the Feminists to attack. Only two (2) fathers get custody each year in each Family Court. One is a good father (me, Architect/Chairman of a charity, Author) and the other is a bad father to keep the statistics of solo fathers looking bad.

This bad second father custody usually goes to a down-and-out drug dealer, or incestuous paedophile, who then supplies their child to the police for drugged-out sex.

Kahui Twins Murder

Macsyna King's father is a case in point. Her father had sold her to the police for sex from aged 11. Macsyna King then went on to murder her twin three-month-old sons, Chris and Cru Kahui. The police then charged her partner, Chris Kahui, and when no evidence turned up, and he was found not guilty, the first thing the police did was issue a statement saying: "We will not be charging the mother".

When the twins were initially dropped off to hospital, the mother, Macsyna King, shot through to Manurewa's Bellbird Arms Tavern for a drink and laugh with friends.

The whole double infanticide case was stitched up and murder-acussed Chris Kahui got the Secretary of Auckland Feminist Lawyers, Marie Dyrberg, as his lawyer. She's up there with Elizabeth Dawe in the droll stakes and covers for police paedophilia . . . as feminists do.

It's part of the Feminist-Paedophile bargain to remove fathers from families.

This may seem a little harsh, but it is the truth of the matter. All high-ranking police are either Catholics or Freemasons – either paedophiles or incestuous child sex abusers. The Police spokesman, Greg O'Connor, is a former drug undercover and, more currently, a heroin trafficker (2005), and the police rarely charge a paedophile. More often, they get in on the action, like with Macsyna King.

Guillaume Brollo - gbrollo@yahoo

The Paedophile-Police are then covered for by the Attorney-General, and when this gets hot, like at Banks Road in Christchurch, the Attorney-General and Prime Minister swop positions, as did Sir Geoffrey Palmer and David Lange – the first a masochist and the second into transvestites – despectively with Christine Rankin, Tasha and Alisha.

The embedded New Zealand Paedophile Movement

Going back to the custody battle, the lawyer for the mother was Elizabeth Dawe, the Counsel for the Child was Paul Geoghegan, and the case was heard in Hamilton.

Elizabeth Dawe is a lesbian, Paul Geoghegan is a Catholic Freemason and Hamilton is the paedophile capital of New Zealand from where Protection Orders emerged to make paedophilia easier on the paedophile . . . and stopped the father interferring.

Hamilton has been ruled by Catholic judges since they were called 'magistrates' back in the early 1970s. Hamilton also has the highest concentration of paedophiles anywhere in New Zealand. Margaret Wilson's 'Protection Orders' (which remove the protective biological father from families) was trialed, then started in Hamilton in 1996. I was one of the first test cases.

All the others involved in the case were either paedophiles, paedophile minders, or paedophile enablers. They were also lesbians, Roman Catholics and Freemasons.

On 10 April 2008, Elizabeth Dawe presented in the Hamilton Family Court that: "Paul Geoghegan likes dining out on seven year old girls". She should know. The lesbian Family Court lawyer, Elizabeth Dawe, is a major supplier of children to paedophiles in New Zealand's paedophile capital – Hamilton. This is supported by judges, lawyers, the courts, the police, and social services. In fact, the more you provide children to paedophile predation, the more you are promoted in the Court, police and social service system.

Rather than be promoted to a judge, the really really droll lesbian Elizabeth Dawe recommends paedophile accomplice lawyers become judges . . . but in Paul Geoghegans' case, he nominated himself as a judge. Elizabeth Dawe did not stop him.

The response from all Hamilton lawyers was: "I didn't vote for him."

Other lawyers used to walk up to Paul Geoghegan in the Court foyer and say:

"Fucked up anyone's life today Paul?"

Anyway, I digress, but not much. This is background to how far removed the police and judiciary are from justice . . . It is more like 'Just-Us' and Just-us is a paedophile and crime creation movement where anyone but them is the victim.

Helen Clark gets Compromised – the Dipolomatic Corp Speaks Out

There weren't any assassination attempts in 2003, but I was being heavily boiler-plated. Helen Clark, on the other hand, was stitched up by the United States President George W. Bush, a.k.a. Pirate Captain Temporary.

On 6 January 2003, I got the call off the Intelligence tree – this one, the Diplomatic Corp. I get these phone calls because I'm a leaf on a twig on the branch of someone's tree that's had multiple roots, and I can tell them stories they haven't heard of, that, upon investigation, turn out to be true.

Anyway, here's the story that stopped another assassination attempt in 2003.

In 2002 Prime Minister Helen Clark was publicly against the American war in Afghanistan. On 19 December 2002 she left for her month-long overseas holiday and when she returned on 19 January 2003 she said she had been staying at her husband's parents place in England. That may have been the case for some of the time, but George W. Bush phoned her and invited her to the White House in Washington D.C.

Helen Clark didn't turn up with her husband, but with her lesbian lover, Heather Simpson. The two dykes are known in Wellington as H1 and H2.

George W. Bush had been listening to the rumours from down under, from such CIA informants as John Banks . . . the paedophile who beat his first wife in 1972 at Banks Corner in Whangarei, then married another woman who does not have sex with men, then adopted three children from Russia, had an affair with a 13-year-old boy at Bethells Beach in 1996, then became the Mayor of Auckland for a second time in 2007 . . . and a Freemason.

So, the story as follows, went around the world amongst the Diplomatic Corp so fast, everyone was dining out on it for three days and paying for meals just so they could tell the story. Even the Diplomats in China were dining out on it and they don't even understand the English they speak.

Helen Clark (Helen) arrived at the White House and George W. Bush (George) asked Helen, "Would you like to stay at Lincoln Cottage?" She said, "Yes". When they arrived at Lincoln Cottage, George phoned Helen again and asked, "Would you like a typist?" Helen said, "Yes", and a bisexual female CIA honey-trap typist turned up. Helen and the CIA typist got it on and soon moved into Helen's favourite position – fisting. The CIA typists used lubricant with toxins in it and Helen found she could no longer control her urination.

She was pissing herself uncontrollably the next morning when George phoned and invited her up to the Oval Office. Here, standing or sitting, Helen was leaking, although this time it wasn't other's sexual secrets – it was her own.

George, not being a chimpanzee of great tact, showed Helen the photos of last night's sexcapades and Helen agreed to back the United States in the Afghan War and the Iraq war, just two months away. Since then, New Zealand's Prime Minister Helen Clark has been wearing incontinence nappies and hasn't said a thing against the Afghan War or the Iraq War . . . nothing, nadda, nulla, zip.

This is called 'a totally compromised Prime Minister' – a marionette, a puppet, a double agent Prime Minister who works for the destruction of their country, for the benefit of any country that has the photos of Helen Clark getting fisted, or supplying her incontinence nappies – so that's America, Israel, Russia and China.

The only exception would be those countries whose Diplomatic Corp did not get this story, which is just about no one.

> Robert M. Stockmann, 13 October 2008, the Netherlands: "The role of Sarkozy, Merkel, Blair, Brown and Helen Clark of New Zealand is that of Trojan Prime Ministers who have been carefully placed in position to manoeuvre their countries into the ditches."

Whenever you see Helen Clark campaigning on TV, she is pissing herself.

Whenever you see Helen Clark being interviewed on TV, she is pissing herself.

Anyway, enough of a laugh on the truth of the matter. Back to the story of police harrassment.

23 August 2002 Hit results in Loss of Licence on 13 August 2003

The twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matewhinau Cassin delayed my Driver Licence hearing until the 13 August 2003. While I was at a lunch break during this hearing a Maori man of about 40 years came up to me and said:

> "Constable Cassin hauled me off K' Rd one night about 9 o'clock for no reason, handcuffed me, took me down to the Auckland Central Police Station, took me to the basement cell, lifted up my arms so I was bent over, forward, then lifted up my left leg up and dropped me face down on the floor. He kept doing this until my jaw dislocated. He's a total arsehole. He's one of those fascist Maoris. He's one of those Maoris that Maoris don't like."

I found this Maori gentleman completely genuine and believeable. From this one other witness to Cassin's violence, I believe there are many, many more, and I believe Constable Cassin delayed the hearing for a year to give more people more time to forget his violence, or to lose their records of it, and for Cassin's superiors to cover up his gratuitous violence and remove it from any records.[1]

Judge J P Gittos presided and I represented myself. The lawyers present said I would have won had it not been for Judge Gittos, a.k.a. "the Police Stitch-up judge".

Under my questioning, Constable James Matewhinau Cassin admitted to 'two convictions for assault prior to joining the police'. He backed down on much of his evidence, but the nappy wearing prostitute Prime Minister wanted a conviction as I had exposed her as a KGB agent, and George W. Bush had ensured she wore nappies for the remainder of her days.

Helen Clark picked on me, rather than George.

Despite absolutey no evidence for dangerous or careless driving, Judge J P Gittos found me guilty on all charges, with maximum fines ($1,490.00) and penalties invoked. I understand this is because Judge Gittos was promoted from lawyer to judge on the usual basis . . . 'a judge is a lawyer who's been to the same brothel' . . . and covering for paedophiles and government associated criminals. To this illustrious list, Judge Gittos can now add "attacking citizens who expose government, police and judicial corruption".

---

[1] It is likely that the Head of Detectives 'Cassin' is Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's uncle, who employed James Matewhinau as a hitman for Members of Parliament.

. . . And since Helen Clark is married to a child sex abuser, Judge J P Gittos is a child sex abuse minder.

Judge Gittos allowed me to drive home removing my driver licence, effective at 5.15 pm 13 August 2003. This allowed me time to buy groceries.

The following day, on 14 August 2003, I was awoken by the police helicopter. I opened the back door at 8.30 am and there was a Matrix Security 4WD in the right of way next door. The Police helicopter was overhead towards the Auckland War Memorial, and a tracking device had been placed on my black 300E Mercedes. They were testing it.

Later I was to discover that Matrix Security is a cover for the SIS – the Security Intelligence Service – an organisation that specialises in Counter-Intelligence. Even the owner of Matrix Security didn't know, but when he counted his vehicles, he had 40 % more than expected, and couldn't account for the accounting . . . "Why am I not making any money?" he said to his wife while cruising the neighbourhood looking at all his vehicles.

The head of the SIS was then the vindictive nappy wearing Prime Minister, Helen Clark.

Even later I was to find out that New Zealand is run on Counter-Intelligence, not on Intelligence . . . and lies prevail in the Justice system, as with the government.

Possibly alerted by the swarm of Intelligence activity around me, the Spymaster arrived at my front door at 9.30 am with coffee and a newspaper. He offered to drive me, and drove me for next 3 months while I didn't have a licence (14 August–5 December 2003) and briefed me while I sat in the backseat sipping coffee, reading the newspaper he had prepared (red ink underlined) and taking notes of his historical tales

On the first day without a licence, at 10 am on 14 August 2003, we were driving to the Newmarket Post Office. By the time we got to the second intersection, we had a Crime Investigation Bureau (CIB) vehicle behind us, another coming up Ayr St, another from Domain Drive, and another coming towards us along Parnell Road.

They were all trying to "get Greg Hallett" as this offered promotion.

The Spymaster looked at me in the rear vision mirror and said: "What the fuck have you done? Four CIB vehicles are on to you and each is driven by detectives!"

Due to the boiler-plating, I had moved twice in two months and by September 2003 the building was literally crumbling around me with scavengers, then demolition workers. Without a driver licence it was difficult to work (Architecture), buy groceries, or survive, so I began concentrating on writing books.

Waiheke Island, one hour travel from Auckland harbour was starting to look like a logical option, and a third move. Here, in a remote cottage, I thrashed out Hitler Was a British Agent, while under the pressure of boiler-plating and surveillance from THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Mossad (Israeli Intelligence/ the world's preferred contract killers). I also worked on the as yet unpublished, Flying the Planet (October 2003–April 2004).

Australia is run by the CIA. This means that any ASIO agent is also a CIA asset. In October 2003 I phoned the ASIO captain and CIA asset Leighton Smith on Radio 1ZB. He asked me: "Are you from the future?" No shit Sherlock. This is exactly what he said, so I used this as the catalyst for Flying the Planet. I spent six months on it, had it edited by two editors, then took 30 per cent of it to a retired NASA scientist on 29 March 2004. He kept it for a month and said: "At least 30 % of it is true – so that's 10 %. Over the following 12 months my two editors contacted me and said: "The stuff you have written about is now on the news". Possibly this was due to the Mossad and SIS stealing it, or I had cracked the mechanics of space.

I had written up formulas that worked, and had a key for the whole thing, and when it was stolen by the Mossad and SIS, the key was not part of it. Ha!

In April 2004, I was wondering why I was getting this advanced information then my daughter informed me that my great-grandfather Ernest Godward, New Zealand's greatest inventor. In the 1930s, he was also the world's foremost authority on the combustion engine. His business partner, Samuel Clemens (a.k.a. Mark Twain) was also friends with Nikola Tesla whose inventions we base Western civilisation on, and a couple of U.S. presidents.

What I worked out was new formulas for gravity, antigravity, some antimatter, interplanetary communication, how the Earth works, how the atmospheres are generated, 10-phase power, and generally flying the planet. This had initially been influenced by the President of the Scientists Club in St Petersburg who had stayed with me 18 months prior. What he told me, I got, and advanced upon. Much of what he said on other topics has also since come true.

Driver Licence returned due to Police Corruption

I went into the High Court. Here the Registrar informed me that my Driver Licence appeal was to be heard on 10 December 2003. I then got a letter from the Police Lawyers requesting my points. They pointed out that the case was on 5 December 2003.

So on 5 December 2003, I turned up to the High Court, unexpected, and represented myself with no notes, dressed in shorts and a teeshirt. I won the case, all sewn up in 15 minutes, by requesting Mr I Brookie of the Crown Solicitors, Meredith Connell, representing Constable Cassin, who hid behind the dead entity called "THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE", to provide a transcript of the 13 August 2002 District Court hearing. Mr I Brookie couldn't, and nor would the District Court, so I immediately got my driver licence back.

It should never have been removed. Taking my licence was just a police, judicial and government spank for exposing the New Zealand Prime Minister as a KGB agent.

During the hearing I accused THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE lawyer, Mr I Brookie of being a paedophile minder. He has not refuted this then, or since. All he did was look at the judge for guidance. Once I said this, Judge J Keane got straight to the point and asked THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE lawyer if he could provide the transcript.

Judges do not want to hear evidence of THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE paedophilia in their court, and Judge Keane finished off by saying: "I do not want this case appearing again" and then muttered "especially not in front of me".

THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the District Court both 'lost' the transcripts.

The Privacy Commission and Ombudsman's office also refused to release Cassin's criminal record. Anand Satyanand was involved in this and then became Governor-General.

Mahatma Gandhi's Paedophilia

The New Zealand courts are run by Freemasons and paedophile enablers/minders, sexual deviants, Polynesians kept ignorant of anything but the process, and Indians hiding that Mahatma Gandhi was a paedophile and a sex addict, addicted to sex with very underaged boys and girls. His international excuse was that he abstained from sex and slept with them at night to keep himself warm – but this didn't account for the Indian Summer.

Gandhi's paedophilia and sex addiction was confirmed by his message boy who now runs a grocery store just west of Auckland. Others who had met Gandhi said: "He was the ugliest man I ever met". But still, the New World Order was promoting paedophiles so their images were on the bedroom walls of admiring teenagers, providing further disbelief and cover from the next generation of wannabe adults.

Indians cite Mahatma Gandhi's paedophilia with boys and girls as:
"India's best kept secret – from the British".

As an aside, the reason Gandhi got the salt rights for Indians was due to his belonging to the same occult group as the British he was challenging. So Mahatma Gandhi was a sex addicted paedophile occultist who knew the sexual and paedophile secrets of the British he was challenging. And as such, Gandhi was promoted by the Media.

So we have to ask ourselves: "What is the media?"
Answer: "A child sex abuse and child drug movement!"

The Media Child Drug Movement

Things were not straight up and down, or on the level in New Zealand, in the police, judiciary, politics or the media.

Publishing Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments in May 2002 had given me some notoriety, and a few new contacts, as well as being in a lot of law libraries.

In April 2003 I was at a house on the corner of Gillies Ave and Kipling Road – no doubt named after the diminutive Rudyard Kipling, who also spent time in India with the paedophile Lord Kitchener, who in turn, gave a second kick-start to Freemasonry in New Zealand around 1902, thus ensuring Freemasonry had paedophilia and incestuous child sex abuse as a mainstay.

Kitchener was then murdered by Sir John Jellicoe at 8 pm on 5 June 1916 and Jellicoe was then made New Zealand Governor General (1920–24) and had Jellicoe Wharf named after him. Jellicoe never mentioned his time in New Zealand in his diaries, so obviously it was a penance position, but he'd still stop a parade whenever a young boy approached.

At this house at the corner of Kipling and Gillies Ave, Paul Holmes 14 year-old daughter/stepdaughter Millie Elder was present. Paul had raise her since she was 18 months old. She had been a sperm donor baby to two lesbians – Hine Elder and her unnamed, uncontactable lesbian partner from London. When they met, Paul was a former bankrupt, a failed radio show host, and an alcoholic going to AA at the City branch on Khyber Pass.

Here, at Alcoholics Anonymous, he met two judges who loaned him $850,000 as long as he never said anything bad about judges. Paul used the money to buy off Hine's lesbian partner. This gave him a child to destroy. His only natural born son, Reuben, when 11 years old, took a dump on the living room carpet in an attempt to gain some attention from the methamphetamine-addled, bisexual, sex for drugs family that is the Holmes household.

Despite this coming out and being confirmed in The Truth, (even if by heavily-weighted allusion) Paul Holmes remained "New Zealand's best known broadcaster", and even got to dictate who was to be his successor. Self-selected from the same cloth, Mike Hoskins is guaranteed never to tell the truth, especially not about his bisexuality, his sex with a Polynesian boy, and his sex with a man who had sex with a horse.

I modelled once for Coca-Cola with Hine Elder (for a Sprite ad), so I had some rapport with daughter Millie. Her friend, Emma, spoke to my 11-year-old daughter and said: "We're not cool. Don't be like us." Millie and Emma then started talking about losing their viriginity, smoking cigarettes, smoking dope, and trying P. I asked Millie Elder who she got her P from and she replied: "Paul". I assumed from her words, mannerisms and intention that this was her stepfather Paul Holmes a.k.a. "New Zealand's Leading Broadcaster" as "This person's alleged behaviour is an open secret and if someone like Hallett is hearing this stuff, then why aren't they [THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE]."[2]

---

[2] Bridget Saunders, Sunday Star Times, 'About Town', centre spread, 20 January 2008.

So Paul Holmes was supplying his daughter with methamphetamines (P) from at least the age of 14. She admitted using P from aged 16 in the newspapers, and admitted to getting it for free, which generally means sex-for-drugs, and on the street, Millie Elder is known as "Anal Lover". Millie was also supplied by 'Margaret M.' – a multimillionairess who had spent some NZ$15 million on P!

Millie Elder then stole Paul Holmes' Cartier watch and pawned it for P. Paul complained. The P dealers complained that the watch was fake, then Millie moved in with one of Paul's drug dealers, Perish (white Mercedes, tinted windows). Paul wanted to get back at Perish and appeared to set Perish up on fake kidnapping charges, so the police complied and put Perish in the Auckland Remand Centre (ARC).

When THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE returned to raid Perish's house, they found Millie using Perish's P stash, so charged her with three 'nine year charges'. Paul paid another bribe into the judicial slush fund . . . and after the longest delay . . . Millie went on trial and was sentenced on 31 March 2008 to 12-months supervision, but the supervision was only at night, and out in bars, and the Judicial Supervisor was helping Millie score drugs.

So within six months Millie Elder (a.k.a. Holmes) was back before the Auckland District Court to be sentenced properly. She was to be convicted for a second time – what do you expect with parents like that – but Paul Holmes found a cheaper way to cheat justice.

This was 'as advised by those with experience as tried-and-true insiders' – the mafia boss Peter Williams QC.

Paul found that the Crown Research Institute employees (formerly 'DSIR') would change the analysis of drugs to something harmless, like a household product, for $10,000.00. That was done, and the police themselves went into the Auckland District Court, to the first floor, and withdrew their own evidence. Two officers did this with two pieces of evidence against Millie Elder/Holmes. Strangely, this was witnessed by one of Peter Williams' narcs, who told me instead of Peter, as Peter had helped arrange it.

There is a point to all this. Paul Holmes regularly dinned with Prime Minister Helen Clark at the exclusive restaurant, Cibos, at 91 St Georges Bay Road in Parnell, Auckland where they were known as "The Two Gnomes". Here they colluded and plotted the suppression of news stories that would expose them, or their associates, and effectively destroyed the country by removing any morality in any authority.

This also made them bribeable to anyone outside the country who knew of their activities, so the end result is always some form of treason; and it would be fair to say that the 1999 to 2008 Labour Government was a treasonous double-agent government, backed by a media that ensured the real news was never told.

Back at Cibo's, the Porsche-driving restauranteur serving them, Phillip David Sturm (50) was convicted on 26 May 2006 of drugging young men with ecstasy, speed and alcohol, and having sex with the young drugged males. He got nine years.

Paul Holmes will rat on anyone for distraction news, to keep himself looking pretty, including fellow TVNZ presenter Tony Veitch, whom Paul ratted on to Prime Minister Helen Clark as a distraction away from news that Paul had supplied his step-daughter Millie with P and was active in child sex in Cuba – a sex holiday with Sir Bob Jones, etc.

Paul Holmes also went to China with Helen Clark in 2008 and that was kept on the hush-hush. While there, he asked the Chinese for asylum.The Chinese refused him saying: "We have enough drug dealers in China".

Along with Helen Clark's published heroin trafficking (2005/2007), Paul Holmes' destroying his stepdaughter's life with methamphetamine use and supply . . .

THREE'S COMPANY

Deborah and Paul Holmes

by Dave Morris

THE vamp who pampers broadcasting kingpin Paul Holmes had her first sexual experience as a daredevil 11-year-old in a boy's toilet.

Deborah Holmes, the now-retired motormouth's second wife, was once dared by form 1 friends to race into a toilet and put her hand down the trousers of a boy.

The revelation published in now-defunct Brass men's magazine, for whom Deborah slipped into fetching frills to bare her soul, deserves a wider audience. But even as a paper for grown-ups we've had to sanitise it.

Deborah was recently spotted at a prominent upmarket Remuera real estate office in close liaison with a hot-shot female realtor. Rumour has it she was not shopping for another home but it certainly invoked memories of the revealing Brass interview.

Holmes' girl likes to feel naughty

SASSY: Deborah Holmes posing for Brass magazine.

With Holmes having vacated breakfast radio's hot seat, the blonde who is more classy than brassy and has better boobs, now gets to share some spotlight heat.

Is the pretty and privileged "celebrity" naked and naughty at home? Does she love to lust? Has she slept with other women?

It's all here in a Truth Christmas special and to hell with what snooty Hawke's Bay olive grove neighbours may think.

Of her early relationship with Holmes, she had this to say:

"We don't judge each other and we can get a bit wild. It's the type of relationship where you can walk in the door after a certain period of time and still want to devour each other. It's sexy and fun."

How kinky is she?

"Fairly, but I'm not into handcuffs or whips or anything like that."

Does she like to be felt up when kissing?

"I like lots of foreplay, but I like mental foreplay... the build-up, talking dirty. The anticipation of sex is sometimes better than the actual act."

What's the key to love and lust?

"You have to let each other be what you want to be. If people get comfortable in a relationship, where it becomes a duty, that's where they should start experimenting more with sex."

What body part does she notice first on a man?

"His fingers, especially thumbs. That normally tells you what the rest of him is like."

Does she prefer men in boxers, briefs or Y-fronts?

"G-strings."

What about herself?

"Normally I wear nothing but if I do I'll wear a G-string. When I go out I like to wear nothing because it makes you feel naughtier."

Why does she have lots of short dresses?

"I like to tease."

Is she a walking tribute to the Sharon Stone scene in Basic Instinct? (Stone was seen on screen knickerless)

"Oh yes, I like doing that. I did it in a job interview once".

Did she get the job?

"Absolutely."

Has she ever slept with a woman?

"I've slept with three. It's different – nice. It's more mental with women, more about finding the different levels."

Does it take longer with women?

"It takes as long as you want it to take."

Did she know what to do?

"Of course. Women know what to do because they know what they like themselves."

One of her pet hates is "people too afraid of what others will think of them, too swayed by other people, too timid to enjoy themselves.

"Fulfilment is attained through freedom. The key to a life well lived is doing rather than judging."

. . . Paul Holmes also married he and his wife's call girl, Deborah Hamilton . . . and covered for Helen Clark's marriage to the homosexual child sex abuser, Peter Davis, and covered for Helen Clark's attempt to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand during the Trawler Wars, her lesbianism, her affair with reporter/TV presenter Anita McNaught (a.k.a. McNaughty), her affairs with Judith Tizard (the Governor-General's daughter), Maryan Street (whom she made a Cabinet Minister for ACC, Housing, Tertiary Education and Economic Development), Heather Simpson (Chief of Staff, whose only qualification was coaching the Canterbury United Netball Team that won the nationals) . . . and her murders of historian Michael King, Sir Peter Elworthy, MP Rod Donald, Chris Beeby (Iranian Ambassador/ Rainbow Warrior, WTO, Antarctica lawyer) and her multiple murder attempts against my good self (author/ public speaker/ sociologist/ crime-solver/ historian/ Architect/ solo dad and 'a good man who stands up and tells the truth').

Without the heavily compromised P using, P dealing, former bankrupt, bisexual Jew, Paul Holmes, covering for Helen Clark, she would have been evicted from office and charged for multiple crimes, at least during her second term.

Paul Holmes was made New Zealand's most prolific broadcaster because he had no problem covering up for all sorts of sexual deviancy and drug use, as he was 'the worst of all of those things' himself.

This makes Paul Holmes complicit in Helen Clark's crimes and murders. She promoted him. She employed him. He worked for her.

The point of all this: 'If you haven't heard about the murder attempts on myself in the media, it is because the media are complicit to Helen Clark's murders and war crimes' . . . and if the judiciary haven't heard of my murder attempts it's because they are complicit to Helen Clark's murders and war crimes'.

Plus the judiciary and media have paid bribes to each other, like Paul Holmes $850,000, and some of the judiciary are very definitely corrupt. This includes any member who wants promotion, which includes most of the judges, and all of the politically appointed judges, who consistently find in favour of the murderer Helen Clark and her accomplices Paul Holmes and Chief Justice Sian Elias.

This also makes the judicary complicit to Helen Clark's war crimes.

When Sian Elias sees me in public, she notes me, my car, the colour and type, the number plate and the time, then pulls a hoody over her head and tries to disguise her identity. (See Attachment "I", 'District Court Hearing II')

And by war crimes, I mean that Helen Clark is an international war criminal, having been trained in the St Petersburg Tavistock, and being a graduate of the Freud Hilton – the mind control institute for double agent Prime Ministers and Presidents.

Helen Clark had controlled New Zealand through this training and for the purposes of treason, that is, destroying all vestiges of New Zealand. If this seems a longshot, then consider that Helen Clark's controller, Vladimir Putin, lived in Wellington for two years and met with Helen Clark on a semi-regular basis. This was confirmed in Penny Bright's diary, as stolen by her father in 1982.

So 2003 was a busy year, but there were no assassination attempts on me. There was just the cover up of the murder of David McNee and the contracting of hits picked up by Sian Elias.

The next assassination attempt on me was to follow the assassinations of Sir Peter Elworthy (13 January 2004) and Michael King (29 March 2004), both of whom I had some vague relation with.

Murder Warnings

The next attempt on my life was on 14–22 May 2004 with half-a-dozen forewarnings.

The first was murder attempt was under the direction of Prime Minister Helen Clark using epecac on the steering wheel on 23 August 2002 – a similar style to which Sir Peter Elworthy and Michael King were killed, albeit Peter got a stronger drug (Digitalis) and Michael got the poison (Epecac), plus the car bomb – an impact-activated explosive with a remote control backup.

All I got was the poison.

Michael King was 16 years older than me. Had I been an older man, I might not have survived the epecac.

The Elworthys had been hosts to Governor-General Sir John Jellicoe in the early 1920s and were always a noted family, and thus, a family of influence. What they said counted, so they were always a target when they had knowledge of extreme government corruption.

The second was a meeting in October 2003. I was usually the teaboy for these Intelligence meetings, but in this case my two contacts were both making the tea and having a discussion in the kitchen (no door) so that I could hear from the lounge, but could not identify who was saying what. They were talking about contract killings taken out on Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Sharon Crosby and Alison Holst (who had an alternate target) and that no one had picked them up, as no one had anything against them.

Their main crime was that they knew of Helen Clark's sexuality – a lesbian, a former prostitute, and married to a homosexual child sex abuser – and Helen Clark had to prove herself to the UN by killing someone close to her.

Centrepoint Commune – a Satellite Socio-Sexual Experiment

Some of this information about Helen Clark came via the Internal Affairs agent and convicted paedophile Bert Potter, who was running primal scream workshops in Wellington in the 1970s, before he started up the Centrepoint commune in 1978, 2 km outside Albany, then a satellite town just outside Auckland.

It was here, at Centrepoint, in October 1981, that I (20) interviewed Bert. I lived there for six months either side and it was a clean interview – without warning, short and sweet, to the point, and telling. I had used the psychological models I had learnt there for the interview.

It was easy for me as I was known as a 'rapid integrator'. That is, I could learn, absorb, and act as if, pretty much as soon as I got the information.

There was always an Internal Affairs agent, and often an SIS agent living at Centrepoint. One of the Internal Affairs agents arrived in an old car with gumboots attached to the front bumper. I was neither. I've always been my own agent and I've always run myself, although not necessarily in the same timeframe. Some of these programmes that we run go on for decades, even lifetimes.

Most of the hit list attended Bert Potter's Primal Scream workshop in Wellington. I turned up later on the scene, when much of the psychology was in the next stage of development, but a lot of the old programmes were still being run.

I didn't really go for primal scream. I thought it was a wank, suitable for frustrated others, but not for me. I was also subject to endless naked groups. Fuck that, but not those ugly naked people. It was supposed to push boundaries, but it just got me used to being bored around frustrated ugly naked people with endless and small issues.

I was there for the cheap board ($60/wk), the 100 acres of bush to run around in, the latest psychological models, complete with training, and some 'not bad' architecture by Don McKenzie. I also liked the big dinners and the 'every day was Christmas' feel.

Along with a lot of other "youngsters" like me, we were in the 'bad dishes' group and had to be rounded up for the task. I preferred carrying out the slops to the pigs, then going into the back of the fridge and slipping some rum and coke into a coffee mug and attending the neurotic Tuesday night meetings, where everyone lay around on beanbags, and each other, and someone bitched about their needs not being met, or their boundary being infringed.

It all began to come unstuck when someone brought up the topic about the teenage girls getting into prostitution. That was the beginning of the end. Some good people left then and began to attack the community from the outside.

We used to wear community clothes and the good clothes went early. My biggest fear was waking up late and having to wear harem pants to university.

When the sex abuse hit the newspapers, it was an opportunist actress who laid the most complaints. She was Jewish, and the daughter of a Mayor, and collected the stories from the other girls, presenting them as her own. She ended up getting the greatest amount of funding, much of it coming indirectly through the Arts supporting her Jewellery business.

The Contracts

Anyway, back to the main story. As it turned out, no killers could be found for the contracts, so within the same month of October 2003, the Chief Justice Sian Elias – the highest ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand – picked up the hits and contracted her Mossad to do the dirty work along with her husband, the bisexual child sex abuser, Hugh Fletcher, who was also involved in the cover up of the murder of his homosexual child sex abusing sex client, David McNee. McNee's death date was suppressed, but after much searching through anonymous lawyers we found it to be the 20th of July 2003.

The next warning came from one of the heads of THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE in Wellington on 3 February 2004, followed up by a meeting in Auckland the following day where they believed Helen Clark was going to commit a "Night of the Long Knives". This meant that she was going to kill people of influence who knew she was lesbian with a penchant for fisting.

This Wellington phone call and the Auckland meeting came after the contract hit on Sir Peter Elworthy on 13 January 2004 (digitalis in his midnight snack). This was planted by Mossad under the direction of the Chief Justice Sian Elias, herself exposed and published as a contract killer since May 2007. Elias has not denied it. Rather she shuddered and walked out of the room when it was mentioned to her by a reporter.

The SIS gives me info on the Michael King Murder

On 29 March 2004, historian Michael King was killed in a "freak accident" in Maramarua (90 km south of central Auckland) where his 1993 Subaru spontaneously caught fire. He and his wife Maria Jungowska had to be identified from dental records. Their car was followed by a Mossad couple who were not interrogated by the police. Neither the local towing company on duty, Ngatea Impound Towing, nor the driver, Mike Speedy, were called.

Freakily, on Sunday 28 December 2008, I was journeying on my holiday from Auckland, heading south, and due to pass through Maramarua. In the morning I was urged to meet with the former 2IC of the SIS, and when I'm urged, I visit. So after cleaning the Mercedes (it's an old family ritual) and packing for the holiday, I went to the meeting where he warned me: "Your car is likely under electronic attack, your life could be under attack, and you can expect as much".

I then cruised down the motorway, got through the new highway, hit the East Waikato boundary, then the ill-fated Maramarua, and all was going well until just before where Michael King was murdered – just south of Heaven's Rest and Heaven's Road. That name made me think more that King's death was an occult Mossad hit.

It was at the death site that my Mercedes began to really break down.

It was like a Security Intelligence Service sign saying "put two and two together".

So I did.

The car started to lose power, like it was only running on three cylinders, then two cylinders, then one. This was intermittent but became more frequent, and when I finally pulled over 10 km later at Coxhead Road, the car stopped completely as I slowed down. This was no-man's land, at least 15 km between petrol stations, shops, or even the smallest of towns.

I pulled over around 4.40 pm and then rang the Automobile Association (AA) at 4.43 pm for assistance. I gave the AA my details and they said a tow truck would arrive from Ngatea within the hour.

The AA then texted the tow truck driver to his 021 mobile number, but their texts never got through. The AA considered this to be very strange, so they texted on his secondary 027 mobile number (the public one) and this got through after a 25-minute delay.

I was parked in a very remote area, but was clearly visible from State Highway 2 on the corner of the metal Coxhead Road. If I had broken down further up the metal road, away from visible sight and conking out at low revs, it could have been a 'hit'.

During the hour there, no cars came down in the first 35 minutes, and only two cars thereafter. On the highway, the holiday traffic was thick and regular, but there were at least two patches where their was no traffic coming either way.

Meanwhile, several vehicles pulled up close to me, not so close as I could identify the driver, but close enough for them to identify the vehicle and me. I was standing outside.

At 4.50 pm a cop car pulled over on State Highway 2 and stayed around long enough to see that my bonnet was up, the car wasn't working, I was standing by, and identified, but the cop made no attempt to assist. He drove off after one minute.

Cops very rarely help these days. They used to help, but not any more. Now their job is to fine people to pay for the DPB and the international deficit. If I had broken down and parked illegally then they would have come over.

Five minutes later a blue WRX pulled up in the same location as the police, stayed two minutes and also didn't help. I suspect it was the Internal Affairs undercover car for the area.

Internal Affairs undercovers tend to challenge others to races or cause designated accidents. I've met an Internal Affairs asset who did this, and for causing 'accidents' they usually use 'write-off' cars. This WRX Subaru wasn't a write-off, it was a 'racer' for spotting or creating speeding tickets fast enough to lose ones licence. A silver subaru is also used in that area, more towards Maraetai and Clevedon.

Five minutes later, a 3 litre Hiace van did a U-turn and parked 15 metres in front of me on the exact corner of Coxhead Road and State Highway 2, stayed for 13 minutes and also didn't attend. After about 10 minutes I approached him, saw him in the passenger mirror and he was in his driver seat, but appeared to be on his cell phone. He wore a white teeshirt, was of the SIS type, and left three minutes before the tow truck arrived.

I'm sure I was being assessed. Typically this is for 'fear' and 'position for termination'.

The second number texted from the AA to Ngatea Impound Towing got through and the tow truck driver turned up at 5.18 pm. It took him 35 minutes, but was only a 10 minute drive, and he had left as soon as he got the message. So it took 25 minutes for the AA message to get through.

We spent the next 45 minutes sitting in the car chatting and he confirmed, quite innocently, that he was the tow truck driver who was on duty during the Michael King fatal incident, and should have been called, but wasn't. Just across the road from him was the Ngatea Fire Brigade and they were called.

I was advised that my Merc probably had an "ignition module" fault which caused the 'catalytic converter' to overheat and the EXHaust TEMPerature light to come on. The last ignition module he had quoted for a Mercedes was $7,000. This was just as the former 2IC of the SIS suggested, and a $7,000 bill would have written off my car without the spectacular kudos of a flaming accident and death confirmed by dental record.

Luckily for me, I was an AA+ member of more than 10 years, so I got a free tow back to Auckland. I also got the car fixed the next day, by Autohaus. It turned out to be the Camshaft Positioner which is readily accessible and can be removed with just two Allen Keys. It was to cost $1,000, but they ripped one off a new engine that came in the day before, and only cost $400.00.

So it was a cheap piece of information really, and one has to wonder whether the whole thing wasn't an information granting exercise: "Ahh, thank you very much".

I did some further investigating into the Michael King hit and found from other sources that the police were arguing over which towage company to use.

The police in and around Maramarua prefer to use the illegal tow truck drivers. Ace Towing, for instance, is owned by the Black Power gang and the police prefer to use them.

Many of the gangs also managed to bribe the police into buying them houses and businesses in exchange for 'going straight'.

The police actually went to the gangs and said: "What would it take you to leave crime and go straight?" and the gang members replied: "A large house, a business, and a tow truck company" etc.

The police are that weak in New Zealand . . . and the gangs are that strong.

So wherever the police are doing some sort of a crime or hit (like an accident after racing with an Internal Affairs Subaru), they use one of the illegal tow truck drivers, and in the case of Michael King's murder, Ngatea Impound Towing was not used . . . but nor was Black Power's Ace Towing.

Inspector Leo Tooman of East Waikato was in charge and he was also in charge of impounding car accident vehicles in that area. Michael King's Subaru was taken to Williams Salvage Services Ltd at Colombo Street in Frankton, Hamilton, but even the local tow truck drivers didn't know that. Nor did I until afterwards.

Waikato Area Commander Clint Rickards had been stood down eight (8) weeks prior but he immediately started working with the Parliamentary Ombudsman Anand Satyanand, a cover up artists, and Satyanand was very quickly promoted above all others to the position of Governor-General and Clint Rickards got off his rape charges.

Helen Clark did the promoting. Sian Elias did not stand in her way. Three others were already on the G-G short list ahead of Satyanand.

Many of these G-G nominee's refused at the last minute because the government was so corrupt (i.e. into murders), so only the most corrupt accepted the nomination, and that was Anand Satyanand – 'The Brown Humpty Dumpty' – the fatest ugliest man in New Zealand.

Michael King lived in Opoutere between Whangamata and Pauanui at the base of the Coromandel Penninsula. He drove for an hour and a quarter and was heading north on State Highway 2 when he hit a tree on the opposite side of the road, so he had to have pulled hard to the right. If he had missed the tree, he would have driven through a No. 8 wire fence and into a flat grass paddock.

Since his death, the tree has been removed, the road has been widened, and there is now no evidence of the 'accident', or where it happened. Normally there is a white cross on the road where a fatality occurred, sometimes with the name and date, but at Michael King's death site, there is none of this, nada, nulla, nothing.

Since the accident, a Senior Crash Unit has been formed for serious crashes and they take everything away, all bits of scrap. They used to come back the next day and take most of it away, now everything gets taken away as soon as the initials have been completed . . . and there has been no investigation into Michael King's crashed vehicle.

The rape accused Police Area Commander Clint Rickards, who had been stood down eight weeks prior on rape allegations, got off all convictions, although his two cohorts were convicted, the entire country found him guilty, and the police's own Operation Austin found Clint Rickards had raped 34 women in Rotorua alone . . . and as a former gang member, Clint Rickards was quite ofay with murder.

Clint Rickards had been the Area Commander for both intersecting areas (Waikato and Auckland) and the hit took place at the intersection of these, 10 km into East Waikato. As a former Mongrel Mob gang member in the Hawke's Bay, he may have been too close to Black Power's Ace Towing for it to be used. Plus the police like to keep their illegal towees out of the limelight. So the job went to Inspector Leo Tooman of East Waikato and his contacts.

Clint Rickards has since been accepted by Chief Justice Sian Elias as a lawyer, despite national protest, so everyone involved got promoted to inconceiveable heights.

Michael King and Maria Jungowska died from epecac on the steering wheel and an impact activated explosive on the petrol tank on a pre-arranged trip as a reward from their publisher for sales success for King's October 2003 book, The Penguin History Of New Zealand selling over 70,000 copies – 1,500 is a "Best Seller" in New Zealand.

The King-Jungowska death was deemed unsolved and Wikipedia reports it as ocurring a day later. The Mossad couple in the car behind had a remote for the bomb as back up.

University of Auckland – Murder Inc.

The hit was organised by Sian Elias with help from her husband Hugh Fletcher and was run from the University of Auckland.

Other Mossad involved were Zev 'William' Barkan/Bruckstein (a known contract killer who escaped), Eli Cara and Uriel Zoshe Kelman (who served 76 days of a six month sentence), and Anthony David Reznik, an Auckland University lecturer and Auckland Jewish Council member, who escaped to Hong Kong, and then to Israel.

Rather than be charged, Hugh Fletcher was then made Chancellor of the University of Auckland on 18 October 2004. This provided distinguished cover and Sian Elias remained the Chief Justice of New Zealand, also maintaining a position beyond reproach.

The University of Auckland is now Murder Inc., as is the New Zealand Judiciary.

Hugh Fletcher then employed the fraudulent paedophile Alan Gibbs as his 2IC. Gibbs was in on the leverage sales where a $20 item is sold for $2 million to a buddy who actually pays $20 for it, then it is on-sold to another for around $2 million and they split the profits.

David McNee's Murder

During this time, Hugh Fletcher was running child sex abuse soirées. One of his members, David McNee, was murdered by one of the 18-year-old naked Polynesian dancers, Phillip Layton Edwards. Sian Elias, Helen Clark and Judge Coral Shaw then covered up the enquiry into this murder. Technically, this makes all of the above accessories to the murder.

Phillip Edwards was then jailed for murder despite having the names of the other child sex abuse soirée members. His Screws (prison guards) refused to post his letters to them.

Just before this happened, Sian Elias had the Mossad doing surveillance on me from 14–22 May 2004. (For a more detailed look at this murder attempt, which links with the Michael King murder, See Attachment "T", 'Mossad Murders in New Zealand'.)

Rod Donald's Murder

The same group then murder the Green MP Rod Donald on 6 November 2005. He was heterosexual – rare amongst Labour, especially in the higher ranks – and wanted a cabinet position. The murder was ordered by the feminist lesbian Helen Clark and carried out under Sian Elias' orders using a heart gun. A heart tracker is attached onto the sniper, like a laser, and invisibly attaches to the target's heart causing arhythmia – fast and slow heart palpatations, and a heart attack. It's been around since 1974.

Augie Auer's Murder – Death to those who expose Global Warming as a Hoax!

Helen Clark was then complicit in the murder of Augie Auer in 2007, also with the heart gun.

Augie Auer had been the Chief Meteorologist for the 'Meteorological Service of New Zealand Limited' (1990–98) and presented the TV3 weather forecast for several years, as "New Zealand's most colourful meteorologist".

In 2006, he helped found the 'New Zealand Climate Science Coalition' and argued against Global Warming (the Global Warming hoax), which counteracted the statements of his former employer, the Met Service, who were then replaced by the National Institute for Water and the Atmosphere (NIWA) in 1992, and Augie was also critical of their statements.

On 1 April 2007 Augie put out a call to disband NIWA as its explainations were "nonsense statements".

The Global Warming hoax is built around 'nonsense statements'.

On 19 May 2007, Augie said: "A combination of misinterpreted and misguided science, media hype, and political spin had created the current hysteria and it was time to put a stop to it . . . It is time to attack the myth of global warming."[3]

Augie was not to be bought, but he was to be killed 22 days later, before his full, useful and respected statement could be backed up by further discussion, like:

> "Water vapour was responsible for 95 % the greenhouse effect, an effect which was vital to keep the world warm . . . If we didn't have the greenhouse effect the planet would be at -18° C, but because we do have the greenhouse effect it is +15° C, all the time. The other greenhouse gases: carbon dioxide (CO_2), methane, nitrogen dioxide, and various others including CFCs, contributed only 5 % of the effect, CO_2 being by far the greatest contributor at 3.6 % . . . [Reducing Global Warming by reducing CO_2] would be like trying to increase the temperature of bath tub full of water [by] using one drop from an eye dropper."[4]

While dining out with family in Melbourne and celebrating his 67th birthday on 10 June 2007, Augie Auer died suddenly from a heart tracker attached to a sniper causing arhythmia and a heart attack. It was a Mossad assassination for a Government and New World Order hit.

[3] The Timaru Herald, 'Global Warming Debunked', 19 May 2007.

[4] Ibid.

The Global Warming hoax then created a new worldwide tax and Carbon Taxes came in. These were misnamed 'Carbon Credits'.

Helen Clark then signed up with great eagerness and sabotage, and it will cost New Zealand NZ$0.5 billion per annum. Most of this will go on administration and a paper trail, which all farts out carbon.

But, hey, it's another tax, and that's what Governments do . . . and the contract killing Jews are all about money and taxes.

Intelligence agents somehow seem to remain legitimate targets, even when they live and work in the private sector, retired from the military. But then you are not supposed to use your intelligence knowledge to counteract any new fraudulent trend, so here's further excuse for the murder in the hidden Augie Auer legacy . . .

> Augie Auer had been a CIA weather manipulator over Vietnam in Op CLEAR SKIES, which strangely caused clear skies over communist North Vietnam, and torrential rain during the monsoon season over South Vietnam. This made the North Vietnamese more productive, and the South Vietnamese sitting targets. The U.S. and Allies were not allowed over the border to North Vietnam (as it was a war of continuence, rather than a war to be won), so the clear skies over North Vietnam could not have been designed by the CIA for easier bombing – only for more communist productivity – hence 'CIA' stands for "Communism in America", which is exactly what they now have, more so with the Government buying equity in the formerly private banks from October 2008, and nationalising banks worldwide.

Career Hobbling and Financial Assassinations – Judge Hole called into Corruption
Just prior to the 14–22 May 2004 murder attempt, I had finished Flying the Planet and had it checked by a former NASA scientist. (By finished, I mean it was essentially complete and edited, and I was back to working on Hitler Was a British Agent.) Within a year, the SIS and Mossad had stolen it. I lost interest as I was too far ahead, and a bit shy. I have also had enormous time pressures put on me by ongoing judicial attacks from corrupt New Zealand governance.

Miraculously, just after the 14–22 May 2004 murder attempt, I got three architectural jobs within ten days, but none of them paid. All three ended up in the District Court, which means you have to work three times again to get the money.

Worse still, in all cases, none of them paid, even after the court cases.

Judge Johnny Hole arranged that two cases be heard at the same time, and both in front of him. I lost both in one of the most corrupt decision ever seen in the courts of New Zealand. The decision was so corrupt, the Registrar made a point of coming up to me outside in the hallway, and with a contorted face he said:

"Judge Hole's decision was totally unfair. I don't know what happened."

I had gone in seeking $4,500 from Pru Gee (and her partner the homeless alcoholic gin-soaked car salesman Gordon Sale) for architecture services rendered. I left two hours later owing the clients $4,800 for a structure they never built, refused to pay any progress payments, and refused to employ an engineer or surveyor, thus halting their own project.

Pru Gee had admitted at one of our earliest meetings that she had gone to Epsom Girls Grammar with Helen Clark and they were in the same year. They were the same type of people. They were both butt ugly swingers – Labour voters.

I accuse Helen Clark's school friend Prudence Gee and her partner Gordon Sale of accessory to attempted murder. (See Attachment "V", 'Pru Gee and Mark Lewis Goold')

It is my understanding that Prime Minister Helen Clark had requested these people, in this time frame, to use my services and not pay and that this was a form of financial assassination.

It is my understanding that Judge Johnny D. Hole was available to make corrupt decisions as he had a compromised history, and ruled to ensure that I did not get paid. This confirmed the attack and ensured the financial assassination.

These cases took up my time and money and drained my resources, and I had to sell a house in impoverished West Huntly as a result. I still haven't been able to get Flying the Planet off the ground, although a lot of the information in it has now reached the public.

Judge Johnny D. Hole was made a judge way to early in Gisborne. He was too young, and gave the Rastifarians a hard time. They retaliated by booting him out of town. Hole retaliated again and Internal Affairs employed an undercover agent, placed him on a farm just north of Gisborne and ended up shooting a Rastifarian on that property – who turned out to be a cousin of his.

Two years later in May 2007 I published: "Judge Hole has syphilis", but I was being nice to him. Judge Johnny Hole ended up being an accomplice to this Clark/ Elias/ Mossad murder attempt, Hole has long been compromised, and Gisborne is well known for its paedophilia.

Gisborne is New Zealand's capital of brown-skinned paedophilia, Hamilton is the capital of white-skinned paedophilia, and Brussels is the paedophile capital of the world, virtually run by paedophiles. Similarly Hamilton and Gisborne are run by paedophile minders with the paedophile enablers being the Family Court judges, lawyers and police – especially the heads of police.

All of these groups remove the biological father by will, action, training, and ideology.

The second case was against Steve Whalley, jailed for sex with a minor. This case formed ten ring-binders that stack up 0.8 metres high and went on for two years. Judge Hole (yes, the same Judge Hole) then gave a summary that no one could act on. Even the Registrars complained that it was the worst summary in the history of District Court judges and the entire case would have to be heard again in order to establish a summary that a Registrar could act upon.

In September 2008, I took the third client to court – Peter Williams QC. I went through the Disputes Tribunal and won the first two hearings. At the end of the second hearing, the Registrar said he was ready to make his decision. Williams jumped up and complained, citing the Referee was biased as Hallett had given plenty of evidence and Williams had given none, other than character references (assassinations). The Referee then told Williams QC that cross-examination was the last path he could take, so Williams jumped at it. The third hearing was supposed to be Williams cross-examining me, then the Registrar would make his decision. Peter Williams Queen's Counsel realised he was losing, and would lose his reputation with it. Few lawyers had lost to commoners and no Queen's Counsel in history had lost to a commoner . . . so Williams got the fellow murderer, Chief Justice Sian Elias, to intervene.

Chief Justice Sian Elias had requested Peter Williams Queen's Counsel to be part of the murder attempt, at least, the financial assassination afterwards, so they were part of the same murderous group (Mossad–MI-6). Elias then got the Disputes Tribunal Referee Stuart Benson to transfer the hearing to the District Court. When Williams was pleading for this, he pleaded that he was not requesting it, but that the matters of the case were outside the realm of the Disputes Tribunal. He did this to avoid costs, and being seen as the delaying bad guy who can't fork out $5,000 for an architecture fee after four years. Williams was arguing the case was a matter of credibilty, that he had heaps and I had none.

Williams has none. He is well past his useby date and has survived by obfuscation, misdirection, being a courtroom drama queen, lies, and the support and influence of MI-6 in the destruction of New Zealand by protecting its drug dealers, and protecting the true and known murderers – often a high-ranking Freemason, as in the case of the 1970 Crewe murders.

> Lenard W. 'Len' Demler did it. Len was an 11th stage Freemason and head of the Pukekohe Chapter. He yelled down the phone to 14th stage Freemason, Police Commissioner Bob Walton: "Do SOMETHING!" . . . Williams was aware of this but played along with the distraction and delay. It made him famous, and much in favour with the MI-6 Freemason protectorate . . . Arthur Allan Thomas was stitched up, convicted in 1971 and 1973, pardoned in 1979, given a farm, then the Freemasonry Police were investigated for stitching Thomas up with a Royal Commisson of Inquiry, which always protects Freemasons – so it was a whitewash. Being a Freemason, Demler's cover continues on after his death in 1992. When the Officer in charge of the original Crewe murder investigation, Detective Inspector Bruce Hutton, was found guilty of setting up Arthur Allan Thomas, the police gave him a medal and $500,000 – because he had kept a Freemason out of jail and delayed the destruction of the Freemason's reputation just that little bit longer. Hutton then married a farmer's widow he had met during the investigation. He then beat her up in the bath and held her up by her feet until she drowned. The few who viewed the medical file included Detective Inspector John Hughes who said: "Hutton definitely killed her". Hutton inherited his murdered wife's money, then bought race horses and became a racing celebrity. He was well known for fabricating evidence and hiding evidence. He still hasn't been charged for either, rather he was promoted from Inspector to Detective Inspector, then retired with his ill-gotten gains.The police never question the pinch, and wait for the shout. It would appear that being in the police is 'a licence to murder'. Are "Peace Officers" not contract killers?

What MI-6 had found in Peter Williams was a proven drama queen who could obfuscate, misdirect and delay with the best of them, so they made him a Queen's Counsel lawyer to serve their ends . . . But Peter Williams, the bisexual, is a queen in more ways than one.

Williams, with prostrate cancer is trusting he will be hospitalised or die before he gets exposed as an accessory to attempted murder and as 'Mr Asia', both of the 'bonding others with Asian porn' fame, and the righthand man to 'the heroin trafficker who laundered millions of dollars in drug money' . . . It is commonly believed in New Zealand that 'Mr Asia' (1975–84) had to be run from the top.

During the Disputes Tribunal hearing, some interesting things happened. Albi Orme, Williams legal researcher and witness, died six days after the second hearing. I had accussed Albi Orme in 2004 and 2008 of threatening to kill me four times while on Williams' yacht, Aerial. This was true enough, but despite Williams' coaching, Orme still couldn't give the 'correct' answers required of him . . . Still, I wrote in my commiserations.

Then Williams former legal partner, Eb Leary, was charged with laundering drug money – again. He had been convicted of laundering drug money 20 years prior, and was struck off until August 2008. At virtually the same time as the hearing, Eb Leary was charged with laundering drug money again, this time for ecstacy ('E').

During the Disputes Tribunal hearing, I accussed Peter Williams QC of receiving two million pounds (£2 million) in a suitcase from mafia in London, who met him in the hotel lobby, telling him they had left his payment on his hotel bed for services to be rendered in defense of their heroin trafficker/ murderer in the Mr Asia trial.

Peter Williams QC response was:

> "I have not been admitted to the English Bar".

When I accused Peter Williams QC of talking about having sex with a man on his yacht Aerial, and how much he enjoyed it, then hitting on me, his reply was:

> "I am not an active homosexual".

Peter Williams QC is very shifty and gets others to testify for him. His companion Janine/ Hine/ Heeni Phillips of the ever-changing name, testified on his behalf and spent half an hour attacking me and misinforming about her status in the Howard League.

I accussed Heeni of being on psychiatric drugs and she skirted around the issue with further hate mail from two metres away. It has since been confirmed that Heeni Philips is on Prozac (fluoxetine hydrochloride), an antidepressant for her manic depression.

Williams does that to people. His other companion is a Christian syhophant ("fawning parasite") that doubles as a 40-year-old virgin and moonlights as a security guard. I think Kevin William Brett protects the Avondale Weta (arr – that would be an insect about 6 inches long).

I then accussed Ms Philips of cuckolding her partner Peter Williams with the MP John Tamihere while Williams had prostate cancer with a count of 10 and a radioactive pellet inserted. She flustered and refused to answer. Williams then intervened suggesting it was off topic.

It may be off topic, but it certainly shows the character of the people involved. Janine Philips also had sex with Winston Peters when he was working for Peter Williams as a junior lawyer. Winston Peters went on to become an over-titled under-achieving MP, typical of Mossad assets.

Many MI-6 agents have now been converted to Mossad assets. The Mossad used Waiheke Island as a holiday home, but since I exposed some of their agents there, they now use Fiji. The Fijian Army now carry Isareli Uzis (machine guns). Peter Williams QC has started to go to Fiji a lot, like every chance he gets (around three or four times a year).

So now I have an invitation from the District Court to deal with the Queen's Counsel Peter Williams on his own turf. It should be interesting. I wonder how much the murderer Sian Elias will intervene.

Spymaster, 9 March 2009: "They are trying to organise a judge that you don't have shit on".

Author: "That's judge shopping".

And on Obama's Inauguration Day, 2009: 'New Zealand operates on sex and drugs, and is particularly ruled by bisexual drug-dealing lawyers'.

Colllective Intelligence: 'The Waipareira Trust sold off all it assets and invested heavily in P (methamphetamines). They farm out the manufacture so they can stay at arms length and have been encouraging reformed criminals like 'Porky' to get back in the game of crime. As such the 63-year-old retiree was manufacturing P for the Waipareira Trust and he got nabbed before he could deliver. That was mid-to-late 2008.

Author: "The Waipareira Trust did such a smashing trade in P that their '29 Nov 2007 trust's annual report shows an astounding turnaround'. The article has since been removed."

Internal Affairs Officer, 12 March 2009: "The P arrived at the Waipareira Trust after John Tamihere had left and before he came back (October 2004–March 2005)."

Author: "Arr, I'm not convinced."

In the same year, 2007, the Chief Executive John Tamihere raped his secretary. It was all hushed up and she was paid off, then quickly shipped to Oz-fucking-stralia with her boyfriend.

Internal Affairs Officer, 12 March 2009: "The Waipareira Trust has had more crooked trusts than you could shake a stick at. The Dallows (ex-police) had trusts and one of these got quite famous in athletics and Lotto investigated. Ross Dallow (a pakeha) wasn't straight – into rooting transvestites and bisexuals, but his brother was more or less into guys and he died of aids."

Author: "Nice distraction."

When Labour lost the Election on November 2008, Chief Executive John Tamihere's protection ran out, so his Waipareira Trust immediately employed the gang member/ rapist/ paedophile/ policeman turned lawyer, Clint Rickards, for additional protection and 'keeping in' with the police – his first job as a lawyer.

Internal Affairs: "Peter Williams partner, Heeni 'Prozac' Phillips has been having sex on and off with John Tamihere, while working for the Waipareira Trust, thus cuckolding Peter. The security staff caught her in the carpark shagging Tamihere. Both were half-naked and asleep in the afterglow. John's also been having sex with 'Goo' (Evelyn Hall) who keeps the Waipareira Trust stuck together. This earnt him a 4-by-2 across the face with bruises to match. One or two of her kids are his and they're all smart arses, but in a good cheeky straight up Maori way. When he takes them out to Wendy's for a bite and John says, 'I'm just helping out your mother', the kids reply, 'Yeah, sure Dad, whatever'. Tamihere still roots her on the desk while delaying appointments. You can get a glimpse as you enter."

We originally thought . . . "John is currently in the New Zealand Herald as 'Mr X an ex-MP . . . involved in charity fraud to the tune of $3 million', along with the unnamed Pam Corkery. John is trusting Pam won't say anything, and Pam is trusting John won't say anything, but her nickname is 'Sqwarkery'. What are the chances? Hell of a nice guy John, he's just got the Maori failure – greed – oh, and fence jumping." . . . but then we found out that the name suppression applied to the former National MP, Trevor Roger, and now we have to find a place to put this incredibly interesting story in somewhere, and make it relate. (See Attachment "Z^{a}", 'The CIA's Protection Racket for M.O.E. Paedophiles')

John and Pam are still currently under investigation. I have no idea what will come of it. Usually when people who have been on TV are involved in a large scale fraud, those at the top share in the pinch and the shout – the money and the ongoing profits – so it's all status quo as the burglar goes.

Heeni Philips is also involved in a charity scam herself, which Peter Williams QC is not at long enough arms length from, as with the drugs, from his Mr Asia days. Then, Peter had his junior lawyer, Karen Soich, become the girlfriend of the heroin trafficker dubbed by the press as "Mr Asia".

So it looks and smells like repeat business, except for one thing . . . due to the credit crunch and economic downturn, no one has enough money to buy P and the drug dealers are no longer taking swopsies, cars, etc. Now that's a downturn . . . My guess is the "29 Nov 2009 Waipareira Trust's annual report will show an astounding turnaround".

Now this is where the case against Williams gets interesting. He is desperate to preserve his name, but he is bound up by all this cuckolding, charity, P dealing shit, as well as the hangover from the Mr Asia 'being too close' scenario, and his legal companion Eb Leary getting stung for not putting the mafia money through the trust account, getting him re-admitted to the Bar, only to see Leary get stung again for pocketing the money from ecstacy, and important compromised people around him dying off.

At the bottom of this heap of shit is myself trying to get money for architecture work done from 2003 to 2005.

We successfully beat Peter Williams in the Disptues Tribunal and he had to go to the Chief Justice for 'an out'. Sian Elias gave it to him, dictating the terms to Referee Stuart Benson on Tuesday 2 December 2008, who complied with Sian's request, no doubt being advanced up the ladder in the process, probably with Peter Williams QC putting in a good word to him.

Now, to prove that I wrote this letter and sent these emails before I got Referee Benson's decision, here's the timeline . . .

I got word on Tuesday 2 December 2008 that Sian Elias had interferred in the case.

On Wednesday 3 December 2008, Williams had the police stitch me up in Parnell. There was a police tracking device placed on my car, and I went to Renkon for lunch. When I came out there were police everywhere as well as another architecture client, the chinese Lawrence Chan, also involved in drugs, which Williams had brought in as a Disputes Tribunal witness (uncalled). This guy owes me $18,000, so I stopped and talked to him. He then walked towards the back of my car, so I reversed back. Low-and-behold there was a police car 3 metres behind me, and two cross-dressing police officers got out, 'Arthur and Martha', and mentioned they were considering charging me with 'attempted murder' and 'misuse of a motor vehicle'. What are the chances? Lawrence Chan had witnesses planted outside The Bog pub and outside Burgerfuel. How convenient!

The Disputes Tribunal hearing was two days later on Friday 5 December 2008. It was supposed to be Peter Williams cross-examining me, but instead, he requested the case be taken to the District Court, and further, that it was not Williams requesting the case be taken to the District Court, but the nature of the case, and the case being not a matter of evidence, but a matter of credibility.

Stuart Benson reserved the decision to be delivered by mail.

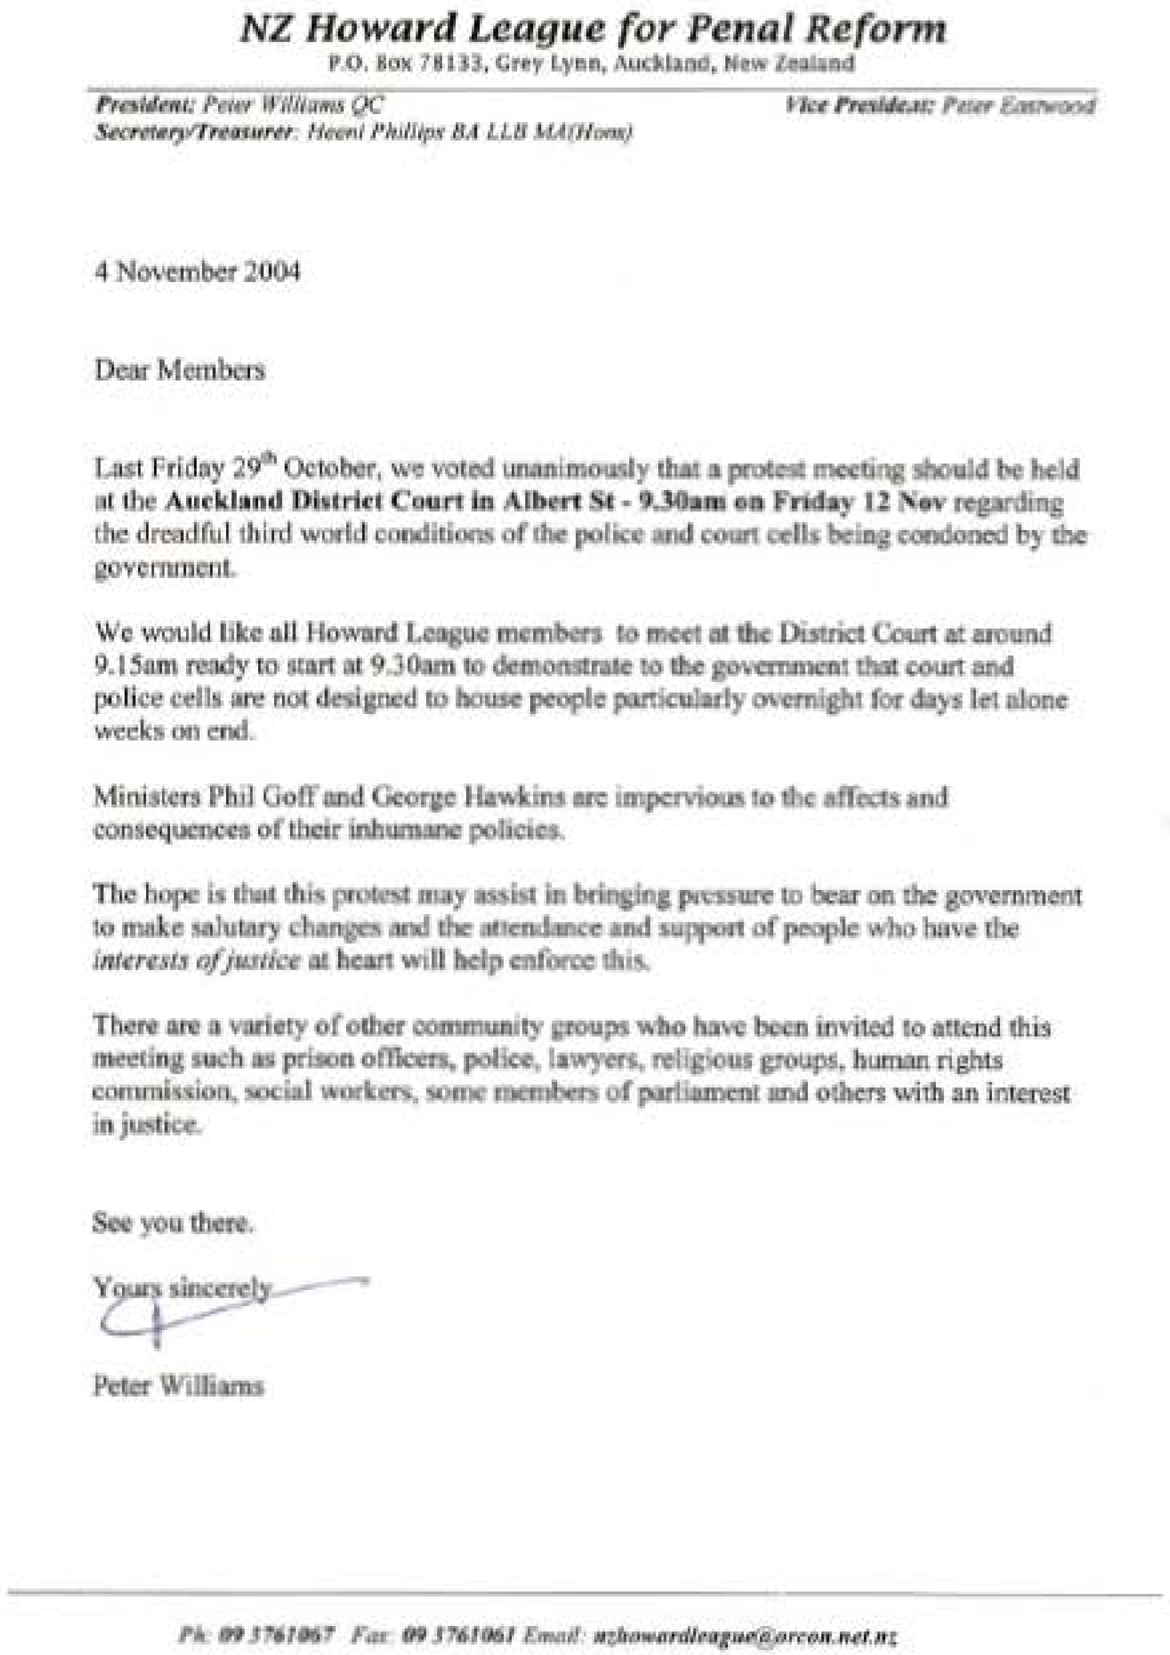
Stuart Benson wrote in his Reserve Decision that he "invited submission on transfer of the Disputes Tribunal claim to the District Court." I don't recall him saying this in the hearing. I recall Williams requesting it go to the Disputes Tribunal. He goes on to write: "Mr Williams did not oppose transfer; and Mr Hallett opposed transfer."

This is legal jargon for: "Mr Williams requested transfer and got the Chief Justice to intervene".

I had prepared the following Press Release: 'Historian and Architect rattles Queen's Counsel | Just how corrupt is the New Zealand Judiciary?' before the case and sent it out on 6 December 2008.

On 9 December 2008 I received the Disputes Tribunal's Reserved Orders dated "8 December 2008, Release date 9th December 2008"

So here's the paperwork in chronological order . . . followed by a character reference.



NZ Howard League for Penal Reform
P.O. Box 78133, Grey Lynn, Auckland, New Zealand

President: Peter Williams QC Vice President: Peter Eastwood
Secretary/Treasurer: Heeni Phillips BA LLB MA(Hons)

4 November 2004

Dear Members

Last Friday 29th October, we voted unanimously that a protest meeting should be held at the Auckland District Court in Albert St - 9.30am on Friday 12 Nov regarding the dreadful third world conditions of the police and court cells being condoned by the government.

We would like all Howard League members to meet at the District Court at around 9.15am ready to start at 9.30am to demonstrate to the government that court and police cells are not designed to house people particularly overnight for days let alone weeks on end.

Ministers Phil Goff and George Hawkins are impervious to the affects and consequences of their inhumane policies.

The hope is that this protest may assist in bringing pressure to bear on the government to make salutary changes and the attendance and support of people who have the interests of justice at heart will help enforce this.

There are a variety of other community groups who have been invited to attend this meeting such as prison officers, police, lawyers, religious groups, human rights commission, social workers, some members of parliament and others with an interest in justice.

See you there.

Yours sincerely

Peter Williams

Bridget,

Try this for a weird case.
I've been trying to get money out of P Williams for four years.
He's clearly in the wrong and keeps moving towards New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, and keeps quoting himself in it.

regards,

Greg Hallett

Historian and Architect rattles Queen's Counsel
Just how corrupt is the New Zealand Judiciary?

An interesting case has arisen in New Zealand recently. Greg Hallett, an historian and architect, has been trying to get paid through the courts for work he did for the Queen's Counsel lawyer Peter Williams from July 2003 to March 2005.

It appears that Mr Hallett has been winning the case for the first two hearings on 24 October and 21 November 2008, so Mr Williams called upon the Chief Justice Sian Elias to interfer in the case.

Sian Elias obliged, and on 2 December 2008 requested the Referee Stuart Benson remove the case from the Disputes Tribunal to the District Court.

In the third hearing on 5 December 2008, Stuart Benson said that case was unprecedented in that, for $7,500 fee, Peter Williams, who charges at least one thousand dollars per hour, had produced over 500 pages of documents in defense, and had already spent over $10,000 defending the case.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC, whom Mr Hallett calls PAW, then said that the bulk of this material came from a claim Greg Hallett had lodged in the District Court on 7 November 2008, the day before the country's election, in which he charged the Chief Justice Sian Elias with murder and attempted murder, and Peter Williams QC with being a bisexual and an MI-6 heroin trafficker, to which Mr Williams repeatedly replied: "I am not an active homosexual".

Peter Williams QC cited that the reason the architecture fee case should be moved from the Disputes Tribunal to the District Court was so that all matters could be heard citing that Mr Hallett had offended more or less the 'who's who' of New Zealand.

Mr Hallett was then asked by the referee where he got his information from for New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide and Mr Hallett replied: "Mr Williams. He's standing right in front of you." Mr Williams QC did not rebut, but looked down at his paperwork, did his best to move onto the next topic as quickly as possible, and appeared extremely rattled.

Mr Williams QC, understanding that he was losing the case, and was in serious threat of being charged with accessory to attempted murder, watched as a series of people closely associated with him began to die off mid-trial, including Kevin Ryan on 20 November 2008 after a very short illness, and Churchill Scholar Albi Orme, PAW's witness and research assistant of 15 years, on 27 November 2008.

Mr Hallett says: "The New Zealand judiciary is fighting for its reputation after having been exposed as a paedophile and crime creation movement".

He went on to say: "The Law Society has just accepted Clint Rickards to the Bar. He is a former Assistant Police Commissioner and Area Commander, and was exposed as New Zealand's worst ever rapist and paedophile."

Mr Hallett, with a degree in architecture, cites this as clear and substantive.

Architect, author and historian Greg Hallett also cites the Chief Justice Sian Elias as the highest-ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand, and Peter Williams QC, in fear of losing the case, also requested the Special Investigation Group (S.I.G.) pay him a visit. The S.I.G. specialise in terrorism and Michael Cartwright is the International Terrorism conference expert.

S.I.G.'s Michael Cartwright turned up to Mr Hallett's house at 9.30 am on 26 November 2008 (the day before Albi Orme died), and Greg Hallett, recently converted to making movies, invited them in for a look.

He showed them the 22 March 2007 issue of TRUTH Weekly hanging on the wall and pointed out that the front page and page 5 had named the Chief Justice Sian Elias as the highest-ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand.

Michael Cartwright responded: "Yes, we are coming to know that".

Mr Hallett then showed them a movie he had made of the new Prime Minister John Key's Election night and pointed out that the cop who was chasing Hallett with his camera, was 20 metres behind, and had too many doughnuts – to which the S.I.G.'s International Terrorism expert said: "He's probably pregnant". The other S.I.G. officer nodded in agreement.

Mr Hallett says he wants to clean up the judiciary which has become a social engineering and crime-creation movement, particularly focused on supplying children to paedophiles, many of which are in the judiciary, like Judge Edward T. Durie, his lawyer partner, Donna Hall . . . and the Chief Justice herself, via her husband Hugh Fletcher, whom she had promoted to Chancellor of the University of Auckland as cover for their shared murder of historian Michael King on 29 March 2004.

"The University of Auckland is 'Murder Inc.'" cites Alumni Hallett.

"The New Zealand judiciary is incapable of settling debts. It's very difficult to get a fair hearing, even on the simplest of matters, like an architecture fee, especially when the Chief Justice is controlled by shame and will do anything to cover up that shame, including further murders."

Mr Hallett has published that Sian Elias is a contract killer who used her Mossad to try and murder him between 14 and 22 May 2004.

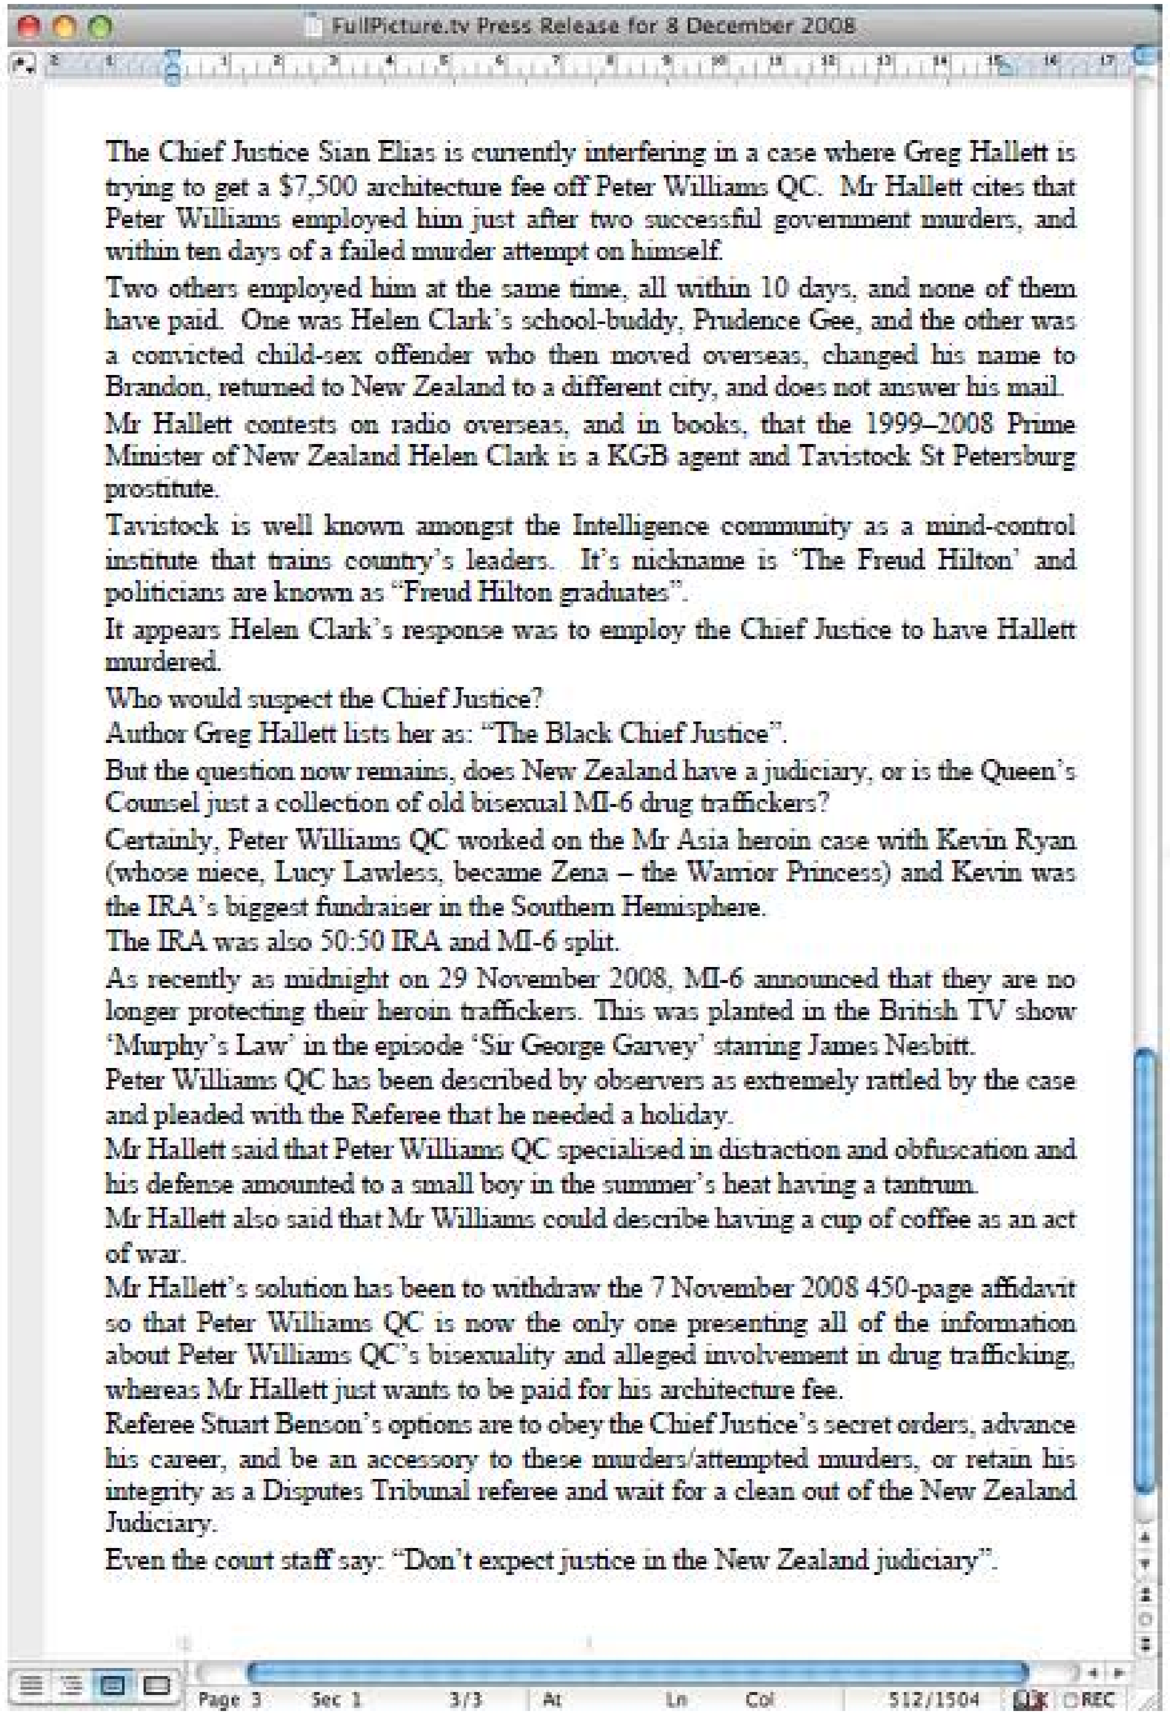
This was lodged in the District Court on 2 July 2008 as a two-paged NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, and again on 7 November 2008 as a 450-page AFFIDAVIT with EXHIBITS.

Here, Hallett outlines in great detail the government murders of at least seven people, as well as at least seven murder attempts on himself. "These occurred in the middle of publishing a series of books, during printing, and included a drive-by from a prominent politician.

"There has been no response from those accused, which appears to be the only way of dealing with what is systemic corruption in the New Zealand Judiciary.

Queen's Counsel Williams response was that no one listens to Mr Hallett.

Mr Hallett's response was that most lawyers consider Peter Williams QC was well past his due-by-date and he still hadn't been paid.



The Chief Justice Sian Elias is currently interfering in a case where Greg Hallett is trying to get a $7,500 architecture fee off Peter Williams QC. Mr Hallett cites that Peter Williams employed him just after two successful government murders, and within ten days of a failed murder attempt on himself.

Two others employed him at the same time, all within 10 days, and none of them have paid. One was Helen Clark's school-buddy, Prudence Gee, and the other was a convicted child-sex offender who then moved overseas, changed his name to Brandon, returned to New Zealand to a different city, and does not answer his mail.

Mr Hallett contests on radio overseas, and in books, that the 1999–2008 Prime Minister of New Zealand Helen Clark is a KGB agent and Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute.

Tavistock is well known amongst the Intelligence community as a mind-control institute that trains country's leaders. It's nickname is 'The Freud Hilton' and politicians are known as "Freud Hilton graduates".

It appears Helen Clark's response was to employ the Chief Justice to have Hallett murdered.

Who would suspect the Chief Justice?

Author Greg Hallett lists her as: "The Black Chief Justice".

But the question now remains, does New Zealand have a judiciary, or is the Queen's Counsel just a collection of old bisexual MI-6 drug traffickers?

Certainly, Peter Williams QC worked on the Mr Asia heroin case with Kevin Ryan (whose niece, Lucy Lawless, became Zena – the Warrior Princess) and Kevin was the IRA's biggest fundraiser in the Southern Hemisphere.

The IRA was also 50:50 IRA and MI-6 split.

As recently as midnight on 29 November 2008, MI-6 announced that they are no longer protecting their heroin traffickers. This was planted in the British TV show 'Murphy's Law' in the episode 'Sir George Garvey' starring James Nesbitt.

Peter Williams QC has been described by observers as extremely rattled by the case and pleaded with the Referee that he needed a holiday.

Mr Hallett said that Peter Williams QC specialised in distraction and obfuscation and his defense amounted to a small boy in the summer's heat having a tantrum.

Mr Hallett also said that Mr Williams could describe having a cup of coffee as an act of war.

Mr Hallett's solution has been to withdraw the 7 November 2008 450-page affidavit so that Peter Williams QC is now the only one presenting all of the information about Peter Williams QC's bisexuality and alleged involvement in drug trafficking, whereas Mr Hallett just wants to be paid for his architecture fee.

Referee Stuart Benson's options are to obey the Chief Justice's secret orders, advance his career, and be an accessory to these murders/attempted murders, or retain his integrity as a Disputes Tribunal referee and wait for a clean out of the New Zealand Judiciary.

Even the court staff say: "Don't expect justice in the New Zealand judiciary".

ORDER OF DISPUTES TRIBUNAL

District Court: Auckland

Case number: CIV-2008-094-001717

APPLICANT
Hallett Design Solutions Ltd
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland

RESPONDENT
Peter Alderidge Williams QC
20 Pompallier Terrace
Ponsonby
Auckland

The Tribunal hereby orders

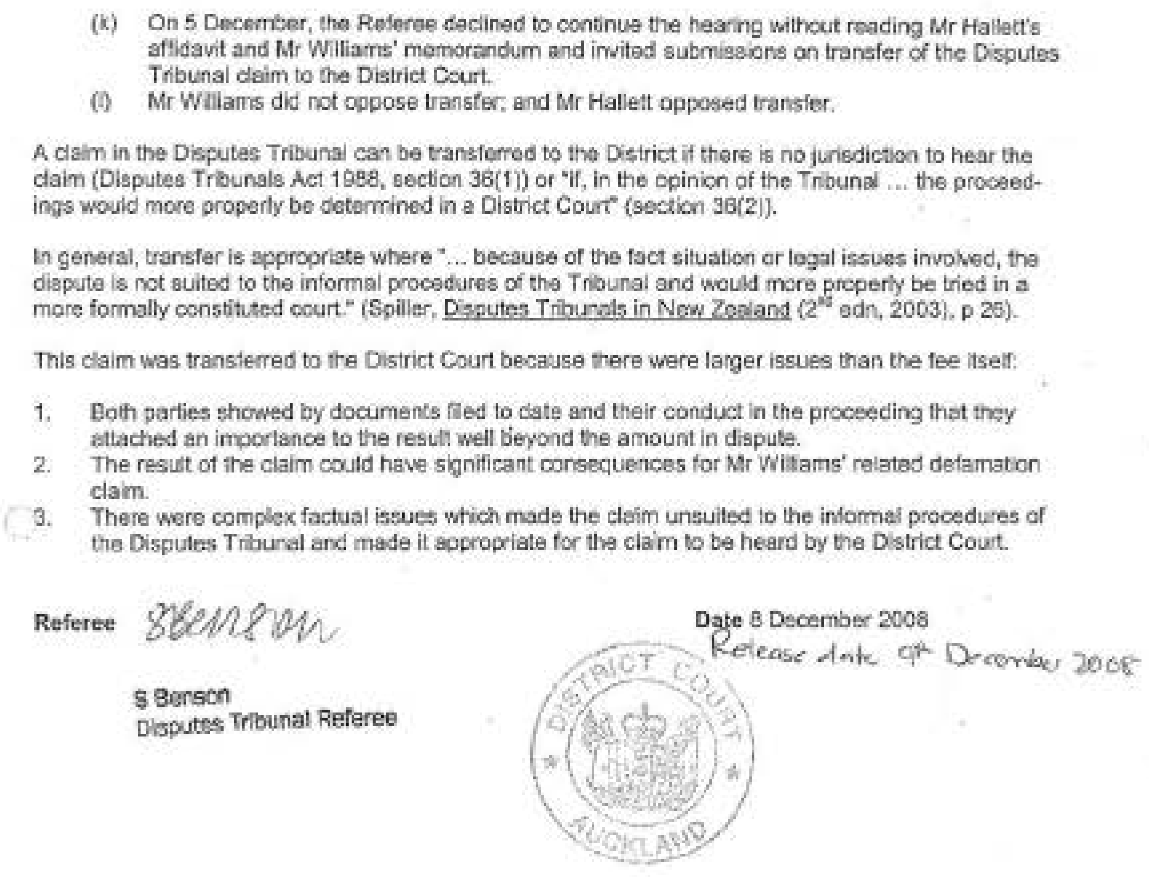
This claim is to be transferred to the District Court at Auckland.

Reasons

The background was that:

1. This case concerned a contract claim by Mr Hallett's company (Hallett Design Solutions Ltd) for $5,625 plus interest against Mr Williams QC for design services relating to Mr Williams' properties at Surrey Crescent, Grey Lynn, Auckland.
2. However, it was not as simple as that:
    (a) Mr Hallett's claim alone was 204 paragraphs (24 pages).
    (b) Mr Williams filed a defence which attached 15 documents.
    (c) Mr Williams filed a variety of affidavits from different persons, which included a copy of Mr Hallett's book, "New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide".
    (d) At the hearing on 21 November 2008, Mr Williams called (or at least wished to call) about six witnesses.
    (e) Mr Williams insisted that Mr Hallett's credibility in general was relevant to the case.
    (f) Just before the hearing on 21 November 2008, Mr Williams served defamation proceedings on Mr Hallett.
    (g) The defamation proceedings related to Mr Hallett's "Blackmailer's" book, which referred to Mr Williams and, in particular, fees which (the book stated) Mr Williams had not paid (see pages 189, 190) (understood to be the fees in issue in the Disputes Tribunal claim).
    (h) On 21 November 2008, the hearing was adjourned to 5 December to give Mr Williams an opportunity to cross-examine Mr Hallett.
    (i) Following the adjournment, Mr Hallett filed an uninvited affidavit dated 1 December 2008 (16 pages, plus exhibit).
    (j) On 5 December, Mr Williams filed a memorandum in reply (11 pages) and a copy of an affidavit filed by Mr Hallett in proceedings against the Police, Auckland District Court and Auckland City Council (258 paragraphs, plus numerous exhibits).

CI0301_CIV_DCDT_Order



(k) On 5 December, the Referee declined to continue the hearing without reading Mr Hallett's affidavit and Mr Williams' memorandum and invited submissions on transfer of the Disputes Tribunal claim to the District Court.

(l) Mr Williams did not oppose transfer; and Mr Hallett opposed transfer.

A claim in the Disputes Tribunal can be transferred to the District if there is no jurisdiction to hear the claim (Disputes Tribunals Act 1988, section 36(1)) or "if, in the opinion of the Tribunal … the proceedings would more properly be determined in a District Court" (section 36(2)).

In general, transfer is appropriate where "… because of the fact situation or legal issues involved, the dispute is not suited to the informal procedures of the Tribunal and would more properly be tried in a more formally constituted court." (Spiller, Disputes Tribunals in New Zealand (2nd edn, 2003), p 26).

This claim was transferred to the District Court because there were larger issues than the fee itself:

1. Both parties showed by documents filed to date and their conduct in the proceeding that they attached an importance to the result well beyond the amount in dispute.
2. The result of the claim could have significant consequences for Mr Williams' related defamation claim.
3. There were complex factual issues which made the claim unsuited to the informal procedures of the Disputes Tribunal and made it appropriate for the claim to be heard by the District Court.

So here's the character reference, 2005 to 2008.
The good things are by me | the bad things are by Williams and Co.

2005

2 May: I noted a black 4WD Audi with dealers yellow number plate parked 50 metres down the road from my home, with one 115 kg/ 18 stone SAS and one 18 stone Mossad inside. Both had widows peaks and were military fit. When we noticed them, by waving at them, they started up their vehicle and drove past. We waved again and they did everything they could not to acknowledge us.

11 May: I placed all written info (10 books) on one disc. I placed these in the back sleeve of driver's seat of my 4WD, then drove my other car (Mercedes) 100 metres, then walked to shop 4.45–5.15pm. When I returned, my 4WD had been broken into. The driver's seat was slid forward, the disc was gone, and my sunglasses gone. Money and tools were still there. I suppose the sunglasses were taken for DNA planting at future crime scene.

13 May, midday: My immediate neighbours power connection was rigged to spy inside my place.

15 May, 6.45 pm: A Non-Traceable Operative (NTO) black man uses a false key and tries to unlock the upstairs door.

17 May: It was confirmed that the girl in our group was MI-6 NTO complete with a "mental hospital cover from Callan Park in Melbourne, Australia".

18 May: Two ex-MI-6 phone up with bogus questions to establish voice recognition.

Dec 2004/June 2005: My other 'Flying the Planet' editor keeps ringing me to tell me: "What you have written is now coming up on news". Bravo!

15 July: 'M' comes to my house and talks to my television saying: "I'm talking to the SIS and Army Intelligence. Why did the New Zealand Police employed Graeme Capill was Crown Prosecutor when they knew for 21 months beforehand that he was a paedophile?"

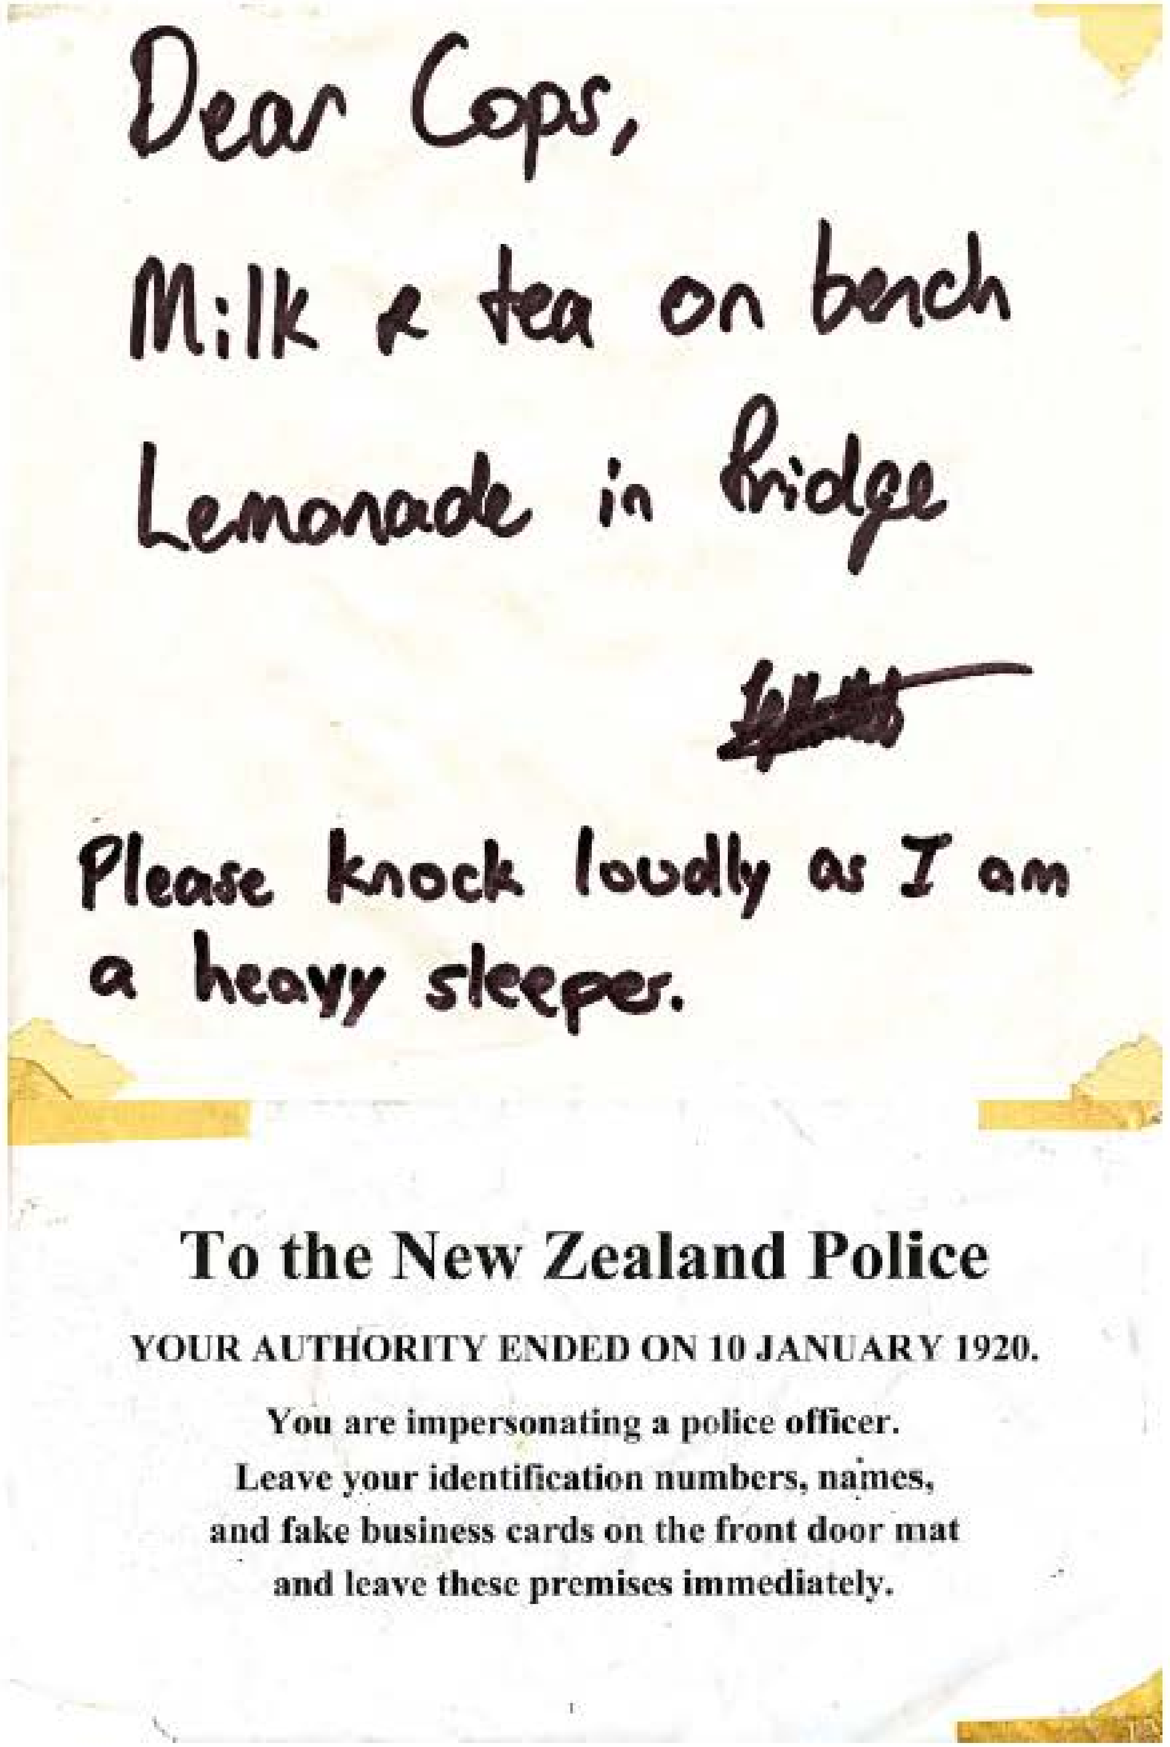
16 July, midnight–8.30 am: The next day my Mercedes quarterlite was smashed and the SIS removed their video, audio and transmission spy equipment from inside. They left a tool behind to confirm it was theirs. There were no matching fingerprints as the Police reject all SIS fingerprints. They refuse to hold them.

August: M tells me the report back on my theories on gravity and 'Flying the Planet' "is crap". I take it on the chin – don't care. There was no mention of the formulas or the ex-NASA, editors and news confirmation.

15 September: Publish 'Hitler Was a British Agent' after more than two years research. I print and mail out to twenty (20) countries ASAP. I consider broad distribution is some form of protection.

17 September: The National Election. The heat is noticeably off two weeks before the election, so it's a good time to publish Hitler Was a British Agent.

Prior to this, I had so much police attention, I put a sign on the door saying "Dear Cops. Milk and tea on the bench, lemonade in the fridge". Then, at 1.30 am there was a big thump on the door. The Police had been breaking into my home at night, removing my driver licence and credit cards and returning them to the same place four (4) months later. They were also standing over my bed when I slept.



Dear Cops,

Milk & tea on bench

Lemonade in fridge

Please knock loudly as I am a heavy sleeper.

To the New Zealand Police

YOUR AUTHORITY ENDED ON 10 JANUARY 1920.

You are impersonating a police officer.
Leave your identification numbers, names, and fake business cards on the front door mat and leave these premises immediately.

13 September: Weather manipulation in Eastern Australia was used to ensure fine weather over New Zealand during the Election. It takes four days for the weather to arrive. The Weather Report was for rain, but from 12.30–4.30 am, there was an electrostatic dome over sky with no wind. There should have been frost, but there was none. It was all stars. This was completely manufactured weather. It felt like it was generated from underground. Labour voters don't vote unless it's fine weather. After rain (7.30 am–1.30 pm) the sky cleared. The Election was won on a fine afternoon of manufactured weather, recently imported Polynesian voters who could not speak English, and Labour collecting votes from prison.

1 October: Once I was sure the books had arrived safely overseas, and there was some intelligence feedback, I changed the sign on my front door to: "Job done. Tell them you did it. Take the money . . ."

Job done.

Tell them you did it.

Take the money . . .

November: I began talking on Podcasts overseas. I was on New Zealand television once, but spoofed. It was promoted to me as a genuine interview, but the program then listed it as "CONSPIRACY SPECIAL". This advanced unhindered the career of Jeremy Wells (Newsboy) and was the excuse required for no New Zealand media coverage.

6 November: The Green MP Rod Donald was murdered by Helen Clark and Sian Elias using a heart gun.

April: My 14-year-old chooses to move in with me and has done so ever since. She reveals she Hapsburg and Maori royal.

7 September: I left a art show/ poetry reading Williams read at and my 4WD implodes. It looks like it could be fixed, so I spent the money, but it's still broken, so I sell it for less than the cost of repairs. $14,000 had turned into $600 in 18 months. The engine had been tweaked in a design to seize the vehicle while running at speed on the motorway, possibly causing it to flip and roll. Again, an NHI planned excuse. I called the AA for a tow.

1 October: Publish 2nd edition of 'Hitler Was a British Agent'.

7 November: Flat tyre. Called AA.

13 November: Overheating again. Called AA for tow.

2007

26 January: Publish 'How To Take Over The World, A Right Royal Con'.

22 February: Publish 'Stalin's British Training, Paedophiles at War'.

15 March: Government contract killer Kimball Johnson murdered by rapid cancer.[5]

11 May: Publish 'Gifting the United Nations to Stalin'.

11 May: Publish 2nd edition of 'How to Take Over The World, A Right Royal Con'.

10 June: Augie Auer murdered by Sian Elias/ Mossad and Helen Clark/ SIS.

27 July: Three of us poisoned on same day, two by coffee in my house.

26 September: Publish 2nd edition of 'Stalin's British Training, Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War'.

10 October: Publish 2nd edition of 'Gifting the United Nations to Stalin'.

26 October: Helen Clark tried to run me over in a government carpool car on Ayr Street during the printing of New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide. I thought about this, wrote up some notes, stopped the press, and inserted an 'Index' recording the event. Clark never refuted the claim of 'driving with intent to injure', and 'attempted murder with a motor vehicle'. (See Attachment "Y", 'Murder Attempts on Greg Hallett', Killer Nappies Driving Rage)

31 October: Published 'New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide'.

5 December: Publish 2nd edition of 'New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide'.

2008

14 February: Publish 3rd edition of 'New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide'.

14 February: Publish 3rd edition of 'How to Take Over the World, A Right Royal Con'.

22 March: Publish 3rd edition of 'Stalin's British Training, Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War'.

17–27 March: I noticed the right rear tyre on my Mercedes flat, at 12 psi, so I pumped it up to standard 32 psi. I checked the other tyres. The front left tyre was at 72 psi, and the front right tyre was at 55 psi – both extraordinarily high. It took me over a minute to let the air out of each tyre. These were over inflated by Labour Party activist with cigarette lighter air-pump and designed to blow. My petrol pump attendant said the tyres should have blown, especially as March is peak summer in what was a long hot summer. Three weeks before Helen Clark had been asked what she was going to do about me, and she replied: "We have something in store for Mr Hallett". It seems her plan was death by car accident and anyone else was NHI – 'No Humans Involved'. (See Attachment "Y")

31 March: Millie Elder/Holmes gets off scot-free, but with community service, on what could have been three x 9 years. Paul Holmes was never charged.

April: Had lunch with M who said: "The Bain murder case retrial is in three months. They are planting a juror who will disagree with everything. This will create a hung jury. David Bain will not get compensation and the police will not be to blame for stitching him up."

I said "Sian Elias did it using the Mossad". David was accused of murdering his entire family, but the police were having sex with two of the murdered daughters in brothels, as was their Freemason father at home.

The Jews control the Freemasons and will do anything to protect their name and reputation while they are still 'being useful'.

Helen Clark tried to murder Greg Hallett on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, July 2006, 27 July 2007, 26 October 2007, and 17–27 March 2008.

Sian Elais was involved in these murder attempts on 14–22 May 2004, July 2006, 27 July 2007, 17–27 March 2008. (There was another on 11 December 2009.)

Helen Clark ordered, and Sian Elias ran, the murders of Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Rod Donald and Augie Auer. All of them are dead.

If you could raise the dead, I'd be very happy, but I understand that is Christine Rankin's job. I'd be happy to question these people under oath, but it's my understanding that one cannot defame the dead. Still, if you wish to proceed, then I demand you present these entities as witnesses and get them to testify.

Following is Peter Alderidge Williams Queen's Counsel's 'slavery' contract, which he hid in his desk, never typed, never signed, never dated, never presented, and never discussed. It is the document he presented to the Disputes Tribunal in October 2008 as his reason not to pay. Even the Disputes Tribunal Referee Stuart Benson said: "Peter! This appears to be a slavery document!" Peter then rushed to Chief Justice Sian Elias to have the case he was losing, transferred to the District Court.

My answer is "Cypres"!

1. When the architect has successfully arranged the four houses to be on the owners property at Surrey Cres and all the four houses are ready for rent or sale and no requisitions or local body requirements are out-standing then the owner shall pay to the architect the sum of $30,000 plus G.S.T.

2. The project shall be completed within a reasonable time.

3. All out-going costs (except for minor disbursements of the architect) shall be paid by the owner but he must approve in advance all such major disbursements.

4. The architect shall provide all plans measurements and all documentation required by local bodies or other persons within the frame-work of this fee and shall always apply due diligence and a high professional standard of work.

5. The proposed project is that two addition relocatable houses shall be found by the architect with the approval of the owner and moved by an independent contractor onto the site making four houses total on the site.

6. The architect shall supervise all arrangements including the finishing work on all 4 houses and their environment not only to comply with all legal requirements but to a reasonable standard of finish thereby making the four houses and their environment attractive to future purchasers or tenants.

7. The architect shall attend to all work in connection with the proposed subdivision although a firm of solitictors will be employed to attend to legal work necessary.

8. No quantum meruit payments shall accrue to the architect as it is fundamental to the agreement that the project be brought to a successful and complete conclusion as stated above.

9. The owner however shall have the right to make progress payments to the architect at his discretion but reserves the right to sell the property prior to conclusion of this project and pay the architect a fair sum for his work to the date of sale.

10. If this project cannot proceed because of failure to comply with local body requirements or other reasons then neither party shall claim compensation against the other but the owner shall always reserve his right to vetoe the project."

Courts refuse to Settle Debts so Banks can charge Higher Interest

This undated and unsigned nine (9) page "agreement" that never was, fits into less than a page and takes about 5 minutes to type, yet in four years, Peter couldn't get it typed. Perhaps:

a) It never existed in the first place;
b) Peter didn't want his new typist to do the job and leak out she typed it in 2008; and
c) Peter's previous typist was a methamphetamine-using, cuckolding alcoholic.

One thing is for sure . . . the New Zealand judiciary cannot settle a debt. There is a reason for this. The Court "Bench" is latin for "Bank" and the banks control the courts.

The banks came up with this great idea called "visa card" where they would loan money at 22 % interest, instead of 8% interest. To force people to use these new credit cards, Visa ensured the courts would:

1. Not solve any debts;
2. Solve debts slowly so the credit cards were needed;
3. Ensure the court expenses outweighed the value of the debt;
4. Refuse to send their bailiff's to issue a civil notice of proceeding;
5. Allow the debtor to raise a plethora of interlocutory processional distractions to ensure the creditor was never paid;
6. Offer no security for collecting the debts once they were won;
7. Refuse to send their bailiff's to collect the civil debt.

In this way, any murders or attempted murders the Courts were involved in, Visa card were also involved in.

So now Visa participates in government murders.This includes the National Bank, the BNZ and the ANZ Visa also participates in attempted murders, boiler-plating, hobbling and blacklisting, and then offering credit lines while the target is being financially assassinated. (See "Z^{8}", 'The Auckland Deloitte CIA SuperCity', Rod Deane – Fiscal Treason gets a Front Row Seat)

As the banks are ruled and controlled by Jews, so are the courts.

The head of the judiciary in New Zealand is the Chief Justice Sian Elias. She is Jewish. She is also a $0.5 billion fraudster. She also runs the contract killings in New Zealand. That's a tight fit. It's all the same Jew.

It was Chief Justice Sian Elias who got the Queen's Counsel Peter Williams involved in attempting to murder me. This came as:

1. Employing me when he had a secret contract where he clearly had no intention to pay;
2. Soft kidnapping on his boat where two of his crew threatened to kill me a total of five (5) times;
3. Refusal to pay a simple $5,000 fee even though he clearly employed me and I clearly did all the work requested.
4. Begging the Chief Justice (who requested he assist in the murder attempt) to transfer the case from the Disputes Tribunal to the District Court, thus causing delays, delays, and more delays. (It still wasn't heard by February 2009.)

How could the Chief Justice refuse Peter Williams?

She had asked him to get involved in the physical/ financial assassination in the first place.

And how could Peter Williams refuse the Chief Justice Sian Elias?

She has the wood on him.

As the final Sex Collector in New Zealand, Sian Elias knows that one of Peter's children is not his, that Peter is heavily cuckolded, that he was involved in the financial syndicate investments with Mr Asia, that he is into Asian porn, that he 'bonds' other lawyers by showing them porn, that he is a bisexual, that he stuck his hand up a 17-year-old Maori boy's bottom outside the High Court on 2 July 2008 (Parliament Street side) as he looked down on lodgements, that he has had prostate cancer, and lacks the testicals to testify, and does not testify.

What we will most likely see in this District Court case is the Chief Justice Sian Elias abusing the court process to ensure all of the above – obstruction of justice.

It has already happened, and . . .

It will continue until common New Zealanders start pointing the finger en masse at the gross misgivings of the New Zealand courts, but more particularly, point the finger at the compromised individuals in it, and the Bank's control of it.

> So, when we go to court, we are actually going to Visa to ensure that we will continue to pay three (3) times the normal interest for much longer, and will not be making a credit creating deposit any time soon.

. . . and the money Visa makes off the corrupted courts each day looks a lot like this . . .

Peter Alderidge Williams QC's 'Slavery Contract' analysed point by point

"Agreement between P. A. Williams (owner) and Gregory Hallett (architect)

1. The job could easily take two (2) years and only when everything is said and done will Williams pay Hallett any amount. $30,000 is half the original amount, and at least $15,000–$30,000 less than Hallett's typed, signed, dated and presented quotes.

2. The project shall be completed in an unspecified time according to the whims of Williams. If Williams says jump, Hallett has to jump 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. (Williams would actually ring at 4.45 am on a Saturday morning.)

3. Hallett shall pay for all his costs including travel, phone calls, printing and disbursements. Major costs will be paid by the owner, and the owner can decide whether or not he pays, or stops the project. This can be 50 % or 99 % of the way through the project.

4. Hallett shall provide a prompt high professional level of work 24/7 until the last person, contractor, and council involved are statisfied. Hallett is not entitled to any payment in the meantime, and won't be paid until the entire job is complete. The project can be stopped at any time by the owner, with no payment required.

5. Hallett shall measure, draw and redesign the two existing houses and find two new houses, arrange for them to be moved on site, redesign them, supervise the completion of all four houses, and get Williams approval, still without payment.

6. Hallett shall supervise the completion of all four houses and landscaping for sale or rent . . .

7. Hallett shall complete everything, including the subdivision. The only thing Williams does is the the legal work.

8. If the project is not completed, if it is stopped or halted by the owner at any time during the project, Hallett gets no payment.

9. Williams can make progress payments if and when he chooses and can sell the property during the project and pay Hallett whatever he chooses is fair and reasonable.

10. If this project does not proceed for any reason, at any time, including Williams not paying a bill, then Hallett is not due any money. Williams reserves the right to stop the project at any time and not pay Hallett."

What Peter Alderidge Williams QC's 'Slavery Contract' actually says

"Unpresented unsigned, undated Agreement of
Peter Alderidge Williams QC
(Property Owner/ Slave Driver)
and
Greg Hallett (Bachelor of Architecture)
(Placed unaware and unforewarned in Involuntary Servitude/ Slavery)

The maximum paid will be half what was originally asked. The job could easily take two (2) years. Hallett will pay all his costs in the meantime and these will not be added to the final sum due. Hallett is not entitled to any payment during these two years.

The project shall be completed in an unspecified timeframe according to the unspoken, unwritten, unspecified wishes of Williams (Slave Master).

Hallett is to provide prompt high professional work 24/7 for these two years without payment until the last person, contractor, and council involved are statisfied.

Hallett shall measure, draw and redesign the two existing houses and shall find two new houses, arrange for them to be moved on site, redesign these, supervise the completion of all four houses (a building contractor's job) and landscaping (a landscaping contractor's job) for sale or rent, do all the architectural work, supervise any building, roading, landscaping and subtrades, until completion, complete and gain subdivision, gain council approval, and Williams' (Slaver) approval, all without any payment for those two years.

No payments are due until Hallett has completed everything, right down to the last detail.

Slave Master Williams can stop the project at any time and Hallett does not get paid."

If Slave Master Williams does not to pay any quote and the project stops, then Hallett does not get paid.

Slave Master Williams can pay all major costs, but if he decides any bill is too much, he can stop the project. In such a case, Hallett does not get paid.

Slave Master Williams can stop the project 99% of the way through and Hallett does not get paid.

If the project is stopped by the owner at any time during the project, Hallett does not get paid.

Slave Master Williams can sell the property during the project and pay Hallett whatever he deems reasonable.

Slave Master Williams can make progress payments to Hallett, if and when he chooses.

With Slave Master Williams 2 March 2009 counterclaim, it's even worse: 'I never requested the work done and claim no liablity to pay Hallett' no matter how progressed the project is; and Slave Master Williams 'does not have to pay Hallett if he writes anything Slave Master Williams doesn't like about any person dead or alive', even when it was published three years after the contract works were done . . . and Peter contributed in concept and detail.

This backs up Slave Master Peter Alderidge Williams QC's "agreement" as a contract for slavery and should be enough to have Peter Alderidge Williams QC STRUCK OFF.

Greg Hallett affirms that Peter Alderidge Williams Queen's Counsel is a Slaver

Of my four contracts with Williams, all typed, dated, signed, presented and discussed, this is most pertinent: "Payment is due pro rata for any work done."

In the 14 months I worked on the project (July 2003–September 2004) Williams (Slaver) made no payments for disbursements, stopped the project as soon as he got a quote he did not like from his selected consulting engineer, and terminated my involvement as soon as he got my interim bill for $5,000.00.

During the works, Williams made no offer for payment as required by my/our contract, and made no up front payment as required by my/our fourth contract – another counter offer and acceptance.

Williams never presented his hidden, untyped, unsigned, undated, "agreement".
Peter Alderidge Williams QC is a slaver.

A lose definition of slavery is:

> 'Having no rights as a citizen, expected to work at no cost to themselves > for no money, in exchange for shelter and food enough to survive.'

Williams (Slaver) provided no rights to Hallett (he took them away with an unpresented slavery contract). Williams (Slaver) demanded Hallett cover all work related costs. Williams (Slaver) demanded Hallett work professionally 24/7 and did not pay any money towards food or shelter, or any form of remuneration whatsoever.

"Contract slavery occurs when people are tricked or compelled into signing contracts requiring them to work under conditions that amount to slavery. Slavery is a form of forced labor where a person is compelled to work for another and deprived of the right to receive compensation."[6]

Freedom from slavery is an internationally recognised human right.
Article 4 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights:
"No one shall be held in slavery or servitude; slavery and the slave trade shall be prohibited in all their forms."

"Involuntary Servitude is illegal. It is a United States legal and constitutional term for a person laboring to benefit another under some form of coercion, like an offer of payment with no payment made, and/or a hidden agreement or agenda to not pay. Unlike Chattel Salvery, Involuntary Servitude does not require a complete lack of freedom and isn't dependent upon compensation, or the amount paid, but the end result is free labour."[7]

> "It is guaranteed that all men are neither held nor placed in an untenable position of involuntary servitude. One acting as an officer of the law construed against this law is tantamount to fraud.
>
> Ignorance of the law is never a valid excuse/reason for the commission of any wrongful/inequitable act or crime.
>
> Any excuse is an admission as to the primary liability of the maker.
>
> Silence and non-response is an honourable indication as to their [Williams] tacit assent, passive acquiescence, cognovit affirmative, acceptance by silence, admission of guilt, confession, or avoidance plea, and [Williams] is liable for a fourfold commercial liability for the honourable settlement without laches of any previously raised outstanding or contradictory matter(s).
> All men shall have prevailing equity available to them, a remedy by the due course and process of law.
> If a remedy does not appear to exist [within the Courts], or if the existing remedy appears to have been subverted [payment subverted by Williams interfering in the course of justice, and further subverted by Williams counterclaim], then one may equitably create a remedy for themselves and endow it with credibility by expressing such in their affidavit."[8]

In Williams' case, he is offering excuses, all of them out of the timeframe of the contract, as well as ongoing defamation, and an ongoing processional distraction in the form of a countersuit. Since Hallett has done the work and hasn't been paid, this is another one of Peter's bisexual oblique non sequiturs.

In such a case, a fourfold commercial liability is due. This might well turn out to be four (4) times the original contract sum (4 x $60,000).

Peter Alderidge Williams QC is guilty of Fraud and Financial Assassination

As a lawyer, Peter Alderidge Williams QC is guilty of fraud.

When Williams' five counts of 'threatening to kill' failed to result in a death, he resorted to financial assassination. (See letter next page)

Peter Alderidge Williams QC found marked, measured and wanting

Peter Alderidge Williams QC has been found marked, measured and wanting.

Peter Alderidge Williams falls well below the integrity levels required of a Queen's Counsel, and well below the integrity levels required of a common citizen.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC removed from the silk and struck from the bar

Peter Alderidge Williams QC must be removed from the silk and struck from the bar, pay his bill, plus the threefold penalty for his dishonour, have his passport removed, and be sent to prison for slavery and defrauding a citizen with a slant to murder with multiple threats thereof.

Cypres, Peter, I claim Cy-près

Cypres, Peter, I claim Cy-près . . . as a remedy to the Queen's Counsel Peter Alderidge Williams' untyped, undated, unsigned, unpresented "quantum meruit", first presented four years later in October 2008 and having impossible and illegal conditions amounting to the slavery of a Negro descendant.[9]

[9] Cypres (cy-près doctrine): 'Where an impossible condition, an illegal condition, an impossible or illegal limitation, or impossible or illegal object/ive is in place, then the nearest practicable legal position is enforced as the contract.'

Wikipedia: "A typical example would be a trust established to turn public opinion against slavery. Once slavery was abolished, the trust's stated purpose had become impossible to effect. The court will then modify the particular purpose of the trust, leaving it within the same general charitable purpose. In Jackson v. Phillips, the testator bequeathed to trustees money to be used to 'create a public sentiment that will put an end to negro slavery in this country'. Thereafter, slavery was abolished by the Thirteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The funds were nevertheless applied cy-près to the 'use of necessitous persons of African descent . . .' [Jackson v. Phillips, (1867) 96 Mass. 539, 541, 597]" Cy-près also means that everyone should be paid for their work done.

The America Bar influences the International Bar of which the New Zealand Bar is a member. The cy-près doctrine removes slavery and impossible illegal conditions, especially when they amount to slavery, and especially for someone of Negro descent, like myself from the Cape Verde Islands.

Hallett's letter to Williams on 26 April 2005 and the 28–31 August 2004 Murder Threats

This letter was in addition to the third account sent to Williams:

> ". . . On 28 August 2004 I sailed with you to Waiheke Island where I was to be dropped off to return documents to a friend and then catch the ferry back. Instead of taking me to the ferry, you took me to a bay on the opposite side of the Island with no wharf, road, or mobile reception. You refused to take me to the ferry or to any landing place . . .
> At the time of stepping on your boat for the first time, I did not realise (nor was I warned) the depth of the incompetence of your sailing friends . . .
> Your other mate, Albi [Orme], the Maori All Black lawyer [and Williams' researcher] proved to be as socially adept as your Christian sychophant. He spent the nights drunk and his days sleeping it off while bragging about how great Maori sailors were. This was interspersed with threats to kill, of which I received at least four. [You kept plying him with alcohol] As captain and employer, I take these to come indirectly from you (I first met him at your place) and your vicious Rottweiler dog to be another standing threat.
> Considering the threats received on my life by your crew, it is debateable as to whether this was a kidnapping. In the least, the threats made me think twice about sending you an account.
>
> That being so, on the return from Great Barrier to Kawau Island the winds came up. Albi was asleep and failed to pull a rope the entire journey. Kevin, the long faced Christian, spent his day in the galley, only to surface to deck for vomiting. This left you and I as the remaining sailors. I doubt you would have managed alone, which left me to sail your boat, and in some ways, save your life. From what I hear, you were impressed enough to spread it around that you were considering me as your 'first mate'.
> Imagine how stunned I was to receive your abusive phone call and refusal to pay after I had completed your development to a point, been kidnapped? saved your life and those of your two friends. This certainly shows that my experience of you is far less than your historical reputation, although it does match with your current reputation amongst at least some of Auckland's lawyers . . . that you are 'past your use by date'. Sad but true.
>
> I trust that this mild-mannered dressing down will go some way towards a reality check for you. Perhaps when you remove your threatening dogs and sycophants, your true friends may come around and have a conversation, as opposed to what happens now – long-faced Christians sitting at your feet singing koom-by-ya and saying that you're the reincarnation of a Chinese emperor. He's a little way off. The best reflection of you is your admission to being into Asian porn.
>
> Perhaps I should finish with quotes from my third contract to you . . . 'pro-rata payments taking precedents over any work delayed outside my control.' . . ."

I'd hate to be Marty Johnstone

I'd hate to be Marty Johnstone . . . no hands, no teeth, and dead. All because he sold drugs in competition to Terry Clark a.k.a. Mr Asia . . . and Peter Williams QC's junior lawyer Karen Soich was Mr Asia's girlfriend. Her role was keeping an eye on the financial investments of New Zealand businessmen who had taken a risk on heroin trafficking . . . interesting!

Marty Johnstone's former flatmate in the flats on Bellevue Road next to the entrance to the Mt Eden Swimming Pools talking to the author on 9 March 2009: "The order to murder Marty definitely came from New Zealand. Marty was killed in England in October 1979. It was the syndicate, but one person had to make the phone call."

Internal Affairs Officer, 20 February 2009: "Peter Preece is a Forensic Accountant in the Fraud Squad. He's a civilian. He's okay. He's the only one with any brains in the entire Police Fraud Squad. They're investigating you."

Author: "What, on Williams' request I bet. Is that not the mark of a guilty person."

Peter Williams Intelligence Friend ("PWIF"), 11 March 2009: "Peter didn't get Sian Elias to intervene. They're not friends. The Referee Stuart Benson should not have accepted Peter's evidence of reading out of your book about himself, and that was what got Stuart's bosses angry, so now they're looking at dismissing him."

Author: "Well that's a turn for the books".

PWIF: "Don't quote me on this . . . Now what would you take from Williams to keep it out of court? "

Author: "Ten grand".

PWIF: "He won't pay that".

Internal Affairs Officer, 12 March 2009: "Don't quote me on this but Peter Preece has looked into you and he reported back, 'He seems to be fine, a nice honest young man'."

Author: "Oh good. That's great."

Internal Affairs Officer: "The QCs have had a look at your slavery charge against Williams and they're all saying, 'He's a sitting duck for slavery. We wish we had thought of it".

Author: "Ha ha. I know. It is slavery!"

Internal Affairs Officer: "All the Black Africans are getting excited about it. The Black guys are talking about it. The Ethiopians approached me and said: 'We didn't know who Hallett was until your name turned up and we reckon you run him'. I said: 'No, he runs himself'. They said: 'How can he charge for slavery when he's white?' I said: 'He's got a little Black in him', and they said: 'Oh perfect, a Black man with a white face – all the advantages of court. We're watching it with interest as we want to charge our employers with slavery.'

"So don't be surprised if there are a few Black people in the audience listening and watching."

Author: "I told Williams once 'I sprang from a Black African who swam two miles out to a whaling ship and ended up in Sydney, then Stewart Island, lived in a cave on the neighbouring island and renamed it 'Brava', after Bravo Island in the Cape Verdes'.

"Then that comedian Billy Connolly did a story on it. Yeah, it was my mother who told him the story. She met Billy on Stewart Island where she lives. Billy got most of it right. Gomez used to live in a cave. He had 22 kids, 21 survived. On his deathbed his kids were standing around calling him an arsehole and he jumped out of bed and chased them around the room with a knife. By 'room' I mean the entire house. All of them used to live off one cow, one sheep, root vegetables and the fish they could catch. They used to row a mile to Stewart Island to school. Hard doers. Then his grandson married Ernest Godward's daughter – you know New Zealand's greatest inventor – the Godward Gas Generator, the hair clip, the hair curler, the eggbeater, employer of Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) as vice president, friends and near working neighbour's of Tesla and two US presidents . . . I've really got to finish 'Flying the Planet'. Must get that story out on how we dropped the Berlin Wall."

Internal Affairs Officer: "The last two are hard to believe. I don't understand the science, but your timing of the Berlin Wall all fits and ties in with what the Spymaster reported to you from the BND – German Intelligence. BND first stood for 'Brothels 'n Deutschland'."

Author: "Few believed the stories of white slavery either". . .

And we have to remember the judicial system is set up to destroy good men".

Tu'uaki mei Tonga mo Nu'usila

Prince William opens New Zealand Supreme Court for Mystery Judge

Prince William will officially represent The Queen for the first time when he formally gives his royal sovereign endorsement at the opening of the N.Z. Supreme Court in Wellington on 18 Jan. 2010.

This royal event is now tarnished by the actions of the N.Z. Prime Minister Hon. John Key, his Minister for Justice and the N.Z. Chief Justice.

On 22 Dec. 2009 the New Zealand Police issued case file number 091218/6055 against the N.Z. Prime Minister and his Minster for Justice on charges under the Crimes Act 1961.

The Police will undertake a full investigation on both Ministers. The Minister for Police is aware of this investigation.

To date, no public statement has been made by the New Zealand Government keeping this information secret until the Kele'a breaks this exclusive news.

Since March 2009 the N.Z. Government knew that the Courts operate outside the Law. This information was denied to The Queen with no knowledge of such unconstitutional practices happening in the New Zealand Courts.

The Kele'a believes The Queen must know that N. Z. judges do not disclose their name on judgment documents. There are judgments made at Court of Appeal and Supreme Court level without reasons giving. One may wonder why judges in N.Z. do not uphold the Law and the Constitution?

The Supreme Court replaces the independent Privy Council in London, which was strongly recognized for its constitutional robustness and sound judicial decisions.

To date The Queen and the people of New Zealand have been denied knowledge of the Courts' unlawful practices.

The Prime Minster, his Minister for Justice including the Chief Justice refused several times to give 'Statements of Confidence' for the performance of their Courts when requested.

The official Police investigation now under way will ensure that Law and Order will be re-established. The Police operates under an Oath to serve The Queen faithfully.

The Governor General representing The Queen was fully aware of all this, but has not proven to date he has informed The Queen under his duties.

To save The Queen and Prince William from embarrassment, all members of the N.Z. Parliament including the Executive Branch of Government were notified on 22 Dec. 2009 that the Supreme Court cannot produce a 'Statement of Confidence' which would meet The Queen's constitutional standards.

The dilemma is for what reason will The Queen allow Prince William to open the N.Z. Supreme Court without being sure why the PM Hon. John Key, his Minister for Justice and the N.Z. Chief Justice have not been able and were not willing to give a 'Statement of Confidence'.

Opening the Supreme Court without a 'Statement of Confidence' will undermine The Queen, Prince William and the Royal Family reputation as the Constitutional Monarch.

Kele'a, Tonga, p. 26, 13 January 2010.

Supreme Court Failure

With the transfer of the allegiance of the Supreme Court from Britain to Israel, the Queen could not open it. It had to be done by a Rothschild, so Prince William did it – opening the new Supreme Court building in Wellington on 18 January 2010.

With Chief Justice Sian Seerpoohi Elias being put on notice on 2 July 2008 for the murder of Michael King and the attempted murder of Greg Hallett (with no reply) and being published in New Zealand and America as organising and subcontracting out murders, as a contract killer – both in books, in the court, on radio, podcast and YouTube – a Statement of Confidence could not be produced.

The courts are operating well outside the law, and in the realms of mafia, doing contract killings – subcontracting them out, destroying people's futures, unable to settle a debt, trafficking heroin, manufacturing methamphetamines with police and lawyers and police who are made lawyers, funding the subcontracting of murders, laundering the drug money, then blacklisting or murdering anyone with the nous to find out, or who speaks out, or is about to speak out.

New Zealand has been under a media blackout for 40 years, ever since the Communists took over under the guise of Feminism – and didn't tell anyone that's what they were.

Mossad Murders in New Zealand

Why the Police Create Crime and Support Murder

The Murder of Michael King – New Zealand's Preeminent Cultural Historian

I heard about this in October 2003 while waiting for my cup of tea. When no one picked these up, Sian Elias had her hand raised by the Mossad who eagerly carried out the murders for her – males only. The same crowd tried to kill me in April 2002, August 2002, and May 2004, but I told them I wasn't available and named them instead.

There names are Zev William Barkan, Uriel Zoshe Kelman, Elisha Cara, an Auckland University lecturer and Auckland Jewish Council member, Anthony David Reznik, and a Mosssad agent living on Auckland's Waiheke Island called Yaron – a former Israeli Tank Commander who got stuck in the mud outside my place while doing reconnaissance. The cottage has since burnt down.

There were also several other Israelis doing reconnaissance on me, one of whom worked at Placemakers, owned by Fletchers, formerly run by Hugh Fletcher, the husband of the Chief Justice, Jewess Sian Elias, the Prime Minister's contract killer and the highest ranking Sayanim in the country.

> Sayanim are: "Jews living outside Israel that volunteer to provide assistance to the Israeli Mossad. Includes facilitating medical care, money, logistics, and even overt intelligence gathering. Estimates put the number of sayanim in the hundreds of thousands."[1]

M: "Israel has the best spy network because every Jew is a spy".

Zev William Barkan had been an Israeli diplomat in Vienna for several years where he specialised in murder. Like the American embassies, which have at least two contract killers present at any given time, Israel's embassies have more.

Then Zev Barkan ran a studio making snuff and porno movies on the Mekong river at Pen Yau in Cambodia. Here they were also arranging car accidents, and fiddling with death certificates and passports. Barkan (a.k.a. Ze'ev Bruckstein, Kevin William Hunter) moved from simple snuff movies to filming the suicides of vagrants, Russian roulette and contract killing for his government, or any other government.

Barkan was in New Zealand 3–20 March 2004 and travels as Kevin William Hunter under a Canadian passport, with other reports stating he skipped New Zealand in April 2004,[2] just in time to complete the Michael King murder. It wasn't hard to get in and out of New Zealand as two immigration agencies are run by former paedophile MPs – Sir Roger Douglas and Aussie Malcom.

It wasn't hard for these Mossad contract killers to get assistance. There are 1500 Israeli agents in the South Island and a similar number in the North Island – so that's 3000 or so. When you include the Sayanim (fulltime Mossad agents who live as locals) they probably have 5000 potential agents in New Zealand, as well as the synagogues and embassies to hide in. With Israel's influence, the Mossad are not limited to one embassy, but could hide in any embassy. All they have to do is cite the sodomy of one of the diplomats. Since the Diplomatic Corp is the 'Sodomy Olympics', a guess is as good as a confirmation.

The two Israeli agents caught were Uriel Kelman and Eli Cara. All the rest got away scot-free to this day. Kelman and Cara pleaded guilty of the passport frauds, were charged NZ$50,000 each (to be paid to a cerebral palsy charity) and sentenced to six months in prison. The maximum sentence was five years.

Labour MP Ruth Dyson was the Minister for Senior Citizens and Disability Issues when the passport fraud against the tetraplegic was being set up and in progress . . . so Ruth Dyson also appears to be an accomplice to the Mossad Elworthy/King murders. Ruth Dyson is a former prostitute and is easily compromised in exchange for her retaining position. She had also lost her driver licence twice for drunk driving while an MP.

One of the Sayanim was Auckland Jewish Council member Tony Resnick (a.k.a. David Resnick , Anthony David Reznik) who worked as an ambulance officer for St John Ambulance. This gave him access into the home of the cerebral palsy victim whose passport was stolen for the Israeli diplomat assassin.

Spymaster, 4 March 2010: "Reznik was actually Dr. Anthony David Reznik who played dumb to become an ambulance driver, and even said so to a fellow driver: 'He was very bright and tried hard not to show it . . . There is no doubt in my mind that the whole murder was jacked up by St. John's Ambulance. They do business on an everyday basis with the Mossad in the Middle East. They're as crooked as. When the Mossad rings them, it's how high do we have to jump'."

Israelis are renown for attacking victims, something the Jewish Catholic Freemason-controlled New Zealand courts emulate, and the cerebral palsy victim whose identity was stolen, had been unable to speak for several years, and was unable to travel. The passport botch up was loud and obvious. It took all media attention away from the murders – which were loud, obvious, well-timed, in-snyc, and comparable to the 19 January 2010 murder of Mahmoud al-Mabhouh.

Foreign Minister Phil Goff: "Cara's passports could be for 'an assassination in a third country'."[3] That's right Phil, but the third country was New Zealand and the passport was for the Israeli diplomat and contract killer Zev Barkan, already Ze'ev Bruckstein & Kevin William Hunter.

Phil Goff's misdirected information suggests he was involved in his second murder. His first was being a willing accessory to the murder of the Rainbow Warrior lawyer/ WTO lawyer/ Ambassador to Iran, Chris Beeby in March 2000, along with Helen Clark – Prime Minister of three months. She didn't waste any time. (See Attachment "W", 'The Murder of Chris Beeby')

Helen Clark bowed to pressure and let Kelman and Cara out after 76 days (2½ months). They were released before dawn to an immigration official who presented them with deportation orders, drove them to the Auckland Airport and placed them on a business class flight to Hong Kong, the last country they were in.

Business Class! It was business and it was government business. They then flew to Israel. When Reznik fled, he took the same route, via Hong Kong.

It has never been explained what this pressure was, but Israel, with its six (6) Cray computers,[4] and running Russia from at least 1917, had all the dirt on Helen Clark (KGB), so much so, that she became one of their assets post-Michael King's murder.

So in 2004, Helen Clark expanded from KGB agent to also being an Israeli asset.

The excuse given was that Kelman and Cara were "given the maximum remission for good behaviour",[5] but they spent the whole time inside complaining and bitching to various governments and governmental heads, and were only in prison from 15 July to 29 September 2004 – so only 40 % of their sentence was served.

The fourth person involved was a lecturer at the University of Auckland where Sian Elias' husband, Hugh Fletcher, was made Chancellor on 18 October 2004, just months after the January, March and June murders, and after the complete lack of investigation into any of them.

Two of the four Mossad agents were imprisoned in July 2004, released from Mt Eden Prison in September 2004, and 19 days later, Hugh Fletcher was made Chancellor of the University of Auckland, a.k.a. Murder Inc..

This places the Mossad time served at 20%.

The question is, was Hugh Fletcher made Chancellor of the University of Auckland because his wife – the mischling Jewess Chief Justice Sian Elias (Sayanim) – arranged for the early release of the "passport fraud" Mossad agents who were running a cover operation for the murders she was contracted to do by the sexually compromised KGB Prime Minister Helen Clark?, or was it just a coincidence of timing, spheres of influence, career promotions, and a total lack of investigation.

The entire 'passport operation' was a distraction for the murders the New Zealand Prime Minister had ordered and the Chief Justice was carrying out. The passport fraud was the fallback position.

Eli Cara specialised in distraction operations and Zev Barkan specialised in murder. The passport fraud was for Zev Barkan – the murderer. The prostitute MP Ruth Dyson sat on the sidelines in support, as did the Foreign Minister Phil Goff – experienced in accessory to murder.

This information was never raised in court, nor were the timely deaths of Sir Peter Elworthy (13 January 2004) and Michael King (29 March 2004), nor were they treated as murders, nor were they investigated.

David McNee's 20 July 2003 murder was also covered up. Hugh Fletcher was directly involved. Sian Elias and Helen Clark ran the cover up. Judge Coral Shaw then covered up for her husband Peter Shaw who had been assaulted by the murderer some six hours prior. Peter Shaw also belonged to Hugh Fletcher's child sex abuse clique and was his Art Curator.

The only reason Zev Barkan was caught was that he spoke with a Canadian accent and this raised suspicion in the passport official (Internal Affairs). No other agency did anything then, nor have they done anything in the five years since.

Zev Barkan was allowed to complete his mission and escape.

In the late 1990s, Eli Cara headed a specialist surveillance unit in the Mossad's Neviot department, which collected intelligence by street surveillance, break-ins and installing listening devices.[6]

Neviot means 'spring of water' – and their surveillance brought in information like a spring of water.

> In late 1998, Eli Cara sent two inexperienced Mossad officers from Finance HQ (sell drugs, control sex, take bribes) and the Research Department (foreign sexual deviancy). These two, Udi Hargov and Igal Damary, were sent in to the Zigi fishing village on the southern coast of Cyprus, along with their equipment, radio communication scanners, a laptop computer, cellular phones and eight maps of Cyprus.
> The owner of the holiday flat they rented saw these two foreign boffins with all their equipment and called the police. The 'finance and research' Mossad were charged with spying on "very sensitive army operations" at the nearby Vassiliko port. It wasn't great cover.

Most 'countries' considered it prestigious to be a member of the exclusive club and wore neckties with a tiny mosaic of national flags of 'Club of Cray-Operating Countries'. Australasia had one tie between them. By 2000, the Cray-1 supercomputer market was superseded by the DEC Alpha-based Cray T3D and Cray T3E series."

In fact, it was bad cover, but it did serve to show that, internationally, Israel can put enough pressure on governments, so that any decision can be made in their favour.

This pressure also includes legal cases in foreign countries for which Israeli's are not involved, as well as pressure from other governments which Israel has influence over – America and many European nations. The two boffins at Finance HQ and R&D were getting practical lessons into their department's influence over the rest of the world.

A change is as good as a holiday and Cyprus was a departmental field trip.

The Mossad boffins pleaded not guilty. Behind the scenes pressure came from Israel's Attorney-General to Cyprus' Attorney-General Alecos Markides (twice); at least two US senators; and a European cabinet minister approached Cyprus' President Glafcos Clerides.

Cyprus dropped its pants and the "spying and conspiracy" charges were replaced with one "minor telecommunications charge" and "approaching a restricted area". The Mossad boffins got three years, but after nine months were pardoned by President Glafcos Clerides.

With the Cray computer, Israel has records of all the world's scandals (from 1976) and can put enormous pressure on governments. Nine months out of a 36-month sentence suggests that Israel has 75% control over the Cyprus judiciary and government. This would be a fair summation of Israel's influence over most world's governments and judiciaries.

In New Zealand's case, the Judiciary is run by the Sayanim Mossad agent Sian Elias who then created the Supreme Court, thus moving final legal decision from London to Tel Aviv, and effectively the nation's allegance from Britain to Israel.

Now New Zealanders have to suck up to Israel instead of the Queen of England.

Mossad Commander Eli Cara was content with the Cyprus bungle, including the false charges. They were, in fact, spying on Lebanese Hezbollah. That the operation was caught and stopped does not mean it was a complete failure. It only means that it was successful up to that point. It may not have paid dividends, but it was carried off as a distraction while another 2,500 Mossad operations (approx.) around the world went untouched. The 'bungle' became known as "the Cyprus fiasco".

Complicit with this, Eli Cara was moved sideways into the staff department and then promoted by his long-standing friend, Hagai Hadas (Head of Assassinations), to head the "New Zealand/ Australia operation".

It is rare for Operations to have one goal. Usually they have a primary goal, a secondary goal, and any other role that gets attached along the way. If any succeed, it's a success.

In the New Zealand/ Australia/ Asia case, the primary role was murder, either for snuff movies, or to remove anyone in New Zealand who was in the way of the Zionist agenda and the success of their agents, whether Mossad, or KGB – an offshoot of the Mossad.

The secondary role was obtaining first class fraudulent passports (those that pass government checks).

Hagai Hadas (a.k.a. 'H'), a former paratrooper, was director of Headquarters Directorate. In the 1990s he was head of Massada (the top secret Kesaria Unit) of which Kidon was the assassination unit. Kidon was the cream of the Mossad and it specialised in death, as much of Israel does.

You only have to quote "Middle East Peace Talks" as the ongoing fraud that Jews are peaceful people.

As head of the Kesaria Unit, Hagai Hadas ran the Mossad's most secret agents ('Lohamim' or 'Combatants'). The Combatants were usually Jews of Arab origin who spoke Arabic [Yaron gave me a rare dialect Arabic translation on Waiheke Island]. They were very often Druze. With borrowed identities and false passports they were sent to foreign countries, mostly oil-rich Arabic countries, to conduct special operations, which tended to involve murder.

Murder compliance is Israel's modus operandi.

To avoid press coverage and police investigation, these murders were most often made to look like accidents – more so in the West – and in the West, the Kidon assassins tended to look like their target population.

Massada/ Kesaria/ Kidon Lohamim/ Combatants/ Assassins in the West were Jewish contract killers that did not look like Arabs.

Israel had long learnt from the Druze, who merged into their target population and took on their customs. The Jewish version of the 'compliant Druze living in non-arabic countries' are known as 'Sayanim'. These Jews are effectively full-time Mossad staff living in foreign countries, often with dual citizenship and an accent that is neither local, nor Israeli, but of an intermediate country where they were Westernised.

Zev Barkan's mistake was his Canadian accent.

Sayanim take their wages from the country they occupy and ensure that each other are promoted, and not investigated.

The Sayanim are not prevented from promotion. As an example, when they marry a Freemason and are involved in the judiciary or government, there is no limit to their promotion, or their corruption, and their crimes go unchallenged. Rather, they are usually elevated to the top positions. The Cray computer has something to do with this. Israel has six (6). New Zealand and Australia share one (1).

It was a long-term plan and Israel was not short of time or money in its plans for conquest or compliance. Nor has Israel ever been limited by its methods. Israel considers its Sayanims from birth and even arranges their marriages, which are often marriages for cover. In this way, a wealthy paedophile Freemason may find himself married to a michling Jewess who is then promoted up the ranks of the judiciary faster than a compromised judge's guilty verdict.

It is preferable that the Sayanim's parents were compromised as this shows a lack of morality in the Sayanim child. A lack of morality is much valued by the Mossad. In Sian Elias' case, her father, a Jewish doctor, was having sex with his patients on the doctor's table in exchange for exaggerating the number of their children for Social Welfare. So it was prostitution where the government paid for the sex. If that ain't Jewish . . .

Sian Elias stonewalled the investigation into her father and has sex with her chauffeur in the back seat outside official functions. She sits on top and sings. All of her chauffeurs have to be young and virile men, and even then she goes through them quicker than Bali-Belly.

When Israel's General Meir Dagan was appointed director of the Mossad in September 2002 he restructured the Mossad into two – the 'Operational Directorate' and the 'Headquarters Directorate' for which he hired paratrooper Hagai Hadas to head. This made Hagai Hadas in charge of non-operations and long-term planning – anything but the killing.

Killings were to be done by General Dagan's Operations Directorate which would be tagged onto Hadas' long-term non-operations, like passport fraud. If non-operations became a fiasco, it didn't particularly matter as several 'operations' would already have been accomplished using the non-operations compliance, base, influence, contacts and cover.

Once operations had succeeded overseas, often for foreign government's own contract killings, to save face, non-operations would be charged with a minor crime (passport fraud or spying and conspiracy), the charges would be reduced (to minor telecommunications and approaching a restricted area), the sentences would be reduced (from 3 years to 9 months, or 6 months to 2½ months) . . . and those who put out the contracts would be promoted through the Jewish controlled media and made to look like patriotic saints (Helen Clark and Sian Elias), and everyone would be happy, especially the police, who were instructed in no uncertain terms that no investigation was to take place.

'Guilty by association' people would then be promoted into no effort honorary positions like Chancellor of a university – Hugh Fletcher.

Haaretz: "It is typical of the Mossad culture that there was no serious internal inquiry into the 'botched' operation in New Zealand, just as there was none in Cyprus. When the New Zealand passport scandal broke Dagan simply 'ordered division heads to make their staff sign a secrecy document pledging that they would not talk' about the affair."[7]

As a result of 50 years of contract killing the Mossad now has a culture of backbiting, disillusionment and resignations, but as M says: "The Mossad always have an unlimited supply of spies. Every Jew is a spy. Every Jew outside Israel is a Sayanim and every Jew inside Israel is a potential Sayanim."

"The Mossad is in deep trouble and less and less appreciated by its foreign counterparts. The Mossad has been overtaken in effectiveness internally by the Israel Security Service (Shabak) and by other western agencies internationally."[8] The latter is more accurately read as follows:

> 'The Mossad control all foreign intelligence agencies and all intelligence agencies have now been instructed by their governments – all of which are double agent governments working against their own people – to assist the Mossad by whatever means possible, while still saving face.
> The Mossad have accomplished this via the Cray computer, murder compliance, falsifying records, a long history of falsifying records, manufacturing oral statements after recording a voice for ten seconds, supplying prostitutes to prominenti, supplying child prostitutes to prominenti, placing prostitutes as MPs, and supplying drugs into countries with government compliance . . . usually from the President, Prime Minister, Intelligence head, or 2IC, and the police, usually the spokesman (Greg O'Connor) and the Minister, or the soon-to-be Police Minister (Annette King).
> This includes the American NATO Israel-controlled Afghan heroin mountain.
> It also includes New Zealand.'

When General Meir Dagan was appointed director of the Mossad in September 2002[9] he hired Hagai Hadas as Mossad No. 3. This made paratrooper Hadas responsible for long-term planning and non-operational units. Neither were good picks.

General Meir Dagan was appointed by Prime Minister Ariel Sharon, the Butcher of Qana, Sidon, Beirut and others, with predictions that this would destroy the Mossad's relationships with other intelligence agencies around the world and turn Israel into a country where Jews did not want to live . . . These predictions turned out to be completely accurate.

Veteran political commentator Nahum Barnea: "Dagan is one of Sharon's old assets – 33 years ago they cleared Gaza of 'terrorists.' In the 1970s Dagan led an undercover commando unit called 'Rimon' . . . 'to seek out, arrest and liquidate Palestinian militants in the Gaza Strip' . . . Dagan and his unit Rimon were known for their unconventional methods"[10] and later had the same role in Lebanon.

Dagan carried a small Scorpion submachine gun while commander of the South Lebanon 'security zone' and was then made head liaison unit in Lebanon, as soon as no locals would talk to him [and we all know what happened in Lebanon]. Dagan: "I had several nicknames there, 'Abu-Jabal' and 'King of the Shadows'.

"One of Dagan's friends described him as a 'guided missile'. Another said, 'He needed someone to restrain him, otherwise he might become dangerous.'"

Yigal Sarna, Yediot Ahronot: "Dagan was a field operative with a license to kill and a controversial record".

Dagan: "In the 'war on terror the targets are always people. There are spotlights that focus on a target for a brief moment and if you don't act immediately, the target disappears. The best time to strike is when there are no terror attacks, because the target is not expecting it."

Yigal Sarna, Yediot Ahronot: "Perhaps that explains why whenever there is movement toward a cease-fire we suddenly get a targeted killing that upsets the quiet. Dagan set up many of the 'activist units', others called them 'liquidation units'. The rationale for such units is that they act on the basis of accurate intelligence [which we all know is completely false and doesn't exist]."

Government Intelligence is generally Counter-Intelligence.
Our history is generally a history of fraud for some material gain – gold, oil and spheres of influence over an entire country.
You have never lived in history. You have ony ever lived in the con.

Dagan: "People don't understand what a 'war on terror' is all about. Today we are operating against a new kind of terror and the only targets in countering terror are people."

Former senior Mossad from Mossad foreign relations: "Dagan's appointment is a recipe for disaster. It could destroy the organization's ties with secret services all over the world. His views on targeted killings during lulls worry me. An organization like the Mossad must not get into that frame of mind, because, if it does, it becomes a gang. If Dagan brings his morality to the Mossad, Israel could become a country in which no normal Jew would want to live."

That prediction has come entirely true and now with world Jewish rule, the planet is becoming a place where no one wants to live. I cite the United States suicide epidemic in 2008 in the last year of the Mossad-controlled Bush administration as a case in point.

Former Mossad officer, Haaretz: "When Dagan arrived at Mossad he brought Prime Minister Ariel Sharon an intelligence report. PM Sharon replied: 'From tomorrow I want only a list of targets for liquidation'."[11]

"Former Mossad staff are concerned about Mossad increasingly becoming 'a Mafia-style Murder Inc.'"[12] That is to say, the ex-Mossad already believe the Mossad is a Mafia-style Murder Inc., but soon the general public will know.

Well here it is . . . rehashed, rewritten, clarified, and expanded.

Israel is the biggest killer on the planet. Now that Russia – a Zionist-Israeli controlled Jewish creation – has stopped killing so much, it is Israel that has taken over as the murder capital of International Liquidations Inc.

Lenin and Stalin were always Jewish agents, and Stalin is the illegitimate son of Baron Edmond de Rothschild. The Rothschilds own the Central Bank, and therefore, all governments via money supply. The Rothschild son, Stalin, ruled Russia through mass murder and poverty. In this way, the Rothschilds bought Russia for seventy years and ran it an an extreme socialist experiment. (See Hallett's History transposed Worldwide, next page)

Israel's reputation for murder means that all Intelligence agencies work for them via their weakest points, which make up 10% of all agencies, 20% of all embassy staff, 90% of all diplomats, and half of most governments.

George Ludwig: German

Scotland was handed on a platter to the Rothschild controlled Black Nobility of Germany via the House of Hanover. Who in turn had manipulated the take over of England in what New Zealand author, Greg Hallet describes as a TEWT (tactical exercise without troops) see his book 'How to Take over the World: A right Royal Con'.

The 1701 act of Settlement and the 1707 Act of Union sold Scots and Scotland right down the river. Scotland was to further suffer genocide. Euphemistically called 'the clearances'. Just another Black Nobility hatched plot employing the Roman Catholic homosexual Italian midget, 'Bonnie' Prince Charlie in the '45' rebellion, to be covered later. In the years that followed amongst myriad misdemeanour's by many and unfettered by Scots objections, Wellington, as an example, felled most of Scotland's Caledonian forest to make cannon balls for his Rothschild manipulated Napoleonic Wars... no problem.

Simon Fraser: Paedophile

And Marc Rene, who made way for Napoleon Bonaparte at the Institut in 1797... was rumoured to be a Lord Lovat, a.k.a Simon Fraser 'love'-child. Love in this instance a euphemism for rape. The rabbit hole is bottomless, you need to abseil... Fraser boy, being the psychopathic criminal that he was, up to his neck in the complicity of the subjugation of Scotland was holed up at the Court of St. Germain escaping some anomalies amongst the other bed-wetters in Scotland. Shagging 12 year-olds till they got pregnant when hence he was presented with another was his burden. Siring the whole of the French Intelligence service. How did the Freemason paedophile manage? Lovat was dragged into the '45 rebellion mostly to recover his forfeit title and lands and got beheaded for his trouble, the last man in Britain. The Illuminati dispose of their own when usefulness runs out.

There weaknesses are key hole honey-traps (sexual preference), sexual deviancy, the sodomy olympics, gambling, debt, false promises, ideology, intrigue, cover marriages, arranged marriages, changes in higher-level personnel, double agents as heads of the government, judiciary, finance, military, police, and local body politics, like Mayor's and Counsellors, as well as charismatics – some of whom are on long strings to Intelligence, used to gather information on fringe groups like the Progressive Youth Movement (PYM) and wannabe politicians who collect the sexual data on New Zealanders and give them to foreign agents for their sphere of influence.

So Israel has no shortages of allies. They just don't advertise themselves.

New Zealand is full of Israel's allies and many of our Mayor's are cross-dressers to the extent that they are often selected for their cross-dressing, as long as they have some charisma. The charismatic Wanganui Mayor Michael Laws wears women's underwear and makeup to work (has his own talkback show), and the charismatic West Auckland Mayor Bob Harvey is also known to be a crossdresser, as well as the former PR to Prime Minister Norman Kirk. PM 'Big Norm' Kirk was assassinated on 31 August 1973 by the CIA – for not wearing a skirt.[13] Bob Harvey was also PR to the transvestite-rooting PM David Lange, who survived a little longer.

West Auckland mayor's wife, nurse Harvey, did the artifical inseminations at Helen Clark's home at 4 Cromwell Street, Mt Eden, between the HIV positive Mr Burrows (who now does sewerage for the UN) and Maryan Street's lesbian partner, Annemarie Wille. The resulting turkeybaster child then became Helen Clark's personal secretary, aged 18 and lesbian. She also doubled for 'Youth Fisting'.

New Zealand is not short of people who can be compromised. In fact, New Zealand is short of people who cannot be compromised. Easily-compromised people in positions of power make New Zealand an easy target for International Liquidations Inc.

In New Zealand the guilty parties include:

Prime Minister Helen Clark – compromised KGB agent, lesbian, filmed having sex with a female CIA pillow talker at Lincoln Cottage near the White House on night of 3/4 January 2003. She then ordered a "Knight of the Long Knives" murder series which included this author – Joseph Gregory Hallett.

Chief Justice Sian Elias – compromised Sayanim Mossad took the contract for the murders. Her husband Hugh Fletcher was then promoted to Chancellor of the University of Auckland.

Prime Minister Helen Clark then received 10 kg of Afghan heroin from NATO on 27–30 March 2005 and asked her closest Cabinet Ministers: "Who would like to distribute this heroin in exchange for the Police portfolio?" Minister of Health Annette King put up her hand, distributed the heroin via the Police spokesman Greg O'Connor, a former drug undercover, and was then promoted from Minister of Health to Minister of Police, and then Minister of Justice. Her training for the top Police job – dental nurse and heroin trafficker. (See Attachments "Z^1", 'The Greatest Living New Zealander'; "Z^2", 'Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia'; "Z^3", 'Big Afghan Heroin Dump'; "Z^4", NATO and the UN Wanted War Criminals)

Like most politicians Annette King was failed upwards. She has a face of pure evil and every dental patient demanded full gas. This strained profits so King was failed sideways, and when she proved herself to be a total criminal, she was failed upwards. She was then promoted to Deputy Leader of the Opposition next to Phil-in Goff.

After these murder and heroin operations, and the operations that followed, and the operations that continued, and continue to this day, there has been no Policie, Judicial or Government investigation.

---

[13] Actually it was a whole lot more. Kirk wanted to nationalise the insurance industry as he realised insurance brought in more money than tax.

I wonder why?

Compromised people are placed into these positions to ensure that nothing happens.

How could this be?

Why is their never any investigation into Mossad contract killings, Government murders and Government drug-trafficking?

The Jews control the Freemasons and the Freemasons control the police. Therefore the Jews control the police. The Jews control every police force in the Western world whether through the Freemasons or some other group.

Israel has made a consistent effort to erradicate patriotism out of every country in the world. This weakens opposition countries and ensures migration, with at least the first generation of migrants having no patriotism. Hence the mass immigration of non-mixing groups every third generation.

With Jews controlling the Freemasons, it explains why the police create 80 % of all crime, and why 40% of the prison population are incarcerated for crimes they did not commit.[14]

> "Former Police drug undercover, Patrick O'Brien, whose evidence convicted 150–300 people in the 1970s, admitted to lying in every case, to manufacturing evidence, lying to the detectives, judge, jury, and even Governor-General Sir David Beatie, who praised him. Police National Headquarters received O'Brien's confessional letter on 24 December 2007 and did nothing about it for nearly 300 days, so O'Brien wrote to Chief Justice Sian Elias, who appointed lawyer Bruce Squire QC, who did not contact O'Brien."[15] Over the last 24 months nothing has happened.

Defathering – Occult Puppet Police protect Paedophiles

It also explains why the Jewish and Freemasonry controlled judiciary remove fathers out of families in 98 % of cases. Singularly, or combined, these two things – defathering leading to crime creation – completely erradicate any rational patriotism.

This is a version of divide and rule, the population fighting amongst themselves – the Jewish run New Zealand police against the Kiwi population – making the Police 'Occult Puppets'.

Defathering also serves the paedophiles of which the Jews, the Freemasons and the Catholics are renown. The Catholics make up a huge proportion of the judiciary based on their Jesuit education, and previous Catholic judges and lawyers . . . and the paedophiles they serve to protect. This also explains why they are so anti-abortion.

The paedophiles then promote each other into prominent positions in media, immigration, finance, justice, government and Diplomatic Corp and then exert their influence on the judiciary to:

1. Not investigate any Mossad cases, but come to a resolution.
2. Not investigate any government murders and deliver distraction news.
3. Remove fathers and expose children to paedophiles.
4. Stitch people up in order to access their children.
5. Ensure the public never know that the status quo is based on 'respectable' and respectable means 'paedophile minder'.
6. Promote paedophiles and paedophile minders to the most influential positions so that this status quo continues.
7. Always deny sexual deviancy. Never confirm it even when it is publicly apparent.
8. Censor the truth. Maintain the lie as the truth. Ensure the new lie becomes known as the truth.

[15] Paraphrased from New Zealand Herald, 'Sian Elias received a letter from Patrick O'Brien in which he claimed to have lied under oath', 12 October 2008.

Such Prominent Paedophiles/ Child Sex Abuser list includes:

Brian Edwards (Media), PM Helen Clark's biographer and meda advisor to Labour Party MPs;

Hugh Fletcher (Industry, Justice, Education), University of Auckland Chancellor, married to Chief Justice Sian Elias;

Jonathan Hunt (Government), Speaker of the House, High Commissioner to Britain;

Sir Ron Brierly (Finance), controls the SAS retirement fund and paid NZ$1 million for his knighthood/ paedophile protection;

Sir Roger Douglas (Media, Finance, Immigration) Former Min. of Broadcasting & Finance;

Aussie Malcom (Immigration), trafficked LSD and heroin from Fiji, accussed of drowning his wife;

Sir Bob Jones, conman in Britain, child sex abuser in Cuba etc, applied P to Paul Holmes, then to Millie Elder's arsehole . . .

as well as all the paedophile minders, paedophile enablers, paedophile promoters and all those who envy their positions . . . and we shouldn't forget the main supplier of children to paedophiles and child sex abusers in New Zealand . . .

Patrick Mahoney DCNZM (Justice) is a de-frocked Catholic Priest. He then worked for Buddle Anderson Kent in Wellington during the 1960s and 70s and left around 1978/79 to become a judge. As a Catholic socialist alcoholic, he became the Principal Family Court judge 1984–2004.

Patrick Mahoney is a genuine 'paedophile enabler' and should be thought of as the Josef Mengele of the New Zealand family structure – the Dr Green of Paedophilia, the Dr Jeckyll and Hyde of Justice. At just 5'1" tall, he is a cardboard man. There is nobody inside. The lights are on, but the person only comes out when evil is having a party.

Patrick Mahoney was the biggest supplier of children to paedophiles New Zealand has ever seen – bigger than the colonisation, WWI and WWII put together.

After establishing himself as one of New Zealand's most hated judges, he was placed on the 1 January 2004 New Year's Honours List as "Distinguished Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit, for services to the Family Court", but really it was protection for three decades of supplying children to paedophiles, turning the Family Court into a secret court, never answering a question directly, for not releasing any statistics, for creating crime and employing lawyers, and for throwing parties for lawyers and judges whenever unjust legislation was ratified.

After a short holiday he is now used to give the gong to other paedophile enabling judges, including Polynesian judges maried to S&M Police Sergeants, and community workers.

Judge Peter Trapsky (1981–30 September 1984) preceeded him. Trapskey worked in Mt Maunganui in Dowd Thomasen Trapskey when the Mount was a backwater surf town with a spaghetti factory and no bridges.

Trapsky was made a judge and began presided over divorce cases. Here he developed a taste for awarding women large payouts in exchange for them spending a week of sex with him at the Chateau in Tongariro. After three women got together and laid complaints, 'this was discovered' and the then first Principle Family Court Judge Trapsky was charged, convicted and jailed for 'having sex weekends with the wives in the divorce cases he was preciding over'. The ex-husbands were equally furious. Imagine the payouts. This is another version of prostitution – this time the ex-husband pays, and pays and pays.

The Ohura prison, halfway between Te Kuiti and Taumarunui in the King Country, was a special prison for people like Trapsky. It was so slack people used to leave cars outside with the keys inside for regular escape. There was only a shop and something else that depended on the prison. The prison closed and the whole town's gone now.

Other prison inmates noted Peter Trapsky's name appearing in golfing tournament records in the papers. Sure enough, convicted Judge Trapsky was applying for weekend prison leave to play in golfing tournaments. Those who noted this were doing hard time in the quarry crushing rocks with pick axes and had never even played golf. This story was totally suppressed, so those who challenged the Family Court couldn't state that:

"From its inception, the Family Court has been a corrupt occult mafia – another version on sex with mothers – this one, a paedophile and crime creation movement. Over 99.8% of paedophilia occurs when the biological father is absent and fatherless children create over 90% of all crime, so the Police and judiciary rely on fatherless children. The stitch up is all stitched up and the judges are all short Roman Catholic bisexuals and feminists – both groups dedicted to supplying their paedophile buddies with as much kiddy-booty as will make them all respectable, then spending the rest time and money between the Madonna and the whore – wife and prostitute (often on Hobson Street on Monday nights in the 1980s–90s)."

Judge Peter Boshier (1 April 2004–) succeeded Patrick Mahoney. Boshier studied law at Victoria University in Wellington in the 1970s. Here he was New Zealand's biggest supporter of Chairman Mao, ran the communist think tank, and edited the communist Maoist magazine 'Left of Victory'.

Chairman Mao was a communist, mass murderer (of 66.6–300 million) and paedophile who spent the last twenty years of his life in bed with Chinese nubiles (girls under 14). When Muldoon went to see him, he refused to see him in bed. Chaiman Mao got out of bed, stood up, met with NZ PM Rob Muldoon, and was dead inside three months.

Chairman Mao was a Jewish/ Chinese paedophile and it would seem that Peter Boshier wants to become Chairman Mao.

Peter Boshier is a dedicated paedophile enabler and uses anything he can to remove fathers from families. His favourite trick is domestic violence, so they lowered the criteria of domestic violence to raising a finger, raising your voice, or denying the mother the chequebook or visa card – and look what happened – the 'Credit Crunch'.

Female domestic violence against male makes up 59% of all domestic violence . . . but this female violence also constitutes the father being removed from his children.

As a dedicated paedophile enabler, Principle Family Court Judge Peter Boshier is removing fathers from families, exposing women to police rapes and gang bangs, some of them voluntary, turning children into criminals, and supplying paedophiles with children. In New Zealand, we call this "Respectable" and "Honorable".

Since 'respectable' means 'paedophile enabler' and "New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country", are New Zealand judges not being patriotic?

Were the Wakefield brothers not paedophiles? Colonel William Wakefield (25) certainly assisted his older brother, Edward (32), in abducting the extremely wealthy 14-year-old (going on 15) heiress Ellen Turner from a Liverpool boarding school in 1825, and took her over the Scottish border to Gretna Green, where they were married by the blacksmith David Laing. Edward Wakefield then took his bride to Calais in France.

William Wakefield also escaped arrest to France to meet his pregnant financée Emily Shelley-Sydney, returning to England for the birth where he was arrested and sentenced, along with his brother, on 23 March 1827, to three years in Lancaster Castle prison. This was now 16 days after the kidnapping-paedophile-marriage fiasco began. Then William's wife died leaving him with a six-month-old daughter who then married Sir Edward Stafford – the Premier of New Zealand.

Both brothers, Edward and William Wakefield, extorted money out of parents by saying: "We are going to tell everyone that we fucked your underaged daughter unless you give us 10,000 guineas." They were also wanted for murder, rape and kidnapping, so they were sent to New Zealand as a penance . . . where they gained roles in the country's development, but should have resigned their purchased commissions due to disgraceful conduct.

During the Wairau Massacre a Maori women was killed in the initial exchange of fire, the Maoris then killed everyone else in self-defense. None of the British personnel realised that by taking Wakefield with them, they were exposing themselves to claims of paedophilia, rape and extortion, so no one was prosecuted.

Spymaster: "Well, the Maoris had the goss(ip). You can't bullshit a Maori. That's one of the first things you learn . . . The Wakefield brothers were buried in Grafton Gully and when the motorway went through, there was a big stink about what to do with the bodies. At least one went to the bottom of St. Stephens Ave. New Zealand's 'Wakefield Street' off Auckland City's town hall, and another in central Wellington, are named after both brothers sentenced and convicted for 'kidnapping, paedophilia, and marriage under duress to a minor'."

Shouldn't the Auckland City Council and the Wellington City Council change the name of these streets, and have done so long ago, say 150 years or so; or Let's give the judges a wage rise for doing such a good job (Oops it happened between writing and publication). After all, they are patriotic and we wouldn't have this byline "respectable means paedophile enabler" and "New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country", without the police, judiciary and social services acting in support.

The judges goal is to become the leading cause of death in New Zealand.
New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.
The New Zealand judiciary is a crime creation and paedophile movement.
The New Zealand judiciary is an occult mafia.
The New Zealand police create over 80% of all crime.

Q: "So where does that leave New Zealand and the police?"

A: "Up rape creek without a child to raise!"

Change the system to one based on cause and effect, not on protecting manufactured victims, police collusion and verballing in court. ("Verballing" is cop for 'lying'.)

As soon as the Mossad murder someone in New Zealand, the people and agencies that are supposed to protect their citizens, run in the opposite direction of the crimes and do their utmost to save their positions, or get a promotion out of their silence.

This is called 'covering your arse upwards'.

When the Mossad murder, the New Zealand bureaucracy has a flurry of meetings and re-present their puffed-up updated CV's to try and fill higher positions – like the one the dead guy held, or the one the fall guy held.

Spymaster: "In New Zealand, no one has any friends. Now I understand why."

Author: "So why was Michael King murdered?"

Spymaster: "At least two Intelligence Agents at the time told me Michael King was about to be busted for his activities with young boys arses. This was a complete embarrassment to Helen Clark who had recently invented the 'Prime Minister's Award' for authors and had awarded Michael King the first NZ$60,000 award on 6 October 2003.

"When she 'found out' his history, or it was pointed out to her (confirmed by another who could not be tamed), she immediately ordered the hit, and within the week it was sitting on Sian Elias' lap. She picked up the contract around 13 October 2003."

Author: "Michael King was also a friend of the convicted paedophile Bert Potter who was privy to Helen Clark's sexual secrets, along with those of her husband, Peter Davis, the former President of the Auckland University Gay Society in the 1970s, a homosexual and child sex abuser.

"It was during the 1970s that Bert Potter was collecting all the country's sexual secrets, so was Helen Clark, and so was Peter Davis. Bert was in on the experimental side, complete with communal orgies and no age limits for sex. He sent a lot of young women (17) into prostitution (several were my friends prior in 1981). Helen was in on the lesbian fisting junkets, communal orgies and prostitution (from 18), and Peter was in on the homosexual side complete with child sex abuse, paedophilia, and kiddy-fucking soirées.

"Between them they had the whole country sewn up. Helen then sold these sexual secrets to Vladimir 'Alexia' Putin in Wellington between 1980 and 1982. He used them to gain spheres of influence, thus controlling New Zealand, including Helen's admission as a Member of Parliament in 1981, and her rise to Labour Party leader, then Prime Minister.

"Bert had Helen Clark's sexual secrets and so controlled her during her Prime Ministership (1999–2008) and Helen Clark virtually turned New Zealand into the Satellite Tavistock sexual-social experiment that was the Centerpoint Commune, complete with drugs, partner swopping, and kiddy-fucking. All of this became respectable and warranted promotion under Helen Clark – the former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute, KGB agent and murderer. She even tried to lower the age of legal consent to sex with 12 years olds.

"That ain't liberal – that's kiddy fucking – that's paedophilia. It made the papers, which Helen controlled completely, and right next to it was a two-page spread with Bert Potter saying kids should start having sex as soon as they can walk.

"Apart from Vladimir Putin, Helen's other controller was advocating toddler-sex."

Spymaster: "Michael King was also about to side with the Maoris over self-governance issues [which would have affected Sian Elias' ongoing 'Foreshore and Seabed ' fiasco, due for repeal in 2010] . . . so we had our warnings. I rang you in February 2004 and told you about them and then had the meeting with the Wellington Police officer, high-ranking, in Auckland, on the North Shore. Sorry, couldn't tell you where then, and I can't tell you now."

Author: "And Sir Peter Elworthy?"

Spymaster: "Digitalis in the midnight snack. At least it's not as bad as 'burnt alive in your car while heading to a freebee holiday'. Peter Elworthy, along with Michael King, was at the Primal Scream workshops run by Bert Potter in Wellington in 1974. Potter was an expert in Kiwi sexual secrets. Elworthy was from a family whose homes the British Governors-General stayed at (Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, etc) and also had standing as the President of Federated Farmers . . . and his nieces used to live at Bert Potter's Centerpoint Commune, which as you say, was a satellite Tavistock where government and international programmes were trialed."

Author: "One turned up on TV as 'Temptation Island'. I lived there with one of his nieces".

Spymaster: "Yeah, you said. Since Helen Clark was trained in the St Petersburg Tavistock, there was a credible loop of information and contacts, both sexual and intelligence, as well as the credibility, so that if Michael King was murdered, his relative by marriage, Elworthy,[16] could have spoken out and caused some damage, so Elworthy had to go first, King second. This silenced the two females with similiar information – that chef, and that radio announcer – Alison Holst and Sharon Crosby."

Author: "So they went into hiding. I didn't see Alison Holst in the media for quite a while."

Spymaster: ". . ."

Author: "So what happened after the Mossad murders?"

Spymaster: "Absolutely nothing."

Eli Cara and Uriel Kelman were arrested in March 2004. Barkan and Reznick slipped the net. The Sayanim Reznick got back to his homeland, Israel, and Barkan was allowed to complete his second murder before he got out in early April. This prevented the two females on the hit list from getting killed, which shows Helen Clark's feminist involvement.

[16] Sir Peter Elworthy's brother David was married to Roslyn King who had been married to Michael King.

Mossad Murder Attempt, 14–22 May 2004

When the Mossad came for me in May 2004, Eli Cara, Uriel Kelman, Tony Reznick and Zev Barkan were out of the picture and I was left with the Placemakers manager (55), his 'girlfriend' (34), a contract killer (32) and an Israeli Tank Commander (35) as marker.

Things were sensitive at their end, but all I had to do was confront them, which I did, and they backed off after eight days of surveillance (14–22 May 2004).

Mossad surveillance began as I exited from the Waiheke Island supermarket. The Placemakers manager (part of Fletchers) and his 'girlfriend', were laughing too much like bad spies, as they walked through the supermarket doors, just as I was leaving. The hands-on contract killer behind them, with tan skin and black short cropped hair, stopped, blocked the doorway, knelt down, did up his right shoelace, and spent the entire time looking up at my face.

A good 30 seconds past . . . All I could do was wait or knock him over.

By 22 May 2004 I was sick of the situation, and sick of paying lawyers, so I went up and spoke up to my would-be assassin who turned out to be another Mossad agent living on Waiheke Island (20 km from Auckland) and a former Israeli Tank Commander.

As the Mossad Tank Commander marker was doing his reconnaissance he got stuck in the mud outside my cottage, so I went and helped him try to move his white van (with his advertising on the side), and then organise to have it towed.

I told him: "I know the Mossad killed Michael King under instructions from Sian Elias, who was contracted to Helen Clark. The Mossad agent Sian Elias had organised the hit and the Mossad had poisoned the back of his steering wheel with epecacuana. They did the same thing with me."

This was their third attempt after the 2 April 2002 wheelbearing locknut break-in and the 23 August 2002 epecac poisoning, after the Cook Island's speech where I revealed Helen Clark as a KGB agent and correctly predicted the Cook Island's flood, the Chinese funding of the Police and Courthouse buildings, and an ideological incident (feminist) that would put them both into planned use. They also removed my driver licence and fined me $1,490.00.

The Mossad looked at me, as though assessing me, then looked sideways and down to his right (kinesthetic memory), then looked straight into my eyes and pleaded with me: "Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit?"

He was treating me as an equal, confessing, and simultaneously abdicating from 'marker' status and me being a 'marked target'. (Incidentally, the poet Pam Ayers was an MI-6 marker.)

I replied: "Successive events have pushed me into it and now it's how I get my kicks. Someone's got to do it".

I asked him for the Arabic translation of 'Island', 'Pirate' and 'Labrador', and was given 'ie' (pronounced 'e'), Pirate (pronounced 'perátée) and Labrador (pronounced 'Labrador'). These are the KGB codenames for Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson, but now I had them in Arabic. Later I found out that 'Sattie' is also Arabic for 'Pirate'.

He introduced himself as Aaron, but his real name is Yaron. He had a male Mossad friend also living on Waiheke Island and they made plans together, both for the Mossad, for business, and for lifestyle.

Yaron was desperate to become a 'Kiwi' – a fully fledged New Zealander.

Yaron then looked at me with his nose curled up and treated me suspiciously as an equal. I asked him: "What are you doing here, in New Zealand?" and he said: "I'm installing telecommunication systems in offices", and then said jokingly, "and bugging those offices. Na."

Yaron then said: "The Mossad use New Zealand as a safe retreat, as a holiday home", and went on to complain that: "I can't get residency despite having a clean record and no involvement with the Mossad. All I want to do is meet a nice New Zealand woman and settle down."

Yaron then told me how: "As a Tank Commander, I was given co-ordinates to fire on over a hill at night. These co-ordinates had to come from a central location. Often we would be given co-ordinates to fire from Israel at night and when I checked these co-ordinates, it was a Palestinian refugee camp. That's why I got out."

Yaron went on to say: "My favourite tank is a modified Centurion Tank with an enlarged turret. That's my favourite tank".

After about an hour and a half, and the second tow truck, the biggest on the island, we managed to move the Israeli Tank Commander's telecommunication vehicle and I was free to live. (He crashed it later on the mainland in January 2007 and wrote it off.)

At that time, Israel was still promoting the paedophile-and-plagarist Albert Einstein as their genius, so no one was allowed to have knowledge above him and they wanted any newly discovered laws of gravity and anti-gravity which included my Flying the Planet.

You hear that – 'free to live' – not dead and not living in involuntary servitude or slavery.

The Israeli's now use Fiji as their holiday home. Consequently, the Fiji military are now armed with Uzis and most MI-6 agents are now Mossad assets. Fiji was an MI-6 hangout, but now it is an MI-6/ Mossad hangout and MI-6 QC lawyers now go to Fiji for briefings which include assassinations.

Both Eli Cara and Uriel Kelman had done compulsory service with the Israeli armed forces, were university educated and active in synagogues and communities, so they were considered 'good Jews' . . . but then every Israeli contact killer is considered "a good Jew" and the Jews value their contract killers more than any other citizen, often promoting their contract killers to Prime Minister and President. Israel has both.

When Jews sing their national anthem, listen for the phrase "murder compliance". Better still, take a look at their annual "Kol Nidre" prayer done on Yom Kippur. The next one is on 28 September 2009 and 18 September 2010 and goes like this:

". . . by the permission of this holy congregation, we hold it lawful to pray with the transgressors.

> "All vows, obligations, oaths, and anathemas, whether called 'konam,' > 'konas,' or by any other name, which we may vow, or swear, or pledge, or > whereby we may be bound, from this Day of Atonement until the next, we > do repent. May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void, > and made of no effect; they shall not bind us nor have power over > us. The vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be > obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths" . . .

"And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Israel . . ."

Then repeat "All vows . . . nor the oats be oaths" two more times.[17]

Details of King's Murderers

Uriel Kelman studied mathematics and physics and was a member of the IDF (Israeli Defence Force). He worked for YTS Systems (an Israel-based company) in Israel and overseas (1999–2002). YTS has designed security systems for six embassies, as well as other buildings in the United States, Germany and Africa.

---

[17] For further explanation See "U", 'Who the Blazes is John Howard?'

These embassies should now be regarded as totally compromised by Israel and should be considered permanently hardwired to Israel. Certainly their politics has shown this to be the case.

When Kelman visited New Zealand (February and March 1999) he was a card-carrying member of the IDF working for Israeli's 'embassy spy agency' (YTS), yet travelled on a Canadian passport. As a local cover he was "a tireless voluntary worker who brought joy to the disabled", but this was compliant Sayanim propaganda. To all and sundry, this should read:

"Israeli Intelligence searching invalid's homes for passports with a view to murder".

Eli Cara also moved to Australia in 1999 after retiring from a career with the Israeli Air Force. Cara travelled to New Zealand 24 times (between 1999 and 2004) with the stated reasons being 'business' and 'family holidays', but Cara's eco-travel business proved totally flakey. Company records revealed that Eli Cara had no listed business interests in Sydney and his New Zealand family is debateable – Sian Elias perhaps?.

Cara's 'travel business', based in Israel, connected to eco-tourism in Australia and New Zealand, and Israelis are all over the South Island in remote eco areas (at least 1,500 of them), and whenever you go over the four-day treks in the South Island (Heaphy Track etc), most of the names on the visitor's register are Israeli.

Some of these so-called tourists are overweight middle-aged Israelis not dressed in tramping gear and showing no signs of exhaustion. It is not so surprising that eco-tourism is Israeli based. It gives legitimate reason to travel to remote areas to hide, inspect, or retrieve weapons . . . and 'overweight middle-aged Israelis without tramping gear showing no signs of exhaustion' are sighting and inspecting their weapons dumps.

Greenpeace is similar. Greenpeace is a CIA front that collects information on Greenies ensuring issues like Chemtrails (the poisoning of humans from above) does not become a protested issue; and Joint venture operations like the bombing of the Rainbow Warrior – a British, French, New Zealand joint operation – go ahead unhindered, complete with Prime Minister David Lange's support. He provided the accomodation. The SIS provided the Zodiac inflatable rubber dinghy. At least they transported the RIB (rigid-inflatable boat) from the Dead Letter Office in Wellington (where it was lost) to an address in Green Bay in Auckland.

Chemtrails contain Bovine Leukemia and the Sheep Visna Virus, mixed with fine particles of Barium and Aluminium. According to the Strecker Memorandum, "Bovine Leukemia and the Sheep Visna Virus is the formula for Aids". As the chemtrails are dropped from commercial airlines above (hence the cheap airfaires to keep people flying), the descending fine particles are breathed up the nostrils and lodged in the brain.

So when you fly, don't consider the Carbon Footprint – that's distraction news – consider 'Aids of the Brain' for the populations below.

Noticed your co-ordination going?

All the CIA had to do in the Rainbow Warrior bombing was ensure the French lesbian agent knew which Rainbow Warrior crew's fanny to lick, thus getting all the Rainbow Warrior security measures for the price of cunnilingus . . . and that David Lange's motel unit at 12/29 Springs Road, Parakai would be free for the French Frog assassins to stay in. They used his in-house hot mineral pool to warm up in the week before and the day after the bombing.

"The case [Uriel Kelman and Eli Cara] is the first known example of foreign agents appearing in a New Zealand court since the 1985 arrest of the Rainbow Warrior bombers."[18]

Yeah right! The government was happy no one else noted those inbetween.

---

[18] Vernon Small and Michael Pelly, The Dominion Post, Two Mossad spies jailed in New Zealand, 16 July 2004.

The government was totally stoked no one noted Kelman and Cara as King's assassins just south of Heaven's Rest. You can't get much more occult than that!

Uriel Kelman and Eli Cara came in and out of New Zealand so many times it should have raised suspicions, but this was covered with the assistance of the former paedophile MPs Aussie Malcom and Sir Roger Douglas, who both own and run immigration companies.

Since the passport frauds, murders, convictions and early release . . .
Eli Cara returned to Israel, 'officially' resigned from the Mossad and got a job at Visa Israel, which is another Mossad operation, so he was shifted sideways with international apologies.

Apologies don't count for shit. People are dead as a result.

Zev Barkan (a.k.a. Zev William Barkan/ Ze'ev Bruckstein/ Kevin William Hunter) who murdered Sir Peter Elworthy and Michael King, has "become a security consultant to communist North Korea, seen in Pyongyang 'negotiating details of an extensive contract for design and technical equipment' to build a security wall 'including Israeli-produced motion sensors and night vision equipment'."[19]

Zev Barkan (diplomat and contract killer) and Dr. Anthony David Reznik (Sayanim to New Zealand) are both wanted by Interpol.

Interpol is 'the Nazi Party's SS with Hitler's picture taken down' and Interpol/SS actively supports paedophiles by regularly not finding them, while knowing where they are and ensuring no other agency or vigilante gets close to them, often giving them warning.

Interpol protects paedophiles.

So the chances of Interpol locating a Mossad agent are about as likely as Helen Clark admitting she's a lesbian, a KGB agent, a contract killer, New Zealand's biggest-ever paedophile enabler, who tried to launch a nuclear strike on the British Atomic Energy Commission's Wairakei Geothermal Heavy Water Manufacturing Plant (a.k.a. Wairakei Geothermal Power Station), who used to met Vladimir Putin at Wellington's Wharf No.3 in the wee hours to hand over the country's sexual secrets, has Israeli agents rig all the national elections for her, wears incontinence nappies, is married to a homosexual child sex abuser, and has sex with her husband doggy-style with her on top using the biggest dildo ever produced – the one found under her bed by her carpenters.

They couldn't get around that one twice.

So nothing's going to happen . . . except it is well noted by lawyers that New Zealand has a way of stealing people's lives . . . and I want compensation for the attempts on my life. There have been at least eight . . .

So how about a million for each failed pop, you wretched treasonous government-employed terrorists!

Soon after Michael King and Maria Jungowska's assassination, a bus driver drove past in a bus and saw that the tree had been cut down and there were detective types covering over the roots with gravel and soil. He stopped the bus and asked them what they were doing. They simply walked away in different directions and nothing was said.

A month or so later, similar detective types turned up at the front door of the bus driver's home and accused him of suffering from high blood pressure. Bus drivers know that this is enough to have them removed from their job for twelve months. So that was a threat.

Within a week of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide (published 31 October 2007) the same detective types went around to the local cafés etc and threatened them: "Change the name. You've got five minutes, or your café's is on the street." So the job had Govt. rank.

The Nazi's Day of Atonement

Christians and Jews have some of the same holy days, but different interpretations of The Holy Scripture. The Christians tend to be literal and the Jews tend to interpret how it suits them, especially when dealing with Christians, Gentiles and non-Freemasons ("Goyim").[1]

The Jews have a prayer to deny honour in any contract for the next 12 months and it is done under the sacred 'Day of Atonement', which Jews call 'Yom Kippur'. The prayer is called the 'Kol Nidre'.

'Atonement' comes from "At one ment" – the act of being 'at one'.

For the Christians, 'Atonement' is being at one with God.

For the Jews, 'Atonement' is being at one with each other.

In Scripture, the person utilising the Day of Atonement must be validly baptised by a valid baptiser, ask God to bring to memory any sins committed, honestly repent them, do this in a Holy Congregation, make an offering to God or the Lord, and preferably fast from sunset for 24 or 25 hours. (The 'biological clock' has a 25 hour day.)

The Old Testament meaning of Day of Atonement is 'A day of fasting and repentance'.

The New Testament meaning is 'The world becoming at one with God, and binding Satan'.

The Jews call the Day of Atonement 'Yom Kippur' and the Christians have it as a national holiday – a perfect distraction.

The Christian 'Day of Atonement' comes after the 'Feast of Trumpets'. It is one of the Biblical Holy Days. Five days later there's the 'Feast of Tabernacles' – rejoicing and blasting two silver trumpets calling the congregation at the new moon for peace offerings, burnt offerings and gladness – which is where outsiders get to view 'The Happy-Clappy'.

The 'Day of Atonement' is known to the Jews as 'Yom Kippur' (Leviticus 23:26-32) and the 'Feast of Trumpets' is known as 'Rosh Hashana'.

The Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur in a synagogue has the first prayer, the Kol Nidre, cited and repeated three times as Jews enter into a contract with God that any oath, vow, or pledge made over the next 12 months is null and void:

"The oath shall not be an oath,
the pledge shall not be a pledge,
and the vow shall not be a vow.
They shall have no force and effect."

The Talmud clearly adds that when you take an oath, vow or pledge, remember the Kol Nidre prayer you cited on Yom Kippur. That exempts you from fulfulling any promise.

The Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur is in September or October, begins at sunset and lasts 24 or 25 hours. It was/is on 22 September 2007, 9 October 2008, 28 September 2009, 18 September 2010, and 8 October 2011.

---

[1] The Freemasons are Jewish servants.

The Day of Atonement is considered to be a time for fasting (no food or drink)[2] and the goat the Jews offered as sacrifice quickly became the scapegoat – a human sacrifice in every way except the physical body. This creates the hobbled, the blacklisted and the boiler-plated, almost all of whom are exclusively non-Jews (Gentiles/ Goyim/ non-Freemasons):

> Leviticus 16:9-10, 20-22 (paraphrased): 'The scapegoat was let free for all days of the year, and the next day was replaced with a real sacrificial goat, sacrificed for all iniquities, transgressions and sins of the children of Israel.'

The Jewish Day of Atonement Yom Kippur often includes the ten-day build up of the Feast of Trumpets/ Rosh Hashanah, and on the eve of the Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur all feuds and disputes are terminated and all sins against God are absolved.

The offended can also pardon the offender, thus absolving them of that sin; the dead are also pardoned by the community for their sins; and orphaned children are mentioned and given gifts.

The Kol Nidre prayer[3] is recited in the synagogue at the beginning of the evening service on the Day of Atonement. The name is taken from the opening words "Kol Nidre" ('All Vows'). It has had an eventful history itself and influences the legal status of Jews.

The Kol Nidre was introduced into the liturgy despite the opposition of rabbinic authorities, has been repeatedly attacked by Halakists (Jewish lifestylers and fatalist where anything goes that has already been, including incest and paedophilia) and many communities in C19th western Europe expunged it from the prayer-book. Both the Babylonian academies also discredited it.

Christians use the Kol Nidre to illustrate their assertion that the oath of the Jew cannot be trusted.

They may not be wrong!

Before sunset on the eve of Yom Kippur/ Atonement, when the congregation has gathered in the synagogue, the Ark is opened and two rabbis (or two leading men in the community) take out the two Torah-scrolls, then take their places either side of the hazzan, and all three recite in concert the formula beginning with the words:

> "In the tribunal of heaven and the tribunal of earth, by the permission of God – blessed be He – and by the permission of this holy congregation, we hold it lawful to pray with the transgressors."

Thereupon the cantor chants the Aramaic prayer beginning with the words "Kol Nidre". It has a plaintive and touching melody in pianissimo, increasing in volume to fortissimo, and is repeated three times:

> "All vows, obligations, oaths, and anathemas, whether called 'konam,' 'konas,' or by any other name, which we may vow, or swear, or pledge, or whereby we may be bound, from this Day of Atonement until the next (whose happy coming we await), we do repent.
> May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void, and made of no effect; they shall not bind us nor have power over us. The vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths."

The leader and the congregation then say together three times (Num. xv. 26):

> "And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that sojourneth among them, seeing all the people were in ignorance."

Many congregations then recite Num. xiv. 19-20.

In almost all congregations the hazzan then closes with the benediction:

> "Blessed art thou, O Lord our God, King of the Universe, who hast preserved us and hast brought us to enjoy this season."

The Torah-scrolls are then placed back in the Ark and the customary evening service begins.

The Jewish prayer to deny honour in any contract for the next 12 months is done under the sacred Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur and the 'Kol Nidre' prayer.

For the Christians, 'Atonement' is being at one with God. For the Jews, 'Atonement' is being at one with each other. Hence their Semetic/ Anti-Gentile phrase: "Is it good for the Jews?" So should the Jewish Atonement/ Yom Kippur not be called 'At Jew ment' – the Act of being a Jew, and, the adjournment of honour towards Gentiles?

Does history not show that Yom Kippur is the 'adjournment of honour towards Gentiles'?

Certainly the "Middle East Peace Talks" that have dominated television news for the last five decades back this up. They don't work, never have, and are consistently sabotaged by the Jews in peacetime by pre-emptive strikes when the opposition is least expecting it. Onlookers call this 'manufacturing an ongoing war' and 'sabotaging the contract of peace'.

Many elected government officials in the United States of America, at Local, State and Federal level, take meaningful vows to defend and protect the Constitution for the United States of America, and then do the Kol Nidre prayer to absolve them of adherence, so that their vows mean absolutely nothing – nada, nulla, zip – that's how they got a Kenyan president.

Do all American judges do the Kol Nidre, as often claimed by common law patriots?

Talmudists have been in power as the Shadow World Government prior to the inception of the U.S. Constitution and at least during the AD 1066 takeover of Great Britain's Judiciary. It is becoming more and more clear that Americans and the British are governed by Talmudists who oppress commoners under Talmudic, Commercial and International laws.

The name "Great Britain" was used from the first century AD. Prior to that, it was called 'Albion' (white-land), with the islands off it called 'Britanniae'. The word 'Britain' also comes from 'Berith' (Covenant) and B'rith-ish (Sons of the Covenant), with B'nai B'rith meaning 'Sons of the Alliance', and 'Britain' meaning 'Children of the Covenant', 'those who bind by their word', 'those who are bound by their word', or 'those who are bound by their word by others'.

The word 'Covenant' stems from two words, the Hebrew 'berith' and the Greek 'diatheke'. In the Old Testament, the Hebrew 'berith' refers to 'legal dispositions' or 'pledges', a 'one-sided promise or grant', and may or may not be a 'reciprocal agreement or contract'.

'Berith' was replaced in the Greek version of the Old Testament with 'diatheke' – 'the spirit of the matter, with legal binding'. In the English versions of the Bible, 'diatheke' was replaced with 'covenant'. 'Covenant' is a legal term denoting 'a formal and legally binding declaration of benefits given by one party to another, with or without conditions attached.[4]

---

[4] In Biblical times, England was known as 'Ephraim' – a Nation and a Company of Nations – when the Lost Tribes of Israel were all white Europeans, and not Jews. Other Biblical names include Asher (Sweden), Benjamin (Iceland), Dan (Denmark), Gad (Italy), Issachar (Finland), Judah (Germany, Ireland, Scotland & White Russia), Manasseh (United States), Naphtali (Norway), Reuben (Holland), Simeon (Spain) & Zebulun (France).

In secular contexts this became the 'final word on the matter', and "last will and testament".

The Hebrew 'Berith' may well be the origin of the word 'British' (Covenant). This would mean 'the way the Jews treat the British', and the word 'British' mean:

> 'With legal dispositions or pledges, a one-sided promise or grant, that may or may not be a reciprocal agreement or contract;
> A formal and legally binding declaration of benefits given by one party to another, without conditions attached, then maybe with conditions attached, and when a British dies, that's the final word on the matter, unless a Jew says otherwise;
> Essentially the spirit of the matter depending on who is bigger, or more Jewish.'

I.O. "Jews often claim the final matter of things, even before they are discussed."

Spymaster: "Jews do that all the time! It's often the way they speak in conversation."

T. B. John: "Bisexuals do the same and the Jews are often taken for a race of bisexuals'.

This seems to suit the way the Jews have treated the British and their diaspora right down to the ground (unto death).

It also suits the British right down to the ground, including their history through the Middle Ages, especially when coming from 'Coventry'.

When push comes to shove in a contract, the saying was 'he was sent to Coventry' means 'he was shunned, now considered absent, to be ignored, no one must speak to him or answer any question he asks, except relative to his duty, having no life in the matter, and the matter is now dead and buried – under penalty of being sent to Coventry'.

Lewis Carroll (Charles Dodgson) was sent to Coventry in 1863 after his paedophilia with the 11-year-old Alice Liddell, whose family he was staying with. So Alice in Wonderland was a paedophile allegory, just as the Poms teach it at University today.[5]

> "The B'nai B'rith was established by the Rothschilds in 1843 as an intelligence arm to defame and destroy legitimate researchers with the label "anti-Semetic" – a label they have empowered with merciless guilt ever since.

> The B'nai B'rith worked with the Anti Defamation League (1913–) and every year the ADL award their 'Torch of Liberty' to the person they believe served their cause the most, not uncommonly a crime syndicate, like Meyer Lansky's that terrorised America. The Anti-Defamation League spends its entire time trying to defame honest researchers.
> Both B'nai B'rith and the Anti Defamation League are Rothschild created and controlled"[6] and treat Gentiles as cattle to be milked, and shit to be taxed, with the modern day ridiculous "Fart Tax" part of this.

The B'nai B'rith promotes Jewish rights around the world, often with violence, but also with a sacrificial goat or scapegoat where those in the know are hobbled, blacklisted and boiler-plated. Many are also sacrificed. We call this 'violence', murder.

B'nai B'rith awards its murderers with the "Presidential Gold Medal" which the American President gives out. The Presidential Gold Medal is given to those who murder on behalf of Israel and the Jewish people.

Recipients include David Ben-Gurion, Golda Meir, George H. W. Bush, and John Howard (Australian Prime Minister 1996–2007) who allowed Israel to take over Australia and create a drought and successive bush fires in order advance the programme "to export Australians to Alaska and inhospitable areas of Canada".

Australian Prime Minister John Howard was awarded the 'Presidential Gold Medal' on 16 May 2006 during the American Jewish Communities (AJC) 100th annual meeting in Washington DC:

> "In 2005, PM John "Howard completed a rare trifecta by receiving awards from three organisations in recognition of his support for Jewish causes: Sydney's Jewish Communal Appeal, the [American Jewish Community] AJC, and the Australia-Israel Chamber of Commerce."[7]

This Jewish plan to remove Australians out of Australia is still underway. They are doing this with bush fires, most of which are man-made acts of terrorism with the help of HARP and HAARP.

It is also Israeli agents who engineered the bush fires in and around Sydney, including those that almost rendered Sydney uninhabitable in December 2002 and Melbourne in February 2009.

Prime Minister John Howard (1996–2007) was one of those Israeli agents.

"John Howard's father, Lyall, was also a Nazi sympathizer, photographed giving the Hitler salute.

"On 19 May 2004, it was announced that Lyall Howard was a member of the 1930's Fascist New Guard in Sydney that planed to seize power from James Scullin's and Premier Jack Lang's (NSW) Labor governments, and to sabotage government job creation for the common good, in preference to paying debts straight to the City of London banks, which is still disguised to this day as 'The Crown'.

"Howard continued the fascist tradition of his father ramming through draconian police-state laws giving the Israeli-controlled Australian Government more power than Hitler after the 27 February 1933 Reichstag Fire.

"The 'Sydney Bushfires' are John Howard's Reichstag, with the added 'fighting terrorism' neo-con. This resulted in the police-state bill and the Anti-Terrorism Bill 2004, which subjects those nabbed to Australian and American law, complete with visits to Gitmo and Abu Ghraib."[8]

'Third day of wildfire threatens Sydney' (2–10 December 2002)[10]

> "Sydney is facing its worst wildfire threat in 30 years as strong, variable winds whip up dozens of blazes in and around Australia's largest city.
> A cooler change Thursday night brought a little rain to some affected areas, but by midday Friday dry and blustery conditions were again stretching fire fighting resources to the limit. More than 3,000 firefighters, supported by water-bombing aircraft, are battling major infernos to the south-west, west and north of the city.
>
> The fires have already claimed one life and destroyed more than 20 homes since Wednesday afternoon.
>
> Dozens of other properties are currently under direct threat from the flames and major roads in the south, west and north of the city have been cut off.
>
> NSW Rural Fire Commissioner Phil Koperberg told media that unless it rained heavily there was little firefighters could do to control more than 60 blazes in and around Australia's major commercial center [Sydney].
>
> Weather forecasters were not optimistic with predictions of continuing hot and dry weather over Friday and the weekend.
> Two giant water-bombing helicopters, as well as other aircraft and ground crews, are focussing purely on property protection as the main fires burn almost unimpeded, fire officials say.
>
> Australian Prime Minister John Howard on Thursday expressed his "deep concern and sympathy" for those affected by the fires [Kol Nidre], and committed federal government assistance – including the Armed Forces – to the state-based fire-fighting efforts. He also extended his thanks and admiration for the "professionalism and heroism" of the thousands of volunteer firefighters battling the blazes [60,000, of which only 10 were qualified, and few took part]. Howard said the situation was looking as bad as the 2001 Christmas fires. Those fires razed more than 570,000 hectares (1.2 million acres) of land, destroyed 170 properties and caused over $40 million damage. "Our thoughts and prayers are with everyone affected," he said [the Kol Nidre].
> The New South Wales State government said Thursday it was launching a fresh bushfire appeal to help those hit by the blazes. It was also considering tougher penalties for those thought to have started fires, either deliberately or accidentally [Can't see the Aussie Government convicting a Jew]. Officials said Wednesday more than half the current fires were deliberately lit, many by bored teenagers on school vacation [none of which were cited or named as convicted].
>
> Much of Australia has been in the grip of a seven-month long drought [caused by Israeli-controlled weather manipulation like HAARP] which has been a major factor in the latest fires.
>
> Many parts of eastern Australia have experience the driest conditions since records began, and NSW has been experiencing bushfires since the southern winter month of August.
>
> Sydney, a city of more than 4 million people, has extensive tracts of bushland throughout its suburban areas and on the city fringes.
> Around 45,000 hectares of bushland is currently affected by the fires, according to the NSW Rural Fire Service, and a total fire ban remains in place across the State.
> Because of the strong and unpredictable winds, residents in affected areas are generally advised to stay within their homes and do what they can to fire-proof them, such as clearing out gutters, removing combustible material and making sure they have water supplies available.
>
> Among the homes threatened Wednesday was that of Australian cricket captain Steve Waugh in the southern suburb of Alford's Point. Teammate Glen McGrath, who lives nearby, joined Waugh's family to help protect the home.
> The fires have also created transport chaos with power failures shutting down the train system and stranding thousands of commuters [and generally hampering the economy and spirit of the people encouraging them to emigrate]."

[10] SYDNEY, Australia (CNN), 'Third day of wildfire threatens Sydney', Grant Holloway, 5 December 2002.

John Winston Howard . . . Israeli Agent . . . and Jewish.

John Howard also lied over the "Tampa Incident" where he had his "government ministers in October 2001, in the lead-up to a federal election, [say] that sea-faring asylum seekers had thrown children overboard in a presumed ploy to secure rescue and passage to Australia."[11]

This was absolute bullshit, although it did secure him the 2001 election.

An Australian Naval Intelligence officer who couldn't stand it any more, released the photos showing this was not the case. Too late for that Election, and the next, but the Australian voters rejected Howard at the voting polls as soon as they found out the truth.

John Howard – "Who the blazes . . .?"

John Howard is a Jew. He never promoted he was a Jew while Australian Prime Minister – not before nor afterwards, although he did admit to it very quietly. It was the Jews who kept John Winston Howard in power. Howard was their agent and the next Prime Minister, Kevin Rudd (who ignores all Intelligence) is even more pro-Jewish (and pro-Chinese/ Communist/ slavery/ British Monarchy), so it isn't much of a choice (see Burning Bushes to follow).

I.O. "He also looks like a Rockspider . . . The fires encroaching Sydney happen every year to some degree, although during Howard's tenure, they were at their worst. There was a big one in 1964. These fires and drought in Australia were so bad, white nylon shirts hung out to dry in New Zealand's capital turned a rusty red-brown in two hours from the dust and smoke from the Australian bushfires. Some Australian trees have adapted and their seeds only break out of their shells in a fire and form afterwards – like the wattle."

Spymaster: "In Australia, the only way you can tell a big pork pie in Parliament and get away with it, is if you to tell it after lunch. That's totally normal and acceptable because everybody is totally anaesthetised after lunch. But if you tell a really big lie before lunch, may God help you. So it's Kol Nidre after lunch, and Atonement before. The weekends are for blasting trumpets, feasts, and table tennis – singing, eating, and building an illegal addition on the back of your house." Author: ". . . And putting another crime on the barbie."

I.O.: "How do you tell an Aussie politician is on the level? . . . They're dribbling from both sides of their mouth!"

John Howard also got the Presidential Medal of Freedom, along with Tony Blair on the occult's 13 January 2009.[12] It is awarded "for especially meritorious contributions to security or the national interests of the United States, world peace or cultural or other significant public or private endeavours". It wasn't stated why he got the award. Presumably it was for "contributing to the security of the United States" – keeping 'mum' about the terrorism hoax and Israel's part in it.

The Americans seem to have lost ownership of their awards, along with everything else. The Presidential Medal of Freedom is another Semetic Award, just as the Presidential Gold Medal is the B'nai B'rith award for murder.

In New Zealand we have the same problem with the Chief Justice Sian Elias – the Chief Jewstess, highest-ranking Mossad agent, and foremost Sayanim agent.

Sian Elias takes the Nation's vows to "Queen and Country . . . so help me God", then takes the Kol Nidre, carries out murders (Michael King etc), writes laws in an attempt to create civil war ('Foreshore and Seabed'), orders terrorist attacks (Ruatoki and the Tuhoe Nation) synchronised on 14 October 2007 with at least eight other countries (including Australia, Spain, France, UK), takes the Kol Nidre again, then with clear albeit warped conscience, fucks her chauffeur in the Justice Department's limousine on the way home . . . while her neighbour and husband roots males, takes the Kol Nidre, meets children at Hugo Johnson Drive, runs child sex abuse soirées and roots boys, then takes the Kol Nidre, commits murder (Michael King) and accessory to murder (David McNee) and takes the Kol Nidre, then gets promoted to Chancellor of the University of Auckland – Murder Inc.

"It's life Jim, but not as we know it."[13]

So there we have it – the Chief Jewstress (Justice) and the Chance-alot (Chancellor) of the University of Auckland.

New Zealand as we know it to be – 2004 to 2009.

So what's it like in your country?
What are we honest folk doing wrong, or right and being ignored and persecuted for it?

Just imagine if the Christians and Gentiles went about their business and contracts with the covenant:
"The oath shall not be an oath,
the pledge shall not be a pledge,
and the vow shall not be a vow."

The world would be in mayhem –
willfully inflicting injury on another to render them defenseless.[14]

The mayhem this creates (injured defenseless) is the mayhem the Jews have over the non-Jews on a daily and annual basis. It is how Gentiles are hobbled, boiler-plated and blacklisted from careers wanted and lives worked towards.

Kol Nidre is the annual removal of the Gentile's Birth Right.

The next Kol Nidre is on 28 September 2009.
That should be the day for oneness with oneself, oneness with God, oneness with Gentiles, the most anti-Semetic day of the year, and, on an annual basis, chanted three times, the affirmation: "We shall not pay tax against us", and the prayer:
"Please forgive us for not paying taxes used against us".

From here Gentiles should be able to grow from injured defenseless, to injured defenders, to defenders without injury, defenders of the faith, and a faith of defenders with just cause.

PS. Could the Chief Justice Sian Elias please tell me where she was on 2 October 2006, 22 September 2007, 9 October 2008, and where will she be on 28 September 2009, 18 September 2010, and 8 October 2011 ; and Did Sian Elias not carry out the oath, pledge and/or vow known as "Kol Nidre".

Who the Blazes is Kevin Rudd?

Kevin Rudd took over as Prime Minister of Australia on 24 November 2007 and Israel is attempting to take over Australia by any means. This includes inducing a state of fear and panic, starvation, heat waves, mass deaths, evacuations, droughts, and burning them out with weatherbombs . . . all offest by "successful" kiddy's TV characters and cartoons.

Israel has found the best means of taking over Australia is via their Prime Ministers, so every PM is now a compromised Israeli asset, and eventually an Israeli agent. This includes John Howard and Kevin Rudd, and weather warfare.

The 'Black Saturday' fires (28 January–16 March 2009) just outside Melbourne, Victoria, peaked on Saturday 7 February. They were a weatherbomb with fire attached.

On Saturday 7 February 2009, Victoria had the worst bushfire weather conditions ever recorded with an intense heat wave of 40°+C, 6 % humidity, months of extreme dry, and winds. The extreme fire warning is rated at 100. This was off the scale at 300.

On Black Saturday, 400 individual fires were recorded as ignited and spreading with winds of 45 to 120+ km/h. This created several large firestorms and pyrocumulus systems (fire clouds) north, east and southeast of Melbourne. After 6 pm, the 45 km/h northwest winds moved to 120 km/h southwest gale-force winds. This created two massive fire fronts at least 60 km and 40 km wide which burnt with incredible ferocity sometimes racing 100 metres in a continuous line in just a few seconds (110 km/h) – as fast as the wind that blew it.

There were two firefronts – the Kilmore fire north and east of Melbourne, and the Churchill fire east and south of Melbourne, just 100 km apart. With the correct weather and wind conditions, both had the opportunity to close in on Melbourne.

With Israel controlling the HAARP weather manipulation facility (and HARP), and thus controlling the wind direction, the fire was directed by northwest winds along a southeast line with spot fires regularly lit by their project arsonists ("jumping up to 4 km ahead"), powerlines sabotaged, police and firemen suspected of lighting fires (while overly praised for dousing the Ferntree fire), back burning sabotaged, and a local man with a porn habit blamed.

Once the fires had created two fronts 60 km and 40 km long, a choice was given to Kevin Rudd to have (A) the winds move to the northeast and burn Melbourne; (B) have the winds turn southwest and burn some small towns without warning in a media blackout; or (C) have the fire burn out in a controllable fashion with no winds, increased humidity and rain, but the evacuation of Australians to Alaska.

Kevin Rudd took (A) 'the imminent threat to Melbourne' seriously, and acknowledged the superior power of Israel, but did not agree to (C) no winds but the evacuation of Australia, so the winds were changed to (B) the southwest creating a weatherbomb fire equivalent to 1,500 atomic bombs (not counting the Churchill fires) . . . but with no one to blame except the guy with the porn habit and the local powerline companies . . . neither of which were Israel.

Option (C) meant Kevin Rudd would have to agree to forcefully evacuate Australians to uninhabited parts of Alaska. This would have made him an Israeli agent. Rather, he chose Option (B) and accepted becoming an Israeli asset.

The Damage from Option (B)

During the Israeli weatherbomb with fire attached/ 1,500 blameless Hiroshima nukes, 4,500 km^2 of land burnt out, over 3,500 structures were destroyed, including 2,030 homes, 60 commercial buildings (shops, pubs, service stations, golf clubs, etc), 55 businesses, 2 police stations, 1 fire station, 3 schools, 3 churches, 3 children's services; 1,500 farm buildings, machinery, hay and wool sheds; 2,150 sheep, 1,200 cattle, more horses, goats, alpacas, poultry and pigs, with another 7,700 livestock injured; 1,680 km^2 of pasture, 70 km^2 of plantation timber, 10,000 km of fencing, 8 km² of fruit trees, olives and vines, 2 km² of standing crops, 211,000 tonnes of hay, and 25,600 tonnes of stored fodder and grain, and 173 people – all gone.

This was 'weather warfare with fire attached' and it placed Israel firmly in control of the new Australian Prime Minister – Kevin Rudd.

It was also a massive economic hit – $1.5 billion – and one that could be repeated, pretty much blamelessly[15] . . . even after the 363 page Royal Commission Interim Report on Black Saturday was published. 'Royal Commissions' are a whitewash for the Freemasons involved in state sabotage. Royal Commissions also ensure no one was to blame, and this was no different.

Premier of Victoria John Brumby, 28 October 2008 – 100 days before Black Saturday:
"If you look at the weather projections . . . September . . . is the lowest since statistics were recorded, more than a century ago . . . our October rainfall is to be the lowest on record . . . stream flow figures . . . ten year rainfall pattern . . . lowest on record . . . in terms of fire intensity and fire risk we are amongst the very highest on record and that's why 'how we prepare for the fire season' is so important . . . call on all Victorians . . . to be vigilant and to prepare . . . with absolute certainty will be a very intense . . . summer. [So why did you let the Shire Councils fine those who correctly prepared?]

"Since 1999 our Government's substantially increased . . . funding . . . into the fire effort . . . I came to Government as Minister for Finance and then Treasurer . . . $30 million a year into the fire effort . . . This year . . . around $100 million . . . to lift that effort amongst our emergency services . . . to grabble . . . climate change and fire risk.

"This year we've deployed nearly 200 project fire fighters into regional Victoria to begin preparations for the fire season. We've got 52 who are already working in Gippsland, 43 in the North East of the State, 30 in the North West, 13 in Port Phillip and 56 in the South West [194] . . . more recruits being trained . . . will be deployed throughout regional Victoria in response to the fires [where were they?]. All up there will be 650 project fire fighters who are deployed across Victoria over the coming months [450 project arsonists?] . . . CFA's 60,000 strong army of volunteers [some of whom are arsonists and those who protected their homes were tarnished] . . . who do such a magnificent job. They will join more than 2,700 people employed by DSE and it's partner agencies who are available to fight the fires . . . backed up by 2,072 trucks, 409 four wheel drives with the slipon units, 58 bulldozers and tractors . . . 34 aircraft available . . . including the two Erickson air cranes. [Well, where were they all?, Were they even deployed?]

". . . this will be an intense season . . . statistics . . . dryness . . . fire risk. . . the worst . . . how we prepare . . . absolutely crucial . . . people . . . on the outskirts of Melbourne . . . need to be vigilant . . . and prepare now [but with no instructions on what to do and negative rewards for doing it] . . .

"Government's . . . put in an unprecedented investment . . . as best prepared as we can [there is no correlation between investment, preparation and success in Government John, especially when you add 450 project arsonists], but sometimes it doesn't matter how well prepared you are, climatic conditions, lightning strikes [which came from the fires], strong winds [HARP/HAARP] changes in weather patterns [which CFA Chief Russell Rees ignored] can make it extraordinarily difficult to extinguish the fires [forward excuse] . . . so this is a big [sabotage] effort right across the state, but we have as I've said tripled funding [with the climate rigged and fires lit to substantiate it], we've got 650 project fire fighters[/arsonists] who will be employed, there's a huge effort out there [in bureaucratic sabotage], the agencies are all united [but don't communicate, don't have clear roles and abandoned larger fires as someone else's problem], they're all working together [in sabotage, back burning, panic fleeing, miscommunication, not informing locals, the CFA Chief in full sabotage purposefully unaware of the fire map, and all protocols out the window] and we intend to get on top of the issue [of supporting weather warfare to support the Climate Change hoax, as backed by our Jewish banksters who are also our paedophile masters, who can shame us, plus I have women's legs and take it like J. Police blame Arson

Assistant Commissioner of Crime Dannye Moloney said police investigators have confirmed arson was the cause of the following fires:

> "The Boolarra/Delburn fires in Gippsland on 28 January; the Bunyip State Park fire on 4 February 2009; the Terrys Avenue fire in Belgrave; the Lysterfield State Forest fire in Upwey; the West Gippsland Churchill, Marysville, Murrindindi and Bendigo fires on Black Saturday."[17]
> "Many people were put into fear, a whole community put into fear, and millions and millions of dollars worth of damage . . . If you look at the environment on that day 45 km/h winds, the temperature, and the conditions of the environment, anybody who lit a fire there would cause maximum damage. Everything is just nuked."[18]

The resulting sparking and fallen powerlines helped spread initial fires [conjecture, according to engineers later]. A change to southwest winds at 6 pm Black Saturday pushed the fire northeast to the Loy Yang Power Station where several small fires broke out in the open-cut coal mine.

On 8 February temperatures cooled and some light rain fell, but the next day the Churchill fire complex was still burning 323 km² with 11 killed. Churchill resident Brendan Sokaluk (39) was charged along with child pornography.

No Warning despite Accurate Predictive Map
"Towns like Cottles Bridge, only 15 km from continous suburbs of Melbourne and 30 km from its centre . . . were in a media blackout. Just 5 km northeast was St Andrews where people were burning alive in their homes . . . also in a media blackout. No one was answering the emergency call numbers and the police were nowhere to be seen.

"The northwesters were driving the fire in a southeast direction from Kilmore southeast to the towns and wilds of Wandong, Clonbinane, Mt Disappointment, Humevale, Kinglake West, Strathewen, Arthurs Creek, St Andrews, and Yarra Glen 60 km away."[19]

This created a fire front just 9 km from the continuous suburbs of Melbourne. The heat is dangerous at a distance 4 times the height of the flames and the flames got over 1 km high with the smoke creating a complete daytime blackout, and over 60,000 homes without power.

If the wind had changed from northwest to northeast (A), the 60 km long fire would have taken Melbourne. The wind did change, but from a northwest to southwest around 6 pm 7 February 2009 (B).

> "The northeast passage of the 60 km long Kilmore East fire front killed more than 100 people and the Murrindindi fire killed some 40 more . . . the last minutes of these people . . . simply unbearable. As the Christian tradition testifies, to be consumed by fire is perhaps the most horrible kind of death humans can imagine.
>
> "If the wind had turned to northeast, thousands in Melbourne would have been killed. The fluke of wind saved perhaps hundreds if not thousands of lives.

Faults and Blame

"A 2 km section of powerline that fell near East Kilmore around 11.20 am 7 February is thought to have started the Kilmore fire which became part of the Kinglake complex. The Horsham fire began an hour later around 12.30 pm and is also thought to have started from a fallen power line . . . On 13 February a class action lawsuit was initiated against the electricity distribution company SP AusNet."[21]

Government Watchdog, Royal Commission and Arson

The Federal Parliament suspended its scheduled meetings on 9 February 2009 and Kevin Rudd went to Melbourne to watch the fire's progress carefully – (A), (B), or (C). The Governor-General addressed the disaster from council and dispatched the Australian Defence Force.

Premier John Brumby announced a Royal Commission into the fires . . . including whether Climate Change contributed to the severity of the fires, which was the Israel/ PC/ don't look too close/ no science /pro-America dumb-down kicker that the sexually-shamed support.

Former Supreme Court of Victoria Justice Bernard Teague chairs the Commission assisted by former Govt. liar Commonwealth Ombudsman Ron McLeod and Commissioner of the State Services Authority Susan Pascoe who had headed the 2003 Canberra bushfires enquiry – so everything was promised and nothing will happen. The report is expected by 31 July 2010, by which time everyone will have lost interest and another fire season will have past.

Premier John Brumby: "The Commission will be the most open inquiry possible. No stone unturned. Every bit of information on the table. And if that means calling ministers or premiers, or whoever it is, we will be happy to assist."[22]

Oh yeah, what about Bushfire John of the Kol Nidre and Kevin Rudd of the hogtied, hands-tied, white haired, no balls Israeli asset brigade . . . and obfuscating for the failed CFA Chief Russell Rees by saying (Brumby): "We are here to look forward, not to look back".

The Royal Commission began on 20 April 2009. First up was counsel Jack Rush: "The inadequately short notice warnings will be delivered by the commission to the government by August 2009".[23]

They were delivered on 17 August 2009. They took 4 months because the Interim Report had to be worded so that no one was to blame. To achieve this, the dozen or so points had to be expanded into "51 Recommendations". This was blamed on: "There is a very high degree of overlap between what people have told us and the Commission's recommendations to make our state safe", by Premier John Brumby, SkyNews Live, 17 August 2009, and further: "I want to put the emphasis on looking forward [I don't want to have the blame on my shoulders, Kevin Rudd, or Russell Rees] . . . "to never again see a repeat of February 7th. This is about identifying things that worked and things that didn't . . . so we can address them" and avoid responsibility so we can stay in power unquestioned.

The thing that didn't work was the CFA and all forms of the Australian Government.

Spymaster: "The Crimes Act in Australia has specific clauses such that all the leadership of the CFA and the Regional Fire Services and the politicians supporting them, should be brought up on charges of criminal, or negligent, homicide.

"That this wasn't done, is further proof that Black Saturday was a hit."

Broke-Back Burning at Wilsons Promontory

On 8 February lightning sparked a fire in Wilsons Promontory – 90 km² of stunning rainforest, unspoiled beaches and abundant wildlife on the southern-most tip of Australia. At a community meeting on 11 February, the Department of Sustainability and Environment (DSE) and Parks Victoria authorities revealed a plan to back burn across the 7 km wide entrance to Wilsons Promontory – to protect the towns of Yanakie and Sandy Point 3 km to the north.

But locals pointed out that the proposed burn was larger than both the existing fire, and the controlled burn that breached due to increased heat and wind that caused the evacuation of 600 people in April 2005 . . . So without the local's blessing, DSE and Parks Victoria authorities proceeded with preparatory work and were about to light the controlled burn when strong easterly winds came up the next day. If the back burn had taken place, it would have destroyed Yanakie and Sandy Point, and blown the fires along the south coast toward Melbourne 120 km away . . .

So the community quorum of locals were right and the Government wasn't.

Public Blame Police and Fire for Arson

By 10 August 2009, the word is the fires were deliberately lit by police and firemen, with the blame going to one guy with some pornography, which removes the morality of his reply . . . and the electricty company SP AusNet, which makes the fight internal to Australia, and takes the focus off Israel and its plans for Australia.

2009 Victo… …fires
Royal Com…

The Australian public can further blame the CFA Chief Russell Rees who was in the same room where and when the accurate predictive fire map was made. This fire map accurately predicted where the Black Saturday fire would go and when it would get there. During the hearing on 17 August 2009, CFA Chief Russell Rees said he was unaware of the map then, but is aware of it now. He then admitted to faulted communication between the various government fire fighting factions, but not within his own office. All he had to do was turn around, walk three paces, acknowledge the fire maps, and 100 more people would have survived . . . None of the reporters asked if Russell Rees was a Freemason; and no one asked Premier John Brumby if he was taking it up the arse like J. Edgar Hoover.

Premier John Brumby (Queen Victoria) then announced Russell Rees commission as CFA Chief had been renewed for another two years. So it was an inside job full of State sabotage . . . as is typical of Royal Commissions . . . collusion to sabotage.

A similiar thing happened in New Zealand in the 1980s when the fireman in charge of training new firefighters, lit 80 per cent of the fires in the sparsely populated West Auckland and areas approaching its beaches. He also used unusually hot weather as cover.

Like Australia, this story has still not made it to the mainstream media.

New Zealand Undercover Arsonist in Australia

Spymaster: "This guy from New Zealand made a habit of going to Australian towns and burning the whole guts out of a town, specialising in Western Australia in the 1980s and 90s. It went on for at least 20 years. He had an incredible toll of towns that he'd burnt out. But the most fascinating thing about him was that he had a completely tatooed face with barely any skin showing, and he would go around to the Arson Squad of CID, the day after the fire, and tell them: 'I'm a New Zealand Undercover and I've been sent specifically to help you in your hour of need'.

What used to happen in over 200 towns, is that they were grateful to the prick. They used to furnish all their photos and he used to take them into a vacant office and review them for leads. And after many years of committing arson in two horse dorps all over Australia, he made the mistake of going into an interview room where a female police office was next door. She heard strange noises and looked up to see him wanking over the arson photos, so she went to her boss the Sergeant and said: 'Is that Kiwi U.C. supposed to be wanking himself over the arson photos?', and suddenly the Sergeant had a Road to Damscus Conversion and realised that all was not as it seemed.

So the Sergeant marched into the room, grabbed the arsonist by the neck and said: 'You did this arson didn't you' and the Kiwi denied it, so the Sergeant said: 'Don't bullshit me. I can tell by the way you were wanking over the photos' whereupon the Kiwi broke down and revealed all, saying: 'Fire is my only friend . . . I felt cleansed by burning a town down . . . If I hadn't got the cooperation of the Australian Police I wouldn't have been able to burn down the towns . . . I'm glad you caught me because now I can look forward to confessing everything and one day having a clean slate, and I will tell you all about it, but first I need a coffee . . . and it all goes back to my childhood when I was put up for adoption and the only people who would have me were Maoris. I've had a terrible aweful life and fire was my only friend.'

You watch this. It's a totally true story, but the Australian Police will totally rubbish it, and deny its veracity into media oblivion, just as they did the first time around. It was hushed up even before his sentence was announced."

Arsonists and Strange Sex

Proper Undercover: "Arson is a sexual act . . . In West Auckland in 1991, I came across these two kids, 14- to 16- years-old. One of them had set a fire in the Footrot Flats Fun Park[24] in Te Atatu North (not your best Auckland suburb). One morning they decided to have a fire and one had a series of bung lighters on him, so he went off to the dairy to buy some matches and left the other at the scene.

When he returned the fire was already going and the Fire Service was already there, and the Fire Police were everywhere. They were like maggots on a dead man. They were directing everybody to drive to places that nobody knew where to find, and these two kids were scrapping at the Fire Police's feet and I noticed there was something unusual about the way they were fighting.

They weren't going for carotid holds and strangling each other the way most Maoris fight. They were grabbing each other around the arse and actually wrestling and tearing each others clothes.

So I started listening to what they were saying and they were both calling each other 'fucking cunts' and one was saying: 'You lit the fire without me. You should have waited 'til I'd got back. We were going to fuck each other when the fire service was coming down the motorway and you jumped the gun.'

---

[24] Footrot Flats was part of Leisureland which opened on 21 April 1984. Leisureland then closed down in 1991 for unpaid rates and reopened as Adventure West in 1992.

I remember that I'd been told by the CID that someone had read in a book that arson was a sexual act and the detectives thought that was total shit, but something struck a chord and I decided to watch these two. And at that moment, the Fire Police took note because one of them got whacked in the shins by one of the youths, so the Fire Police bent down and said to them: 'Fuck off you little cunts. We are fighting a fire!'. The two youths then began mutual recriminations of:

'It's our fire. We started it. Why should you have all the fun.'

The Fire Police lost it and told them to 'Fuck off now or you'll be arrested'. And they said 'Yes, yes, that's what we want', so the Fire Police gave them a kick up the arse and they started moving down the road. I went with them and they both told me again the whole circumstances of starting the fire, and even their street names, and pointed out the seat of the fire was the house they used to sleep in. So they burnt a house down. Then they showed me where they were going to move to. It was a bamboo hedge at the back of a park. I went back to the cops in the park and told them verbally, and then in written form what I'd discovered, but they weren't interested. I then told my boss (Detective-Sergeant) on Monday about it, but on that day he wasn't interested in the slightest either. All he wanted to bring up was the complaints that he had from Fire Police: 'How I'd obstructed them and got in the way of their investigation and tried to encourage them to look at leads they knew to be false, and had called them "dumb cunts".' So at that point, I gave up. The whole thing went the PC way of non-intervention until the two boys were eventually charged with another arson and I remember the Detective-Sergeant on the phone saying: 'Yes he was an arsonist, because someone had told me who'd read a book about it, but I can't for the life of me remember who it was'."

It is not uncommon for firemen to be arsonists. The standard procedure to investigate a fireman arsonists is to search their locker and if there are a bunch of lighters and some porn, you have your man. Firemen who lit the fire are often first at the scene, or called it in, and are often leaning against the fire truck breathless and all excited while the others are trying to put their life's work out.

In the case of Black Saturday, there were over 600 fires in the state of Victoria, over 400 fires in the Kilmore-to-Churchill zone, with over half of these deliberatly lit . . . and the whereabouts of many of the firemen and fire trucks could not be established. This would indicate that some of the project firemen were deliberately lighting fires as project arsonists . . . and some of the attempts at back burning ignored the wind shifts and contributed to the fires . . . and some of these were on purpose, with foreknowledge outwardly ignored.

Development and Murder around the Weather Cannon

Dr. Gerald Vincent Bull (1928–90) was a Canadian engineer who moved from project to project for all sides and spent time working on missiles in HARP (High Altitude Research Program). By November 1962, Dr. Bull was launching 150 kg Martlets, 6.6 km high, up to eight times a night, for upper atmosphere research. About 1,000 firings took place where electronics triggered the release of chemical markers at a set altitude leaving a 'triethylaluminum smoke trail' through the atmosphere to measure winds. This burnt off on contact with air.

Chaff[25] was also released which allowed tracking via radar; and electronics were released to measure the magnetic field.

[25] Chaff was either very thin aluminium or aluminised paper. The paper only gave reflection on one side, so the thin aluminium was preferred. It was also more difficult to tear. Both took forever to fall. Chaff was firsts used by 100 Group RAF in 1943 over Europe to stuff up German radar. They dropped it at 30–40,000 feet, it'd take hours to come to ground, during which German radar read as a field of snow.

Dr. Bull's Martlets resulted in half of all upper-atmospheric data collected to date. The tropical atmospheric meteorological data was then given to the Army Research Office in exchange for funding. HARP eventually led to HAARP – High Frequency Active Auroral Reseach Program – although this is denied.

Dr. Bull's goal was to launch a satellite by missile, but when the Americans found out Bull was trying to launch a Canadian flag into space in 1967, they cut off his funding in 1968.

The Israelis and Canadian Military then gave Bull all the research the British had given the Germans for making long-range cannon. Then they helped Bull to sanction-bust with South Africa and elongated the range of their artillery with the G5 howitzer, giving them the advantage over the Soviets in Cuba.

Dr. Gerald Bull then designed the Project Babylon "supergun" for Saddam Hussein. Two superguns made it to Iraq, with all spare parts, and were both mounted on the side of hills.

Britain lied about this all the time. What Britain passed off as spare parts were actually sections of oil pipeline. The story in Britain was they thought they were making oil pipeline for Saddam Hussein, and even had a big court case about it where the judge directed the jury 'to find that MI-6 had not played a part in it' – so that's what went down.

Further down the lying scale, the smaller gun made it to Iraq, but UK Customs seized several parts of the supergun in November 1990 (8 months after Dr. Bull was toes up) . . . but two full superguns and all spare parts were delivered to Saddam.

Saddam Hussein's long-range superguns had the ability to strike Europe or the UK at any time, but he never chose to use them, because Saddam Hussein was also run by the British.

The military tension certainly kept the price of fuel high, which is what the military tension was designed to do – by the British and Americans – and Saddam worked for both.

What Dr. Gerald Bull developed in HARP was put into long-range artillery experiments as cannon weather control. And when he was no longer needed, he was no longer needed.

Bull had worked on so many critical defence projects for so many opposing sides that he was an asset and a liability all at the same time. When he was working on the Scud missile[26] for the Russians during the Cold War, this became a problem for the world's governments, so they employed the world's contract killers to do the hit – enter the Israelis.

Scuds were a poor excuse for Dr. Bull's murder as the Berlin Wall had come down five months earlier, and everyone knew the Soviet Union was in free fall collapse and the Cold War was coming to an end (both in 1991).

So 'Dr. Bull developing Scud missiles for the Soviets' was not the reason for his death. The development of his work into weather warfare – as the weather cannon – was the reason for his death. After some weather bomb is dropped, you hardly want a scientist popping up in the media and saying: "I recognise my own work. I led that project. Here's who's behind it." So Dr. Gerald Vincent Bull had to go.

First Dr. Bull was given several warnings to shut-uppa-your-face, but that didn't seem to work as he was a driven scientist and deontic. His apartment was broken into and the money was left behind, which is a sure sign of Israel's involvement – it's an Israeli signature.

Still, Dr. Gerald Bull trusted the Israelis to turn up to a treff with him. He was a scientist, what to you expect. Scientists expect everyone else to be deontic, just like them. Assassins expect everyone to be deontic, especially when they're scientists, and when they're required to kill someone who isn't deontic, they generally expect more in kickbacks or greater cover, usually in the form of media distraction.

Dr. Bull never thought the Israelis would turn up with a gun, turn on him, and kill him, but on 22 March 1990, Gerald got pumelled. He was shot five times with 9 mm bullets in the head and back by Mossad, reportedly outside his apartment in Antwerpen, but according to Wikipedia, the details are still sketchy.

According to the Army Intelligence investigation, Dr. Gerald Vincent Bull was shot inside by the elevator on the way to his apartment.

> A similar scene was shown in the 2005 movie 'Munich', where a Palestinian 'Black September' member talks to a small audience on the streets of Rome about his translation of The Arabian Nights and is then shot by Mossad outside the elevator doors to his apartment, as part of Operation Wrath of God. The film was based on George Jonas' Vengeance: The True Story of an Israeli Counter-Terrorist Team (1984, 24 editions).

So what did Australia do to deserve a Black Operation Wrath of God set on Vengeance? They got rid of the Kol Nidre John Howard!

The result – vengeful black weather seemingly from God, but really from terrorist Israel effected by counter-terrorist Fire and Police, all washed clean by a Royal Commission whose Queen is Jewish/ Rothschild/ Central Bank and needs to recover some of her recent £17 billion losses through increased insurance premiums, essentially controlled by MI-6, of whom QEII is the head . . . and MI-6 trains all the world's terrorists.

The investigation into Dr. Bull's murder was deliberately botched by Belgian Police who double as apologists for Interpol – who double as the Nazi SS with Hitler's picture taken down – who lie by omission for sadistic michling occult Jews – who rort their secret societies – who populate government departments to do the damage for them.

These Jews also control the Freemasons who control the Police and Fire Departments in Victoria, and the Premier's office, who in turn work in conjuction with Israel's weather warfare on their own country – Australia – in exchange for children to root, for them, and their Freemason buddies, supplied by the paedophiles in Brussels, where Interpol is based – who regularly don't find the paedophiles by protecting their whereabouts – generally in safe houses protected by Freemason police.

See how shit stinks and travels in a circle. Eventually you get burnt – three years, fire season, Fire and Police. CFA Chief Russell Rees is a Freemason. He's incredibly useless at his job and should never have been placed in that position, let alone maintained in that position – except for sabotage.

Black Saturday was an exercise in self-sabotage.

Black Saturday was an act of Israeli weather warfare, combined with Freemasons within Victoria Fire and Police, who were used to sabotage counter-measures on the ground, and in communications, in order to place Australians in a state of fear and panic, in the vain hope of emigrating them to Alaska . . . close to where Dr. Gerald Vincent Bull began his experiments in Canada.

But Aussies won't go anywhere unless you can wear stubbies, drink stubbies, look like a stubby, and have a stubby cook your food, while the initiated blokes put another crime on the barbie . . . "forty years ago deez was'd pioneez of t'day mate . . . Fuck Alaska. Give me a burning eucalypt any day . . . Why I 'member d'time, before the fire, it was a craker mate, shit, sheeze, d'r waz dis chick 'n d'water waz blue . . ."

Royal Commission Interim Report into Black Saturday

The 'Bushfires Royal Commission Interim Report[27] on 17 August 2009 issued 51 recommendations, each setting out the ways in which the Black Saturday fires were an act of sabotage on a State and national level. This occurred to such a degree that Black Saturday was virtually Australia's Pearl Harbor and 9-11 of the new weather warfare front.

The Commissioners were Chairman Bernard Teague, Susan Pascoe and Ron McLeod. Their 51 recommendations overlap to about half-a-dozen, with different sentence structure repeating and confusing, just as firemen are a collection of dyslexics, and the commissioners are a collection of compromised double agents, they melt down as follows . . .

1. Establishing early fire risk warnings – Der!

Warning systems were absent, did not exist, were not instigated, or delayed.

"Many people were not warned at all, or the amount of time they had to respond to the warnings was much less that it should be."

"Use Fire Station sirens to alert communities to the threat of bushfires."
That this wasn't done is outright blind sabotage and murder.

"Warnings should include information about the fire's severity, location, predicted direction and the likely time of impact."

"Fire severity scale, similar to cyclone categories 1-5 with a level 'beyond extreme'."

"Send warning messages to mobile phones."

"Use TV stations other than ABC" – like stations people watch.

None of this happened. That none of this happened was outright blind sabotage amounting to arson and murder on a State level.

2. Stay or Go

This controversial policy will be upgraded to leaving earlier with all the children.

The chance of saving a property will be assessed and spelt out plainly "with sufficient emphasis on the risks associated with defending a property", "some properties not defendable", and the psychological impacts and the risk of death will be yelled out:

"VROOM. Hey, fat chance of saving this place.
You could get yourself killed or all fucked-up. VROOM."

But it is the "responsibility of the locals", wherever there is a fire, in fire risk areas, to be aware of the risks, and to ensure one's own safety and those in their care.

Fire Refuges are to be organised by the individual Shires, and are not a government responsibility . . . So no insurance claims for loss of life . . .
and if you die, you made a bad decision to stay behind and it was your fault . . . for failure.
Governments don't do failure – they just ignore them.

3. Relocation plans to include Fire Refuges – Der!

The lack of Community Refuges increased the danger to those in bushfire-prone areas. This lead to people who "find themselves in danger when their plans fail, are overwhelmed by circumstances, change their minds or have no plan".

This resulted in multiple car accidents in the thick of smoke, resulting in people trapped in their cars and burnt alive.

People also returned to their homes, or stayed in their homes not knowing where to go.

---

[27] 'Bushfires Royal Commission interim report ignores fuel issue – expert', Sarah Wotherspoon, AAP, 17 Aug. 2009.

The two major locations of death were home and in the car or bus, with no certified, protected, accessible, known Community Refuges to go to.

The commissioners used the term "relocation" instead of "evacuation", although this did not alter the number of deaths or improve the situation.

It is highly condescending of the State to think that all panic was unnecesary and locals should have accepted their asphyxiation with patriotic grace.
How genocidal PC of John Brumby.

These are the Orwellian phrases of a compromised Premier and Royal Commission . . .
They should be "evacuated" from their positions, so that experienced survivors can "relocate" into them. This would return the leadership from 'pigs' to 'humans'.

4. Reorganising Fire Services Command

"The roles of emergency services is unclear."

This is political speak for: 'It was a fuck-up and now it is a cover-up'.

Question: 'So why did Premier John Brumby rehire the main culprit Russell Rees as CFA Chief Officer while the Interim Report was being read?

Answer: A Freemasons collusion in State-level sabotage, arson, and murder towards Israeli goals for Australia – the emigration of Australians.

5. Communications were Weak

There was no agency responsible for issuing warnings, the warnings were only on ABC – Australian Broadcasting Corporation, Australia's public broadcaster – who's warnings were purposefully non-specific, and few active or responsible adults watch it.

> "Despite this, ABC was given $136.4 million in new funding over three years (June 2009–12) to develop an advertising-free digital children's channel and increased output of Australian content.
> "Of this, $15.3 million goes to ABC Local online under the Rural and Regional National Broadband Network Initiative ("R&R/NBNI") to deliver more than 50 enhanced ABC Local Broadband Hubs in regional Australia to create 'virtual town squares' for communities to share experiences."[28]

Of this around 10% will go to "fuck, there's people burning alive here!". So around 1% of the $136.4 million goes to R&R/NBNI fire warnings.

The problem with this type of TV (ABC R&R/NBNI) is that it's so goddamned boring, no one watches. In terms of excitment, you might as well have some old biddy giving crochet tutorials to armchair dribblers who watch TV never believing it's happening in their backyards . . . "and you stitch one over the left and Jim there is a fire in your backyard", "now back to the virtual town square in Hubblesville. Hi Mary. Young Peter is washing neighbourhood cars to raise money for his cat Jaspers who only has whiskers on one side of his face. Jaspers is a naughty ginga . . ."

"Senator Conroy says this funding will help establish community websites and portals. ABC [R&R/NBNI] will encourage and assist the development of user-generated content and create online avenues for local communities to connect and collaborate.[29]
"ABC managing director Mark Scott says the major funding increase is a vote of [non-] confidence in the [non-]leadership role that the ABC will play in [boring] digital Australia. The new funding for broadband content affirms the ABC's role as Australia's town square [saboteurs] – a place Australians can come to speak and be [un]heard, to [not] listen and learn from each other . . . allowing the ABC to host [uninteresting] content the audiences create themselves [thus shifting the blame of Government failures to the community].”

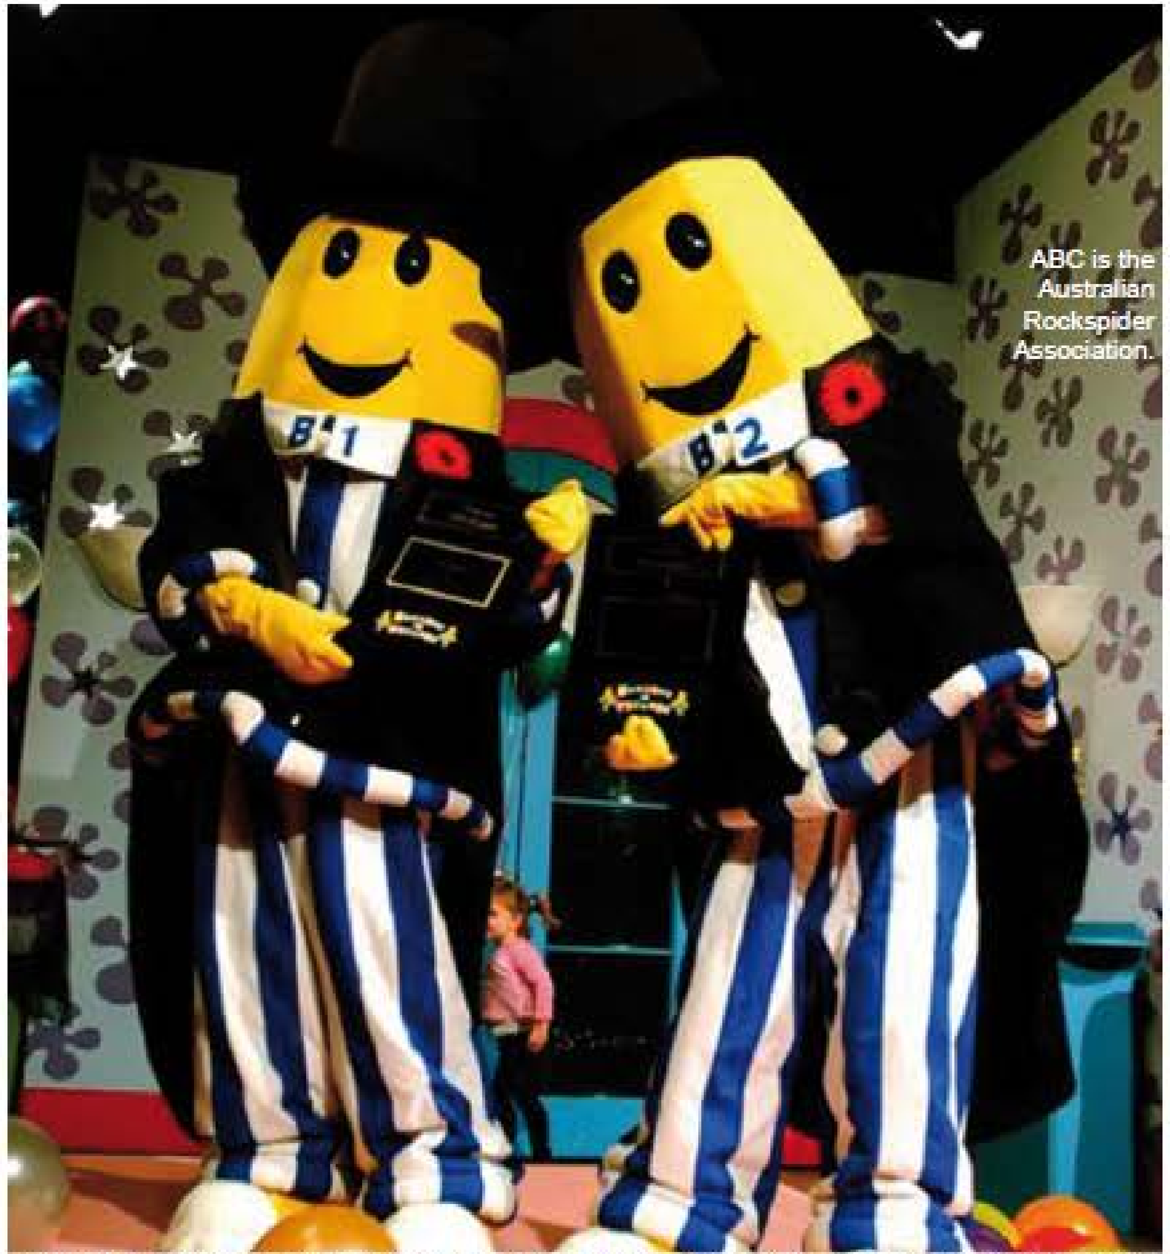
‘Bushfires Royal Commission Interim Report: “So broadcast official warnings on commerical TV and radio stations other than ABC.”

So ABC are given $136 million, the Royal Commission then said ‘No’, we don’t trust ABC to have an audience, they should focus on kiddy’s programmes, so Rockspiders can have a trouble-free platform for grooming – that’s $120 million and full support for Rockspiders, whereas fire gets $1.5 million, full sabotage, and has to search out its own irregular media – as recommended by Premier John Brumby/ Queen Victoria.



ABC is the Australian Rockspider Association.

A couple of Jewish paedophiles/ ABC children’s TV characters “Bananas in Pyjamas” groom the children for ‘two penises in a bed’, laugh at Australia, and take up 90% of the new $136.4 million funding, while Australia can’t even sound an alarm, siren, or warn residents where the fire is 15 minutes prior, and which way it’s heading – via the same ABC channel. So if your parents die, here are your Jewish-media-controlled surrogate parents – heavily-funded ABC Rockspiders. Get your priorities right Australia, and look at your subliminals.

6. Royal Commission’s Interim Report primary fault – Ignored Fuel Load

The Royal Commission’s Interim Report did not make any recommendations about the size, expanse and location of the fuel loads, equalling the size, expanse and location of the fire.

They side-stepped this major issue with “greater back burning” – which will effectively become the ongoing excuse for self-sabotage (even when sighted), with wind change and velocity controlled by HARP/HAARP.

“The main cause of the fire expanding (apart from arson) was the high fuel loads in the area, including tinder dry wood and brush, broken (sabotaged) power lines falling, and fuel in farm sheds etc.”[30]

Sabotage of fire prevention was bad enough. But the Interim Fire Report went on to sabotage future prevention, and then penalised previous prevention.

It did this by not correlating the fuel load with the fire, especially when close to homes.

Remove the fuel load and there is no fire.

Remove the fuel loads within burning distance from houses – at 4 times the projected height of the flames – and the houses won’t burn down.

Removing fuels loads close to houses prevents those houses from burning down.
At present this is done to 6 metres – effective for 1.5m/ 5 ft high flames.

Removing fuels loads 100 metres from houses, protects that house from 25m/82 ft high flames.

With 100 metre fire break, homes are downgraded from ‘extreme risk’ to ‘moderate risk’.

However, as fire prevention has been sabotage for a long time, as planed, those who correctly prepared were fined.

7. Purposeful Sabotage

Unbelievable, but true to this hypothesis of purposeful sabotage, the Royal Commission into Black Saturday found “the State Emergency Response Plan . . . does not clearly designate the agency responsible for issuing warning and recommending relocation . . . [so it was] at best unhelpful and at worst life-threatening in an emergency [criminal homicide]. The commission recommended the CFA chief officer [Russell Rees] be given responsibility for issuing warnings and providing information about the bushfire risk” . . . in the future – while ommiting to state that Russell Rees failed to do it on Black Saturday . . . so a linguistic cover-up – they addressed the issue in the future, but not in the past.

These lines came directly from Israel to the Royal Commission in order to protect the co-saboteur, co-homicidal CFA Chief Officer Russell Rees.

CFA Chief Officer Russell Rees was then announced as being rehired . . . just as he is a Freemason sabotueur – Ordo Ab Chao – Order out of Chaos.

That these measures weren’t in place is simply unbelieveable. There appears to be no rational explaination other than ‘purposeful sabotage’.

Despite the Kol Nidre/ Day of Atonement agent/ former Treasurer/ Premier John Brumby (Queen Victoria) making all the preparations, many of which were used for sabotage to light the fires (15 fires started all at once around Victoria), the CFA Chief was not responsible for warnings, recommending escape plans/ relocation/ place for refuge/ evacuation, or looking at, and citing the predictive fire maps . . . and nor was anyone else.

---

[30] David Packham, former CSIRO and Bureau of Meteorology forecaster of fire conditions in ‘Bushfires Royal Commission interim report ignores fuel issue – expert’, Sarah Wotherspoon, AAP, 17 August, 2009.

This resulted in no warnings, mute warnings, and confused warnings, which had no direction or desired outcome other than 'PANIC, IT'S TOO LATE'.

It was just whoever dies first, dies first.

The warnings were as effective as:
"Hi, something is happening outside. It's hot. There is a 20% chance that you will die in the next five minutes. Half of these 'warnings' are late and are actually 'reports' on what has already happened, but you are too dead to listen. We have no advice on what to do, where to go, or whether it has already happened. All we can positively say is that at least half the fires were deliberately lit, and we don't know where half of our project firemen/arsonists were, nor where half of our machinery was, and we couldn't or wouldn't answer your emergency calls, so thanks for paying your taxes, your arse is mine, and kiss it good bye."

This makes the next fire season (1 November 2009–) just as dangerous as the previous fire season.

Premier Brumby said there was a high degree of overlap with the report's recommendations and measures the government had already taken:

> "Victorians in communities at risk of bushfires can be assured that work is already under way on the bulk of the measures recommended in the interim report . . .
> A small number of recommendations require further consideration . . . further detailed responses on 31 August 2009 . . . final report by July 31 next year."

8. Australian Bushfires Deliberately Lit, but Blamed on Weather

Euro News, NZ television, 11.37 pm, 7 February 2009: "Over half the bushfires in NSW Australia are deliberately lit" and 50 minutes later at 12.27 am, 8 February 2009 the excuse: "Australia is suffering a once in a century heatwave".

The Royal Commission Interim Report on Black Saturday was a 363 page report of Fire sabotage by the CFA, DSE and associated bodies. It reads as a 'HOW TO SABOTAGE FIRE PREVENTION, KILL LOCALS AND INSTILL TERROR AND A LACK OF FAITH IN THE AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT'.

JOHN BRUMBY
Victoria Premier

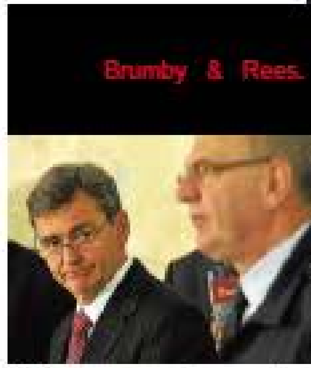
Fire Sabotage

"173 are dead in Victoria's worst ever bushfire . . . More than 600 fire incidents were recorded across the State on that day . . . The '000' emergency number had a record number of calls. Less than 75% were answered . . . There were Communication breakdowns on the day that repeated from the public to the Government and between the Government departments . . . Coordination amongst the Commonwealth Emergency Bodies was absent or non-existent . . . The wording of the warnings was indirect, unclear, complicated and lacked quality info . . . There was no fire warning above extreme . . . There was no fire warning saying 'HIGH CHANCE OF DEATH OVER NEXT 24 HOURS' . . . The ABC TV warnings were indirect, unclear and late . . . ABC TV 'warnings' were actually 'reports' of what had already happened . . . Other TV warnings also occurred after the event . . . The CFA had a monopoly on handing out warnings but failed to do so . . . The CFA Chief Officer Russell Rees ignored the accurate predictive fire map prepared in his own office . . . and was re-employed for another two years. This is a slap in the face to a grieving community of widows and widowers . . . Fire sirens in communities were discouraged . . . Warning sirens on radio were discouraged . . . Fire sirens were not sounded when the fire was in the immediate area . . . The community was given inadequate warning or no warning . . . The ETA of the fire was not stated . . . There were issues of communication, clarity, warning and chance of survival of person and property with the 'stay or go' policy . . . There were no identified or protected clear egress routes for escape to 'somewhere else' . . . 'Somewhere else' was not identified . . . Secure egress routes were not secure and became death traps . . . There were no Secure Refuges . . . There were no secure egress routes to Fire Refuges . . . The Fire Refuges were not protected by 100 metre fire breaks . . . The Fire Refuges were not protected by Firemen . . . The Fire Refuges did not have oxygen to assist breathing . . . The majority of people who died, died in their own homes, then in their car trying to escape, often to the Refuge[31] . . . And often the Refuge was on fire . . . It was each man for himself . . . The police were nowhere to be found . . . 'The way warnings and evacuations were made on the day bore little resemblance to the State Emergency Response Plans' . . . all protocols went out the window . . . 'over half the fires were purposefully lit'. Those who survived did so by luck more than preparation or skill. . . . Those who made the correct pre-emptive response and made a 100 metre fire break around their homes were fined by their Shire Councils . . . the various commonwealth bodies refused to accept blame for their mistakes which cost Australia $1.5 billion."



Brumby & Rees.

[31] There were only ever three roads out of Kinglake. The Kinglake Football Oval was considered a fire refuge and people headed there, but the road was blocked with burning cars and burning occupants.

9. CFA, DSE and State Government refuse responsibility and Deflect Blame

Premier John Brumby (Queen Victoria) refused to accept any blame on himself, or any of the Commonwealth bodies. Instead, he focussed on future changes, and put the onus on the local Shire Council to put these in place.

SkyNews, Live, 17 August 2009, Premier John Brumby: "I want to put the emphasis on looking forward [I don't want to have the blame on my shoulders, Kevin Rudd, or Russell Rees] . . . to never again see a repeat of February 7th. This is about identifying things that worked and things that didn't . . . so we can address them . . . there is a very high degree of overlap between what people have told us and the Commission's recommendations to make our State safe [however we have ignored the fuel load as the source of the fire]."

1. "The existing policy is retained, but with a completely different emphasis" as opposed to throwing out the current policy which absolutely does not work. e.g. "The safest place to be in a bushfire is somewhere else" . . . which is a completely different policy.

2. The roles of the CFA, the DSE and State Government in warning people and what to expect, are to be outlined – in the future.

3. Fire Refuges to be organised by the individual Shire Councils – Fire Refuges were not and are not the government responsiblity.

4. Ferntree Gulley was the CFA's golden shower achievement.

Spymaster: "I was probably lit by the firemen.
It was in an easily controlled area, and did not have the wind pushing it up a hill".

10. Author's Recommendations

Ensure:

1. State Emergency Response Plans are adhered to by CFA, DSE and State Government and the community public are aware of these roles and their protected egress, locations and response options.
2. CFA, DSE and State Government ensure they can communicate without sabotage. e.g. When fire warning gets to extreme, they co-ordinate and act as one body – 'Australia's Fire Protection' ("AFP").
3. Rewrite State Emergency Response Plans and stick to them, with penalities attached when not sticking to them amounts to arson and negligent homicide.
4. Predictive Fire Map to be read by CFA Chief, followed and disseminated.
   (Ignored = arson = negligent homicide = fired =charged).
5. Shire Councils to fund clearing around houses and communities and refund fines and legal costs for those who have already done the right thing.
6. Reduce insurance for houses that comply with fire breaks.
7. Give Fire Protection priority over Green Party concerns.
8. Local Fire Sirens, Radio Sirens and TV sirens in conjunction with improved 'Danger Index' on TV and Radio shows people watch and listen to- thus avoiding media blackout.
9. TV to report fire news as either "warnings" (future) or "reports" (past).
10. Issue direct clear warnings on the chance of survival of person and place. Fire warnings to be issued by all three departments and include 'above extreme', 'chance of death', 'chance of property protection', 'all go except able-bodied fire-trained civies' and 'all go'.

11. Police, Fire and Emergency to transfer their call response base to Fire Refuges – either a Fire Refuge built around them, or move to a Fire Refuge. Fire Refuge to be an island in the middle of a lake, underground, or with 100 metre fire break, with oxygen, medical supplies for burns, food, water, and protected access routes as a priority.
    If Black Saturday had the effect of the 1,500 Hiroshima bombs, then build nuclear bunkers for community fire protection. It was done in the Cold War.
12. Remove Fire Load 100 metres from houses, around communities, under powerlines and along access road to Fire Refuge. Put powerlines underground.
13. Mobile fire fighting slipon units adapted for attachment to buses headed to 'SOMEWHERE ELSE', just as the slipon units are attached to other vehicles.
14. Designate where 'SOMEWHERE ELSE' is.
15. Local Community to be consulted over back burning – a community quorum – and informed where and when it is happening, with calls on loudspeaker to the Fire Refuge.
16. Identify, remove and charge those police, firemen, volunteers, DSE and Government workers and employees involved in arson.
17. Remove all funding for Rockspiders and expose them – especially those at ABC spending $120 million.
18. Remove all Kol Nidre/ Day of Atonement politicians, as well as those sexually compromised.
19. Police to stop using their sirens to pick up their Pizza and Heroin . . . Police sirens are not to be used for meal breaks or participating in crimes. They can do it after-hours in their private cars and without uniformed protection.

Kevin Rudd with nothing on his right.

20. All government bodies to own up to their mistakes in the Black Saturday fires.
21. CFA Chief Officer Russell Rees to be named and shamed as marked, measured and found wanting, relieved of duty and stripped of all assets.
22. Queen Victoria to be named and as marked, measured and found wanting, relieved of duty and stripped of all assets. i.e. Premier John Brumby.
23. Prime Minister Kevin Rudd to be investigated.
24. Former Prime Minister John Howard to be investigated.
25. Australian Government to be investigated for being CIA controlled, who are Israel controlled.
26. Media complicit in negligent homicide – who issued reports as warnings, when the fire had already taken hold – to present a doco on Black Saturday as purposeful sabotage and name and shame those who failed, and were then failed upwards.

11. Israeli Transport Ships for exodus of Australia – End Game

Spymaster: "Israel owns the majority of the world's cruise ships. You can tell the Israeli owned ships by the Doppler Effect Transmitters on the bridge. They direct Doppler Effect sound waves at pirates (or any ship) and bring on feelings of intense nausea and brain pain.

The Doppler Effect testing was initially done on military land in Miramar, Wellington, New Zealand in 1967–69.

The targets rapidly lose any sort of effectiveness whatsoever. They only want to get away. Israelis have used these in the past and know it works from trials done on Palestinans back in the Middle East.

Israeli Industry runs these ships and crews them themselves and they actually enjoy putting Rockspiders (paedophiles) on their ships. The paedophiles arrive with a newly cleaned up identity, usually Anglo-Saxon (WASP). They then pray on the Christian passengers and on those they call 'Goyim' – the human animals.

The Israelis regard this as a good joke and do whatever they can to enable the paedophile to escape.

These ships often have special crews of cleaners that can come in, and in the space of five mintues, waterblast and remove all forensic detail from the room. The Israeli response to these situations is virtually 'crime creation', because they control the paedophiles in one hand, and present them with perfectly clean crime scenes on the other – therefore no offense can be detected.

There is usually one person on every Israeli Doppler Effect cruise ship that has a background in criminal investigation, but he is usually a Mossad Officer in charge ensuring that no one gets prosecuted, and indeed, that there is no prosecutable evidence for any case against the owners of the cruise ship.

It's Kol Nidre gone biserk.

The other thing that the Israelis have been known to do, is to slave traffic someone on board into the hands of foreign criminals and again there is no trace of evidence.

The Israeli Doppler Effect cruise ships are purposefully enabling criminals in the most disguising crimes . . . and getting away with it.

This, unfortunately, is what the Australians are going to be faced with one day, if the big shift to Alaska comes about – Israeli forward planning gone beserk.

I wouldn't recommend that even a stray dingo gets on an Israeli Doppler Effect cruise ship, or any other, without at least sharpening its teeth, and certainly not without back up for those moments when you have to go to sleep.

The Israelis are now placing Doppler Effect systems onto Armoured Personel Carriers ("APC"), supposedly for crowd control in Gaza. They also have four machine guns on either side of the vehicle and the ability to fire flashbang grenades and gas on all four sides – the same as the British DET used in Northern Ireland, and the same flashbang grenades used on Princess Diana in Paris."

Terrorism Act – Extradition, Rendition and Stitch-ups

Army Intelligence: "After 9-11, one of the first things the Australian Prime Minister and Jewish agent John Howard did, was bring in a set of very loosely worded laws on the advice of ASIS – a very conservative organisation – that they could prosecute virtually anybody for anything and it would come under the Terrorism Act.

"Police in New Zealand found under search warrant that a conference had taken place in an Auckland house. Amongst the documents recovered was a map of Sydney with pencil marks on it around Lucas Heights, a nuclear facility named as a suburb, but with no accomodation.[32]

"The Israelis had infiltrated this group of Muslims in Auckland, with somebody that was their double agent, and that was how the police heard about it. There wasn't a case to answer in New Zealand, but there was a case in Australia, because of the laws the Jewish agent John Howard had introduced . . . against the Muslims.

"The last we heard they were sending some poor bloody Muslim to Australia to face charges over it. The Aussies got him out of NZ by luring him with indemnities, money, and more money for some business, but it was all bullshit and they ended up being extradited from Australia by the Americans for rendition.

"Kiwi cops are mongrels, but Australian police are ten times the mongrels the New Zealand cops are. So be very careful about what you say about the Black Saturday bushfires being a hit, as you may get extradited to Australia to never face charges."

12. Politically Correct Bullshit prevents useful fire breaks – Greens are Watermelons

"Kiwi bloke Liam Sheahan broke the council rules in Reedy Creek, Victoria and cleared a fire-break around his house in 2002, including tall gum trees that cast a shadow on his house and scrub. He removed all the fire fuel 100 metres from his house.

"Mitchell Shire Council rules limit clearing trees and scrub to 6 metres from the house, but Liam Sheahan and his family bulldozed 247 trees to make a 100 metre fire break around their hilltop home (still leaving several thousand trees on their property). According to an expert in court, this reduced the fire risk to their home from 'extreme' to 'moderate' and left the family able to defend it. Liam, son Rowan and daughter Kirsten then trained in firefighting and became experienced CFA members.

"The Mitchell Shire Council took the Sheahans to court for two years (2002–04), labelled them 'environmental vandals', convicted them with $50,000 in fines, and left them with another $50,000 in court costs.

> "Laim Shahan: '[On Black Saturday] our house was lit up eight times by the fire as the front passed. The elements of our TV antenna melted off. We lost a Land Rover, two Subarus, a truck and trailer and two sheds. At least seven houses and several sheds on neighbouring properties were destroyed. We have proof as the only house standing in a two kilometre area. The Royal Commission on the fires must result in changes to planning laws to allow land owners to clear trees and vegetation that pose a fire risk. Both the major parties are pandering to the Greens for preferences causing the problem. Common sense isn't that common these days. I'd like the convictions overturned and fines repaid.'
> The public are now angry at the government policies which ensure each house is an extreme fire risk, even preventing the cutting of scrub."[33]

So the source of the problem – 'no fire fuel clearance further than 6 metres from the house' – is the Greens, who are watermelons, influencing policy of both political parties as they vie for their votes . . . by 'Watermelon', I mean 'Green on the outside, Red on the inside' – skinny fascist, wannabe-of-influence, idealists, betta-get-into-local-politics, enviro-communist double-stitch nazis.

[32] The above report was initally supplied on the request of Army Intelligence. I just piggy-backed. BBC News, 'Nuclear link' to terror suspects', 14 November 2005: "The Lucas Heights site is Australia's only nuclear reactor, 31 km southwest of central Sydney. The HIFAR reactor is used for research and medical purposes, and does not generate electricity. Eight men arrested in Sydney on 8 November 2005 were charged with planning a terrorist act. Three of them had previously been arrested in December 2004. Lucas Heights is an unusual suburb in that it doesn't contain a residential area." Paraphrased for your enjoyment.

[33] 'Fined for illegal clearing, family now feel vindicated', The Sydney Morning Herald, Richard Baker and Nick McKenzie, 12 February 2009, paraphrased for your enoyment.

13. Climate Change, the Global Warming Hoax and Queen Victoria's Backlash

It's the same on an international level with the Greens influencing the Climate Change Global Warming hoax – the macro and the micro policies – with the micro policy of no fire fuel clearance beyond 6 metres ensuring the macro policy of 'houses burnt down from Global Warming' appears to be true.

But it isn't . . . there is no global warming . . . the other side of the Antarctic ice is growing.
It just isn't filmed and promoted in the media.

There is HARP, HAARP, weather cannons and weather warfare.

The results so far are both macro-taxes – Kyoto and increased insurance premiums along with Orwellian decreased assurance, effectiveness and trust – and you have to wonder whether the whole thing wasn't arranged and staged, with all the stooges in Government and the CFA (especially Freemason's John Brumby and Russell Rees) applying their ignorance while advertising their funding – to ensure those deaths.

So it looks more and more like homicide, by neglect and foreplanning – criminal or negligent homicide – with penalities applied to those who protected themselves.
The Shire Councils have a Common Purpose and this is the opposite of common sense.

So I'll leave you with an Australian blog that sums up the locals appreciation of their Federal, State and Local governance:[34]

> "The Nazis didn't escape to South America. They lodged themselves in Australia's local councils . . . The game's over. No council will prosecute ever again. Even Germaine Greer is calling the authorities arsonists . . .
>
> The bottom line is that with lots of warnings and frantic activity AFTER the event the authorities think you might forget they did f*u*c*k all beforehand (like hazard reduction, contingency plans or alarm systems) . . .
>
> Because free spirited, larrikin Australians can't have a bowel movement without needing the guidance of big brother, it was decided that for our self interest and safety that we should have three levels of government; Federal, State and Local. Whilst every level is filled with people who would otherwise spend their days licking windows or goose stepping, local council is filled with the detritus that gathers around a ducks bum in a toxic swamp. Hitler was a jolly Austrian landscape painter with a few foibles compared to these life force sucking trolls . . .
> Quid pro quo is more quid than pro these days . . . Police exist only on a State and Federal level. Unfortunately, when the coppers aren't out raising revenue with speed cameras, they're speeding to the local pizza shop for a [heroin] pickup with their sirens blaring. And don't ring the NSW Police if you get burgled. They'll yawn, take a statement and tell you to ring your insurance company. That's even when the burglar is still in the house. Of course, if you get mugged they'll respond sooner but only after three hours when all the fuss has died down . . .
>
> In the past we would tar and feather the council members who are such morons and petty shits. Why can't we do that now? . . .
>
> Peter Mitchell applied for permission a couple of years ago to remove some trees close to his house. Permission denied. On Saturday, his house burned down. Mitchell plans to rebuild, and this time he won't be bothering with any council permission nonsense: 'I'm just going to cut down the trees and push the perimeter back . . . I'm not playing Russian roulette' . . . He will have much local support and the council will risk tarring and feathering if they prosecute him . . .

---

[34] 'Just Cut Them Down', The Daily Telegraph, Tim Blair, Blog, Have Your Say, 13 February 2009.

> But in a few years time when everything is green again – including a new, unelected council bureaucracy of 25 year-old arts graduates – the enviro-nazis will be back in power . . .
> Local councils no longer make decisions in town hall meetings and it matters not who you elect to council. Local councils now do what the State Departments of Local Government tell them to do . . .
> If they underestimate the danger again there will be lynchings in Victoria."

Donations, Passing the Buck and the Kol Nidre Jewish Occult

Australia's new Prime Minister is just as bad as Australia's old Prime Minister.

Who the blazes is Kevin Rudd?:

"Hell and all its fury has visited the good people of Victoria in the last 24 hours."[35]

"As the Christian tradition testifies, to be consumed by fire is perhaps the most horrible kind of death humans can imagine."[36]

Many countries, businesses, banks and even sporting events, donated money to the Bushfire Appeal and raised more than $372 million. None came from Israel as it was their:
'1,500-nukes weather-bomb-with-fire-attached'.

Check your history. 'Hell' usually comes from Israel, and before Israel was formed, it came from manipulating Jews. So now the Jews are doing to Australia what they did to Israel. The Jews used the 1917 Balfour Agreement to wrestle Israel from the Muslims who'd controlled it 87 % of the time from 1100 to 1917.

Israel was hardly the Jew's to take. Ditto for Australia.

Like history, Black Saturday was caused by a drought of information. So is its aftermath.
Watch your back Australia. Your PM might be lighting fires.
You are now living in the Climate Change Con – a.k.a. Weather Warfare Reality.

[35] 'PM says Victoria bushfire worst not over', AAP, 8 Feb. 2009.

[36] 'Why We Weren't Warned, paraphrased.

Pirate Captain Rudd: "The warnings were actually reports of what had happened . . . 173 dead".

Pirate Captain Rudd: Domestically and internationally, Australia's Prime Minister Kevin Rudd champions the British Empire, which has long been a subset of the Rothschild family, and since 1917, a Knight of Israel. The old Australian Labor Party successfully fought for national banking and industrial protectionism against the 'Money Power' of the Crown a.k.a. the Rothschild's Central Bank. Kevin Rudd has betrayed the old Labor Party and is now working for the Central Bank on behalf of the British Monarchy. Kevin Rudd is a British Agent, an Israeli asset, and a Central Bank lackey. Rudd is not a friend of Australia, nor Australians. He is, in all ways, a bought and paid for imposter.[37]

Kevin Rudd (23) – the most dangerous thing ever to come out of Australia and get back in.

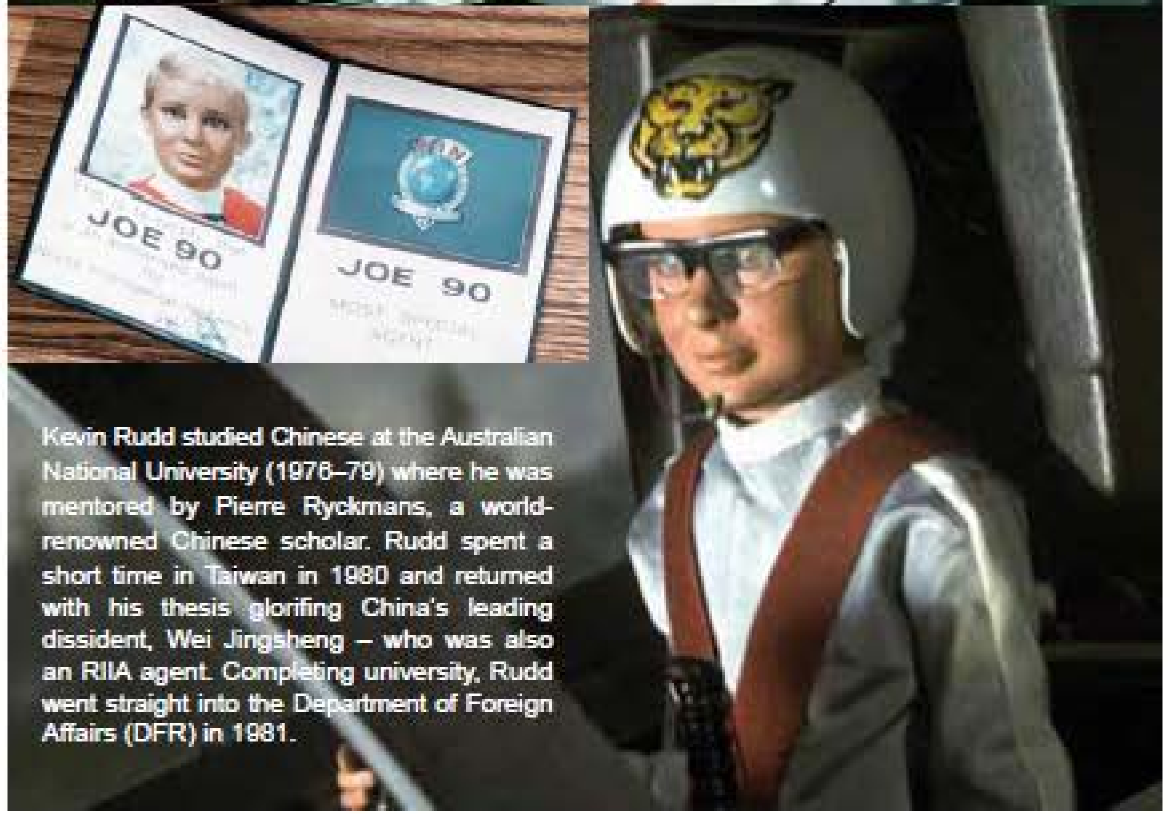
[37] On Her Majesty's Secret Service: Kevin 007?, Robert Barwick, The New Citizen, October/November 2009, pp. 3, 23. Main article sourced from here.

As Labor Party leader and Prime Minister, Rudd has backtracked on everything he promised, then: Campaigned for Central Bank control over Australia's financial system, including a privately-controlled Reserve Bank; Spearheaded the bail out of banks, but not individuals; Crusaded for free trade for the British into Australia; Committed Australia to the expensive hoax Iraq War; and, Committed Australia to the "Climate Change" hoax and resulting communist no-progress policies and extra taxes that fund the New World Order Army.

Combined, this is a formula for the financial and physical destruction of Australians. So Kevin Rudd is an agent for British Imperialism. How did he get to be an Australian Prime Minister and an agent for the British? First he had to become a British Agent, receive promotions, prove himself as a hatchet man, be financially rewarded, then promoted through the ranks faster than a white-washed sadist gone tropo. When a young university student shows themself to be bright, ambitious, unscrupulous, duplicitous, and sadistic – they are earmarked. Rudd was noted.

With the rise of Asia, the RIIA issued the policy document: 'Economic Opportunities for Britain and the Commonwealth' (1995) which announced that Australia would be the British financial and corporate "stepping-stone to Asia"; then chronicled the astonishing amount of British investment in Australia, and British investment in Asia with headquarters in Australia. To British Imperialism, Australia is a British strategic outpost in the Pacific.

This paved the way for a Mandarin-speaking Australian Prime Minister, so Rudd was recruited into Australia's foreign policy establishment (a subset of the RIIA) and trained in Mandarin, and to be a mandarin.



Kevin Rudd studied Chinese at the Australian National University (1976–79) where he was mentored by Pierre Ryckmans, a world-renowned Chinese scholar. Rudd spent a short time in Taiwan in 1980 and returned with his thesis glorifing China's leading dissident, Wei Jingsheng – who was also an RIIA agent. Completing university, Rudd went straight into the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFR) in 1981.

In 1987, the DFR became DFAT (Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade) which is part of one big Intelligence slum and puts a roof over the head of ASIS, whose personell front as DFAT. Since WWII, ASIS has been a subset of the British SIS, who serve MI-6 and the British Monarchy, and the Central Bank, and Israel, and any and all of their agendas.

Rudd served as a diplomat as DFAT/ ASIS in Sweden and China (1981–87).

In February 1999, Rudd's four-day trip to Taipei, Taiwan was paid for by Chang Yu-huei, ex-MP, Minister without portfolio, Secretary-General of a Cabinet that was pro-independence, pro-British, under Taiwan's President Chen Shui-bian (20 May 2000–20 May 2008), whose escalating actions for Taiwanese "independence" came close to provoking a Taiwan-China war. This would have profitted the British arms dealers to such an extent that Britain could have acquired a controlling interest in Taiwan.

Chang Yu-huei resigned from politics in 2001 under a haze of corruption (unauthorised government loans to a construction firm that built his family villa). Then Chang's Taiwan Takechi Sugar Foundation (part of the Taiwan Sugar Company) donated $12,000 to Labor (Queensland, 2004–05); then $1 million to the Mater Mothers' Hospital in Rudd's Queensland electorate in 2005; then Chang was photographed in front of the hospital with Rudd in 2008. So they had at least a 9-year relationship.

The Taiwan Sugar Company was a publicly controlled fund worth tens of millions of dollars, but Chang did an illegal private takeover in 2003 then used the funds for bribes "to bankroll covert diplomatic operations in Australia and the South Pacific"[38] (2003–05). Kevin Rudd was one of the recipients of these bribes. Taiwan's Ministry of Economic Affairs then retrieved the Sugar fund assets in 2005.

Mr Chen's close friend, Kung Chin Yuan (with a house on Brisbane's riverfront) donated $220,000 to the Australian Labor Party and shouted Kevin Rudd to London using the same illegal sugar money.

When the media got hold of this in July 2009, the Taiwanese Embassy stated: Kevin Rudd's trip was "conducive to the enhancement of the in-depth understanding of the importance of the UK-Australia relations". Curious they should mention the UK.

[38] 'Accused minister paid for Rudd trip', Richard Baker & Philip Dorling, Sydney Morning Herald, 27 July 2009.

Kevin Rudd has refused to answer questions about the Taiwanese crime syndicate that took office 2000–08, and his role with them prior to office (1999), during the illegal private use of publicly controlled funds (2003–05), receiving bribes, free trips (1999, 2004), and donations (2004–05), complete with photographs (2008).[39]

On 11 September 2009, President Chen (and his wife) were convicted on charges of embezzlement, money laundering and receiving bribes of US$15 million. They were fined US$6.13 million, and the former President received a life sentence. The question is: 'Why hasn't Australia jailed Kevin Rudd for complicity to corruption, taking bribes, and even assisting in an attempted revolution and international war?'

Rudd's Taiwan Affair is beginning to stink like a Beer Hall putsch and looks more like Rudd is a British Agent, as was Hitler. What! Are you waiting to see what is going to happen . . . like a fire? It's always happening now, either the event or planning, so there's no time like the present.

British Agents often have mysterious gaps in their curriculum vitae. Opposition Leader Mark Latham, Latham Diaries: "He's certainly part of the foreign policy establishment, and yes, there are some missing periods in his CV, plus a general mystery about the guy." Nicholas Stuart, Kevin Rudd: An Unauthorised Political Biography: During his time in China, it "appears that Rudd did not hold any position as a spymaster".

In 1988, Kevin Rudd (31) was accepted into the Office of National Assessments (ONA), Australia's primo intelligence agency in London. Rudd had a key position and reported on intelligence and strategic matters directly to Prime Minister Bob Hawke (1983–91), CFR.

So Rudd was Australia's golden boy of intelligence in London, but being London-based, he specialised in unscrupulous, duplicitous, and sadistic behaviour – the worse it is, the more it is filmed by MI-5/ MI-6, the more they have control and the higher the target is promoted. Thus, one can spend two weeks in ONA in London and return to Australia earmarked as the next Prime Minister.

There is no better place to learn double agent tricks than London, and Rudd could have had a career there, and that would have been the last we heard of him, but he was being groomed. After London always comes the hatchet jobs . . . followed by attempts at revolution.

Since there are so many attempts at revolution, at least one succeeds. So far, Rudd has been a revolutionary for the British.

As an extension of the ONA London job, Rudd became Chief of Staff to Queensland Premier Wayne Goss (7 December 1989– 20 February 1996).

Wayne Goss was the first Labor Queensland Premier in 21 years, since before Joh Bjelke-Petersen (1968–87) who helped bring down the Whitlam government (11 November 1975) and was then knighted with a KCMG in 1984 to cover-up his police state dictatorship, random murdering, and hunt-to-kill Black Aboriginals with “one night in jail” sentencing.

So, ONA compromised Kevin Rudd (the golden boy suck-arse spy) then made him the all-powerful mandarin under Queensland Premier Wayne Goss in order to copy the “progressive” destructive work of New Zealand's Labour Minister of Finance Roger Douglas (26 July 1984–14 December 1988).

ASIO controlled Roger Douglas by providing him with underaged boys to root at Leichardts Hotel at 95 Norton in Sydney and bribed him with $20 million. Roger Douglas was an ASIO compromised paedophile who caused the suicides of 169+ farmers in Southland alone, earning him the nickname ‘Dr. Death’. So he was knighted in 1990, which is a British protection racket for murderers, file thieves and paedophiles.

Following ASIO's Roger Douglas lead as Dr. Death, the ONA's Kevin Rudd rammed through National Competition Policy “reforms” (deregulation, privatisation, outsourcing) in Queensland (1989–95) and devastated domestic industries, infrastructure and services. The savagery with which they were rammed through and the effects they had, earnt Kevin Rudd the title “Dr. Death”.

New Zealand had Roger Douglas. Australia had Kevin Rudd.
Germany had Hitler. All three were British Agents.

Kevin Rudd was a regular attender at the Centre for Independent Studies – a front for the notorious Mont Pelerin Society (where he got his agenda), which was a front for British Imperial Economic Warfare.

BACK TO SCHOOL

In London the funds come through the Hill Samuel Bank. In Australia this is the Macquarie Bank. Sir Roger Douglas is still a regular attender at the Macquarie Bank in the Lumley Centre, 88 Shortland Street, Auckland.

Rudd was so successful at the economic destruction of his patch of Australia (Queensland), that it was decided to give him a crack and destroying the entire country.

In 1992, Richard Woolcott (head of spy agency DFAT) annointed Rudd as his likely successor, then recruited Rudd to the neo-conservative Australian American Leadership Dialogue (before it was even formed in 1992). Here, Anglophiles in America meet with Anglophiles in Australia and discuss Anglophilia.

By 1995, it was decided Rudd should enter Federal Parliament (via Griffith), so he was given the hand up with a branch-stacking campaign so extensive, it was a nationwide scandal investigated by Four Corners (ABC). Still, voters went by their gut and it was 1998 before he got in.

When fellow Labor MPs questioned Rudd's credentials (British-backed Taiwan mafia) and his wife's faster-than-ever-before $60 million fortune, they were gagged with exclusion from the media – which we all know is a counter-intelligence exercise run by “the rabid homosexual child sex abuser Rupert Murdoch”[40] (CIA – Counter Intelligence Australia).

So the heavily compromised spy, Kevin Rudd, was fast-tracked through the ranks to become the Leader of the Labor Party (2006), and in his own words: “Her Majesty's loyal Opposition”.

So when the cons of Prime Minister John Winston Howard (Jewish) were being recognised by the public, Queen Elizabeth II required a replacement equally as pliable and servile, one who would cause revolution only where it was profitable for the Queen, so not a revolution of the people, but a revolution of the banks over the people . . . and that's exactly what Australia got on 3 December 2007, followed by economic collapse, and fires which burnt people to death (7 February 2009) and made the survivors reliant on a government that doesn't work.

Instead of the old Labor Party's actions of financial independence, Kevin Rudd bailed out the banks and taxed the citizens, thus underwriting the next 70 years of bank frauds[41] in what history will see as compromised politicians serving an international mafia swoop.

But the double agent British Agent status of Kevin Rudd doesn't end there. His wife also has double agent British Agent status and provides the ongoing funding for the British bribes of Australian MPs.

The Rudd's hand-up has been going on for a long time, at least since Kevin Rudd was outsourcing, deregulating and privatising Queensland (1989–95).

When Labor Prime Minister Paul Keating (1991–96) outsourced job placement for the long-term unemployed in 1993, Therese Rein (Mrs Rudd) won her first government contract. When John Howard abolished the Commonwealth Employment Service (1996–97) Therese Rein established the ‘Job Network’.

With a plethora of Intelligence connections for the British-Australia-Asia boom, on the board of Job Network was Wayne Goss, Premier of Queensland (1989–96, hubby Kevin's boss); Qantas director Mike Codd (ex-head of Commonwealth Public Service); and to keep it all clean, Barrie Adams (ex-regional commissioner of the Australian Securities & Investments Commission).

---

[40] How to Take Over the World, October 2007, pp. 175–76.

[41] 70 years is the length of a trust and the world is run on trusts.

Michael Stephenson was the political advisor for Queensland Premier Wayne Goss (Kevin's boss), then switched to advise Britain's Tony Blair. When Blair became Prime Minister (2 May 1997–27 June 2007) Therese Rein's Ingeus Company won similar contracts in Britain. This also resulted in the vast majority of the Australian PM's household incomes coming directly from the British government via Igneus whose heaquarters are in Brisbane, Queensland.

When hubby Kevin Rudd became Australia's Prime Minister on 3 December 2007 (five months after Tony Blair passed his Prime Ministership to the unvoted Gordon Brown on 27 June 2007), Therese Rein sold 'Job Network' in Australia "to avoid a conflict of interest" but retained Ingeus in the UK (with its HQ in Brisbane, and Queensland payments to Aussie MPs).

Through these simple three moves: Paul Keating outsourced job placement in 1993 and Mrs Rudd caught it; John Howard outsourced Commonwealth Employment Service in 1996 and Mrs Rudd caught it; and Tony Blair outsourced employment to Mrs Rudd via her board member's political advisor . . . Mrs Rudd made $60 million+ (1993–2007). That's $4 million a year to be married to the lackey of the DFAT, ASIS, ASIO, ONA, AIIA, Australian American Leadership Dialogue, CFR, Centre for Independent Studies, Mont Pelerin Society, British Imperial Economic Warfare, RIIA, QEII, Rothschild's Central Bank, Hill Samuel Bank, Macquarie Bank, and Ingeus UK in Brisbane to the Aussie MP's household income . . . which all helps secure Kevin Rudd's job while he carries on like a British pirate in a revolution looting Australia's future.

The British subversion of Australia – short history

When railroads moved inland, the British felt a threat to their maritime control of the world. They could no longer canon all the shoreline villages for total control. As populations exploded across the colonies and banking became a national instutition, the Rothschild's Central Bank, as fronted by the British Monarchy, had to come up with new ways of destroying countries before they became powerful enough to be a threat and claim full independence.[42]

The solution came in the form of the Royal Institute of International Affairs (RIIA), the Round Table movement, and its subdivision, the Fabian Society (founded 4 January 1884, George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, Bertrand Russell, Virginia Woolf, Emmeline Pankhurst).

Their solution was to avoid attacking a more powerful enemy directly, especially under one's own flag, but wear the enemy down with cultural and financial subversion, then manipulate two or more enemies to fight ruinous wars against each other (WWI, WWII, America and Korea and Vietnam and Cambodia and Iraq) in order to bankrupt the strongest enemy.

In place of slavery and dictatorship-colonialism, they used indirect rule that looked like self-rule, whereby a local rules, but he is a central agent. First, award them a Rhodes scholarship, then train them at Oxford, Harvard, Yale, Australian National University, or the Melbourne University . . . to think like the British. Then lift them up into counter-intelligence (fronting as Intelligence) and give them a golden handshake every time they prove themselves a traitor. So it's the old piracy rules . . . and the traitor always gets a front row seat.

The Round Table then sets up branches in the colonies, backed by Wall Street, the CFR, the City of London and the RIIA, and surrounds their target traitor with other traitors who will make their treasonous thoughts and actions seem normal (support), like the AIIA (Australian Institute of International Affairs) who are the Australian corporate and financial elite . . . and Anglophiles. In this way, British piracy seems like a career option in the former colonies.

Then move the target traitor through the counter-intelligence ranks, compromising them, then paying them huge bonuses, all the while improving their CV.

---

[42] The Central Bank was so successful at this that there was no independence anywhere.

When they are compromised enough, show them how the world works and what they can get away with. Ultimately, when all the Counter-Intelligence has all the necessary positions (DFAT, ASIS etc), false flag operations can be carried out with near impunity (Twin Towers, Black Saturday, etc).

For instance: Australia received nominal independence upon Federation in 1901, but foreign policy was still run directly by the 'British Foreign and Commonwealth Office' in London. The 'Statute of Westminster' Act of British Parliament granted "legislative equality" to Britain's Dominions in 1931, but Australia's parliament was so infused with pro-Monarchist mandarins that they did nothing about it until world war provoked them into clear thinking. After Pearl Harbor on 7 December 1941, Australia broke with Britain and went with America.

The Australian Parliament ratified the Statute of Westminster in 1942, and only then began running its own foreign policy, or thought it did. Australia's foreign policy was run through the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA) which was subservient to British interests (9 October 1942–24 July 1987) and then became the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) which was still subservient to British interests.

A branch of DFAT is the Australian Secret Intelligence Service (ASIS), which is part of the British SIS. ASIS is pro-Monarchist and outwardly anti-Labor, but if you keep Labor away from old Labor, ASIS will be your friend, otherwise it will be your enemy and your history will be exposed . . . and if you don't have a compromising history, we will make one for you . . .

"The relationship between ASIS and the SIS is so close that there has never been any need for written agreements or a formal exchange of liaison personnel . . . It is thus not surprising that ASIS officers continue to call the London headquarters of the SIS the 'Head Office' and the Melbourne headquarters of ASIS called itself the 'Main Office'."[43]

Pru Gee and Mike Lewis Goold

Judge Winkelmann & Environmental lawyer Ronald A. Walden wink

I was in the High Court on 28 July 2005 appealing Judge Hole's District Court decision where I was trying to get my $4,500.00 architecture fee from Pru Gee.

There is one thing you can guarantee the Courts can't do, and that is settle a debt. The one thing the courts are supposed to do, they are incapable of.

Instead of getting paid $4,500.00 on 16 June 2005, District Court Judge Hole ruled that I owed my client, Pru Gee, $4,800.00 – $800 in costs on the basis that this hearing was not about hearing the appeal as planned, but about 'the costs of the unheard appeal', plus a further $4,000 for the defence of this appeal, that was also not heard, as "even the Prime Minister seems to be caught up in these allegations" . . . It was a political decision.

In short, after the failed murder attempt by the Mossad on 14–22 May 2004, I was employed by Helen Clark's school buddy, Prudence Gee, within ten days, along with her homeless alcoholic partner, Gordon Sale – a car salesman who was not allowed to sell cars on Broadway's Great South Road. He had to work out the back and be seen not to be seen.

Their architecture job at Onetangi on Waiheke Island was difficult. It was a triangulated steep site, terraced with lots of retaining walls. They kept changing and extending the brief, and refused to employ an engineer and surveyor as I had requested, so I did as much as I could, presented the Preliminary Design, and on Margaret Wilson's advice (Speaker of the House with a law degree), Pru Gee took this Preliminary Design and presented it to the Waiheke Island Council for Building Consent. They refused to grant Building Consent and Pru Gee used this as an excuse not to pay, not employ an engineer or surveyor, and generally sabotage my time, as she had been instructed to do by her school bluddy, Prime Minister Helen Clark. They both went to EGGS the same year (Epsom Girls Grammar School) and both are swingers.

The drawings were never meant to be presented for Building Consent, and, as no judge can understand architecture, they can't believe that there is a process to design. Judges just think that every piece of paper presented is an attempt at fulfilment of that contract.

I had been employed at the same time by two others who also did not pay. These were Steve Whalley of Waiheke Island, now Stephen John Brandon of Wanganui, and Peter Alderidge Williams QC of Ponsonby, Auckland, whom most know as Peter Williams – one of the most prominent lawyers in the country, but widely touted as spending too much time with his criminal clients.

All three employed me within ten days of the failed Mossad murder attempt.

I went to the Disputes Tribunal to get money out of all of these clients and each time it was transferred to the District Court and each time it was heard by Judge Johnny D. Hole, upon his request. I later published Judge Hole as having syphilis (May 2007), but I was being nice to him.

Judge Hole may have syphilis. Indeed, it is clear, substantive and the truth that Judge Hole has syphilis, but Hole was more about promotion to the High Court by covering up the Chief Justice Sian Elias' murder attempt on myself and the murders of another six weeks earlier – Michael King.

Judge Hole was then promoted to the High Court for the last ten weeks of his carreer, from 30 June to 9 September 2008. This is very, very rare, and engenders QEII's protection.

Sian Elias is the highest ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand. Along with her husband, Hugh Fletcher, she ran the murder of historian Michael King from the University of Auckland, then had husband and co-murderer Hugh Fletcher made Chancellor of the University of Auckland six months later on 18 October 2004.

Since 2002, the CIA have been touting that the University of Auckland is the most pro-American University outside America.

During the High Court hearing, Pru Gee's lawyer, Ronald A. Walden (a Politically Correct nobody), presented evidence to Judge Helen Diana Winkelmann (a femininst political appointee) that: "Mr Hallett has accussed the Prime Minister [Clark] of being a lesbian".

The politically appointed feminist judge agreed with the Politically Correct suckarse lawyer and this stayed the case until the Politically Correct Helen Clark was thrown out of office, which took another three years and four months (8 November 2008) by which time she had installed New Zealand's faux climate change policy, based on the Kyoto brainless disease.

Personal Data

So, in order to badger me further – it's actually called 'Blacklisting', 'Hobbling', or 'Boiler-plating' – after I lost in this case (I hadn't won a case since January 1994) – I left the High Court, jumped into my Hilux 4WD and drove towards Mt Eden for a spot of lunch at Sierra at 418 Mt Eden Road with its private sunny courtyard, and not too many birds crapping on your food.

A car tailed me from the High Court and branched off after the top of Symonds Street. As I was coming over the crest into the Mt Eden shops (another 2 km), I noticed a black Mercedes travelling very fast (70–90 km/h). I pulled in alongside the ASB cash flow machine where there's a driveway in front, so it was easy parking, and right by the Sierra café.

The 1998 black Mercedes coup Registration Number CAW834 pulled up so it's boot was level with my driver's door and parked in the middle of the road blocking all traffic. It was 10.32 am on Thursday 28 July 2005 and really very, very, bizarre behaviour, especially for such a nice Merc.

A grey haired well-built fit man all dressed in black with dark sunglasses and metal frames, about 58 (Mike Lewis Goold), got out of his car, stood by his driver's door and yelled at me: "I fucked your wife!"

I looked around to see if he was badgering someone else, couldn't see anyone, so I locked my doors, wound up my windows, 'cause he was really agressive like he was on methamphetamine ("P"), then I wound down the driver's window a little so I could speak: "I don't have a wife".

Mike Lewis Goold replied: "I fucked your wife mate."

I shrugged my shoulders and said: "I don't know who you are".

This went on for a minute or so, then he made movements towards the back of his car level with my driver's door. I kept shrugging my shoulders with my arms bent, palms up, then he changed his mind ever so quick, jumped back in his rather expensive Mercedes and roared off doing around 70 km/hr through the red light 100 metres down the Mt Eden Road.

I got out of my Hilux, walked around and spoke to people watching and got some witness details. More came forward, including the shopkeeper from the very good Mt Eden Wines.

I gave these details to the police, they got their statements, and Michael Lewis Goold was convicted, without presenting any defence. The whole scenario was incredibly weird – so weird it had to be planed.

Mt Eden had no police, so I went to the closest police station, Balmoral, but they had few staff and said it would take a month or two to do anything. They suggested $150 fine for blocking the road and he would probably get off with an apology.

Not good enough!

Balmoral's Constable Tammy Dunlop (Ph 631-1001) then contacted me and said that someone would be in touch. So on 17 August 2005 I went to the Post Office, paid $2.25 and searched for the owner of the 1998 black Mercedes coup Reg. No. CAW834. It's an immediate response and I now knew the name of the owner – Michael Lewis Goold.

Two weeks later, at 12.45 pm on 30 August 2005, Constable Graeme Bruges phoned for ten minutes from the Mt Roskill Community Policing Centre (1213 Dominion Road) and took a report on Mike Lewis Goold.

Constable Graeme Bruges was very helpful and said he thought he knew where Goold lived. He then phoned me back and asked me to come in an give a statement at 2.45 pm. This took about an hour and a half.

PLEASE RETAIN AS PROOF OF PURCHASE

Someone else at the station informed me that Mike Lewis Goold was renting his place at 66 Gilletta Road, Mt Roskill, was a brothel keeper, was known to the police for his flash anger, and was a probable P user.

Graeme and I got to chatting about 'Protection Orders' and I gifted the Community Policing Centre a copy of my 2002 book, Are You My Father, The Family Court and Other Experiments.

Constable Graeme Bruges suggested that the case wouldn't be heard for about six to 18 months and I wouldn't be required to testify as there were other witness statements that verfied my claims.

Sure enough, the case was heard in my absence on 16 January 2006 (only after 4–6 months) and I was notified the following day at 1.55 pm on 17 January 2006, by Victim Support (Ph 916-9000) who said: "Michael Lewis Goold was convicted yesterday (16 January 2006) of assault. Goold was fined $400 and $130 Court costs. He pleaded guilty. He did not contest. We think he was instructed by Prime Minister Helen Clark."

The whole scenario was too weird. No one would believe it if I hadn't backed it up with case notes.

He pleaded guilty.
He did not contest.
We think he was instructed by Prime Minister Helen Clark."

Just an afterword . . .

Pru Gee's lawyer, Ronald A. Walden, is one of those 'Climate Change' fuckwits. He will jump onto any PC bandwagon as long as he thinks he can get some work out of it. It doesn't matter to Walden that the work is counter-productive, or that the planet is cooling down rather than heating up, or that CO_2 causes less than 3.6 percent of "Global Warming", or that the Global Warming hoax was created by DuPont and the CIA, primarily to stop Asians reproducing CFCs as the patent was running out, so they banned their own product and brought in HCFCs, less effective and more expensive to produce, but nonetheless theirs . . . all the time blaming the hole in the Ozone Layer on man-made CFCs when Mt Erebus produces more CFCs that the rest of the world's volcanoes put together, and since the Ozone hole has been getting smaller from 2000, the 'equally corrupt media' have stopped reporting it.

Ronald A. Walden is not a charismatic. He is now the Barrister and Principal of the Gulf Environmental Law Chambers at 73 Onetangi Road, Onetangi, Waiheke Island off Auckland and his 'Statement of Support' reads:

> "Enforcing laws that exist now can help combat the causes and impacts of climate change for the benefit of present and future generations and can hold the perpetrators accountable and liable for the consequences of their actions. Communities, individuals, organisations, scientists and lawyers bringing their energies together internationally and collaboratively will help ensure that the necessary cuts in emissions are made now. We support this effort and hope many will join us. See the list of supporters."

From a worldwide trawl, Ron Walden has one signatory from New Zealand – Duncan Currie of Globelaw. He may need some work.

Ronald A. Walden needs work as well. To help him out phone (09) 372 7486 – day and evening. I'm sure he will take garden produce.

Despite all these good intentions, the Politically Correct Ronald Walden was a knowing and willing accessory to covering up the murder attempt on myself and Pru Gee's involvement in it.

Waldon should be struck off, if only for his absent persona.

From where I stand – and I could have been toes up, six feet under and with or without a tag – all of these people are accessories to attempted murder, and by implication, accessories to the murder of Michael King. The accused are:

Helen Elizabeth Clark (Prime Minister, ex-);

Sian Seerpoohi Elias (Chief Justice);

Prudence Gee (non-paying architecture client);

Gordon Sale (car salesman not allowed to sell cars);

Margaret Anne Wilson (Speaker of the House, lawyer and amputee with a sex habit);

Helen Diana Winkelmann (femininst political appointee Judge);

Hugh Fletcher (now Chancellor of the University of Auckland);

The Murder of Chris Beeby and the Shah of Iran

New Zealand Spy History
New Zealanders have played a major role in spy history, although the ultimate outcome of their endeavours is often futile. As a smaller nation, Kiwi's get 'more orders than information', and are often asked to act because of their independence, kind of like the new Spain, our intelligence nickname. This resulted in 'KIWI' standing for 'Keen Interest Without Intelligence', and sure enough it was 'intelligence' that we lacked, gall we had, and 'influence' we were unaware of.

Chris Beeby's family history
Chris Beeby was from quite a famous New Zealand family. His father Bernard Beeby was a spy who liased between the Americans and the British (and was still bonking sheilas in his 80s) so Chris had the pedigree both countries required. Chris was an ambassador and therefore a high-ranking intelligence officer. As a New Zealander and therefore from "New Spain", a reasonably independent country in terms of intelligence, but completely compromised by all sides, he was from a country that the main powers used to hide their disgraced or retired double agents at the end of their service, like in Cambridge 20 km southeast of Hamilton, and in Rangiora 20 km north of Christchurch.

This made New Zealand Intelligence agents party to the truth of history.

Chris Beeby's career history
Chris Beeby had been in the New Zealand fencing team at the 'British Empire and Commonwealth Games' in Cardiff in 1958. His diplomatic career then lasted 32 years from 1963 to 1995 when he retired, but he still carried on doing consultative work that required some secrecy.

He was a ginger, a career setback in all areas except the diplomatic corp. Despite this, he was one of the most distinguished New Zealand diplomats and international lawyers ever. He was part of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, and Counsel for New Zealand before the International Court of Justice in the nuclear tests case (1973–74).

> At this point in his career history, the official recorders miss out that Chris Beeby was New Zealand's Diplomat to Iran at the time the Shah of Iran was exiled in 1979.

Chris Beeby rose to Deputy Secretary of the Foreign Ministry, became the permanent representative to the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) and was made chairman of the special consultative meeting on Antarctic Minerals (1982–88)

He was also the New Zealand agent for the Rainbow Warrior arbitration (1989–90) to which Prime Minister David Lange was party to the bombing. Beeby served with distinction on the World Trade Organisation (WTO) appellate body, was made chairman in 1998, and became a WTO judge. Chris served as a mediator in the US/Canada Pacific Salmon dispute and completed a number of successful postings overseas, the final one being Ambassador to France. He was also and chairman of the Antarctic Treaty negotiations up to late 1999, early 2000.

Chris Beeby retires

Chris retired in 1995 at the age of 59 to New Zealand, coached children in fencing and rowed 500 metres out to his favourite fishing spot near Kapiti Island two or three times a week. He was building a new house for his family at Otaki Forks 60 km north of Wellington and 15 km inland from the coast. He was a fit man who enjoyed life, his family, and the memory of his exploits.

Beeby was a legend who told the most amazing stories to his close friends and put no weight on whether they would be believed or brought him kudos. A few of his stories he only told to other agents and these were the stories that made the headlines, often without a mention of him. The best stories never made it to the media. One such a story was the Shah's escape out of Iran in 1978/79.

MICK P: "Chris was a cold civil servant. He was happiest in his student days in the mid-1960s dressed in a duffle coat with half-a-dozen Waikato XXXX beer under his arm and going to some student chick's flat on the Terrace (Angela Sear's flat at Everton Terrace, Wellington). As a diplomat, once he'd had a few drinks, he saw the funny side again."

Chris Beeby permanently retired

Four months after Helen Clark became Prime Minister (November 1999) Chris Beeby got an unexpected call in early March 2000 to handle some urgent diplomatic stuff – $40,000 for a fortnight's work. It's hard to resist such money, but he was used to it and it didn't make him suspicious. He complied, but it was a dummy role designed to end in his death, and the 'diplomatic mission' would only be complete when Chris was dead. Chris was the only one who didn't know.

Officially Chris Beeby was found dead from a heart attack in a hotel room in Geneva, Switzerland on 19 March 2000, but this was false reporting from intelligence agencies complicit in his death.

Chris Beeby was rowing and fencing and building a house and his heart was in fine condition thank you very much. He was murdered in a hotel room in Paris (most likely the Ritz) that he was booked into on Sunday 19 March 2000. He died from an overdose administered by the Americans whom he had served so long.

Spymaster: "Beeby was invited to Paris by the Americans. It was a standard diplomatic junket and that means accomodation, food and booze is paid for. You even get spending money, and to choose your roots. Everything's laid on and they'll bring you whatever you want to root, but the thing they didn't tell him was that he was going to be first meal on the course."

Chris Beeby was one of the first New Zealand males to be sacrificed to the politically correct and it was a short American lesbian who held up the noose – Madeleine Albright a.k.a. Maria Jana Korbelová, born a Jew in Prague, but raised as a Catholic, as Madeleine Albright.

The reason: "So the American's could get back into bed with Iran and begin a new relationship".

> This is the problem with intelligence. If your not on a main side, you become a middle-man, and the middleman always gets shafted or sacrificed in the end. Many die at the changeover of ideologies.

America was undergoing a changeover of ideology as Bill Clinton didn't wanted to be seen, recorded or remembered as isolationist, or as a rent boy, but wanted to be remembered for open dialogue with trade results attached . . . and Clinton wanted to achieve this before he left the presidency, effective eight months later in November 2000.

Clinton was prepared to have people die in his memory, as long as he was far enough removed to believe it was an accident, despite his orders, and to have it washed out of reality by compliant Intelligence, compromised politicians, and the media.

MICK P:"Name me a politician who wasn't".

Spymaster: "Bill Clinton had the details of these crimes fed to him over the years and this showed up when he was tired. That's the time for looking at people because they're incapable of masking their bodily reactions."

The Shah of Iran, Light of the Aryans

As New Zealand's Diplomat to Iran, Chris Beeby developed a supportive relationship with the Shah of Iran, Muhammad Reza Pahlavi, who was also the Monarch (1941–79), a.k.a. 'King of Kings' (Shahanshah), Light of the Aryans (Aryamehr), and King of Iran.

Muhammad Reza Pahlavi was made the Monarch and Shah of Iran from 16 September 1941 after his father, Riza Shah, was forced to abdicate by the British and Russians during WWII. As the second Shah of Iran, Muhammad Reza Pahlavi supported the British, Russian and American involvement in Iran, and had effectively become their promised agent, and so replaced his father with their assistance. James Bond III: "There is no question the Shah was placed in power by the CIA. There is no question that he was a U.S. and British agent. There is close compatibility between the two."

This second and last Shah of Iran was a keen aviator and Commander-in-Chief of the Persian Air Force, but by 1978 he was in trouble with communist-backed religious separatism, as well as British and American desires to destablise Iran to secure oil reserves for America and hike the price of oil by emersing the country with ongoing civil unrest from religious, ideological and territorial interests, all of them conflicting, none of them able to be resolved, and all of them vying for 'dictatorship-or-bust'.

When the Shah visited the US in November 1977 radical Iranian students who opposed the monarchy staged violent protests outside the White House and by February 1978 an anti-Monarchist, pro-Islamic revolution gripped Iran and the Imperial regime began to shudder and shake. All of this was CIA, CFR and Zbigniew Brzezinski backed.

Things began heating up with increasingly violent protests in Iran from 9–11 September 1978. Meanwhile, with the Shah's portraits everywhere (the Middle East seems to go for it), there was moderation of religion, freedom for women, and modernisation – bascially everything people want once it is taken away. Plus the Shah enforced this with a little Middle East dictatorship (2,000 political prisoners).

The Shah's First Man, Ardeshir Zahedi

Ardeshir Zahedi (16 October 1928–) was appointed Chamberlain to the Shah and Personal Assistant to the Prime Minister (1954–59) then married (1957) the eldest daughter of the Shah and his first wife Princess Fawzia (the sister of Egypt's King Farouk). They divorced in 1968 and Ardeshir Zahedi never remarried.

Zahedi was then appointed Ambassador to the United States in 1959, then Foreign Minister in 1966, then Ambassador to the U.S. again in 1973, while also being accredited Ambassador to Mexico and the Bahamas where they were to spend time in exile. He also headed the Iranian delegation for the Independence Celebration of the Commonwealth of the Bahamas and the Inauguration of the President in Mexico, so he had an in for the Shahs' exile, although neither lasted long.

During the 1970s, Iran was openly acknowledged as oil-rich and of influence – so was Ardeshir Zahedi. He had the confidence of the Presidents' Nixon, Ford and Carter, as well as their administrations, and would invite the presidents home to Iran for casual visits. They complied. He also had strong ties with US Congressmen, journalists, civic officials and university academics and many of these came to Iran for a bit of homestay.

By late 1977 Ardeshir Zahedi was one of the most influential ambassadors in Washington and one of the most influenced Ambassadors in Washington. Diplomacy is a two-way street, but it's always dominated by its byline – 'the Sodomy Olympics'.

President Nixon and Ardeshir Zahedi Iran's Minister of Foreign Affairs (1967–72).

The Shah plans to leave in 1978

From 1978, the Shah had plans to leave Iran, and Zahedi left Washington twice in 1978 seeking military support to keep the Shah in power, and to plead with the Shah to remain in Iran. Their last such meeting was on 1 January 1979. None of them were successful.

The backdrop to the 1 January 1979 photo opposite could be anywhere. According to Chris Beeby, the Shah, of which he saw the funny side, was certainly out of Iran and living secretly in exile in 1978.

Spymaster: "Chris should know. He used to brag about how he transported the Shah (King) in a bag for golf clubs, to the airport, on a semi regular basis."

Ardeshir Zahedi was a key player in Iran's foreign policy, headed many Iranian Delegations to the United Nations General Assembly, received the highest national decoration from the Pope, was present at the Shah's death in Egypt on 27 July 1980, and now resides in Switzerland. So Ardeshir Zahedi could well have been an ulterior agent. As Iran's unmarried Ambassador in Washington, effectively for two decades (1959–79), he could just as easily have been an American agent. After all diplomacy, both domestic and international, goes both ways.

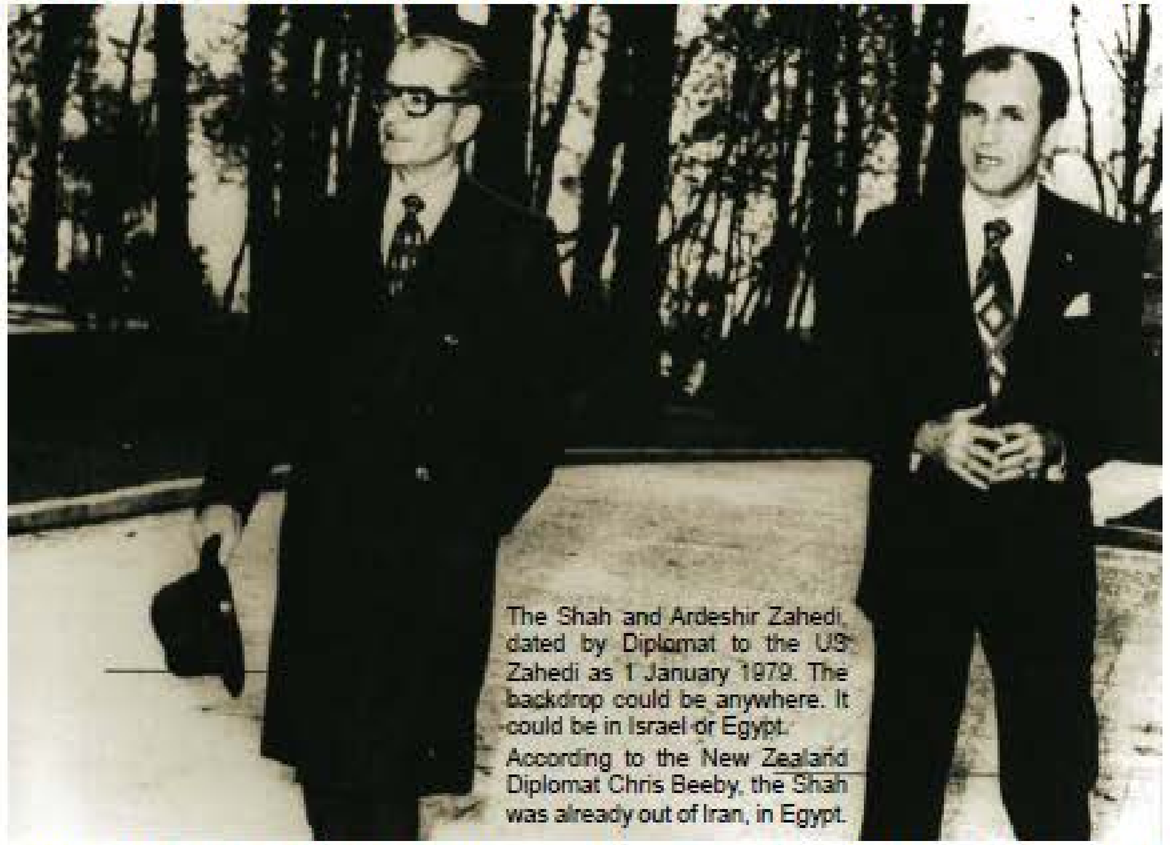
The Iranian Revolution took hold, and the Shah needed to escape out of Iran to save his life. Being a royal with access to Intelligence he had already done so. This was sometime between 1 September and 31 December 1978.

Kissinger and Ardeshir Zahedi.

Officially "martial law was declared on 8 September 1978; there was a 7.4 Magnitude earthquake on 16 September killing 15,000; the Shah appointed a new military government by radio on 7 November; as mobs screamed 'death to the Shah' he imposed local press censorship; on 13 January 1979, the Ayatollah declared a revolutionary Islamic council to replace what he called the "illegal government" of Iran; Dr Bahktiar persuaded the Shah it was time to leave; their children were flown from Tehran to the U.S. on 15 January 1979; the Shah and his wife officially left Tehran on 16 January 1979 and flew to Aswan in Egypt for 'a vacation' and medical treatment; news of the Shah's departure was greeted with mass celebrations across Iran; Ayatollah Khomeini returned to Iran on 1 February after 14 years' exile, threw out the government on 11 February; had a 'referendum' and declared Iran an Islamic Republic on 1 April 1979. The Shah never returned to Iran and Khomeini guided his country's revolutionary social, legal, and political development for ten years until his death in 1989."[1]



The Shah and Ardeshir Zahedi, dated by Diplomat to the US Zahedi as 1 January 1979. The backdrop could be anywhere. It could be in Israel or Egypt.

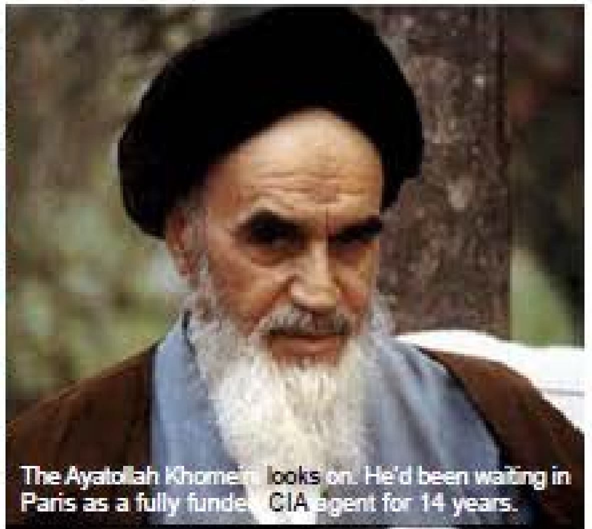
According to the New Zealand Diplomat Chris Beeby, the Shah was already out of Iran, in Egypt.

[1] BBC, ON THIS DAY 16 Jan. 1979: 'Shah of Iran flees into exile', paraphrased; Gulf News.com, 7 Nov. 1978.

The Shah leaves and the Ayatollah arrives

Spymaster: "The Ayatollah Khomeini was actually medically sicker than the Shah and it was a race as to who was going to die first with the Americans poisoning the Shah. The Ayatollah Khomeini was also an American agent and the Iranian Army turned around and attacked the Iranian Air Force. The Air Force didn't yet know the Americans were behind their Army, but it was. So it was a big mess."

But on 16 January 1979, it was not the Shah on the plane leaving Tehran for Aswan, but his doppelgänger and a 1977 photo of them was published. The Shah had left four months earlier.



The Ayatollah Khomeini looks on. He'd been waiting in Paris as a fully funded CIA agent for 14 years.

Chris Beeby removes the Shah

The Shah pleaded with his good friend Chris Beeby to take him to safety soon after Martial Law was declared (8 Sept. 1978); 15,000 died from 10MT Soviet nuclear 7.4 Magnitude earthquake (16 Sept.) – historically less than 5.5; a military government was installed and the media was suppressed (7 Nov. 1978).

So on 8/9 November 1978 the New Zealander Chris Beeby rolled the King of Iran up in a Persian carpet, stuffed him in the back of his New Zealand Embassy legation vehicle, complete with diplomatic plates and drove him from Tehran to Egypt, to Cairo, to the American military hospital where he was given treatment for his cancer. The American treatment was something that actually gave him cancer. It was also to cost Chris his life 21 years later, but still it is one of history's great magic carpet stories.

The Shah and his third wife, Farah Diba in 1977. With internal press censored, the international press sent this 1977 photo of the Shah and his wife leaving "on vacation" into exile on 16 January 1979. Meanwhile the CIA had done a soft kidnapping on their children taking them to America.

Spymaster: "'Rolled up in a carpet' is the traditional way people escape out of wog land. The more expensive the carpet, the more protection it offers. Nobody's going to stick bayonets through an expensive carpet. Everybody knows someone's in the carpet, but the backsheesh offered eases the way out. You have a talking shirtfront that goes along with the carpet and he has the bribes for everyone and that part was played by Chris Beeby. Beeby was trained by the NZ Army Z-Force, so he knew how to protect himself and someone else."

Medical Mistreatment

James Bond III: "At the American hospital in Cairo the Shah [King] was given a transfusion for his blood cancer that contained the same poison Jack Ruby died of while awaiting his second trial for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald – the 'Patsy' accused of killing JFK.

"Mr Pahlavi went to Paris every year to meet with his CIA trainers. The official story was that he flew to Paris every year for a blood transfusion, but as life immitates art, he died from his own cover. This is not uncommon. It was his liver that was attacked using the mold from heated damp peanuts. The cancer was the same type George Pompidou had, Nasser of Egypt had, and Bill Sutch of New Zealand had. They were all got with the same thing that eats the liver. In those days it was derived from peanut mold. It's been synthesized since. Once it's there for 21 days the liver gives in, then its less than 36 hours to death. It's easy to administer, tasteless and odourless.The Shah survived for so long because the dose was weak.

"As a poison, it was first mentioned in a John le Carré novel."

Gamal Abdel Nasser (15 January 1918–28 September 1970) was the second President of Egypt from (1956–70). He died in office from Aflatoxin B_1.

Georges Jean Raymond Pompidou (5 July 1911–2 April 1974) was the longest serving Prime Minister of France (1962–68), then President of the French Republic (1969–74). He died in office from Aflatoxin B_1.

Bill Sutch (27 June 1907–28 September 1975) was a New Zealand economist, public servant, and historian who contributed to New Zealand more than any Prime Minister, so the authorities accused him. "In September 1974, Bill Sutch was charged under the Official Secrets Act 1951 with the offence of obtaining information that would be helpful to an enemy. The act has since been repealed as it was so general, it covered almost any communication and even made Chinese whispers illegal. With no evidence presented and no significant evidence on his security file, he was acquitted in February 1975, then died seven months later in September 1975."[2]

"Sutch was poisoned at the same time he was arrested and when he got off the charge, he died seven months later and this is all very suspicious . . . It was Sir Randal Elliot",[3] the highest ranking army medic in the Southern Hemisphere who injected him with Aflatoxin B_1.

Aflatoxin B_1 – the Poison that killed the Shah, Pompidou, Nasser and Sutch

It was identified in 1961 as 'Aspergillus flavis' and is a potent liver carcinogen with acute poisonous effects. Aspergillus flavus does not always indicate harmful levels of aflatoxin, but it does mean the potential is there.

The anticancer properties of chlorophyllin have been extensively reported in dozens of studies from cell culture . . . where different chemical carcinogens were used to initiate cancer . . . Chlorophyllin acts primarily as a blocking agent against chemical initiation of carcinogenesis. Simply put, chlorophyllin is most effective when administered along with the carcinogen, thereby blocking cancer-initiating activity. Molecular complexes formed between chlorophyllin and carcinogen molecules are physically too large to be absorbed from the gut. Because fewer carcinogen molecules reach the target organ, less DNA damage occurs, and the chance of tumor development is diminished.

It led to a 55% reduction in the amount of aflatoxin-DNA and the associated risk of liver cancer.”[7]

By 1961, it had been identified as Aspergillus flavis – a potent liver carcinogen. 13 types were then identified with Aflatoxin B_1 being the most potent carcinogen, even with low-level long-term exposure. With variables like age, sex, skinny or fat, and exposure to other diseases like hepatitis or parasites, the symptoms would vary.
>
> The IARC did not list Aflatoxin B_1 as a human carcinogen until 1988.[8] This made it available as a homebake killing machine (peanuts in water in the hotwater cupboard) for 28 years, as long as the doctors did not treat it with a simple mixture of chlorophyll and water. The Shah was not treated with simple chlorophyll.

Gamal Abdel Nasser, the second President of Egypt

Spymaster: “Nasser was an agent for the British SIS during WWII, all through the war, and several years after. He was actually associated with the Young Turk movement in the Egyptian Army and couldn't believe it when the British turned on him in the 1950s; and couldn't believe it again when the Americans turned on him just before the 1967 Six Day War. President of Egypt Nasser: 'Why did you do this to me when the Israelis were shooting up your spy ship as it sits in International Waters, on the edge of Israeli waters? Americans were killed!' This was the first time that Israel owned the United States.

“They were also rooting J. Edgar Hoover on a weekly basis. They called him 'Mary' and his favourite dress was a black chiffon number.

“The Americans took Gamal Nasser over in the late 40s early 50s, then the Israelis paid him a few key subsidies to get a few specific things done. Nasser complied and this actually impeded the defence of Egypt. One subsidy involved the Lavon Affair in 1954[9], and the next one happened at the time of the Czechoslovakian Purchase when the Israelis started dealing on the open market for children. They were supposedly selling orphaned children, but they were taken off Arabs brought into Israel on the basis these immigrating Arabic children had communicable diseases. The parents were then told the children had died.

“This was the Israelis attempt to get around the Czechoslovakian Purchase. Israel declared that it was an absolute financial necessity that they acquire American dollars on an urgent basis from absolutely anywhere. No crime was too big or too nasty. That was the first instance that Israeli criminals were told that they could go out and practise their trade on Western Christians . . . I know it's a little off topic, but it is valuable background to that area and those times.”

The Cancer Secret

“The Shah kept his cancer secret even from his twin sister, Princess Ashraf, who said that she did not know of her brother's cancer until he had arrived in New York.”[10] This was on 22 October 1979, nine months before he died. “. . . the Shah misled them by withholding the fact that he had cancer”. Why, because the Shah didn't know he had cancer until the Americans gave it to him in the Military hospital in Cairo. This led to “An ethical clash where Eamon Brennan resigned as vice president for public affairs of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center. He believed the public had a right to know the entire medical story to justify the Shah's admission to the United States . . . the hospital should have persuaded the Shah and the State Department to allow thorough medical briefings . . .

[9] The Lavon Affair refers to Operation Susannah where Mossad (Israeli military intelligence) planted bombs in Egypt under British, American and Egyptian-owned targets during the summer of 1954. Israel's goal was that “the Muslim Brotherhood, the Communists, 'unspecified malcontents' or 'local nationalists'” would be blamed. This 'Unfortunate Affair' was named after the Israeli Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon, who was then forced to resign. Israeli President Moshe Katzav admitted responsibility in 2005 by acknowledging their agents 51 years later.

"French doctors who commuted frequently to Teheran to supervise his medical care. Though they continued to care for him after he fled Iran, the Shah could not go to France for treatment when he became deathly ill in Mexico because the French Government had made it known earlier that he was not welcome."[11]

The French government and their doctors were in with the Americans to such an extent that they could drop the Shah whenever they were ready.

It is highly likely the French doctors were treating a phantom cancer with placebos and when it came to real life-threatening sickness, they were as useful as counter-intelligence agents on a quiz show, and the French doctors remain unnamed (as agents).

Despite this, in Egypt the Shah got a warm welcome in Egypt for two months from President Anwar El-Sadat.[12] The Shah then moved to Morocco for two weeks, the Bahamas on 30 March 1979 (where the government refused to extend his visa), then to Cuernavaca in Mexico from early June 1979 from where Dr. Flandrin left.

Nelson Rockefeller's protege Robert Armao, and David Rockefeller's aide Joseph V. Reed were sent for the caring kill shot and the Shah was transferred to the Cornell Medical Center for emergency care at New York Hospital (22 October–26 November 1979). He registered as "David D. Newsom", then Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs.

"An extensive, independent examination was never conducted by the United States into his medical condition or the medical facilities available to him there."[13]

On 26 November he took the tunnel to the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, then to the US Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas (3 December 1979), and off to Paitilla Hospital in Panama the same day. Here the Shah feared he would be assassinated on the operating table, but "wanted no surgeons from New York Hospital" so he got a cancer specialist from M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, Dr. Jean P. Hester who "indicated there would probably be no substantial risk in waiting", so he waited three months then moved back to Egypt on 23 March 1980 and five days later (28 March) Dr. DeBakey removed his spleen – 10 times its normal size. It was then discovered that his spleen and liver were invaded by cancer. He was then given the multidrug chemotherapy treatment suggested to him five months earlier in New York Hospital.

In Cairo his American doctor, Dr. Coleman disagreed with the Shah's French doctors and walked off the case on 3 July 1980. The Shah died 24 days later on 27 July 1980.

The doctors had been arguing the entire way through, disagreeing as to whether he had cancer, required a splenectomy, swollen lymph nodes, Richter's syndrome, jaundice, malaria, lymphoma, gallstones, cancer of the head of the pancreas, a blockage of his bile duct by gallstones, a respiratory infection or something else, and how to treat him. Four months after his splenectomy the Shah of Iran died of a massive internal hemorrhage.

"Most of the doctors agreed that his medical care was fraught with confusion, friction and severe political implications."[14]

> As history shows us, doctors treating royals are usually Freemasons taking all expensive care to kill their unwanted host while avoiding any responsiblity for the slow and painful death they ensure.

[12] President Anwar El-Sadat was assassinated by his 2IC on 6 October 1981, just 15 months after the Shah of Iran was 'gradually' assassinated. The 2IC is now President Hosni Mubarak (14 October 1981–).

[13] 'The Shah's Health: A Political Gamble', New York Times magazine, 17 May 1981, section 6, p48, New York edition.

[14] Ibid, slightly paraphrased for ease of read.

"There is, for instance, a hint from his cancer specialist at New York Hospital that if the Shah had been treated like an ordinary patient with the same set of physicians from the onset of his illness, he might be alive today. That view is disputed by others among the Shah's doctors, however, who say they believe his death came at a predictable point in the course of his disease – six to eight years after the diagnosis."[15]

I suspect those country's Intelligence confirmed that Ardeshir Zahedi was a double agent secretly working for America, and these countries didn't want a bar of this bad history. A compromising photograph was enough to turn the ultra-proud Ardeshir Zahedi.

In Cairo the Shah's "pancreatic" cancer (actually liver and spleen) got worse and he was offered treatment in Switzerland. James Bond III: "The Shah had been educated at the elite Institut Le Rosey Swiss boarding school, Switzerland (1932–35) and therefore had an affiliation to the Swiss Guard – the Intelligence section of the Vatican – a close relative of MI-5. It's the old business of the corrupt heads in the KGB, CIA, MI-5 & 6 and the Swiss Guard talking . . . The Intelligence community around the world is the Fourth Reich."

Spymaster: "The Shah had huge private investments in Switzerland and history has proved that American and British Intelligence have always found the Swiss ready to cooperate in returning everything to them, provided its 30:30:30 cuts with 10% going to the bank. Nobody does anything for nothing in Switzerland."

Despite this, the Shah insisted on not receiving treatment in Switzerland – perhaps he couldn't trust the British, the Catholics, the Swiss, or his aide Ardeshir Zahedi. The Shah also considered he was being targetted for murder by the CIA – dismissed with maximum prejudice. Nevertheless, the the Shah arrived in the US on 22 October 1979 after David Rockefeller put pressure on President Jimmy Carter, selected as president because he was a peanut farmer (the source of the poison), didn't understand much about anything, and was widely suspected of being JFK's half-brother.

The Shah stayed in the US until 15 December 1979, then lived for a short time in the Isla Contadora in Panama in 1980 where he claimed he was treated "as a virtual prisoner" and "could not travel without the government's permission".

The new Iranian government then demanded he and his wife be extradited immediately to Tehran. They did this with a 450 page extradition request presented by an Iranian ambassador to Panama, so they were serious. Anwar El-Sadat then gave permanent asylum in Egypt to the cancer ridden former monarch and it was in Egypt that he died.

In March 1980 the Shah returned to Egypt where he received urgent medical treatment but died (60) as planned from complications of non-Hodgkin lymphoma on 27 July 1980. President Sadat gave the Shah a state funeral and buried the last Shah of Iran, Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, at the Al Rifa'i Mosque in Cairo, next to his former brother-in-law, King Farouk of Egypt.

Now Iranians looking back on his era as a time when Iran was more prosperous and the government less oppressive, and those who supported deposing the Shah, the uneducated poor and the peasants say, "God bless the Shah's soul, the economy was better then", and buy more books on him than on his successor the Ayatollah Khomeini.[16]

The Shah of Iran officially left Iran by airplane with his third wife, Farah Diba and they waved goodbye on 16 January 1979. Prime Minister Shapour Bakhtiar was saying 'go, go, go', but the Shah had already left two months prior, and Iran's Prime Minister was rushing the Shah's bodydouble and the Shah's wife out of Tehran amongst huge media coverage.

This huge media coverage was organised by the Americans for their own Counter-Intelligence purposes:

> 'If we can publicly destabalise the world's second biggest oil fields, we can increase the onsale pump price.
> 'If we have an excuse for sanctions against Iran, then we can exchange our food and goods for even cheaper oil, and make an even bigger margin.
>
> 'So why don't we create a hostage drama at our American Embassy in Tehran using our paid assets. We can drag this on as long as the media (always short of a story) supports it
>
> 'During this time (4 Nov. 1979–20 Jan. 1981) and taking 52 US diplomats, one for every week of the year, 13 women and Blacks will be released after two weeks to show it's a humanitarian operation and to help other countries and the media buy in, while retaining 2 women and 1 Black for continued media attention for women and the coloured people of the world.
>
> 'It will help the West believe Islam is a nation of oppressed minorities.
>
> 'Then we'll release Richard Queen in July 1980 as soon as he's diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. This should maintain the invalids attention, and no one will be killed, so it's all a PR exercise you see.
>
> 'We can have our agents demand the Shah of Iran's head on a stick, but as the Shah is still our agent, we'll remove him early, so the worst that can happen is his doppelgänger will be publicly humiliated.
>
> 'We'll place the Shah in Egypt, send him around the world on a medical hunting expedition, return him to Egypt, where he will die, then we'll assassinate President Sadat in 1981, blame it on some form of Islamic retribution, place our man in there forever, and use this history to control him . . .
>
> 'and we'll soft kidnap the Shah's children to the U.S. so the Shah won't say anything while he still is alive. That will keep our secrets secret.
>
> 'We'll storm our own embassy in Tehran when the Shah is in America seeking medical treatment which publicly, we won't supply.
>
> 'Then we'll extend the Embassy and hostage seige to 444 days to show all in 'the Golden Dawn know' that it is a 'masterful stablisation' exercise that can be applied anywhere and everywhere, and is a model to be used again, and again, and again. That is, to stablise oil as the economic shock tester and controller of the finance and consumer world . . .
>
> 'And by 11 February 1979 the stabilising Monarchy of 2500 years will be dissolved.
> 'So that's what we did. Seems to have worked.'

Add to this the input of oil interests to destabalise all oil bearing nations and David Rockefeller demanded President Jimmy Carter allow the Shah into the U.S. for "medical treatment". This happened on 22 October 1979 and the Shah stayed for eight weeks until 15 December 1979. The Shah didn't leave America until Iran had been sufficiently destablised. Afterwards the Shah complained he had received no medical or cancer treatment in America.

As planned the Embassy was stormed 13 days later on 4 November 1979. The staged siege with paid students and a few organising military and Counter-Intelligence officers got worldwide coverage, and the media gave it the memorable name 'the Iranian Hostage Crisis' . . . and the price of oil shot up.

David Rockefeller then got richer, enough to pay for the entire riots and Embassy storming in five minutes of increased profits. For D. R. it was just another good investment, another economic shock tester (which can be charged to the govt.), and another profit margin, where David Rockefeller. managed to look like the benevolent and concerned party.

. . . The Iranian Hostage Crisis was another piece of manufactured history . . .

> After Martial Law (8 September 1978) and installing a military government (7 November 1978), the New Zealand Diplomat to Iran, Chris Beeby rolled up the Shah of Iran in his magic carpet (late on 8 November 1978) and stuck him in the back of his New Zealand Legation vehicle and drove him through Iraq, Jordan, Israel, across the Suez Canal, and into Egypt to the American hospital in Cairo arriving early on 10 November 1978.

Intelligence leading to Chris Beeby's Murder

Britain and America had put their puppets in Iran (Persia until 1936) and Iraq so that the 7 sisters (Mobil, Shell, BP, Exxon, Amoco, Texaco, Chevron) could control all the oil fields. When the Islamic Revolution took hold, which is essentially a communist revolution using fundamentalist religion as its front,[17] the British and Americans left Iran, and shredded all of the sensitive documents at the American Embassy relating to the Iranian government, but failed to also burn them.

The Iranians then got 1,200 schoolgirls to stick them back together. These were then used to blackmail the Americans into returning their 'sequested funds', apologise for the CIA's operations in Iran, and murder Chris Beeby, the Shah's rescuer.

Spymaster: "In their panic, the US Staff got lazy and put all the shredded documents in the same bin. Standard practice is to mix it up and put it in separate bins, then burn it.

"Iranian schoolgirls were given spools of material and each chopped up piece of paper was called a 'chard'. All they had to do was get the chards to line up and once you got two lined up, you'd get a chopped up signal. The signals were in 'clear' translated out of cypher so two chards lining up could virtually give a whole signal."

New Zealander, and former Iranian schoolgirl: "It became like a game for the girls and they had to be forced to be sent home. In the end, they brought in bunks for us. They concentrated the best girls on the worst signals, but the most complicated signals that were given out, were translated with pathetic ease."

Spymaster: "The exercise the Americans did to go and save the Shah was given away to them before it happened. There's a standard line in Intelligence that goes: 'The most awkward things that we do are often given to us by the enemy who don't want to do them.

"The thing that gives it away is when the U.S. helicopters went into Tehran to try and raid the embassy, they weren't fitted with sand filters and crashed several choppers resulting in the American deaths involved."

"The Americans have a bad habit of killing ex-dictators, and all the personnel privy to getting him out of wherever they came from. And also like the Poms, they rub out anyone that discovered a poison. And once the Americans have killed the ex-head of state, the person who smuggled them out of their country of origin is also brown bread.

"It was the Iranians who called for Beeby's death because in the late 70s the Americans were at war with Iran – an undeclared war – but as soon as they entered back into reapprochment, that's when the Iranians requested the hit on Beeby.

"Beeby was so full of his own importance, he never believed the Americans, with which he was always so friendly, would kill him. He was the perfect willing horse of the Amis. He worshipped the ground they walked on."

MICK P: "We shouldn't forget that Chris saw the funny side of the history he played a part in, and was happiest living like a student, in a bedsit, getting pissed, and entertaining young student women."

[17] Islamic fundamentalism almost always exists in places that are oil or mineral rich. The doctrine of fundamentalism is to hate the rich, and therefore Americans, whom they call 'infidels', so that communist can take over their resources. Islam is connected to soviet communism, which is why there is an influx of Muslims into New Zealand under the soviet agent and KGB operative Helen Clark. Both are also controlled by the CIA.

Apologies are always left to sexual deviants – they are the best at thinking one way and presenting another. When the politically correct lesbians of America were given a microphone, Madeleine Albright (lover of Hillary Clinton and cohort of Helen Clark) made an apology to the people of Iran for the past misdemeanours of the CIA. “There were things done by the CIA that were wrong . . . the time had come for truth . . . In 1953 the United States played a significant role in orchestrating the overthrow of Iran's popular Prime Minister, Mohammed Massadegh. The Eisenhower Administration believed its actions were justified for strategic reasons; but the coup was clearly a setback for Iran's political development. And it is easy to see now why many Iranians continue to resent this intervention by America in their internal affairs.”

This speech by Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright, before the American-Iranian Council (AIC) in Washington D.C. on 17 March 2000, was two days before Chris Beeby was killed in a hotel room in Paris and pronounced dead from a heart attack in Geneva.

The people who sent him on this faux diplomatic mission were Helen Clark and Phil Goff, the New Zealand Prime Minister (5 December 1999–8 November 2008) and the Minister of Foreign Affairs (5 December 1999–19 October 2005).

Madeleine Albright's DEATH NOTICE (It's you or me Babe)

Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright speech before the American-Iranian Council on Friday 17 March 2000 at Washington, D.C.:

Moderator: “. . . our keynote speaker for today's conference on United States relations with Iran . . . I want also to introduce the American-Iranian Council to you. Founded in 1997, AIC is a tax-exempt organization dedicated to promoting dialogue and better understanding between the people and governments of the United States and Iran. The guiding principle of AIC is that the mutual interest of the United States and Iran far outweigh their differences. We have worked steadily over the past several years to achieve our goals, to host projects, seminars, conferences and publications.

> [The AIC pressured the US Secretary of State to order the murder before the speech so that American could have easier access to Iran's oil.]

“Our honorary chairman is former Secretary of State, the Honorable Cyrus Vance, who in New York in January 1998, said: ‘In the past two decades, what is abnormal in international relations has been accepted as normal in US-Iran relations . . . It's time for Iran and the United States to reestablish diplomatic ties.’ [although the US invoked sanctions on Iran in 1995 and extended them in March 2009.]

“. . . when an Iranian Embassy opens up in this town and an American one in Tehran. And questionably, such an occasion will be a cause for celebration by Americans and Iranians particularly Iranian-Americans in this great nation. For the 1 million strong Iranian-American community, that will be a particularly auspicious time, a time of reconstructing what has been two decades of painfully divided identity.

“In June, 1998, in her important policy speech on Iran, Secretary Albright said: 'We must always be flexible enough to respond to change and seize historic opportunities'. Secretary Albright's presence today is an affirmation of her belief in seizing upon historic opportunities [targetted murder] and an indication that the time has come for the two countries to go forward [by killing all those in the know of the real history, and not by killing the historic opposition].”

Secretary of State, The Honorable Madeleine Albright: “Thank you very much . . . Excellencies from the Diplomatic corps. Today's conference reflects a coming together of . . . the American-Iranian Council . . . the Middle East Institute and the Georgetown School of Foreign Service. The wealth of expertise in this room is enormous [including contract killers, those who get permission for the orders, and those who give the orders]. And it is testimony to Iran's importance [as worth killing for].

“Iran is . . . one of the globe's richest . . . through which much of the world's petroleum commerce moves . . . where a great deal of the world's illegal narcotics are produced, several major terrorist groups are based, and huge reserves of oil and gas are just beginning to be tapped. And it is currently chairing the organization of the Islamic Conference.

“There is no question that Iran's future direction will play a pivotal role in the economic and security affairs . . . So I welcome this opportunity to come to discuss relations between the United States and Iran . . . and I want to begin by wishing all Iranian-Americans a Happy New Year, Eid-e-shuma-Mubarak (Applause) . . . Spring is the season of hope and renewal; of planting the seeds for new crops. And my hope is that in both in Iran and the United States, we can plant the seeds now for a new and better relationship in years to come [kill off all the old history makers].

“. . . President Clinton especially asked me to come to this group . . . It is no secret that, for two decades, most Americans have viewed Iran primarily through the prism of the U.S. Embassy takeover in 1979, accompanied by taking hostages . . . America's response has been a policy of isolation and containment.

“We took Iranian leaders at their word, that they viewed America as an enemy. And in response we had to treat Iran as a threat. However, after the election of President Khatami in 1997, we began to adjust the lens through which we viewed Iran. Although Iran's objectionable external policies remain fairly constant, the political and social dynamics inside Iran were quite clearly beginning to change.

“In response, President Clinton and I welcomed the new Iranian's President's call for a dialogue between our people . . . We reiterated our willingness to engage in officially authorized discussions with Iran regarding each others principle concerns . . . we would monitor future developments in that country closely, which is what we have done. Now we have concluded the time is right to broaden our perspective even further [by killing those the Iranians have requested] . . . aimed at a more open society and a more flexible approach to the world . . . Respected clerics speak increasingly about the compatibility of reverence and freedom, modernity and Islam . . . Harsh punishments are still meted out for various kinds of dissent . . . in the fall of 1998, several prominent writers and publishers were murdered, apparently by rogue elements in Iran security forces. And just this past weekend, a prominent editor and advisor to President Khatami was gravely wounded in an assassination attempt.

“As in any diverse society, there are many currents swirling about in Iran. Some are driving the country forward; others are holding it back.

“Despite the trend towards democracy, control over the military, judiciary, courts and police remains in unelected hands, and the elements of its foreign policy, about which we are most concerned, have not improved. But the momentum in the direction of internal reform, freedom and openness is growing stronger.

“The democratic winds in Iran are so refreshing, and many of the ideas espoused by its leaders so encouraging. There is a risk we will assume too much. In truth, it is too early to know precisely where the democratic trends will lead [but we should know in two days]. Certainly the primary impetus for change is not ideology but pragmatism . . . Despite reviving oil prices . . . corruption and excessive state control.

“The bottom line is that Iran is evolving on its own terms and will continue to do so. Iranian democracy . . . is sure to have its own distinctive features consistent with the country's traditions and culture. And like any dramatic and political and social evolution, it will go forward at its own speed on a timetable Iranians set for themselves.

“The question we face is how to respond to all this. On the people-to-people level, the answer is not hard to discern. Americans should continue to reach out . . . We should engage Iranian academics and leaders in civil society on issues of mutual interest . . . The challenge of how to respond to Iran on the official is more complex, and it requires a discussion not only of our present perception and future hopes but also of the somewhat tumultuous past . . .

"Nearly a million Iranian-Americans have made our country their home. Many other Iranians have studied here before returning to apply their knowledge in their native land. In fact, some were among my best students when I taught at Georgetown School of Foreign Service . . . there is much common ground between our two peoples. Both are idealistic, proud . . . and fiercely opposed to foreign domination.

"But that common ground has sometimes been shaken by other factors. In 1953 the United States played a significant role in orchestrating the overthrow of Iran's popular Prime Minister, Mohammed Massadegh. The Eisenhower Administration believed its actions were justified for strategic reasons; but the coup was clearly a setback for Iran's political development. And it is easy to see now why many Iranians continue to resent this intervention by America in their internal affairs.

"Moreover, during the next quarter century, the United States and the West gave sustained backing to the Shah's regime. Although it did much to develop the country economically, the Shah's government also brutally repressed political dissent [2,000 prisoners].

"As President Clinton has said, the United States must bear its fair share of responsibility for the problems that have arisen in U.S.-Iranian relations . . . However, we have our own list of grievances, and they are serious.

"The embassy takeover was a disgraceful breach of Iran's international responsibility and the trauma for the hostages and their families and for all of us [but it was a CIA job]. And innocent Americans and friends of America have been murdered by terrorist groups that are supported by the Iranian Government. [and ultimately controlled by the CIA who's main role is to protect Amreican business interests overseas.]

"In fact, Congress in now considering legislation that would mandate the attachment of Iranian diplomatic and other assets as compensation for acts of terrorism committed against American citizens [instead we had the CIA kill Chris Beeby].

"We are working with Congress to find a solution that will satisfy the demands of justice without setting a precedent that could endanger vital U.S. interests in the treatment of diplomatic or other property, or that would destroy prospects for a successful dialog with Iran. [So we'll kill someone from the neutral country New Zealand]

"Indeed, we believe that the best hope for avoiding similar tragedies in the future is to . . . work in a mutual and balanced way to narrow differences between our two countries [by killing a diplomat from a third country].

"But the question both countries now face is whether to allow the past to freeze the future or to find a way to plant the seeds of a new relationship [by destroying a very funny aspect of history] that will enable us to harvest shared advantages in years to come, not more tragedies [we didn't get to kill the Shah in Iran. He died slowly which meant he was a possible securty secrets leek for 18 months]. Certainly, in our view, there are no obstacles that wise and competent leadership cannot remove [read 'vengeance murder'].

"As some Iranians have pointed out, the United States has cordial relations with a number of countries that are less democratic than Iran [New Zealand's fascist lesbian Prime Minister gave the permission to kill Diplomat Beeby]. Moreover, we have no intention or desire to interfere in the country's internal affairs [so we will kill outside Iran]. We recognize that Islam is central to Iran's cultural heritage and perceive no inherent conflict between Islam and the United States. [We will allow you to carry out the murder and will offer you our agents in support, or to do it.]

"Moreover, we see a growing number of areas of common interest . . . we both have a stake in the future stability and peace in the Gulf . . . and encourage regional discussions aimed at reducing tensions and building trust . . .

"When we talk about human rights, we're not trying to impose our values. We are affirming the principles enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights that people everywhere are entitled to basic freedoms of religion, expression and equal protection under the law.

> [Even when we have no effective history of doing so, and, have a long history of murdering the one, and usually the wrong one, which results in even more deaths, so our words are hollow and empty: 'Hi, I'm Madeleine. I'm a Jewish Catholic lesbian with a voice for peace and a penchant for murder'. I'm also a target for Iran and CIA murder which is partly why I'm giving this speech, ahmm, 'Death Notice'. My protection is having an ongoing affair with the void-filling Hillary Clinton.]

"And when we talk about the value of an official dialogue with Iran, we have no secret agenda [except murder, and what do you exactly mean by 'we'], nor do we attach any conditions [The US is compliant with your murders as long as you are compliant with our goals]. We . . . may use diplomacy to solve problems and benefit the people of both countries [and each US 'Diplomatic' embassy contains two contract killers]. [In exchange] Foreign Minister Kharazzi said not long ago that 'Iran is ready to act as an anchor of stability for resolving regional problems and crises' . . . We are open to such a policy now. We want to work together with Iran to bring down what President Khatami refers to as 'the wall of mistrust' [and the elimination of those involved like Chris Beeby].

"For that to happen, we must be willing to deal directly with each other as two proud and independent nations [of contract killers] and address on a mutual basis the issues that have been keeping us apart [killing Chris Beeby as a joint venture exercise] . . .

"To date, the political developments in Iran have not caused . . . its Ministry of Intelligence and Security to get out of the terrorism business . . . nor do they seek to target innocent civilians . . . the United States bears them no ill will [when ordering the CIA to murder the Diplomat Chris Beeby].

"Second, the United States will explore ways to remove unnecessary impediments to increase contact between American and Iranian scholars . . . and non-governmental organizations. We believe this will serve to deepen bonds of mutual understanding and trust [and cooperative murders with Iranian academics ordering the murders].

"This is not simply a matter of unfreezing assets. After the fall of the Shah, the United States, and Iran agreed on a process to resolve existing claims . . . in 1981 . . . Our goal now is to settle the relatively few [murders] but very substantial claims [of history] that are still outstanding between our two governments . . . And by so doing, to put this issue behind us once and for all.

"The points I've made and the concrete measures I have announced today reflect our desire to advance our common interests through improved relations with Iran. They respond to the broader perspective merited by the democratic trends in that country, and our hope that these internal changes will gradually produce external effects. And that as Iranians grow more free, they will express their freedom through actions and support of international law and on behalf of stability and peace.

> [Murder, agreed murder, joint murder, and hidden murder to maintain the hidden agenda and suppress the true, very funny, and extremely unroyal history of the 'Golfbag of Iran'].

"I must emphasize, however, that in adopting a broader view of events in Iran, we are not losing sight of the issues that have long troubled us. We looked toward Iran truly fulfilling its promises to . . . live up to the pledges its leaders have made in such areas as proliferation and opposition to terrorism [only when it is not targetted to our benefit, like fatwas to the Shah, his supporters, and rescuers].

“We have no illusions that the United States and Iran will be able to overcome decades of estrangement overnight [actually in two days] . . . But the direction of our relations is more important [complicit murders] than the pace [a fucking sprint]. The United States is willing either to proceed patiently, on step-by-step basis, or to move very rapidly [and do the killing itself] if Iran indicates a desire and commitment to do so [Iranian academics to CIA: ‘You do it now in time for our New Year’].

“Next Tuesday [21 March 2000] will mark the beginning of a new year for Iran and the start of spring for us all [as Chris Beeby, I promise you, will be dead in two days and in just enough time for you to get the news on your New Years Eve]. And it is true that for everything under Heaven there is a season. [It’s time for Chris to die. Rather him than me.] Surely the time has come for America and Iran to enter a new season in which mutual trust may grow [don’t mention the joint venture murder to anyone] and a quality of warmth supplant the long, cold winter of our mutual discontent [So shut up and do it.] . . .

“The great divide today is between people anywhere who are still ensnared by the perceptions and prejudices of the past [history is whatever we agree upon], and those everywhere who have freed themselves to embrace the promise of the future.

> [Agreed history equals promotion. Let’s remove the heroic past of Chris Beeby stradling our agreed history. Let’s eliminate Chris Beeby from embarrassing our accepted history with his inside stories – the history that prevents us from out mutual promotion].

“This morning on behalf of the government and the people of the United States, I call upon Iran to join us in writing a new chapter in our shared history [Let’s murder and reward ourselves]. Let us be open about our differences and strive to overcome them [with joint venture murder]. Let us acknowledge our common interests and strive to advance them. Let us think boldly about future possibilities and strive to achieve them, and thereby, turn this new year and season of hope into the reality of a safer and better life for our two peoples.

“To that mission I pledge my own best efforts this morning [by confirming the order for the hit]. And I respectfully solicit the counsel and understanding and support of all [that I shall never be charged, as I do this to remove myself as a target]. Thank you very much.”

Chris Beeby duped by his own masters

To fulfil the Iranians demands for the killing of Chris Beeby, his own masters duped him. An Iranian intelligence officer confirmed this on the 15 December 2003.

Never trust your past masters when you’re a retired agent. You’re useless to them and just as likely to be used to clear the path for a smoother future than to be protected during retirement. This is especially the case when something large is involved, like oil, and Iran was the world’s second biggest oil producer after Saudi Arabia.

Minister of Foreign Affairs
Accessory to Murder.

Phil Goff 21 March 2000 Statement ‘We were in on it’

Phil Goff: “Chris Beeby died in Geneva on Sunday 19 March 2000 at the age of 64”.

But he didn’t. He died in Paris on an assignment that Phil Goff and Helen Clark had sent him on. He was assassinated with Labour’s foreknowledge that he was to be sacrificed to the wishes of Islamic Iranies – fanatical religious communists dictated to by the CIA for the CFR in order to hike the oil prices for the Rockefellers.

Spymaster: “The CIA routinely deliver bodies. Usually they are frozen first and arrive courtesy of the CIA courier from DHL, that the CIA founded. The owner was a crossover paedophile obsessed with Asian virgins and had a lot of children to them.”

It was Helen Clark’s concubine, Madeleine Albright that gave the international order and New Zealand’s fascist lesbian government followed up.

Another dead knight fulfilling the Maori prophecy:

“Leading New Zealand males will die at the turn of the century”.

Madeleine ‘Maria Jana’ Albright.

Helen ‘Alan’ Clark.

Jimmy ‘JFK Peanut’ Carter.

Frank Sinatra runs the White House

Spymaster: “The CIA wanted President Jimmy Carter (1977–81) out of power because he was looking at how the CIA had operated over the years and was accusing them of making huge profits over Vietnam. The CIA goes nuts over little shooting matches that it escalates into wars. Carter was also looking into the JFK assassination and Bush came up on the radar.

“The CIA went to the effort of going to Ronald Reagan, who was desperate to become President. The person who fronts for him is Nancy Reagan so the CIA tried to enter into a deal with her. Nancy was previously the First Lady of California (1967–75) where “Hollywood was all the politics you need” and the deal she offered completely took their breath away – the CIA’s that is.

“Nancy Reagan wanted ‘Frank Sinatra to come to the White House every week and sing a couple of numbers, root her, and be gone’. To bring that into play, the CIA had to bring in the FBI who had the Mafia, who had Frank.”

Ronald Reagan became President-elect on 4 November 1980 and served for eight years (1981–89). Frank spent a lot of time at the White House dancing with Nancy Reagan, to such a degree that Ronald had to butt in.

The Mafia and FBI then ran the U.S. in the 1980s. Frank was their man in the White House.

Frank Sinatra was arguably president of the United States from 1981 to 1989. And irony upon irony that was all Frank had ever hoped for. Only he never thought his own cock would get him there.

History is nuts.

George H. W. Bush is nowhere to be seen (still in Paris?).

Frank always wore a high collar to cover his teenage acne.
Do you think this is big enough for our threesome?

Hollywood takes over the White House

Frank Sinatra, 23 May 1985:
"The Medal of Freedom for me . . . for poking your wife . . . are you sure Ron?"

CIA/ FBI/ Mafia & Intell:
"Doesn't that make Frank Sinatra the President of these United States?"
Mafia: "Hey, we're running the country. We've got our man in the White House".
FBI: "Hey, Tony, shutuppa your face or we get your cousin to break it".

Frank survived to 1998. Ronald died in 2004. Nancy was still around in March 2009, and regrettably so was Madeleine Albright.
After trafficking heroin, Helen Clark was then promoted to the 3-IC of the United Nations in order to traffic NATO's heroin through the UN network.
It's morphine to the rescue replacing food and the Third World kids die out while high, with Western UN (Aid(s)) workers, having sex with high children.
Thanks Madeleine. Thanks Helen.
IT IS ESSENTIAL TO CARE ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS. THAT, ULTIMATELY, IS THE BASIS OF OUR EXISTENCE.

George Bush’s Wet Dream

“. . . Impreach Nixon, replace him with a porn king, get Rockefeller in, kill Rockefeller, put a peanut farmer in the White House, remove him when he sniffs, replace him with an FBI actor and myself as Vice-President, then President (1989–93), then my bisexual CIA Buddy as President (1993–2001), then my son as President (2001–09) . . .”

> Terrorism tends to promote world government, and world government tends to be promoted by terrorism. Hence those who become the ‘World Government leader’ tend to have a hidden history in terrorism. This has been going on for at leasts 140 years and 1868 appears to be the last fair election in the United States with Illinois’ Ulysses S. Grant winning for the Republicans.

Pakistan’s Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) shares intelligence between different branches of its military and external intelligence agencies. The ISI are trained by the CIA. Together they created the Taleban for Afghanistan. All the people involved in international terrorism are trained by the CIA and/or MI-6. The old guys of the CIA are in Afghanistan using Saudi money and drug money, creating terrorist acts against the Soviet Union to drive a wedge between the Soviets and Muslims. The Soviets and Muslims have many similiarities in thinking and outlook, so they could easily join forces.

Nixon, Ford and Rockefeller Dies

Once Nixon (1969–9 August 1974) had been successfully impeached, Vice-President Gerald became president (1974–77) and Nelson Rockefeller became US Vice-President.

Nelson Rockefeller wanted to become the next president and this would have been easy to enough to accomplish. All he had to do was expose Gerald Rudolff Ford as the porn king born Leslie Lynch King, Jr. (14 July 1913–26 December 2006).

But it was to be William Rockefeller Clinton (1993–2001) who became the Rockefeller President. He was a little known CIA agent and is now trying to become the ‘World Government’ leader.

Ex-vice president Nelson Rockefeller then reportedly died with his secretary Megan Marshack in his office/or at home, but he was found with a bullet hole in his left temple as photographed and printed in Hullo magazine. As further cover, Rockefeller became the only Vice-President to be cremated and not buried (8 July 1908–26 January 1979).
